RAILROADS vs. PANIC.

Our Ideas in Regard to the Cause of the Panic on Wall Street. New York Recently.

It may be that the PIONEER is wrong in the matter but we have a lingering suspicion that the panicky condition of the stock market during the past few days was due very largely to the cry raised by the railroads themselves. During the past few weeks the roads have been rushing into print with the assertion that railroads would not pay a fair dividend under the present arrangements and under the new rates established. The investing public have had a license to believe that the railroad presidents knew what they are talking about and that they had the inside information which would make it possible for them to foresee the coming trouble. The confidence of the people is more than half of the working capital of any business enterprise. Without it the merchant, banker and professional man must go out of business. It is the same with the railroads. If the investing public lose confidence in the carrying ability of railroad properties the natural consequence is the shrinkage of the securities and a panic in Wall street. It will take some time to restore confidence and it may be that stocks will run low for some months to come but to those who have kept their eye on the development of the last few years it is evidence that the roads will continue to prove paying investments in the main for many years to come. The country is just now going through a reactionary period. There is a tidal wave of opposition to the public service corporation which is due largely to the mistakes policies pursued by the large interests in the past and has been augmented by the sensational and malicious articles published by certain cheap, yellow magazines during the past few years. This epidemic will wear itself out and the sober second thought and calm judgment of the great American public will eventually prevail. Then the people will see that the safe leader is the honest middle ground conservative business man who does not jump at conclusions and that the radical extremist is an unsafe man to follow. Out of the wreck of small fortunes and the crippling of many industries the country will come some good to the people. This result might be accomplished better, cheaper and with less loss to the business world if the people could be brought to look upon these economic questions from an unprejudiced standpoint but so long as there are those who seek to build up their personal interests by misrepresenting the economic conditions and leveling against public service corporations there will be enthusiasts who will continue their lead and champion extreme legislation such as to a certain extent precipitated the general panic so narrowly averted.

THE A. S. OF E.

C. G. Billings Comes out with Another Article in the Interests of the American Society of Equity.

Farmers of Pine County have you joined the A. S. of E.? The American Society of Equity aims to control the marketing of the farm products. The organization proposes a complete change in the marketing of farm products. Today the commission houses in the big cities are telling the farmers of this country what their crops are worth, and the men that produce them have not one word to say, he simply takes what they offer, be it little or much, and returns home to his family who are struggling along in poverty making one dollar go as far as five should, simply because the price had to be sold for less than it cost to produce it. This farmer's organization proposes to set the price on farm produce, the farmer raised it, it belongs to him, he knows what it cost to raise it and why in the name of all reason should he set the price it should be sold at?

The whole business world are practicing this method. Its the foundation of all business transactions of today.

Business men of Pine county stop long enough to consider this great question, the greatest question before the American people today.

Suppose a farmer has raised a 1000 bushels of potatoes which are worth 45 cents per bushel in car lots, it costs 10 cents to ship, 10 cents for the handling, this makes 20 cents which taken from 45 leaves 25 cents per bushel, which would be $250.00 for the car of potatoes. Now if the farmer set the price at 50 cents per bushel it would mean $500.00 more for him to spend in his locality, and he is only one of hundreds, which makes many thousands, and perhaps millions of dollars left right at home, because what is true of potatoes, is true of everything raised on the farm.

Who will it benefit? Every man doing a straight business, the merchant, the blacksmith, the day laborer, the lumber dealer in fact every one, for this money is in the hands of the farmers, and they will spend it in the home markets.

I would say to the farmers, join this Union, it costs two dollars to become a member, and for this two dollars you get a badge pin, a membership card, a weekly paper published by the organization, and the local union gets a charter. The paper is the best farm paper published in the world.

Merchants this is not interfering with your business, but keep more money in the locality for your trade.

There will be meetings held in the following places: Pokegama, in the school house, March 20, Orslevy, town hall, March, 25.

BULLETIN NO. 61.

The Outlook For Northeastern Minnesota As Given By The Experimental Station at Grand Rapids.

Number of cows milked ..... 13
Pounds of milk per cow ..... 5,500
Pounds of butter per cow ..... 279
Value of butter, at 25c per lb., $69.81
Cost of feed, per cow ..... $31.05
Net profit, per cow ..... $38.76

Because the natural conditions of northern Minnesota are especially favorable for dairying and because dairying is one of the most profitable branches of agriculture, special attention is being given to this industry at the Northeastern Experiment Farm.

In order that results obtained may be applicable to the average farm, only common cows have been kept, and fed and cared for in such a way as any farmer may feed and care for his herd.

The feed used in winter is bran and shorts half and half, clover and timothy hay and fodder corn on silage. Roots may be made to take the place of ensilage and can be grown in abundance on every farm.

The summer pasture is mostly wooded pasture.

During the past year 13 cows were milked. The milk from each individual cow was weighed every day and tested once a month. The feed was also weighed for each individual cow so that the record is complete in showing the production of each cow, the cost of feed and the net profit realized. The profit is for butter alone, not including the value of the calves, skim milk or manure.

The cost of labor is not taken into consideration for the reason that hired labor is neither necessary or desirable on the average farm, unless for special work.

Let the number of cows and the size of the farm be in proportion to the help of the family. A 16-year-old boy will do as well in the dairy as a $30 a month man, and if the barn is warm and clean and well lighted, and the work systematized and done within proper hours the objection so often raised against dairy work will be entirely overcome.

A COTTEN SEED.

An Essay Written by Rose Shuey a Seventh Grade Pupil of Webster School.

When I was cotten seed, I was taken from a bunch of cotton and put away to keep to plant the next year. When the time came for me to be planted I was put into water to soak. I thought I would drown before they took me out, but about a day after that a man came and took me and went into the field to put me into the ground. The ground in this climate is very warm as you may all know in such a state as Texas, for this is the leading state for the raising of cotton. I lay in the ground for about a month. It was so dry that I almost died of thirst. When I came up through the ground I was quite pale, but as the season came nearer to an end I found myself as strong as any of the rest of the plants. By and by I was about three feet high. Then I began to get a beautiful blossom of red, and then I turned to a snow white.

When I was old some men came into the field and one of them picked me and looked at me for a while just as if I was too nice to put with the rest. Then he said "This is a beautiful stalk of cotton and I believe I will take it to the Fair and see if it will not take first prize". I was taken to the Fair grounds, put into a building, and there I had to stay until some one came along and pinned a blue ribbon on me. This meant first prize. There all the rest of my friends were watching me with a feeling of jealousy and wishing that that they were as pretty as I. After this I was taken to a factory where they pulled my head off and put into some kind of a machine where I went around and round. When I came out I had lost almost all of my senses, but now I was a beautiful white thread ready to be made into cloth. When the time came for me to be made into cloth I was put into another machine but I did not understand this so much for I was used to it. When I came out I was as white and pretty as could be. Then I was sold to a wholesale house and then to a merchant. After this I was sold to a handsome lady who made me into a dress for a pretty little girl. This little girl wore me for about six months. She wore me to entertainments and I saw many strange things. After she had worn me out I was thrown into a tub in the wash house, and there I lay for many a day never expecting to see daylight again. But one day I was taken out and sold to a rag man to be used to make paper of. Then I was sold to a little boy who used me to write a composition on Easter Sunday on, and then I was thrown into the waste basket. After this I was taken into the basement and thrown into the furnace where I made a beautiful blaze and then went up the pipe in bright sparks to spend the rest of my life in no where.

"Tipping" in Europe.

According to immemorial usage, European servants are entitled to tip as an assured part of their income. At the hotels the theory is that the landlord furnishes a guest a private room and the use of the public rooms, heat and light, food and clothes, but not menial service. For convenience he keeps at hand a corps of servants who will respond to the guest's summons, but at his expense. In old times, says Travel Magazine, travelers were attended by their own servants to wait on them. The modern custom echoes the ancient. The traveler no longer carries with him a retinue of servants, because he can hire temporarily those of the landlord. The customary law is that the tip should be given in cash, the servant being really to cheat the servants, who need all they can get, however known. A chambermaid at the best hotels receives as wages only about two dollars a month. Tipping servants in America is a regrettable remnant of the European custom. Without its resting on the reasonable basis of the foreign institutions.

American Chivalry.

Toward women the American man's attitude is fine. She is neither his duty nor his debt. He simply treats her with deference. His chivalry has as little to do with saccharine utterances, scraping feet, and bended knees, as has his patriotism with hysterical shriekings and the waving of unmanipulated flags. He is stronger in his silence and restraint than the ladies of his household than the most blatant vulgarism who prates of domestic domination. Place such a woman more than a phrase to the American man. His inborn respect for her "rights" often causes him to sacrifice his own God-given privileges. Upon the face of the earth or upon the waters thereon, says Minna Thomas Austin in Lippincott's, exists no more chivalrous being than the American gentleman.

Again comes a statement going to show the great access of prosperity that has come to the farmers of the country, notably in the west, from a succession of big crops. The receipts from this source have enabled the farmers to pay off an enormous amount of mortgages and to put great sums of money in the banks, which explains the abundance of funds in some western quarters and the lack of need of drawing on the east for a supply. The latest movement by the farmers is toward forming a combination, or trust, for maintaining and regulating prices. It is possible that the fair of the octopus is to be removed from Wall street and other resorts of high finance and located on the boundless prairie?

The burning of the art treasures in John Wamanager's home, of manuscript Lincoln and Washington letters, of rare books and pictures impossible to replace, is a public as well as a private loss. Of such objects no man can be more than a trustee for posterity, remarks the New York World. The loss of the manuscript letters recalls the burning of Major Lambert's collection of rare books in Philadelphia only a short time ago. Mr. Wamanager had reason to suppose that he had protected the greater part of his collections by a fire-wall cutting off the art galleries from the rest of his house, but the galleries went with the rest when the blazing wall of the house crashed through their roof.

The amazing chain in connection with the endless chain system of prayers, begging letters, etc., which cause so much annoyance to their recipients and to postal authorities is that anyone can be influenced by the dread of ill fortune befalling him if he fails to obey the injunction to contribute the chain by writing into one letter, the simple and effective way of stopping the nuisance is for the recipient to drop all such mail into the waste basket and then to forget it.

THAW VERDICT MAY BE REACHED FRIDAY

FAMOUS TRIAL OF STANFORD WHITE'S SLAYER IS IN ITS LAST STAGES.

Hummel Affidavit Read—in It Evelyn Accuses Thaw of Stripping and Lashing Her Repeatedly—More All-egists Heard.

New York, March 19.—When the Thaw trial was adjourned Monday afternoon there remained but four expert witnesses to be examined before the taking of evidence closes. Three were disposed of Monday in a little more than an hour, so it is generally believed that the last word of evidence may be uttered in the famous case Tuesday. That meant the summing up by Mr. Delmas for the defense will begin Wednesday morning. District Attorney Jerome will rest on Thursday. Justice Fitzgerald may proceed immediately with his charge to the jury, or he may defer it until Friday. Unless the unexpected happens, there should be a verdict by Friday night.

The case for the people was finally closed Monday by the introduction of the much discussed Hummel affidavit, which, with the consent of the defense, was read in full to the jury. The affidavit proved a surprise only in the alleged severity of the assaults Harry K. Thaw is said to have made upon Evelyn Nesbit during their trip through Europe in 1903, when, according to the testimony of Abraham Hummel, Miss Nesbit swore she would not sign statements which Thaw had prepared accusing Stanford White of having drugged and raped her.

Said Thaw Often Beat Her. In this affidavit Miss Nesbit charges Thaw with having attacked her with a cowhide whip while they were stoping at an old castle in the Austrian Tyrol and lashed her bare skin until she became faint from the pain and swooned. He repeated the attack the next day, according to the affidavit, and afterward in Paris he beat her at half hour intervals throughout one entire day, leaving off only when she would faint and could no longer understand what was happening. Miss Nesbit is alleged to have sworn in the affidavit that she was in daily fear of her husband and that she was a demoralized person during some of the assaults.

The affidavit was in some ways a different revelation of Hummel's recent testimony upon the stand in order that the defense might not prevent him from telling the story of the making of the affidavit he stated positively that it was not, as Miss Nesbit's attorney when he drew up the document, that he was acting solely in the interest of Stanford White and that he was not being contemplated in behalf of the young woman who is now Harry Thaw's wife.

Gives the Lie to Hummel. There was considerable surprise consequently when Mr. Jerome read the opening words of the affidavit, which were:

"Supreme court, county of New York: Evelyn Nesbit, plaintiff, against Harry Kendall Thaw, defendant." It is not the action contents pleaded when the affidavit was made was the recovery of certain property which it was alleged Thaw had wrongfully taken from the girl. In dictating the affidavit Hummel referred to himself as Miss Nesbit's attorney, she being reported to have said she had received certain letters and cables from Thaw, which I have turned over to my attorney, Mr. Abraham H. Hummel."

The affidavit was also introduced "Howe & Hummel, attorneys for plaintiff."

When Mr. Delmas began the introduction of testimony in rebuttal he introduced first of all the record in the trial and conviction of Hummel on the charge of conspiracy.

Panama, March 19.—According to reliable information received here from Salvador, the country has allied itself openly with Honduras in the war with Nicaragua. # DYNAMITE SHAKES A CITY

VAST DAMAGE IN CINCINNATI BY TERRIFIC BLAST.

Hospital, Houses and Stores Shattered—Believed to Be Work of Incendiaries.

Cincinnati, March 18.—By the explosion of 250 pounds of dynamite, a shack on the site of the new city hospital early Sunday enormous damage was done to residences and buildings all through the surrounding sections, people all over the city and suburbs were awakened and excited, and it was feared for a time that patients in the Jewish hospital might suffer serious results from the shock.

The German Old Men's home and the Jewish hospital were the largest buildings near the explosion, which occurred in a residential area of the best known residence sections, and both suffered seriously. The cause of the explosion is unknown, but incendiary dynamite, a number of men recently discharged by the hospital contractors being said to have made threats.

An immense cavity was torn in the ground and the shock blew out windows and store fronts for a mile along the Reading road, while chimneys were shaken down more than a mile distant. Sunday night special watchmen and the residents of the damaged section of the city guarded the wreckage, reports that gangs of thieves were planning to take advantage of the opened houses being reared by the authorities and the people warned.

NABBED WITH RICH JEWS.

Two Alleged Smugglers Are Wanted for Big Theft Abroad.

New York, March 18.—Arthur Preston Green and Charles Rohrer, passengers on the steamer America, were arrested when the vessel arrived from Hamburg Sunday, charged with attempting to smuggle diamonds worth the value of nearly $25,000, which the custom officials alleged the prisoners had failed to declare, were taken from them. The richest were confiscated and the men held for extradition.

Though only the charge of smuggling was preferred against the offenders here, it is stated by the police that they were wanted abroad in connection with a theft of some $35,000 worth of jewelry and precious stones, and the London authorities have been notified. On Wednesday the police received a cablegram from Scotland Yard stating that Green and Rohrer be detained upon their arrival on the America.

Green described himself as a salesman, 31 years old, with a home in this city. The police alleged that he has repeatedly been arrested for shoplifting and served three years imprisonment in Wisconsin.

Rohrer gave the same age and occupation, but said that Philadelphia was his home. According to the police he has a record including arrests in Philadelphia and for robbing Miss Evelyn King at Atlantic City, and again on March 19, 1898, for robbing Miss Theresa Schwartz on a street in Philadelphia.

WAS NOT TO BOOM TAFT.

Loeb Denies Story About President's Conference with Deenen.

Washington, March 18.—Secretary Loeb Sunday night denied published statements that the White House conference Saturday, in which Gov. Charles S. Deenen and Attorney General Woodrow Wilson participated, was for the purpose of promoting the candidacy of Secretary Taft for the presidency. The story originated, it is said, from the fact that Secretary Taft and his brother, Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, called at the executive office while the president was in conference with Deenen. The party were introduced to the president's visitors.

President Charles S. Mollen of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad will call on the president Tuesday afternoon, and it is still the belief in official circles that the other three railroad presidents, with whom J. Pierpont Morgan requested the president to discuss the railroad situation, will come to Washington this week.

FINE AND JAIL FOR FOUR PROMINENT MEN

INFLUENTIAL NEBRASKA RANCHERS SENTENCED IN LAND FRAUD CASES.

President's Campaign for Enforcement of Public Land Laws Directed Against These Men—Trial Most Important in State's History.

Omaha, Neb. March 19.—The most important land case in Nebraska culminated Monday in the sentence of the most prominent and influential ranchmen by Judge W. H. Munger, of the United States court. Bartlett Richards and William G. Constock were sentenced to pay a fine each of $1,500 and serve a year in the Douglas county jail. Charles C. Jameson and Aquilla Triplett were sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and serve eight months in the same jail.

History of the Case. These men were indicted by the federal grand jury in May, 1906, for conspiracy to defraud the United States out of use, possession and title to public land, consisting of upward of 200,000 acres in northwestern Nebraska. The indictment was the longest ever recorded, comprising 500 type-written pages. The trial began in November, 1906, ended December 20 with a verdict of guilty. Motion for a new trial was made and it was heard March 15 when Judge Mungger overruled it and set Monday for pronouncing the sentences. One hundred and eight witnesses were examined in the trial of these men. It was the most sensational land trial ever conducted in Nebraska, owing to the prominence and financial standing of the two principals, Richards and Constock. It was against them primarily that the president's campaign of enforcing land laws was directed. They have been conspicuous in the politics and business of Nebraska for many years. Aquilla Triplett was a member of the municipal corporation had been made and that many indictments would soon be made.

The Bulletin says that a plot in furtherance of the conversion of street railway privileges was laid here. It is charged that the sum of $450,000 was paid to high officials to secure the conversion of street railway systems into electric lines and that the bulk of this money was retained by "a mysterious man," and that small sums of money were parcelled out to minor officials. Another story is that rival telephone companies each paid large sums of money. Another charge is that a corporation fund of $25,000 was raised by prize fight promoters to secure a monopoly of fight permits.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 18.—While hundreds of people were passing the corner of Sixth and Spring streets shortly before ten o'clock Saturday night, two men held up a jewelry store in the Hotel Hayward building and escaped with booty valued at between $2,000 and $4,000.

Two Yale Professors Resign.

New Haven, Conn., March 19.—The resignation of Rev. Dr. Lewis Ormond Brastor, professor of practical theology in the Yale divinity school, and of Daniel Cady Eaton, professor of the history and criticism of art, was accepted by the Yale corporation Monday. Both professors retire after many years of service and each becomes professor emeritus.

Another French Naval Mishap. San Francisco, Cal., March 18.—During the maneuvers Saturday night without lights, the torpedo boat destroyer Epee rammed torpedo boat No. 263. A steam pipe on the latter was smashed, killing two men and mortally injuring another. The Epee towed the damaged boat ashore, where she was beached.

Stood the Test. Alcock's ointment stands today endorsed by not only the highest medical authorities, but by millions of grateful patients who have proved their efficacy as a household remedy.

Physiological Mystery. According to some curious investigations conducted by English scientists, eldest sons tend to be criminals and youngest sons paupers. A great many thousand school children and many family histories have been examined to yield these results. First-born children were found to be, as a rule, taller and heavier, with greater ability and endurance than the others. This is in accordance with the popular feeling in many countries that the oldest child is superior to the others and deserving of special privileges. It is a well established fact that among men of genius an undue proportion are eldest sons.—Detroit Free Press.

SCIATIC TORTURE

A Locomotive Engineer Tells How He Was Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Pain that seems almost unbearable is a characteristic of sciatic rheumatism. In some cases the pain is knife-like, sharp or shooting; in others it is dull and aching. Sciatica is a stubborn ailment, and the patient frequently suffers for years. This was the case with Mr. Herbert E. Spaulding, a locomotive engineer, who writes from New Orleans & Texas Pacific Railway, whose home is at Longview, Texas.

"While running an engine some years ago," he says, "I fell off and hurt my knee and spine and I have always considered this to be the cause of my trouble. The sciatica took hold of me from my heel to the back of my head. The pain was the worst I ever suffered in my life and my legs and back were twisted out of shape. I was under a physician's care for several months and for six months could not get out of bed. I also went to Hot Springs but came back in a worse condition than when I went.

"It was when I was down in bed that I heard of the case of Mr. Allison, a much older man than myself, who had been cured of sciatica by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking the pills and soon was able to get out of bed. When I had taken five boxes I was able to do a work about the house and yard. I kept right on with the pills until it was cured and I have never had my return of the trouble. I have been running an engine ever since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six of them $2.50. The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Interesting Items Gathered in the Gopher State

Shoots Friend, Then Himself.
Pulaski—The plot of a desperate man to murder his friend and to kill himself was only partly carried out here, when Henry Kaatz, aged thirty-five, shot Martin Kuna, a barkeeper, and forty, in the back of the head, and then turned the weapon upon himself, inflicting a wound in his own head from which he died immediately.

The shooting occurred in Joseph Dochow's saloon, in which Kuna had worked as a barkeeper for a dozen years. Kaatz went to Kuna's room and asked him to go to the saloon with him. Arrived at the saloon, he took a drink, and Kuna sat down in a chair while Kaatz sat upon a billiard table and carried on what appeared to be a mutually agreeable conversation.

Suddenly Kaatz strode from the table to a pocket pistol, and fired at his friend, and taking a revolver from his pocket fired a bullet at close range into the back of Kuna's head. Kuna dropped like a log, and everybody in the saloon thought he was dying. Without a second's delay, Kaatz raised the gun to his own forehead and blew out his brains.

Kaatz was soon to be breathing and was taken to the office of a physician, where it was found he was merely stunned, the bullet having passed against a bone just below the left ear. The bullet was removed and he is now recovering.

Kuna declares there was no provocation for the attempt upon his life and no motive for the shooting, but he says that he believes the latter had grown tired of his reckless and unprofitable way of living and had become weary of death and that of his inseparable friend so that the two might be joined in death.

Fire at Brainerd.
Brainerd—Brainerd visited by two dangerous fires at the same time. Mrs. Thomas H. Beane, wife of the proprietor of the "Hotel Brainerd," dropped a candle in the chest of her apartments, setting fire to the clothing.

The alarm was promptly given and the contents of the land were extinguished with water. The fire department succeeded in finally extinguishing the flames after a two-hour fight of over two hours. The roof of the east wing of the hotel was a total loss and the contents of the third floor practically ruined. The second floor was deluged with water, and the contents of the stores on the first floor. There were no fatalities, though several firemen and volunteers were nearly overcome with smoke.

While the fire was at its worst W. E. Hickey's agricultural machinery warehouse was discovered wrapped in flames. It was a total loss.

Will Inspect Wheat.
Minneapolis—Word was received that the government would establish grain laboratories at Duluth and St. Louis for grading wheat. This announcement is looked upon with favor by many of the grain men, who believe in federal inspection rather than state inspection. There are no similar laws in the United States in New York and Baltimore, and the location of three in the West is considered to be a step in the right direction.

The different systems of grading prevailing in different states often causes grain men much inconvenience and trouble, and under a general federal grading they believe much of this difficulty would be eliminated. Some will be in charge of government experts.

He was taken to the hospital and was in a critical condition.

Washington, March 19—Four rifles from Company B, Twenty-fifth infantry, were used in the Brownville affray, it is the ordinance department of the army can substantiate reports sent to the senate committee on military affairs Monday concerning the microscopic examinations of the 33 shells picked up in the streets of the town on the morning following the shooting.

All of the rifles in the possession of the battalion at Fort Brown on the night of August 13 were sent to the Springfield arsenal and two shots were fired from each. The shells used were then compared with those picked up at Brownville, and the officers making the tests reported that it has been demonstrated beyond dispute that four guns of Company B were used in discharging all of the 33 shells.

Blockson at San Antonio, in the war department. Maj. Blockson said in his dispatch that he had received a telegram from the chief of police at Galveston saying that the publication was a fake.

Senator Foraker had the alleged confession put in the record with the denial which had been furnished to Chairman Warren by the war department. The Ohio senator said in his report that there was not a man named 'D. W. Gray' in the discharged battalion, but that there were two men named Gray, one W. and the other J. H. Gray, in Company C. Both of these men were heard from by saying that they had made confessions. One is in West Virginia and the other in Pennsylvania.

MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

St. Paul, March 14—It was foot-ball with tax legislation in the house today. The committee on the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce is examining a number of witnesses, but it seems pretty certain that the organization will not come in for condemnation. The Senate committee of the senate which is after the railroads, has secured practically no evidence which the state railroad commission has not already in file in its offices from the same witnesses.

St. Paul, March 16—With about 300 bills and up logging general orders, the house in committee of the whole today got another oratorical fever and wasted much precious time in debating the bill towards the galleries. The most important bill considered was the W. I. Nolan bill, a copy of the municipal ownership law of Illinois. The bill was finally recommended for passage and passed to the calendar, the place of its final consideration by the house. The Rachtie bill, requiring the state railroad commission, was a subject of lengthy discussion. It was finally amended by A. J. Rookne, who increased from 3 to 5 members, two to be at once appointed by the governor and four by the legislature, and the bill was passed.

The R. M. Miller bill requiring 5 percent gross earnings tax from railroads was laid over. The Tighe bill taxing sale agreements came next on the agenda for indefinite postponement, but finally managed to retain its place and life on general orders. A. J. Rookne managed to attach an amendment changing the tax in two making it 1 cent on each $200. A plea for progress alone saved the previous work of the Thayer bill taxing income from real estate mortgages 10 percent.

Former Congressman Frank M. Baily, now clerk of the house re-appointment bill, has completed a preliminary draft of a reapportionment bill which has been presented in the house. It is framed so as to give all counties at least one representative each, and provides 12 additional representatives in country districts. A meeting will be held to look the bill over. The bill was introduced by M. S. Carl, and an anti-treating bill by Thos. H. Horton. The house adjourned till Monday at 2 p. m.

The senate took things easy today. Early in the session the rule prohibiting smoking was amended, and during the day business was transacted through a fog of blue smoke.

A lengthy communication was received from the St. Paul Trades and Labor assembly, asking that the Hackney semi-centennial bill be passed and expressing a belief that it was averting a disaster to Minnesota through such an expedition would be of tremendous good. The bill now rests with the judiciary, and Senator Patrick Fitzpatrick of Winona, all made addresses expressing their love and respect as associates and personal friends for the man who was for so many years in public life. Outside of the memorial service, today was devoted by both house and senate to the consideration of bills in committee of the whole. The senate, as usual, cleaned up its work. The house, as usual, talked away the time and finally adjourned a good hundred bills behind the schedule.

The house today, however, passed the bill which provides quiet-reading places in libraries for the benefit of grant rebates. Speaker L. H. Johnson's bill imposing a tax of 4 per cent on gross earnings of sleeping car companies is still in the reading clerk did not hesitate to leave out many a section of a long bill which would otherwise have taken up much more unneeded time. The bill was advanced by the committee of the whole, making something of an impression on the 175 measures which have piled up on general orders. The bills thus recommended to pass included, the bill calling upon public service corporations to pay special assessments for local improvements, the pure food bill of the dairy and food commission prohibiting use of color dyes in any food stuffs, the provision bill prohibiting treating at elections, the bill proposing a constitutional amendment to permit creation of a special tax for good roads.

St. Paul, March 18—The house met this afternoon and devoted its entire time to advancing bills from general orders, in committee of the whole, to the calendar. The bill was advanced by the committee of the whole, making something of an impression on the 175 measures which have piled up on general orders. The bills thus recommended to pass included, the bill calling upon public service corporations to pay special assessments for local improvements, the pure food bill of the dairy and food commission prohibiting use of color dyes in any food stuffs, the provision bill prohibiting treating at elections, the bill proposing a constitutional amendment to permit creation of a special tax for good roads.

St. Paul, March 19—The house met this afternoon and devoted its entire time to advancing bills from general orders, in committee of the whole, to the calendar. PINE CITY MINN., March 22, 1907

If the man of commerce and business would pay some attention to the schools of his district the interest on the investment of time and money would be astonishing.

The police department in Washington are now getting after the gambling resorts of the city. Wonder why they waited until after the members of congress had all gone home?

Down in Wisconsin the legislature has killed the "Hughes anti-tights" bill and now for two years at least the chorus girls in pink tights and picture hat can keep up their opposition to the "woman on the muddy crossing."

People who are willing to go to a chautauqua and pay their hard money to hear a talk by a freak orator of the Tillman or LaFollette type are the people who make it a delight for some folks to bunco the great American public.

Gov. Booth of the Salvation Army has a panacea for "tainted money." He says he will take it and wash it in the tears of the widow and orphan and use it in spreading the kingdom of God and uplifting humanity. That certainly ought to clean it.

Politics is a simple cold-blooded business proposition and the sooner the public realize the fact the better. If man would go about settling the political questions as they do go about the transaction of any other business the world would be the better for it.

Usually it is the man who says that he is too good to enter politics who knows that he is so corrupt that should be come up for office the people who really know him would put the voters on and he would be stripped of the mask that all men wear.

From recent developments it appears that the railroads have certainly struck the "pace that kills". When people become sane enough to be satisfied with a moderately fast train, when railroad officials and employes who have the lives of thousands in their hands are made to answer criminally for the betrayal of their trust, then will railroad travel be safe.

Though the boys have been playing marbles in mud and snow, girls have been running around without head gear and jumping rope and even the gyrate wagon, hand organ and razor grinder have appeared spring, gentle spring, still carries.

Don't lose your head over politics; the average office holder is an honest man and don't you forget it. The man who goes around the country calling everyone who doesn't believe just as he does a grafter and a crook is doing it for a purpose and is unworthy of confidence. Be just as honest with yourself in politics as you ask the rest of the world to be with you in business transactions. Do your plain duty with a clear head and an honest heart and the world will be the better for it.

Nothing can better illustrate the permanence of the wave of prosperity that is sweeping the country than the fact that the unprecedented decline in stock on Wall Street during the past few days has not seriously effected business in the great producing section of the west. With a different condition existing a panic would have ensued which would have first effected the western financial houses and many a good man would have been carried off his feet in the whirlpool of decline.

In the sermon to be read at his funeral which Dowle prepared some time before his death he threatened his enemies with a return to life in a form more powerful and more vigorous than ever. The first Apostle will probably be Eliza VI when he comes back again or it may be that he will come as Jove or in some more hideous form. At any rate we are rid of him in the form we are most accustomed to and there is no use crossing any bridges until we come to them. Whatever form he comes in next time he will find us here first and we'll do the best we can to avert his avenging wrath.

"There's no such thing as tainted money," declared Dr. Charis W. Needham, president of George Washington university, in an address before the students of that institution. "Human conduct in acquiring money does not attach to nor weaken the promise to pay upon the bank note. There is no such thing as 'tainted money'—that is, coin of full weight, and live promises to pay—good coin is good anywhere, in any man's hand. Truth takes no passing shadow to itself, and money cannot become impregnated by the deeds of passing users. Having this view of good money, I will accept it from any man who owns it."

Then's our sentiments too. Now don't be backward about coming forward and paying your subscription. All kinds of money taken and no questions asked.

The chautauqua associations of the land organized for a good purpose and which have done a good deal toward uplifting the moral and educational tone of the communities in which they exist are apparently degenerating in these modern times when the program of a chautauqua society presented a rare collection of speakers and entertainers whose brains and abilities were their chief drawing cards but the tendencies of the later times seems to be to group together on these programs men who are spectacular and whose audacity of manner and frankness of brain is their principal recommendation. It is said that Senator Tillman has chautauqua contracts for the summer which will net him over $40,000. People will travel miles to hear this blatant demagogue air his obnoxious views in shocking and insulting language. The same people would crowd an opera house to the door or see a vile production of the "Kreutzer Sonata" and would fight for seats in a court room where there was to be rehearsed a story of the weakness of some poor unfortunate woman or the history of some shocking crime. If this thing keeps on long it will soon be that the chautauqua platform once so honorable will be reduced to the level of the vaudeville stage.

Which CREAM SEPARATOR is Cheaper?
Several catalogues houses are offering "just as good" separators for sale at a low price than the U. S. Cream Separator for sale for. But before the unfortunate purchaser of one of these "mail order" separators gets through paying their bills he finds that first cost is the only difference. The "cheap" separators soon get out of fix because they are built of cheap material, and loosely put together. The cost of repairs alone in the first year or two would pay the difference in price between one U. S. and a U. S. But more important still they do not skim clean, they waste cream at every skimming.
U. S. CREAM SEPARATORS
have stood the test of time. Many of them have been used for 10 years or more, and have cost their owners next to nothing for repairs. They are easy running, skin cleaner than any others, have a simple, easy-to-wash bowl; enclosed, safety gearing and a convenient, low milk tank. See a U. S. Separator for yourself—that's the best way.

The following progressive farmers have bought U. S. Separators, and are using them to-day, Ask any of them how they work.

ROAD AND FARM IMPROVEMENT

RESTORATION OF HIGHWAYS.

R. H. Fuller Tells How Good Roads Benefit Farmers and Others.

There has been an effort to induce progress to resume road building where it left off 75 years ago. It is argued in favor of this plan that the rural districts receive a disproportionately small share of the proceeds of federal taxation and the appropriations made for the improvement of rivers and harbors are cited by way of illustration. It does not seem probable, however, that the national government will relieve the states of the burden of providing good roads, at least in the near future. In the meantime the states are showing themselves quite capable of solving the problem. New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut and New York are the pioneers in the work of good road construction on a comprehensive scale. Pennsylvania,

THE ARTISTIC WALL.

One of Solid Color Will Always Give Best Effect.

The dearest, faintest, most artistic wall is a solid colored wall. It furnishes a perfect background for all kinds of pictures, and allows them to be in their correct proportions, and does not detract from their artistic value. The solid colored wall is also much better as a background for furniture, and harmonizes much more artistically with carpets and rugs than any other method of wall treatment. The roads are to be improved by methods not so costly. Macadam roads require an outlay for construction of from $5,000 to $10,000 a mile. This heavy burden for the scattered population of the farming regions to bear unaided. Outside help must be given, and inasmuch as good roads increase the prosperity of the entire state the principle of state aid has been generally accepted as just. It has been adopted in various forms by all states, and it is very seriously undertaken the improvement of their roads.

Even the portion of the expense which falls upon the localities, is usually too great for them to meet by immediate direct taxation, and here again the state may come to their assistance by lending them its credit so as to enable them to borrow money at a smaller rate of interest than they would otherwise be forced to pay. Naturally, where the state is to build the roads, their location, construction and maintenance must be under state control through an official or a state commission. This insures the laying out of the roads so that they will form a comprehensive state system, and their maintenance in a condition of efficiency after they have been built.

Another important branch of the good roads movement is the introduction of heavy tires on wagons intended to carry heavy loads. Narrow tires are road destroyers, while wide tires are road makers. The narrow tire cuts the road into ruts, the wide tire serves the purpose of a roller in compacting and hardening it. Tests have shown that the same force that is required to move 2,000 pounds on narrow tires will move on broad tires 482 on a gravel road, 2,500 on a dirt road and 3,200 on a wet clay road.

Various methods of road improvement have been tried with success in different parts of the country. In California more than 2,500 miles of sandy highways have been made hard and smooth by sprinkling them with crude petroleum, which binds the loose particles of sand together. In Florida phosphate clay has proved to be excellent road material.

Alfalfa Ground.
The alfalfa ground should be put in good condition. Many plow their ground early in April, harrow thoroughly to make a fine seed bed, then sow the alfalfa seed with a broadcast seeder. Sow plenty of seed, 18 to 20 pounds per acre. A thin stand gives weeds too good a show, while the young alfalfa plants are becoming established.

Why They Fall.
Many fall down on sheep raising because they do not give enough attention to the foundation stock. The ewes must be strong enough to vigorous. These are usually good milkers, and they bring strong lambs. Sheep are more financial than cattle or hogs, and they need closer attention.

The Farm Team.
The farm teams should now be exercised daily, and light work will harden them up for the heavy work of late spring. See that the collars and harness fit snugly. It does not take very much now to chafe the shoulders.

Ideal Trade Conditions.
Women should not get credit. Neither should men. Cash is the cure. Tradesmen, however, would have a bad time for six or 12 months, and many a lady would have to "lie low," but in the end we would get both our trade and our money, and she would get her dress, and at far less cost.—London Opinion.

Triumph of American Duchess.
Helen, duchess of Manchester, is now lady-in-waiting to Queen Alexandra, and the first American to receive that honor. So much for marrying the only son of the most popular duchess at the court of Edward VII. Other American duchesses may struggle in vain, but don't you believe them. It is a royal distinction (tremendous!) to be named by English nobles, and the next step is the political plum to be made mistress of the robes.—Boston Herald.

TACK THIS UP.
Simple Advice Which May Prove of Untold Value.

At the first sign of Backache or pain in the region of the Kidneys or weaknes and Urinary trouble, the following simple prescription should be used:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one-half ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good prescription pharmacy will supply these three ingredients at small cost, which can easily be mixed by shaking well in a bottle. This is said to force the Kidneys to filter their acids and poisons from the blood, overcoming the worst cases of Rheumatism.

I am now a healthy woman. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."
Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 238 W. 8th Street, New York, writes: "When only sixteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to remove my ovaries. I was performing my natural functions, and another object of being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established, and I am now a healthy woman. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."
