SAW MILL RUNNING

Log Sawing Began at the McGrath Mill This Week—No Full Force Until After the Fourth.

Wednesday the wheels in the McGrath saw mill started revolving and the season's cut began. At present the mill is running on the "try out," but it is expected that right after the Fourth of July a full crew will be here to begin operations.

The mill covers an area of 3,960 square feet, and is well put up. It contains some first-class machinery, the big band saw being the center of attraction at present. A part of the machinery is not yet set for work, but this will not prevent action at the mill when business starts with full force.

The engine is of 180 horse-power, which will not only carry the machinery in the saw mill, but which is destined to furnish power for the loading works also.

The saw mill industry will be the largest in Pine City this year and the output of lumber will be great. Many men will find steady employment and good reasonable wages will be paid. Surely this is a land of "milk and honey."

Score Another Victory.

Last Sunday afternoon the Pine City Juniors took all the wind out of the Rock Creek ball team's sails. The Rock Creekites are a lot of big, husky fellows, and they came here bent upon giving the "Cubs" a toss over the fence and out. Edlin was in fine form and he, together with fine support, held the visitors to two runs, and although no official tab was kept on the score, it is declared that he struck out eighteen men. Frank Harley caught for Pine City, and his receiving was reliable at all times. Peterson and Hudak took turns at twirling for Rock Creek and Earl Chaffee was their catcher. A score of eighteen to two was recorded at the end of the agony and through thirty thousand to Bear Creek. The fry were sent by the state fish commission on request of I. H. Claggett.

DEATH'S HARVEST

Two Pine City Women Called to Join the Majority During the Past Week—Two Young Men Die.

MRS. EDWARD POTTER.
 Without a word of warning, Mrs. Edward Potter was called to her last long rest Wednesday, June 27, 1906, at 6:10 o'clock p. m. The cause of her sudden demise was heart failure, for, up to within a few minutes of the time of her death, she was apparently as hale and hearty as usual. The sad news was a great shock to the many acquaintances who held her in great esteem.

Mrs. Potter was born in Wablen, Rhine, Prussia, Germany, on the 30th day of November, 1836. She was wedded in Germany to Jacob Engel. Twenty-three years ago she came to this country, a widow with three children, and settled at Rush City. For the past eight years she had made her home in St. Paul and Pine City. She was married at Rush City to Edward Potter, a veteran of the Civil war, who died and was buried at Rush City 18 years ago.

The children who survive her are: Mrs. Chas. Gehl and Peter Engel, of this place, and Mrs. Wm. Herzig, of St. Paul.

Funeral services will be held in the Church of the Sacred Heart at Rush City this morning, and the officiating clergyman will be Rev. Fr. Kennedy. The remains will be laid beside those of her husband in the Rush City cemetery.

MRS. LAURA SLOAN.
 Although not unexpected, the news of the death of Mrs. Laura Sloan was cause for keen regret among her many friends in this place. She died at 10:30 o'clock a. m. on the 28th day of June, 1906. Her death was due to cancer of the stomach from which she had been a sufferer for the past two months. She died in Dr. Cobb's hospital, Merriam Park, where she had gone to be treated.

Mrs. Laura L. Sloan was born in Pennsylvania, August 30th, 1847. She was married to Elisha W. Sloan on the 1st day of February, 1867. Four daughters and one son survive her, as follows: Mrs. D. A. Payne, Pine City; Mrs. H. H. Orme and Miss Nellie Sloan, Merriam Park; Mrs. T. A. Peck and A. W. Sloan, Spokane, Wash.

The funeral will be held from the Sloan residence Sunday afternoon, and the remains laid to rest in Birchwood cemetery.

EMORY J. GREIG.
 Emory J. Greig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Greig, of Leola, S. D., died at this place Wednesday morning at 8:30 o'clock. He was suffering from tuberculosis and his mother brought him here about six weeks ago with the hope that the favorable climate would be a benefit. He was born at Frederick, S. D., and would have been 22 years old on the 24th of August. Besides his parents he leaves three brothers and four sisters. Short funeral services were held at the Artner residence yesterday morning. Rev. Matthews officiating, and the remains were shipped to Leola for burial.

BYRON WOODFORD.
 Services were held over the remains of Byron Woodford at the M. E. church Monday afternoon. Rev. Parish officiating. He was a son of Jas. Woodford, of Rock Creek, and died Friday, June 22, 1906, at 4 p. m. The cause of his death was inflammation of the bowels. He was 22 years old. The remains were laid to rest in Birchwood cemetery.

A Bare-Headed African.
 The following "paid loc" is quite from the Pintacon News: "Jos. Stival, of Rhine Lake, while coming to Pintacon last Monday found a black man's hat of the B. K. & Co. brand. The hat had been left at this office and the owner can have same by proving property and paying for this ad."

PINE CITY, MINN.

It is to be hoped congress won't sit forever, like the drama proposes to do.

As soon as a man gets the notion that his employer can't get along without him he is getting ready to leave his job.

That Philadelphia burglar who habitually carried a Bible in his pocket would have had much more sympathy with the jury if he hadn't also carried a choice selection of Jimnies.

Most of us don't know how much we have to be thankful for until we really do have some trouble. As a rule, the most indifferent people are those who have always had an easy road to travel.

Thomas Nelson Page, just home from the other side of the pond, says that "Europeans look on Americans as a nation of gladiators." As a vic-tims to guides, hotels and about every thing else.

Princeton took a baseball series from Yale the other day. Old Yale was just beginning to think that he was about to regain his old position of well-nigh unquestioned supremacy in the inter-collegiate baseball world.

Perhaps there should be less disposition to sneer at the railroad clerks who get out of work by paying anything for it. Were those who didn't take it the persons who were not presented with opportunities? It is not regarded as an invidious thing to "hook a gift horse in the mouth."

A Pittsburg lady on a slumming tour was so shocked that the board of safety has ordered that all Pittsburg people shall eat in their houses and that their mothers shall see that their children wear plenty of clothes, no matter what the state of the weather. Here is a field of reform and exposure that has been left open.

The interesting thing about Chinatown in San Francisco was its genuine character as an Oriental settlement, living, of, for and by itself, as truly eastern as any community in a remote part of China. The Chinese inhabitants never went out of the precincts of Chinatown from one end of the year to another.

A Melbourne clerk has achieved a great feat in penmanship. With a steel pen and without the use of a magnifying glass, he has inscribed on a post card 10,161 words. The writing consists of selections from the works of Shakespeare and Dickens, a chapter from Genesis, and the song, "Home, Sweet Home." The work is so beautifully done that the clerks here have been able to read the writing with the naked eye.

We sometimes see a huge ring or halo round the moon, occupying a space in the heaven's so large that ninety moons' breadth would not just suffice to span it, yet the body of the sun would fill all that space were we had approached within 2,000,000 miles of him. Once on this apparent surface were we permitted to travel there on and with the speed of an express train it would require five whole years of continuous journeying before we could make the circuit of this orb.

One of the American visitors who were swarming into Oxford for the eighth week was surprised to learn from a porter on the station that he had about another day to go before he reached Magdalen. He asked—as many have asked more mildly—why the brass station had been moved so far from the center of the city. The Oxford porter replied, gravely: "I dunno, air; but I 'spect they thought it more handy to have it down here by the railway."

To gratify the pride and stimulate the ambition of the soldiers of the regular army the general staff has issued an order requiring veterans of the Spanish war, the Philippine insurrection and the Peleling relief expedition to wear bronze medals on dress parade and occasions of ceremony. This will give the boys something to be proud of. The general staff also provided a special badge to be worn by soldiers of the regular army who have been awarded what is known as the certificate of merit. It entitles the holder to a $2 a month extra.

She was large and majestic, and just before the elevated train in which she was riding approached the station she arose and raised down the aisle to be at the door first. In an instant she seemed rather than saw a man just behind her. Taking a deep breath, she widened her chest and stood firm. No man should push her. Turning slightly, she said, with massive calm and authority, "Mind your pushing! I am walking of here." "Yes, I know, lady, come in a moment please," but I have to open the gate for you! It was the guard.

We have all heard of babies, transys, etc., becoming car riders, but it is claimed for the first time in this country to tempt the other way to exhibit the first rascally transys now seen in Florida. As the train was about to depart a half grown rascal was seen spring from the middle car carrying a good, stout, black, scrawny, round about a great size "egg-stacker" and just as the conductor cried "All aboard!" the rascal flew to his feet, and just as the conductor called "Shoving would cause him to leave his seat."

HOUSE AND SENATE WORK SUMMARIZED

MANY IMPORTANT BILLS HAVE BEEN ENACTED DURING SESSION.

Most Noted Legislation in Along New Lines, Extending Federal Regulation and Control of Quasi-Public Affairs.

Washington, June 25.—Important measures extending federal regulation and control have been enacted at the first session of the fifty-ninth congress, now rapidly drawing to a close.

The railroad rate and the meat inspection bills will soon become laws, and before adjournment of congress both houses will have passed pure food bills which, though distasteful in terms, are based on the same principle of federal control.

Great results to the people are expected from the removal of the tax on whisky, the limitation of the liquor license, the light and sewerage to be supplied by alcohol, made from the cornfields of the country, from sugar beets, pear case, from fruit and other vegetation.

Look Out for Panama. By a debt turn of legislative points of view the question which perplexed congress for some time regarding the Panama canal has been settled. The president may die a look-out as fast as he pleases. A joint resolution was agreed to requiring canal supplies to be made of American manufacture.

Congress has not dealt with the foreign situation to any extent. An act making a much needed reorganization of the consular service was passed.

Immense Number of Bills. A large number of bills were introduced in the two houses. The calendar records that the number has reached nearly 40,000. Others that were introduced during the entire three sessions of the last congress.

Before discussing the number of acts passed it is interesting to note that with all the strenuous exertions of an appropriations committee in the house, with a new chairman—Representative Tawney—it has been impossible to hold the appropriations down to much less than $600,000,000, although "economy" was the watchword from the start.

One of the important features of the session has been the careful scrutiny with which the demands of the different government departments have been received by the house appropriations committee. The result has been the enactment of restraining legislation on nearly every department, all of which it is intended will have a beneficial effect hereafter.

A strict account is hereafter to be required from all United States court clerks. A revelation that one such clerk had received emoluments amounting to $250 in one day brought about this provision.

Laws for Labor. Organized labor has succeeded in its requests of the present session of congress to the extent of securing the enactment of what is known as the "employers' liability bill."

Another bill which has received the approval of the senate and will doubtless become a law before the end of the session is that limiting the hours of continuous service of railway trainmen to 16 consecutive hours work, to be followed by 10 hours' rest. The much awaited eight-hour bill received a favorable vote from the labor committee of the house, but too late to secure action at the hands of congress. The anti-injunction bill was passed by the committee until the next session of congress.

Naval Enactments. Enthusiasts for the "greater navy" regard the legislation of the session as fundamental to the proper growth of that arm of the fighting force. The record shows that congress authorized the construction of the "biggest battleship afloat," with the provision that before the plans are submitted or bids received or accepted the plans of the ship must be submitted to congress at its next session.

Hazing at the naval academy was given a further legislative rebuke by the passage of a bill giving the secretary of the navy discretion to dismiss or otherwise punish hazers at that institution.

A law was passed which will result in appropriate markings being made on the graves of confederate veterans of the army and navy who died in northern prisons during the civil war. The wearing of the insignia of the Grand Army of the Republic or other soldier organizations by others than members of the said organizations was made a misdemeanor with appropriate penalties.

Shipping Legislation. Although the ship subsidy measure did not become a law, 24 public acts relative to shipping became laws. These were all minor in character and unimportant so new policy.

Literally towards the Indians, the words of the editor, characterized the several enactments on that subject.

The important measure relative to court procedure is the law which provides the exact procedure which must be followed by witnesses to secure immunity from prosecution later. This law operates as a check procedure to be followed in cases where the government undertakes to give information to be used later in criminal procedure, and is intended to give immunity standing to the witness and party against information regarding the subject of immunity.

HEAVY FINES FOR REBATING FREIGHT BROKER AND CLERK OBTAIN PRISON TERMS.

Action of Judge McPherson at Kansas City Sentences Prosecutor Who Conducted the Cases.

Kansas City, Mo., June 23.—A. S. Van Valkenburg, United States district attorney for the western district of Missouri, who has directed for the government the suits in the seven rebate cases that were concluded here Friday, when Judge Smith McPherson pronounced sentence upon the defendants, said, after court had adjourned:

"I am entirely satisfied with the judgments. The results are of enormous benefit to society. As far as the rulings of a trial court may be effective, the following propositions have been established:

"That the conspiracy statute applies to the combined efforts of individuals, seeking by device and indirect methods, to evade the interstate commerce law.

"That congress has jurisdiction over our foreign commerce, as conducted within the limits of our own territory, and has enacted laws which provide a remedy against favoritism and unjust discrimination.

"That the conspiracy statute as well as other laws must be fled with the interstate commerce commission and maintained.

"Neither shippers nor carriers can by contract or otherwise evade the provisions of the law imperative."

Special stress was laid by both court and attorneys for the defendants in the cases of George L. Thomas, the New York freight broker, and his chief clerk, L. B. Taggart. Judge O. M. Spencer, speaking particularly for these two defendants, said that while they were charged under the conspiracy statute, they were tried under the Elkins law.

"It is a question," said he, "whether these men should have been convicted on the charge of conspiracy at all, the evidence. Only shippers can receive, only carriers can give, rebates under the law."

Judge McPherson, in dealing with Thomas and Taggart, was very positive in his statement that they had secured and paid rebates to various merchants, and he scored vigorously both the defendants and these merchants.

Judge McPherson passed sentence on the defendants as follows: George L. Thomas, $15,000; Armour Packing company, $15,000; Nelson Morris & Co., $15,000; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway, $15,000; George L. Thomas, New York, fined $5,000 and four months in the penitentiary; L. B. Taggart, New York, fined $4,000 and sentenced to three months in the penitentiary.

Orders were fled in each case and a stay of execution was granted until June 23 so they may be perfected. Before sentence was passed in the case of Thomas for new trials were made and overruled.

HORRIFIED AT MASSACRES

Senate and House Adopt Joint Resolution Expressing Sympathy for the Jewish People.

Washington, June 22.—The senate Friday adopted the following resolution: "That the people of the United States are horrified by the reports of the massacre of Hebrews in Russia on account of their race and religion and that those bereaved thereby have the hearty sympathy of the people of this country."

DIRECT VOTE BILL IS LOST

Measure Providing for Popular Selection of Senators Is Defeated in the House.

Washington, June 21.—Mr. Norris of Nebraska, led a losing fight Wednesday in the house on the joint resolution amending the constitution of the United States providing for the election and term of office of members of congress. The first section of the resolution provided for the election of senators by direct vote of the people, the second extending the terms of representatives to four years.

ROADS WIN AGAINST STATE

Judgments for Alleged Incoherent Reporting of Gross Earnings Is Set Aside by Supreme Court.

Madison, Wis., June 22.—The supreme court Thursday set aside the decision of the lower court which entered a judgment of $10,000 against ten of four railroads for alleged incoherent reporting of gross earnings as reported by Railroad Commissioner Thomas.

Receiver for Bond Company. St. Paul, Minn., June 23.—The Mississippi Valley Trust company, which received for the American Heavy Bond company, of Missouri, and its constituent companies in the United States court here.

THE PRINCIPAL PROBLEM.

GRAIN ELEVATORS TO BE INVESTIGATED

RELATIONSHIP WITH CARRYING COMPANIES TO BE PROBED BY COMMISSION.

Senator La Follette Sees Passage of Resolution in Interest of Free and Open Market for Farmers of the Northwest.

Washington, June 25.—Senator La Follette Monday called up his resolution extending the scope of the inquiry now being conducted by the interstate commerce commission under the Tillamook-Gillespie resolution, so as to have it include the transportation and storage of grain.

In support of his contention he said the testimony taken by the commission indicates a joint ownership between the railroads and the elevator companies to the detriment of the farmer, who is entitled to a free and open market.

He then gave the names of individuals and corporations which had secured the franchise of railroads to give them monopolies along various western railroad lines, the list given including the following:

Great Western of Lines, Chicago & Rock Island, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Armour Elevator company, the Atchafalaya, Topock & Santa Fe, the Richardson company, the Union Pacific, the Peavey Elevator company, the Chicago & Northwest, the Barrett & Praeger Elevator company, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy, the Armour Elevator company.

As going to confirm his inference of a combination, Mr. La Follette said that the head of the Armour Elevator company is a large stockholder and director of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul.

He then read a number of letters and quoted various statements to show that the railroad companies favor some elevators to which they are friendly and discriminate against others which are not so well regarded by them, with the result that the price of wheat to the producers is far below what it should be.

Grain Goes to One Firm. He declared in conclusion that practically all the grain shipped into Chicago over any one line goes to one dealer and expressed the opinion that these wholesale dealers are closely allied among themselves, thus constituting a virtual monopoly of the entire grain business of the country.

Senator Nelson confirmed the statements of Senator La Follette, saying that he had personal knowledge of many instances of discriminations by the railroads in favor of line elevators.

Senator Nelson confirmed the statements of Senator La Follette, saying that he had personal knowledge of many instances of discriminations by the railroads in favor of line elevators.

To Build in Decatur. Decatur, Ga., June 23.—The committee on the location of the $250,000 Pythian home has selected Decatur. Three places were considered—this city, Birmingham and Atlanta.

Canadian Church Burned. Hamilton, Ont., June 22.—The interior of the new Central Presbyterian church was completely destroyed by fire Thursday. Loss, $100,000.

GREEN AND DOREMUS FREED

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF CONSPIRACY AND BRIBERY.

Were Charged with Entering into Compact to Defraud Postal Department.

Washington, June 25.—The jury found Green and Doremus not guilty on both the charges of conspiracy and bribery.

The jury came in at 1:40 p. m. from the start. It stood 11 to 1 for acquittal. The one man holding out for the purpose of obtaining certain explanations regarding the evidence. Court adjourned in the afternoon at which Messrs. Green and Doremus were warmly congratulated. Neither Mr. Green nor District Attorney Baker would make any statement. There is one more case against Green, but the intention of the government regarding it is not known.

The acquittal of former State Senator George E. Green, of New York, and William D. Doremus, of this city, marks the climax of a trial that has consumed four weeks in the district supreme court. They were tried under indictments charging conspiracy and bribery in connection with the sale of stamp cancelling machines to the government for the postal service.

These were the only charges against the defendant Doremus. Mr. Green was tried some time ago on charges of conspiracy in connection with the sale of time receivers to the post office department and was acquitted. The charges under which Messrs. Green and Doremus were tried, and of which they were found not guilty, were based on allegations that they entered into a conspiracy with George W. Beavers, former chief of the division of salaries and allowances in the post office department by which they agreed to pay him $25 for each cancelling machine manufactured by the Doremus Machine company and sold to the government for the post office department through the procurement of Beaver.

The trial was begun four weeks ago, and a vast amount of testimony was introduced by the government. The evidence of the defense was put in over two and a half days. A large number of witnesses were called on behalf of the defendant Green, including justices of the supreme court of the state of New York, who testified to his high character. He had been mayor of Binghamton, his home town, canal commissioner and state senator.

INTERSTATE HEARINGS END

Commission Adjourns Until Fall to Put Report in Shape for Congressional Action.

Washington, June 23.—The last of the hearings for the present by the interstate commerce commission in connection with its investigation into the relations of the railroads with coal and oil traffic was held here Friday and marked the practical completion of the inquiry as regards the eastern bituminous fields. The hearings will be resumed in the fall, the commission in the meantime preparing its report on the facts developed for the consideration of congress.

POWER TO REFUSE LICENSE

Illinois Supreme Court Holds Discretion Lies with Municipalities and Reverses Case.

Springfield, Ill., June 23.—In an opinion handed down Thursday by the supreme court in the case of Henry Ruben against Mayor Carter, H. Harnan, address, etc., he said he was J. Smith, 33 years old, a student of No. 33 La Fayette place, Washington, D. C.

When searched his identity was confirmed. In his card were cards numbered 1 to 10, which were stamped as to the name of Henry Ruben. He had about $250 in cash. Harnan is said to have been a member of the B. L. Smith lodge, and he was arrested by the police. The charges against him is murder.

There were several stories of what Thaw did after firing the shots, but a number of men agreed that he had started for the police station.

"Well," said him, he deserved it. "Murderer Apprehended." One in the police station he had apparently recovered himself and had become the least excited man in it. Standing before the sergeant's desk in easy pose, his overcoat hanging over his left arm, he first calmly took out a cigarette and lighted it.

Answering the various questions as to name, address, etc., he said he was J. Smith, 33 years old, a student of No. 33 La Fayette place, Washington, D. C.

When searched his identity was confirmed. In his card were cards numbered 1 to 10, which were stamped as to the name of Henry Ruben. He had about $250 in cash. Harnan is said to have been a member of the B. L. Smith lodge, and he was arrested by the police. The charges against him is murder.

HARRY THAW SLAYS ARCHITECT WHITE

Hein of Wealthy Pittsburg Family Deliberately Commits Murder During Performance, Being Actuated by Jealous Hate of Victim.

New York, June 26.—Stanford White, a member of the firm of McKim, Mead & White, architects, was shot and killed during the performance at Madison Square Roof garden Monday night.

The police state that the murderer was Harry Thaw, member of a well known Pittsburg family. Persons in front of the auditorium where the tragedy occurred, say that they saw a man standing with a fashionably dressed woman in the rear suddenly walk down towards a table in front.

The first indication of trouble came when, walking in front of his seated victim, the man exclaimed, "You've deserted this. You've ruined my home," as just beginning to think that he was about to regain his old position of well-nigh unquestioned supremacy in the inter-collegiate baseball world.

Perhaps there should be less disposition to sneer at the railroad clerks who get out of work by paying anything for it. Were those who didn't take it the persons who were not presented with opportunities? It is not regarded as an invidious thing to "hook a gift horse in the mouth."

As the train was about to depart a half grown rascal was seen spring from the middle car carrying a good, stout, black, scrawny, round about a great size "egg-stacker" and just as the conductor cried "All aboard!" the rascal flew to his feet, and just as the conductor called "Shoving would cause him to leave his seat."

That Philadelphia burglar who habitually carried a Bible in his pocket would have had much more sympathy with the jury if he hadn't also carried a choice selection of Jimnies.

Most of us don't know how much we have to be thankful for until we really do have some trouble. As a rule, the most indifferent people are those who have always had an easy road to travel.

PINE COUNTY PIONEER.

ED. C. GOTTRY, Editor and Prop.

Entered in the Post Office at Pine City as Second Class Matter.

PINE CITY, MINN., June 23, 1906

Announcement.

To the Voters of Kanabec, Chisago and Pine Counties.
At the solicitation of many of the representative citizens of this legislative district, but more especially at the earnest request of many of the voters of Kanabec—my home county, I hereby announce my candidacy for the nomination, at the coming republican primaries, as one of the representatives from the 32nd district.

If nominated and elected I shall endeavor to merit the confidence placed in me by laboring for the best interests of the district. I am heartily in favor of and shall advocate and vote the so called reciprocal demerage legislation, reduction of freight and passenger rates and revision of our present unjust tax system, which makes the poorer classes bear more than their share of the burdens of taxation. I believe that Kuste Nelson has ably represented this state in the United States senate and is entitled to another term. If given the opportunity it will afford me pleasure to vote for his re-election.

HENRY RINES

Pine crackers will be all the go next Wednesday.

The St. Paul trade Journal of June 18th is a hitmer.

As a rule, it is necessary to be determined in order to win.

The Cole scuttle will be too big for the Johnson forces to handle.

There is always a lull before the storm. This district is enjoying a political lull.

The politician who slings mud during this rainy season is apt to be distanced at the pole.

S. T. JOHNSON wants to be city treasurer of Minneapolis. He has filed for that office on the republican side.

Just to follow a precedent established many years ago the democratic state convention will be held in Minneapolis next September.

A new printer struck the Anoka Herald office last week and was extended the glad foot. That's a right smart way to discourage—the bump.

A GIRL baby was born in Pittsburg the other day with a pair of tongues. She should be able to save the country without having to do any Carrie-Nationizing.

The boquets that have been going Duluthward since the convention have cast a refreshing odor about the great harbor city. Yo! Ho! For greater Duluth, and three cheers for the entire north country.

F. A. DAY, chairman of the democratic state central committee, has issued a call for the state democratic convention to be held in Minneapolis, Tuesday, September 4th. County conventions are called for Saturday, August 25th. It was deemed advisable to hold the convention during state fair time so as to insure a good attendance.

It is well that we might say "Hurray for the Fourth" at any and at all times if need be, and the great meaning of the Declaration of Independence be kept alive in every mind. It was John Adams, who before the Continental Congress, prophesied: "But whatever may be our fate, be assured that this Declaration will stand. It may cost treasure, and it may cost blood, but it will stand, and it will richly compensate for both. Through the blood of the present I see the brightness of the future as the sun in heaven. We shall make this a glorious, an immortal day. When we are in our graves our children will honor it. They will celebrate it with thanksgiving, with feasts, with lectures and illuminations. On its annual return they will shed tears—copious; gushing tears—not of subjection and slavery; not of agony and distress, but of exultation of gratitude and of joy."

"Whose Bones?"

Under the above heading a number of interested papers copied an article contained in the PIONEER a couple of weeks ago relating to the finding of a skeleton on the Wisconsin banks of the St. Croix river near St. Clair. The gruesome discovery was made by J. M. Collins and Alex Wyman on the 3rd inst., and they at once notified the Wisconsin authorities.

The following from the Sentinel of Grantsburg, adds some particulars to the finding:

"A telephone message from Randall Friday evening told of the finding of a skeleton on the banks of the St. Croix some seven miles below the railroad bridge. Deputy Christenson, accompanied by Wm. F. Olson and Ole Anderson drove down there Saturday to see if the remains might not be those of Claus Olson, who disappeared in the Giam a year ago. It was not his, however. Only a part of the skeleton was there and appeared to be of a man of small stature. Two front teeth of the upper jaw were gone. A pocket, an aluminum pocket comb and 35 cents in change were found where the skeleton lay. As the place was in Polk county the authorities of the town of Sterling were notified."

Fishing Good for Soul and Body.

Once upon a time there was a benighted being who was deluded with the phantom that fishing was a sin. Poor soul! Such a lie never got close to the heart of the heathen that God created; the invigorating air, the health laden breeze, the sunshine, and the pure water. He never dreamed dreams born of the gint of the sunshine playing inde and seek with the waves, the angel touch of woods and fields, and never was his soul entranced with the glories of the sunset, and he never thanked God for this beautiful world made for the enjoyment of His children as a preparation for heaven. Fishing begets faith, patience, humility, reverence and love for nature and nature's Creator. Christ chose fishermen for his disciples, and the things they learned on the waves prepared them for the great work of the Master.

There is more good to be gained from fishing from communion with the best of earth, through the medium of a fishpole than from the narrow and dogmatic views of half of the preachers.

There are fishermen and fisher-men—but the man who fishes, not for the fish, but for the glory of living again with the uncontaminated elements that God made, and which see the daily salvation of the children of men, is the best product of the earth. He who sneers at fishing never really lived, and can have but a feeble conception of the great problem of life and the beneficence of the Father of us all.—St. Cloud Journal Press.

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast." Storms break and rain follows in their train; financial panics bring despair; the refreshing rains are withheld and on far-stretching fields in our western lands the growing crops wither and the very wild trees die of thirst; grim visaged men and careworn women scan the skies in vain for signs of rain-bearing clouds; want comes stalking over the land, robbing babes of their porrion, and parents of their hope; nature laughs at man's vain assumption that they have changed climates. Cheapest Place to Live.

"The cheapest place in the world is Antioch," said a globe trotter, "I once passed a winter there, and all it cost me, though I leased a fine house and kept 3 servants, was $4 a week. Antioch is in Asia on the Mediterranean. The climate is all right for winter—as good a winter climate as Monte Carlo, Palm Beach or Los Angeles. For my house I paid $5 a month rent. My servants I paid 50 cents a week. Mattin costs 3 cents a pound. Eggs were 2 cents a dozen. Chickens were five cents apiece. Fish cost a fifth of a cent a pound. The finest of fresh fruits and vegetables in February—were so cheap that they were not sold in quantity. You got all you wanted for so much a week. All I wanted for my household cost me a quarter weekly. An American resident of Antioch told that he and his family lived comfortably on $175 a year."—New York Press.

How to Break Up a Cold
It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, hard cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose and a thin, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour upon the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. The position was previously held by E. M. Dalby, of North Branch, who resigned. Mr. Wikstrom will retain his headquarters at this place.

The dance and supper to be given under the auspices of the Pine City Fire Dept., on the night of July Fourth, will be a fitting climax to the Day's events. Ryder's Mandolin Orchestra of St. Paul has been engaged to furnish the music, and their efforts here in the past have given entire satisfaction and should prove a drawing card on the Fourth. The show is in excellent condition. Supper will be served at midnight at the Wilcox House, which is a guarantee of plenty and good service. The price for dance tickets has been fixed at $1.00 and supper will be served at 50 cents per couple. Dancing will commence immediately after the fire works display. Don't miss it.

Tuesday was the fifteenth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gottry, and a number of friends took advantage of the occasion and gave them a rousing old-time surprise party on that evening. The surprise was well planned and the couple were completely "taken up." It being their crystal anniversary, a number of beautiful and valuable, and especially valued, pieces of glassware were tendered as tokens of remembrance. Games were indulged in by the majority of those present, and the evening was pleasantly spent. At about 11:30 light refreshments were served, after which the guests departed for their several homes, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Gottry many happy returns of the day.

Miss Ione Prescott arrived Wednesday from Duluth to visit with Mrs. I. H. Claggett and other friends. She is a former Pine City teacher and last year taught school at Sandstone. She has been engaged to teach in the Minneapolis schools next year.

FOR AND ABOUT WOMEN

AN EXPRESSIVE FEATURE

The Mouth Gives the Expression to the Face, Both in Speaking and in Repose.

"If you would be really good-looking hold your mouth correctly," says the expert on woman's beauty. "It is the feature which controls the entire expression of the face, and without the knowledge of how to use the muscles of the mouth there isn't a single person whose good looks will not be marred the moment the face becomes animated."

"Isn't it true that if you have remarked once you have a hundred times how unattractive certain goodlooks are, they cannot only prevent a handsome countenance from becoming ordinary, but they can ruin the entire character of a homely face.

"First learn to make the lips limber. Certain singing exercises are helpful to this end and they should be practiced every morning for a week or two until the lips become elastic. One exercise is to pronounce the separate vowels in turn ten or fifteen times, bringing the lips well forward and away from the teeth as far as possible for each letter. Another, and this is really better than the first, uses the repeated pronunciation of the two syllables—Oh—Wee. This trumpet shape of the mouth is also employed with this, the lips being drawn back and forth with exaggerated movement.

"The second help in correct use of the mouth is to make a special point whenever you speak or have occasion to read aloud, to utter each word distinctly and put the 'ds' and 'gs' and 'ts' on the end of every one of their respective syllables. Clear articulation helps wonderfully in bringing the lips into play.

"Also remember always to keep the corners of the mouth well forward. The slightest formation of the lips that which draws them tightly across the teeth, stretching them half way to the ears. A wide display of teeth and frequently an unattractive view of the gums of the upper jaw is the result. This is exaggerated when smiling, but even when opening the mouth to speak it will completely spoil any natural beauty. What is more, one person in a hundred there is whose lips do open properly unless the corners are constantly kept in mind and not allowed to stretch far back.

"For the woman who is blessed with particularly fine looks, holding the mouth well in repose counts for a great deal toward improving her beauty."

MOBILE LIPS.
Looking women appear the instant they open their lips to speak. The formation of the mouth is, of course, the underlying cause of this, but it is the way in which the flexible horns are held that is responsible for the disappointing change. Women should study how to make their lips expres-

THE DIARY

COLD STORAGE FOR FARM.

This Question of Growing Importance to the Farmer—Suggestions of an Expert.

An arrangement for convenience in one place can seldom be copied in every detail for another, but may offer for valuable suggestions for other farmers, not a stroke of professional labor was drawn upon for this addition to the house. From stone foundation to chimney cap, it was the work of home talent.

Like many others, we live in a section too level to admit of a cellar under the house, and the only substitute must be a cold storage room, that being more healthful anyway. We built the addition as shown in the accompanying sketch, to include a summer kitchen, milk room and cold storage room, connecting with the main house by means of a porch which affords a sheltered passageway from one to the other as well as covering the entrance. As a further convenience the entire porch is screened to keep out flies. Double walls are used only for the cold room and milk room. These were built by using six-inch studding boarded solidly outside and in, and filled between with dry sawdust as

DIAGRAM SHOWING ARRANGEMENT.
The sawdust extends to the top and covers the left with a 10 or 12-inch layer also. The floor is set on a level with the ground, but the soil was first thrown out and then replaced with gravel well tamped, and then covered with a layer of cement which extends up the stone walls around the room to the ceiling, thus inclosing everything that is to be stored. A water tight. Windows and doors are also made double, but the outer window is removed during summer and should be replaced with an opening. Across one end of the cold storage room are bins made so as to be entirely removed at will so that each summer the room can be thoroughly cleaned with the least inconvenience. Shelves, one above another, accommodate several hundred cans of fruit as well as empty cans, seed boxes, flower pots, etc.

Along one side of the milk room is a tank two feet wide and as long as the room, to accommodate milk jars. A two-inch steel pipe with elbow turned upward on the outside, passes through the double wall and into the tank. At the other end, a tri-leader, its height being determined by the desired depth of water, is a similar but straight pipe leading to the stock trough on the outside. Then for convenience in occasionally emptying and scrubbing the tank, it must have a drain pipe near one end, and the cement floor of the whole room should gradually slope toward this point, where it must have connection with a drain, the trough pipe opening into the mouth of the larger floor drain.

The position of the tile drain must depend somewhat on the lay of the land, but pipes from the pump trough, from the milk room floor, and from the cistern overflow into which the cistern pump trough is also drained, may be conveniently brought together into a single drain, at no great distance from their starting points.

From the pump a heavy tin conductor with an elbow at each end, and one turning downward inside the upright steel elbow mentioned above, the other turning upward and falling just under the pump spout when in use, carries the water to the tank. When not in use, it is swung around against the wall, where it lodges in a hooked spout and is cut off the way.

Few of these double-walled rooms built entirely above the ground are absolutely fire-proof in the severest weather. They could doubtless be made so by sparing no expense in making thicker walls, but with few exceptions the rooms are described are sufficiently warm. When, however, there is reason to fear the cold, a thermometer is placed in the room and if it is likely to become too cold a fire is built in the wash room and the connecting doors kept open until the temperature has been raised to a safe degree, when they are again closed. This is necessary only when the cold is very severe or long protracted.

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs is always in the fall of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fall to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

NOTES ON COTTON GROWING.

About 70,000 bales of cotton is this year's crop of the Laguna section of Mexico. The Mexican mills will also require an additional 80,000 bales from the United States during 1906.

The British charge in Guatemala has forwarded to London a sample of vesicating cotton grown in the Retalhiden district of western Guatemala. It is called "Fashon," is a short-season cotton, productive and with a fiber of good length and texture.

The Turkish minister of agriculture is about to buy 2,500 pounds of American and Egyptian cotton seed for the improvement of the quality of cotton raised in Turkey. The seed will be distributed in the provinces of Adana, Adis and Salonika, according to the Levant Herald.

The exports of raw cotton from southern Nigeria in 1905 declined to 99,200 pounds, having been 285,829 pounds in 1904. This falling off is expected to adjust itself during the present year, when the new plantations will commence to yield, states the Government Gazette of the Nigeria protectorate. It has also been reported that there was some cotton to be shipped from northern Nigeria.

One on the Doctor.

A Baltimore physician who boarded a crowded car Charles Street, noticed a woman standing and a big German sprawling over twice the seat area that was necessary for him. indignantly the physician said to his wife: "See here! Why don't you move a little so that this tired woman may have a seat?" For a moment the German looked dead. Then a broad smile spread over his countenance as he said: "For a moment I thought you, all right! Don't do a joke on me."

THE DOCTOR'S WIFE

Agrees with Him About Food.

A trained nurse says: "In the practice of my profession I have found so many points in favor of Grape-Nuts food that I unhesitatingly recommend it to all my patients.

"It is delicate and pleasing to the palate (an essential in food for the sick) and can be adapted to all ages, being softened with milk or cream for babies or the aged when deficiency of teeth renders mastication impossible. For fever patients or those on liquid diet I find Grape-Nuts and albumen water very nourishing and restful. This recipe is my own idea and is a treat. For a moment the German looked dead. Then a broad smile spread over his countenance as he said: "For a moment I thought you, all right! Don't do a joke on me."

ODD HAPPENINGS.

While scratching his nose with the end of a loaded revolver a man in Paris accidentally pulled the trigger and blew off the tip of the nose.

In the midst of an electric storm the Mariette fire whistle called out the men, who rushed about in the rain till the apparatus was drenched before it was discovered that lightning had played a prank on the department.

The death lately occurred at Westbury workhouse, Wiltshire, England, of a 45-year-old "baby." The person was born in Westbury, and at the age of 13 months its further development, both physically and mentally, was arrested. Throughout its life it was confined to baby's frock clothes, and attended to act and play and had to be fed and taken care of precisely as an infant.

An extraordinary sudden death occurred the other day in Paris. A sexagenarian went to have his photograph taken. He sat in a chair before the camera, and as the photographer uttered the customary words, "Please don't move," down fell the old man on the floor. It was naturally supposed that the sexagenarian was in a fainting fit, but he was in reality dead, as the doctor who was sent for testified after a brief examination of the body.

AMATEUR AERONAUTICS.

Do not stick pins into the envelope, even if the balloon is a stationary one.

Never leave the car while in motion—especially when at a considerable altitude. It hurts.

Do not throw out empty bottles when passing over densely populated urban rural districts; they will only get broken.

Should your grapple-firm "grapple" a harmless old gentleman and lift him off his feet, do not be too angry with him; let him down gently.

THAT IS NOW IN FASHION.

A Charming Cloth Costume, About the Good Corset Skirt and Right Kind of Girdle.

The accompanying sketch illustrates a French street costume in which the sloping coat line is well handled. The material is a chiffon broadcloth and the skirt was circular, with a seam down the middle front and tiny buttons set down the full skirt length on each side of the front.

A loose triple coat was cut fairly short in front, but sloped away to a length six or eight inches greater in the back. The sleeve has the shoulder cap, which, in one shape or another, is being much used again, and a triple cuff. A waistcoat of white cloth lightened the effect of the costume, and on it were set tiny buttons matching those on the skirt.

The corset skirt holds its own and is evidently a last throughout the season; but the French makers are shunning the mistake, apparently in some of the early models, of making the corset so high that it cuts the bust line and interferes with the graceful curves of the figure. The corset is now of moderate height, and very often is cut down at the middle front, rising higher at sides and back.

It is cut in one with the skirt, or, as is often the case, cut in two models for street wear turned out by the most famous houses the corset is cut separately and in two parts, each part, upper and lower, being cut on the bias so that the material will stretch to fit the curves above and below the waist line. When properly made these corsets mold the figure perfectly and as they are attached to the skirt they have the advantages of the princess skirt, with better chance of fitting well. Be it fitted, this attached girdle is excessively clumsy and unbecoming, but at its best it has much to commend it.

SOFT WHITE HANDS.

Cleanse Thoroughly—An Excellent Almond Cream—What to Do for Hands That Perspire Freely.

Here is a recipe for an almond paste that will soften and whiten the hands if rubbed on night and morning, says Horace Prevost. Have an ounce and a half of bitter almond, which have been shelled and blanched, when dry crush them on a moidling board with a heavy rolling pin or a thick bottle, which answers as well as pounding in a mortar; have the drugist pound, or rather crush, an ounce of criss root and mix with the almond, crush an ounce of starch and add, then moisten with an ounce of spirits of wine and add the yolks of four eggs, mix well and stir in two more ounces of the spirit and perfume as liked, either geranium, oil of neroli or rose; beat slow in a porcelain kettle over a slow fire and mix constantly with a silver spoon; pack in jars and keep cool; it becomes a sort of powder that will soften and whiten the hands and arms.

It must be remembered that the grime left on hands from very rough work needs an emollient before the soap or almond meal and water can cleanse them. Nothing is better for this than pure lard. Fill the hands and let it remain a few minutes; then wash as usual, and every bit of grime will be removed. Then the stains and callouses may be taken off with the bit of lemon, to which a little salt may be added for obstinate stains, and the pumice. Oxalic acid will take off ink spots; lemon juice is not strong enough for, but it is a poison, will eat holes in the flesh if left on too long or used too strong; and must not be used carelessly about. Any reliable drugist will prepare a solution of the proper strength.

Where the hands are always moist it is good to use a little cologne in which a very small quantity of tincture of belladonna is dissolved—say two and one-half ounces of the first to half an ounce of the tincture.

Also for hands that perspire too freely, mix a pinch of powdered alum in the cold rinsing water. Dry well and keep a bag of powdered starch to dust them with.

For eczema, the simple remedy of washing in buttermilk is the very best. When this cannot be had, use lemon juice and glycerine, if the latter agrees with the skin. It is poured into either alone, as the glycerine burns and the lemon nourishes.
