PINE CITY, PINE COUNTY, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1897.

NO. 52.

CORRESPONDENCE

Gleaned for our Readers From All Sections of the County.

BROOK PARK.

R. Hoagland did business at Pine City Wednesday.

B. Dorset, of Iowa, arrived Friday to cut wood with his friend Mr. Miller, of this place.

Mrs. Nelson and daughter Mabel, have returned from a weeks visit with friends in Minneapolis.

Mr. Stone, of the town of Comfort, was here this week in the interests of the farmer's Mutual Insurance company, of Montevideo.

Chris Spreter, of Roseau, who has been teaching school near Mora, was the guest of Mr. Hoagland last Tuesday. Mr. S. will return home during the holidays.

J. F. Safely and son, of Winnow, arrived one day last week, having driven ten days to make the trip. His wife and children came on Sunday morning. They expect to make this their future home.

The mock trial given last Friday evening was quite a success. The court was called with Judge Goodspeed on the bench. After a short preliminary, the case of Pierce versus the state was called, and Sheriff Seymour was ordered to bring in the prisoner. In a few minutes he returned with the prisoner on his back. In reply to the judge, he said the prisoner refused to walk, and it was his only mode of conveyance. In short, the whole session was spiced with funny breaks and blunders. And although chaos was the order (?) of the court and testimony, the judge succeeded in keeping order in the house. Everybody had a good laugh, and after the prisoner had been acquitted and given his liberty, all went home feeling they had learned something of parliamentary usages. Our next entertainment will be reading on the life and works of Gladstone. We hope to have something of the kind every two weeks.

BUSH CITY NEWS.

Gleaned from the Post.

Mrs. H. W. Hartle has returned from the cities and Wisconsin, after a three weeks visit.

At the administrator's sale of the Wied estate this week, the property was bought in by Nick Wied.

Nathan McKay was in from Rock Creek yesterday. He has rented his farm to August Kemp and may go East for a year or two.

Miss Minnie Robie went to Minneapolis this week to read proof on the Minneapolis Times. Miss Robie is well known as one of the best proof readers in the county.

The St. Paul & Duluth, for the Grange meeting here on Dec. 14 has made a rate of a fare and a third, on the certificate plan, certificates to be signed by J. S. McDonald.

Thieves broke into the McKeon slaughter house last Thursday night and stole six hides, valued at $20. All surrounding towns were notified, so as to head off the marauders.

The depot, known as the Hotel de Jackson, is busy these days. On Sunday night there were 18 deadhead lodgers, and on Monday night about the same number. This zero weather has a tendency to drive the gentle folk to cover, and the Hotel de Jackson is about the only place in town where he can find it.

The next meeting of the Chisago-Pine Teachers' association will be held on Saturday, December 11th, at the school house. The main features will be a paper on "Discipline," by Principal Wallace. The subsequent discussion will be led by Miss Theresa Lindmark and R. Meacham. A question box will follow.

One week from Wednesday will bring the annual session of the state grange. Patrons of Husbandry, and Rush City will be called upon to do her best to entertain in the neighborhood of a hundred delegates from all over the state. The grand session will occupy two days, and the gathering will meet, in all probability, in the opera house. One or two meetings will be held for the edification of the public, and three main addresses will be delivered, two by visitors, and one by T. W. Malcolm, of Rushda. It is likely, too, that there will be an address by the state lecturer, J. S. McDonald. The delegates, it is stated, are to be looked after by the members of the local grange, and during their stay they will be tendered a banquet at Odd Fellows hall. As previously announced, the ritual of the order will be exemplified by Rush City grange, the ladies of which are preparing new robes for the occasion.

NORTH BRANCH.

Gleaned from the Review.

Will Vaughan, Frank Isbell and H. Hackett left Tuesday for Chicago with a run of potatoes for the firm of J. R. Beggs & Co.

Miss Alvena Brandes, sister of E. C. Brandes, arrived from Chicago Wednesday, and is at present the guest of her brother. She is a trained nurse and comes for recreation and rest.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Quillin and family arrived yesterday from Hibbing, Minn., and are now at the Merchants hotel. Mr. Quillin has relinquished the management of the Hibbing hotel, and is now considering where to locate, having several places in view. Len has not changed any and is as jolly and good natured as ever.

A dozen of North Branch Knights of Pythias visited their brethren in Pine City Wednesday evening as the guests of Potekama lodge. The boys on their return were enthusiastic over the good time they had. Col. Stone of the Pioneer house also came in for a large share of praise for his splendid hospitality dispensed at his famous hostelry.

Miss Nora Clover and Mr. Frank Wright were married at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. W. Clover, Thanksgiving evening, in the presence of a few friends and relatives. Archdeacon Appleby of Minneapolis performed the ceremony and W. D. Savage of Harris gave away the bride. Miss Luella Wright and Chas. Starkweather acted as bridesmaid and groomsmen.

MORA MISCELLANY.

Gleaned from the Kanabec Co. Times.

Dr. Lewis reports the arrival of a little son at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hofert, Wednesday evening.

Miss Estella Bean, daughter of Jacob Bean, well known in this field as a prominent lumberman, died last week in California.

The youths of the village are having a tussle with the measles. Nearly every farm on Maple avenue has a measles to. Out of an enrollment of thirty-six but 13 children were present Monday at kindergarten school.

A gloom of sorrow overspread the village Wednesday morning when it was announced that Mrs. McIlhargy had expired, although her death had been looked for daily for the past week. She was a victim of consumption for which no earthly cure has yet been found.

One of the most enjoyable gatherings in the history of Mora, was the instituting by the Masons, of Mora Lodge U. D., in their new hall over the bank last Saturday evening. The hall is all that architects and perfect workmen could make it, nothing had been left undone that would add to its splendor. The furniture was all new which was spoken of in praise by all.

Mrs. R. M. Pope received the startling news Monday of the accidental death of her cousin, Raymond Berry of Shoreburn county about two miles from Princeton, which occurred Sunday. He left his home in the morning to hunt coons and did not return. Late in the afternoon a searching party found him frozen stiff, shot through the breast.

Raymond Berry was a young man about 33 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loomus Berry.

The report last week of death of Ole Westling is found in the following special from Southfork, this county, to be, as the Times said in two by visitors, and one by T. W. Malcolm, of Rushda. It is likely, too, that there will be an address by the state lecturer, J. S. McDonald. The delegates, it is stated, are to be looked after by the members of the local grange, and during their stay they will be tendered a banquet at Odd Fellows hall. As previously announced, the ritual of the order will be exemplified by Rush City grange, the ladies of which are preparing new robes for the occasion.

Jerry Phalen, who is driving a tote team for O'Neal Bros. this winter was thrown from his tote wagon last Sunday night, having his legs crushed and face badly lacerated. Mr. Phalen was hauling provisions to camp and when within about half a mile from there the wagon wheel struck a rut in the road, upsetting the wagon and throwing him to the ground, he being so bundled up that he could do nothing to prevent the fall. He struck the ground landing in the rut through which the wheels were passing, they crushing his legs. Mr. Phalen was brought to the village Monday morning and left on the early train for a hospital in St. Paul.

PASTE-POT AND SHEARS.

Items of Interest Gleaned from the Columns of Our Exchanges.

The Interstate Park commissioner should muzzle his menagerie, so that there will be less hazard to visitors in the Park.—White Bear Life.

A young lady wants to know whether in proposing the girls should get on their knees. It was referred to the society editor, and he says the question is not sufficiently clear. He wants to know whose knees.—St. Louis Humorist.

An editor was recently successful in a suit against a delinquent subscriber who "had never ordered the paper," but who it was found, had regular called for it and taken it out of the post office for two years. The court ordered the subscriber to pay a subscription account of $3 and $16 for cost of suit.—Grantsburg Sentinel.

Congressman Eddy is the only member of congress who can give his profession as congressman and student. He has entered the law class of Georgetown university and is a regular attendant at the lectures and recitations. He says that he proposes to have some respectable way of making a living when his constituents get tired of sending him to congress.—Duluth Herald.

The report that White Bear is to have a new seventy room hotel is nothing new in this section. It bobs up serenely every year, but never materialized. However, the present report may be verified this time, as it has been well known for several months that negotiations were in progress and options secured by two syndicates for lake shore property. The time for acceptance of one of the parties has lapsed, but the deal may be closed soon. It is proposed to have the new hotel ready for business early in the coming season.—White Bear Life.

This is the way the clerk told it. A young lady whom he was well acquainted with, came into the store about the time the mosquitoes were so thick, and during her purchase the conversation turned upon the pesky skeeters. "I declare," said the young lady, "I never saw the mosquitoes so thick in all my life before—they fairly ate me up. I am bit up all over, hands and face, and you ought to see my legs." Then the clerk fell dead and the lady blushed and searched in a ribbon case for her color.—New Rockford Transcript.

The question is often asked, "why didn't the editor write up this or that social gathering, wedding, etc?" Why bless your souls, how could he write up what he didn't know? He wasn't there—didn't have an invitation, or no one told him anything about it, and maybe he thought you didn't want it known. When you have a social gathering or anything else send the particulars and he will heartily appreciate the favor.—Ex.

—On Monday afternoon, while standing on a scaffold about nine feet from the ground, at F. A. Hodges' new residence on the point, Henry Spahr stepped onto a board which broke under his weight, throwing him to the ground, he striking the ground on his back, giving him a severe shaking up. He was taken to his home, where medical aid was summoned, as it was thought he was injured internally, but as stated above, he only received a shaking up. Allie Axtel was also on the scaffold, and fell to the ground, but he struck on his feet, and did not feel any inconvenience from his descent through space.

—If you want to purchase a beautiful lamp to give some of your friends on Christmas, or for your own use, go to Sticha & Petricka. They have the best assortment in the city.

—On Wednesday afternoon, the ladies of the M. E. church met at the residence of W. P. Gottry. A ten-cent lunch was served from 2 to 7 o'clock. The ladies cleared a nice little sum.

—Aligus Hay, who has been connected with J. Adam Bede on the Pine Packer ever since it started, severed his connection with that paper and departed on Monday for Albert Lea, where he goes to take the editorship of a paper at that place. Aligus is a good newspaper man and Albert Lea is to be congratulated on having secured his services.

—Mrs. S. G. L. Roberts, who has been visiting with Mr. Roberts' relatives in Maryland and Virginia for the past three or four weeks, returned home on Tuesday, having had a good visit, but not enjoying it as well as she would if her eldest daughter, Debora, had not been sick. Mr. Roberts came home on the afternoon train, he stopping in St. Paul on business.

—The ladies of the M. E. church tendered Miss Georgia Buttrick and her mother a surprise party on Saturday evening last. About fourteen of the ladies met at the residence of W. P. Gottry and went in a body to the residence of Miss Buttrick. The evening was spent in small talk until about half past 9, when an elegant luncheon was served, after which they each departed for their respective homes, after leaving as a testimonial of their regard a fine set of dishes.

—Miss Susan Shearer, who has been in St. Paul visiting friends and spending Thanksgiving, arrived home on Monday. She will make this place her home until after the holidays, when she will depart for her old home in Pennsylvania, where she will spend the balance of the winter. While Miss Shearer was in St. Paul she acted as bridesmaid for her old friend Miss Maggie Mitch, who was married in that city on Thanksgiving Day. Miss Mitch has many warm friends in this place, who all wish her a pleasant journey through life.

—The following plan would be a good and creditable thing for any live town: The business men of Rochester maintain a public waiting room for women and children who come to the city from the country. Very often when the wives of farmers come to town they are obliged to take their children, sometimes to fit them out, other times because they cannot leave them at home. Instead of compelling them to sit around the stores they rent a room centrally located, heat it, provide toilet rooms and have a woman in charge. The women and children from the country have a comfortable waiting place and an opportunity to wash and eat their lunch.

—Services will be held at the Presbyterian church next Sunday, Dec. 13th, as follows: At 10:30 a. m., subject, "An Ancient Home." Evening, at 7:30, "More Light or Less?" Everybody invited.

—Services in the M. E. church on Sunday next as follows: Subject for morning, at 10:30—"God Solicitous for Man's Well-being." The same subject will be resumed in the evening at 7:45, considered under the question "Where Art Thou?" Young People's meeting at 7 o'clock. Everybody invited.

—The regular meeting of Riverside Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R., will be held at the Pioneer house hall on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 14, at 2 o'clock. The ladies will serve lunch from 4 until 6:30. Dancing will begin at 8 o'clock. The committee in charge are Mesdames Miller and Albrecht, and Misses Sloan and McLaughlin. Everybody is invited.

—On Tuesday little Glen Axtel caught onto a team and was taken out into the country. Before she could get off she was taken about three miles from the village, and being deaf and dumb her parents were alarmed, and went in search of her. They found her about two miles southeast of town, playing along the road, on her way home. She was gone for about three hours, but it being a warm day she was not cold, and seemed to be enjoying herself first rate.

—Mrs. John Kline met with quite a serious accident on Saturday last. She was at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Adam Biedermann, and was holding Mrs. Biedermann's baby in her arms, when the servant girl opened the cellar door and Mrs. Kline walked into it, and fell with the child in her arms to the bottom. They picked the two of them up. The babe was not hurt in the least, but Mrs. Kline remained unconscious for over an hour, and has been confined to her bed ever since.

CRIMINAL ON THE RACK.

Deposed Italian Premier to Be Tried for Bankruptcy.

Rome, Dec. 7.—The chamber of deputies has appointed a commission of five to inquire into the charges against Signor Craxi, former premier, in connection with the alleged illegal traffic in German bonds.

Craxi, the deposed Italian premier, is said upon his face, in his extreme old age, to be suffering from mental illness, and is being treated in an ordinary lunatic asylum.

He has already been examined in connection with charges of complicity in the gigantic traffic in German bonds, the Bank of Italy and other kindred institutions. He was arrested and driven from office as the result of a scandal.

Thanksgiving has Passed.

And Christmas will Surely Come!

And the New Year Well Done!

Of course you have all sworn off ere this, and ready a new life to live, and a straight and narrow path you will tread. Now never mind the path. Come on the railroad, wagon road, up the river, down the lake, on skates, sleds or wagons, or any old way, but come and see us. Come up, come down. Come from the adjoining towns; from the farm; no matter from where, but come. We will treat you well. We have a large line to select from, and our prices are lower than any on this line of railroad, and if you buy a good bill of us, we will pay your fare one way, on the railroad, or give you your dinner, etc., etc. See?

We Keep The Goods--TO SELL.

Yours Chuck Full of Biz.,

CRITT, The Clothier,

P. S.—We have suits for men and boys, and children too; and overcoats for men 99 years old and so on down to a dude, and boys of any age, and children too. Shoes for Ladies, misses and children, and men and boys too. Boots and overshoes for all, stout and tall. In fact we carry a line of clothing you can't excel, and all that goes with it from the top of your head to the sole of your foot. Come and see us.

STORY OF A WAR SONG.

The Man Who Composed the Music for "We Are Coming, Father Abraham." The man who composed the music for Whittier's song, "We Are Coming, Father Abraham, Three Hundred Thousand Strong," is an old and somewhat decrepit piano tuner, who carries on his business near Winton, Minn. His name is A. B. Irving.

One day soon after Lincoln's call for 300,000 more men, Irving, then a young man, was on his way to Defiance, O., from Fort Wayne for the purpose of singing at a political and loyal meeting. He had considerable reputation as a composer and singer and the Republicans had asked him to come and help them. On the way he read the poem which had just been published. Irving studied it, formulated a tune, hummed it and got the rhythm, and that evening at the Defiance meeting he sang the song for the first time. When he had finished, and the last echoes had died away, men mounted their chairs with wild enthusiasm, waving their hats and breaking loose in cheers that again and again, and they would scarcely let him rest.

The next night he sang the song at Fort Wayne, and again aroused the same enthusiasm. He wrote out the music and sent it to the publisher who had handled what he had composed, with instructions to publish it on his usual terms of royalty. It was published, and inside of a month more than 40,000 copies had been sold. In a few days the publisher failed and Irving never received a dollar for the music.—New York Sun.

CLOSED THE ROOM.

Does the Ghost of Washington Still Stalk Through the Old Mansion? It was customary in the family of George Washington to shut up unused for two years a room in which death had occurred, says an exchange. So, after the death of the first president in the stately chamber with the great four poster bed which is still shown to visitors, Martha Washington, with her lonely heart, nightly climbed the attic stairs to lie in a low ceiled, sloping roofed room with one window—a room intolerably hot in summer, with little or no means of securing a draft except by a triangular opening where the lower corner of the door had been cut off to make room for the passage of the cat. Martha Washington died before the two year period had ended.

If she had occupied the death chamber, would she have seen the ghost of her dead husband? They say that by a stalwart, stately figure of the brave general stalks through the passage with martial tread and clank of astral sword in spectral semblance. Again and again it has happened that people detained at Mount Vernon on the business of the Mount Vernon association have declared, on "waking from a sleepless night," that they had heard the ghost's savor and stride and seen its tall, commanding figure, dressed in the old uniform that in life it wore. No lights are permitted in the old house, for fear of fire, except during the meeting of the regents, and then only candles. Ghosts are said to love dark or ill lighted houses.

HER SOUL UNBURDENED.

A Young Bride's Confession in the Wedding of the Honey-moon.

Charley Wheeler and Lucille Sprockett had been married nearly three weeks, and they had just returned from their wedding trip. They were supremely happy in each other's love, and the honeymoon so far had been to them as one long, blissful dream. Within the next day or two, however, the bride grew slightly depressed in spirits, and an uneasy feeling seemed to take possession of her. The young husband noticed the change, but attributed it to fatigue from the recent travels. But his bride grew more nervous and took on such a troubled expression that he said to her:

"You have something on your mind, darling, that is troubling you. Tell me what it is."

"At first she tried to persuade him that he was mistaken, that nothing worried her. "You are wrong, Charley, dear," she would say. "Really, I am not worrying over anything. I am just as happy as I can be."

The day following, however, the young wife wore such a troubled look that her husband said to her: "Lucille, you must tell me what is troubling you. I will not be put off a right longer. As your husband I have a right to know."

Seeing that further concealment was impossible, she broke down and sobbed bitterly: "Oh, Charley, I am so unhappy!" she wailed. "I have—deceived—you." A sickening sensation swept over the young husband. Surely there must be some mistake. She, whom he had looked upon as the perfection of innocent womanhood—deceived him! It must not be. It would destroy his happiness and blight his life. And then, when he caught a sudden vision of the horrible possibilities of the situation, he became sick at heart and almost fell to the floor. Then, with a great effort, he controlled his feelings. "Tell me," he said. "I am prepared for the worst." "Oh, Charley, I am so sorry!" "You should have thought of this before."

got just a few weeks before we were married!" "Yes; but what has that?" "Why, I bought it—on this—installment plan—$4 a month—and have only paid—one installment. And I just know the collector will be—here tomorrow. Oh, Charley," she sobbed, "can you ever forgive me?"—Ohio State Journal.

London Architects. Not long ago an English architect was heard to make a curiously suggestive remark. Conversation had turned upon the manifold dangers to which we expose ourselves by traveling in railway carriages. "The great rule," said this architect, "is never to look out of the window until you are a good 80 miles from London. Otherwise you risk seeing the Crystal palace."

DEMOCRACY AND SHOEDY.

In the last year of McKinley tariff the total importations of foreign shoddy rags, etc., amounted to the mere trifle of 143,000 pounds. But the Wilson-Gorman school of philanthropists determined that under the McKinley regime the American workman was weaving clothes "too good for his station in life," so they let down the bars against shoddy that he might wear cheap goods and appear less like a millionaire.

In the first year of the "tariff reform" devised by them, 14,000,000 pounds of shoddy were imported; in 1896, 18,000,000; in the fiscal year ending June, 1897, 49,000,000 pounds. The enormous import in the last named period, of course resulted from a desire on the part of the manufacturers of fraudulent goods to get in a big supply of shoddy before the prohibitory duty of the Dingley tariff should become effective. The encouragement given to fraud by the aforesaid philanthropists will be felt for some months yet in the stores where clothing of fictitious fine appearance, but having no lasting qualities, will continue to be offered at deceptive prices. But substantial American fabrics will after a while replace the rotten goods, and the American workman will again be respectably clad, in goods really worth the money he has paid out for them. The Wilson-Gorman scheme first made the earning of good wages almost impossible to multitudes, and then, when the closest economy in this purchase became indispensable to the workman, it foisted him with "bargains" in shoddy cloth, and reduced him to the shabbiness which his manipulators deemed fitting. If any one doubts that free trade Democracy and rags go together, a comparison between a crowd of workmen under McKinley conditions with the same crowd under Wilson Gorman conditions will carry conviction. If any further is needed let him contrast the garments of a lot of workman in the Democratic South with those of a like number in the Republican North.—Pioneer Press.

A Miserable Condition. Doctors Could Not Relieve. CURED BY ONE BOTTLE.

Mrs. L. E. Stone, "PRINCETON, N.Y., July 9, 1894. Dr. M. M. FENNER. Dear Sir:—In 1887 I had been afflicted with a complication of ailments, including pain in left side, kidney and bladder troubles and leucorrhoea. Last flesh and became so miserable that I could not be around. In this distressed condition I sought the aid of an eminent physician, but he did not seem to be able to find a remedy that would reach my case, and I received no benefit. Finally I was advised to try your Kidney and Backache Cure. I felt better the first day after beginning its use. Within three days I was much better and by the time one bottle was taken I was wholly relieved. Slight returns a few months later was cured by one-half bottle of same. No return since."
