DATES CHANGED.

Pine County Fair to be held on the 25th,
26th and 27th of Next Month.

The officials of the Pine County Agricultural & Stock Breeders' Association held a special meeting Wednesday evening when it was decided to change the dates of the fair from the 14th, 15th and 16th to the 25th, 26th and 27th of September. This postponement was thought to be very advisable on account of the large list of desirable attractions and features which could not be presented until the late date.

The decision should prove quite popular with those who favor the best fair possible and who will be glad to wait a while longer if the change will enhance the program.

Something good is store and it will be well to watch for the list of attractions that will go to make the fair of 1905 the best ever.

Hardscrabble, or Sunny Bluff Camp.

Aug. 17th, 1905.

Mr. Editor— I have been thinking for several days writing you, giving a short account of the good time we are having here away from home and office work. We are camped on the east side of a little dell, one of the most picturesque places on Pokegama lake.

We pitched our tent over a week ago. Of course, you know, that in camp the same order must be kept as in our homes, therefore it is necessary to divide the work up so that all may enjoy the pleasures of the camp. To that end we established the following program, dividing the party up by number:

No. 1—First cook.
No. 2—Second cook.

No. 3—Sallary maid, (dishwasher.)
No. 4—Smudge, (mosquito dispenser.)

No. 5—Stub, (one who looks after the odds and ends of the camp.)

The weather has not been very pleasant for bathing, so nothing of note was entertained the first few days. Sunday's new recruit arrived—remember please, we are all of the gentle sex.

Monday being rather damp, we crowded the hours into as small space as possible by telling stories and cooking mosquito. Tuesday, we sent a delegation in a row boat, to town for another recruit and to replenish our larder. It required quite an effort to row past "Battleries Blasts" on the "Toxedo" side of the lake, but we succeeded, however, and made a safe return. That evening, we thought we needed a little exercise, so at the instigation of our recruits we performed the cake walk. Well, of course, the smoke of the camp fire produced the conventional glut to our complexion so nothing was lacking except, perhaps—Well, never mind, I got along all right as it was. We generally retire before the small hours begin, and get up when the spirit moves us. Wednesday eve of our party returned to Minneapolis.

Before closing let me say, you of the "Battleries Blasts" might think you are having a good time, but, you know, you ought to take a peep into our camp when we are having some of our good times.

Pearing I am encroaching upon your valuable time, I will close. We expect to pull stakes next Saturday.

Wishing your "Rustie" success,
I am,
Clerk of "Old Maids' Rustie."

Greeley Doings.

On Hagin and his hired man went to Pine City last Saturday evening on business.

Henry Studt made a flying trip to Pine City Saturday last to attend a meeting of the T. U. V. society.

The game which was to have been played by Clint and Greeley ball teams did not take place on account of rain.

During harvest time the farmers are exceedingly busy and are compelled to work day and night to complete their work.

Grain is all cut and is waiting to be stacked. Oats are good and wheat will be good on the high land, and poor on the low land.

The hand boys cleared a nice sum of money at their Rush Lake picnic Sunday, the 6th. The weather was good and a large crowd attended.

Berman Lueth, who came home from Duluth a month ago on account of typhoid fever is well again and able to be in line with the hand boys.

Alfred Setterquist has sold his farm to Nels Dahlberg and will move with his family to Duluth where Alfred has secured a position with Bridgeman & Russel.

Miss Anna Voss of Pine City visited at the home of Henry Studt last week and took in the German picnic at Rush Lake, also visiting friends about the lake. She returned home last Monday accompanied by Geo. and Augusta Studt.

Erick Wahlstrom, our popular buttermaker, returned from a four weeks vacation away from home.

Erick has conducted the Greeley creamery since its advent and always given satisfaction to his many patrons who were glad to see him back and who appreciate the fact that he enjoyed his vacation.

P. E. Bergfeldt has lately sold his farm to a man from Minneapolis and last week moved with his family to Canada where he took a homestead which will be their future home. He followed the Hagel Bros. course, they having moved to that country last year. We wish Mr. Bergfeldt and family every success at their new abiding place.

Tomorrow the 19th will pay day at the creamery. The total amount of money to be paid out to the farmers for cash for the month of July will be $2494.00 for 615000 lbs. of milk received at the creamery.

Fred Grotz will receive the biggest check, amounting to $182.50, and Hans Rohlf second best, amounting to $104.21, 362 lbs. of butter having been taken in on milk account.

You May Vote.

Breckenridge has formulated a popular scheme, and a great deal of interest is being taken in his diamond ring contest. Miss Anna Kiek, Lillian Perkins and Lillian Lambert are running close in the lead to start with, and a number of other fair young ladies close behind. No one need be discouraged at a plenty of time for this one with the least amount of effort.

CAMP FIRE AT LAKE

Capt. Holbert Entertained Comrades at St. Elmo Cottage—Big Time and Lots of Beans Reported.

Rain, thunder, lightning or even a young cyclone cuts but very little figure when the old soldiers, the Civil war veterans make ready for an event.

It was Tuesday night, the moon was in the shadow of the earth, and the earth was wrapped in a mass of aqueous clouds that poured down fitful dashes of the wettest kind of rain; but never daunted, the G. A. R. boys, their wives and daughters to the number of 33 assembled at the wharf in Pine City where they embarked on the steamer Taxedo-Belle for a trip to Comrade Holbert's spacious grounds at St. Elmo.

It was Comrade Holbert's treat and he did the honors in a way that warmed the hearts of every guest present. Fifty-one people sat down at the banquet board, and every one was fed to fullness on the choicest food, from a soldier's standpoint, that was possible to provide.

The rain forced an indoor party but there was room in Mr. Holbert's cottage for all.

Comrade E. E. Barrett, the Junior Vice-Dict. Commander was present and after a patriotic song spoke eloquently for half an hour just as becomes an old soldier to speak.

Pine City, Sandstone and Hinckley were well represented and the representatives of the Circle of the G. A. R. at Sandstone showed their patriotic energy by turning out in a tempest to brave the elements in order to be present.

Comrade Holbert and his amiable wife, Mrs. Randall and all the cottagers at St. Elmo are entitled to the thanks of the entire party for the splendid entertainment furnished.

The steamer with its passengers returned to safety to Pine City and although a little damp the guests happily enjoyed every hour of the trip.

Popular State Fair Offering.

Increased interest is centered in the Minnesota-State Fair this year through the booking of Klaw & Erlanger's stupendous and picturesque production of Gen. Lew Wallace's impressive romance "Ben Hur" at St. Paul the week of Aug. 28th and in Minneapolis the week of Sept. 4th.

Manager L. N. Scott, "Ben Hur" has been presented in the twin cities on two former occasions and the big Metropolitan theatres were found entirely too small to accommodate the thousands who clamored for admission. It will be advisable therefore for those who intend witnessing it this time to order their seats through the mail well in advance.

"Ben Hur" is a drama that can be seen many times with ever increasing interest, so captivating is its story—it is not solely an amusement—it is an instruction. It translates into the 20th century a fragment of the romantic life of the old world, and treats of a period pregnant with events which have influenced and shaped, to a great extent, the entire subsequent history of the human race. It is also the only distinctly religious drama commanded by all people of whatever creed or persuasion, bringing home to the auditor most forcibly a stronger realization of the actual presence on earth of the Nazarene, than anything else in all literature. This drama can, therefore, only be considered in the light of the most exalted effort ever made in the history of the stage of the world, appealing distinctively to those, who seldom, if ever, visit the theatre, as well as to the people whose admiration for dramatic art in general leads them to lend their support to the theatre as an institution.

Tomorrow the 19th will pay day at the creamery. The total amount of money to be paid out to the farmers for cash for the month of July will be $2494.00 for 615000 lbs. of milk received at the creamery.

Fred Grotz will receive the biggest check, amounting to $182.50, and Hans Rohlf second best, amounting to $104.21, 362 lbs. of butter having been taken in on milk account.

THE COUNTY'S FAIR

What It Should be and What Its Officials Will Strive to Make It—A Winning Combination.

Last week's issue of this paper contained a prospective outline of the Pine County Fair, an organization created a number of years ago by a number of Pine county business men who realized the county's resources and rich value.

The appeal assumed for the fair by a hand full of enthusiasts at that time was: "The Pine County Agricultural and Stock Breeders' Association," which today means more than an estimate can unfold. On account of misunderstandings, lack of proper publicity or some laxity somewhere or, somehow, a great many people residing across that imaginary "north end" line were wont to feel displeased at the seeming brazenness of the kings of our agricultural center and alleged that the fair was nothing more nor less than a Pine City organization. This misleading state of affairs had been advanced for years by persons directly opposed to any other than personal gain, and what might now be the best county organization is but immersing out of hoodooed oblivion into its proper sphere—solely through the advanced ideals of persons who are reasonable enough to understand that a county fair "for the people and by the people" is just what its old citizens have striven to create since its advent.

The following article quoted from the Hinckley Enterprise urges us to say that it was the candid wish of every member of the organization that every capable person in the county should have been given the opportunity to have a voice in the Fair, but, as we have before stated, this could not be—just on account of seeming indifference or improper publicity:

"The Pine County Fair Association at last awakened to the fact that part of the county lies north of Pine City, and its officers have a communication in another column. We are very glad of this. Pine county should have a county fair. Pine county can make as good an exhibition as any, and, if the fair is to be made a county fair in fact, as well as in name should do. We hope every citizen will turn in and help make the fair a success."

Brennan's expression informing that this county "can make as good an exhibition as any," is not enough. This county, with its various resources, can gain the blue ribbon over many counties that have successfully conducted these fairs for a great many years, counties largely inferior to this, that have gained more through the stickiness and unity of its denizens than by natural environments.

If the Pine county fair is not a success the failure can be laid only at the door of the "knocker," the corn-tender whose hammer is ever and constantly undoing the good that fair-minded men and women would have done.

Boost your fair and your fair will indirectly, perhaps, boost you

Although the circus is an institution peculiar and typically American, over 90 per cent of the circus performers and specialists are foreigners. In England, however, the situation is so sharp that people will attempt things in which failure means death; and which no American would think of undertaking, in order to fit themselves for the trapzeze or the ring of some American circus, where they are certain of a good salary.

President Castro, of Venezuela, has been credited of late with feelings of bitterness toward Americans, but apparently he has not shared them at all. At least one citizen of this offending republic has quite recently displayed a discriminating regard. The American honored with his favor is no other than Gen. A Massachusetts judge has officially declared that an umbrella is a prop and that a man is not compelled to give up one belonging to another person. Unless this opinion is reversed by a higher court, its effect may be salutary in checking an abuse which has grown chronic of late years, that of umbrella snatching. In addition to a certain pecuniary loss, the appropriation of other people's umbrellas has become so common that it has caused to be a joke.

The intention is to have the monument completed by 1909, the centenary of Lincoln's birthday.

The rain cure is now being tried by a number of persons in Austin, Tex., whenever opportunity is offered for taking the treatment. The idea of such a cure is that it is a panacea for all chronic diseases as well as many of the lesser ills of the body. There is nothing complicated about the rain cure. As far as I can find out, the patient lies down in the open with his body bare of all clothing, and lets the falling rain pour on him. The sensation is said to be very agreeable and very strengthening to the nerves.

On the toss of this coin depended the question whether the name of the new market should be known as Portland or Boston. Two towns were named after Portland, Me., the former home of Mr. Pettygrove's father. A. L. Lovell, who had organized a section of the party that laid out Portland, desired to name it Boston. After the most importunate city in his state, Pettygrove wanted to name it Portland for the same reason.

JAPAN NAMES THE TERMS OF PEACE

RUSSIA MUST BEAR COST OF THE WAR AND GIVE UP ISLAND OF SAKHALIN.

Other Demands Made by the Mikado—Indemnity and Cession of Island Unacceptable to Russians, According to Reply.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 11.—Reimbursement for the expenses sustained by the prosecution of the war and the seizure of the island of Sakhalin will constitute the main features of the peace conditions handed by Baron Komura to M. Witte at the conclusion of the general stores building of the Portsmouth negotiations.

The term "indemnity" was used by the term employed being "reimbursement" for the cost of the war. No sum is fixed, the amount being distinctly adjourned for mutual adjustment between the two countries after the signing of the peace conditions by the earl the mikado would consent to forego the requirement of "humiliating" reimbursement."

WILL AWAIT RESULT.

No General Battle Between Japs and Russians Likely While Negotiations Are On.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 15.—It seems to be taken for granted among the attachés of both the Japanese and Russian governments that there will be a general battle in Manchuria before the negotiations are on. Oyama is known to be prepared to strike the moment the negotiations fall and there may be more or less skirmishing and outpost engagements while the troops are gathered in Manchuria, but a definite date can easily be set if either Oyama or the tsarish side deliberately bring on a general engagement which might cost 50,000 or 100,000 lives, his country would be accused of bad faith in the negotiations here and in the event of a general loss of face in the eyes of the world, in the larger sense, therefore, it can be said that an armistice already exists in Manchuria.

Should the negotiations be valuably prolonged and it become evident that they were to be fruitless the advance of Oyama or Linetski might be the signal for the final rupture. The unexpected attack on Port Arthur might be repeated below Harbin.

TRAIN STRIKES AUTO.

Betrothed Couple Are Killed in Vermon Two Other Persons Are Hurt.

Rutland, Vt., Aug. 15.—Deputy Police Commissioner Harris Lindley, of New York city, and Miss Mary E. Willard, of Chittenden county, were killed at Pikes Crossing, near Bennington, Vt., Monday afternoon, when a train on the Rutland railroad struck the automobile in which they were traveling. Miss Willard was the wife of Alfred Lindley, 36, a foreman of the passenger train. She was thrown out and lay dead. Her husband was thrown out and badly bruised and cut but not seriously injured. The engine was thrown about 15 feet and the cars were torn up for 100 feet. The automobile was dashed to pieces and afterwards was destroyed by fire.

Urge Men to Work.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Aug. 11.—Thursday was Roosevelt day in this city and the thousands of miners and their workmen who throughout the city to see and hear him speak gave him a hearty ovation.

When the national policeman ascended the platform he was cheered for several minutes.

He was seated for a few moments.

He then addressed the crowd.

"The welfare of the country depends upon the wageworker and the farmer, and he counseled his hearers to be industrious, upright and just in their conduct," he said.

He then turned to his employer.

"Let me urge," he said during his speech, "that in the event of any difficulty, especially if it is what is known as a labor trouble, both sides should meet and try to settle it other reasonably and fairly."

All the mines were closed and many of the mills and stores suspended business for the day.

Confer with M. Witte.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The death of Rear Admiral Andrew E. K. Benham, ret., and his wife, Mary, N. Y., was to regret the uncertainty of the rear admiral's family, but with the right to give advice and assistance to improve the civil administration of the empire.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President's recognition of Japan's "preponderant influence" and special position in Korea, which Russia heartily agrees in, is the subject of intense interest. Japan's blustering threats to repossess her former colony, but with the right to give advice and assistance to improve the civil administration of the empire, were also made.

Russia's demands obligations to evacuate Manchuria, each to surrender all special privileges in that province, mutual obligation to respect the territorial integrity of China and to maintain the principle of equal opportunity for the commerce and industry of all us tions in that province ("open door").

Third—the cession to China of the Chinese Eastern railroad from Harbin southward.

There was any question about the acceptance on the part of M. Witte of these "articles," the first two covering in more emphatic form the contentions of Japan in the diplomatic dispute which preceded hostilities. The third is a natural consequence of the result of war. The cession of the railroad, the building of which cost Russia an immense sum, estimated by some at between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000, is to China. Japan and China, therefore, will arrange between themselves the method by which the former will remunerate the latter for the financial operations Japan might have a very considerable portion of her claim for the "expenses of the war" liquidated.

Will Not Waive Indemnity.

Tokio, Aug. 15.—The payment by Russia of an immense indemnity to Japan will not be waived under any circumstances, according to a statement made officially at the foreign office Monday, when it was suggested that in exchange for other great concessions by the earl the mikado would consent to forego the requirement of "humiliating" reimbursement."

NO GENERAL BATTLE BETWEEN JAPS AND RUSSIANS LIKELY WHILE NEGOTIATIONS ARE ON.

CAN THEY STRIKE A MIXTURE THAT'LL SUIT THEM BOTH?

ARCHBISHOP IS VICTIM OF FEVER

MGR. CHAPELLE SUCCUMBS TO DREAD DISEASE AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Death Rate Continues to Increase—Health Officials Blame Citizens for the Spread of the Dreadful Disease.

New Orleans, Aug. 10.—A sudden change in his condition yesterday speedily culminated in the death of Archbishop P. J. Chapelle, of the diocese of Lake Charles, in the afternoon. The news of the archbishop's death created a profound shock. Mgr. Chapelle was taken ill on Friday. He had returned to the city three days before, having just completed a tour of the country, announced on his return of his intention to continue in his efforts to stamp out the fever. The archbishop, however, left his house only on one occasion before he became sick. This was to take a drive with his niece. On Friday evening, one of the symptoms of the fever, the运 fever, was diagnosed by Dr. Larin, the archbishop's physician, as was the case of yellow fever. From the first Dr. Larin was apprehensive as to the results of the attack owing to the physique of the archbishop.

Archbishop Chapelle was very stout of build, full-blooded and past 80 years of age, and the fever is always alarming in a patient under these conditions. The best available medical advice and services were secured and every effort made to conduct a successful scientific fight. The disease, however, made steady inroads upon the venerable patient, and Tuesday he was found to be in a serious condition. When Dr. Larin was called to see him, he found the patient was not improving, but on the contrary, he showed signs of increasing weakness. Before noon there was an alarming change for the worse in his condition. Then news of his death came.

George Slowly Spreads.

New Orleans, Aug. 15.—Following is the official report on the progress of yellow fever up to six p. m. Monday: New cases Monday, 55; total cases to date, 1,018; deaths Monday, 12; total deaths to date, 1,018.

An alarm is made by the disease in what is known as the American portion of the city, and with few exceptions the cases there are isolated. The health authorities are still unable to ascertain whether the high water mark in the number of cases and deaths has been reached and they consider it too early to hazard a guess at the extent of the victory which they expect to win, but with a large proportion of the cases responding to good treatment, they do not believe there is any doubt that the disease can approach the proportion of one-half the sessions of the past, though the population of New Orleans is almost double what it was in 1878.

While it is conceded that yellow fever is not as virulent as smallpox, there is one important difference here: that people who live in silt and in unsanitary surroundings are much more likely to have a fatal termination of the disease when they contract it than are those who live in the midst of a better environment.

BLINDNESS RESIDENTS.

Dr. White attributes the spread of the disease to the people's failure to notify the health officials of the appearance of the fever. If all cases were reported to him as soon as discovered, he could immediately call up screens and take other measures to isolate all patients immediately. Fumigation and screening are delayed too often, says the doctor, because the citizens do not give the full cooperation that the health officials need if the epidemic is to be fought successfully.

The campaign of prosecution of those who have not paid obedience to the anti-mosquito ordinance is to be participated in by the federal authorities, the state board of health, the police and the various ward committees. Seizing orders have been issued by Inspector Whittaker to the police to prosecute all landlords and agents who fail to screen their citizens. The result of these orders is that a large number of affidavits by the police have been filed with the city commissioners.

Teamsters Reflect Sheba.

Philadelphia, Aug. 14.—President Roosevelt of the Teamsters and Drivers Brotherhood of Teamsters and Drivers was Saturday elected president of the organization by a vote of 121 in 121, defeating Daniel Furman of Chicago, the former president of the opposition teamsters. A clean sweep was made by his ticket.

His election was not only considered a tribute to his qualities as a leader, but was also construed as an indication of the success of the strike which he directed in connection with the Chicago teamsters. The convention decided to meet next year in Chicago.

Japs Raise Sunken Ships.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 15.—News has been received from Port Arthur that over 70 vessels, including the battleship Yamato, the Kaga, the Izumo, the Asahi, the Hiawatha and the Hiawatha, have been raised and the work of salvaging the merchant steamers sunk at the harbor mouth for blocking purposes has been let to Japanese firms.

NEWS OF MINNESOTA.

New Kind of Trout.
St. Paul—Black spotted trout similar to those seen in the Yellowstone Park are about to be introduced in Minnesota. Executive Agent Fullerton received 150,000 eggs from the game and fish commissions of Colorado. The eggs will be hatched at the St. Paul hatchery and the fry will be distributed about the streams in which it is thought that the black spotted fry will do best.

Nannie thanked everybody in a sweet, bewilderment way, but told them that her mother was dead, and that there was no one to care for the children and run the house in the absence of her father but herself.

Told Her Story.
With the modesty of the violet by her side, the girl talked shyly of her family affairs, and explained why it would be impossible for her to accept the many kind offers showered upon her for a home in a big house, with servants to wait upon her and a piano to play for her. She had learned music and other things.

She accepted the money, however, because it was pressed upon her, and they told her that she could do what she pleased with it. It was all hers, they said.

Liken a dutiful daughter, she gave every penny of it to her father, who is an industrious and honest man. Instead of going on a North Carolina spree to drink moonshine whisky and have a big time with the boys in the cardrooms, he turned his thoughts to his garden and bought the sweetest little home you ever saw. There is a patch of grass around the house, a fine area of farm land under cultivation, with the clearest of trout brooks flashing down from the glens above to irrigate the crops during dry seasons.

In a New Home.

It is an ideal place, where the bluebells and violets bloom all the season, where the skies are as blue as in Italy, and the air is crisp and tingling with health.

It was in this new home that Nannie and her father settled down with the children the other day, and were six times happier than a Texas ranchman with 100 square miles of land and cattle. In this particular case it seemed as if virtue were really its own reward, for the father's efforts in getting the girl housed for, and that was an education.

Like all resolute minds who read, she was ambitious for knowledge of books and the world she dreamed of. Such was the situation in that quiet mountain cabin when the Virginians and other millionaires have their palaces, when the unexpected happened. A representative of the Southern Railway company appeared and said the corporation was anxious to offer the girl a substantial education in return for her courageous foresight in saving the train in that awful emergency.

Wanted Only Education.

The girl said that she wanted nothing now that was a situation to entail anyone but the little heroine with good cool blood in her veins. She recovered her wits instantly and became master of the situation. Seizing a red tablecloth, she held her sister Patty, a little tot nine years old, to run for help, and then the girl began to shout for help, and that was the first time of her life, and chose instead the days of toil and care in the little mountain home of her father and sisters because she was needed there.

And now comes the unexpected sequel to the story of her devotion—an education, the dearest hope of her young life. This has been guaranteed

Then turning household affairs over to little Julia, a six-year-old mountain kid, she ran like a deer up the track where she knew a train would soon be coming down the mountain. She had no red tablecloth, but she switched off her red petticoat as the roar of the

In the fashionable West end of London a tank specially made for fortune telling is being sold. The cup is engraved on the inside with the mystic symbols of the fortuneteller's art, but has no bottom or base. The tea leaves at the bottom are twisted round the cup, and according to the position or objects on which they stick so is one's fortune.

Poortsmouth, England, has passed an ordinance that the importation of cockroaches for chicken fanciers may not be suppressed, but the London News says that a partial remedy consists in placing a perch where the cock roosts so high that when he stands up to crow he knocks his head against the roof and desists. A swinging board hung over his head answers the same purpose, it says.

HEART RIGHT

When He Quits Coffee.

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble. The reason is obvious.

This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an unexpected disease, such as a cold, if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical business man, from health, energy, indecision, and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings.

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my trouble. I was rejected for life insurance, was taken ill on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether, and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum Food Coffee, I began its use.

"One change in my condition was remarkable, and it was not long till I was completely cured. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nerves were strengthened, and my temperament of all, my heart stood down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the life insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the cure." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

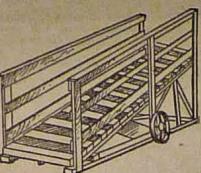

There's a reason, and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

HANDY LIVE STOCK LOADER

How Useful and Portable Loader May Be Built by the Farmer for Use on the Farm.

The illustration given herewith of the stock-loading truck shows a very useful and handy loader for farm use in loading horses or cattle with feed or grain. The bed pieces, as shown by a correspondant in the Practical Farmer, are 2x6-inch scatting 11 feet long; crosspieces 2x4, 3 feet long, bolted top of bed pieces, at one end each and 2x4 inch pieces 6 inches high, center uprights 57 inches high and the rear ones 72 inches high, each being bolted to bed-pieces, also to the 2x4 which supports the floor on either side. The front or lower ends of these pieces rest on the bed-plate, which is 30x60x6 inches, and are secured by a piece of 1½x6inch board nailed across the uprights 3 feet 6 inches above the bed-pieces. This is also a board nailed across to support the center. The floor is made of 2x12 plank with strips nailed across to prevent stock from slipping. The front and rear are bolted to each set of uprights and form the sides of the truck. The wheels should be from 12 to 14 inches in diameter; 1½-inch gas pipe would answer for the axle. The two levers, one on each side, should be 5 feet long, made similar to a lever used in a scythe, and should be bolted through the center of the middle uprights and a piece of iron 6 inches long bolted to the bed-pieces. Levers are fastened to axle by a bent iron bolted to under portion of lever about 11 inches from where bolt passes through end of lever. The hooks are resting on the bed-pieces for holding the levers down when wheeling the truck from one place to another in the farm yard.

COST OF MAKING BEEF.

Effort Being Made to Discover the Point Where Steer Feeding Should Stop.

It has been accepted as proved that the younger an animal the lower is the cost of putting on flesh and fat. Some experiments have been made to prove this, but the results are inconclusive, and of the building of very strong arguments on them. Prof. Mumford, of the Illinois station, has taken up the question and is making an experiment that will at least add to the volume of the data if it does not settle the question, which it probably will not. Herds of steers are being raised at stations and these will be slaughtered as fast as ready and careful reports compiled of the cost of gain made on each lot. There is a point beyond which it does not pay a farmer to keep an animal, even though the animal is all the time gaining in weight. The station is trying to find the point at which the feeding must stop, if a profit is to be made. After some time, the farmer is losing money and losing the time he is putting on the care of the animal.

How a High-Spirited Horse Can Be Prevented from Taking the Bit in His Teeth.

High spirited horses will sometimes hold the bit in their teeth and become quite unmanageable. To prevent this a strap a long enough to pass through ring of bit, over the head and through ring on other side. Have a ring in each end of strap and fasten them so that instead of biting the bit, the strap on the Farm and Home, both will keep the bit up in place and make it impossible for horse to bite again.

Keep dusty hay away from the horse.

The horse is man's invaluable helper and should be treated as a friend.

Yelling and jerking the bit can confuse a horse and advertise a blackhead.

Blood is everything in animals when merit is the object in the offspring.

The horse intends to please you, but does not always know your wishes.

Simples horses are quite frequent, the cause of the profits being small in farming.

Clean the hog house and change the bedding. Whitewash is excellent to apply at this time and will aid in keeping down lice.

If he is not wide he has not good digestive powers and probably not a good constitution.

The body should be deep, for without this it is not possible for him to take large quantities of food and change it rapidly into meat.

Sheep are not only conservers of fat but distributors of it where most needed if given an opportunity.

They are averse to water, seeking elevations for their resting place and the low parts of the pasture for the succulent grass.

B. Loyd gives his experience in the Farm and Home as follows:

"I turned a flock of sheep into a clover field, and they at once sought out the spots where the clover did not grow, and eagerly devoured the blossoms and small portions of the plants, but left the bulk of the clover on the portions of the field where most needed."

A "friend" advised me to Dodd's.

"I straightened me up that I could go about free from pain without any assistance of a doctor, and I was perfectly cured, well and happy, without a pain or an ache. Well, I told him I seemed to be getting along in my work, and that they will always have my greatest praise."

Darwin Refuted.

Father—Yes, my son; according to Darwin, our ancestors were monkeys.

Kindergarten teacher—That I shall be an ancestor of mine, I am afraid.

Youngster—Then I shall be an ancestor of mine, myself, some time, and I'm not a monkey—Judge."

PROFIT IN SHEEP.

Figures Which Show How One Farmer Made a Handsome Profit on His Investment.

In growing sheep is given a farmer of South Andover, Me., who says: "Here is my lamb and wool account from 16 sheep for the year 1904. These were all born in April, and were fed with good hay and no grain, with a ration of turnips about once a week and a good pasture to run in during the summer. The lambs came along from the first to the middle of May.

"I sold 22 lambs, $3 each, $65; 10 lbs. of wool, 22 cts. a lb., $17.60; total gross $82.60, net cost of wintering and summer feed, $24.00, net $58.60; average for each sheep $2.73; total capital invested, 16 sheep, $3 each, $48; net profit on a dollar 30.83 per cent."

The Weight of a Sunbeam.

Prof. Foyning, of England, has been weighing sunbeams so as to find out the exact pressure of light, and he states in his paper that the weight of the sun overhead and the air beneath, clear, the weight of a sunbeam is a millionth of a grain to the square inch, or about a pound on a 20-acre field. Farmers in Michigan, report the Farm and Livestock Journal, are not worrying over the weight of sunbeams; they are interested much more in the question of how to get a sufficient number of them to mature their crops.
