How to Make Money.

An agent can do more business working for The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, than he can for any other institution. It has a world-wide reputation, and the new policy, issued January 1, 1898, offers greater guarantees than any other policy issued by any other company in the world. Prospective policy-holders who desire information regarding terms of insurance, prospective agents, men and women, who desire profitable contracts with the greatest insurance company in the world, will please address E. W. West & Son, Managers, St. Paul, Minn. We particularly want a good agent at Pine City.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 15, 99—

As the time for the re-assembling of Congress approaches, interest increases relative to the probable fate of Roberts, of Utah, the seating of whom will be opposed on the ground of polygamy. The crusade against Roberts is making itself felt among members of the House. The reports that reach Washington indicate that nearly every man whose name is on the Congressional list as a member of the next House has been overwhelmed with petitions and protests. Judge John A. Baran of California, one of the first members to reach Washington, says that he has received 50,000 petitions during the past summer asking for the expulsion of Roberts, and in addition has been visited by hundreds of ministers and others interested in the subject.

The wife of Representative Joy, of Missouri, has adopted a novel plan of campaign against Roberts. She has prepared petitions for the signature of the wives of Representatives and has sent them by mail to their addresses. She is now in Washington and in an interview stated that she believed her plan would be the most efficacious way to influence the members of the House. Roberts has not yet arrived on the scene, but it is known that he will fight any attempt to unseat or expel him.

Washington is preparing to celebrate the Capital's Centennial next year in a manner to reflect credit on both the city and the Nation. It is proposed to give the event a national scope and significance by the participation of all the states in the ceremonies. And with this end in view, the President announced the appointment of a committee, including the Governors of all the states to act in connection with the Senate and the House in the matter. $10,000 has been set apart by Congress to defray the actual expenses of the members of the committee. It seems appropriate that there should be this formal celebration of the centennial anniversary of the establishment of the seat of the National government in Washington, and the prospects for an elaborate observance are bright.

The marriage of Admiral Dewey and Mrs. Mildred Hazon on Tuesday was characterized by extreme simplicity in all its details. None but the bride's nearest relatives and the Admiral's aide witnessed the ceremony, which was performed at the residence of the bride's pastor, Rev. Father Madril, to which Mrs. Hazon, her mother Mrs. McLean, and her sister Mrs. Ludlow, had driven shortly before 10 o'clock, the hour at which the ceremony was performed. As usual, Admiral Dewey had arrived before hand, and was present to welcome the party. After the marriage the Admiral and his bride were driven to the residence of Mrs. McLean where a wedding breakfast was served, and at noon the Admiral and Mrs. Dewey departed for a wedding trip. It had been planned to postpone the wedding until after the arrival of John B. McLean, Mrs. Dewey's brother, but his arrival was delayed by political and business affairs in Ohio, and it was decided by the Admiral and his fiancée to hasten the happy day. The administration finds itself in a prospective dilemma because of the tax on tea, imposed by the Dingley bill. The Japanese delegates to the National Export Exposition at Philadelphia, are in Washington on matters connected with the commerce between the United States and Japan, and while here they will have a conference with the President relative to the tax of ten cents per pound on tea, which the delegates say is the highest tax ever imposed on that article, and has brought great hardship to tea merchants in Japan. The delegation contrasts the large duty on tea and the free entry to Japan of American cotton and wool, and the true spirit of reciprocity, which both nations is seeking to establish, demands a reduction of the present import duty on tea.

The proposed enactment of a law by Congress providing for the establishment of a parcel system in the postal service of the United States, similar to those in force in England and Germany, is receiving considerable attention as the Congressional session draws near.

The latest development in favor of the delivery of general merchandise, now in the hands of the express company, by means of a reduction in the present rate for fourth-class mail matter, and an increase in the maximum weight limit to eight or eleven pounds, is the enthusiastic support of the National Association of Manufacturers, one of the most influential commercial organizations in the world.

The officials of the Post Office Department have been carefully considering the matter, and it is said that the matter may be presented to both Houses early in the session.

As the result of the geological survey of the Philippine Islands some interesting information is contained in a recent report regarding the mineral resources of this group. While gold exists in both Luzon and Mindanao, it is comparable rather to that of the Carolinas and Virginia, than to the western gold fields of the United States, and a rush to the Philippine fields, would, it is predicted, result in disappointment. The copper deposits of Lepanto seem rich and extensive; the high quality of some of the iron ores of Luzon is beyond question, and the so-called coal is a good lignite, but is not adapted to iron smelting. Its heating effect is about two-thirds that of the best coal.

Suffered Twenty-five Years

441 suffered for twenty-five years from heart trouble, and tried medicine without relief. I steadily grew worse and became unable to lie down; my heart would palpitate and flutter, and at times it seemed as though I could not get my breath. I used three bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and thank God I am enjoying good health as a result. It cured me.

Breckenridge's Pharmacy.
—Adolph Larson, traveling in the interests of the Bethania Mineral Springs, of Osceola, Wisconsin, whose "ad" appears in this paper on the first page, visited our dealers in soft drinks on Wednesday evening. He reports having done much better here than he expected to, seeing this was his first visit. This mineral water is used quite extensively in the twin cities, they shipping a car load to St. Paul every week.
—W. H. McDonald, of the Firm of McDonald & Kelly, of St. Paul, was in this place the latter part of last week attending to the business of their branch office in this place. Mr. McDonald informs us that hereafter Mr. Kelly will be in this place every Tuesday and Wednesday, and

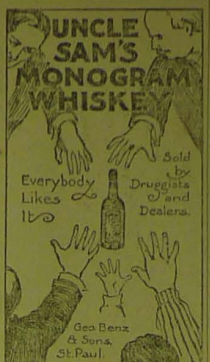

Mr. McDonald each Friday and Saturday. All those wishing to see them can do so by calling at their office at the above mentioned time.
—Miss Eleanor Miller's recital was probably the best attended of the entire lecture course, and the audience greeted her royally. She showed her self to be an artist of rare ability in passing from pathetic and dramatic earnestness to rollicking, jolly, boyish fun. It is difficult to decide where Miss Miller's forte lies. She comes out equally strong in all. The entertainment was a fitting close to our lecture course.—Mason City (Ill.) Times.
—Miss Miller will give an entertainment at the Court House Hall, Pine City, Friday evening, Dec. 1st.
—On Wednesday evening quite a number of private parties were held around town so as to see the meteor shower that was scheduled to take place on that evening and Thursday morning, but those who lost their sleep in hopes of witnessing this wonderful display of nature's fireworks, were disappointed, for about one o'clock the sky, which up to that time had been clear, was overcast with clouds and by two o'clock but very few stars were visible.
—The reading and musical recital given at the Opera House last night was the best entertainment of the kind ever given in Masonic. Miss Miller's no stranger to Masonic and its emblems. Everybody expected something new from her, and no one was disappointed. Her expression, voice and gestures were perfect. Taken altogether, the entertainment was first-class in every respect and highly enjoyed by the large audience.—Mason City (Ill.) Times.
—Miss Miller will give an entertainment in the Court House Hall, at Pine City, Friday evening, Dec. 1st.

ANOTHER WORD TO PARENTS!
A week from Friday, (Nov. 24th) will occur the third monthly examination of the city schools, after which the parents will be given an opportunity to examine the work of the pupils for November.
Many of the little boys and girls bring their Report Books back and say, "Mamma did not have time to look at my Report Book and sign it." It seems to me a father or mother ought to surely find FIVE minutes a month to look over the work of the past month and see whether his son or daughter has done well or where poorly. See if you have kept his percent of Attendance and Punctuality 100. See whether the child has made his department 100. Please do not send the child away, when he brings you the Report Book, saying "I have no time." Please take time and do your part to make the child's Department, Punctuality and Attendance 100 and then you may be sure the Scholarship will not be low.
I am yours for the good of the community.

City Supt.

CHICAGO, May 17th, 1897.
To Whom It May Concern:
I have known Miss Eleanor Miller, who is a graduate of the Columbia School of Oratory, for about two years. I have heard her read on different occasions, and can certify that she developed a mastery of speech, and has a fine and keen appreciation of the thought in literature.
She has given close attention to voice training so as to secure the natural expression of thought without the extravagances that have sometimes been noted in teachers of elocution. She has also given attention to physical culture, which is so important to the teaching of self-mastery. She is a woman of excellent Christian character, and worthy of confidence.
Yours Truly,
A. G. LAMB,
Supt. of Chicago Schools.

Superior Dining Service.
Rev. John Ziegler, of Monroeville, N. D. recently went over the Burlington map to the "Money Traveler." He writes: "I found the service and accommodations of your route superior to any I have known in the west. This is especially true of the dining service."
