FIRST GAME OF THE SEASON.

Pine City and Hinckley Base Ball Teams Cross Bats on Sunday, June 11, at Hinckley.

On Sunday last fifteen of the ball players and fans boarded the 10:54 train for Hinckley to see the home team play the first game of the season. The weather threatening rain kept a great many at home who would have gone up had it been a fine day, but those who did go were amply repaid for the time and money they spent. The game was called at 1:20, and Pine City went to bat and got a goose-egg. In Hinckley's half they got one score. In the second inning Pine City made three scores, and Hinckley got shut out. In the third inning Pine City got three and Hinckley three. In the fourth Pine City got three more, one being a home run by Peter O'Brien. In this inning Hinckley also got a goose-egg.

In the fifth and sixth innings Pine City was shut out, not a single man reaching the initial base. In the fifth Hinckley got three scores, but in the sixth and seventh Pine City served them with two ciphers, in the seventh the home team lit on to the Hinckley twirlers for four runs. In the eighth Pine City got another goose egg, and Hinckley made two scores, which finished the run getting for the Hinckley ball tossers. In the ninth the home team got four more.

The features of the game were the double play of M. Hurley twice, and the putting out of Newton by Will Hurley, while running from second to third. Following is the score by innings:

	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
Hinckley	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0
Pine City	0	3	3	2	0	0	4	0	4

WHOPPING COUGH.

I had a little boy who was nearly dead from an attack of whooping cough. My neighbors recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I did not think that any medicine would help him, but after giving him a few doses of that remedy I noticed an improvement, and one box cured him entirely. It is the best cough medicine I ever had in the house.—A. L. Moore, South Berestown, Pa. For sale by J. Y. Breckenridge, Druggist, Pine City, Minn.

Drowned at Mora.

James Edwin Guy, who was drowned in the Snake river about a half mile east of the bridge that spans the river one mile south of Mora, a week ago last Wednesday, June 7, 1899, was born at Bennington, Minn., 1873, and was therefore in the 26th year of his age. He came with his parents to Rock Creek in 1885, and lived there until moving to this place about a year ago. He was a fine young man, beloved by all who knew him. He left this place on the early morning train Wednesday, and proceeded straight to Mora, where he went to get a position on the log drive. He was accompanied by Will McCormack who sent the telegram conveying the sad news of his death to his loving father and mother.

His parents were both opposed to his going away on the drive, his mother following him down to the gate, entreating him not to go, but he would not be reasoned with, and went at the above mentioned time, and did not even get a chance to put in a day's work, as he was drowned while trying to cross the river to the wagon, in order to hire out.

The funeral was held from the Presbyterian Church at this place, with interment at the Rush Sebaca cemetery, where he was buried by the side of his sister, Mrs. Cary Enos, who died a little over a year ago.

The PIONEER extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

GOOD-BYE.

The mother sending forth her child
To meet with care and strife,
Breathes through her tears, her doubts and fears.

For the loved one's future life,
No cold "adieu," no "farewell" lives
Within her choking sigh,
But the deeper sob of anguish gives
God bless thee, boy, go, do—
—MARY GARBER.

Two Weeks More.

There remains but two weeks more for you to reply to the offer made by the International Drug & Chemical Co., of Boston, on their remedies, "Berlin Discovery." After the time is up the medicines will be sold as other medicines, at one dollar per bottle, take it—or leave it, with no guarantee and no forfeit. The object of the company in pledging itself to cure some dozen different diseases or present their patients with a watch or diamond ring, was to awaken interest, and induce people to take hold of the remedies quickly. The plan has worked like a charm all over the country. Orders are pouring into the Boston office by thousands every week. "Berlin Discovery" does great work. The formulas are the latest, most thorough and practical of anything now being used or prescribed by the best physicians. If "Berlin Discovery" doesn't cure, no medicine on earth will cure.

They Make it a Holiday.

The excursion advertised by the St. Paul & Duluth Railroad for the 17th it seems will be more of an affair than most people realize. The many roads running to the Head of the Lakes are all advertising a very low rate from all points on their systems. Elaborate preparations for the reception and entertainment of the guests are being made by the people of Superior, where the principal attractions for the day will take place, among which will be a free stamboat ride around the harbor and on Lake Superior, Baseball and Athletic games, but the feature of most interest to visitors will be the launching of the big steel stamboat, "John Smeaton," now being built at the Superior yards of the American Steel Barge Company. A Special train has been secured to take the visitors around the city to see the industries.

The streets will be fittingly decorated, and committees will see that everybody has comfortable quarters both day and night.

INSURGENTS DRIVE OUT

The American Troops Clear Out the Country South of Manila to Paranaque.

LAWTON'S ADVANCE A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Hardest Fighting Our Army Has Seen Ends in the Capture of Important Coast Towns - Filipinos Prove That They Are Skilled in the Art of Fighting.

Manila, June 12.—The Filipino occupation of the province of Cavite has been broken and, as the result of the present movement, the Americans are to control the important coast towns of Paranaque and Las Pinas, while a long line of insurgent trenches facing our south line has been cleared.

Artful Dodgers.—The insurgents have again proved their facility as dodgers. Between 2,500 and 4,000 warriors, who seemed destined to be captured, having disappeared, the majority sliding away under cover of the night, after fighting the Americans all day. Some others came to meet our troops, with professions of friendship.

One Losses.—The Thirtieth Infantry lost one man killed and six wounded; the Ninth infantry, one man killed and five wounded; the Fourth Cavalry, three men wounded; and the First Colorado volunteer regiment, 11 wounded.

Saturday's work was the hardest our army has seen. The battle stretched out across the entire isthmus, from Laguna de Bay to the harbor. While the troops were advancing, the army gunners, in the afternoon, shelled the enemy, killing several of them. The monitor Monadnock and the gunboat Helena shelled Paranaque and Las Pinas all day with the full power of their batteries. Capt. Henry Nichols, commander of the Monadnock, died from the effects of a sunstroke.

Stripped to the Waist.—The whole country is to be a succession of small hills, with boggy ground between the high, thick grass, and bushes in the hollows, which greatly aided to the progress of the advance, but gave shelter that saved many from the enemy's bullets. Our men threw away their blankets, coats and even bayonets, striving to the west and trusting to their luck for food. Water could not be obtained, and there was much discomfort after the cantons were emptied.

Losses of the Enemy.—So far as can yet be ascertained the Filipino loss is about 50 killed, about 250 wounded, and a large number of men. The whole country is networked with trenches, and the enemy secured from trains to shelter.

Today long trains of commissary wagons are carrying provisions to the United States troops along the road, which only Saturday was the strongest hold of the enemy. It is reported that on Saturday were probably carrying guns and men, and were seen dodging their hats and groveling before the Americans with effusive greetings of welcome.

The Colorado regiment returned to barracks in Manila Sunday. As the rugged and dusty men marched past the Luneta, the men of the other regiments for Manila, they were heartily cheered.

Old Reports.—Washington, June 12.—The war department on Sunday received a report from Maj. Gen. Oils, of the military government Saturday to the south of Manila for the purpose of clearing out the rebels in that section. It shows that the movement was a great success, and that the enemy's retreat was considerably greater than stated in the press dispatches. Gen. Oils' cablegram is as follows:

"On June 11—Terrible heat yesterday did not permit troops to reach positions on the front. The enemy retreated to the mountains to escape in scattered organizations south and westward, which they effected during the evening. Night movement great success, however, enemy dispersed and retreated to the mountains. Troops resting today at Las Pinas and Paranaque. No more fighting expected along shore to-day, but many insurgent detachments retired in that direction, preceded by women and children, whom they drove along with them. Our own forces killed and wounded. Reports of casualties later. Conservative estimate of enemy's loss about 500."

Post Office Reformers Outlined.—Paris, June 12.—Deputy United States Marshal Tripp on Saturday arrested Elias Richards, aged 41, Henry Averill, 16, and Arthur H. Gorman, charged with robbing the post office at Peru, Ill. The boys confessed and will be tried in the United States court at Chicago.

THE VICTIMS OF WAR.

Surgeon General Sternberg Says 5,418 Soldiers Died of Sickness and 908 in Battle.

Columbo, O., June 9.—Thursday was the big day of the American medical association convention. The interest centered in the presence of Surgeon General Sternberg, of the United States army. Gen. Sternberg was accorded the closest attention and he was warmly applauded. The subject of his address was "Sanitary Lesson of the War." He said in part:

"It is well known to sanitarians and military surgeons that as a general rule more soldiers succumb to disease than are killed by the bullets of the enemy. In this regard the total number of deaths reported on our army, including regulars, volunteers and sailors, from May 1, 1898, to April 29, 1898, is 6,326. Of these 5,418 died of disease, and 908 in battle. During the civil war the number of deaths from disease was 188,000. Deaths from disease in the battle of Gettysburg were 32,500, or about one-half of the deaths from disease. The number of deaths from disease in the Cuban campaign from the commencement of the war to the 20th of December, 1898, was 4,235, and the Confederate armies during the same period, 21,232."

HONORS FOR DEWEY.

Entire Nation Will Unite in Welcoming the Brave Admiral.

The People to Present Him with a Homeless Residence, and a National Talk About Maritime Architecture.

(Special Washington Letter.)

Admiral Dewey is coming home on the first-rate protected cruiser Olympia. He will take several months to make the trip, because it is a trip for recreation, for health and for business trip. He has earned a right to four months of leave; and the American people would probably vote him perfect leisure for the remainder of his lifetime. If he desired it, the Spring of the "first-rate protected cruiser" reminds us that, outside of men of the navy, probably few people understand what are meant by the terms "battleship," "armored cruiser," "protected cruiser" and "gun vessel," or "gunboat," as used in describing types and classes of naval vessels. They are not strictly limited in their scope of significance. Generally speaking, the term "battleship" is applied to a type or class of vessels which are protected by an armor and armed with heavy guns as they can be on a given displacement and at the same time have sufficient flotation to enable them to carry machinery powerful enough to drive them at a fair speed, usually about 12 knots per hour, with a good supply of coal and stores.

The "armored cruiser" is a vessel also protected by armor and having its guns mounted on the upper decks. The essential difference between battleships and armored cruisers is that in the latter the armor is much thinner and the guns are smaller and lighter, and the ship itself is much more highly powered for greater speed, and also has armor plates vertically on its sides. The word "protected" means that the ship is provided with a protective deck. This is a structure which begins at each side of the ship some little distance below the water line and slopes upward on each side towards the middle line of the ship to a point somewhat above the water line, and then the inner edges of these slopes are connected by a flat deck, covering what is known as the vitals of the ship, that is to say, the boilers, machinery, magazines and the larger part of the coal bunkers. The thickness of the protective deck varies in different ships, but usually is about four inches thick on the slopes and about one and one-half to two inches thick on the flat or horizontal part.

A gunboat, or gun vessel, is simply an armed steamer of comparatively small dimensions, with no protection whatever, and is usually a water-tight deck of ordinary ship plate, which is worked over the boilers, machinery and magazines.

Under each of the above heads there are again wide diversities of type and model. In most navies battleships are divided into two, or sometimes three, classes. The first class are the main battle ships, the first-rate being represented by such ships as the Indiana, Iowa and Oregon, and the five new ones now building and also the three new ones just contracted for; the second rate being represented at present only by the Texas. Armored cruisers are similarly classified. At present we have but two armored cruisers, strictly speaking, in our navy, the Oregon and Brooklyn. Protected cruisers are also classified in most navies into three different rates. Under the French rating we have only two rates, the second and third. The Columbia and Minneapolis are the only protected cruisers we have which would be classed as a first-rate in the British navy. The Olympia, which is the next largest, would be rated as a second-class protected cruiser in the British navy. She is generally considered a first-rate protected cruiser by our naval authorities.

The tendencies of more recent design is to reduce the displacement, to have a higher speed, to increase the engine power and speed, in the direction of the armored cruiser type. It is to be noted that there has been a tendency to increase the size and building power of armored cruisers to a point more nearly approaching that of the battleship.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Climate and Crop Bulletin.

Except in Kilton county there have been very heavy rains occurring in showers, which fell for the most part on May 30th and June 2d. There was hail in many sections, but it was severe only in few limited areas, in which many grains, fruits and potatoes were badly injured. In the Red River valley the wet weather of previous weeks has retarded work so that all the barley, oat, fax and potatoes are not yet planted. In other sections on the high lands small grains are growing very vigorously, and in some places they are too heavy. Barley is beginning to shoot in Wabasha county, and winter wheat and winter rye are heading. The wet weather has made some corn look staidly, and it has prevented cultivation, so that the weeds are getting a strong hold. Potatoes are growing fast. Fruit prospects are good, but there will be little wild fruit.

Several months more Admiral Dewey will dwell on the Olympia, and then he will permanently reside in the national capital. On his famous flagship he will go to China for a change of climate. He will then go to India, and thence around the Suez canal, sailing over historic and sometimes sacred waters. Over him will loom the four-starred flag of an admiral, and whenever he goes that flag will receive an appropriate salute.

The sensible people of this country have concluded to give Admiral Dewey a welcome such as no naval commander ever before received. They will not ever him carried around the country like a curiosity, nor will they attack his health with the banquets of officials. He will then go to India, and thence around the Suez canal, sailing over historic and sometimes sacred waters. Over him will loom the four-starred flag of an admiral, and whenever he goes that flag will receive an appropriate salute.

Through the efforts of the state dairy and food department it is now improbable that the case of adulterated lard, in the manufacture of bread, hard biscuits and crackers, may be done up. The department found that the American biscuit company was using adulterated lard in making its product, and an investigation revealed the fact that a large quantity of the stuff was being sold under the name of "compound lard." This is strictly in violation of the law which specifies that such lard must be labeled "adulterated" or "substitute." It is as much against the law to use this stuff as it is to sell it, and the American Biscuit company at Minneapolis was fined $25. The manager of the company assured the department that the law would be strictly complied with in the future.

Section 16 and 36.

Legal proceedings will at once be instituted by the state against the interior department at Washington enjoining the secretary from issuing patents to land in sections 16 and 36 on Indian reservations. This was the decision reached by State Auditor Dunn, Attorney General Douglas and ex-Attorney General Childs at a recent conference, and resulted from the determination of the Washington department that the two sections in every town for school purposes did not apply to land situated in the Red Lake Indian reservation. The state demands the right to dispose of these lands under the laws of the state, and the interior department means the loss of a million and a half of dollars to the school fund of the state.

Postal Notes.

The postoffice department has authorized the allowance of three carriers and 21 letter-boxes to the postoffice at Crookston. Carriers go into effect Oct. 1. W. T. Cooper has been awarded a contract of $220 to carry the mail from Coopersville to Horton.

A postoffice has been established at Hackensack, Cass county, with John A. Perry as postmaster.

Mail messenger service has been established at Harney, Carlton county.

Postoffice service has been established at Allen, St. Louis county.

Annual Examination.

Pursuant to orders issued by adjutant General Lambert, the national guard of the state will go into camp at Lake City as follows: Second regiment, Col. Stabler, June 22 to July 7; Third regiment, Col. Van Duzee, July 5 to July 17; First artillery, Maj. Lobb, July 17 to July 26; Fourth regiment, Col. Hamlin, July 17 to July 28. There has been no encampment for two years and the great majority of the men are new recruits. This year will be strangers the place and service.

A Sauge River.

The one-and-a-half-year-old son of C. C. Fowler, living four miles west of Danvers, was killed by a peculiar accident. While playing in the yard he was assailed by a big Plymouth Rock rook, which punctured the boy's scalp twice with his beak and then left one of them imbedded in the skull in the back part of the head. The injuries are proving quite serious for the little one.

News in Brief.

An attempt is to be made by the directors of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce to have the government monthly crop report abolished. Effort will be made to interest the Chicago board of trade in the matter.

The next Minnesota conference of farmers and corporations will be held at Duluth, Sept. 6, 7 and 8. The attendance is expected to be large.

Three thousand six hundred acres under contract to supply beef to the St. Louis Park factory, and the bests are already up on half the acreage. Many farmers are selling more than contracted. The company expects to erind about 45,000 tons of beefs. They will run the factory about 125 days.

The 8-year-old son of Mr. Swenson, of Tulu, was seriously, if not fatally injured while playing with matches.

J. S. Hillier, of Duluth, has secured English capitalists to finance the Alton mine in the Seine river country.

During the past school year 31,919 scholars were enrolled in St. Paul with a daily average attendance of 18,398.

The board will meet at St. Paul on June 20 to consider the question of a state organization.

That Beard of Thompson's

By Auguste Prescott

IT WAS just like that terrible O'Toole to come out in his blundering way...

Now, in the course of that earlier volume of this history of Thompson's beard...

He was not the sort of a man, however, to let the experience of his animal spirits become mingled with those that inebriate...

On reaching the street into which the Carsons had just moved, he began to smile to himself...

Now, thought Thompson, "here's a chance to surprise the boys. I'll place the door and go and sit down quietly in her reception room..."

wonder where I've dropped from. Great deal!"

"Eli!" he heard, sounding in a masculine voice from the next landing...

"No, you don't," said that same masculine voice. "You stop right where you are. I'll take care of you."

"My name is Thompson," the innocent intruder began.

Thompson had no better luck with the policeman than with Mr. Cameron...

That really sealed poor Thompson's lips. He did not want to tell this police inspector all about his innocent little plot for surprising the Carsons.

But, after a moment's reflection, he had neglected to shave his newly-renewed hair, hoping that that beard would quickly reappear...

ONE ON CEBELI, SLICK BURGALAR, CAUGHT IN THE ACT, SAYS HE IS 'MIL' THOMPSON'S SON."

"Now, what is a man to do in a case like this?" Thompson pitifully asked his friend who had laid 'il him out.

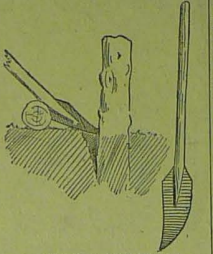

"The whole I think you look better with the beard than you would without it."

Royal Encouragement. "My queen" exclaimed her adorer, smilingly. "My queen" replied the young woman, with an air of contenting childing him...

GERMAN BEET SUGAR

Some Authentic Figures from Which American Farmers Can Draw a Valuable Lesson.

Some figures taken from a sugar-trade journal and republished by the St. Louis Republic show what an astonishingly large quantity of sugar the German beet farmers managed to raise on a comparatively small quantity of land during the crop year of 1897-98.

As soon as we learn in this country that seven acres better cultivated are better than many acres carelessly cultivated, it is not surprising that the art of farming, the great extent and original cheapness of our farming lands have been a detriment to us agriculturally.

FACTS FOR FARMERS.

It is rarely safe to risk going through the summer without a good forage crop.

If you like greens, use the young beets, tops and all, taken out in thinning the crop.

If the clover that is expected to make seed is being pastured care must be taken not to graze down too close.

Having the soil fine and mellow and stirring frequently will aid materially in retaining the moisture in the soil.
