7 TO 5.

HURLEY'S BARRINGTONS TAKE A GAME FROM THE K. C.'S. LAST SUNDAY AFTER EIGHT AND A HALF INNINGS OF FAST BALL PLAYING.

Hurley's Barringtons, Pine City's reliable base ball club, is making for itself a reputation that may well be envied by any of the clubs playing the National game, for out of nine games played this season, they have been defeated but twice, and both of these defeats were the result of luckless and listless playing on the part of our boys, as the records indicate. But then seven wins out of nine games is a far better record than a majority of towns the size of this could even hope for, after considering that our boys have met some of the swiftest teams in the amateur class in the state.

Last Sunday afternoon the Barringtons played the K. C.'s, of St. Paul, on the home diamond, and defeated them by a score of 7 to 5. These figures would indicate a very close game, and such was the case for, barring the third and fourth innings, Pine City was unable to locate Stovo's benders. Lambert and Stoven both pitched good ball, although Lambert had a little the best of it, as can be seen below in the summary.

The K. C.'s had their bats first, and received one run through a safe hit and an error by first baseman. Lambert also gave his first and only base on balls during this inning, but this did not affect the run-getting for a throw from catcher Payne to second baseman Mike Hurley nabbed this fellow in his attempt to steal the base. A throw from second to third base, and a foul fly, caught by Payne, retired the side. In the next inning the St. Paul fellows could not connect with Lambert, and two of them hit the air three times in their endeavor to hit the ball. Another man hit a drive to Lambert who fielded perfectly to first and, side out again. No more runs were recorded for the K. C.'s until the fourth when two hits and an error brought in their second score. In the sixth the visitors pounded out two more safe hits, and these together with an error, was responsible for run No. 3. The first part of the seventh started out as though the visitors would catch the lead already made by the locals. A bunt was made by the first man to bat which was picked up by Lambert, but in his attempt to wheel around and throw it to first, he slipped and fell and before he recovered himself the man was safely perched on first; two safe hits were next made which netted two scores. Lambert fanned the fourth man up; the next went out on a liner to the pitcher which was easily fielded to first, and the side was retired by another liner to the pitcher. In the ninth the St. Paulites never had a peep-in, and in this inning Lambert struck out two men.

Pine City's hard hitters never got to first base in their first two innings at bat, as their opponents' twirler, Stoven, was in whirlwind condition and struck out five of the six men who faced him, although Matt Hurley, the first man up, hit the ball to the second baseman who easily threw him out at first. In the third inning Batson, who started the fireworks for the locals the Sunday before, made a safe hit and three others did likewise. A base on balls, three errors and a stolen base did the rest, and 4 scores were netted, which put them three scores to the good. The next inning the Barringtons also did things, and three runs were recorded. During this time at bat two safe hits were made, one of these being a three bagger by Mike Hurley. A free pass to first, an error and a stolen was also responsible for part of the scoring. After the fourth inning the visiting twirler steadied down and allowed only one safe hit and one base on balls of his delivery. This came in the sixth inning, when Lambert made the hit and Ben Hurley received the free pass. With these two men on first and second base Mike Hurley hit the ball down to the short stop who threw to third base and caught Lambert who had been forced off of second by the hit, and this evidently stopped what might have been a run. Before this play was made Matt Hurley was out on a fly ball to third base, and a fly by Payne to left field spoiled their last chance to score.

The score by innings:
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Barringtons, 0 0 4 3 0 0 0 0 x-7
K. C.'s, 1 0 0 1 0 1 0 2 0-5
Batteries—Barringtons, Lambert and Payne; K. C.'s, Stoven and W. Volkmeir; hits off Lambert 6, off Stoven 7; struck out by Lambert 10, by Stoven 10; bases on balls off Lambert 1, off Stoven 3. Umpire, Murray.

The next game will be played next Sunday when the Barringtons will meet Hanson's Colts, of St. Paul. The game will be called promptly at 2:30. The McGibbons, of St. Paul, are scheduled for games here Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 1st and 2nd. And don't miss the game Wednesday afternoon between the "Fats" and "Leans."

K. P.'s Visit.

On Wednesday of this week a party of seventeen members of Pokegama Lodge No. 77, of this place, boarded the 4:40 boat for Pokegama lake in response to an invitation from a party of members of Kenyon Lodge No. 86, of St. Paul Park, to partake of a smoke fish supper. The party consisted of Knights Wilcox, Harte, Wandel, Pitt, Albrecht, Smith, Brothers, Stochl, Hodge, Boyle, Rath, Roberts, Derr, Fitzgerald, Greeley, Breckenridge and Gottry.

On arriving at the camp they were met by E. Miller, Ed. Cook, H. Frazer, Dr. O'Hague, H. D., F. M. and M. W. Truax; who escorted the party to the dining table where an abundance of smoked fish and other edibles were waiting for the party. A very enjoyable evening was spent in speech making, smoking and other amusements. The "Victor" called for the party at nine o'clock when the boys departed for their homes wishing their hosts a pleasant sojourn on the banks of our beautiful lake.

St. Paul Summer Carnival.

St. Paul is to have an elaborate summer carnival, July 27th to Aug. 8th; the proceeds from which are to go to the improvement of the Public Baths, a most popular institution in that city. The city officials have undertaken the management of the affair with the assistance of some prominent business men. Mr. Geo. E. Lennon, the well known base ball enthusiast and clothing merchant, is acting as general manager and has donated the use of his new ball park for the show grounds. Leading up to this is to be an Industrial street four blocks long lined on either side by mercantile and manufacturing exhibits approached by a brilliant y illuminated court of honor and arch. All roads leading to St. Paul have granted excursion rates for July 28th and 30th, August 2nd and 5th. There is to be a parade each day of the fair and a fireworks display at night. The Big Labour Shows and Spectacles which have furnished attractions for the Minneapolis fairs the past two years have been engaged with the understanding that there are to be many new features. Among the notable parades announced is an electric wagon in which floats fitted up on street car trucks are introduced; an automobile flower parade, a demonstration by organized labor and a Mardi Gras costume procession. A voting contest to select a queen of the carnival is now in progress that is attracting more attention than the last municipal election.

THE MEN OF WASHINGTON

Public Officials Who Are Talked About at the Capital.

A Negro Who Is Prominent in Official Society—James B. Garfield, the Son of a President—Other Items.

Washington—There is a negro in Washington who moves in the very best society, chess at the most exclusive tables, is a welcome addition to any company, and whose attendance at white house functions is taken as a matter of course. People who grew purple in the face about Booker Washington's name at the white house get white when they see the colored man uttering a word of criticism if this other negro were to sit down with the Roosevelt family.

The difference all comes from the fact that Mr. Leger—for that is the negro's name—happens to be a member of the diplomatic corps. He represents the republic of Haiti, and he has been its representative here for seven years.

It is a curious commentary on the Washington prejudice against the negro that should have before the sacred uniform of an insignificant negro republic. But there is no such thing as argument with the feeling caste.

Mr. Leger is really a very accomplished and charming gentleman. He is rather small in stature with a finely chiselled, delicate face and a manner suggestive of refinement. There is not a feature of his face that betrays his African ancestry, and his complexion is hardly dark enough to distinguish him from any one of the Central or South American diplomats. But there are scores of negroes in Washington, fully as accomplished, with a greater share of Caucasian blood and in no respect inferior, who would be refused a seat in the dining-room of any hotel in the city.

A Growing University.
Columbian university, which for many years has been the leading educational institution of the national capital, is about to expand into the true proportions of a university. Hitherto it has had only lecture halls and class rooms in a few unpretentious buildings set down in the very heart of the city, and it has known nothing of the atmosphere of a college life. Now its trustees have decided to buy a tract of ground down on the banks of the Potomac, where new and splendid halls and dormitories will be built and where there will be a college yard with all that implies.

The tract of land chosen for this enlargement is the old Van Ness place, one of the historic sites of Washington. Eighty years ago the Van Ness mansion was the finest house in the District of Columbia. It had just been built by John Van Ness, once a congressman from New York, who had married Maria, the only daughter of John Jay Burns, who in the early days was the wealthiest man in the capital.

Mr. Burns lived in a cottage on the banks of the Potomac which was an ambitious residence for those days, and when it was determined to bring capital to this retirement, the property was to be a source of great trouble in the laying out of the district than all other cases combined. George Washington had a hard time of it in bringing him to terms. But the Van Ness mansion, which his son-in-law built, was for years the center of the social life of the district, famed for its hospitality and elegance.

That was 80 years ago. Nobody now living has any recollection of the place, except as a deserted mansion, far from the life of the city, gloomy, haunted and falling to decay.

There is a legend of six headless horses dragging a huge black hearse who gallop around the old house on the anniversary of the death of old John Van Ness.

Son of a President.
"Jimmie" Garfield, whose name as a boy just 22 years ago was on the lips of a nation watching the career of a dying president, is once more a familiar figure in the white house, where he lived for a few troubled years of the life of a dying president, is once more a familiar figure in the white house, where he lived for a few troubled years of the life of a dying president.

Young Garfield, whom President Roosevelt has appointed to Washington as a civil service commission, is one of those whose great deeds have been chosen as a personal company by his daily walks and rides, and who frequently has been tried off through the rain together or carrying across country on the outskirts of the city.

It was always said when "Jimmie" Garfield was a boy that his father's likeness could be traced in his face; and this likeness has become emphasized with the passing years. Those who served with James A. Garfield in congress are invariably struck with the resemblance and usually remark upon it. There is in his face the steady, the same easy, athletic figure, the same deep and musical voice, and the same attractive and engaging face.

Young Garfield is a hard worker. He is devoted all his energies to putting on its feet the new bureau which has been entrusted to him for guidance and development. He is steady-going, and thorough in his manner, and in his determination to succeed. He has a manner which inspires confidence. It is a manner which has been hard to find another who could have worked so closely with Secretary Cortelyou in organizing and developing the department of commerce, of which the bureau of corporations forms so large a part. The position has almost the importance of a cabinet office, and will become more and more important as time goes by.

A Relative of Napoleon.
Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, who is one of the special counsel engaged by the department of justice to help prosecute the grafters in the post office, is a relative of the great Napoleon. His great-grandfather was the first Napoleon's great-grand-nephew of the great Napoleon. His own grand-father was Jerome Bonaparte, Napoleon's younger brother, who came to Baltimore and married there Miss Patterson, one of the belles of that city. Afterward Jerome was induced by his brother to return to France, and he became king of Westphalia. He was forced to marry his own niece, the Baltimore beauty. She and her children remained in Baltimore, and the family has continued to this day to be counted among the best of the town.

Charles Bonaparte has some of the characteristics of his great uncle. He is diminutive in stature and his features have the Napoleonic cast. He is a horse fighter, and since he came to manhood he has been scarring continually with somebody or other. He was graduated from Harvard in the same class with Senator Lodge, and is a little over 50 years of age. He is a fine lawyer and has a record for winning cases. In politics he calls himself a republican, but most republicans would probably call him a mugwump, as he votes against his party as often as for it. He is conspicuous as a politician in this respect. There is a total of 377 taxes enrolled here and paying taxes here. They have an aggregate gross tonnage of 493,623 gross tons.

This is a gain of forty vessels, and about 60,000 gross tons for the year. Duluth is the port of call for a majority of the largest and best tonnage on the lake. The fact that all this tonnage is enrolled here is due to the rate of taxation and is practically all new business since 1897.

Conspicuous Growing.
Collector M. Willicott has just issued his annual report on vessel tonnage enrolled at the port of Duluth, which now leads all other lake ports in this respect. There is a total of 377 taxes enrolled here and paying taxes here. They have an aggregate gross tonnage of 493,623 gross tons.

This is a gain of forty vessels, and about 60,000 gross tons for the year. Duluth is the port of call for a majority of the largest and best tonnage on the lake. The fact that all this tonnage is enrolled here is due to the rate of taxation and is practically all new business since 1897.

Good As a Circus.
"It will be as good as a circus," they say—midway at the St. Paul Summer carnival, with its Japanese Tea Gardens, high diving lady wrapped in a sea of flame, gilt slacked rope, and walkers, heavy show ballet dancers, menageries, camels, performing donkeys, trained dogs, bucking mules and clowns. Arabs, Hindus, Turks, Chinese and other curiosities will be found in the Congo. Excursion rates will be granted by all the railroads on July 27th and 28th.

Declines to Accept Cash.
Seven thousand tons of soft coal are lying on the sidetrack at Kasopa, waiting for a claimant. It was shipped by O'Connell, King & Chicago and is being stored in Peter Insane hospital. This company had the contract for supplying state institutions with fuel, but the board of control declined to accept this shipment, saying that it is in excess of the amount in the contract. The contractors are trying to sell the coal, and the railroad threatens to confiscate it for the freight charges unless moved.

Gave Life for Child.
Frank Hill of Elk River lost his life in trying to rescue his children from drowning. Mr. and Mrs. Hill were on the river bank watching their children bathe. One of the children got beyond its depth and was unable to get to its rescue and was himself soon struggling in ten feet of water. Being unable to swim, he soon went under. He was not recovered until the mother made a frantic effort and succeeded in rescuing the child. About an hour later the body of Hill was recovered.

News in Brief.
The 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tryeman was run over by a lumber wagon on Northpark and is most dangerously injured.

The postoffice at Ellerton was looted last night and $300 in cash and stamps taken.

The state board of health, in the advance sheets of its report which will be submitted to Gov. Van Sant in September, states that of the 580 dairies in the vicinities of the Twin Cities inspected by the board only 65 were found to be in reasonable condition, and 229 are classed as unsatisfactory because of their unsanitary environments.

MINNESOTA NEWS.

Climate and Crop Bulletin.

There were local showers on the 7th and 8th, and much more widely distributed showers and thunderstorms on the 9th; these rains were light in the northern half of the state, and heavy in parts of the South and middle West. The rains of the 10th were accompanied by high winds in a region apparently extending from the upper part of the Minnesota valley to the extreme southwest corner of the state some 300 miles, and doing to windmills and light-oil buildings, and much grain was blown down. There was a severe rain, wind and hail storm, in the extreme southwest on the 17th, with some damage.

In the northern half of the state rain is much needed, the showers of the previous week having been dried up by the high warm winds of the 7th and 8th. The local showers of the week have benefited the crops somewhat, but the soil is still very little growing on. In many fields the wheat, oats and barley are thin, and they are heading with short stalks. Early corn is in bloom. The late sown milo is slow starting, and as the hay crop is light, a deficiency of winter feed is feared.

In much of the southern half of the state the low lands are wet or flooded, so that wild hay cannot be cut, and the improvement of grain, corn and potatoes is slow. On the high lands the abundant moisture has caused a rank growth of wheat, oats and barley, and with large areas of grain badly lodged. Some rice and barley are in sheath winter wheat which is nearly ripe and early oats are beginning to ripen.

Minnesota Sugar.
The Minnesota Sugar company at St. Louis Park will produce 50 per cent more beet sugar this year than it did last, when the output was about 7,000,000 pounds.

The success of the prospect now facing the management, and it is a prospect made possible by the improvement in the class and experience of the farmers who are raising beets this year, is a gain of forty vessels, and about 60,000 gross tons for the year.

CHURCH WORK IN NEW YORK

Successful Pastors Are More Business Men Than Preachers.

The Institutional Church is Making American Citizens Out of Aliens and Their Children—The Summer Charities.

New York—It is but a few days since I attended the funeral of a New York newspaper man, one known and famed in the profession west and east—the late Will Van Dusen.

The family pastor and friend was the Rev. Dr. Maxwell D. Hill, successor David Swing's in Chicago, now Henry Ward Beecher's successor in New York.

Dr. Hill is young, tall, well built, and of a fine physique. His voice was choked with unshed tears when he told how the dead man had befriended him when he first came to Chicago, scarcely more than a boy. And he praised in forceful terms the usefulness of the men engaged in popular journalism of the one-cent variety.

The day before, Dr. Hill said, the value of such journalism had been questioned by an English guest, and though he did not name the man, it was quite evident that the guest meant Dr. Campbell, the very eloquent English clergyman now visiting this country.

For answer Dr. Hill had taken his guest to drive through the swarming tenement region and had shown him where he had to live the men who in Italy, Russia, in Turkey, never read a newspaper, but who now were clad in uniforms.

"Now I understand, the British friend, 'how it is that you have taken 200,000,000 aliens and children of aliens in a generation and have turned them into American citizens, and how you are building here the greatest republic of all time.'"

For everywhere there had passed, as they drove, the great schoolhouses, always the best buildings in the slums.

Dr. Hill's point was that the popular journalism of to-day does public service in reaching readers who would never care for the London Times. The man whose giant form lay still before him, the kindly "Mr. Van," was a martyr in good deeds and in early death. Dead at 47, he might in a less groining task have lived to be 81, like the aged father in Iowa, to whose home the body was to be taken.

The great clergyman of a generation ago was the controversial orator—Stors, forced defender of universalism, Beecher's missionary and a man of strong personality.

The great clergyman of to-day is the manager of institutions for social service. Hill, Rainsford, Lorimer, Dr. Green, whose name recently referred an offer of $200,000 to take a parish in Boston, tells why he was elected to remain in New York instead of leaving.

He gives seven reasons—the influence upon the nation of his metropolitan, the enormous foresting population needing Americanization, the "moral perils" of unrestricted ballot in such a community, the fast floating population, the number of students here, and of young men and women away from home; every reason being in its nature social, not religious.

Why, the call to this eloquent Baptist came from a Methodist church! Could that have happened in 1857?

Dr. Lorimer is himself the type of the new eloquence. He was not reared like Beecher and Stors in the clerical and scholarly atmosphere of a parsonage, but was a restless Scottish lad who at 13 ran away to sea, and who afterward a carpenter, a law student and an actor before he became a clergyman. Such a man, with such an experience, knows how to talk to men.

He is tall, spare, gray-eyed, unpretentious and kindly. His illustrations are forcible talk are those of practical life.

Dr. Hill himself, recently from Chicago, has not a straight front, London, are in their pulpit manner more nearly of the old school.

Perhaps the most striking type in the city of the new clerical needs and manners is Dr. Rainsford.

He is not instinctively thinks of a young man, but is really middle-aged and grizzled, and by his big and powerful frame, his energetic manner, mark him as with the typical athletic.

Once, in London, Dr. Rainsford had occasion to speak through a magnifying glass for some time.

Heating or some such trifles—and did not hesitate to do it. Afterward he got into a tight corner with some London toughs.

He has been a great advertiser in the vicinity of Red Hook and thence more than 125 violent houses are operated, and dozens more are being built.

Said Stads of Anales.

The census of 1901 reveals the sad fact that more than half the total population of Ireland belongs to the non-productive class. They are actually more numerous than the professional, commercial, industrial, agricultural and domestic classes together.

There is a single block in New York that illustrates Dr. Lorimer's remark that the chance for work in this city rests in the "houses of 185 babies on Kington street."

There are 37 families in this tenement, which is deemed nominally for 32. There are 150 children in the city five children in each family, the total at last.

Being in the House of Babies is not so well known, but assuming a reasonable number of widowers and widows the total population may be 250.

The dimensions of the lot on which the house stands are 25 feet by 100. There is one person for every ten square feet of floor area, or at the rate of 4,300 per acre. A block in New York is from two to four acres. If people thronged at this rate a single block might shelter a small city of from 10,000 to 15,000 souls.

No block really is so populous, unless everywhere small, old houses are mingled with big new ones. But the population of the "house of babies" is for a half mile north and south the densest in the world. Plenty of room for the social laborers to do their utmost.

and was dismayed to note that the thought of its lot, as the man had been thrashed. But this man instantly took the side of the young clergyman and together they cleaned out the whole gang; so that the man did not soon live of "telling boys" in "Rainforests" had thrashed the whole lot.

Dr. Rainsford does not, I think, tell this anecdote in his life story as published in the Outlook; but it is characteristic of his evangelic work in London, Toronto and Baltimore.

There are over 7,000 members in the Rainsford church, many of them living rhaps, one of the most skillful in the city, a former press secretary. His office is that of a business man. He manages schools, clubs, gymnasiums. His sermons are short, plain, strong. Often he is engaged to act as an assistant, and a man like Rainsford couldn't be afraid of his bishop.

The good doctor doesn't believe in the beautiful new cathedral of St. John the Divine, which is slowly rising on Morris Avenue. It will cost $10,000,000.

Better spent money, Dr. Rainsford has publicly said, upon two great institutional churches down town in the heart of the tenement region, one East side and one West, with the libraries, gymnasiums and everything needed for the recreation and education of their members.

This is the new clericalism with a vengeance.

The "House of Many Babies." There is a single block in New York that illustrates Dr. Lorimer's remark that the chance for work in this city rests in the "houses of 185 babies on Kington street."

RAYS AS CURE FOR DISEASE.

Successful Results Said to Have Been Obtained by Specialists in Australia.

Since Prof. Finem's discovery of the violet-ray cure for lupus, specialists at Vienna have devoted much attention to the study of light therapeutics. Dr. Schiff, finding the Finem lamp so expensive, experimented with Roentgen rays, which are well known to contain a large proportion of violet rays, ozone and other curative elements, and has met with marked success in curing lupus, tuberculosis of the skin, and cancer of the skin. In periods of a month to six weeks he has cured or greatly improved patients, being specially successful in cases of superficial cancer.

Dr. Schiff does not think that he has yet proved that the Roentgen is equal to the Finem lamp rays for lupus, but thinks that further experiments may demonstrate it. Meanwhile he has shown the power of Roentgen rays to cure diseases and affections of the skin, which the Finem lamp does not touch. He has obtained good results with the ozone lamp, which emits only the ozone ingredients of the Roentgen rays. The experiments are still going on, being aided by a subsidy of the Austrian government.

NICEST WOMAN IN LONDON.

Mrs. Cornelia Adair Has Won This Unique Title in English Society.

Mrs. Cornelia Wedgworth Adair, "the nicest woman in London," as she is now called, has become such an integral part of London life that people forget she is an American. Mrs. Adair doesn't forget it, however, nor does her sister, Lady Barrymore. So when they "bring out" Lady Barrymore's young daughter, Miss Post, this month many American amusement will mark the festivities.

Mrs. Adair went out to India for the durbar as one of several guests invited by Lord Kitchener, with whom she is a prime favorite. This is only one of the important distinctions conferred upon her during the last winter, for the royal family are all fond of her. With Lady Barrymore for a mother and Mrs. Adair for an aunt, Miss Post may be reasonably certain of having a gay young ladyhood.

OPUIUM DEN FOR THE ELITE.

Frenchman Is Host at One of the Most Unique of Social Entertainments.

M. Pierre Loti gave a Chinese fete at Rochefort, France, recently, which marks a red letter day in the annals of gastronomy or, like it in search of novel and exotic sensations. There was an opium den luxuriously fitted up, where the dangerous delights of opium smoking could be tried. The invitation cards bore the mysterious request that all guests would arrive before ten o'clock, for at that hour her imperial majesty, the Empress of China, was to appear to receive the homage of the novelty's friends. For once women were punctual.

In the "Raphael salon," upholstered in red velvet, Mme. Pierre Loti, dressed in a sumptuous Chinese court, clad of greens and oranges, embroidered with gold, received the guests. With her were her two nieces, also in Chinese costumes.

In the time the empress appeared in gorgeous robes, attended by M. Loti, courtiers and musiciens, all gotten up in rich oriental style. M. Loti's costume was of black satin, embroidered with gold and pearls. He wore a gold helmet, with a graceful plume, the effect of the whole being at once dazzling and somber in its magnificence.

POULTRY AND BEES

HOMMADE BROODER.

I send herewith description of a brooder we have used three years and I know it to be all right. It does not cost much to make it. For a hundred chicks a base measurement of two feet by four will be sufficient...

Fig. 1 shows the outside and I think it is so plain that it will need no explanation. Fig. 2 is a cross-section. Heat is supplied by a lamp, L, over the brooder.

TEXAS POULTRY HOUSE.

Designer of Plan Here Illustrated Considers it Convenient and Complete in Every Detail.

We have been asked for a plan for a convenient poultry house. The writer has built and used two according to the plan illustrated in the accompanying drawing and considers them complete and convenient as can be designed.

HOW TO CLEAN EGGS.

Heat and Attractive Appearance Adds materially to the Poultryman's Income. The proper cleaning and sorting of the eggs, so that it will have a neat and attractive appearance will add much to its selling qualities.

Poultry Needed on Farms. The more poultry on a farm the fewer insects and grubs. If it were not for the fowls worms would take the place. No one has an idea how many one hen will consume in a day.

Clipping the Queen's Wings. Some beekeepers practice clipping one wing of their queens. This is done by holding the queen by the thorax between the thumb and finger and cutting a part of one of her wings.

PROFITS AND BREEDS.

Further Discussion of a Subject That is of Permanent Interest to Poultry Raisers.

The best way to enjoy keeping fowls is to have a small flock in which to insert all the receipts and expenses. It is an excellent mode of learning what can be done and to economize. A large flock can be made with a very small flock that is, while the receipts may not be large, yet the comparative profit on each invested will be surprising.

GREELEY.

The dance given by the Maccebes on Saturday evening of last week in Olson's grove was well attended and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Crops around Greeley look fine except potatoes that are drowned out on low ground. The hay is good but a little better weather is needed to get it in.

Last Monday was a record breaker at the creamery nearly 20,000 lbs. of milk was received. John Mohr brought in 1,049 lbs. being the most by any individual.

The game of ball between the Greely team and the Meadow Banks nine resulting in a victory for our boys on Sunday last. Don't feel bad Meadow Banks, but do some practicing, we did.

David Anderson, our popular stone mason and brick layer, secured the contract on the Rohlf school house for the brick work, and Phil Schroeder of Rush City, the contract for the carpenter work. When completed this will be the finest school building in this part of the country and the first brick one.

Last Monday was payday at the Creamery and it kept treasurer J. Johnson very busy the whole forenoon paying out the money. This month was the banner month of the season. The total amount of milk received was 201,000 lbs. and the total amount of cash paid out was $212,744. Henry Back received the largest amount of any amounting to $70.88. The annual school meeting was held on Saturday evening of last week, but was not very well attended on account of the dance given by the Maccebes the same evening. Henry Studt was reelected clerk the office he has held for the past twelve years. An eight months term of school will begin the first of October.

PLAN TO CONVERT INDIANS.

Catholic Missionary Has a Scheme to Raise a Large Fund for the Object.

Rev. H. G. Ganas, a Catholic missionary to the Indians has devised a plan to convert and educate all the Indians in the United States. He says that there are 270,000 of them and that 100,000 are already Catholics. He developed his scheme the other day in Holy Trinity chapel, New York city. Father Ganas asked every one of his hearers to become a "promoter." Each promoter pledges himself to give 25 cents a year and to get 11 others to do the same. Envelopes containing subscription blanks, with spaces for 15 names, were distributed. It is the intention to make the same appeal in Catholic churches throughout the union.

In putting the scheme into operation each successful promoter will earn $3 annually. It is hoped that the fund by the end of a year will exceed $1,000,000. All the money so far as it is collected will be forwarded to the bureau of Catholic Indian missions at Washington.

First Aid to the Injured.
In the last year 4,500 persons have been instructed in first aid to the injured in the class formed by the society organized for that purpose. The society's annual report gives an instance illustrative of the value of its work, showing that at least one life was saved that would otherwise have been lost. A driver had a leg terribly crushed by a heavy stone falling on it. A policeman who had been a member of one of the society's classes quickly cut the leather through from his club and twisted it around the man's limb, using the club itself as a tourniquet. In this way the man was kept alive until the ambulance arrived. But for the policeman's prompt and intelligent action the man would have died on the spot.

Largest of Police Stations.
The largest police station in the world is that at Scotland yard, London. It has accommodations for 3,000 policemen.

Catarrah of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it causes and inflames the mucous membrane, expelling the mucus, and causes the glands to secrete mucus instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarrah of the Stomach. For years I have suffered with Catarrah of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure—J. Y. Breckenridge, Tex. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.
