THE PINE COUNTY FAIR

The Most Successful Exhibition in the History of the Fair Association Now in Progress.

Wednesday was the entering day for the 20th annual fair of the Pine County Agricultural Society, and the exhibits are fair in advance of any exhibited at any fair held by the society.

Among the exhibits that deserve especial mention is the fruit exhibit, which as far as it goes is much finer than any we saw at the state fair, and goes to prove that fruit can be raised in Pine County. In the display there are apples, plums, grapes, cherries, cranberries and crab apples. Those having charge of the arrangements of the exhibit showed good taste in the way they displayed the fruit.

The vegetable display is the finest collection that has ever been exhibited to this part of the state, and there are individual articles in this department that can not be excelled in any part of the state, not only in one particular, but in a great many.

Another exhibit is that of the schools. One could remain in this department the entire three days of the fair and then not see the whole of the work done by the school children. It is all good, but space and time, principally the latter, will not allow us to go into detail in this department; for to do justice to the pupils would take at least a couple of columns of space.

The pure seed exhibit is also very fine and Superintendent Blankenship, as well as those who have grain in exhibition, can well feel proud of the display.

Last, but not least is the display of Griggs, Cooper & Co., of their Pine county product of pickles. This display occupies a stand in the center of the large tent, and will be looked at to wonder by the crowds that will visit the best fair ever held north of St. Paul.

The sports at the fair grounds yesterday afternoon were first a running race, in which Jas. Carroll was first money, J. D. Wilson second, and S. B. Wells third; heat two in three. In this race there were eight horses entered. The time was one minute and two seconds for each heat. Jas. Carroll's and J. D. Wilson's horses made as pretty a race as one would care to look at.

The next thing on the program was an address by John E. Lindsey, who spoke for about 25 minutes to the farmers, on the dairy interests. He said some good things which, if the farmers follow, will advance the dairy interests in this country.

Curtis Johnson, of Rush City, then spoke for fifteen minutes in regard to the American Society of Equity. He urged all farmers to join the society, and thus advance their own interests. Curtis is a good talker, and did himself great on this occasion.

Then followed the slack wire performances and the stage hold-up, which were both very good.

The trotting race in which horses from Pine City, Sandstone and Rush City competed, was then pulled off.

Joe Neubauer's "Bill" took first money, Chas. Davis's "Ben" second, and Tom McGuire's "Jack" third. The first heat was trotted in 3:08; the second in 3:11, and the third in 3:14.

The crowd in attendance went away well satisfied with the afternoon's enjoyment.

CUTTING AT ROYALTON

Frank Sweenberg Slashes John Colin With a Knife at the Clint Store Saturday Evening.

Saturday evening a number of young men from Greeley were on their way to attend a dance given at the residence of Frank Sweenberg. While passing this residence of John Sweenberg, a brother of Frank's, a dog came out and barked at them, so they tried to drive him back, and threatened to shoot him. Mr. Sweenberg thought they had reference to him and can cross lots to his brother Frank's place; the boys passed on down the road to the Clint store where they had a scrap. During the alteration Frank Sweenberg went outside and called John Colin out; in a short time Colin's comrades heard him calling for help. Upon going out they found that he had been slashed with a knife, he having been cut in six or seven places, having a cut through the cheek and across the chin, another through the cheek and across the upper lip, and several gashes in the head and shoulders.

With the assistance of his companions young Colin walked to the store of John Lindgren, at Greeley, where a physician was called, who dressed the wounds, taking eighteen stitches to sew up the cuts. Young Colin is doing as well as could be expected considering the manner in which he was slashed.

Sheriff Hawley was notified by phone Sunday morning and drove out and arrested Frank Sweenberg whom he brought to this place. He had his hearing Monday and his bail was fixed, which he furnished, and he is again at liberty.

WEDDING AT THE INN

Karl W. Knapp and Gladys Slocomb Married on the Banks of Historic Lake Pokegama.

Saturday afternoon, Sept. 21st, at a little after 1 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents at The Inn on Lake Pokegama, occurred the ceremony that made Dr. Karl W. Knapp and Miss Gladys Slocomb man and wife. The ceremony was performed on the lawn in front of the hotel under a wedding bell of ferns suspended from an arch; rugs were laid from the steps of the hotel to the arch. The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, Rev. L. V. Slocomb, of the M. E. church, of Webster, S. D. The bridesmaids were the Misses Mary Truesdale, of Taylors Falls, a cousin of the groom, and Viola Knapp, of Dubuque, Iowa, a sister of the groom. Cleon Knapp, a cousin of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Slocomb, sister of the bride as maid of honor. The wedding march was played by Miss Goldie Reid. After the ceremony a wedding dinner of four courses was served.

Miss Slocomb is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Slocomb and came here with her parents about a year ago. She is an accomplished, talented young lady, and has made many friends during her stay here. Mr. Knapp came here last winter and is the resident dentist at this place. He is a hard working industrious young man and one bound to rise in his chosen profession.

Immediately after the dinner the happy couple and guests came by boat to Pine City and took the south bound limited for Dubuque, Iowa, and other southern towns. They will be at home to their friends after October 1st, in a suite of rooms in the new Veleno building of town.

The guests out of town were: Rev. L. V. Slocomb, Webster, S. D. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Knapp and two children, Viola and Ralph, Dubuque, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson, Sr., Osceola, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Richards and daughters, Ruth and Cala, Minneapolis; Mrs. Woods, Cleon Knapp and Mrs. M. E. Jones, Dennison, Iowa; and Mrs. Langdon, Minneapolis.

The Pioneer joins with the friends of Dr. and Mrs. Knapp in wishing them joy.

BIG BID FOR PRIZE CORN.

Up-to-date progressive men are deeply interested in the National Corn Exposition, Coliseum, Bldg., Chicago, October 5th to 19th. This is emphasized by a letter from Mr. S. W. Allerton, of Illinois. Mr. Allerton is a large owner of corn land in Illinois, and is especially interested in so farming as to maintain the fertility of Illinois soil. After expressing his pleasure concerning the Exposition, and calling attention to the necessity of maintaining fertility and thus securing continued good crops, he says: "I think the National Corn Exposition has started out in a great work, and I feel we should all contribute something to make it a great success. I will give $1,000 for the best fifty ears of corn shown at the exposition, and will donate the corn to be sold at auction, to help pay for this splendid enterprise."

Upon hearing of this offer, Mr. J. C. Vaughan, president of the Vaughn Seed Store of Chicago, wrote the general manager of the Exposition stating that he had just heard of Mr. Allerton's offer, and making the following additional offer: "We are very desirous of securing this prize corn for seed growing, and hereby offer you $1,500 for the best fifty ears of corn that shall be awarded the Allerton prize, such corn to be suitable for northern central Illinois and similar parallels." These two letters by leading men of Chicago are but an index of the feeling throughout the city.

Fraternities and Sororities.

It is only within comparatively recent years that the opposition to college, and especially to high school, fraternities, sororities and secret societies has manifested any strength or coherence; but now it has reached a stage where it is almost national in its extent. During legislative sessions of the past winter at least half a dozen states passed laws prohibiting such organizations in public schools and in several other states there have been court decisions upholding the right of school committees to regulate them, by excluding the members from school and class houses and from school athletics. The charges against the fraternities and sororities are old ones, and well established. Youth's Companion, Soubliness, inattention to school work, extravagance, and the fostering of a spirit which gives allegiance to a clique rather than to school or class, are among them; and there are signs that in the minds of men who have carefully studied the matter not merely the societies in the schools, but those in the colleges, are in disfavor. The feeling does not extend to all the colleagues, by any means, for conditions vary greatly. Some societies are almost if not wholly free from the charge which lies against others, and have grown to fill a useful and wholesome place. But for secret societies in high schools it is hardly possible to find any good excuse. It is curious, also, to consider how difficult it is to disentangle the various societies that have exerted so little influence in opposition to them. The root of the matter lies in the home, not in the school committee room; and when the fathers and mothers take the interest in the matter which they should take, appeals to state courts will not be necessary.

Blamed with Evil Eye.

Sig. Giovanni Giliotti, the Italian prime minister, suffers from a popular superstition that he has the evil eye. Recently Sig. Majorana, minister of the treasury, retired from the cabinet because he had been seized with a serious illness. He is the sixteenth statesman succeeded, with his shadow to have been stricken down. If not by death, at least by some serious ailment, since the premier's rise to power. In Giliotti's first cabinet four of his ministers died in office. In his second two died and four others were brought near to death's door. In his third administration one minister committed suicide, another died, and Sig. Tittoni was prostrated by cerebral congestion. In the present cabinet disease and death still pursue Giliotti's colleagues.

It is possible that the United States may yet produce many of the fruits and vegetables which it is now necessary to import. One of the latest attempts to adopt these aliens has been made in Texas, where it is sought to introduce the growing of dates. Experiments so far have been most encouraging, and a noted horticulturist declares his belief that the date will become a staple and famous product of semi-tropical Texas. The date is wholesome and nutritious and is gaining in popularity, and the American fruit is likely to rival that imported from the old world and elsewhere. We may even grow bananas.

M. Charles Duran has painted a portrait of the king of Siam, which is thus described: "The picture is practically all gold and almost blinds the eye. The king of Siam stands against a background of old gold glass. His dress is white, but the embroideries on the collar, the belt and the sleeves are of gold. His sword has a golden hilt and scabbard, his helmet is white and gold. His right hand holds a golden scepter, his breast is one mass of orders, mostly of gold, and is crossed by a golden chain. Over his shoulders hangs a cloak of cloth of gold, studded with diamonds and pearls."

Charlotte Perkins Gilman, who confesses in the Independent that she is one of "all but a few number of abominated women no longer young, but by no means old, just about quite permanently women, as men are men," objects to the novels that have to do with nothing but love. And this asks: "Is Capital a convention?" He is, indeed, Charlotte, replies the Boston Herald; and he is also a cause, a ratification meeting and an election.

It is sometimes a necessary concession that our unparalleled prosperity that waters, porters and other orders of infinite rerepresentations cover strike, but are always on hand to arrest all the quarters which the catcher by pure inadvertence gives you to change.

PEACE TERMS ARE ACCEPTED BY MOORS

DELEGATES OF THREE LEADING TRIBES ARE PLEDGED TO ENFORCE THEM.

Hostilities at an End—Features of the Agreement Made Between Gen. Drude and Nineteen Chiefs of the Morocco Vikings.

Paris, Sept. 20.—Peace has been declared in Morocco. The delegates of three important tribes have accepted the French peace overtures and will see that the terms of the agreement are carried out. Hostilities are now at an end.

The government Monday evening received with great satisfaction a dispatch from Rear Admiral Philippe Trouillet, commander of the French naval forces in Moroccan waters, saying that as a result of the conference Monday at Gen. Drude's headquarters, between the French naval and military commandants and the representatives of the Ouleyswan, Zenata and Ziyada tribes, the three tribes have accepted unconditionally the peace terms offered by France.

TERMS THAT ARE ACCEPTED.

These terms are as follows: Hostilities will cease at once. Gen. Drude may make military arrangements throughout the territory of the three tribes to satisfy himself that the pacification is complete; the tribes engage themselves to disperse and chastise all armed bodies that may assemble in their territory with horses and arms; every tribe will be responsible for the payment of a sum of money to the war within ten miles of Casablanca shall be handed over to the sheriffman authorities, condemned to imprisonment and fined $200; the tribes shall be held responsible for the carrying out of the previous stipulation; every native deserting in the course of his service shall be punished by the release of the tribes undertake to surrender the authors of the outrages upon Europeans of July 30 and, pending judgment, their goods shall be seized and sold irrespective of the indemnity which is to be paid, the amount of which will be fixed by the Moroccan government; the Chaula tribe, the largest, shall pay a large indemnity, the part of each tribe to be apportioned according to the length of time it resisted the French. In addition, the Chaula tribe shall pay a contribution toward the harbor works at Casablanca.

To secure the carrying out of this arrangement, the chief of each tribe shall be given up as hostage. The delegates of the Ouleyswan, Zenata and Ziyada tribes immediately named their hostages and signed the capitulation.

CREDIT MAINLY DUE TO FRANCE.

The campaign which France has brought to a successful close in Morocco was started early in August under the mandate given to both France and Spain by the Algeciras agreement to maintain proper police regulations in the sea ports of Morocco. The direct cause of the movement was the raid of July 30 on the French steamer Casablanca, French and Span armed and with the consent of the powers, and no power interfered with their operations, although at one time Germany gave evidence that she viewed the landing of a numerous French force in Morocco with apprehension, and took a minor part in the campaign, but the major share of the credit for putting down the turbulent Arab tribesmen undoubtedly is France's.

STEAMER WRECKED; SEVEN DIE.

The Alexander Nimmick Lost on South Shore of Lake Superior.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 23.—The Alexander Nimmick, a 40-ton boat, sank last night on the south shore of Lake Superior, 15 miles west of White Fish Point. No living soul was with many miles of the desolate place where the survivors laboriously managed to pilot their lifeboats through the raging surf; no help was at hand to minister to the exhausted survivors. The boat was built for the bodies of the six or seven victims, washed up on the rocks by the waves.

The dead are Capt. John Randall, of Algoma, Mich.; Stewart Thomas Parent, of Port Huron, Mich., and several others. First Lt. John H. Hayes, of Monroe, member of the House of Representatives, is also supposed to be among the dead, though it is not definitely known that he was lost.

C. R. E. WITHERS IS DEAD.

Roxbury, Va., Sept. 23.—Col. Robert C. Withers died at his home at Roxbury, Va., Saturday night, after a long illness, aged 85 years. He was at one time a United States senator from Virginia and had served in the diplomatic branch of the government. One son is Robert E. Withers, of Pittsburg.

COMPRESS TRUST ILLEGAL

MISSISSIPPI COURT OUSTS THE CONCERN FROM STATE.

Given One Year to Wind Up Its Business and Withdraw—Receiver Not Appointed.

Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 23.—The Gulf Compress company was Saturday afternoon declared an illegal trust by Chancellor R. S. Hicks, of the Mississippi state court. He gave the company one year to wind up its business in the state and withdraw. He denied the state's application for a receiver.

The district attorney asked the court to impose a fine of $1,500,000 and to declare the company that had been doing business in the state illegal. There was contention among the officials of the compress company and other corporations until it was learned that the report was unfounded.

The Gulf Compress company was organized two years ago and now owns and operates 31 compresses, of which are located in Mississippi. These plants in a measure control the cotton business of the state, at least the export business, and it has raised the price of compressing, increased the rates of seed, and lowered the rates of seed, according to the allegations, until the gulf company is doing business in restraint of trade.

An action was taken against the company until two weeks ago, when it bought out an independent press here, then appointed District Attorney here two bills, one for a receiver suit and the other asking for a receiver. The chancellor's decision will allow the company to move this season's crop. An appeal was taken to the supreme court.

WOMAN SLAIN BY A ROBBER.

Chicago Kindergarten Principal Found Choked to Death.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Mrs. Lillian White Grant, 40, widow of a prominent lawyer, was found strangled in her room at 5530 Madison avenue, Friday.

Every article of jewelry owned by Mrs. Grant was missing; it is believed that she was robbed while she was in bed. Her body was found lying across the bed dressed only in night clothing. One of her own garments was twisted tightly about her neck and knotted under her left ear. Death had been caused by strangulation.

The cage with its human freight was being lowered on its first trip for the day when the brake on the truck it was mounted on slipped. Two other men ran to the assistance of the one at the brake wheel, but their combined efforts did not avail and the wire cable continued to unreel from the drum like thread from a bobbin.

CABLE BREAKS, CAGE DROPS.

The cage shot down a couple of hundred feet before a kink in the too rapidly paying out cable caused it to snap, and the cage which had been a sheer drop to the bottom of the shaft. The safety catches with which it was equipped failed to operate. The surging of the cable tore out part of the side of the engine house and ripped out several of the sheaves and about the machinery.

The machinery stalled not entirely, but had been thoroughly overhauled and the officials cannot account for the sudden inefficiency of the hoisting gear. The accident is the worst that has occurred in any mine in the city since the caving at the Ne-guance mine January 7, 1902, entombing ten men.

SEVEN FATALLY HURT.

Workmen at the bottom of the mine immediately set about the gruesome task of removing the dead. Seven men were found still alive, but they are fatally hurt.

Thousands of people soon congregated about the main shaft. In the crowd were the wives and children of the 200 men who are employed in the mine. Early Saturday morning, the news came that a son was in the cage. There was no way of relieving the suspense as the fallen cage blocked the exit.

It was two hours before the cable was adjusted so that the cage could be raised to the surface.

When the cage was raised from underground and many anxious wives and others failed to find members of their families who worked in the mine, the scene was awful. The priests and ministers moved among the people consoling them and begging them to be calm.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Suffered Two Years—Relieved in Three Months.

C. B. FIZER, Mt. Sterling, Ky., writes:

"I have suffered with kidney and other trouble for ten years past."

"Last March I commenced using Peruna and continued for three months. I have not used it since, nor have I felt a pain."

"I believe that I am well and I therefore give my best commendation to the curative qualities of Peruna."

Peruna For Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Geo. H. Simmer, Grant, Ontario, Can., writes:

"I had not been well for about four years. I had kidney trouble and, in fact, felt very bad all the time."

"This summer I got so very bad I thought I would try Peruna, so I wrote to you and began at once to take Peruna and Manalin."

"I took only two bottles of Peruna and one of Manalin, and now I feel better than I have for some time."

"I feel that Peruna and Manalin cured me and made a great deal of me altogether. Please let me have your book and read of your Peruna."

IT IS THE BUSINESS OF THE KIDNEYS TO REMOVE FROM THE BLOOD ALL POISONOUS MATERIALS.

Peruna is the best available tea to bear their system well. In times when we need a little assistance.

Peruna is exactly the sort of remedy. It has saved many people from disaster by preventing kidney diseases which were not able to bear their own burdens.

TEA FROM THE FLOWERS.

This Product Little Known in the United States.

Tea, not from leaves, but from the flowers alone of the plant, is rarely encountered in commerce. The petals, stamens, etc., are sun dried, and the resulting tea is of a rich, deep brown hue of peculiarly delicate odor, and gives a pale, clear, delicious flavor, without any astringent in taste that is found in the average fair grade leaf.

When the Japanese were not busy digging trenches or shooting at the Russians they amused themselves by picking wild flowers or engraving figures on them and selling them with each other.

"At a station near Tokyo where conscripts were being trained for the First regiment of the imperial guards," says the writer, "I saw fifty men turn out to fence with wooden muskets. The fence terminated by dividing the squad into two equal sections, after which the demonstrators were formed fifty feet apart and when the signal to engage was given they moved on each other so violently that many men were overthrown and it was, in fact, a desperate hand-to-hand struggle."

"The Japanese had been thoroughly overhauled and the officials cannot account for the sudden inefficiency of the hoisting gear. The accident is the worst that has occurred in any mine in the city since the caving at the Ne-guance mine January 7, 1902, entombing ten men.

They are seedlings, the seed coming to Mr. Nordin from Smoland, Sweden, ten years ago, and this year is the first time the trees have borne fruit. The apples are of a fine flavor and appear to be a good winter fruit. We are under obligations to Mr. Nordin for some of them.

We acknowledge the receipt of an elegant box of plums which was presented to the Pioneer force by Mrs. Gerd E. Kruse, who received a crate from her daughter, Mrs. Wm. G. DEDICATED

Through the bygone years with their joy and pain.

This thought comes to me again and again:

The mills of the gods, tho' their works be slow,

Pay every debt, as we drift in and fro.

And a kind word here or a harsh word there,

Hears them to send us doves when rare.

For many years I've caused myself much weep-

For each hour of grief that drives away sleep—

If I were the cause of this be you sure,

That very same heart will bear the endure,

And if I caused you pain or sadness to me,

Whose heart was as true as the flower to the sun,

Have you wanted yourself at a friend's door?

Send me back the love that I gave,

Made kindness seem vile in your own derems?

Have you said some things that were better

done, and I'm sorry for them?

Or twisted a thought till it fit instead?

I know this full well—I know it's true

Each set with interest will come back to you

And memory will stab, as only memory can.

At things that lie hid in the heart of man.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts gently upon the bowels and clears the whole system of coughs and colds. It promptly relieves inflammation of the throat and allays irritation. Sold at Breckenridge's Pharmacy.

GOOD PROOF OF HIS SKILL.

Floor Polisher Surely Left Nothing to Be Desired.

Frank Miles Day, the well-known architect and essayist of Philadelphia, stepped carefully from a Persian rug to the green grass and old rose trees out of reach, for the polished floor between was dark and smooth and slippery like ice.

"Rather a good polish there, I think," said Mr. Day's host.

"Remarkably good, indeed," said Mr. Day.

The host just then slipped and nearly fell, and the architect, with a laugh, went on:

"A friend of mine has beautiful floors, and the other day sent for a door polisher."

"Then those floors polished?" he said to the man, as he led him about the house. "They are, you perceive, fine ones. They ought to come out as lustrous as rosewood. Do you think you're capable of doing them justice? Give me some proof of your thorough competence."

"That's easily done, sir," the polisher replied. "You just go and ask Col. Snow, next door but one, about my work. He'll tell ye why, Goods' dining room above five persons, and both his last winter, while two ladies slipped down the grand staircase during the Easter week ball and one dislocated her hip, while the other fractured three ribs. You ask Col. Snow, sir. I polished that door and that staircase of his."

USED RUSE TO SECURE MONKEY

Animal was Unacquainted with Qualities of Opera Glass.

A professor well known in the scientific world recently hit upon a novel method of capturing a pet monkey which had escaped from the house and taken refuge in the branches of a tall tree.

He looked at the animal through a pair of opera glasses, pointing the small end at him, and then retired to a sheltered seat, holding the opera glasses on the ground. The impudent monkey descended from the tree, and, taking the opera glasses, gazed in a similar manner, at his master, who seemed to the deluded ape to be many yards distant.

The monkey, continuing to look through the same end of the opera glasses, supposed his master, who was walking slowly toward him, to be still a long way off, when the professor, reaching out, secured the chain and led the victim back to his cage.

The Part of Trees Widens.
The freest government, if it could exist, would not be long acceptable if the tendency of the laws was to create a rapid accumulation of property in a few hands. In the nature of things, however, the more property and seeing their neighbors possessed much more than they thought them to need cannot be favorable to laws made for the protection of such property. When this class becomes numerous it grows clamorous. It looks for greater便利 and pleasure and is naturally ready at all times for violence, strife, revolution. It would seem then to be the part of political wisdom to found government on property, by the laws which regulate its transmission and transfer, as to interest the great majority of society in the support of the government—Daniel Webster.

Courtesy in Copenhagen.
Copenhagen, Denmark, is a city of canals and cleanliness—and of pure delight, free from beggars, grime, grudges, and strong dogs. The inhabitants are kind and hospitable, and seem never to have recovered from the habit. When a passenger boards a car in Copenhagen, he exchanges greetings with the conductor; a genial man, on leaving the car, usually lifts his hat in acknowledgment of the salute; from time to time a farrier or the conductor drops it into his cash box, thanks the passenger, and gives him a little paper receipt. He offers change with a preliminary "He so good," and the passenger accepts it with a smile. In transit, transfers are required; compensation and exchanges can be indefinitely. Yet there is always time enough in Copenhagen—Four Track News.

The Advice of Experience.
It has sometimes been remarked by the public that children that the only child bears to stand more than the child belonging to a large family. There may or may not be physiological reasons for this, but the story of the small boy of five, who was strutting with his alphabet blocks for the first time, only to run right into those who wish for results. The small boy was really rather interested than otherwise in a large A that fulfilled its usual function of standing for an apple tree; but he had a brother who was nearly eight. "You leave 'em alone," advised the brother, "if you once begin to read you can never leave 'em."

Ten Cents on a Dollar.
Swiss hotel keepers are trying to arrange a ten per cent scale of tips. They complain that the scale of gratuity has been so high that it was to the reckless generosity of Americans. If they can reduce it to ten per cent, well and good, but if they wish to keep Americans from giving more than they must employ a class of servants who expect no more from Americans than from other guests.

HIS MISSION IN CALIFORNIA.

Miner in Town During Flood Was Not Afraid of Water.

Kenneth C. Kerr, of the Salt Lake route, is telling a story about a gold miner in the south end of the great Mormon valley in the mountains of California. The miners of Caliente were almost entirely under water. Before that time Caliente was a dry, desert town, and the miners came there with pack horses to take water from the local supply out of the mines. The geodesic of Caliente was flooded and miners who worked beyond the limits of the flood came into town with two pack animals bearing receptacles for water. He waded through about two feet of water and finally reached the hotel. In the doorway of the building stood a local man. When the latter saw the old miner he smiled.

"Hey, Dick!" he called. "I see you've swum in town to get a little water."

"You're wrong," came the reply. "I am after water."

"What do you want, then?"

"I'm going to take a few gallons of good dry land back with me to that arid country," said the miner, solemnly—Denver Post.

CENTENARIANS OF THE WORLD.

Bulgaria Easily Holds Record for Long-Lived People.

A German statistician has made a careful investigation to discover in which countries the greatest age is attained. The German empire, with 16,000,000 population, has 200 persons aged 100 years and over, while fewer than 40,000,000 has 213 persons who have passed their hundredth birthday. England has 146; Scotland, 46; Denmark, 2; Belgium, 5; Sweden, 10; and Norway, 2. The United States has 1,000 inhabitants over 100 years of age, while Bulgaria has 20,000 inhabitants aged 100 years.

Overland does boast a single centenarian, though, to be sure, about 130,000,000 population, has 410. The most amazing figures come from that troublesome and turbulent region known as the Balkan peninsula. Serbia has 575 persons who are more than 100 years old, and Montenegro, 1084, and Bulgaria, 3,853. In other words, Bulgaria has a centenarian to every 1,000 inhabitants, and thus holds the international record for old people. In 1892 alone there died in Bulgaria 350 persons who had exceeded the centenary.

The man, continuing to look through the same end of the opera glasses, supposed his master, who was walking slowly toward him, to be still a long way off, when the professor, reaching out, secured the chain and led the victim back to his cage.

Proved Her Proposition.
Timothy Woodruff tells of a family in Duchsus county who recently took into their employ a rosy-cheeked Irish maid of all work, whose blunders afford amusement to compensate for any trouble she may cause.

"One day when the girl's hearing became perfect, the master intended to have a woodhouse built on a piece of ground which at that time included a wall.

"Shure, so?" said the inquisitive Margaret, "will you be movin' the wall to make the woodhouse spot when the woodhouse is builded?"

As a smile crossed the face of her employer, Margaret at once perceived she had made a mistake.

"It's a fool I am, shure," she added, hastily, bound to retrieve herself. "Of course, when the wall was moved ivy dropped off water would run out of it." —Harper's Weekly.

Another Reason.

In a certain town where there are two football clubs of about equal merit, the captain of one had thrown up his position and joined the rival organization.

Shortly afterward the two clubs were matched to meet, but on the night before the game the new members of the club appeared to be seen for his comrades and asked to be excused from playing.

"Why, what's the matter, Johnnie?" asked the captain. "We're relying on you to assist us in beating the Rovers!"

"Well, you see," explained Johnnie, "I was captain of the Rovers, and I know 'em all. I'd rather not play, I don't want to hurt 'em!"

"Have you any other reason?"

"Yes," said Johnnie, briskly, "I don't want 'em to hurt me!"

Lock of Arms No Handicap.

New Zealand possess a postmaster who, for all practical purposes, is armless. Owing to a condition which deprives him of the use of his arms, he is able to do all the clerical work of his office with his feet. His name is Ernest C. Moon. He uses an inflexible pencil in his official work, with which he writes clearly and legibly. He makes his marks, orders, and general statements by using his feet. In the same way he applies the date stamp to letters with wonderful regularity. Moon can also use a hammer, saw and other carpenter's tools with his feet.

Sixpence on a Tombstone.
Sunday morning 21 old widows of the parish of St. Bartholomew's, West Bromwich, gathered at the churchyard at the close of the morning service to pick up the sixpences which are annually deposited on the tombstones of a parson who died several centuries ago.

The practice of the custom dates back to Saint Thomas, and it was revived some years ago by Mr. Butterswick. The little graveyard is raised several feet above the level of the pathway, and to mount to this eminence the elderly dames are assisted up a step-ladder leading against the stone coping of the wall—London Daily Chronicle.
