THE HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY

The History of Our Country by Prof. Edward S. Ellis Should be in Every Home.

There is being offered in Pine City by a well-known book man, a thoroughly up-to-date History of our Country in large, handsomely bound volumes. The terms are so liberal, and the work so exceptional, that there is reason to believe it will soon be occupying places in many of our homes. It begins as far back as 400 A. D., and is brought down to date, including the history of the Hispano-American war. Besides being accurate and well-written, it abounds with 1,200 illustrations, a number of them being two page, highly colored pictures of eluceteric incidents in the various wars of the United States. The pictures are so rich that they resemble oil paintings, and they alone are worth the price of the work. The marginal reference is another helpful feature, and the work is indexed in the closing volume to avnicity, so that everything can be found in a moment. It is not only a history for the student, but a ready reference work for the busy man or woman. Nafe, who represents the company, has scores of testimonials, but a glance at the work is testimonial enough in itself. Bancroft brings us down to only the close of the Revolution and the adoption of the federal constitution. McMaster begins where Bancroft left off, but takes us no further than the years immediately preceding the Civil War. Of this momentous struggle no history has yet been written which compares with The History of Our Country. Again Ellis History is the only one which fully treats and illustrates the Spanish-American war from beginning to end. The last volume being almost entirely devoted to that short but decisive conflict.

I have examined with care The History of Our Country by Prof. Edward S. Ellis, and have no hesitation in recommending it. It is a people's history, full and complete in facts, interesting in arrangement, style and pictorial illustrations. It will be of the greatest service in any family library, especially for the young student. — C. K. DAVIS.

The PIONEER has joined the club and can highly recommend the work to its friends. Address the representative, Mr. O. A. Nafe, care of this office.

GATES ARE OPENED.

Exposition at Charleston, S. C., Starts On Its Career.

IMPOSING CEREMONIES ARE HELD.

A Military Parade—Orator by Senator Depew—President Roosevelt, in the White House, Gives the Signal to Start.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 3.—With imposing ceremonies, embracing a parade of federal forces, state militia and confederate veterans, beautiful women and cheering crowds, a programme of exercises graded by distinguished speakers and with words of greeting from the president of the United States, the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian exposition was opened officially Monday afternoon. The day was set aside as a holiday, and all places of business were closed. In the auditorium at the exposition grounds, where the exercises were held, an audience of 4,000 people cheered the name of the president of the United States, gave hearty applause to Hon. Chauncey M. Depew, the orator of the day, listened attentively to the afternoon's exercises, and then joined the throngs inspecting the grounds and marveling at the audacity of Charleston in undertaking an exposition of such magnitude.

About 300 people, including the governor of South Carolina and staff, the officers of the exposition, the board of lady managers and the city council of Charleston, were on the stage of the beautifully decorated auditorium when the exercises began. Senator Depew, on entering, was given an ovation by the audience, the cheering continuing for several minutes after his coming addresses by F. W. Wagener, president of the exposition company, and Gov. M. B. McSwiney, Senators Depew and Wagner.

Admiral Sigsbee, mayor of Charleston, Mr. Depew was never in better voice. His oration was well received.

Then the exposition, on a signal from the white house, where President Roosevelt touched a key connecting with the exposition, was declared open. Exercises were exchanged between Capt. Wagener and President Roosevelt, Capt. Wagener's telegram in part as follows:

DEFENSE TAKES ITS TURN.

Many Witnesses Testify in Behalf of the Defendant in the Bonnie Trial.

ARE STILL HOPEFUL.

Belief in Washington That Miss Stone Is Not Dead.

ACTIVITY OF STATE DEPARTMENT.

Spencer Edley Sends a Reassuring Message—Rev. Dr. Haskell Fears Reports of Captives' Deaths May Be True.

Washington, Dec. 3.—The defense in the case of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonnie, charged with the murder of James Seymour Ayres, on Monday began the introduction of testimony, and placed 15 witnesses on the stand before the court adjourned for the day. The line of examination showed that the purpose was to establish that Mrs. Bonnie evinced no particular partiality towards Ayres, and that her conduct and bearing toward him differed in no respect from that displayed toward other guests of the hotel.

The first witness called was William C. Hay, who, with his family, lived at the Kenmore at the time of the tragedy. He testified that the dances at the Kenmore were usually arranged by Mrs. Bonnie, and that at these dances her bearing toward Ayres was nothing out of the ordinary. It had been her habit, he said, when the dancers were not prompt in their attendance, to go to their rooms and urge them to come down. He stated, on cross-examination, that he understood it had been Mrs. Bonnie's intention to leave the hotel, but after the tragedy he had advised her it would be improper to do so until the affair was cleared up.

George Gardner, assistant attorney in the interior department, to whom Mrs. Bonnie first told her story, and who was one of the government witnesses, testified that on the night of the tragedy he had seen

Washington, Dec. 3.—Notwithstanding a flood of very conflicting rumors which reach it as to the status of Miss Stone, the state department is working upon the theory that the woman is alive. The difficulty appears to be one of terms; it has been impossible to convince the brigands that the $66,000 in the hands of Mr. Dickinson represents every cent of money that has been subscribed toward ransoming the captives and they are holding out for a minimum of $100,000, which is only $30,000 less than their original demand. It is stated that not a single dollar has been subscribed to the fund since the offering of the first two or three days following the appeal for contributions.

Dr. Haskell Fears the Worst. New York, Dec. 3.—Dr. Henry C. Haskell, representative of the American board of foreign missions of Boston at Samakou, Bulgaria, has sent the following dispatch from Samakou, Bulgaria, to the World concerning rumors of the death of Miss Ellen M. Stone, the missing missionary.

"We hope that the dreadful news is untrue, but there is reason to doubt us fear otherwise.

The captives are dead, the fact would account for the determined insistence on the part of the brigands, that the ransom money should be paid before the captives are surrendered to us.

We would account for the brigands' stubborn refusal to give safe conduct to one of our representatives to see Miss Stone and Mrs. Steffen, the contention that the sum offered by us was insufficient, that negotiations for the surrender of the captives were not completed.

Besides, the brigands intimated that they would release the prisoners only in spring, although it is their first interest to close the matter as quickly as possible.

These considerations necessarily weigh with us in view of the contention now presented that the two women are dead. However, we have some confirmation of the accuracy, and we are sending news to our friends.

AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT.

The Supreme Court Decision in the Case Known as the "Fourteen Diamond Rings Case."

Washington, Dec. 3.—Opinions were rendered in the United States supreme court Monday in the last two of the insular test cases. One of them is that known as the "Dooley diamond rings" case, involving the relationship of the United States to the Philippine islands from a tariff point of view, and the other which is known as the "Dooley case No. 2," involving the constitutionality of the collection of duty on goods shipped from New York to Porto Rico, in the form of a parcel post.

Chief Justice Fuller, held that the diamond rings brought in from the Philippines, and over which the case arose, should have been exempt from duty under the Paris treaty of 1898, and that treaty made the Philippines American territory. The decision in the Philippine case was closely that of the first Porto Rican case of last year.

In the Dooley case it was held that the duty collected on goods carried from New York to Porto Rico was permissible, but that it was in reality a tax for the benefit of the Porto Rican government, and that an export duty, as was claimed by the merchants who antagonized the government in the case.

In both cases there were dissenting opinions, concurred in by four of the nine justices of the court.

It is generally believed that the findings in the Philippine case will lead to the regulation of our commercial relations with those islands. As the Porto Rican opinion maintains the constitutionality of the tariff act, an such necessity will arise with reference to Porto Rico.
