A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

THE NEW ROAD BETWEEN PINE CITY AND MORA, TO BE OPENED DURING THE COMING SUMMER, WILL OPEN UP A GOOD, GROWING COUNTRY.

The town board of Pokegama took the right step in the right direction when they decided to open up the road that was laid out from the Jarvis Bay road to the county line last fall by county surveyor Hamlin, through Correll, giving the residents of that portion of the county a chance to get to the outer world without having to take a Great Northern train and spending a day and night in order to transact business which they could do in one day or less and get home in good season at night by team.

During the past few months a large number of new settlers have moved into the country between Pokegama lake and the county line, and at the present time there is no opening for them either to Pine City or to Mora, nor will the roads permit them to go either way on account of a couple of swamps which they would have to cross. These swamps would not exceed half a mile all together, as they are at the present time filled with water, and then when they are dry it is so rough that it is all a man's life is worth to ride over them, being only an old toad road that was used years ago by the C. N. Nelson Lumber Co., of Stillwater, when there was logging in that vicinity.

The town board made a trip to Mud Creek on Tuesday and viewed the site for a bridge across that stream, and on Thursday they held a meeting to draw up plans and specifications for the erection of the bridge and the work to be done on the road. They will let the contract as soon as possible and have the work pushed forward to an early completion.

It has been a matter of considerable contention, since the road was laid out, by some of the residents of the town claiming that there was too much money being expended for the west side of the lake, but they never stopped to consider the fact that every new settler that comes into their town and opens up a farm adds just so much more taxable property in their town. The parties in question have a fairly good road to this land and can get out at any time of the year while those on the west side have to do all of their hauling during the winter months; for instance, if they want a sack of flour they have to pack it home on their sacks or let their families go hungry while waiting for the roads to dry up so as to be able to make the trip with teams. Is this a fair state of affairs? Would it not be better to get along with the roads you have in the more thickly settled portion of the town and give the new settlers a chance to get out? They would more than pay you back in the next two or three years.

The Board is on the right track and should receive the hearty cooperation of the whole town in their efforts to help the needy and open up more country for farm seekers to establish homes in the town.

PASSED PEACEFULLY AWAY.

Mrs. Jochim Grimm Passed Away at the Family Residence on April 5th, at 4 A. M.

The sad news was spread about this village last Sunday, the 5th, that Mrs. J. Grimm had passed away, after an illness of about six months, the direct cause of her death being congestion of the kidneys.

The deceased was born in Holstine, Germany, April 9th, 1856, and only lacked four days of being 47 years of age at the time of her death. She was married to Jochim Grimm in their native country 25 years ago the 12th of last November. They moved from Germany to this state in 1880, and settled in St. Peter, where they resided for about a year and a half, after which they moved to this village, where they had since resided. Mr. Grimm preceded his wife to the great beyond on the 22nd of August, 1900.

Mrs. Grimm was a lady highly respected by all who knew her, and her friends were numbered by her acquaintances. Besides an aged father, Henry H. Spahr, a brother, Henry H. Spahr, jr., of this place, and one sister, Mrs. Chris Rehnman, of Greeley, Ia., she leaves three daughters, Miss Emma, Alvina and Anna, to mourn her loss.

The funeral was held from the German Lutheran church in this place on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Schultz conducted the services, and the remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband in Birchwood cemetery in the presence of a large number of friends. The pall bearers were the same ones that served at Mr. Grimm's funeral, and were, Otto Kowalke, Otto Becker, James H. Wandell, Herman Borchers, Chris Voss and H. J. Rath. The casket was bedecked with beautiful flowers, the gift of many kind friends.

The PIONEER joins with the many friends of the family in extending its sympathy to the bereaved ones.

BOARD OF THANKS.

We take this means of thanking our many kind friends for their aid and sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved mother, and for the beautiful flowers received.

M. Roger Ballu, a French deputy, proposes to have all art works bought by the government every year sent upon an exhibition to the chief cities of the country before they find a permanent home in the Luxembourg or other national galleries.

According to Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Nevada, Mo., Cole Younger, the noted bandit recently pardoned from the Minnesota penitentiary, was a great Bible student during his youth and committed a large portion of the New Testament to heart.

Some time ago a custodian of the Archeological museum in Florence became suddenly insane and smashed a world famed old Greek vase. Some of the fragments disappeared and were advertised for. The other day the thief brought them back and left them on a table in the museum. The vase can now be reconstructed.

For the first time, it is believed, in the history of surgery a baby has been operated upon for the removal of the vermiform appendix. The infant, two months and 20 days old, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Furus, of New York. Dr. Chas. McQuinn, chief surgeon of the hospital, successfully performed the operation.

Two French doctors have been investigating the cause of the cholera in the East and they have discovered about 200 out of every 1,000 sane women are heard of. Of these 200 have only a slight case. About a quarter of the heard and ten are unmistakably heard with a hirsute appendage. Among 1,000 insane women examined, 491 had slight hairs and 56 had them well grown.

The funeral of the late Count Olan Koon, lord abbot of the Hongkong, took place at Kowloon on Monday. Many hundred thousand priests and lay people were present. The following casualties were reported by the police: 211; fainting, 79; faints, 7; thefts, 121; pickpockets captured, 374; lost articles, 1,021, while 79 persons fell into creeks or ditches.

Charles Wingate, who is the oldest alumnus of Dartmouth college, recently passed his ninetieth birthday at his home in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was born at Dartmouth in 1832. Mr. Wingate comes of a long-lived race. His father lived to be 97 years old, and a member of the family, Wm. C. Boone of Haverhill, Mass., lived to be 102. Mr. Wingate is in good health and says there is no reason why he should not pass the century mark.

A suggestion has been received at exposition headquarters for the reproduction at the world's fair of the old fort at Booneboro, Ky., with a realistic reproduction of the capture of the Boone and Callaway girls by the Indians, the pursuit and escape of the fathers and a sham battle representing the later attack on the fort by the Indians and their repulse. Mr. Boone of Danville, Ky., formerly suggests that the old home in Missouri, where Boone died in 1820, be also reproduced.

"There is not a part of a world," says an English traveler, "where you can not get an egg white." While in western China, however, he at first had some difficulty in getting even eggs. The natives could not understand him and refused to receive his picture. He drew a picture of eggs. "The way got out of the difficulty," he adds, "was that I squatted down on my haunches, tapped my head and a cock-a-doodle-doed until the entire nation gasped what I wanted, and I was simply deluged with hundreds of eggs."

The last rail of the white horse garden was removed the other day. It consisted of the white painted office building which was formerly occupied by the head gardener and which adjoined the camelia conservatory. It fell just outside of the line for the new executive offices of the president, and was not disturbed before. Then it was jacked up onto a derrick and hoisted through the streets of Washington to the Smithsonian Institution, frightening the horses all along Pennsylvania avenue en route to its new location.

That lemon juice is fatal to the bacillus of typhoid fever is asserted by a London doctor. On the strength of this discovery, which has been widely reported and commented upon, we are advised to stop boiling sweetened water and start making lemonade with it. Medical authorities, however, are somewhat cautious in speaking of the matter. A medical paper remarks that if there is protection in lemonade, it is hardly fair to assure us that we may eat infected cylinders over them the customary few drops of lemon juice.

The "Invisible Man" accomplished his purpose by discovering a method of making his body transparent and giving it the same refracting power as that of the atmosphere. The inventor, in his secret retreat with his, but no luminous British army officer has discovered what may be regarded as a substitute under certain conditions. He finds that, if objects are painted with irregular streaks or dots of various colors, they are most liable to escape the attention of the observer. The light was for the light weight championship.

STARTS ON HIS LONG TRIP

President Roosevelt Leaves Washington for His Tour Through the Western States.

CAREFULLY GUARDED ON EVERY SIDE.

First Step is Made at Harrisburg, Pa.—Where State Legislature Greets Him—Spends a Day in Chicago and Makes an Address in the Evening—Resumes Journey at Midnight.

In Wisconsin. Madison, Wis., April 4.—The special train carrying President Roosevelt was met here yesterday by a party of state, legislative and city officials, headed by Gov. La Follette and Mayor Groves, and the president was escorted to the capitol, where he addressed the legislature in joint session and about 700 guests invited by card. The president then made a second address to a large crowd on the capitol side.

In Milwaukee. Milwaukee, April 4.—Upon arrival here the president was met by Mayor Rose and others and the party were assigned to carriages and driven to the national soldiers' home. Upon arrival the 8,000 veterans were reviewed by the president, who afterward addressed them from a grandstand. In the evening President Roosevelt was the guest of the Milwaukee Merchants and Manufacturers' association at a banquet at the Plunkinton hotel. In his speech the president devoted his attention exclusively to the subject of trusts, giving a review of what has been accomplished in the way of remedial legislation during his administration. He counseled against hasty action that would injure legitimate enterprises and declared that the cutting down of the tariff instead of letting the trusts would only kill our own manufactures.

In Minnesota. Minneapolis, Minn., April 6.—After his stop at La Crosse, Wis., and Winona, the president arrived here Saturday afternoon and in the evening spoke on the tariff particularly in relation to Chicago and the trusts at the armory, which was filled with a great throng of representative citizens of the state. He previously spoke in St. Paul, where he met the legislature and state officers. At 11 o'clock the president left for Sioux Falls, S. D.

In which there are to be statues of 30 of the men who distinguished themselves in the winning of the west. The selection of those to be honored, it is proposed, shall be determined by popular vote.

Prize Fighter Killed. Bridgeport, Conn., April 2.—In the last round here, his bout with Mark Holmes of Bridgeport, in the arena of the East End Athletic club, Joe Sienkarski of Philadelphia, was knocked out by a punch on the jaw, and died five hours later without having recovered consciousness. Heavy Liabilities. Cleveland, O., April 6.—H. R. McIntosh, of this city, and George J. Cruise, of Akron, have been appointed receivers of the Aultman-Miller company, manufacturers of agricultural implements. The liabilities of the firm are placed at $1,800,000, and it is believed that the assets will cover that amount if realized upon.

Children Hanged. London, April 2.—Mrs. Margaret Ann Neve, aged 103 years, King Edward's oldest subject, died at her home in Goresbury, Limerick, Ireland. Her estate was valued at £100,000 and was an old and close friend of Queen Victoria.

Gain Election. Cincinnati, April 7.—While the republican party has gained in the municipal elections in Ohio yesterday they did not secure many changes in the administration of the cities. ## DESTRUCTIVE TORNADO.

Sweeps Over Southern Indiana, Destroying Property and Causing Loss of Several Lives.

Washington, Ind., April 4.—One of the most destructive tornadoes in years swept over southern Indiana shortly after noon Friday. Great damage was done in this county. The storm came from the southwest, and after crossing White river swept through the country, carrying barns, houses, trees and general destruction with it. At the White district school an children were eating their dinner. One end of the building gave way and fell inward. Those present were on the opposite side of the room, but a child named Carrie Smoot was struck by a flying brick and fatally injured and several others were badly hurt.

SITUATION CRITICAL. American Marines Landed at Santo Domingo to Guard Consulate—Bloody Battle.

Cape Haytien, Hayti, April 9.—The situation in Santo Domingo city is very critical. The commander of the United States cruiser Albatross, which has arrived at Santo Domingo from this port on Monday landed a detachment of 20 bluejackets to guard the United States consulate in that city. The engines were almost demolished, and several passengers are reported injured.

State Bank Closed. Kenosha, Wis., April 6.—The Kenosha State bank in this city, having branches at Waukesha, Ill., and Salem, Wis., closed its doors at ten o'clock today. The bank was organized by Frank Komp, a former Chicago broker.

Hall of Fame. New York, April 2.—At the suggestion of Ernest Thompson Seton, the directors of the St. Louis fair have decided to establish a western hall of fame, in which there are to be statues of 30 of the men who distinguished themselves in the winning of the west. The selection of those to be honored, it is proposed, shall be determined by popular vote.

Race Problem Government. "The race problem of the white and black races," he continued, "brought about the war of secession in the United States and the liberation of negroes from slavery, but this had not harmonized or amalgamated the two races, which hate each other now, perhaps, more than ever before."

One American Present. Prof. William Rose Taylor, of Harvard university, was the only American delegate present, but others are expected to arrive. Andrew D. White, one of the delegates, drew D. White, the president of the congress, Prof. Villari, is an Italian, and all the vice presidents are Europeans.

FEAR OF AMERICA GROWS.

Old World Nations Warned of Increasing Power and Influence of the United States.

NATIONS OF EUROPE MUST COMBINE.

Delegates to the International Historical Congress at Rome Hear Significant Address from Prof. Villari, an Italian—Says American Takes Lead in Congress.

Rome, April 3.—The international historical congress, attended by delegates from all nations interested in modern civilization, was opened here yesterday in the presence of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Helena. The feature of the address of the president, Prof. Villari, was his prediction that the overwhelming preponderance of the United States and Russia would compel the nations of Europe to combine for self-protection. He declared the twentieth century would witness a great change in the map of Europe.

CLUBS ARE NOT TRUMPS. Growing Power of America. Prof. Villari said Europe was shut in front of two great powerful countries.

trials, Russia on the east and the United States on the west. The latter from a population of 30,000,000 had risen to 80,000,000, and no one knew what number its population eventually would reach. The United States also had taken the lead in all the works of progress and civilization. These two forces, acting on Europe, were likely to render necessary a union of the different European countries, which would completely change the geographical situation, to the universal advantage of Europe. The senator added that he foresaw and predicted the twentieth century might perhaps see the solution of many problems.

Race Problem Government. "The race problem of the white and black races," he continued, "brought about the war of secession in the United States and the liberation of negroes from slavery, but this had not harmonized or amalgamated the two races, which hate each other now, perhaps, more than ever before."

One American Present. Prof. William Rose Taylor, of Harvard university, was the only American delegate present, but others are expected to arrive. Andrew D. White, one of the delegates, drew D. ## DENIES A REPORT.

Ex-President Cleveland Will Go Farther Than St. Louis on His Coming Trip.

Princeton, N. J., April 2.—Former President Cleveland made the following statement Wednesday night relative to his intended visit to St. Louis to attend the dedication exercises of the Louisiana Purchase exposition: "I have no intention of going any farther than St. Louis, and intend returning as soon as possible by the most direct route, and yet to some way I have been given out that I was to go to the Pacific coast and visit Colorado and California, and I don't know how many other states and territories, and in consequence of this I have received numerous letters from good people living in those localities making requests based entirely upon the truth of these reports. It may be amusing to those who start such rumors, but it produces a reverse effect on those who are made the victims of such an absurd absurd."

FLEEING PATIENTS SHOT. Inmates of Independence (Mo.) Inebriate Asylum Attack Druggists and Attendants (See Story).

Cedar Rapids, Ia., April 7.—Twenty-two inmates of the independence inebriate asylum, while out-walking with the attendant, refused to return. The attendants secured shotguns and fired several shots in the direction of the fleeing men. Henry Miner, of Cedar Rapids, and Frank Crowley, of Iowa City, who accompanied them, were wounded. It is believed others were injured, but all were said to have escaped.

Collieries Closed. Philadelphia, Pa., April 6.—Numerous collieries throughout the anthracite coal region are closed down as the result of strikes caused by disagreements between the miners and operators regarding the ruling of the strike commission on the number of hours constituting a day's work. The general dissatisfaction was expressed in the lower region and Gettysville, Shamokin, Mahanoy City and contiguous towns. The operators assert that they will pay the men only for the actual time worked, and the miners claim this to be a violation of the agreement.

Never Rode on Railway. Glenn Falls, N. Y., April 4.—The oldest resident of this place, Mrs. Mary Maloney, is dead here in her one hundred and first year. She was born in County Mayo, Ireland, August 8, 1802. She emigrated to Canada when 25, but had lived in northern New York for 70 years. She never rode on a railway train, but last summer was induced to take a trolley ride to Lake George.

The Public Debt. Washington, April 2.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows that as the close of business March 31, the total debt less cash in the treasury amounted to $920,602,919, an increase for the month of $1,631,021. This increase is accounted for by a corresponding decrease in amount of cash on hand.

Indian Monuments. Shiloh Battlefield, April 7.—Indiana dedicated an monument to the government yesterday the 22 monuments erected at a cost of $35,000 in honor of the 22 regiments that state had in the battle of Shiloh, Jan. 6, 1862. The list was published at the dedication ceremony. Gov. W. T. Durbin presented the monuments to the government.

Denial Assured. Buffalo, N. Y., April 7.—The Commercial publisher of a story in which it is alleged that Arthur H. Pennell, who was killed in an automobile accident at Marquette, N. Y., was a defaulter to the extent of from $150,000 to $300,000.

Miners Killed. Bantwell, Ill., April 1.—Five miners were killed here by an explosion of coal dust and four men were fatally injured.

WABASH ROPED REVOKED.

Judge Adams Dissolves the Injunction Against Officials of the Trainmen's Unions.

CLAIMS OF THE COMPANY ARE DENIED.

Court Says the Assertions That the Men Were Satisfied Were Not Sustained—Had No Intention of Resisting Company—Present Settlement Looked For.

St. Louis, April 2.—In the United States district court Wednesday Judge Elmer B. Adams handed down a decision dissolving the injunction granted March 8, restraining officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Railroad Trainmen and other labor leaders from interfering in any way or ordering the men employed on the Wabash system to strike. The temporary injunction had been granted by Judge Adams on an allegation made by officials of the Wabash system that the defendants were conspiring to interfere with interstate traffic and the transmission of mail.

The court, after fully considering all the proof, finds that the statements of the bill of complaint to the effect that the employees were satisfied with their wages and conditions of service, are not supported; that a real difference of opinion existed between the employees, members of the brotherhoods, and that respect to their wages, and that the defendant, with the committees of the brotherhoods were fully authorized to make an effort to secure higher wages and change conditions of service, and that the proposed strike, instead of being officiously ordered by defendants, was a result of the vote of the employees, acting without coercion and directly authorizing the same.

Was No Conspiracy. The court further finds after a full examination of the evidence that the charge of conspiracy to interfere with interstate commerce of the United States, or the mail service of the United States, is not sustained.

Settlements Agreed Upon.

St. Louis, April 2.—The differences between the Wabash Railway company and its employees, which have been a bone of contention for four months, were settled by a settlement to both sides, and there will be no strike. It is thought the settlement will also preclude the danger of a strike for a long time.

By the terms of the agreement the trainmen get an increase of 15 per cent, and firemen an advance of 12 per cent, over the rates which they received January 1 west of the Mississippi river. East of the Mississippi the rates will be brought up to this standard where the rates are in the same territory grant similar increases. Yardmen also receive substantial increases in pay and there is an entire revision of the rates in the same territory grant similar increases. There is no legal weapon with which the state may attack the alleged merger of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and the Duluth & Iron Range roads.

This is the gist of an opinion rendered yesterday by the attorney general in response to a Senate resolution adopted April, 1922.

Records Broken. All records of the twice manufacturing industry at the Stillwater penitentiary have been swept out of sight by the business conducted here up to this year the greatest amount ever turned out was five and one-half million pounds and the earliest that it had all been shipped was on May 1.

The Central High School of St. Paul defeated the Austin High School at St. Paul in a debating contest for a chance to represent the district at the High School Debating League.

The twins output at the prison factory this season is about 100,000 articles having been produced by the two inmates. Many orders have been returned to farmers and there will be no time for the dealers.

Saturday night John Harbeck and John A. Brown, two lumberjacks, slept together in a lodging house in Minneapolis. Sunday morning when Joseph woke up he found that $100 which he had saved while up in the woods during the winter was missing—and so was John.

The Farmington school board has rejected the resignation of E. J. Plapp for his fifth successive year. The past year has been marked by exceptional success with the erecting of a large addition to the school building.

All 32 bills in circulation in Minneapolis are under suspicion. This is occasioned by the arrival of some very doubtful greenbacks of the $5 denomination. These have very appearance of being just what they purport to be, legal tender. But they are bad, very bad, because they are so good.

WEIRD TALE OF OIL REGIONS.

How a Pennsylvania Stream Was Set on Fire by a Big Blazing Bear.

"In the early days of the Pennsylvania oil regions," said Dr. W. H. Hays, had set the whole oily surface of the New York State. "The woods were full of wild animals, and as a consequence of their boldness and the peculiar and new nature of the oil business had introduced into the region, odd happenings in which those animals and wild hunters, trappers and others employed in oil production were concerned, were frequent.

"I was one of the first seekers after oil in the region along Cherry Tree Run, in Venango county, to put down oil wells. Trout fishing was excellent in those mountain streams then. I was an enthusiastic trout fisherman, and one day in June, early in the days of the rush to Oil Creek valley, I went very near to the headwaters of one of the small brooks that emptied into Cherry Tree Run to enjoy a day's fishing.

"It was nearly dark when I got down to the mouth of the brook, looking for trout. I had a gun slung over my shoulder, and I was tired down with trout, and about three o'clock I had three miles to travel to get to my cabin, and I was saved to camp for the night on the banks of the run. I ate a hearty supper of trout, built a roaring camp fire, and went to sleep.

In politics it sometimes happens that the dark horse gets out in the light.

This baseball season is approaching and the troubles of the umpire will soon begin.

Spain's military is called a "creation," but that is not the term applied by the man who pays the bill.

"I have been talking too much of late," said Dr. Parkhurst of New York. We have known that for a long time, Doctor.

Poor Betty Green! The richest woman in the world is prostrate with grief because grasping New York insists that she pay that $2 dog tax.

A New Jersey preacher recently made the statement that dancing is only hugging set to music. But that's a mighty popular tune with the girls.

Cuba will appropriate $100,000 for representation at the St. Louis fair. That is a pretty good start for a young republic just learning to walk alone.

CHICAGO is boasting that her women have the finest figures in the world, but an exchange wickedly points out that these "figures" are sometimes "figures" that lie.

THAT was a mean judge who sentenced two women to imprisonment in Brooklyn for swearing in the street. If a similar penalty was inflicted on the men there would not be jails enough to hold them and it is barely possible that His Honor might be derived of his own liberty.

The Sultan of Sula has promised to come to the St. Louis fair and bring along a few curiosities. Now if he will only bring his collection of wives the big fair will be no further advertising to insure a record-breaking attendance, although it might be a serious problem to find sleeping accommodations for the Sultan's family.

SPEAKING of what a newspaper does for a community, United States Senator David Davis, of Illinois, once made an address that remains very green in the memories of newspaper men. He said: "Every year every local paper gives from 500 to 5000 free lines for the benefit of the community in which it is located. No other agency can or will do this. The editor in proportion to his means does more for his own town than any other man, and in all fairness, man with man, he ought to be supported—not because you happen to like him or admire his writing, but because a local paper is the best investment a community can make. It may not be crowded with great thought, but financially it is more beneficent than both preacher and teacher. Today editors do more for less pay than any men on earth. Patronize your home paper, not as a charity, but as an investment." March 10 (la.) Democrat.

In spite of the glowing opportunities in the West many young men prefer to take the risks of the great cities, where professional men swarm and where competition has reduced the chances to a minimum, and it is difficult to understand why this is so. The young men of this place are not afraid of work. If they were they would soon become stranded in the large cities, where the grinding toil of an underpaid profession is far worse than anything he could encounter in a new country. The great middle and western country abounds with the richness of the earth, only waiting to be gleaned by the hands of industry. In many states there are mines to be opened, great farms to be put under irrigation and cultivation, towns to be started, and, in short, all kinds of constructive work to be done by young men of energy and ability. Stay away from the great cities, bend all of your energies to the work of improving your opportunities in the way of building up your own community, and you will find a profitable outlet for all the surplus energy you possess.

In America we have every reason in the world to be thankful for the prosperity that abounds here by no means a world wide condition. Failure of crops is working dire havoc in some countries, while war and pestilence are stalking arm in arm in others. Conditions in China are said to be like those in Ireland during the time of the great famine, where food was exported while the people starved. In parts of southern Siberia there is scarcely enough food to sustain life. In ten provinces of Russia, near the Black Sea, there is great destitution and farmers are eating up their seedling grain. Like conditions prevail in Finland, and also in Sweden, just across the line. In the latter district 400,000 people are on the verge of starvation, and birch bark and straw are being ground up into bread grain. But what dwarfs all of these is the famine in India, although relief measures are being taken and the worst seems to be over. Surely we in America have little to complain of.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 6th, 1903. The Postoffice investigation, announced in my last letter, still progresses and while the officials refuse to make public the results it is ascertained that evidences of reckless extravagance have been discovered and that they will be followed by a reorganization which will make their reputation impossible. Protests from prominent politicians continued to reach the President up to the day of his departure from Washington. Ex-Assistant Postmaster General Perry Heath came all the way from Sault Lake to try and save his friends and it is understood that Mr. James S. Clarkson, Secretary of the Republican National Committee, urged upon Mr. Roosevelt the advisability of making too many enemies at this time but the investigations are still going on and First Assistant Postmaster Wynne has assured your correspondent that they will continue until every thing is probed to the bottom and that no favor will be shown to anyone because of political influence.

Secretary Hay is much pleased because Minister Leishman at Constantinople has succeeded in delivering into the hands of the Sultan the letter of the President remonstrating against many abuses of the rights of American citizens. When Mr. Leishman finally succeeded in seeing the Sultan the latter protested his gratification at the receipt of the letter and promised to give the matter his personal attention, but the American Minister has been trying to gain an audience for many days without success and it is probable that only the publication of the determination of the United States to secure justice at any cost finally won for him the ear of his Ottoman Majesty. One of the chief grievances of the United States rests on the fact that the Sultan refuses to recognize as Americans citizens those Armenians who have been naturalized in this country and then returned home to attend to their business affairs. Other subjects of protest are the refusal of the Ottoman Government to recognize the graduates of American medical schools and permit them to practice medicine within the Empire and a similar neglect to recognize American diplomats in other professions.

A curious condition of affairs is reported by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, W. A. Jones. Mr. Jones has just made public the report of Charles H. Dickson, supervisor of Indian Schools in which the latter says that the Pottawatamies and the Kickapoos, are becoming indigent because of a starvation of wealth. Mr. Dickson says that a few years ago these Indians were prosperous and thrifty. Now, their lands have been leased and they are living on the rentals. As a result they have become idle and thriftless, are spending their time in gaming and drunkenness and are rapidly and seriously deteriorating. As the Indians have more land than they can profitably farm themselves it is a serious problem to know how best to administer their affairs.

Commissioner Jones has just issued an order which threatens to bring him as much undesirable notoriety as his famous "hair cut order" of a year ago. Mr. Jones, largely at the instigation of Henry Garland, the well known writer and student of Indian life, has ordered all agents to try and induce the Indians to adopt a logical system of nomenclature. It is especially urged that the Indian name of the father in each family be adopted as a sir name and borne by all the children and by the mother. This is especially important on those reservations where the lands are being allotted and where the laws of heredity will soon become applicable. As Indians are now named there is absolutely nothing to indicate to what family each belongs, as no individual bears more than one name. Some of the newspapers have taken up this, as they did the hair-cut order, and are misrepresenting the intention of the Commissioner and Mr. Garland and attempting to show that they wish to abolish all Indian names and substitute therefor such common names as Smith, Jones, Brown etc. Instead of this being the fact every effort is to be made to preserve the Indian names although in some instances the more cumbersome will need to be somewhat abbreviated.

The remarkable effectiveness of modern inventions was never better demonstrated than it is during the President's present absence from Washington. A man prominent in financial circles came to Washington the evening that the President left Milwaukee and laid before Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Armstrong some very difficult problems with regard to a transaction involving diplomatic relations as well as Treasury customs. Mr. Armstrong quickly decided the problems with which his Department was especially concerned but regarded it as necessary to consult the President's opinion before rendering a verdict on the diplomatic and of the transaction. Accordingly, he left the financier with the remark that he would be back in a few minutes and stepped over to the White House where he found Assistant Secretary Forster in charge. The private wire, by arrangement with the telegraph company which has it in charge, was already in connection with the Plankinton House in Milwaukee and within fifteen minutes the Secretary had "talked" with the President over the wire, received the necessary information and was on his way back to his office to advise the financier. Throughout the President's trip the same close connection by wire will be maintained and the Executive will be within easy reach of his subordinates at all times. This convenience has, however, some disadvantages. Under these circumstances the President will not see, even in the depths of the Yellowstone Park, where the private wire will be carried, the complete rest which he would have enjoyed before the days of modern inventions.

In the absence of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt the finishing touches are being put upon the White House. The long terraces which extend from the East and West sides of the building are being ornamented with trees and shrubs, some of the latter are Dutch green bay trees which have been imported as a cost of about $200 apiece for this special purpose. It is the intention to make of the roofs of these terraces attractive promenade where the guests of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt will find it a pleasure to stroll on balmy evenings during the long Washington summer. The new portrait of the President by Sergard has been hung in the main corridor of the White House. While it is a good likeness in many respects the critics say it lacks the characteristic vigor and energy of the President.

Quite a number of Cornell residents spent Monday in this village attending Justice Court. They remained here until the night train. The case was between Herman Hahn and Henry Hempel, the trouble arising over some hay stumps. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, Mr. Hahn.

There has not been a single death or birth reported to the health department in Pine City village since February 1st up to April 3rd. Every indication points toward a large crowd at the Easter Monday dance, April 13th. The Pine City base ball club is in need of uniforms, and every public spirited citizen who can should help the boys get the same by purchasing a ticket whether he dances or not. Schmidt's North Branch orchestra has been engaged to furnish music, which fact alone assures you of your money's worth. The boys will spare no pains to make this event the best dance of the season, and perfect order will be kept throughout the evening. ## The Dam Situation.

The people who have hitherto felt injured by the high water on Chagawana dam, need have no further apprehension of having their just rights invaded by keeping the head on the dam above a reasonable height for the benefit of all concerned.

The dam is a piece of very valuable property, and in the development of business interests of certain kinds, is an indispensable factor. The company or individuals into whose hands it will soon pass have no wish, desire or necessity of keeping up a high head of water as the facilities below the present dam are amply sufficient to supply a large power. In the use of the water, all interests will be so guarded that none suffer any inconvenience, but rather, will share in the benefits which are sure to accrue from its use.

The log drives, the source of all the trouble, are things of the past, and now comes the usefulness in which all will share mutual benefits. This explanation will be deemed all that reasonable men can ask and the rights of the owners of the property will not extend beyond.
