CLOSING EXERCISES.

Finish of School Year to be Suitably Observed by Pupils.

We wish to make more of our promotion exercises this year than heretofore. Each student who has been faithful during the year, has shown a spirit of interest, and has done passable work in all the subjects of his grade, is to receive a promotion certificate on which will appear the standing of the pupil, and the signatures of the superintendent and the teacher of his grade.

Programs are to be given May 31st, during the day, in which those who are to be promoted will take part, and at the close the certificates will be presented to the ones entitled to them. All interested are urged to be present. The above exercises are for those from the First to Seventh grades inclusive. Those finishing the Eighth grade complete what is known as the Grammar Department, and such pupils will be entitled to take High School work next year.

The following pupils will finish the Grammar Department and receive diplomas entitling them to High School privileges next year. Hattie Pennington, Ellen Swedenburg, Kate Brackett, Agnes Chmelik, John Stochl, and James McLaughlin.

COPPER MINE.

Work was commenced on the Chengwatana Copper Mine on Monday, Mr. Smith on that day taking down lumber to build camps and tents for the laborers to sleep in. There are four men at work at the mine but expects to have a large crew at work before many days.

Mr. Smith says he has sunk quite a fortune in the Chengwatana copper mine and he is perfectly willing to sink as much more, for he says he knows that there is copper there, and that in paying quantities if he can only find the right vein. The vein that was opened late last fall was the best that has ever been struck in that locality, and Mr. Smith informed us that mining experts told him that the specimens he showed them had every indication of coming from a vein that led to a large body of copper.

We hope that Mr. Smith is at last to be rewarded for the patience and money he has expended in trying to develop the Chengwatana copper mine.

Miss Helen M. Gould gave $10,000 in January last to build a Young Men's Christian association headquarters at Ft. Monroe. Another headquarters for this association, for $75,000, was given by Mrs. F. Hancock, N. Y., last year, and a larger number than was anticipated, in Buffalo, N. Y., where $100,000 was given by Mrs. J. P. Morgan, N. Y., last year. The number of firms signed indicates that in localities where the agitators are being made the agreements are being made in a few days. In other localities, there is a larger number of firms involved, I look forward to an adjustment being reached in a few weeks.

Number of Men Idle.
Following is a statement of the number of men out of important points:
Hartford, Conn. 1,000; Ansonia and Danbury, Conn. 500; Worcester, Mass. 1,200; Scranton, Pa. 2,000; Buffalo, N. Y. 2,000; Erie, Pa. 2,000; East Orange, N. J. 200; Oswego, N. Y. 200; Norfolk, Va. 200.

Second Agreement.
Word from other large cities is tarry in reaching here. Telegraphic reports to Mr. O'Connell show the following as the number of firms which signed the agreements Monday:
Knoxville, Wis. 10; Milwaukee, Wis. 10; Westfield, Mass. 10; Toledo, O. 10; Auburn, N. Y. 10; Allentown, Pa. 10; Orleans, Ala. 10; Danbury, Conn. 10; Newburgh, N. Y. 9; Franklin, Pa. 9; Philadelphia, Pa. 9; Cleveland, O. 8; Rochester, N. Y. 9; New York, N. Y. 8; Trenton, N. J. 9; Portland, Me. 8; Baltimore, Md. 8; St. Louis, Mo. 8.

These establishments have given up the demands their men are at work as of today.
Mr. O'Connell said that up to five o'clock reports show that 994 firms, employing approximately 30,000 men, had signed the agreements for the nine-hour day or made satisfactory arrangements with the local organizations.

A Peaceful Beginning.
Cincinnati, May 21.—The first day of the strike of the machinists for a nine-hour day and for an increase of wages was marked by complete unanimity on the part of the members of the machinists' organization, and by a practically complete acquiescence of their fellow laborers who are not members of the organization. The event also was marked by an entirely peaceful beginning. Workmen and employers parted without incident, and every agreement between the leaders of the strike and the leading manufacturers concerning a single day of difference. The former claim this day as an official manner. The latter say this has not been done, and no leading manufacturer asserted that no intimation whatever had been given him of any demand or grievance on the part of his men.

The presence here of President Gompers and two other members of the executive board of the organization, in view of the fact that the International Federation of Labor shows a determination on the part of that powerful organization to give the machinists all the support within its power. On the other hand, the action of the Metal Trades' association evinces a purpose to make the demands of the machinists to the utmost.

Will Close All Shops.
Cincinnati, May 21.—The Metal Trades' association, held a Monday afternoon, decided to close all shops affected by the strike indefinitely. This means the beginning of a bitter struggle here.

Many Thousand Machinists Strike for Nine-Hour Day.

THE NUMBER ESTIMATED AT 50,000.

President O'Connell's Summary of the Situation—A Great Many Firms in Various Cities Grant the Demand.

Washington, May 21.—Approximately 50,000 machinists throughout the country struck Monday for a nine-hour day; a scale of wages equal to the present ten-hour per day scale, and other demands. This is the rough estimate of President O'Connell, of the National Association of Machinists, based on the telegraphic advices that have reached him from the machinists' headquarters in the various cities. The strike thus far has not extended to the allied trades, save in one or two instances. In Scranton, Pa., where men in a part of the allied trades are out. No machinists engaged in government work are affected. This is due to the fact that on such work an eight-hour day scale already prevails. Railroad machinists, as a rule, are not involved in the strike. The Lehigh valley railroad machinists at Buffalo, Sayre, Wilkesbarre and Elmira are out, aggregating about 500 all told. The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad at Buffalo, Scranton, Wilkesbarre and intermediate points, are also out. The Colorado & Santa Fe men are also out. The strike order, however, does not apply to the railroads generally. It is explained at headquarters that there is no competition between the railroads and the private work, and that work among the establishments is to be adjusted first.

The Situation.

The situation was summarized by President O'Connell in the following statement:
"We are demanding a nine-hour day universally throughout the trade, with an increase of wages sufficient to cover the loss of the hour in time regulation of the apprentice system and a number that shall be employed in accordance with the demands of the present prevailing conditions and the statements issued from headquarters at the various points of the strike. The number of firms which have agreed to grant the demands of the machinists are being made in a few days. In other localities, there is a larger number of firms involved, I look forward to an adjustment being reached in a few weeks."

The Honors.

The territorial pioneers of Minnesota must have been strong-minded, cheerful, hardy and full of humor and good cheer which 600 of the members of the association showed at the Log Cabin at the state fair grounds can be taken as a measure of their spirit. The weather was quite against them, but the meeting has never been so large and the day has never passed off with so much interest to every one concerned as did the annual meeting of 1901.

The afternoon was given over to jolly and unending dancing. Dancing was a feature of the afternoon, not by the young people assembled but by the real pioneers.

WON'T GO TO CANTON.

When President and Mrs. McKinley Leave San Francisco They Will Go Direct to Washington.

San Francisco, May 21.—Mrs. McKinley passed a very good afternoon and the president is very cheerful over her improved condition. The above anouncement was made at the Scott residence Monday night. While Mrs. McKinley did not leave her bed Monday night, she passed a quiet night, propped up and rested well. While no definite date has been set for the president's departure, the present arrangements are to go direct to Washington and not to Canton, as had been unofficially stated. During the resumption of his stay in San Francisco the president will participate in as many public gatherings as the condition of Mrs. McKinley will warrant, but only in an impromptu and informal way. In spite of the stormy weather Monday the president did not remain in bed. Carriages were summoned at 2:30 a. m., and the president drove to the residence of his uncle, Benjamin J. McKinley, on Bust street, where he spent about ten minutes visiting with the family. He then drove to the home of his niece, Mrs. George Morse. His visit was wholly unexpected by Mrs. Morse, who had left the house some time previously to go to the Scott residence. The president returned directly to the Scott house for luncheon.

KILL AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

Body of Rebels Under Angeles Mts Attack Near Pasco, in South Camarines Province.

Manila, May 21.—It is unofficially reported that a body of rebels under Angeles attacked a detachment of American troops, supposed to be of the Twenty-seventh regiment, near Pasco, in South Camarines province, killing two soldiers and one native scout and taking one soldier prisoner. MacArthur is the present chief on the island of Leyte, has surrendered with 20 men, the remainder of his command Gen. Eriza has started on his visit to the insurgent leader, Belandier, who is operating in the province of Alalay, in southern Luzon. This will try to induce Belandier to surrender.

valled prior to the establishment of the New York agreement. The number of plants affected is 25 out of a total of 28 in the city. The present strike is the largest one of the kind in the history of the city.

Philadelphia, May 21.—Information received at the local headquarters of the International Association of Machinists from all parts of this city and Camden, N. J., placed the number of machinists who had gone on strike for a nine-hour working day at about 1,500. There are about 5,000 machinists in the city. About 250 firms have signed the agreement, leaving 20 affected by the strike.

New York, May 21.—H. S. Devens, secretary of the National Metal Trades' association, expressed the opinion that the strike would not be a prolonged affair, and said that he looked for the settlement of the difficulty within a day or two. The chairman of the machinists' union gave out a statement in which he says over 30 firms, employing over 1,500 men, had conceded the demands of the strikers. He said that the number of men who struck Monday at 7:30, and says the total number now on strike is about 10,000. What is considered a fair estimate of the number of local machinists out on strike at the various Brooklyn establishments fixes the number at about 1,400.

Washington, May 21.—The secretary of the treasury on Monday bought $500,000 short-term four-percent bonds at 112 1/2 and $250,000 short term U. S. 5's.

The Treasury.

The treasury which resulted in Ayres' death was discovered first about halfpast eight o'clock last Wednesday morning, when his dead body was discovered in his room at the Kimmore, a small family hotel of very moderate price situated not far from the city hall. The body was found by James Seymour Ayres, between 21 and 23 years of age and living in Port Austin, Mich., before coming to Washington as a clerk in the consensus office. His father is a man of some standing in republican state politics in Michigan. An examination of Ayres' body showed that he had been shot three times, one ball entering the left leg, another the left arm and the third penetrating the heart and causing death. Suicide was the first theory advanced, but statements from two witnesses that on the night of the murder they had seen a woman descending a fire escape leading from in front of Ayres' room at the hotel and disappearing into the parlor of the house ended this theory and the killing quickly developed into a mysterious and sensational affair that baffled the police. The police were hampered in their efforts to find the person who did the killing, from the fact that it was eight hours after the crime was committed before it was reported to them. The whole detective force was put to work on the case and gradually facts were developed which pointed to Mrs. Bonine as a guest of the hotel, in a very practical way, under the guidance of experienced leaders. Groups of fine addresses will be given in the evening by speakers like the present Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the vice-president, Rev. A. A. Howard Shaw, Laura A. Gregg, Nebraska; Laura Clay, Kentucky; Frances Griffin, Iowa; Gail Loring, New York; Louis F. Post, editor of The Public; Rev. Celia Parker Woolley and Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, Chicago; Elizabeth Yates, Maine; Mrs. Lydia Phillips Williams and Rev. W. B. Riley, Minneapolis. When President and Mrs. McKinley Leave San Francisco They Will Go Direct to Washington.

San Francisco, May 21.—Mrs. McKinley passed a very good afternoon and the president is very cheerful over her improved condition. The above anouncement was made at the Scott residence Monday night. While Mrs. McKinley did not leave her bed Monday night, she passed a quiet night, propped up and rested well. While no definite date has been set for the president's departure, the present arrangements are to go direct to Washington and not to Canton, as had been unofficially stated. During the resumption of his stay in San Francisco the president will participate in as many public gatherings as the condition of Mrs. McKinley will warrant, but only in an impromptu and informal way. In spite of the stormy weather Monday the president did not remain in bed. Carriages were summoned at 2:30 a. m., and the president drove to the residence of his uncle, Benjamin J. McKinley, on Bust street, where he spent about ten minutes visiting with the family. He then drove to the home of his niece, Mrs. George Morse. His visit was wholly unexpected by Mrs. Morse, who had left the house some time previously to go to the Scott residence. The president returned directly to the Scott house for luncheon.

KILL AMERICAN SOLDIERS.

Body of Rebels Under Angeles Mts Attack Near Pasco, in South Camarines Province.

Manila, May 21.—It is unofficially reported that a body of rebels under Angeles attacked a detachment of American troops, supposed to be of the Twenty-seventh regiment, near Pasco, in South Camarines province, killing two soldiers and one native scout and taking one soldier prisoner. The insurgents are still in possession of the mining town of Paracoto, North Camarines. The nearest towns are at Indan, 30 miles away.

Gen. MacArthur celebrated the anniversary of the capture of Paracoto by Mascardo and Laucida by releasing 1,000 Filipino prisoners. Gen. MacArthur is the present chief on the island of Leyte, has surrendered with 20 men, the remainder of his command Gen. Eriza has started on his visit to the insurgent leader, Belandier, who is operating in the province of Alalay, in southern Luzon. This will try to induce Belandier to surrender.

Stay Over the Weekend.

Berlin, May 21.—The government has instructed the police that persons who have emigrated to the United States to avoid military service and who have been naturalized there will be permitted to visit Germany only temporarily, permanent stay being forbidden.

Endre Ayres.

Kansas City, Mo., May 21.—Frank Siegel, late president of the Siegel-Burgin & Co. mercantile store, was arrested Monday, charged with embezzling $5,000. He was released on a $5,000 bond.

"I have been suffering from dyspepsia for the past twenty years and have been unable after trying all preparations and physicians to get any relief. An Explanation.

There has been a misapprehension of facts regarding the arrest of K. Smuecker, manager of the Palace Clothing Co and as he is a newcomer with us, we desire to set this matter correct with our people for their sake as well as those of his family.

Mr. Smuecker was formerly in business in Marshfield, Wisconsin, and last October he and his store closed by creditors, he turned over all his stock books, accounts and assets to the receiver, and left to seek work in other localities, the stock was sold by the receiver in February last, at auction to Peter Krause of Marshfield Wisconsin, who still has some in his store, and through malice and anger of one attorney, Mr. Smuecker was notified to appear in Madison Wisconsin while he was working in the aforementioned place this he could not do unless the provision of the law was carried out, that is that in all such cases the law requires that fees and expenses should accompany such summons, which were not forthcoming. And on advice of his attorney Mr. K. was not obliged to go. This so enraged the Wisconsin attorney that he swore out the warrant to extradite Mr. K.—and courts at Madison will soon prove that Mr. Smuecker was not in contempt and have a good cause for action against those who instituted these proceedings.

Mr. K. Smuecker will be back in a few days and will be pleased to see his new friends at the Palace Clothing Store.—One acquainted with the matter.

A POPPENY.

Into each life some rains must fall, Wise people don't sit down and howl. Only folks suicide or take to flight, Smart people make Rocky Mountain Tea at night. J. Y. Breckenridge.

If people only knew what we know about Kodol Dyspepsia Cure it would be used in nearly every household, as there are few people who do not suffer from a feeling of fullness after eating, belching, flatulence, sour stomach or waterbrash caused by indigestion or dyspepsia.

A preparation such as Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which acts directly on the stomach, will digest your food, certainly can't help but do you good. J. Y. Breckenridge.

THE DAIRY

VENTILATING A STABLE.

Minnesota Dairyman Has Devised a System that is Easily and Cheaply Introduced.

The cow stable attached to the farm barn owned by G. W. Emery may be ventilated with a trap door over the feeding alley or manger, or better yet, by a chute running from the ceiling through the roof, as indicated in the accompanying illustration.

This chute must be closed at the lower end with a slide, so that the circulation can be controlled. Fresh air may be admitted through the opening in the rear at a, care being used to place the opening so as to prevent direct draughts upon the animals. If the cows face the feeding alley running along the side next the main barn, a good place for the introduction of fresh air would be at the end of the alley, say at b. During very cold weather these openings may be closed entirely. If ventilating through chutes, one should be placed every 25 feet throughout the length of the barn.—Andrew Boss, in Orange Judd Farmer.

RAISING DAIRY COWS.

The First Essential is Breeding. But Proper Feeding and Handling Are Almost as Important.

The first and most essential thing in raising a dairy cow is breeding. Feeding and handling are of the utmost importance, but without first breeding to start with no amount of skill or care in feeding and handling can make a first-class dairy cow, just as no amount of cultivation and manure will convert a crab apple into a Newton Pippin.

In my opinion, the only right way to begin to make a first-class dairy cow is to procure a Jersey heifer calf from a bull and cow that have an established reputation for breeding first-class cows. Then keep the calf in a perfectly healthy, growing condition. While she should not be overfed, she should never be allowed to go hungry or miss a meal. Her food should be for the first three days the milk of the dam taken in the natural way, after that, for ten days or two weeks, the fresh milk of her dam, then begin to mix skim milk with the whole milk, gradually reducing the whole milk and increasing the skim milk, but always fed warm. As soon as the calf will take it, feed a little ground oats, and put into a pasture if the weather permits.

Exercise is almost as essential to the health of the young animals as food. Keep the calf's sleeping place perfectly dry and scrupulously clean, protected from drafts, but with plenty of ventilation. A calf or heifer needs very little, if any, corn meal, and never any cotton seed meal. Grass, bran and ground oats will keep a calf growing and healthy if allowed plenty of fresh air and exercise. Keep the calf gentle by handling it every day. The dairyman or herdman whose cows are afraid of him has no business with a Jersey cow.—Jersey Bulletin.

DAIRY AND LIVE STOCK.

Don't feed the dairy calf a ration that will give it the habit of laying on fat.

Before turning the colts out to pasture square up your feet. Long toes are ruinous.

Without pure water cows are not at their best, and good butter and cheese cannot be made from their milk.

It is a surprise to see how many farmers neglect to keep salt in their horses' mangers. It is very inexpensive and very beneficial. A jump or chunk should be kept in every manger.

Swine must be given ample exercise and plenty of succulent food if they are to remain healthy and vigorous. A good clover pasture should be provided, followed by peas during mid-summer. In the fall rape and clover furnish good pastures. Mature animals not suckling young need nothing in addition to this green food.—Farm Journal.

Don't Feed Too Much Grain.

Although I advocate feeding to full capacity on the score of economy and profit in this season, yet I do not advise feeding all the grain or concentrated food the cow will eat, to the exclusion of some of the coarse fodder she should eat. In fact, where, as is usually the case, the same food elements cut less in the form of coarse fodder than in concentrated. Feed in this a cow, equipped with a stomach and digestive organs made for handling coarse fodder, and we have brought up our heifer in such a way as to develop an organ for handling it; therefore a large proportion of her daily ration must be coarse fodder, or she cannot be in good health.—C. P. Goodrich, in Rural World.

MANAGING THE CALF.

A Lot of Valuable Information Condensed for the Benefit of Busy Farm Readers.

To make him pay, the calf requires careful handling. He starts life with a soft stomach. To overfeed him is to invite failure. It usually makes him sour. This stops growth and perhaps kills him, making loss in either case. If his stomach occurs to blanda with poisonous gas generated by the surplus food he cannot digest and the "poisonous" calf with starting cost is a long time recovering from unhealthy conditions and starting to grow.

Don't let a calf drink dry until he can drink no more. Find out his capacity and then give a quarter less than his limit. If he can be forced to drink it slowly, thus mixing the saliva with it, so much the better. For this reason a calf feeder is a good thing. Food is eaten to be digested. The saliva well distributed in the food while in the mouth is the great agent of digestion. A full lung up well above the calf, to which the milk is brought through a small hose partly stopped, so he can get the milk but slowly. In an hour or so aid in successful feeding, either for raising or the block. But such a confinement must be cleaned daily in boiling water or it will prove a death trap. The milk remaining in the pail and tub will putrefy and produce germ so similar to cholera infantum, which destroys so many babies and originates in food vessels and bottles imperfectly cleaned.

The calf is a valuable newcomer, provided it is handled right. In the past, the dry-cow herd has been beginning. To raise the best heifer calves for the dairy or sale is politics. Every other calf should be made into veal or "baby beef" as soon as possible. The man who destroys a calf for its teat today is considered a poor manager.

Keep the calf pen dry and wholesome at all times. If there be any odor about it carry in a peck of dry earth and spread it on a few quarts of land plaster. If sweet milk or whey cannot be got for every day's feed, acetum the calf to sour milk and do not give any that is sweet. Calves do just as well on sour milk as on sweet. Uniform quality of food is what is required. If butter or cream is best sold one can similarly make veal at the same time by carefully observing the above rules and adding to skim milk slowly increasing ratios of whole fatness.

Thus one herd of cows may return double profits by producing butter and veal at the same time.

To teach the calf to drink, hold the pail in one hand. As soon as the calf will suck your fingers turn your hand under its jaw, and its nose will follow your fingers to the milk. Calves should be treated to dry dust and salt, as this regulates their digestive organs and keeps them from scouring.—Farm Journal.

STERILIZED BARBER SHOP.

A Famous Shop in the Carrollton Hotel, Baltimore, Maryland.

The barber shop in the Carrollton hotel, Baltimore, sterilizes everything it uses in the shop. The sterilizing is done by heat. The towels, the razors, the strops, the soap, the combs and brushes are all sterilized before being used on a customer. Where there is no sterilization, have the barber use Nembro's Herpicide. It kills the dangerous germ, and it is an antiseptic for the scalp and for the face after shaving. All leading barbers everywhere appreciate these potent facts about Herpicide, and they use it. Destroy the cause, you remove the effect.

SIMPLE LITTLE DEVICE.

For Keeping Calves at Home, Without Interfering with Their Comfort, It Has No Equal.

The sketch shows how I prevent mine from crawling through a wire fence. Take a strong, hard wood stick 1 1/2 inches by 5 or 6 feet, according to size of calf. About 15 to 18 inches from end of stick tie the carefully to side of calf's neck with a small rope so that it will not slip off. The shorter end of stick should extend beyond the calf's head; the longest end drags on the ground. When the calf attempts to crawl between or under wire of fence the upper end of stick will be sure to catch hold of wire, and with the longest end of stick resting upon the ground it will be impossible for the calf to get through the fence. This device has the advantage of not interfering the least when the calf is grazing in the pasture or lying down to rest.—Levis Olsen, in Farm and Home.

Feeding Calves on Skim Milk.

Prof. D. H. Otis, of Kansas, in an address delivered before the Missouri State Dairyman's association, said: A dairyman's herd of skim milk calves is a very good index as to the character of the man. Experience of both the experimental stations and up-to-date dairy farmers shows that calves fed warm sweet skim milk, in clean buckets, with access to corn or Kaffir corn meal, bright hay, fresh clean water, salt, plenty of sunlight, shelter and bedding in cold weather, shade in summer, regularity, thoughfulness in their treatment will not only be thrifty and gain from one and one-half pounds to two pounds daily. The dairyman who is unable to do this feeding method is usually behind in his business. In other words, he is a scrub dairyman.

Arrange to have two trough pastures so that the flock can be changed from one to the other each week. If the sheep refuse fresh, clean pasture, if you can do no better put a fence through the old one.

Exhibits at Buffalo.

There will be exhibits from all over the world at the Buffalo Exposition, which will be very interesting to all who may attend. But to name a few, I recall that the famous remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, biliousness and nervousness. To all sufferers from these complaints, it is recommended, with the assurance that it has honestly made a cure will be effected. It also cleans up the entire system.
