The Little Worries of LIFE

are what kill a man. But why worry about where's the best place to buy the material for that new house or barn when we can conveniently demonstrate to you in five minutes that it's right here.

Just make out a list of what you need. Then we'll tell you—and how MUCH it will cost—but how LITTLE it will cost. Our prices are "worry savers" and as for the quality of our stock, there isn't a thing in these parts that can come within a mile of it.

If you want right goods, right prices, everything right, see us before buying.

BULLETIN NO. 59.

CROSSED THE DIVIDE

The Outlook for Northeastern Minnesota.
As Given By the Experimental Station at Grand Rapids.

The question is still being asked: What is the future of Northern Minnesota? The question might also be asked: What is the future of northern Minnesota? The rate of emigration is still passing on into western Canada. The future of northern Minnesota is no longer a speculation. It is only a matter of time. Its agricultural possibilities are past the reactionary stage. There are no more reasons for it than not resolving its share of emigration, but more particularly due to the fact that in the past its disadvantages were better known than its advantages.

While northern Minnesota has considerable land which is unfit for the production of grain, it also has millions of acres that are well adapted to profitable farming, and the time is now come when this land should be farmed.

Already northeastern Minnesota has the greatest iron-mining industry of the world. All the supplies of Lake Superior's preparations are being used for manufacture, while still rival the Eastern cities.

During the year 1905 ten thousand car loads of vegetables other than potatoes were shipped into Duluth and Superior. All the supplies of this country outside of northern Minnesota. The same may be said of the butter, meat and eggs consumed in Duluth and tributary cities.

The point is this: Northern Minnesota has its mining, manufacturing and shipping industries, is developing what is the largest and best market for farm products in the state, and in fact in the whole northwest. This being the case it is self-evident that the agricultural lands of northern Minnesota will be used for that purpose, and it is to the interest of the whole state to assist in the development.

The floating population and adventurous class fostered by the lumbering industry is being replaced by permanent settled agriculture which is for the lasting development of the country is in its beginning. That of farming. The system of farming we take up and the intelligence we use in our work will determine our progress. This is right and we are the nation of farmers and it is the duty of wisdom in the beginning to begin right. The Northeast Experimental Station has been working out a system of farming for this section of the state, and this system will be given in succeeding issues.

The greater part of northern Minnesota is adapted by nature to agriculture, and whatever its pros-

Last Friday Afternoon at 2 o'clock Mrs. Henry Rohlf Passed Away—One of Pine Counties Pioneers.

Last Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock March 1st 1907 Mrs. Henry Rohlf, who resided on the Brunswick road, about two miles west of this place passed to the great beyond. Her death was caused by a cancer, and came as a shock to her many friends in this place. She had been ailing for about eight months, but not taken violently ill until the Thursday morning before her death, and the friends were not aware of her dangerous condition until they heard of her death.

Mrs. Rohlf, whose maiden name was Dora Louen was born in Germany the 10th day of May 1869 she was married to Henry Rohlf in her native land 1876, and they came to this country three years later and settled on the farm where she has lived ever since, where she died.

Mrs. Rohlf was the mother of thirteen children, who together with a loving husband and numerous friends mourn her sad demise, the children are Mrs. Bertha Mayis Ernest, Will, Richard, Emma, Maud, Henry, Fred, Dora, Ella, George, Mayme and Lizzie, all of whom were at the funeral but Mrs. Mayis, Will and Richard.

The funeral was held from the M. E. Church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. J. Parish conducting the services with interment in Birchwood cemetery in the family lot.

The pall bearers were Dudson and John Grandt, Adolph Petzky, Frank Cort, A. R. Heyn and Chas. Rhoads.

Mrs. Rohlf was a kind and loving wife and a good neighbor, and one who counted her friends by her acquaintances. She and her husband were one of the first settlers on the Brunswick road and by hard work have made their home one the pleasantest on that road of pleasant homes. Mrs. Rohlf will always be a smile and a kind word for every one.

THE TWO CENT FARE.

What the Pioneer Thinks of the Recent Action of the Legislature in Regard to the Two Cent Fare

The PIONEER has always felt that it was better policy to be a little bit conservative. The extremist has always been the worst enemy to progress. It has developed during the last few weeks, the extreme anti-railroad agitation of the past few years has brought forth legislation in many of the states which will unquestionably delay railroad building which is the crying need of the country today, and will also retard the proper adjustment of railroad rates. It is worse than useless for people to rave about exorbitant railroad rates and other similar grievances unless they have some positive knowledge of what they are talking about. During the past few weeks many of the state legislatures have passed bills providing for two cent railroad passenger fares, and in many of the states, and most of the number, the railroad companies have announced their intention of fighting the law in the courts, and many of the best lawyers of the northwest seem to think that the companies have more than a fair chance to win.

Down in Wisconsin the matter was taken up by the railroad commission, and after a careful investigation the commission decided that the three great Chicago—St. Paul lines, crossing the state, could make a flat rate of 2½ cents per mile and as a test recommended that the roads place on sale a 500 mile book good for use by the purchaser or any member of his family at the rate of two cents per mile. The roads affected by the order immediately announced that they would reduce their fares to 2½ cents, and that they would make a test of the two cent rate by putting on sale the 500 mile book recommended by the commission. This order is the result of a careful judicial investigation by the commission and is accepted by the railroads in the same spirit.

There is nothing gained by heated oratory and radical class legislation. The reactionary period is over and now that it has taken the shape of anti-railroad legislation it would be well for the men who are charged with the making of the new laws to see that they do not overdo the thing. By taking such action as impressed the railroads with the fairness of the commission, Wisconsin has practically secured a two cent rate without litigation, while other states that have listened to the demagogue and tried to force a rate which may or may not be reasonable upon the railroads, have delayed the time of the two cent rate and have possibly injured the cause of low transportation, as well as retarded the building of new roads which is the greatest need of the northwest at the present time.

The funeral was held from the M. E. Church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. J. J. Parish conducting the services with interment in Birchwood cemetery in the family lot.

The pall bearers were Dudson and John Grandt, Adolph Petzky, Frank Cort, A. R. Heyn and Chas. Rhoads.

DEBATE PINE CITY VS. SANDSTONE

The Judges Decide Unanimously in Favor of Pine City Team. Large Delegation from Sandstone.

Friday, March 1, was the day looked forward to with considerable interest by the High schools of Sandstone and Pine City during the past five or six weeks. It was on the evening of that day that the debating teams chosen by each school met at Stiehl's hall in this place for the purpose of discussing the question that is drawing the attention not only of the this country, but of the civilized world. The question was in regard to the navy and the wording of it was, "Resolved, That the Policy of Substantially Enlarging the American Navy is Preferable to the Policy of Maintaining it at its Present Strength and Efficiency."

The Sandstone students had the Affirmative and the Pine City students the negative. Each school did remarkably well; but Pine Cityites had the best of it from start to finish and after the second debate for the negative the result was never in doubt.

The Sandstone delegation strong made this town lively with their piercing High school yell with which they can certainly make lots of noise. The Sandstone colors were red and white. The delegation arrived on the noon train, and while at the depot their yell could be heard all over town.

The High school of this place had for their colors steel gray and green which makes a very pleasing combination. The Pine City High has but four yell and two songs which were published in last week's issue. Every time the home team started to sing one of their songs, the Sandstone contingent would start one of their yells, and drowned the voices of the singers.

The meeting was called to order by county Superintendent R. H. Blankenship who was chosen chairman.

The first number on the program was a song by the Pine City High school which was well rendered and heartily applauded. At the close of the song the chairman started the question and the rules to govern the debaters, in the presentation of their arguments. Each student was to occupy twelve minutes and a warning bell was to be sounded 2 minutes before time was up, in the rebuttal the first two on each side were to occupy two minutes each with a warning and the last one on each side was allowed five minutes with one minute warning bell.

The judges who were chosen were P. H. Stolberg, Attorney at law, Harris, Chas. E. Elmquist, Attorney at Law Rush City and C. J. Dodge Attorney at Law Carlton, Prol. Pickard of the Hinckley school was chosen in place of Attorney Dodge who failed to put in an appearance. The judges were to render their decisions without consultation with each other.

The first speaker on the affirmative side was Miss Nina Woosner. She occupied the time allotted to her to the last moment, and told the audience a great many things about the navy that were new to the most of the assemblage, but she failed to outline what she considered the policy of substantially enlarging the navy to be, and spoke on the achievements of our navy and that of other countries. Her speech was forcible but failed to present any argument.

John Hunt who opened the negative side of the question on the other hand told in a few words what his side considered, the present strength and efficiency of the navy, he made a good talk in support of the negative.

Miss Clara McKenzie who was the second speaker for the affirmative consumed the time allotted to her in defense of the merchant marine and its relation to the navy and al-

Express Rates Reduced.

St. Paul.—The following schedule of express rates was submitted by the railway commission and accepted by the express companies:

Distances Per 100 lbs.

1 to 15.	$1.40
20 and over 25.	1.20
25 and over 30.	1.10
30 and over 45.	1.00
45 and over 50.	.90
50 and over 65.	.80
65 and over 75.	.70

265 and over 275.	.01

For instance, the old rate of from 50 to 75 cents per 100 weight for a 212-mile haul has been reduced to a flat rate of 40 cents, while for 25 miles or short shipments from 25 to 50 miles have been cut from a 40 to 40-cent basis to the flat rate of 40 cents. The old rate of from 50 to 75 cents per hundred weight for 212 miles has been knocked down to a flat rate of 30 cents, while 50-mile hauls are reduced from 50 to 50 cents rates to a flat charge of 30 cents. On express weighing less than 100 pounds the reductions average 20 per cent.

Here follows a distance rate will be good only for 10 miles. For distances of 10 miles or less, weight per hundred weight for a distance of 10 miles and under 20 cannot be exceeded so as to carry 40 or 50 miles as has been the custom in the past, when the express companies advanced. The clause will make discrimination impossible, as the charge must be made on a mileage basis.

Beast Mammals Stolen.

Mankato—A mountain lion, panther or other furred wild animal made its presence known near this city by attacking a three-year-old boy, who was playing in the woods at Ballantyne. It leaped upon the back of the steer and tore it badly and nearly killed it.

Mr. Ballard was in the barn milking at the time, but after hearing the attack by the snarling of the herd in the pasture and their wild bellowing, the house dog ordinarily courageous, shrank to the house paneled walls.

Mr. Ballard got a lantern and with his hired man investigated and found the steer severely and the rest of the cattle scattered that night. A bullet hole was found in the timbered portion of the pasture, revealing large footprints in the snow, made by some strange animal.

Rabies Spreading.

St. Paul.—Rabies is spreading in Minnesota despite Dr. Ward's executive order to the state legislature against board. The board has found many outbreaks of the disease among cattle and other livestock, and Dr. Ward says that recently it is possible to trace eight of 10 cases of rabies in the whole county by the cause of rabies which afterwards sprung up along his trail.

"We have had reports of outbreaks since the first of the year," said Dr. Ward, "in Hennepin, Ramsey, Winona, Carver, Wright, McLeod, Crow Wing and St. Louis counties, caused by the infected foxes and dogs, the animals later being eaten by cows, hogs, horses, and at Winona a number of sheep."

Monument to Col. Civil.

St. Paul.—The Sons of Veterans held a meeting and appointed a committee, consisting of members of Minnesota, to call a chairman, E. V. J. Heller or Duluth, C. E. Carter, W. J. Hillard, Grant Van Sant, George J. Drake and A. L. Jones, all of Paulina, to work with the citizens of Cannon Falls to secure monuments in memory of Col. Civil on the First Minnesota regiment. One member was to be elected to speak at Cannon Falls and the other to be in the capital.

Fined for Child's Act.

St. Paul.—Fred Robbins, residing at Washington, was placed under arrest by a government mail inspector, charged with abusing fourth-class mail, privy bags and packages. A package mailed a package some time ago, and when it was opened it was found to contain a bomb. The inspecting agent was responsible for the acts of their children, and a heavy fine was imposed.

Notes.

Minneapolis—Mrs. Flora Buffum, mayor was severely burned in a fire set out of an anger at her son, Al Buffum, and only prompt action on the part of her mother saved her from more serious injury.

Parfait—Last summer while a citizen was staying at Red Wing, he was led away from his cage and disappeared. A reward of $250 was offered for the capture. The animal has been seen again, but the owners were responsible for the acts of their children, and a heavy fine was imposed.

PINE COUNTY PIONEER.

ED. C. GOTTRY, Editor and Prop.

Entered in the Post Office at Pine City as Second Class Matter.

PINE CITY MINN. March 8, 1907.

God bless the good old-fashioned mother who kept her daughters tied to her maternal apron strings.

THAW may not be crazy, but if the trial in New York is continued much longer many of the rest of us will be.

WHAT a sorry figure (Money bags) Isaac Stevenson will cut rattling around in the place lately filled by Senator Spooner of Wisconsin.

WHILE winter dailies in the lap of spring don't forget to sow your tomato and cabbage seed in that box of earth you saved out last fall.

THE press of this country is very much interested in trying to find out who is the prettiest girl in America. There are twenty or thirty girls right here in Pine county who think they see her every time they look in the glass, and who dares say they don't.

If Mrs. THAW's story of her mother's participation in her degradation is true it is certainly unfortunate for the girl that she ever had a mother. One thing is certain, and that is, that had her mother given her a good spanking several years ago and kept her at home nights, there would have been less trouble in New York.

AND now the relatives of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy are trying to find out by proceedings in court if the old lady's mind is just right. It is alleged that she has lost her faculties. That may be, but she did not lose them until she had gathered together a great fortune from the sale of her Christian Science books. Look out for some mighty interesting reading when the testimony in the case comes in. It is rumored that the revelations of conditions at Zion City and the doings of Elijah Dowie will be eclipsed a thousand fold.

THE resignation from the U. S. Senate handed in by Senator Spooner, of Wisconsin last week but carried out the prediction we made last week in the PIONEER. Being fully aware of the fight that was being waged against him in his state he was unwilling to take the field and wage battle for his seat in the Senate. It is quite probable that but for the bitter fight that has been up against him in his party in Wisconsin the Senator would have remained in the national senate for many years to come. The highest compliments ever paid a retiring senator were paid Senator Spooner by the executive and legislative branches of the national government. Thus passes from active life another of the great men of the nation whose labor has been one of patriotic devotion and who leaves the public service poorer than he entered it.

FRANCE is having her share of trouble over alcoholism. Various bills are now standing in the chamber of deputies for the prohibition of the sale of absinthe. The Minister of France, Cailloux, strenuously opposes these measures on the ground of the revenues derived from the sale. But there is in France a growing sentiment in favor of the prohibition of the sale of absinthe as well as a more prohibitory law. A writer in Le Martin, remarks that no sensible person will uphold the minister in perpetuating a policy which involves poisoning the taxpayers on a pretext of bringing more money into the public treasury. Absinthe, this writer goes on to say, is the most formidable promoter of drunkenness and alcoholism known to science, and the worst foe of the French race. "So much lamentation over the decline of the birthrate," he adds, "would not be provoked if it were not true that alcoholism ravages every class of the French people. This was once a sober country. Now France is reckoned universally as one of the nations which is being ruined by alcoholism. Absinthe must be made to disappear from among us, even if Cailloux be compelled to disappear with it. There is no exaggeration in this picture of the mischief wrought by the green poison."

Of Interest to Farmers.

ROCK CREEK, MINN. Mar. 2, 1907.

Pine County Pioneer

Sirs—

A campaign has been decided upon to commence at once to finish up the work of the A. S. of E. in this locality.

We have seen the need of organization for years, and now that the opportunity is offered, shall we hesitate?

We need the help of every farmer and business man to help carry this work to a successful conclusion.

There are 30 states of the union that control the marketing of farm products, shall we not do the same?

Farmers come out, place your business on a business foundation, George L. Stevens of Rock Creek is assisting in the work.

Now I want to say to those who are not tillers of the soil, the Society of Equity will not harm you in the least, but on the other hand will help you.

We all know that if the farmers failed to receive any money for a year all branches of business would suffer, then if the middle men in the big centers makes the price to the farmers one-half what it should be, who has it injured? Not only the farmers but every other business.

The men that has the power to say to the producer your product is worth so much, and then to the consumer you must pay me my price, is wielding a power to great to be left in the hands of a few.

You will never get justice by taking your goods to town and asking the other fellow, what is it worth?

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

FARM BULLETIN BOARD.

How to Make One and the Uses to Which It May Be Put.

Some of our most progressive and practical farmers advertise regularly in the leading agricultural papers, and it pays them so well that not one of them thinks of farming without advertising. There are, however, some advertising of certain kinds, that the farmers cannot afford to place in the agricultural paper, and which would not pay in results because of its very nature. This is what the farm bulletin board is for.

The sketch illustrates the first board we made. It can be made very easily and quickly and at little expense. If wide boards are used, get good material and have it dressed on both sides and jointed. If matched stuff is used see that it is completely sanded.

Cut the boards to run across the bulletin board horizontally. They will be wide enough to hold three feet wide by five feet high. Use three wide cleats to back up the board with 12-inch screws. Paint it better than to use nails, as it leaves a smoother surface for writing.

To make a good job, bind the ends or edges all around with narrow strips using a wider one on top for weather protection. The writing surface can be covered with liquid tanning, but black paint will do very well. I put three coats on mine and it lasted for several years.

Every progressive farm, says Farm Journal, should have a name, and this name should be painted in large white letters, in an attractive style, across the top of the board. The owner's name and post office address should be immediately underneath. If the farm is a rural mail delivery route, record that fact and the number that serves it.

Set the mailbox on the same post, or nearby, and keep the whole outfit in first-class order, as in a measure it "officializes" as a sort of "show case" in front of the farm. Then keep the whole farm so that it will compare favorably with the surroundings and you may acquire the reputation of a model farmer. Quite likely. Try it and see.

Why should not we farmers advertise our business the same as other business men do in the various commercial lines? We nearly always have something to sell, and there is often something wanted."

UTILIZING STRAW.

How the Farmers of West and Northwest Could Save Waste.

The waste of straw in the west and northwest is simply appalling, declares Prof. Thomas Shaw. Even in localities where farmers will tell you that the land is low in vegetable matter, they will go on burning straw from year to year, and, as far as it may seem, the glare from burning straw stacks may be seen even very far from some part of the area covered by the corporations of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

In this area of straw burning, the straw is of the best for fuel. It is bright yellow, and, injured by few rains, rain than in the east, north and south. When cut at the proper stage of ripening, its value is very considerable for fuel. Live stock will eat straw, though, when raw, and when stacked. Stock will eat straw more readily than hay over hay, and this applies to horses, colts, yard cattle and sheep.

Much of the straw is too ripe before it is cut. This is inevitable where there are no rains, and, generally, will be quite practicable where the farming is mixed. The greatest loss, however, comes in the stacking. It is rare to see a stack. Where threshing is done one sees simply straw heaps made by the use of a binder.

With the aid of one extra man to guide the blower and one on the stack, the stacks could be built so as to turn rail. The stock, especially cattle and horses, could go to these stacks, usually made in the field, and help themselves, and a large part of the straw would be utilized and secured. The manure made could then be scattered over the farm. The western man who burns straw, reasons that it is easier to burn it than to draw the residue and scatter it over the land.

SOME WIVES ARE DIFFERENT. Quiet Cynicism, or Good Honest Row —Which Is the Better?

"Most men," said the man of experience, "think it must be awfully nice to have a wife who takes things as coolly as Dave Potter's wife takes them; but others, more discriminating, think it must be awfully nice to have a wife with a style of quiet cynicism. The way she behaved the other day when I was in a girl is an example of her method.

"I don't see," wrote this girl, "how on earth she could ever live without you. Her wife read that gush, and a lot more just like it, without ever turning a hair."

"Well," she said, quietly, "that girl is a fool." She knew you as well as she did. She would be wondering how on earth she could ever live without you.

"And, in the opinion of the discriminating few, cuts a hole lot deeper than a common, everyday rum-

Pineapple for Consumption.

It has long been known by the natives of South America that the juice of the fruit of the ripe pineapple being of such antiseptic qualities, will thoroughly destroy the germs of catarrh, consumption and a grippe. A preparation known as Syrup of Pine apple Expectorant, prepared by Bea Bros. & Co., contains these essential qualities. It is sold by L. E. Breckinridge for 50 cents.

COAL!

IT'S the time of year to put in winter supply for the chilly winter. We are selling zinc coal—both hard and soft—and there is no better proof that we are giving our customers a square deal, the best coal of each kind and 2,000 pounds to the ton. We get our trade by honest effort and fair dealing—not by running down the goods of any competitor.

Give us your coal orders and get just the coal you want; the coal that will keep you warm at the least expense. We are always ready.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Taylor Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

In Bed four weeks with La Grippe.

We have received the following letter from Mr. A. H. Komp, of Angola, Ind.: "I was ill for four weeks with la grippe and I tried every remedy and spent considerable time in treatment with physicians, but I received no relief until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar. Two small bottles of this medicine cured me and now I use it exclusively in my family." Take no substitutes. Breckinridge's Pharmacy.

When the cold winds dry and crack the skin a box of salve can save much discomfort. In buying salve look for the name on the box to avoid any imitation, and be sure you get the original DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Breckinridge's Pharmacy.
