THE FOURTH

Pine City Denizens Celebrate the Day and Entertain a Great Many Guests--All Have Good Time.

Yesterday was a gala day in Pine City from the first salute of morning until the last fading rocket at night. The day was joyously celebrated in this village despite the fact that inclement weather marred what would otherwise have been a mammoth festival occasion.

The parade had to be entirely left out of the day's program of attractions. The weather man so willed it, and when old Pegasus got busy nothing remained for the crowd to do but to lay-over until the rain drops quieted down.

The speaking took place at the park, as scheduled, and the efforts put forth by those participating were indeed commendable. The Rush Lake band first rendered a selection after which Rev. J. J. Parish offered the invocation and George Wendell read the Declaration of Independence, followed by an other selection by the band. S. G. L. Roberts announced the various numbers and in a talk of some length introduced the orator of the day, Ottocar Sobotka. His speech was along a line which all good citizens of these United States are familiar, and Mr. Sobotka's speech in particular was indeed one of the best that it has been our privilege to hear.

He held his auditors with wrapt attention, and it is to be regretted that more people were not within the hearing of his voice. He has good presence, a splendid voice, and his oration was replete with excellent thoughts which were delivered in a manner highly commendable. After the oration the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Parish.

The sports, including the races and ball game, occurred after the dinner hour. Were it not for the lateness of the hour we should give a list of those who won in the athletic events; but suffice to say, the best man won, and the Tobias of St. Paul defeated the Pine City lads by a score of 5 to 4.

The fireworks, and dances by the fire department, completed the day's festivities. Everybody present seemed to enjoy the spirit of the day; no one was reported hurt; and, taken all in all, Pine City had a reasonably sane Fourth of July.

Wedded in the West.

Word has been received announcing the marriage of Miss Emma Axtell to Chas. Peterson, which occurred at Lewiston, Idaho, June 19th. Emma is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Axtell, of this place. She left here about two years ago for the west where she has since made her home with her brother, Archie. The groom is an attorney at law at Moscow, Idaho, where the couple will reside. The bride has many friends here, who wish she and her husband a full measure of health, wealth and happiness.

Louis Buirg a Benedict.

On the 26th of June occurred the wedding of Louis Buirg to Miss Elsie Walker at Mason City, Iowa. The couple are 'at home' at Proctor, where the groom has a good position. Louis made Pine City his home up to a couple years ago and he has many friends here who wish him and his bride long life and happiness.

In Quest of Land.

W. H. Chapin, of Wahpeton, N. D., C. A. Sylvester, of Cannon Falls, Iver Henriksen, of Northwood, Iowa, and James Rosewall, of Chisholm, were here during the past week looking over land in this section. I. H. Claggett guided them about in their quest.

Fourth of July Baby.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Wickstrom yesterday morning, and it can be truly said that she is "a real live niece of her Uncle Sam, born on the Fourth of July."

FORMER RESIDENT HONORED

The Evening American, of Bellingham, Washington, Prints a Speech by R. C. Saunders.

The following taken from the Evening American, of Bellingham, Wash. June 17 are extracts from a speech delivered by our former citizen, R. C. Saunders, at Fairhaven, Washington:

"Righteousness alone exalts a nation. Lawlessness of trusts and combination in commercial lines; and lawlessness and violence practiced by men in industrial lines, cause a gloomy apprehension as to what the future is to be.

"Crimes of graft, theft, bribery and extortion run in a riotous course. Men elected by the people have, in many instances, received large bribes for the granting of exclusive franchises, etc., and violence on the other side, deep, dark, cruel cast a shadow over us, but the people of this country once aroused to the dangers due to their own negligence to a large degree on account of their intense interests in commercial pursuits will appeal to laws, courts, legislators and executives to correct the abuses and punish the offenders, and will not appeal in vain. This will be accomplished without the persuasion of bribes or the compulsion of bombs."

Addressing the members of the Minnesota Club at Fairhaven park yesterday afternoon, R. C. Saunders, an eloquent speaker, digressed from the subject of the "State of Minnesota," and gave an interesting resume of the social conditions that confronts the United States. He declared that the spirit of righteousness that always predominates; the American people will right the wrongs and punish the trusted officials who are guilty of bribery and extortion, as well as mete out justice to those who commit industrial violence.

Paying a tribute to sturdy pioneers who blaze the way to a new country, he said:

"The trail of the pioneer was not always an easy one, for the line blazed out to new frontiers are beset by the bones of those who fell by the wayside from the hands of the Indians, or disease, but at no time did the pioneer falter. He has transformed wildernesses into gardens and has paved the way to the present progress of cities and commerce."

After painting a rhetorical picture of Minnesota, he said of Washington:

"You may build a wall around the state as high as the Chinese wall is long, and the people within its confines would always be supplied with all that is needed in life, happiness and luxuries. Our natural resources, fish, mines and agricultural interest will cause to grow in wealth and will induce population to do and develop these things."

The occasion was the first annual picnic given under the auspices of the Minnesota Club in Whatcom County."

gone to Her Rest.

Tuberculosis claimed another victim Tuesday evening, July 2nd, at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Minnie Mathes passed away at her home in this village after an illness of a little over six months.

Miss Minnie Leinckel was born in Winona the 16th day of December, 1833. She was married to William Mathes at Winona in 1901. They moved to South Dakota, where they resided for a couple of years, when they came to this place three years ago, and she resided here until the time of her death.

Mrs. Mathes was a hard-working woman, a good neighbor, a loving wife and mother, and she will be sadly missed. She leaves a father, husband and infant daughter to mourn her loss. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning from the house, with interment in Birchwood cemetery.

KILLED AT SANDSTONE

Frank Thompson Shot While Attacking Marshal Regan With a Double Bitted Axe.

Fred Thompson, one of Sandstone's notorious characters, was killed this morning about two o'clock while he was attacking Marshal Regan with an axe.

Thompson has several times been known to get drunk and abuse his wife and 12-year-old son, and about 1:30 this morning he was chasing them around in the street with a double-bitted axe and they were calling for help when Jack Linnehan and Fred Byren appeared on the scene and the latter was attacked by Thompson. Linnehan grabbed him from behind and threw him to the ground but did not get possession of the axe. His wife then interceded and begged them to let him go. As soon as they started away Thompson chased them for a block with the axe. They returned to the house with Marshal Regan, when Thompson bounded out of the house like a wild man and again attacked them with his axe. He was commanded to stop and Regan fired wild to scare him but he bore down on them with his axe lifted to strike. He advanced to within ten feet when Regan fired again and Thompson fell in his tracks pierced through his right side.

He had to be strapped to the stretcher to get him to Dr. Cowan's office. The 2:30 train was held and he was taken to St. Paul but died enroute.

No blame was placed on Marshal Regan as he was simply performing his regular duty. -Sandstone Courier of Wednesday, June 26.

Good Game the Fourth.

The 4th of July ball game between the Tobias of St. Paul and the Pine City team was undoubtedly the best game on the local grounds this season. The score, 5 to 4, was in favor of the visitors. Big Pete Edin happened down from the north country just in time to get into the game, and he was put in to do the twirling for Pine City. Despite the fact that he had not pitched ball since last fall, he held the Tobias to four hits, although his wild heaving in the 1st inning was largely responsible for 3 runs and a cinch on the game. The visitors made their other 2 runs in the 4th and 7th innings by hits and errors combined. The locals made their 4 tallies in the 3rd inning by brushing hits and taking advantage of foul plays. The Pine City boys will meet the Horn team for a return game next Sunday on the local diamond and a fast game is anticipated. Gen. Nevius of Willow Bay will pitch for the locals.

F. M. Toser Dead.

Word was received here the first of the week announcing the accidental drowning of Frederick M. Toser, the millionaire Stillwater lumber man. The drowning was caused by the accidental overturning of a sail boat in Balsam lake, near St. Croix Falls, Wis.

Mr. Toser was 71 years of age, and the son of the late David Toser. He was well known in this county, where he owned considerable timber land.

S. F. Claggett, of Montevideo, spent a day with his brother, L. H., the latter part of last week.

STATE LAND SALE

Of the 10,000 Acres Offered Wednesday 6,000 Acres Were Sold--Sale Held at Court House Wednesday.

The sale of state lands, which was held at the court house Wednesday afternoon, can be considered a success in every respect. Of the 10,000 acres listed for sale, 6,000 acres were sold. The highest price paid was $11.00 per acre, exclusive of timber, and the lowest price $5.00 per acre.

C. S. Brown, deputy state auditor, conducted the sale in the absence of State Auditor Iverson, who found it impossible to attend. Quite a number of people from near and far attended the sale, and the business was conducted in a manner most satisfactory to all present.

FINDS A PEARL

While Bathing in Cross Lake Near the Residence of Congressman Bede a Boy Makes a Valuable Find.

Friday afternoon while in bathing in Cross lake near the residences of Congressman Bede and Mrs. Agnes Chierier, Carl Stutsman, a boy of about 12 years of age, stepped on a clam shell. He stooped down and picked it up and pried it open and was going to throw it out in the lake, when it slipped out of his hand and fell at his feet. He picked it up and pried open the shell and found a pearl. He brought his find home and Saturday morning took it to Breckenridge's Pharmacy, where Laurence Horton weighed it and found that it weighed 7 1/2 grains.

L. J. Stutsman and son went to St. Paul on the limited Saturday afternoon and on Monday disposed of the gem to a jeweler of that city for the sum of one hundred dollars. The pearl was perfectly round and of a pinkish tint, and was one of the largest ever found in this vicinity. The boy is justly proud of his find, even if it was by accident. He and his father returned home on the limited Monday afternoon.

Be a "Fixer"

Trade Journal, St. Paul.—Merchants who have solved the problem of making themselves known in the right way—as honest, straightforward, industrious, law-abiding citizens, have gone a long way toward the acquisition of business success. This is not a lesson in department, nor especially in character building. Nor is it a talk on advertising. It is a homily on getting acquainted. Get out amongst your customers. Let them see and know that you take an interest in their affairs. Take advantage of every opportunity that presents itself to drive into the country and visit your farmer customers at their homes. Be the first to call on the new settlers in your community and welcome them to your neighborhood. Make them feel at home, and that they have a friend in you as a merchant. Make it a point, in so far as you possibly can, to attend the neighborhood parties and entertainments, given by the farmers at their homes, schoolhouses and churches. The merchant who makes himself known and liked in this way will find that he is making splendid progress in the great work of keeping trade at home.

The Case of Central America.

As the preservation of peace by the Central American republics seems impossible, it has been suggested that the United States and Mexico unite in a protest against them after they have been combined into a single federal republic. Mexico and the United States already exercise an informal oversight over affairs in Central America. A little more than a year ago this country practically forced two of the warring republics to come to terms. This spring American warships patrolled the coasts of Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador, protecting the property of foreigners so effectively that they seriously interfered with the activity of the contending armies. The Mexican government has lately struck a hard blow at revolutions by demanding that Guatemala surrender the Guatemalans responsible for the murder in Mexico of a former Guatemalan president. If Mexico insists that murder is murder even when done in the name of Central American revolution, the revolutionists will take thought before they rise in arms. There is a growing determination in the minds of Mexicans and Americans, says Youth's Companion, that if the Central Americans will not conduct themselves properly, force must be used. Whether the outcome will be a federation and a formal protest is it useless to prophesy. Several previous attempts at federation have failed. All the republics have agreed that arbitration is the proper way to settle disputes, and a formal treaty providing for arbitration has been concluded. But when a dispute arises, the republics disregard the treaty and rush to arms. As the business of the world draws more closely to the Caribbean sea some way will be found to make the countries bordering it safe for the residence of business men.

Prince Louis of Orleans, regarded by the monarchists of Brazil as heir to Dom Pedro's throne, was not allowed to land in Rio de Janeiro, when the ship on which he was sailing to Paraguay entered the harbor. The Brazilian authorities regard as still in force the decree of banishment against Dom Pedro's family, passed by the provisional government immediately after the overthrow of the empire in 1889. Prince Louis is the second son of the former crown prince of Brazil and the French prince, Gaston of Orleans. He was born in Brazil and the monarchists rally round him rather than round his crippled elder brother, Pedro. The visit of the prince to South America has roused the royalists to a new interest in their cause, and is not without interest to statesmen in North America. But the prospect of a royalist rising in Brazil, still more of its success, is remote indeed.

Railway accidents have been usually ascribed to insufficient equipment. Prof. F. H. Dixon, in an article in the Atlantic Monthly, concludes that the real difficulty is not mechanical but human. It is not the failure or the lack of the bell signal that causes the trouble, nor would the installation of automatic stop and other devices cure the evil. The fundamental weakness of American railroading from the standpoint of safety is the widespread and almost universal lack of discipline. This conclusion accords with the experience of the Disciplined army, poorly equipped have triumphed over armies well accoutred and provisioned, but lacking in discipline. It is likely, however, that railroad employees will point out at once that the lack of discipline begins in the poor generalship of the managers who demand impossible things of their soldiers.

The wide interest in American genealogy is responsible for the publication of the "Thomas" in the case in question at this time. This census consisted of an enumeration of the population and was the original documents as preserved in the census office in a collection of oddly assorted volumes, the marshals having been obliged to furnish their own books. Because the names of heads of families were included in this compilation the books have been in great demand by people tracing their ancestry, and it is for the benefit of those that publication is being made. When completed the pamphlet will be for sale.

Dr. Thomas J. See, the astronomer, who is visiting his home at Monticello, Minn., says in an interview that the lack of the ocean bed causes earthquakes. Perhaps Dr. See can suggest a method for patching up the holes in the sea.

CHINA'S ATTACK ON ORCHARD'S STORY

WITNESS DECLARES FORMER WAS PLAYING POKER WHEN MINE WAS DYKEMED.

Merchant from Mullen, Idaho, Swears Orchard Was in His Store at Time Mine Was Blown Up—Story of "Bull Pen" Told.

Boise, Idaho, July 1.—The defense in the Steunenberg murder trial began Saturday morning with a further attack on the testimony of Harry Orchard, and then presented testimony to show that Jack Shipkins was cruelly treated in the Idaho "bull pen" and that union miners were whipped and driven from the Alaskan coast.

Judge Wood announced that there would be two sessions of court instead of the usual Saturday half holiday, and proceedings opened promptly at nine a. m.

Dominick Flynn, who conducted a cigar store in Mullen, Idaho, in 1899, swore that Orchard was in his store playing poker from about the time the Hill and Sullivan mine was blown up, and Pat McKeale, who gave the occupation of Orchard, and said he gambled with him, and that he saw the man who was in the game with Orchard.

McKeale, who is a bartender in Mullen, followed Flynn on the stand. He told Orchard was in his store playing poker from about the time the Hill and Sullivan mine was blown up, and had never seen the man since.

Frank Hough, who testified to conditions in the Idaho "bull pen" and the treatment of Jack Shipkins, swore that Orchard told him at Wallace in the fall of 1895 that he had been in the Alaskan coast.

Morris Friedman, a former employee of the Pinkerton detective agency, who recently left the service and published a so-called expose of Pinkerton methods, was called to the stand shortly before noon.

Friedman testified as to the methods of the Pinkerton agency in connection with the strikes in Colorado.

Boise, Idaho, June 30.—The attorneys for William D. Hayward continue to center their efforts on the discrediting of Harry Orchard and the establishment of their claim that Orchard committed the Steunenberg murder in revenge for the loss of his interest in the Hercules mine. Friday they directly attacked the vindicator's explosive with the testimony of a witness that made it appear accidental rather than criminal.

Thomas Wood, a nonunionist who entered the Hercules mine as a timberman after the strike began, swore that the night before the explosion he placed a box containing 25 pounds of dynamite at the foot of the eighth level. He saw the powder the next morning shortly after ten o'clock, and a few minutes later Superintendent McCormick and Foreman Beck came to the eighth level. They remained but a short time and left to go to the sixth level, where they were killed. Wood swore that when he reached the sixth level he found the powder was gone, and it was a reasonable inference that McCormick and Beck took it with them.

Says the dead Revolver.

Wood testified that he had seen a revolver in Beck's pocket, that the fragments of only one revolver were found in the sixth level, and that the bodies of McCormick and Beck were blown apart, indicating that the explosion had occurred between them.

Orchard said that he fixed a revolver with a wire attachment so that when the safety bar was raised it would send a bullet in the giant powder he had placed.

One witness for the state has sworn that he later found a wire attached to the safety bar, but Wood, who was among the first to reach the sixth level after the explosion, said that he carefully examined the safety bar and found nothing attached to it. Wood gave his testimony in a clear and forceful manner, and told a thrilling story of the climb to safety of the men cut off by the explosion below the sixth level.

Tell of Orchard's Threats.

Tell of Orchard's Threats.

William Easterly, who concluded his testimony Friday morning, and D. C. Copley, who was called in the afternoon, both swore that they heard Orchard tell of the loss of the Hercules mine and threaten to kill Steunenberg for it. On cross-examination the state scored them both, and particularly Easterly, who received two letters and one telephone message from Orchard on the eve of the killing of Steunenberg, for remaining quiet when they knew a crime might be committed. Easterly contended that he did not know Steunenberg lived at Caldwell, and explained that although he knew "Thomas Hogg" was Harry Orchard, he took no steps immediately after the crime except to consult counsel for the federation, because he was not an informant. Copley asserted that he did not take Orchard seriously when they met in San Francisco and he told him of the Bradley crime.

Judge Loving Acquitted.

Houston, Va., July 1.—The "Inverness" law invoked by a man whose yard was cranked by eight years of continual drunkenness, was vindicated Saturday. The jury in the Loving case, after only one day's trial, freed the man who shot Theodore Bates for an alleged attack on his daughter.

FLEES THE CZAR'S POLICE

YOUNG POLE GOES TO FAR WEST TO HIDE IDENTITY.

Fugitive Who Participated in Student Riots Thinks He Was Followed to Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., July 1.—Bathed from his native land for treason in Poland last year, and followed, as he believes, by Russian police who desire to arrest him and return him to Russia, Vasil Kotoff, a member of a noble Polish family, has given up his position with a local packing house, and fled to the far west in an effort to hide his identity from his would-be oppressors.

While the student riots were in progress in Warsaw, Poland, last year, young Kotoff, according to his story, mounted on a horse and headed one of the processions of rebellious subjects of the czar. He was there to denounce the czar for not giving Poland her promised assembly. He is arrested and placed in prison. Through an interpreter Kotoff told this of his escape.

"With two others I escaped. We spent two weeks in a wheat field hidden on grain and fruit. After making our way we reached Germany. In order to cross the border out of Russia we walked into the sea at night under an average of four strokes of the czar. He was there to denounce the czar for not giving Poland her promised assembly. He is arrested and placed in prison. Through an interpreter Kotoff told this of his escape.

"I went to San Antonio, Tex., where I worked in a mill. I made my way to Kansas City by riding the trucks. Now I want to go west so no one will know me."

"I would have been your punishment" he was asked.

"Death, or perhaps, if I had friends, a life sentence in a Siberian prison, chained to a truck which I would have been compelled to run all day."

Kotoff speaks four languages, but very little English.

FARMER KILLS HIS WIFE.

Says That She Attacked Him with a Bread-Knife.

Waverly, Minn., June 29.—John J. Mooney, a well-to-do farmer living near here, killed his wife shortly after noon Friday. There he came to town and surrendered himself. He says that when he went home to dinner he found no preparations made for his wife and when he complained to his wife she told him to cook his own dinner. He was doing so when the woman attacked him with a bread-knife, cutting him on the wrist. Mooney had a block of wood in his hand, which he was about to put into the stove. He hit his wife over the head with this and killed her instantly.

HOLOGAUST IN HONGKONG.

Five Hundred Chinese Perish in Burning of a Theater.

Victoria, B. C., June 28.—A horrible holocaust is reported in mail advices from Hongkong, where 500 Chinese of the audience of a Chinese theater and the actors were burned to death when the theater was destroyed by fire.

The flames spread rapidly and the building collapsed, blocking the entrance with burning debris. The fire is said to have been due to the lighting of explosives concealed under the floor of the theater, the fire following an explosion.

SUNDAY NOT A WEEK DAY.

Novel Question Raised by Saloon-keeper in Seymour, Wis.

Seymour, Wis., June 28.—L. A. Stammer, a saloonkeeper here, has raised a novel question. He was recently arrested for keeping open his saloon after 11 o'clock Sunday night. He will fight the case, claiming that the ordinance under which he was arrested reads: "Shall be closed each and all week days at 11 o'clock p. m." Stammer claims that Sunday is not a week day.

Arkansas Briber Is Pardoned.

Little Rock, Ark., June 28.—Gov. Pinal Thursday issued a pardon to F. O. Dute, formerly state senator from Carroll county, convicted of the bribery of Senator R. B. Adams of Grant county and sentenced to the state prison for two years. Dute began his sentence January 1, 1907. The action of Gov. Pinal was based on a largely signed petition from every section of the state.

Body Found in Car of Lime.

Durant, I. T., June 28.—Workmen unloading a carload of lime at Armstrong, Md., made a gruesome discovery in the shape of the remains of a human body in a sun-burned box. The bones were bare, the flesh having been eaten by the lime packed in the box. The car was billed from Henrietta to Ada and rebelled from Ada to Armstrong. Federal authorities are investigating.

St. Paul Men Accused of Fraud.

St. Paul, Minn., June 27.—Lew A. Wood, George W. Wood, Bruce D. Tuttle and Martin P. Quigley were arrested by United States deputy marshals Friday afternoon on warrants charging them with using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes.

Bechtel Given Five Years.

Minneapolis, Minn., June 29.—W. F. Bechtel, former president of the Northwestern National Life Insurance company, was sentenced Friday to state's prison for five years. He was convicted of grand larceny from the company while in office.

CURRENT PROBLEMS.

YALE'S CREW WINS MAGNIFICENT RACE

DEFEATS HARVARD BY ONLY A SCANT BOAT LENGTH IN FOUR MILES.

New London, Conn., June 28.—The largest crowd that ever witnessed a race on the Thames river Yale crew Thursday evening, rowing on an average of four strokes to the minute less than Harvard, held the last half mile, eight feet out of their speed and won a magnificent contest by a scant boat length.

E. H. Harriman Arrested.—Magnate Ignores Course Rules and Is Made Prisoner by President Roosevelt's Naval Aide.

Columbus, O., July 1.—Cromwell Dixon, a 14-year-old aeronaut, made an ascent Sunday in his "sky cycle" and was carried up more than a mile by an adverse air current and drifted several miles before he was able to land. The propeller of the airship is run by foot power, and Dixon has been able to handle it readily in a light breeze.

Sunday after the ship had ascended a short distance, it was caught by a strong current of air which whirled it about, and it shot rapidly upward until only the gas bag could be discerned by the naked eye. After being up about half an hour, Dixon landed safely several miles away from the starting point.

The boy was nervous throughout his trying experience, and declared that he did not feel concerned at any time for his safety, although thousands of people below were much alarmed.

AUTO PLUNGES OFF BLUFF.

Falls 40 Feet Into Lake—One Man Dangerously Hurt.

Ortonville, Minn., July 1.—While going at a high rate of speed Sunday afternoon, an automobile containing three persons suddenly swerved and went over a sheer embankment of 40 feet into Big Stone lake. One of the passengers was probably fatally injured, another is seriously hurt and all had narrow escapes from drowning.

Those in the automobile were: Charles and Walter Bucholz, prominent merchants of Appleton, and the three-year-old son of Walter. They were driving along the lake shore road which, at the point where the accident happened, runs along the edge of a bluff at the highest point of the main cliff beyond the control of the driver, swerved and went directly over the embankment. The heavy car did not turn over as it fell, but landed in 20 feet of water. Charles was struck by the steering wheel and received internal injuries which may prove fatal. A rescue launch was near the scene of the accident, and the men on board hastened to rescue the automobilists.

FIVE SABAYERS ARRESTED.

Stolen Gold Ore Worth $50,000 Recovered at Goldfield, Nev.

Goldfield, Nev., July 1.—Five assayers were arrested Saturday and 1,500 pounds of high grade ore alleged to have been stolen from Little Florence mine and valued at $50,000 was recovered. The men under arrest are E. J. Smith, S. P. France, G. J. Traub, Henry Lutzschel and Fred Lutzschel. All gave bail in the sum of $1,000 and the cases were set for hearing on July 12.

Arizona Town's Saloons Burn.

El Paso, Tex., June 28.—Five Wednesday night destroyed the entire saloon section of Morenci, Ariz. The loss aggregates $100,000. Twenty-seven buildings were wiped out and there was only $3,000 insurance.

Cincinnati Professor Dies.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 28.—The eminent physicist of the University of Cincinnati, who had just been granted a year's leave of absence for the benefit of his health, died at his home in this city Friday.

For Direct Election of Senators.

Washington, D. C., June 28.—The assembly Friday by a vote of 69 to 37 passed the senate resolution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote.

Francis Murphy Is Dead.

Los Angeles, Calif., July 1.—Francis Murphy, the entertainment lecturer, died at 10:30 a. m. Sunday.

Fifteen Hurt in a Wreck.

Springfield, Ark., July 1.—A south-bound passenger train on the Frisco road was wrecked Sunday at Johnson Station, five miles south of here, by the derailing of a train, causing the wrecking of two sleepers and two coaches to leave the rails and fall on their sides. Fifteen persons were badly bruised.

ROCKEFELLER MUST COME, SAYS LANDIS

FEDERAL JUDGE AT CHICAGO IN SISTS ON QUESTIONING THE OIL KING.

Chicago, June 29.—Efforts to thwart the serving of a subpoena on John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, were halted Friday when Judge Landis in the federal court warned Attorney John B. Miller for the oil trust that the head of the great combine must have to appear personally and that an excuse would be accepted.

Mr. Miller appealed to Judge Landis in a conference held in the judge's chambers with the United States District Attorney Simms and Assistant District Attorney Wilkerson to allow others to appear in Mr. Rockefeller's stead.

Miller's Appeal Unsuccessful.

"He is an old man," said Mr. Rockefeller's attorney, speaking of his millionaire client, "and he has to leave them and come to Chicago to appear before your honor personally."

Mr. Rockefeller's wealth and his great interests make no difference to this court," smiled Judge Landis.

The subpoena will have to be served," Judge Landis continued, "and Mr. Rockefeller will have to come into court and answer the questions which must be answered before we can get at the bottom of this question of fixing the up the oil company."

Additional subpoenas were issued Friday for three more chiefs of the Standard Oil's subsidiary companies. These are F. Q. Barstow, H. R. Payne and W. M. Hutchinson of New York, all officials of the Union Tank Line.

Subpoenas Reach New York.

New York, June 29.—Subpoenas requiring the presence of John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, William Rockefeller, H. R. Rogers, John R. Archbold and a number of other officers of the company, to testify as witnesses before the federal grand jury at Chicago on July 6, were issued by United States Marshal Henkel Friday. Marshal Henkel was unable to serve subpoenas upon John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller of the company, as they are now in Europe, and the subpoenas will be returned with notice to that effect.

John D. Rockefeller, William Rockefeller and Charles M. Pratt were out of the city, and Marshal Henkel expected that a day or two would be required to get the Standard Oil officials to Chicago. The marshal personally served the subpoenas on John D. Archbold, William T. Howe, Charles T. White, James A. Moffet, president of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, and H. E. Felton, of the Union Tank Line.

Jury Disagrees in Oil Case.

Findings, O. June 29.—The jury in the first trial of the case of John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil company, charged with violating the anti-trust laws, Friday reported to Judge Duncan that it had reached a verdict. Subsequently it is said, the jury stood six to four for acquittal, and when the disagreement report was brought in, the judge directed the jury for acquittal. The case was given to the jury on Wednesday last.

NAMED TO TEST MRS. EDDY.

Federal Judge Aldrich Will Determine Her Mental State.

Concord, N. H., June 29.—Judge E. G. Aldrich, of Littleton, was appointed master to determine the competency of Mrs. Mary Baker E. Eddy by Judge Robert N. Chamberlain, of the supreme court, late Friday. The master is named in connection with the case of Mrs. Eddy's son, George W. Glover, of Lead, S. D., and others as "next friends" for an accounting of Mrs. Eddy's property.

It is directed to ascertain determine and report whether Mrs. Mary Baker E. Eddy was capable of intelligently managing, controlling and conducting her financial affairs and property interests, March 1, 1907, and during such time thereafter that date as may to the master seem reasonable. No limitations are made as to the evidence to be introduced. The master is directed to make and file his report with the clerk of the court on or before September 30, 1907.

Lightning Kills Mother and Son.
St. Paul.—Mrs. Clara N. Lemon and her 14-year-old son, Clarence Loraine Lemon, were instantly killed by lightning at their home, 174 Van Buren street, Hamline.

Death came instantly to them. Mount Lemon, 12 years old, was unharmed, although he was only a few feet away.

Mrs. Lemph had been cleaning house and when the storm came up she was hurrying to get several articles from the closet. The hat was a carpet which hung across two wire lines between two trees. Under the carpet, which formed a tent, the two boys had been playing, and the mother called them to come out and help her. They both came out and the older boy stood directly under one line with his mother while Mount stood under the other. Just as they were about to reach for the carpet the bolt came. Mrs. Lemon fell backward and Loraine forward, almost at the feet of his brother.

Druggist Law Upheld.
St. Paul.—An examination before the state board of pharmacy is not necessary in order to become a licensed pharmacist in Minnesota, if the applicant has had fifteen years' experience. This is the opinion of Judge Andrew Holt, who filed an order dissolving the injunction proceedings recently brought by the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association to restrain the particular board from issuing certificates to 119 applicants under the law recently passed by the legislature.

Judge Holt holds that it is not within the province of the courts to question the wisdom or expediency of a statute of which the legislature is the sole judge. It is announced that the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical association will take an appeal to the supreme court.

Sixteen Skeletons Found.
Mankato.—A total of sixteen headless skeletons has been removed from the small natural quarry on Arthur Mitchell's farm in South Bend township, and further excavation was ceased for the present.

A giant crowd had been formed between the vertebrae of one of the skeletons, thus revealing the manner of death of at least one of the men whose bones were found. The bones of this particular skeleton were presented to the state university for preservation.

Thomas Hughes, a historian of local repute and well known in the state historical society, holds the theory that the bones found were those of Sioux Indians killed by enemies and carried by French miners more than a half century ago.

Over the Falls on Logs.
Minneapolis.—Over St. Anthony Falls on two logs and a live is the remarkable experience of Anthony Aspinwall, a seventeen-year-old Chicago boy, who made the perilous trip involuntarily.

The young fellow awoke from the falls clinging desperately to two small logs on which he had been sitting near the river bank above the falls. He was whirled in the rapids below the falls and thrown from the logs. By hard swimming he managed to reach Spirit Island, a rocky place where he was rescued in a boat by Patrolman Anderson and Larson.

Aspinwall is believed to be the only person who has shot the falls and lived.

Mother and Child Drowned.
Fridley.—Mrs. John Stumm and her father were drowned in a canoe, three miles north of here, and the husband and father had a narrow escape from sharing their fate.

Mr. and Mrs. Stumm and the baby started in a buggy to drive to the home of the woman's father. They attempted to ford the creek, which had been swollen by recent rains. One of the horses slipped and fell, dragging the other down and overturning the buggy. Mrs. Stumm held tightly to her infant, but the strong current in the creek soon washed both the woman and the child into deep water and they were soon drowned. Stumm clung to the buggy, which was for an hour finally rescued by a fisherman. The bodies of the woman and child were recovered.

Train Kills Two.
New Prague.—James Stronak, 30 years of age, and Carl Kronak, 25 years of age, residents of this place, were both killed in an accident on the Minneapolis & St. Louis railway. The two men were driving near a crossing between New Prague and Jordan, and as some way the train struck the wagon, killing both men and wrecking the wagon.

Fall From Wagon Kills.
Little Falls.—Herman Carlson, an aged resident of Darling, died as the result of an injury received at Darling station. The 68-year-old man had been drinking and was sitting on a wagon when he suddenly lost his balance and fell to the ground. He picked himself up saying he was not hurt, but later developed that he had sustained two broken ribs and other internal injuries, causing peritonitis, from which he died. The deceased was seventy years old and was survived by two sons.

Diphtheria Epidemic.
Duluth.—Northern Minnesota is in the grip of an epidemic of diphtheria, and in some of the smaller towns on the range practically one-fourth of the entire population is said to be ill with the disease. Numerous deaths have been reported, and the health authorities have been making strenuous efforts to check the disease. They have succeeded to an extent, and although there still are many cases, conditions are reported to be greatly improved. Cohasset, Grand Rapids, Eveleth and Bemidji are among the towns most seriously affected. In Cohasset practically a quarter of the entire population has been taken ill, a more or less virulent form, and three and four deaths in a single family have been reported.

Mankato to Have Street Cars.
Mankato.—A street railway is now assured in Mankato, to be built entirely by local capitalists. The syndicate of local capitalists agreed to put up $60,000 if the citizens generally would furnish $20,000. The last $2,000 was subscribed and managed has been telegraphed for to be shipped at once. The franchise granted by the council in the spring expires July 15 unless active construction has been begun, and men will be put to work at once to hold the franchise. The company will not erect a power house at present, but will obtain power from the local lighting company. Five miles of track will be laid at once.

Select Hospital Sites.
St. Peter.—L. A. Rosing and A. M. Ringdahl, members of the state board of control, visited the St. Peter state hospital site for the tubercular ward. At present the hospital has no facilities for separating and treating patients suffering from tuberculosis, but the legislature voted an appropriation of $60,000 for the construction of a ward, the appropriation becoming available Aug. 1. The site chosen for the building is a short distance south of the nurses' dormitory. The structure will be built in mission style.

Two Trains Killed.
Detroit.—Chas. Anderson, stationary engineer, and Brakeman Lennan were killed and Engineer W. C. Greenback was seriously injured by the derailment of a caboose and flat car on the Northern Pacific near Detroit. The accident occurred to a work train which was hauling gear to what is known as "the mule dump."

NEWS NOTES.
St. Peter.—For the second time within a year the Round Grove creamery in Sibley county has been destroyed by fire. It was struck by lightning. Burned, it was destroyed. The Round Grove creamery was destroyed by fire. It was struck by lightning. Burned, it was destroyed.

Warren.—There was a large attendance at the late sale here, and 6,100 acres were sold at an average price of about $7. One tract sold at $20.50 per acre. Several sales were made to local farmers.

Mankato.—Mr. and Mrs. William Mecke of Dodge Center have identified the body of an unknown man that has been lying on a morgue table in this city for a number of days. Mecke's uncle, John Moore, a retired farmer from near Sleepy Eye.

Ada.—Mr. and Mrs. John Pfund celebrated their silver wedding at their home in this city. Mr. Pfund was born in Switzerland seventy-five years ago and was married to Lena Hampling at Red Wing fifty years ago. He is a veteran of the civil war.

Perham.—P. J. Radke of Staples was drowned in Little Pine lake while fishing. He and a companion were fishing at a point called the bend, where the water is deep. The boat capsized and Radke immediately sank. The companion escaped by swimming. He is survived by a widow and three children.

St. Paul.—From a laborer at $12 a week to a prospective capitalist with $40,000 in his pocket is the change brought about by an invention of Christian Young of Mendota. Young has been working at South St. Paul in the Swift packing plant for several years. He has worked at an invention of a combination wagon and sleigh. He took out a patent recently and sold his exclusive rights of the invention to an eastern concern for $24,000. He still has the Canadian and other foreign rights.

St. Paul.—Drafted for the receipts of three of the state legislatures during May were received at the state auditor's office aggregating more than $10,000. The state reformatory at the Clove center has $100,000 in the school for the deaf at Farland, $230,000, and the school for the blind at the same place, $25,000.

Duluth.—A barrel of lime which was being stacked on the claim of J. Murphy, near French river, Carl Hugh, an employe, and William Murphy, the son, were destroyed by a fire which broke out on the claim. The two men were badly burned and may lose their eyesight.

INSURANCE INVESTMENTS.
How One Company's Assets Are Distributed in the South and West.

In connection with its withdrawal from Texas, along with many other companies, rather than to submit to the new law which requires that 75% of the reserves of that state, which are invested in securities of that state, which securities shall be deposited in the state and subjected to heavy taxation in addition to the large tax now imposed on life insurance premiums, the Equitable Life Assurance Society has made public the distribution of its assets at the end of the second year of the new management.

The Equitable now has $10,958,000 invested in Texas, which is twice as much as the amount invested in California. The most decided policy of the new management is the additional taxation would be an injustice to its policyholders in other states. It is proposed that such penalty should be levied on the other states.

The Equitable's report shows that more than 37% of its total reserves are now invested in the southern and western states, while only 25% of its total insurance is carried in these states. Its investments are distributed as follows: Ala., $3,099,000; Ariz., $774,000; Ark., $4,023,000; Cal., $7,145,000; Col., $5,222,000; Fla., $4,224,000; Ill., $4,048,000; Idaho, $5,197,000; Ind., $12,517,000; Iowa, $5,590,000; Kan., $1,432,000; Ky., $2,621,000; La., $3,054,000; Md., $2,307,000; Mich., $6,009,000; Minn., $2,065,000; Miss., $767,000; Mont., $2,100,000; Mo., $1,000,000; Neb., $7,525,000; Nev., $510,000; New Mex., $1,275,000; N. HAPPENED AT BAD TIME.
Minister's Fall Significant in View of Previous Wards.

In a small church in one of the mining towns of Pennsylvania was a pulpit box antique and unique. It was about the size and shape of a gun barrel, was elevated from the floor about four feet and was fastened to the wall. The ascent was by narrow winding stairs.

A minister from a neighboring town, a man of great vigor and vehemence, preached there one Sunday. He preached the old doctrine and shouted out with great force the words of his text:

"The righteous shall stand, but the wicked shall fall!"

Just as these words escaped from his lips the pulpit broke from its fastenings and he fell out and rolled over on the floor before his congregation. In an instant he was on his feet again and said:

"I'm not hurt, and I don't mind the fall much, but I do hate the connection."

New Automatic Rifle.
The astounding or automatic mark it is now being seriously considered as the infantry arm of the future. The equipment of the great armies of the world with an improved rifle is hardly completed when the mechanics begin work on a new weapon. At the recent examinations of the German War office, the new rifle was the subject of the themes for discussion. The rifle now on trial has a magazine holding ten cartridges, the recoil is utilized to load and cock. Consequently the soldier can remain quiet in position, never removing his eye from the target, and fire his ten shots—New York Sun.

BANDIT'S SON AT BAR.

JESSE JAMES, JR., TO PRACTICE LAW AT KANSAS CITY.

Quits Pawnbroking Business to Enter Legal Profession—Receipt of Diploma Happiest Moment of Life.

Kansas City, Mo.—Jesse James, Jr., only son of the famous bandit whose wild career was stopped 25 years ago by a bullet from Bob Ford's revolver in St. Joseph, has obtained a splendidly furnished office in the Schutte building and will practice law in Kansas City. Jesse, Jr., has been a resident of Kansas City nearly all his life. He wrote a book about his father, and the past few years has been running a pawnshop.

"When I stood on the platform," Jesse said the other evening, "and received my diploma from the Kansas City school of law, I experienced the proudest moment of my life—excepting, of course, the day I was married."

Attorney James spoke from a cushioned chair in the parlor of his neat home on Elmwood avenue. On a table before him were half a dozen waffles crowded with white and red roses, which he had received at his graduation. On a piano at his back stood the class picture.

Jesse didn't say anything about his winning an honor prize at his graduation. Nor did he tell that he worked long hours by day in his pawnshop.

"I have quit the pawnbroking business," Jesse continued. "I am going to practice law. I took the state examination at Jefferson City last June, and have been dipping into the law a little since. I like the profession and have done very well at it for a beginner. I suppose my father would say I am rather old to start in my life work. I am 31, you know."

Jesse stopped rather abruptly, as if he had started to say more than he wished to say. Perhaps he was thinking of the fact that his father was killed when he was 34, only three years older than Jesse, Jr., is today.

DOUBLE-DECKERS IN LONDON.
"Two-Story" Cars Are Popular With English Tramway Patrons.

Brooklyn—In this country, where elevated roads limit the height of city cars, we have had no opportunity given to us by the traffic managers to view the double-deck trolley, so much favored by the English. Our English cousins think more of the outdoor life, anyway, and when on an old London "bus" they wanted to be on the roof where the air is fresh and free from the upper-deck bus, now succeeded by the motor omnibus in London, is the forerunner of the double-deck trolley car in England. in the same branch of sport, and it is still rarer to find in them the sons of a man who while at the same college was an athlete of such marked ability that his reputation is still familiar to the undergraduates of his alma mater. This distinction belongs to the Bacon family, which for two generations has been prominent in socially and in athletics at Harvard. Robert Bacon, the father, who is assistant secretary of state, was graduated from Harvard in the famous class of 1859, in which President Roosevelt was a member. While in college Mr. Bacon was a member of the varsity crew, and of the football and track teams. He is best known, however, as a splendid oarsman, and his sons all follow in his footsteps.

Robert Lee Bacon, the oldest son, who is a senior and the captain of the varsity crew, prepared like all his brothers at Groton. In his freshman year he was member of his freshman football squad, and captain of his class crew. For the last two years he has rowed at six on the varsity. Like his father, he is a man of marked physical and a very powerful one. He is also making a very good crew captain. He is very popular, and at the recent class election he was chosen chairman of the class committee.

Gasper C. Bacon, the second brother, also went in for football and baseball in his freshman year. He played on the 1905 freshman class football team, and was a member of the class four-oared crew. He is not as well known as his brother, but he is a good oar, and last year and during the present season he was elected steadily in the second varsity eight. In his sophomore year he was elected president of his class, and he is one of the three undergraduate members of the Harvard athletic committee.

Ellet C. Bacon, the youngest of the three brothers, did not play football, but has stuck steadily to rowing. He is well known in his freshman crew, and was recently elected captain. In the that matter, the old London horse cars had two decks, also, and may have contributed to this upper-deck habit. Among the finest cars of this type are the new cars of the London United Electric tramways, having the upper deck enclosed and roofed in. And at each end of the upper deck is a large platform for the accommodation of smokers.

Impossible.
"The German incapacity for humor is more proverbial than his aversion to ventilation. During the recent term, says a writer in Harper's Weekly, a year or so ago an American student in Berlin was attending a lecture in a room which was very hot. To keep awake he began whispering to a German at his side the story of Mark Twain about the man who lived all his life in a chamber with a hot fire. The relatives of this man, as it is well known, decided after his death to have his remains cremated; and the family story occurs when the undertaker, opening the door of the oven to see whether the process was complete, was surprised to find the corpse had not been cremated and had in fact been buried. His German friend remained for several moments in a perplexed study. Then he leaned over to the student and asked how could that be? The man was dead!"

PINE COUNTY PIONEER.

ED. C. GOTTRY, Editor and Prop.

Entered in the Post Office at Pine City as Second Class Matter.

PINE CITY MINN. July 5, 1907

A LAW should be placed on our statute books prohibiting the hauling of loads on a public highway in a wagon with a tire of less than four inches in width.

In a number of states the Post Office department has discontinued rural mail service over routes where the roads were not kept in good condition by the patrons. One of the requirements of the system is, that the roads be kept in good condition at all times of the year. Patrons of rural routes who wish a prompt and efficient service must see to it that they do their share by keeping the highways in good repair.

BEYOND all question both political platforms next year will declare in favor of government aid for good roads. A few years ago such a proposition would have been laughed at, but today it is a great national demand, the outgrowth of changed conditions and public enlightenment. The automobile has had its share in bringing about the change in sentiment. It makes but little difference where the sentiment comes from. It is here and there is a great national demand for good roads. With the free rural mail delivery, the telephone and good roads there will be but little difficulty in keeping the boys on the farm and urban life will be the joy it should be.

JAPANESE politics may be affected by the talk of war with America and there is no question but that is the subject of much of the newspaper talk that has been going on during the past few weeks. The recent order of the Tokyo government that all Japanese papers containing appeals to Japanese hatred toward the United States be suppressed, shows conclusively that there is no more thoughts of war in Japanese circles than there is in America. The fact that the naval authorities of our government recently sent a large consignment of coal for naval vessels to Yokohama, where it would be useless to us in case of hostilities and of immense value to our enemies shows very plainly that our naval authorities do not consider war as imminent.

It has long been known by the natives of South America that the juice of the fruit of the ripe pineapple being of such antiseptic qualities, will thoroughly destroy the germs of cataract, consumption and influenza. A preparation known as Syrup of Pine Apple Expectant, prepared by Hoar Bros. & Co., contains these essential qualities. It is sold by L. E. Breckenridge for 50 cents.

Miss Irene Nalbach arrived here Saturday from a trip to the Jamestown Exposition. She will remain here a guest at the Pennington home for about three weeks, after which she will return to her home in Montana accompanied by Miss Sadie Pennington, who goes there to teach school.

Last Saturday evening a surprise was tendered Miss Mary Boesch and Mr. Frank Kruse at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerd E. Kruse. The evening was spent in dancing and at midnight a luncheon was served, after which the guests departed for their homes having spent a very enjoyable evening.

Jas. Hurley was in St. Paul on business relating to the incorporation of Hurley Bros.' wholesale liquor company. The concern was incorporated under the laws of Minnesota with a capital of $150,000. At the meeting held Monday Mr. Hurley was elected president, Mrs. Kate Hurley, vice-president and Wm. Hurley secretary and treasurer.

L. W. Buzzell and wife, of St. Paul, were Pine City visitors Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Buzzell is very anxious to secure some of Pine county's real estate. He has traveled from the Atlantic to the Pacific, having spent the past winter in California, but in all his travels he has never found a place that suits him as well as northeastern Minnesota and especially that part of it adjacent to Pine City.

About half of the Y. M. C. A. boys, who have been camping at the Ton, Pokegama lake, departed for their homes in Minneapolis last Saturday afternoon. They report having had the time of their lives, and informed us that they would come again next year, and also tell their friends about the beauties of this region, and the advantages of camping at Pokegama.

The habit of happiness can best be cultivated by finishing your floors, woodwork, furniture, walls, ceilings, bargees and wagons with Perma-Lac. Sold by Smith The Hardware Man.

Doan's Kidney Pills relieve backache
Cure every kidney ill.
Philip Jacob, wood carver, of 747 Fifth Street, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "I have had no cause to change my good opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills that I formed in 1898 when they cured me of kidney complaint. That cure has remained permanent. While I was never confined to my bed from the trouble I was not very far from it, and for a while I did not know what was the cause, but finally I concluded that it was kidney and bladder trouble. There was a soreness in the small of my back and considerable pain. I let it run on for a time, thinking that it would get better, but found that I had to do something. I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at a drug store and I noticed in a few days that there was a great change for the better, and in a short time I was thoroughly cured. I have not felt any pain or soreness since that time. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.
For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agent for the United States.

THINK MORE - SPEND LESS

Why is it that the average man is worth so much less in money and property than we have a right to expect him to be? It isn't because he doesn't make the money, for the average man in industries and has earned from $10,000 to $30,000 in the past ten years. It is because he doesn't give much serious thought either to his income or his outgo. Serious thought would teach him the true value of a dollar; then he would spend carefully and save steadily. That system soon places any man ahead of his fellows.

A BANK ACCOUNT helps you to realize the value of money, makes it easier to handle your financial affairs and to have a growing balance after paying necessary expenses. We invite your account and will help you save.

MRS. DE PASSE OF NEW YORK CITY

"I Consulted Several Physicians, but they Did Me No Good. Peruna and Manala-in Helped Me."

MRS. ALINE DEPASSE.
Mrs. Alene DePasse, 770 E. 150th St., New York, N. Y., writes:

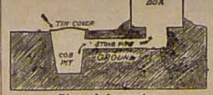

"It gives me pleasure to testify to the curative qualities of Peruna and Manala-in. I was afflicted for over seven years with catarrh of the head, throat and digestive organs. I consulted many physicians, but they did me no good. One day I happened to read some testimonials in your Peruna Almanac. I decided to try Peruna and Manala-in. I bought a bottle of each, and after taking them for a week I noticed a change for the better. So I kept it up, and after using twelve bottles I was perfectly cured. I also gave the medicine to my children and they had the same beneficial result. I would never be without these remedies in the house. I highly recommend Peruna and Manala-in to all my friends, and in fact to everybody. Miss Mildred Grey, 110 Welmar St., Apollonia, W. Va., writes: 'It gives me pleasure to recommend Peruna for catarrh of the stomach. I had this disease a number of years and could not enjoy a mouthful of food that I ate. It was indeed a great relief when I hit upon Peruna and Manala-in. I decided results from the first. I took six bottles before I felt entirely cured of my trouble, but I had an aggravated case.'"

SMOKE HOLE.

Easily Constructed and Will Cure Meat Perfectly.

A writer in the Dakota Farmer gives this account of his simple plan for everything.

"After the meat has been in the brine about two weeks I take it out, put it in a tub of cold water one day and night, and it is then ready to smoke. Take a hole about four feet high and two or three feet wide, and knock both ends out. Dig a hole about 2 1/2 feet deep and two feet square; then dig a trench the length of a stove pipe and eight inches deep. Dig a small hole at opposite end from the large hole, put in an old joint of stove pipe and cover over with dirt, then put box over the small hole and bank up with dirt. Put a tin over large hole; an old joint of pipe, uncoupled and flattened out, will do. Make a fire out of corn-cobs and you have a smoke box equal to any smoke house.

MAKE HASTE IN HAYING.

Try and Have Cutting Done in First Bloom.

The nearer hay approaches grass the better feed it makes. To accomplish this it is necessary to cut the crop early to secure it in good condition. In the first blossom is the ideal time. Farmers used to think it necessary to dry hay excessively before storing. Advanced ideas have proved this method entirely wrong. The natural juices of the hay should be retained as far as possible, and the drying makes the hay dry and woody, and removes a large part of its natural juices. I commence haying usually the last week in June, says a writer in Farm and Home, and, weather permitting, my hay is stored during July. I find it a good plan to put the mow on late in the afternoon. This leaves it for the first sun in the morning and it will be a good deal during the night which aids the drying next day. It takes half the forenoon to get the water out of it. Some think the dew will carry hay out in the afternoon, but it will not do so unless cut early enough to dry considerably. The middle of the forenoon the tedder should be put on and worked until noon. The tedder is the most valuable hay tool that we have. Without it much hay would get wet, that otherwise is safely stored in semi-dull weather. Hay dries very fast when constantly stirred. This is only possible with a tedder. By one o'clock the hay is ready to rake and cart, unless it is very early in the season or very heavy hay. In that case it should be put up in good sized cocks and left until the next day, when it should be opened a little to air, then carted to the barn. Most of the necessary drying has been accomplished in the cocks. There is a little danger of hay mowing-burning from the natural juices; it is caused by introducing hay that has been wet. For this reason it is essential that hay that has been wet should be thoroughly dried before storing. The quicker hay is cured after cutting the better it is. Swale hay requires more drying than timothy or clover hay. It is from mowing-burning. Swale should be cut early; it is practically worthless cut late.

Managing the Workers.

Managing the workers on a farm is a science in itself. It is a science that few have studied sufficiently. Planning out the work so that it may be done in the best manner and in the least time is equivalent to a saving in dollars and cents. Not only should the work be properly done and at the right time, but the time between different pieces of work should be as small as possible. Here is a point at which most waste occurs. It is like a man forgetting something at the cart and having to drive back miles to get it. No man can properly manage a set of workers without putting some thought on it. Thinking is not so easy as it seems. To think to a logical manner requires effort.

Now Cowpeas in Drills.

After about 15 years' experience with cowpeas and soy beans, I would not think of broadcasting them, says a writer in Farm and Home. I use a nine-inch drill, closing all but the center two feet apart. I set this to sow about one-half bushel seed per acre. I then cultivate two to four times according to the season. This will give a greater yield than when peas are broadcasted and the seed saved will pay for the cultivation. They are also easier to harvest. Row only when the ground is wet, which is usually just after corn planting. We often have a good crop of black peas after wheat.

HUMUS HOLDS WATER.

A Valuable Element to Have in the Soil.

Decayed and decaying vegetable matter in the soil greatly increases the power of the soil to hold water. This is a fact of such large consequence that our agricultural scientists are paying more and more attention to it. One of the professors at Cornell University undertook to prove the great value of humus as a holder of water. He took two samples of soil from places about 20 feet apart. Everything about the location was noted that the two samples should show the same water content. But in one of the locations three successive crops of crimson clover had been turned under. The sample of soil from the place where no clover had been turned under analyzed 8.75 per cent moisture; 1.91 per cent humus and 13 nitrogen. The sample from the soil where the crimson clover had been turned under analyzed 15 per cent moisture; 2.94 per cent humus and 21 nitrogen. This was a gain of 6.25 in moisture content; 1.03 humus content and .09 nitrogen content. There are very few people that stop to consider what the location square of land. Taking the soil to a depth of six inches it means that this 6.25 per cent increased moisture would amount to 9750 pounds or 487 tons of water. This amount of additional water would mean a great deal in a dry season. The turning under of an occasional crop of some green stuff means much, if it does nothing else than hold up the water content of the soil. It would take a great deal of springing from a hose to put on 48 tons of water. Many of the soils that are now unproductive would, says Farmer's Review, be productive if they had enough water to carry them over the dry spell of summer. But by bad farming methods the humus has been exhausted and this has reduced the capacity of the soil for carrying water through the dry season. The crops start well in the spring and seem to be doing nicely till the summer dry spell begins, when they at once sicken and some insect were assailing them. The trouble really is that the moisture supply was so light that it was soon exhausted and the soil could not supply more. This loss of water holding capacity has really been at the bottom of numerous crop failures in different localities. The humus supply of the soil can be kept up by growing deep rooting crops and by fertilizing them so heavily that they will develop great masses of roots. The growing under of crops grown for the purpose, of course adds much humus to the soil, but most farmers do not like to lose the use of the land for even a season. This may be avoided by growing some leguminous crop in the cornfield late in the season and turning under the soil late in the fall or early in the spring. Rotation of crops help to keep up the humus supply, if there is a grass sod to turn under occasionally.

Is the Sailor's Friend.

Sixty thousand sailors look to H. A. Hanbury for advice and for protection. Mr. Hanbury is the United States attorney general for the port of New York. He is the sailor's judge and jury. The men who sign on foreign craft now must appear before him for their papers instead of going to the consuls of the various countries. He decides all disputed questions between the men and their sailing masters. Many of the abuses of these men that formerly were common, such as compelling them to buy their outfits from the ship owners or captains, have been done away with under Mr. Hanbury's rule. His office is on the Battery park, New York, where he easily can reach all the ships leaving that port.

A BARBED WIRE REEL.

Handy Device Which Makes Handling of Wire Easy.

A very handy device to be used in handling barbed wire is shown here. Take two strips 2 1/2 inches wide and 40 inches long and bore holes through each end. Through these, says Farm and Home, put old broom handles or any round stick, and fasten by driving a nail through the square timber. Leave one loose so that it can be put through the reel of wire as shown in the cut. The spool of wire may be unrolled by drawing it over the ground with this simple device.

HINTS FOR FARMERS.

Don't let any clouds get between you and the sunshine.

The farmer's road to success is paved with good resolutions.

Lie down and stretch out a few minutes every day. Shut your eyes and let the world go by. You will be your good than anything else.

Trying to be a successful farmer without industry, economy and modern methods, is in the same line with perpetual motion—has not been solved.

Sip the cold water you drink these days. A lot of cold water gulped down will do the act to bring you back. You haven't the time nor strength to waste in that way.

When heavy winds come up, shut the doors at the barn and at the house. If you don't, you may find your roof away over in the back lot, and that would not be much fun. More than one building has been unroofed by leaving the doors open in a storm.—Farm Journal.

The Farmer's Living.

The farmer, with a little labor, can live like a prince, yet oftentimes he works the hardest and lives the poorest of any because he will not accept the goods provided. More properly speaking, will not raise them. What is better than a useless mason, yet how many never raise one, but are content to buy one now and then?

Mrs. James French, 65 West Street, Taunton, Mass., says: "When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was so run down and miserable that I could hardly endure it. Terrible pains in the back attacked me frequently and the kidney secretions were much disordered. I was a nervous wreck and there seemed no help. Doan's Kidney Pills brought my first relief and six boxes have so thoroughly cured and regulated my kidneys that there has been no return of my old troubles."

HERE'S ONE ON THE "ROOKEY."

Gets Sentry Call Twisted When Dazzled by Commander.

A drummer sometimes gets his orders twisted, but never quite so badly as the "rookie" I saw down at Chickamauga when the troops were being mustered in for the Spanish-American war, says a traveler in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

This boy, fresh from St. Louis, was on the way to the front and proud of it. He had his first assignment to guard duty and he had been carefully instructed as to calling "Who goes there?"

The officer in command of the division was a dignified marinet. The "rookie" had never seen him. About midnight the general came home from a reception in town. He was all fixed up in his dress lugs and he was the swellest thing the new guard ever saw. As the general passed his post the boy gazed at him open-mouthed. Just in time he remembered he was expected to say something. So he gasped:

"There goes who?"

ELEVEN YEARS OF ECZEMA.

Hands Cracked and Bleeding—Nail Gained of Finger—Cure Remedies Brought Prompt Relief.

"I had eczema on my hands for about eleven years. The hands cracked open in many places and bled. One of my fingers was so bad that the nail came off. I had tried so many remedies, and they all had failed to cure me. I had seen three doctors, but got no relief. Finally I got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent Pills. Of course I kept Cuticura Soap all the time for my hands, but the one cake of Soap and half a box of Cuticura Ointment cured them. I recommend the Cuticura Remedies to all suffering with eczema. For Hardening Drill.

Hardening an ordinary drill in sulphuric acid, states the English Mechanic, makes an edge that will cut tempered steel or facilitate cutting hard rock. The acid should be poured into a flat-bottomed vessel to a depth of about one-eighth of an inch. The point of the drill is heated to a dull cherry red, and dipped in the acid to that depth. This makes the point extremely hard, while the remainder remains soft. If the point breaks, re-harden, but with a little less acid in the vessel.

We Have The Goods...

Piper The Furniture Man

Are You Asleep?
SOMETIMES parents are forced to sit up and take notice of the dangers surrounding their children. Some times they allow themselves to sleep in the conviction that somehow all will be well. The ranks of the low and the vile of our cities are being recruited every day and the young men and young women who constitute the recruits are from homes as pure as are yours. It was a sad lesson the country got a few days ago when an aged Michigan clergyman went to Chicago to claim the body of his young daughter who had been murdered in a disreputable resort in that city. The old gentleman's expressions of grief are inspiring in that they exhibit a world of dislike by human love and show the depth of suffering of which a truly good man is capable. As he stood by the body of his murdered child he said "I knew all about how it happened. Those little girls, all full of life, think they can come to a big city and be strong enough to battle with all the temptations that go on in this world forever, and will as long as man lives. When my little girl left home she laughed and said: 'Don't you worry, pa; I will be all right.' She was so happy then. I do not know the young man who killed my little girl. I am going to take her home today. I want to be with her all by myself. Then I will tell her her father loves her just the same as he did when she used to come up behind him and put her hands over his eyes and say: 'Guess who it is.' Her father forgives her."
