ARE OUTCLASSED.

The McKibbins of St. Paul Easy for Barringtons.

Not a Single Visitor Allowed to Make Home Plate and Only One Man Was Able to Get to Third. The Locals Gather in Fifteen Buns.

With blood in their eyes from the defeat of the Sunday before by Hanson's Colts, the Pine City ball tossers, namely Hurley's Barringtons, went after the McKibbins ball club of St. Paul last Sunday with a vigor that would have won or held many a game from any of the clubs in their class or even league company. Only three errors were made by the locals but these were completely overlooked or covered up by brilliant playing, while five of the visitors' errors were very costly. During practice and before the game the McKibbins looked good enough to play to a standstill any of the teams that had been here before, but every man on the home team played gilt edged ball, covering more territory than heretofore this season, and Lambert was almost invincible, allowing only four safe hits. How could we lose under such circumstances.

Neither side scored in the first inning, only three men coming to bat for the Bars, while two more stood up for the Maes.

Three men faced the sturdy Lambert in the second, but they were quickly put out of the running by a couple east biffs to pitcher and a strike-out. In this inning the Barringtons made six of their runs. "Ugels Duff" Lambert was transported to first sack by a base on balls, and was forced to second by Mr. Daniel Payne's inability to dodge a pitched ball. These men came in on a hit by Wm. Hurley. The next two men, F. Hurley and Watson, were put out at first base. J. Lambert hit for a single as did also Matt Hurley. A hit by Ben Hurley brought these two men in, while a passed ball by catcher Porth scored tally No. 6. Mick Hurley made a safe hit but Wm. Lambert, who was up for the second time this inning, thought the locals had run enough for once so he knocked an easy little pop-up to the second baseman and the side retired.

Of course it is understood that the McKibbins received goose eggs all through the game, and two pretty good machine-like double plays did much to make this possible. These occurred in the fifth and seventh innings.

Wm. Hurley made a hit in the third and scored after F. Hurley had received his base on balls, and an error had been made by Lenahan.

Nothing was done in the fourth although a little single would have brought in W. Lambert who was left on third base.

Three safe hits, an error, and a crack on the "crazy-bone" for Mick Hurley, was all that was done in the locals half of the fifth, which netted two runs more.

Lenahan was unable to do anything with the bad-eyed men of our notorious bat-swinging association, and he retired in favor of L. Beechner, another Saintry city lad. The performance of the second inning was repeated in this, the seventh. Three singles and a double were shot out into safe territory, and these hits interspersed with three bad errors, netted our boys six more runs, which brought the score up to fifteen.

Enough scores had been made to win mostly any old game and only four men stepped up to bat in the eighth, and no more scores were recorded. The visitors had been clearly outplayed in every stage of the game and a shut-out was the result.

Given to His Reward.

Robert John Tate, an old resident of this county, passed away at his home on Wednesday, July 29th, at about 1:30 in the morning. The direct cause of his death was heart failure brought on by the shock and after effects of an operation which he had undergone five days previous.

The deceased was born in Rockeburg, Canada, on the 20th day of October, 1865, and therefore was in his 38th year. He came to Pine county with his parents twenty two years ago and had made this county his home since then, and lived in the town of Rock Creek. In October, 1881, he was married to Miss Christine McDonald, who survives him together with one daughter eight years old. He leaves three brothers, Sandy, Will and Arthur, and sister, Jennie. His mother died eighteen years ago and father eleven years ago.

The funeral services were held from the M. E. church at Rock Creek last Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, in the presence of a large number of sympathizing friends. Rev. Briggs, of Elk River, conducted the services and the remains were laid to rest in the Rock Creek cemetery. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

The death of Robert John coming as it did makes it doubly hard as he was just out of debt, he had his farm clear and was about to erect a new house, and all this would have enabled him to take life easy compared with what he had had to contend with. But it shows the uncertainty of life—here today and gone tomorrow. The friends of the deceased were numbered by his acquaintances, and all who knew him admired him for his honest and upright bearing. He was a hard-working man, always ready and willing to help a friend in need, and the community as well as his wife, daughter, brothers and sister, will miss him from their company. But let us have the consolation in knowing that he leaves behind him a life of goodness, one that is worthy of any young man's following. The Pioneer sympathizes with the bereaved family.

As the outcome of much painstaking investigation the existence has been demonstrated of a class of human beings called moral imbeciles. Their essential characteristic is a complete mental insensibility, revealed by a total absence of repugnance to the suggestion of crime before the deed.

A government secret service man has called attention to the fact that government dollars, being stamped out from silver in sheets, have clean cut lines, while molded coins have not, and are detected at once. For counterfeiters to operate a plant as extensive or as noisy as is necessary to stamp out dollars is impossible.

He is now at Copenhagen, Denmark, looking through the archives for traces of the document. The manuscript is highly valuable because it contains the first mention of the game of chess by a writer in America. The treatise was written by Rev. Lewis Roun 1734.

There were 15,000 operations for this malady that has happily been reduced to 10 per cent of recoveries, including that of King Edward.

NEW POPE ELECTED BY THE CARDINALS

Giuseppe Sarto Chosen on Seventh Ballot as the Successor of Pope Leo XIII.

NEW HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH TAKES THE NAME OF PIUS X.

White Robes of Office Donned by New Pope and He Receives Homage of Cardinals—Pope Blessing Bestowed on Them and the Assembled People.

Rome, Aug. 5.—Cardinal Machi, secretary apostolic, briefly announced to the crowds assembled before St. Peter's that Cardinal Sarto had been elected pope, and that he had taken the name of Pius X. The troops on duty immediately lined up on the piazza and presented arms.

Announcement of Cardinal Sarto's election was received with wild enthusiasm on the part of thousands of persons who had gathered outside St. Peter's. The new pope was attired all in white, with the exception of red shoes which was quite regular, but he did not stop to remove the red cardinal's stockings for the white papal ones, and these showed as he raised his right hand to his forehead. When he was quite robed, the secretary of the conclave, Mr. Merry del Val, kneeling, offered him the papal tiara, which he accepted with a slight bow and humility, the white robes of his office. Pius X. was assisted by his conclavist, who had knelt and kissed his master's hand and thus received the first apostolic blessing given by Pius X.

HANNA TALKS OF CIVIC FEDERATION

Says That Politics Has Nothing to Do with His Connection with the Organization

DESIRES BETTER ECONOMIC CONDITIONS OF HUMAN RACE

Object of the Civic Federation is Not to Act as Arbitration Board, but to Bring the Employer and the Employee Together in Closer Sympathy.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 5.—Senator Hanna, in an address devoted to an explanation of the purpose of the Civic Federation, of which he is chairman, delivered before members of the Cleveland Builders' exchange, said in part:

"Since the organization of the Civic federation the working people have been prosperous as never before, and so has the employer. The wage earners, however, thought to themselves: 'Are we getting our share of this prosperity?' I must admit that in many cases they were not. We aim to remedy that condition. Where there is a difference of opinion between labor and capital, we try to bring them together. The federation does not act as a board of arbitration."

THE NEW POPE PIUS X.

Rome, Aug. 5, 7:35 p. m.—The conclave has dissolved and the cardinals have returned to their various apartments in Rome.

SKETCH OF THE NEW POPE.

The Successor of Leo XIII. Said to Be a Man of Liberal Views.

Giuseppe Sarto, the new pope, was born in Trieste, diocese of Treviso, northern Italy, June 2, 1835, and was created cardinal by Leo XIII at the consistory of June 12, 1883, receiving the title of Bernardo della Porta. He is also patriarch of Venice since June, 1893, and bishop of Mantua. He belongs to the ecclesiastical congress, sacred rites, indulgences and sacred registers, sacred rites, indulgences and sacred registers.

Pope Pius X. is very learned in the ecclesiastical doctrines, is a prudent, energetic and a good administrator and organizer, a patron of the arts and his seriousness always has been proverbial. Early in April, Pope Leo X. a conversation with Cardinal Sarto, the Italian composer, said in speaking of Cardinal Sarto:

"Hold him very dear, Peroni, as in the future he will be able to do much for us. We firmly believe he will be our successor." He has been known for many years as one of the greatest preachers in the church. Pius X. enjoyed great popularity in his diocese and was noted by all for his purity, for the strict uprightness of his life and for liberal ideas. He is a modest and agreeable man, highly cultivated, kind-hearted, still strong and robust in spite of his 68 years. He has never taken much part in the political and public life of the church, but he has lived his time between study and good works.

Although most faithful to the holy see, he was presented to the pope as a candidate for the papacy. He may be considered among the more liberal members of the Italian episcopate and sacred rites, indulgences and sacred registers. He is rather timid in expressing an opinion. It is said that Leo XIII. always thought very highly of him and sided with him on one occasion when Sarto disapproved of Rappallo's policy.

Government May Seize Bridge. Washington, Aug. 5.—Secretary Root has addressed a communication to the Merchants Bridge company, the owners of the large bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis, asking the company to show cause why the United States should not take possession of the bridge under statute which provided for its construction, and which it alleged has been violated.

Indiana Professor Honored. Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 5.—Prof. C. H. Brown, in charge of the Indiana state biological station at Winona, Tuesday received a check for $1,000 for the specific purpose of paying expenses of the blind fisher of Cuba. The grant is a special one and comes from the Carnegie Institute of Washington, D. C.

Illinois Professor Resigns. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5.—Prof. Dwight S. Dabney will resign the position of instructor of farm crops in the University of Illinois and will move to Arkansas to accept a position in the University of Arkansas. He is rather timid in expressing an opinion. It is said that Leo XIII. always thought very highly of him and sided with him on one occasion when Sarto disapproved of Rappallo's policy.

Conditions in Agricultural Districts as Noted by Weather Bureau.

Low Temperature in Northern Portions of Country Proves Inconvenient to the Crops.

Washington, Aug. 5.—The weather bureau's weekly summary of crop conditions is as follows: Throughout the northern portions of the country from New England to the North Pacific coast the temperature was too low for best results, light frosts occurring in North Dakota, but in the southern states it was more favorable, although clear and warmer weather is needed in the west.

Corn is greatly improved, and especially in Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and portions of Illinois and the lake region, the best favorable reports being received from Missouri and the Ohio valley states. The crop continues late. An excellent crop is now assured in the southern states.

FEELING PREVAILS THAT A WISE CHOICE HAS BEEN MADE

Germany and France Especially Gratified—Feared the Election of a Pope Who Might Have Led to the Restoration of the Temporal Power of the Papacy.

London, Aug. 5.—News of the election of Cardinal Sarto as pope reached England first through a press dispatch from New York. The information was communicated to the Catholic church authorities and Monsignor Johnson, who is in New York very dry in the central and southern Rocky mountain districts.

Acceptable to Emperor William. Berlin, Aug. 5.—The election of Cardinal Sarto as the new pope was made known here at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon through extra editions of the newspapers, which were carefully read by the Catholic population. Whether the election was acceptable to Germany, a representative of the foreign office answered:

"Unqualifiedly so from an official viewpoint. Sarto is a mild-mannered man, and has never been active politically." In other quarters it was remarked that Sarto is the only Italian cardinal whom the king of Italy received. His repeated visits to the king, and his avowed political sympathies, are regarded as an auspicious sign for the triple alliance. Germany is also fully satisfied that Sarto does not aspire to the restoration of the temporal power of the papacy. The officials think that the German emperor will be well pleased with the election, and believe that the support of Sarto is the best possible while visiting the king of Italy.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The election of Cardinal Sarto as pope has created a distinctly favorable impression in government quarters, removing the fear that the choice might fall upon a radical or reactionary candidate. The foreign office received the first information of the election in the afternoon, and the spreading rapidly among the officials and causing widespread comment.

Although not expressing any particular candidly, officials here have been favorable to one who would continue the conservative policy of the late pope. Although the news of Sarto's political tendencies, he is considered to be one likely to avoid conflicts and to continue the policy of Pope Leo and Queen Helena. The officials here recall Sarto's tactful course in receiving the king and queen of Italy at Venice, which removed much of the friction which existed, and led to a warm friendship between Sarto and Queen Helena. This incident is cited as an evidence of his moderate disposition, and the likelihood of no material change taking place in the policy of the Vatican.

TEMPERATURE WORKERS MEET

Third National Convention of Catholic Total Abstinence Union Opens at Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 5.—The resignation of Charles M. Schwab as president of the United States Steel corporation was presented to the directors Tuesday afternoon and was accepted. W. E. Corey was elected president of the corporation.

Mr. Schwab said his resignation was due to ill-health. He says he will remain a director of the corporation. Rains caused injury to hay in Texas, New York and Michigan and delayed hay in South Dakota and New England, elsewhere this work has progressed under favorable conditions. Some plowing for fall seeding has been done in Oklahoma, Missouri and Michigan.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—A strike is threatened on the entire Rock Island railway system if the scale demanded by the conductors and the railway directors are not met. Chicago and will present an ultimatum to the company. The men are demanding the standard railway wage scale, claiming they have been discriminated against. None of the parties will admit a strike is imminent, but it is known the men are determined to insist on their demands.

THE NEWS AT THE EUROPEAN CAPITALS

Election of Sarto as Pope Creates General Satisfaction at London, Paris and Berlin.

FEELING PREVAILS THAT A WISE CHOICE HAS BEEN MADE

Germany and France Especially Gratified—Feared the Election of a Pope Who Might Have Led to the Restoration of the Temporal Power of the Papacy.

London, Aug. 5.—News of the election of Cardinal Sarto as pope reached England first through a press dispatch from New York. The information was communicated to the Catholic church authorities and Monsignor Johnson, who is in New York very dry in the central and southern Rocky mountain districts.

Acceptable to Emperor William. Berlin, Aug. 5.—The election of Cardinal Sarto as the new pope was made known here at one o'clock Tuesday afternoon through extra editions of the newspapers, which were carefully read by the Catholic population. Whether the election was acceptable to Germany, a representative of the foreign office answered:

"Unqualifiedly so from an official viewpoint. Sarto is a mild-mannered man, and has never been active politically." In other quarters it was remarked that Sarto is the only Italian cardinal whom the king of Italy received. His repeated visits to the king, and his avowed political sympathies, are regarded as an auspicious sign for the triple alliance. Germany is also fully satisfied that Sarto does not aspire to the restoration of the temporal power of the papacy. The officials think that the German emperor will be well pleased with the election, and believe that the support of Sarto is the best possible while visiting the king of Italy.

Paris, Aug. 5.—The election of Cardinal Sarto as pope has created a distinctly favorable impression in government quarters, removing the fear that the choice might fall upon a radical or reactionary candidate. The foreign office received the first information of the election in the afternoon, and the spreading rapidly among the officials and causing widespread comment.

Although not expressing any particular candidly, officials here have been favorable to one who would continue the conservative policy of the late pope. Although the news of Sarto's political tendencies, he is considered to be one likely to avoid conflicts and to continue the policy of Pope Leo and Queen Helena. The officials here recall Sarto's tactful course in receiving the king and queen of Italy at Venice, which removed much of the friction which existed, and led to a warm friendship between Sarto and Queen Helena. This incident is cited as an evidence of his moderate disposition, and the likelihood of no material change taking place in the policy of the Vatican.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—A strike is threatened on the entire Rock Island railway system if the scale demanded by the conductors and the railway directors are not met. Chicago and will present an ultimatum to the company. The men are demanding the standard railway wage scale, claiming they have been discriminated against. None of the parties will admit a strike is imminent, but it is known the men are determined to insist on their demands.

Illinois Professor Resigns. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5.—Prof. Dwight S. Dabney will resign the position of instructor of farm crops in the University of Illinois and will move to Arkansas to accept a position in the University of Arkansas. He is rather timid in expressing an opinion. It is said that Leo XIII. always thought very highly of him and sided with him on one occasion when Sarto disapproved of Rappallo's policy.

Government May Seize Bridge. Washington, Aug. 5.—Secretary Root has addressed a communication to the Merchants Bridge company, the owners of the large bridge across the Mississippi river at St. Louis, asking the company to show cause why the United States should not take possession of the bridge under statute which provided for its construction, and which it alleged has been violated.

Indiana Professor Honored. Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 5.—Prof. C. H. Brown, in charge of the Indiana state biological station at Winona, Tuesday received a check for $1,000 for the specific purpose of paying expenses of the blind fisher of Cuba. The grant is a special one and comes from the Carnegie Institute of Washington, D. C.

Illinois Professor Resigns. Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5.—Prof. Dwight S. Dabney will resign the position of instructor of farm crops in the University of Illinois and will move to Arkansas to accept a position in the University of Arkansas. He is rather timid in expressing an opinion. It is said that Leo XIII. always thought very highly of him and sided with him on one occasion when Sarto disapproved of Rappallo's policy.

On Sunday, the 26th inst., the locals will meet their second round on the home grounds this season when they will meet the strong John Wolf team at Stillwater. This team is supposed to be composed of the best bunch of ball players, outside of the league, in the state, and it is up to Hurlie's Barringtons to put a damper on their winning streak, although the opportunity was not offered them until they had defeated some of the best aggregations in the twin cities. The Leans had the satisfaction of beating the fat boys before, and a large crowd is expected over at the ball park next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock to see the offense committed a second time. The game will be called at 3 o'clock so as to allow the farmers a chance to see the game. The small admission fee of ten cents will be charged at the grand stand, and the receipts will go for the benefit of the school library. Don't miss this game as it promises to be the best ever.

The entertainment and dance at Rath's hall last Saturday evening was a decided success socially, but the attendance was not nearly as large as an affair of this kind should warrant. All of the numbers on the program were very well rendered, with the exception of Mr. Robey, who failed to appear, and which disappointed a large number present.

Dr. Wiseman called off the different numbers in a most happy and pleasing manner and several of his remarks brought forth much applause. Everyone present enjoyed the dance and the shifting base ball players, the McKibbins, were very courteous, treated, especially by the fair sex. More of these enjoyable events should occur in this village (the day previous to a ball game).

OUR SERIAL

A TRUE HELPMATE.

She was not fair, and yet she stood
A shining mark of unshakable
From the window, she of life
Should be taller than her youth.
On the window, she of life
He played the part of farmer's wife.
And, he it said, with loving art,
His always acted well her part.
Her education was not such.
As comes from keeping close in touch
With art and music, and the book
That all the formal material looks
He laid on her, she and boys,
Cham college girls were sweeter joys;
And he it said, her heart was boys,
They leave her martyrdom of care.

Her life was lovely as the sod,
And yet she had in hand with God
Walked through this vale of life and
And now that winter cold and snow
Lies drifted over her grave, I'd write
This epitaph for marble white:
"Through sun and storm and shadow
She always shouldered half the load."

"Blake! He got you ahead of us!"

"There's it's in him you should be runnin' not home, ye cur! Turn about now! Turn about or I'll—"

And in a fury Pat had seized the other's rein, and spurring savagely at Kilmahine—both horses instantly waking, as though responsive to the wrath and fervor of their little master—he fairly whirled the big trooper around and, despite fearsome protests, bore him onward toward the ridge, swift questioning as to how come such a quest? Why, the rookie gasped in explanation that he was on stable guard, and the captain took the first six men in sight. How happened it that the captain got so far ahead of him? There was no keeping up with the captain. He was on his big, raw-boned race horse, chained to three Indians that was firm, and had hit Meisner, but there was still three of the troop to follow him, and the captain ordered "come ahead" until all of a sudden, as they fled round a little knoll the three Indians they'd been chained turned about and "bet 'em have it, and down went another horse, and Corporal Feeley was killed sure, and he, poor young rookie, saw Indians in every direction, "coming straight at 'em, and what else could he do but gallop for home—and help? All this, told with much gasping on his part, and heard with much blasphemy by Kennedy, brought the strangely assorted pair at a swift gallop over the springy turf back along the line that panicky, yet most natural retreat. Twice would the big fellow have broken away and again spurred for home, but the little gamecock held him savagely to his work, and so, together, at last they neared the curtaining ridge. "Now, damn you!" howled Kennedy. "Whip out your carbine and take care of a man till we see what's in front! and if you fail, the first shot from this backer," with a slap at the butt of his Springfield, "goes through your heart."

And this was what they saw as, together, they rounded the hillock and came in view of the low ground beyond.

Halfway down the long, gradual slope, in a shallow little dip, possibly of old buffalo wallow, were three horses were sprawled and a tiny tongue of flame and blue smoke, splitting over the broad, brown snags, told that some one, at least, was on the alert and defensive. Out on the prairie, 300 yards beyond, a spotted Indian pony, heels up, was rolling on the turf, evidently sorely wounded. Behind this rolling parapet crouched a feathered warrior, and farther still away, sweeping and circling on their picturesque arcs, three more savage braves were darting at speeding rapidly they had sighted the coming inforcements, and while two aimed frantically signing toward the northwest, the third whirled his horse and sped madly away in that direction.

"Millions, be damned!" yelled Kennedy. "There's only three! Come on, ye scab!" And down they went full tilt, at the Sioux, yet heading to cover and reach the beleaguered party in the hollow. Some one of the leading vanguard had on high. Two more carbines barked their defiance at the swift fire blazing at them from the exhibit of savage daring and devotion. Disdainful of the coming troopers and the swift fire blazing at them from the pit, the two mounted warriors lashed their ponies to mad gallop and bore down straight for their impetuous leader, crouching behind the stricken "pinto." Never swerving, never halting, hardly checking speed, but bending low over and behind their chargers' necks, the two young braves swept onward, and with wild snorts of triumph, challenge and hatred, gathered up and slung behind the rider of the heavier pony the agile and belted form of the turf. They crept away defiantly, taunting, gleeful, yes, and even more.

"With raging eyes Kennedy sprang forward, kneeling, drove shot after shot at the scurrying pair. Two of the troopers at the hollow followed suit. Even the big, blubbery lad so lately crowned with fear, unsling his weapon and fired three into empty space, and a shout of defiance and challenge to "come back and fight it out" rang out after the Sioux, for to the amazement of the lately besieged, to the impotent fury of the Indians, the attack was, takeable, yet mostly unquotable, English, the crippled warrior was yelling until he had no breath left.

"Who was it Kennedy?—and where did you ever see him before?" a moment later, demanded Capt. Blake, almost before he could grasp the Irishman's hands and shower his thanks, and even while standing the front of the native, he had snatched him by his promise to Field, and lied like a hero. "Sure, how should I know, sorr? They're all of the same ilk."

"But he called you by name. I heard him plainly. So did Meisner here." "He called you by name, what have you then, corporal?" he added, as young Feeley, the "surely killed," came running back, bearing in his hand a gaily ornamented pony buckskin, with long fringes and heavy crusting of brilliant beads.

"He called me by the name yonder, sir," answered the corporal, with a salute. "Beg pardon, sir, but will the captain take my horse? His is hit to take to carry him."

Two, indeed of Blake's horses were crippled, and it was high time to be going. Mechanically he took the pouch and tied it to his waist-belt. "Thank God no man is hurt!" he said. "But—now back to Frayne! These rifles and he ready if a feather shows, and spread out a little—don't ride in a bunch."

But there was bigger game miles to the west, demanding all the attention of the gathered Sioux. There were none to spare to send so far, and though three warriors—one of them again volunteering for further attack despite his wounds—hovered about the retiring party, Blake and his fellows within another hour were in sight of the sheltering wall of Frayne, and, after a last, long-range snapping of shots, with Blake and Meisner footing it most of the way, led their crippled mount in at a trot toward that ribbon of the west—the stiff flowing Platte. They were still three miles out when Blake found leisure to examine the content of that beaded pouch, and the first thing drawn from its depths was about the last a Christian would think to find in the walls of a Siouan: a dainty little billet, scented with wood-violet—an envelope of delicate texture, containing a missive on paper to match, and the envelope was addressed in a strange, angular, characteristic hand that Blake recognized as that of a man of whom, by that name at least, he had never heard before.

"What name, captain?" she hailed, and the joyous, silvery ring had gone from her voice. "They tell me Capt. Blake is back—two horses crippled, two men hit, including my little boy in spite of himself, and he knew he could not open and read it in their presence. 'One moment,' he said, his eyes twinkling as he glanced at the pathy as well as dread. 'You shall hear in one moment,' and turned aside into the little army parlor. He was quickly as Ed Estler, his wife and child. They followed and stood studying his pale face as he read the so much.

"Reached Ray just in time. Sharp affair. Dr. Waller will have to come at once. Tracy says he's possibly sprained, stage people at Dry Rock. Better send infanteries and all hospital attendants. There's a possibility of cholera. Also Chaplain, Sergeants Burroughs and Wing, and a few more. Troops, honey, Floyd, Kerrigan and Prentiss killed. Many wounded. Don't feed 'em. 'WEBB."

A MATERNAL COLLIE.

Remarkable Intelligence Displayed by a Scottish Shepherd's Clever Dog.

Giles, the shepherd of Polly farm, was brushing the white ruff of his 83-pound collie. "The collie," he told the Philadelphia Record, "was the most interesting of dogs I permit to tell you a true collie story. There was a Scottish shepherd, whose dog gave birth to a litter of pups. All but one of them died, and the mother devoted herself so thoroughly to this sole remaining child that her master's work was quite neglected—the sheep were left to starve. After a year or so, enraged at this state of affairs, took the pup and drowned it in a bucket before his mother's eyes. Then he left the dog to her. The mother dog, in the evening, on his return, the drowned pup was missing. The shepherd said to his collie, pointing to the bucket: 'What did you do with your pup, lass?' The collie gave a low, mournful howl and set off, looking backward often to signify to her master that she should follow. She led him to a knoll and paused, moaning, beside a spot where the earth had a fresh look. The shepherd turned up the soil, and there beneath it the drowned puppy lay. His mother had taken it out of the bucket and given it a decent burial."

Only One Way.

"In these days," he sighed, "it is difficult to get a girl who is clever and simple." "How so?" she asked. "Why, if you tell her she is pretty, she will be proud; if you tell her she is stupid, she will be angry; if you tell her she is clever she will be arrogant; if you tell her she is beautiful she will be vain; DeWitt Is the Name.

When you go to buy Witch Hazel Salve look for the name DeWitt on every box. The pure, unadulterated Witch Hazel is used in making DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which is the best salve in the world for cuts, burns, bruises, boils, eczema and piles. The popularity of DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, due to its many cures, has caused numerous worthless counterfeits to be placed on the market. The genuine bears the name of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. Sold by J. Y. Breckenridge.

A Promising Strike.

During the latter part of February and the first part of March, work ON THE MARIE-MARILLA PROPERITY consisted in pushing a drift along vein No. 2 from the point where the working tunnel cuts through the vein. IN DRIVING THIS DRIFT FOR FORTY-THREE FEET, THE VEIN MATTER WIDENED FROM EIGHT INCHES TO FROM TWO AND A HALF TO THREE FEET, AND BECAME HEAVILY MINERALIZED.

ORE, RUNNING $250.00, IN SILVER ALONE, TO THE TON, was encountered across the face of the tunnel. This simply demonstrates the theory that, as depth is attained, the ORE BODIES WIDEN AND BECOME RICHER.

The most encouraging reports may be expected from time to time.
