SAD ACCIDENT

Clarence Miller Swoons to Sidewalk at School House—Strikes on Head and Dies Almost Instantly.

This community was terribly shocked Tuesday morning at the dreadful accident which befell Clarence Miller, the only son of Mrs. J. C. Miller.

The accident occurred on the front steps of the high school building at about 9 o'clock. As near as can be learned, he was going up the sidewalk leading to the school, and was about to ascend the front steps when he was seized with a fainting spell and began to stagger. James Wandel, one of his schoolmates, noticed his condition, and suggested going home with him, but Clarence refused, and though James endeavored to support him he fell, striking his forehead on the hard cement walk.

Frank Shalz, who recently moved with his family to this place, appeared upon the scene, and picking the boy up carried him to his home, about a block distant. Doctors Barnum and Lyons were immediately called, but their efforts were of no avail, as the injury was beyond human mending. He died shortly after reaching home. The injury was diagnosed as a fracture at the base of the skull. The hard edge of the sidewalk rendered a deep depression on the frontal bone, besides the injury which caused his demise.

Clarence was born in this village on the 23d day of August, 1893. He was a regular attendant at the Presbyterian Sunday school and a member of the Junior Epworth League, and was considered a promising pupil at the public school. Schoolmates cherished his companionship and in their great loss, his mother and sisters have the profound sympathy of the teachers and pupils of the schools. The entire community extends condolence to them in their irreparable loss.

The funeral services were held at the family residence yesterday afternoon at two o'clock.

The schools had been closed out of respect for the departed, and a large number of friends were present at the last sad rites over the remains. A wealth of beautiful flowers bedecked the pretty white casket, showing the esteem of the boy's near and dear friends. Rev. Matthews, pastor of the Presbyterian church, assisted by Rev. J. J. Parish, of the M. E. church conducted the funeral services.

After the impressive services the funeral cortege, followed by a host of friends, filed to Birchwood cemetery, where the remains were tenderly laid to rest. The honorary pallbearers at this sad occasion were Ernest Parish, Elmer Peterson, James Wandel, Eldred Pennington, Webster Hodges and Frank Gottry, the active bearers were John Hunt, Elbert Barnum, George Wandel, Ernest Borchers, Will Voss and Herbert Parish.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Pine City to Have Institute Workers Tuesday, Nov. 28th—A Schooling Free to the Ambitious.

If there is one thing more than another that we take pleasure in announcing it is a meeting which we are sure will be of benefit to farmers. This week we are authorized to announce the coming State Farmers' Institute meeting which will be held the 28th of this month at Rath's hall. The meeting will commence at ten o'clock sharp on Tuesday morning and it is desirable that all be present at the opening hour so that every bit of good possible may be derived.

As this is a state work no charges or collections are made, and, as the Institute may teach more in one session than one could learn in a year or perhaps a life time, no interested parties can well afford to remain away from the really meritorious agricultural gathering.

The Farmers' Institute, as the state's traveling school of agriculture, is doing a great work for this, the "bread and butter state" of the Union. Why shouldn't every farmer and others co-operate with the Institute workers? All that is asked is that as many as possible be present—so that many may be benefited to more successfully strive for themselves and the state.

At the close of the forenoon session, the Institute Annual containing over 350 pages of valuable reading matter and illustrations, will be given away free. Every farmer is entitled to this book and should not miss securing one.

The Institute will be under the direction of Hon. A. W. Trow, Pres. of the State Dairy association, editor of the Farmer, and prominent for a number of years in institute work. M. O. Gupta, president, and Mayor F. E. Smith, secretary, are directed in charge of the local affairs of the coming Institute.

Remember the time and place of the meeting. Bring the entire family in both old and young, boys and girls; there is much to learn, therefore do not stay away while opportunity is knocking at the door.

Fredrick Nordstrom Dies.

After an illness lasting about seven years Fredrick Nordstrom died Tuesday, Nov. 14th, 1905, at his home 3 1/2 miles east of Pine City. The cause of his death was catarrh and old age. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 12:30.

Mr. Nordstrom was born in Teherga, Sweden, on the 30th day of June, 1832. In 1851 he came to this country and located at Grantsburg, Wis., moving to the present home-land in 1894. A wife, son John, and a brother, Aug. Nordstrom, are left to mourn his demise.

The Pioneer extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

New Catholic Edifice.

A most notable event in church circles was the dedication of the new Church of the Sacred Heart at Rush City last Sunday morning. The church is a magnificent monument to the enterprise and loyalty of the Rush City parish, and Rev. Keane is entitled to a great deal of credit for his efforts in securing so beautiful and complete an edifice. Arch Bishop Ireland, assisted by a large number of priests from abroad, dedicated the church, and it was a most imposing affair. As far as we have learned, the following from Pine City attended the dedication services: M. J. Hurley and wife, Mrs. J. J. Madden and wife, Miss Annie Terney, B. J. Hawley and wife, Miss Nellie Madden, Mrs. A. H. Lambert and daughter Bessie, P. W. McAllen, Mrs. J. D. Vaughan and son Bernice, Miss H. Kahler Bigler, John Heywood, John Underwood and daughter Rosa, Mrs. E. H. Lahody and sisters, the Misses Janeski, Mrs. Tina, Hueston, etc.

If you don't read all of the Pioneer you don't get all of the news.

THANKSGIVING

TURKEY FREE

Our window is a turkey roost now. The Turkeys are there—a fine, fat gobbler and a sleek, plump hen; eggs too. In fact we have everything to make the best Thanksgiving dinner you ever ate. But we won't have them after the 28th. If you are a good guesser we will give them to you. Just come to our store, make a purchase of 25c and for each 25c you guess as to their weight. If your guess is nearest to their correct weight when we weigh them on the 28th, they are yours. You can eat them.

BIG DEAL IN LOGS.

William Kaiser Secures the Pine of Jas. E. McGrath on Snake River.

William Kaiser has acquired all the logs to be cut in the future on the Snake river by James E. McGrath and they will be saved at the Kaysen sawmill. This means that operations for this mill will continue at least four years longer as the new purchase forms a nucleus that will be supplemented by a supply of other logs.

The new purchase amounts to between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 feet, and involves about $400,000. The logs are to be cut at the rate of about 8,000,000 feet annually for the next three seasons. They will be loaded on cars at Pine City, and hauled over the Northern Pacific road to the Kaysen mill.

The logs are owned by James E. McGrath, of this city, and are to be cut from lands owned by him. The holdings of Mr. McGrath embrace all the pine timber on Snake River

Some years ago Mr. McGrath contracted to sell all the best of his logs on Snake river to Charles Betcher, of Red Wing. For a couple of seasons these logs have been going to Red Wing to be saved. They were hauled by rail to this city, and part of them continued by rail over the Milwaukee road to Red Wing, and part of them rafted here and towed to that place. The smaller logs were reserved by Mr. McGrath, who put in a sawmill on Snake River.

A few months ago the Betcher mill at Red Wing was destroyed by fire. Since then the Central Lumber Company, ofudson, has been sawing the Betcher logs secured from Mr. McGrath. An option was secured by Mr. Betcher on the Turbul mill at Oak Park. It being his intention to continue manufacturing the logs into lumber.

Recently Mr. Betcher abandoned his idea of securing the Turbul mill and decided to sell the McGrath logs. He asked for sealed bids and they were opened yesterday. William Kaiser was the successful bidder.

Fire at Grantsburg.

Fire at Grantsburg Wednesday destroyed a whole business block, at a loss of $68,000, which is only partially covered by insurance. The fire started in the roof of the Anderson & Erickson store, and spread to the following buildings, all of which were totally destroyed. Umseth & Johnson, land office; Krute Olson, machine shed and office; together with the loss of 1,700 bushels of potatoes; Lother & Jensen, hardware store; Haasey Cah's saloon; Anderson & Griswold, mercantile store; M. Goddard, mercantile store. The post-office, we understand, and Vorec's hotel and confectionery store also suffered some damage. The Rush City and North Branch Fire departments were called to assist the Grantsburg fire fighters, and performed nobly, succeeding in subduing the fire's fury, and preventing further conflagration. It is thought that the block will be rebuilt soon, and will be more substantial and valuable than before.

Dr. Sackling, of Birmingham, England, states that he has made the remarkable discovery that a large proportion of cases of insanity and other nervous diseases are due to movable kidneys, and may be cured in a few months by a comparatively simple operation.

A new project has been launched by the Salvation army. It resolves itself into a club for workmen—a institution to compete with the saloon, a people's palace. Boston is to have an institution of this kind. Later these club-houses are to be introduced into other cities.

Nickel, in its pure state, is silver white in color, hard, tough, ductile with difficulty and is susceptible to magnetism although not to the same extent as iron. It has the peculiar property of being this magnetism when heated and retaining when cooled. This peculiarity being taken advantage of in the manufacture of certain alloys for electrical purposes.

Miss Bertha Krupp, the Essen mill-mistress, has become an ardent florist, and spends most of her time in her beautiful Florentine garden which her father had laid out for her. She is especially enthusiastic about orchids, and has imported some of the rarest grows from England and South America. Believing ornamental gardening to be a suitable calling for women, she is starting a school at Essen, where girls are to be trained for the pursuit. There is no talk of her marrying, and it is understood that the young banker who had been paying his addresses has been dismissed.

The "decoration habit" among members of the nobility is almost as firmly fixed as it is the craze for medal winning in our own country. It is said that Chancellor von Bismarck, of Germany, enjoys the unique distinction of being the best decorated man in Europe, possessing no less than 115 stars, orders and ribbons, besides numerous medals. Some one has figured that if he wore all his decorations at one time they would not only cover every inch of his expansive chest and waist, but would hang back and extend down the legs of his trousers to the knees.

Necessity is driving the people of Europe to devise various substitutes for coal and other common fuels which are rapidly growing scarce in that country and higher in price. One of the cheapest and valuable of these substitutes is a kind of artificial coal made from peat pressed into the form of bricks. Consul-General Mason, of Berlin, some time ago sent a long report to our state department concerning the manufacture of these peat bricks. These bricks are from ordinary brown peat, of which there are thousands of square miles of deposits in the United States, and are coal-black in color.

Trapshooters who attended a recent tournament of the Cincinnati Gun Club were surprised to find that two very young people had joined their ranks since the last meeting. The new arrivals by their expert shooting, got the members of the old guard on their nerves. The youngest of the two new members was Master James Hayes, 11 years old, who came from Vicksburg, Miss., to try his skill at breaking the clay pigeons. This lad made a fine success. The other was Miss Frances Alther, 14, of Cincinnati, who surprised to the trap with her father and made remarkably good scores, surpassing the scores of a number of the crackshooters of the club.

Mining for gold nuggets and gold in the form of chips and other jewelry in the wild, or almost, woods, is a flourishing industry in Colorado, according to John W. Kerr, who has returned to the United States from the South American country. Mr. Kerr has been mining in those regions under the name of Natagonia, hundreds of miles up the Magdalena river from the coast. He says the government permits mining of that sort, but prohibits the taking out of the country of the golden ornaments found in the river.

BISHOP MERRILL CALLED BY DEATH

WELL-KNOWN METHODIST PASTOR DIES SUDDENLY AT KEYPORT, N. J.

Presided in Brooklyn Sunday Morning—Attacked by Heart Paralysis at Night and Expired—His Long Career.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Stephen M. Merrill, for many bishop of the Rock River district of the Methodist Episcopal church, died at 11 o'clock Sunday night at Keyport, N. J. News of his demise was sent to Chicago through the Methodist Book Concern in New York. Paralysis of the heart caused death, which was sudden. Bishop Merrill had been attending the sessions of the general conference of missionary societies of the Methodist Episcopal church, meeting in Brooklyn Sunday morning he preached in the Fleet street Methodist Episcopal church of Brooklyn, and in the afternoon went to Keyport to conduct evening services there. His illness came on suddenly during the evening. Physicians who were hurriedly summoned were unable to stay the course of the paralysis.

Sketch of His Career.

Bishop Merrill was 80 years of age and a native of Greenfield, O., where he was a shoemaker prior to his conversion and the beginning of his ministry. He was licensed to preach early in 1845. In 1846 he was admitted to Milwaukee Refrigerator Company and Railroads Attacked as Violators of Elkins Law.

Milwaukee, Nov. 14.—United States District Attorney H. K. Butterfield and Assistant Counsel Charles Quantel Monday filed a complaint in the United States circuit court against the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company, the Beebe Ice company, the Missouri, Kansas & Texas, the Rock Island, the St. Louis & San Francisco, the Wisconsin Central, the Alton and the Erie Railroad companies, and the Pabst Ice company, charging them with violating the Elkins law prohibiting rebates, discriminations and concessions.

The complaint recites that the Refrigerator Transit company was organized to acquire and operate refrigerator cars for the carriage of freight "on the lines operated by the defendant railroad companies named herein, and of other railroad companies throughout the United States." The intent of the company, it is urged, was to exact, solicit and receive from the railroad companies "by way of rebates, concessions and discriminations, a large proportion of the moneys received by the said defendant railroad companies for the transportation of freight," and "to evade and violate the acts of congress hereinafter specified."

ROYAL GREENING TO PRINCE LOUIS

BRITISH ADMIRAL AND HIS FLEET RECEIVE ADDED HONORS IN NEW YORK.

Big American Squadron Takes Part—Royal Visitor Declares New York Would Be Mercy of a Big Naval Fleet in Case of War.

New York, Nov. 19.—Led by the flagship Drake, with Rear Admiral Prince Louis of Battenberg on the after-deck, the British squadron of six armored cruisers arrived in North river early Thursday and came to anchor at intervals of about 400 yards with the column headed up stream. This brought the flagship Drake and the Maine, Admiral Evans' flagship within several hundred yards of each other on Seventy-ninth street. The combined squadrons formed a column that stretched from Forty-second to One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street. Lined up to welcome the visitors were the two newest-war of the North Atlantic fleet, the Flower of the American navy. Ringed out in full dress in honor of King Edward's birthday the splendidly white American ships never looked rainbow. From the American fleet emerged a line of flags of all colors. Flying at the fore of each man-of-war was the Stars and Stripes and at the main the Union Jack. The British ships were also dressed, flying the British flag at the fore and the American flag at the main.

The first salute fired by the Drake from her anchorage in North river was 21 guns as Rear Admiral Evans, commander-in-chief of the North Atlantic fleet, was over the side after paying a special call on Prince Louis to congratulate him on the occasion of the sovereign's sixty-fourth birthday. Before the last gun of the salute had been fired the mighty column of men-of-war was shrouded in smoke. After lunch many visitors visited the ships. Admiral Evans having ordered that every possible facility be afforded for this purpose. Admiral Prince Louis spent the morning making calls on the mayor and Rear Admiral Cuplain, commander of the New York navy yard. These calls were returned in the afternoon.

Talks to reporters. New York, Nov. 19.—Perhaps the most interesting incident of the second day of Rear Admiral Prince Louis's visit to New York was the informal reception of the British admiral by the New York press in his cabin Friday night. For the second time his business talked to them with the utmost frankness, answered some of their searching questions and foiled others. Evidently thinking to ask the prince a question which would evoke an answer out of the ordinary one of the reporters made bold to ask: "What does your business think of the conditions in Russia?" For a moment there was a pause, and then the prince replied: "I am a brother-in-law of Emperor Nicholas and I am also a rear admiral in the British navy. You are therefore getting on the safe side in fact on this as well as I think I shall not attempt to skate."

New York's Peril. "Well, then, what does your highness think of New York?" said the reporter. "What has impressed you most?" "The effect of a war upon New York," began the prince, slowly, "is what has impressed me most. In less than an hour it takes my cook to fly in a basket from the top of the Empire State building, the combined fleet in the river here could reduce New York to atoms. New York needs peace. War would prove most disastrous to this city."

Prince Louis Annoyed. New York, Nov. 19.—The keen observation of Prince Louis his remarks several days ago about the disastrous effect upon the fall harvest in New York of the combined fleet of 18 warships anchored in the North river have been misinterpreted as a criticism of New York's defenses. In reply to the direct question "Do you think the combined fleet of vessels from the combined fleets in the North river would destroy the tall buildings in New York?" the prince said he certainly did think such a result would follow a bombardment directed from both sides. Naval officers of both squadrons reported that the remarks should have been misinterpreted or incorrectly reported.

"If I like sailing you touched a match to a hay stack would it burn?" said the prince Sunday. "As a matter of fact, there is no reason why any such fire should need to destroy buildings which are built of steel and iron. I desire that the remark has been made which I had not the slightest notion of uttering."

Pleas Under Arrest. Annapolis, Md., Nov. 19.—Mississippi Minor Mariner, Jr., was placed under arrest Monday to await his trial by court-martial for engaging in a battle with a Mississippi River steamer. Mr. Branch, Jr., was also of his arrest followed shortly after the reception of the order from the navy department.

Contributions Deducted. Annapolis, Md., Nov. 19.—The new Log Cabin county work, was dedicated Thursday with ceremonies attended by several hundred persons. The structure cost $100,000.

NEWS OF MINNESOTA.

Iron Ore.

Duluth.—Julius Moersch, statistician of the state labor department, has compiled a comprehensive report upon iron ore mining in Minnesota during 1904. After several months of inspection and correspondence with the operators of the large mines he has collected together some interesting data touching the production of ore on the range and labor conditions as they exist during that year. This magnitude of the industry in Minnesota can be easily grasped by a perusal of the report.

The five Lake Superior iron ranges, the Mesabi, Vermilion, Gogebic, Anconite and Marquette ranges, had at the close of the year 1904 shipped a total of 303,693,339 tons of ore, which the Minnesota mines located in the Vermilion Vermilion and Mesabi ranges furnished 37.5 per cent, or in round numbers 109,817,975 tons.

Pest For Coal.
Norwood.—With the establishment of a large manufacturing plant here, where it has required a 250-acre tract, the Northwestern Fuel Manufacturing company, just organized in Minneapolis, will introduce peat in the local market as a substitute for hard coal.

An output of 600 tons a day in the prospect of the proposed Norwood factory, and the manufacturer of annealed wire will be the equal of any anthracite product and can be sold at a much lower rate, expect the new industry to flourish. In the event of success they propose to enlarge capacity and establish other plants in different localities of the state. Three Minneapolis young men are the incorporators of the company.

More Saloons Closed.
Robbinsdale.—J. J. Urban, president of the village, declares that he will close the saloons of Mayor David P. Jones of Minneapolis and close the four saloons in this village on Sunday.

Mr. Urban, in company with Councilman Johnson, called upon Mayor Jones and expressed an intention of following his footsteps. "The manner in which the saloons in our town were conducted was a disgrace," declared Mr. Urban. "The saloonkeepers had placed the town, advertising and other forms of advertising for the purpose of attracting large numbers to their places of business."

Salute the Flag.
El Snelling.—The forms of salute to the flag will be amended in accordance with the orders received at the post. The custom has been for all persons connected with the military service to stand at attention during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by the band. According to the new order "all persons in a military reservation at the sounding of retreat will stand at attention and salute with the hand while the band plays the Star Spangled Banner."

B-y-Drowned.
Brainerd.—A four-month-old Indian baby was drowned in Leach lake. The child slipped from the back of the mother who was in a rowboat on her way to the agency. The woman was intoxicated at the time and did not miss the child for several moments. This was the only death or accident as a result of the spending of the regular annuity checks which the Indians received a few days ago.

Bold Burglars.
Minneapolis.—Burglars dug their way through a seven-inch brick wall to get into Arthur Zellman's farm store, 25 Fifth street, south, late Saturday night. After that was gained entrance they carried off for a value of $4,000. The loss is but partially covered by insurance.

The job was one of the most finished ever done in Minneapolis and the officials are inclined to the belief that professionalists have dropped into the city.

Insulted.
Minneapolis.—The big fight has begun. For the first time the prominent Minneapolis insurance men indicted for alleged grand larceny because of the alleged misappropriation of Northwest National Life Insurance company funds, and a former state insurance commissioner indicted on the charge of bribery, were arraigned before Judge L. D. Edson, of the district court.

When bilious try a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and realize for once how quickly a first-class up-to-date medicine will correct the disorder. For sale by L. E. Breckenridge.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia. writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least a half-dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians, without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." L. E. Breckenridge.

Anxious Moments.

Some of the most anxious hours of a mother's life are those when the little ones of the household have the cough. There is no other medicine so effective in this terrible malady as Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a household favorite for throat and lung troubles, and as it contains no opiates or other poisons, it can be safely given. L. E. Breckenridge.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates or poisons, and never fails to cure. L. E. Breckenridge.

Sick headache results from a disordered stomach, and is quickly cured by Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by L. E. Breckenridge.

Foley's Honey and Tar always stops the cough and heals the lungs. Refuse substitutes. L. E. Breckenridge.

New Way of Using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. Arthur Chapman, writing from Durban, Natal, South Africa, says: "As a proof that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a cure and a balm for old and young, I pen you the following: A neighbor of mine had a child just over two years old who had a very bad cough and the parents did not know what to give it. I suggested that if they would get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and put some upon the dainty feet the baby was sucking in, and so forth, cure the child. This they did and brought about a quick relief and cured the baby. The remedy is for sale by L. E. Breckenridge."

The Best Liniment.

"Chamberlain's Pain Balm is considered the best Liniment on the market," writes Post and Elise, of Georgia, Va. "No other liniment will heal a cut or bruise so promptly. In speaking of the purchase Mr. Kaiser said that it would mean at least four more years. He intends to have the logs hauled from Pine City over the Northern Pacific road and to saw them at the Eclipse mill. Mr. Kaiser has also secured considerable quantities of other logs and has options on others. He will not only have logs saved at the Eclipse mill but has for three years operated the Hastings sawmill.

The Eclipse mill is still in operation and will continue sawing until the freezeup. The A. A. Ewart mill, the Tozer mill and the Hudson mill are still going and are planning to keep sawing as long as the weather permits. —Stillwater Gazette.
