HE THREW STONES.

Buy Arrested for Casting Stones at Moving Train Released on Bail. Returned Home Sunday. Will Await Grand Jury Action.

Young Burkhart, the 15 year old lad who was arrested at Cornell last week for throwing stones placed by Constable A. E. Hodge, was released from custody Saturday upon the payment of $400 bail. Messrs. Jacob Miller and Ahmiser, two Isanti county gentlemen, went his bonds.

Young Burkhart was apprehended on Thursday upon complaint of T. J. Britt, special agent for the G. N. railway company, and charged with throwing stones at moving trains. One of the missiles, it is claimed, crashed through a passenger window and struck the left hand of the tall support of the local Knights of Pythias lodge which is one of the strongest in the state and will doubtless be very successful.

The officers of Chetwauant Temple are, Margarette Greeley, M. E. C., Delta Smith, E. S. Nelson, Elsie Williams, Secretary; Miss Lizzie E. Breckenridge, M. of R. and C.; Helen Hartle, F.; Anna Blankenship, Protector; Anna Gustafson, Guard; Alice Claggett, Past-Chief.

Beautiful "St. Elmo."

"St. Elmo" is the appellation given to the site upon which stands the new temple of the Knights of Pythias at Pokegama lake. The plot was purchased from Augus. Ausmus and embraces 1500 feet of lake front. The new name was taken from the abundance of elk tracks upon the property.

Several cottages have already been built upon the land and it is expected that at least a dozen will be constructed there next summer. We understand that Attorney R. C. Saunders, a gentleman of Chaska, is in charge of the building and the erection of cottages upon the property.

Those who selected the location in question certainly used good judgment and were fortunate in procuring it, for it is an exceedingly beautiful spot on the lake.

Dies at Detroit.

W. P. Gottry returned Wednesday of last week from Detroit, this state where he went to attend the funeral of his son, Edward.

She leaves two sons, and other relatives, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

She had been a Pine City citizen on a number of different occasions and while here made many friends who had taught her the highest esteem for her.

TAXATION OF CUT-OVER PINE LANDS.

Case Relating to the Above Matter is Now Pending in the District Court.

In the matter of the proceedings in the matter of the taxation of real estate remaining delinquent on the first Monday in January, 1905, for the county of Pine, state of Minnesota, the court held that the Atwood Lumber Co. and Wm. H. Bean, trustees, the objections raised by these parties relate to the taxes for the year 1903 upon certain lands in the town of Kerrick.

The facts in these proceedings appear to us as follows. In 1903 the timber described in the suit of the Atwood Lumber Co. were assessed at an average of $43.00 per acre, and those described in the answer of Wm. H. Bean, trustee, were assessed at an average of $25.20 per acre.

At that time (May 1, 1902) there were standing in both areas large tracts of growing timber, and the lands were assessed at that time worth the full amount for which they were assessed. Between May 1, 1902, and May 1, 1903, the timber was cut and removed from said lands so that on May 1, 1903, said lands were what are commonly called "cut-over pine lands," and were actually worth about $6.00 per acre.

The assessed valuation of those lands for the year 1902 was taken as their taxable value for the year 1903. No application was made to the County Board of Equalization in 1903 to have such valuation lowered, nor has any application for an abatement of the taxes on account of any over-valuation been made to the state authorities as provided by law.

On May 1, 1903, the lands in the town of Kerrick were assessed at $27.00 per acre and the same sum was taken as the taxable value of those lands in the year 1903.

The questions which have arisen in these proceedings are: First, does the valuation and procedure constitute a valid defense? Second, if those facts do not constitute a defense under our tax laws, which bring about such a result are unconstitutional in that they violate the principles of our constitution which says that "all taxes to be raised in this state shall be as nearly equal as may be."

The State's contention is that those facts do not constitute a defense under our tax laws, and that there are other remedies open to them, viz.: First, appearance before the County Board of Equalization and having the matter of over-valuation corrected; and second, application to the state authorities for abatement as provided by law on account of over-valuation. The State further contends that inasmuch as the objectors have failed to avail themselves of the remedies provided by law for remedying their grievances they cannot be held to proceed in this manner as a defense, that the remedies suggested provide means for making taxes equal and, therefore, that no question of constitutional law arises.

The defense have been prepared and filed by County Attorney M. B. Hurley for the State and Clapp & McCartney for the objectors, and Judge Crosby's decision, which will be handed down in due time, will be awaited with interest by those who wish to see tested the validity of law providing the assessment and taxation of cut-over pine lands.

One of the features in the Flag Day parade at St. Paul Wednesday was Wm. Birch, the drummer, the grand-daddy of Wm. Birch, being an old drummer who was used by the older Birchers all through the Civil war. Old timers about here will remember Mr. Birch, who, up to about twelve years ago, lived at the Greenfield mines west of Pine City.

Mr. Birch is now an elevator operator in the army building at St. Paul. Relating to the drum Pioneer Press says:

When the drum was first used, Mr. Birch returned to Minnesota and brought the drum with him. It was stowed away in the garret of the farm home. Several years later, when his mother was ramming in the garret, she found the drum. Birch was away and she wrote to him to come and get the drum. When he got back he found the drum had been cut in two and the leather and strings had given out by being stowed away so long in the garret, and even the shell was broken.

The drum came to the attention of the Grand Army officers and Birchero returned to it and collected the reliefs which were cast in parade from the old to the new capital to-day.

STARTLING REPORTS OF INVESTIGATORS

The United States Being Made a Penal Colony for Hungary — The "White Slave" Trade
Brings Thousands of Immoral Women to Our Shores—Forged Inspection Papers a Grave Danger to Us.

Washington.—The United States a penal colony of the Baltic states.

The United States a dumping ground for the paupers of southern Europe.

The United States the Mecca of thousands of immoral Hungarian women.

There are in the desks of government officials in Washington reports containing evidence to prove the above statements that are so strongly worded that they dare not be published until the government is ready to act. For the reports are but an arrangement of the various agencies of southern Europe for complicity in wholesale schemes for the violation of United States immigration laws.

These reports are received from the most trustworthy sources, one of which is from a government agent派往美国的调查员，他向欧洲各国发去电报，报告情况，而这些国家的政府对此事一无所知。这些报告详细说明了欧洲各国如何通过各种手段将他们的罪犯和妓女送到美国，以及美国政府如何纵容这种行为。

These counterfeits are accepted at Ellis Island without question, and luggage from European centers, secured by the mail, bring plague, cholera, typhus, smallpox and the germs of deadly fever, is permitted to enter our ports daily.

It is the custom to promise convicted criminals immunity from paying their fines if they will emigrate to this country or if their relatives will send them here.

1,000,000 Immigrants.

This year, it is estimated, 30,000,000, and by that time 1,000,000 will have passed through Ellis Island and other immigration depots within the past 12 months. The reports submitted by the inspectors abroad show conclusively that of every man one in every 100 is a criminal or a person of an undesirable class for the United States and these undesirable citizens are coming to our shores either by the aid and encouragement of European governments, or under the "padrone" system by which an undesirable class of men, women and children are brought to this country untilled to their utmost capacity by the criminals sent to this country by the official bureaus of European governments.

Horrors of the Situation.

The awful horror of this situation may best be realized when it is known that immigrants land in this country at the rate of thousands daily.

In 1903 immigrants from Russia, Spain and Poland came in at the rate of one a minute for every working hour of Ellis Island.

During the last fiscal year undesirable immigrants arrived at the rate of two per minute, ten of thousands of them criminals, tens of thousands of diseased human beings, hundreds of them diseased human beings, bearing counterfeit stamps of certification.

Broughton Brandenburg, the well-known investigator of immigration, who was on the continent pursuing lines of work parallel to Mr. Braun's, gave the following statement to the Senate Committee regarding the causes leading to the arrest of that investigator in Buda-Pesth:

"It seems to me as though the Hungarian secret police had got hold of a report, or, rather, an advisory forecast of his investigation, when Mr. Braun had made himself known to the police at that time of his arrest."

"These advisory letters he has always sent at frequent intervals. They contain opinions and fragmentary facts, which are usually eliminated in the formal report, he makes on his return from the continent. These Hungarian officials would be more satisfied by such a letter than by the report even though the last report made was of no sensational character that after a discussion in the department as to whether it should be printed or not in the annual it was referred directly to the Hungarian Foreign Department. One in the hands of Mr. Sargent, another in the care of Secretary Metcalf, and a third on the president's desk, while the fourth, retained by Mr. Braun, is in New York in very safe hands."

"Inasmuch as my agents and correspondents residing in the continental countries have at several times crossed trails with Mr. Braun, I am not violating a confidence in disclosing some of the things which Mr. Braun unearthed. They are but fair samples of the whole, and show in a startling manner how far apart are the conditions here and abroad, especially in the immigration service."

"It is the custom to promise convicted criminals immunity from paying their fines if they will emigrate to this country or if their relatives will send them here.

WISDOM OF THE MONKEY.

Now, the owl rose up and spoke owl-wise, "To-wit-to-wit, who and what is it that has come to us?" "It is I, your Uncle Henry." "What a drop there'd be in me!" They'd sell their currents away on ice and the pine trees'd turn to rock! And the pine trees'd hunt for a brand-new job!

"I have only had my eyes."

Then the polar bear said, with a bearish shrug,

"Gosh! Bless my soul! I may never grow so big and fat, To the gills with meat and seal! They'd sell their heaters for Bowery junk, And the winter's in the ice to sleep, And the winter's in the ice to sleep, Penna. Might go to raising sheep."

Then the goat gulped down a coat-scarf.

"Hoo-hoo! You make me smile, The world's a better place in gas, And cows and horses lie."

"Now, wouldn't the heat get thin quick, And the winter's in the ice to sleep, If the waste from any old boiler shop Could be made into Irish steel?"

Then the eagle said: "With all these things That you've got, you'll be all right, And would only need a pair'n my wings To settle the railroad rate."

"They'd sell their ships to the ocean, To the home of the big ship trust; They'd turn their Pullmans out to grass And save the rails to rust!"

Then the monkey spoke, with a knowing wink:

"In the manlike way he had: 'You fellows would make up a patchwork!'

And you'd make it a muss before:

"You'd make it no easy thing to live, That's all I can say about the man plan With nothing on earth to scrap about—What's the fun o' being a man?"

N.Y. Tribune.

A Mercenary Love

By EDMUND MITCHELL

"I CAN picture the whole scene," he said at last, summing up the thoughts that had given pause to their conversation.

"Yes," she responded, her eyes still on the small emerald she knew to be three uncles of mine well enough to understand in shame and indignation. And Aunt Mary, too—she kept talking about her husband's store, about bad debts and the latest rise in coal oil, while her brother lay dead in the street outside. "The men—those gentle and refined nature among them all—the only one whose life had not been given to sordid grubbing for cents and dollars.

"My mother told me a good many things last year, before she died. She was young then, but bright. Henry—the company of all, although the first to go!" The girl paused and breathed a little sigh. "Henry was struggling by teaching and in other ways, to enter college life long after his three elder brothers had become country doctors. He used to say, 'Buy dry goods, hardware, lumbering—that was the bent of their minds. And Aunt Mary, too, had married the most prosperous grocery man of the district. Only Henry and my mother inclined to other things. My mother taught us all to be married, just as I am doing now."

"Not for long, now, sweetie," he interposed, with a gentle hand-touch of sympathy upon her shoulder.

"Oh, I was not thinking of myself," she replied, brightly and resolutely. "I was thinking of my dear mother and of my father. I am just as remiss, but not in nothing more. But we were speaking of Uncle Henry, weren't we?"

"Yes, he wanted to get to college."

"Well, not one of his brothers offered a helping hand, and at last his health broke down. At first he was acutely ill—in fact, he was near death when he was discharged, in better state, able to crawl around, but with the verdict of 'incurable' hanging over his head. His was a chronic case now—one of those insidious internal troubles that kill a man slowly but surely during a year or two of increasing misery and suffering."

"But his mother?"

"They were a handicap to him. The duty was so obviously theirs that others who might have helped naturally stood aside. My mother pleaded with Ebenezer, Hiram, James—not one had a single dollar that could be spared from his business."

"Well, I know," said Tom, "That was cheerful, but sick man."

"Well, the doctor, it seems, guessing at the truth, mentioned the case to Mr. Boone, of 'Booklovers' Corner.' And it was he who sent the invalid to Arizona, kept him there for two whole years, and when he returned, cured and well, gave him back the book-store. Now, Uncle Henry came in time to be a partner, and last the only active member of the firm."

"Mr. Boone is still alive?"

"Yes, the dear old gentleman has come north from his home in Florida to bury his dead friend: Now you will understand a great deal better what I am going to tell you next. Mr. Boone is Uncle Henry's uncle, and he was in touch with the latter's instructions that all relatives were called together the day before the funeral. That was how I came to meet my Uncles Ebenezer, Hiram and James, and Aunt Mary and her husband this morning in the dining-room above the book-store."

The young man sat up with quick interest.

"But your Uncle Henry didn't die rich, did he?"

"No, not the world counts men rich nowadays. But he had a little to divide. When we were all assembled Mr. Boone read his will. There were legacies of ten thousand dollars to each of us, uncles, to Aunt Mary and to me as his other sister's child."

"And what do these bequests amount to?"

"That is what Uncle Ebenezer said. But Mr. Boone said that nothing could be known until the estate was realized. Uncle Hiram laughed at his share—a thousand dollars, he said, won't worth the trouble of his coming out of the house on such a rainy day. Then they all fell to discussing the legalities of the condition attached to the legacies."

Again the listener pricked up his ears.

"What was that?"

"That the owner should attend the funeral—legally. In each case was to be forfeited if the beneficiary followed the body to the grave."

"By Jove, I don't wonder! It was a subtle little trick." Your uncle wished to mockers of mourning before his method of making earth roads. The road gave them a chance to live in the annual rent for that year.

"But my legacy is exactly in the same terms," said the girl, glancing up at her lover. "And Uncle Henry and I were always the best of friends."

"Well, we treated you probably worse in the end, but we did use him so!"

"You must not speak like that!" was the girl rejoinder. "Such a thought would be only worthy of those others, who went down that dead brother's path, grating and scraping along the meaning of the will." I was a shameful, pitiful display, I shall never forget it never, never!"

"It will mean a lot to you, Nettie, dear," he went on. "Your husband is waiting for you to make up your mind."

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

DIRT ROAD-MAKING LESSON

Missouri Man Tells of Making Earth Thoroughfares at Farmers' Institute.

At the State Farmers' Institute, held at Columbus, O., in January, 1904, Mr. D. W. King, of Missouri, told of his method of making earth roads. The road gave them a chance to live in the annual rent for that year.

"But my legacy is exactly in the same terms," said the girl, glancing up at her lover. "And Uncle Henry and I were always the best of friends."

"Well, we treated you probably worse in the end, but we did use him so!"

CROSS-BREEDING CORN.

Becomes Possible to Base Subsequent Seed Selection If Plant Is Measured.

In the new system of corn breeding, in which each field row is planted with seed from a separate ear, the performance record of the plants from each individual seed ear can be observed, and the best plant can be selected and thus becomes possible to base the subsequent seed selection upon the performance record of the progeny from individual mother ears.

In this system of planting we not only have the possibility of self-pollination, but we have an unusual possibility of considerable corn being close-pollinated. In self-pollinating the pollen from a given plant falls upon the silk of another plant, of which grew from seed from the same plant.

OLD-WORLD ODDITIES.

A new and unwelcome visitor has been recognized in England. He is the Surinam cockroach, and is destructive to green vegetable plants. The insects are known to have been introduced in a consignment of orchids.

The town of Thurso, Scotland, comes to the front with a family record which will not be beaten easily. John Gibson, 87 years old, still follows his duties as superintendent of some mines. He is a widower, and has seven sons, six sons-in-law, 29 grandsons, four grandsons-in-law and two great-grandsons. Forty-nine members of one family, all connected with the same trade, employed in the same works and living in the same district, is something decidedly out of the ordinary.

Baron Rothschild, head of the French branch of the family, recently received a curious legacy. This was the fortune of an ancestor named Abraham Roth, who died in a garrison at Nice, and was found to possess 1,250,000 francs. He bequeathed it to the other millionaires on the plea that "men must seek money." Baron Rothschild was not of the opinion that his fortune was to be so proceeded to hunt up the lamented Eliel's relations, three of whom were found at Odessa and a fourth at Brooklyn. The legatees divided the million and a quarter among them.

His Health Was Wrecked, Pe-ru-na Gave New Life.

HON. JOHN TIGHE.

Assemblyman Tighe's letter should be read by every brain worker leading a strenuous life.

Hon. John Tighe, No. 98 Remsen St., Cohoes, N. Y., member of Assembly from the Fourth district, Albany county, N. Y., writes as follows:

"Permit me to assure you that my heart is in a restorative tonic of superior merit. At times when I have been completely broken down from excess of work, I have found no more comfortable and actually at a standstill. Permanently has acted as a healing restorer, starting the machinery of mind and body afresh with new life and energy."

"I recommend it to a man tired in mind and body as a tonic superior to anything I know of and well worthy serious consideration." —J. Tighe.

Excess of work so common in our country causes impaired nerves, leading to catarrhal and cerebral nervousness—a disease responsible for half of all nervous troubles.

Permanently ends this trouble because it cures catarrh wherever located.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Permanently, write to Dr. Hartman, giving full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Some more work is yet to be completed. Part of the old coffer dam used in the construction of the works will have to be removed. Some repairs will have to be made to the dam itself. A quantity of loose rock will have to be placed on the up-river side of the dam to protect it from the action of the water.

RAILWAY RATE LEGISLATION.

Biennial Convention of Conductors Ask Congress Not to Pass Adverse Railroad Laws.

At the biennial convention of the Order of Railway Conductors recently held at Portland, Oregon, resolutions were unanimously adopted voting their sentiments as to the effect of proposed railway rate legislation on the part railroad men, whom they are in part represented. These resolutions "Indorse the attitude of President Roosevelt in condemning secret rates and other illegalities, and condemn the attitude of the heads of American Railways who have joined with the President on this question." They then respectfully point out to Congress the "inadvisability of legislation vesting in the hands of a commission the power to regulate rates lower than in force in the United States than in any other country," because such regulation would "result in litigation and confusion and inevitably tend to increase the cost of transportation." They are specific of the question of the ability of the railroads to stand the reduction, especially in view of the increased cost of their supplies and materials.

They further protest against such power being given to the proposed Interstate Commerce Commission, the proposed commission is in no harmony with our idea of American jurisprudence, inasmuch as it contemplates that a single body shall have the right to investigate, indeed to condemn and then to inflict its decisions at the cost of the carriers, sending appeal, which is manifestly inequitable.

The conductors have their demand for only such legislation if any, as would "secure and insure justice and prevent discrimination and unfair practices concerned" on the ground that the low cost of transportation "is the result of the efficiency of American railway management and operation which have built up the country and the railroads, and the development of territory, while at the same time recognition has been given to the value of intelligence among employees in contrast to foreign methods where high freight rates and lowest wages are the rule."

In presenting their claim against legislation adverse to their interests, they point out the fact that "the freight rates of this country average only two per cent of the cost of articles to the consumer, thus making the freight rates of this country a factor in the selling price that numerous stations articles are sold at the same price in all parts of the country."

NAMES BEST DOCTOR.

M. RAYBON PUBLISHES RESULTS OF VALUABLE EXPERIENCE.

A Former Frenzied Epileptic Has Now Rejoices in Perfect Freedom from Migraines of Indigestion.

Thousands of sufferers know that the reason why they are irritable and depressed and nervous and sleepless is because their food does not digest, but how to get rid of the difficulty is the puzzling question.

Good digestion calls for strong digestive organs, and strength comes from a supply of good rich blood. For this reason Mr. Raybon took Dr. F. B. Phipps' Pills for a month.

"I am a feeble, feeble old doctor," he says. "I was suffering from dyspepsia. The pains in my stomach after meals were almost unbearable. My sleep was very irregular and my complexion was sallow. As the result of using eight boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am now in perfect health. I have no desire to go to France, I have escaped all those troubles, and am able again to take pleasure in eating."

A very simple story, but if it had not been for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I never have been a strong one. When I began to feel bad, I took a few pills, filled up the intervals between meals with pain, and prevent sleep at night, then certainly cannot be much pleasure in living. A final general breaking down must be multiply questioned.

"The Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," he said, "cured me of all my ills. They are the best pills I ever took."

"I am a widow now," Portia said. "I am a widow now," Portia said. "I am a widow now," Portia said.
