A FATAL ACCIDENT

Paul Sisko, of Pokegama, While Preparing to Start on a Hunting Trip, Loses His Life.

Paul Sisko, only son of John Sisko, who lives on Pokegama Creek, accidentally shot himself Tuesday evening. He was going out hunting and in putting his gun into his boat in some manner it was discharged and he was found by his father who went to look for him. The young man was born in Washington January 25th 1886 and was therefore in his 17th year. Dr. Wiseman was called and reached there about eight o'clock but the young man had passed away a few minutes before he arrived. The doctor examined the body and found that the charge had entered the chest on the right side, and that it was a miracle that he lived as long as he did. It is supposed he was shot as soon as he reached the creek as the boat was still tied to the bank and his father heard a shot about the time the young man reached the boat. It is doubly sad for the family as they lost a boy by drowning a few years ago.

The funeral was held yesterday morning and the body laid to rest in the Brookpark cemetery.

Improvements in Castle Hall.

The improvements that the Knights of Pythias have been making in their hall are all completed, and they now have one of the finest castle halls in the state. The walls and ceiling of the hall proper have been papered with E. of P. paper and the walls and ceilings of the ante-rooms and halls have also been papered. The woodwork has been repainted, the chairs and furniture varnished and the carpet cleaned, so that the hall presents a very neat and attractive appearance.

Unsuccessful Hunters.

Emil Hoefler and Ed. Thompson spent Wednesday night at Pokegama lake, hunting, and in the evening County Treasurer N. Perkins, A. Gunn, W. A. Lambert and Win. Fournier, drove up to Wilke's and took a trip with them around the lake in the "Penny Ante." They arrived home about 11 o'clock and report having had a very pleasant time, but did not see any game.

A wedding dinner was served at the Heintz residence and a reception was held for the happy couple at the same place in the evening. The PIONEER extends its congratulations.

D. M. Osborne & Co. vs. E. J. Hawley, verdict for defendant.

The case of Frank D. Hyatt vs. P. S. Murray, Wm. O'Brien and Fred Laubinger was decided in favor of the complainant, late last evening, damages awarded in the sum of $6.99.

The case of Peter Rohwiler et al vs. Town of Pine City, on trial.

THE LYCEUM STARS

Entertainment Given Under the Auspices of the Pythian Sisters Proves an Unqualified Success.

The Lyceum Stars, the first of the series of five entertainments to be given by the Pythian Sisters, held the boards at Sisko's hall Saturday evening, and to say that they gave satisfaction is putting it mildly, as they entranced the large house that lined them, and if they were ever to return here they would be assured of even a larger house than that which heard them Saturday night.

The reserved seats were all sold before the time set for the opening of the entertainment and if there had been a dozen more chairs they could have been sold, as that number at least required of the ticket seller for reserved seats. Those having charge of the entertainment course will strive to have better accommodations for patrons at the next four entertainments. The next one on the course is the Lincoln Quartette, which will hold forth at Sisko's hall, Jan. 23.

The Stars are composed of three ladies, Mrs. Dora E. Eaton, the dramatic reader, is a reader of exceptional ability, and every number that she appeared in she was heartily cheered, to all of which she responded, as did the other young ladies. Her rendition of the school girl practicing on the piano brought down the house, and she was brought back twice, each one of her numbers were pure excellence.

Miss Jeanne E. Jenks, the violinist, rendered five extremely difficult selections with wonderful skill. Miss Jenks is an artist of rare ability and should be well received by all lovers of good music, and if she ever visits this place again she will be assured of a good audience.

Miss E. Floy Schumacher, soprano soloist, was very good in all her numbers and showed that she had her voice under perfect control at all times. After every number she was heartily cheered, to all of which she answered in such a pleasing manner that the audience was entranced by her musical voice and pleasing stage manner. Taking the entertainment as a whole it was one of the best ever given in this place, and the Pythian Sisters should receive the thanks of all who enjoy first class entertainments.

Old-Timer Revisits Pine City.

Nicholas Klos, of Billings, Mont. brother of Mrs. John Nevil, arrived here the forepart of last week, being summoned to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Jno. Bier, of Wash. City, which occurred Monday. Mr. Klos was a resident of Pine City in 1871-2, and erected the house now occupied by Otto Kowalik. He was very much surprised at the advancement made in this place since his departure. When he left it was supposed that Pine City, as soon as the lumbering business in this section was finished would be a thing of the past, and he comes here and finds it a growing and prosperous agricultural village.

OUR VANISHING FORESTS

The Waning Hardwood Supply of the Country Discussed by United States Forest Service Official.

Although the demand for hardwood lumber is greater than ever before, the annual cut to-day is a billion feet less than it was seven years ago. In the time the whole sale price of the different classes of hardwood lumber advanced from 25 to 65 per cent. The cut of oak, which in 1899 was more than half the total cut of hardwoods, has fallen of 30 per cent. Yellow poplar, which was formerly second in point of output, has fallen off 38 per cent, and elm has fallen off one-half.

The cut of soft woods is over four times that of hardwoods, yet it is doubtful if a shortage in the former would cause dismay in so many industries. The cooperage, furniture, and vehicle industries depend upon hardwood timber, and the railroads, telephone and telegraph companies, agricultural implement manufacturers, and builders use it extensively.

This leads to the question, Where is the future supply of hardwoods to be found? The cut in Ohio and Indiana, which, seven years ago, led all other States, has fallen off one-half. Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, Tennessee, Texas, West Virginia, and Wisconsin have also declined in hardwood production. The chief centers of production now lie in the Lake States, the lower Mississippi Valley, and the Appalachian Mountains. Yet in the Lake States the presence of hardwoods is an almost certain indication of rich agricultural land, and when the hardwoods are cut the land is turned permanently to agricultural use. In Arkansas, Louisiana, and Mississippi the production of hardwoods is clearly at its extreme height, and in Missouri and Texas it has already begun to decline.

The answer to the question, therefore would seem to lie in the Appalachian Mountains. They contain the largest body of hardwood timber left in the United States. On them grow the greatest variety of tree species anywhere to be found. Protected from fire and reckless cutting, they produce the best kind of timber since their soil and climate combine to make heavy stands and rapid growth. Yet much of the Appalachian forest has been so damaged in the past that it will be years before it will again reach a high state of productivity. Twenty billion feet of hardwoods would be a conservative estimate of the annual productive capacity of the 75,000,000 acres of forest lands in the Appalachians if they are rightly managed. Until they are we can expect a shortage in hardwood timber.

Circular 116, of the Forest Service, entitled "The Waning Hardwood Supply Supply," discusses this situation. It may be had upon application to the Forester, Forest Service, Washington, D. C.

Table Manners.

Man gives up with reluctance the table manners of the jungle. For centuries he has been instructed with the iron line, precept upon precept; but the average boy and girl will prefer fingers to forks and tongues to napkins. It may, however, be encouraging to the weary mother to observe that a little progress has been made by the human race in four centuries, even though her individual specimen of boyhood may lag far behind perfection. Erasmus, writing for the young gentlemen of his time, laid down a code of table manners remarkable for what they do not take for granted, and although we must make some allowances for the irony of the learned critic, we still have a picture of the dinner table of his time calculated to give us hope of our own. He assures his reader that it is very rude to wipe his nose on the tablecloth or his finger on his neighbor's coat. One may not praise the achievements of one's own cook, or criticize unfavorably one's host's dinner, no matter how badly it is cooked. A courteous guest will not give his house to the dogs or crink under the table, nor will he feed the cat, or encourage either cat or dog to jump on the table. "But, above all," says the frank and vigorous Erasmus, "do not lick your plate! It is an act that ill becomes a cat, let alone a gentleman!"

Stage Reform.

Every now and then the important intelligence is imparted to a waiting multitude that the stage is to be elevated. It is an old cry and it signifies nothing, for the patrons of the playhouses make it what it is and managers only supply a public demand. References are always being made to the palmy days of the drama, and a revival of them is frequently predicted, but the truth is that there were just as reprehensible performances in the past as there are in the present. Though, of course, there were some noble histrionic efforts that are repeated today. It is claimed that this is an era of commercial managers, who are only bent on making money and are deficient in artistic inspiration. As small roles, they will not receive the same attention as the big ones, but even Shakespeare did not disdain accumulating a comfortable fortune for his day from the production of his plays, and few men are anxious to embark in an unpaying venture, even for the sake of art. We are now told that there is to be an intellectual theater, to appear in Broadway, New York, where only the cream of the best old and new plays will be brought out. We wish it success, recalls the Boston Budget, but we are afraid that its patronage will not be remunerative, for the theater is regarded by the majority of people as a place of entertainment, and not as a school for moral and intellectual training.

China After Ideas.

Slowly but surely modern ideas are getting a foothold in China. The appointment of a commission to visit Japan, Great Britain and Germany with a view to examining and reporting upon the working of constitutional systems, in this respect is full of significance, which is increased because of the character of those chosen for the service. These are men of the most progressive spirit. Furthermore, they represent the aspirations of the real Chinese rather than the purposes of the Manchus, who to a large extent are an alien element, although they have managed to fasten their power upon the government and to perpetuate a dynasty which has been a constant source of political friction. The voice of awakened China is making itself heard and is likely to be more insistent in demanding changes and reforms that shall be for the benefit of all the people. And much of this impetus to better things comes from Chinese who have been educated in the United States or have lived here long enough to see how liberal government works.

According to a report on the crops in the American Agriculturist, American farmers' earnings will be a thousand million dollars greater this year than last. The gain is due to the increased prices of farm products, the production in general having only less good farms, smaller than last year. No wonder farmers are celebrating by holding big state fairs. They can afford to.

Peace advocates are trying to check the importation of German war toys. They wish some one to invent a popular peace toy. How would pigeons do? Boys like to raise them as much as they like to play with the soldiers. Why not distribute doves of peace in pairs?

Scholars assert that El. Fairchild's real name was Palmetus Magnus Sicutus. But this will not make the slightest difference on the 17th of March.

SMALLS HISSED BY THE OPERATORS

NEW YORK TELEGRAPHERS CALL ON PRESIDENT TO RESIGN HIS OFFICE.

His Advice is Ignored—Though He Wishes to Call Off the Strike, Locals in Many Cities Veto to Remain Out.

New York, Oct. 14.—The New York local of the Commercial Telegraphers' union at a meeting Sunday voted unanimously to continue the strike against the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

The vote was taken upon the suggestion of President Small, who, in a speech, pointed out the inability of the general assembly to further finance the strike, and recommended that prospective investors who upon the advisability of the men returning to work.

Hisses for His President.

Small tried to explain his position, but was frequently interrupted by hisses. When he suddenly left the hall in the midst of the speaking, a "his" followed him. Saturday night Small issued a statement in which he said he was willing to continue the strike if the men insisted.

When the meeting opened, President Small was given the floor and said: "I am not here to make an argument for or against continuing the strike, but merely to explain why I called for a vote of the locals on the proposition. Saturday Commissioner Neill informed me that President Clowry had told me that further negotiations were futile. I believe what they say. Our funds are quite exhausted."

Percy Thomas Scores Small.

Percy Thomas, former national deputy, followed Small, saying that the latter had said when the strike began that he could raise $2,000,000 to support it. Small, he said, had asked him 30 days ago to send out the word "no funds," but the speaker refused.

President Small has utterly neglected to properly approach the subject of raising money and now he comes before you and tells you that we have no money. This is a lie, and cannot be lost if we have a leader, a national president with any ability."

There were cheers for Thomas, and as Small rose to reply, shouts of "Resign!" greeted him.

"I have no intention of resigning," he said, when he could be heard. "To resign is the last thing I will do, and I want to tell you that personal attacks on me won't get you bread and butter."

As for assessments of other labor organizations, I want to tell you what they amount to. The Order of Railroad Telegraphers, with a membership of 40,000, was assessed first two dollars, then one dollar, and has turned in about $32,000. From the 27,000 locals of the American Federation of Labor we have received about $25,000. I have come to this city today and to tell you of your position. Do what you will."

Keep It Up, Says Russell.

As Small sat down Daniel Russell, chairman of the local board of strategy, sprang to his feet.

"Up to last night," he said, "this was from the strike he continued, and he did everything he could to lose it. To-day it is your strike. Keep it up and win. He is alone brought on this strike, and now he is trying to repudiate it."

Other speakers followed in a similar vein, after which the resolutions declaring that the strike be continued and calling upon the national executive committee to remit at once $3,000, the New York local's share in the general fund, were adopted.

Dispatches Sunday night said that the local unions in Baltimore, Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and other cities had voted to continue the strike.

SIMPKINS SEEN IN SPOKANE.

Mining Miner, Reported Dead, Interviewed in the Washington City.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 15.—A special from Spokane says Jack Simpkins was recognized on the streets of that city last week when interviewed, and said he did not make any move to avoid arrest, that he had been in Denver, Seattle, British Columbia and other places, that he had braved up against policemen and detectives, but that he is not courting arrest because perhaps several years would elapse before he was brought to trial.

"What is there in Orchard's confession?" he was asked.

"I don't know. I was sitting in a hotel in Boise at the time I saw Orchard there. He was trying, so he claimed, to buy a small ranch."

Burglar Like Peoria Policeman.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 14.—During a pistol duel with a burglar, who had robbed a residence of several thousand dollars worth of diamonds, Ed Barrett's policeman, was shot and killed early Sunday morning. The man escaped.

400 Fire Firms in School.

Dixon, Ill., Oct. 15.—The Dixon high school building was burned Monday morning. All the 400 pupils escaped without injury. The loss is $49,000; insurance, $16,300.

BIG SALTED MINE SWINDLE

SENSATIONAL $400,000 FRAUD IS DISCOVERED IN WYOMING.

Prime Movers in Enterprise Will Redeem Stocks Sold and Save Investors from Loss.

Helena, Mont., Oct. 15.—The Record publishes a story to the effect that numerous Montana and Washington investors have been misled to the extent of more than a third of a million dollars through the discovery that certain placer mines near Lander, Wyo., had been salted and that the property in question is worthless.

Thomas L. Greenough, of Missoula, and J. P. Greenough, of Spokane, who were the prime movers in the organization that enticed all investors that they will redeem all stock at the price paid, thus assuming the loss.

The discovery that the property was salted was due to an independent examination conducted by Speaker E. W. King, of the Montana legislature, and J. B. Mill, of Spokane, a heavy prospective investor, who found, after removing a few inches of the shaft walls, that the ground was valueless, as were the tallings, although all previous expert reports showed values ranging from 20 cents to nine dollars a yard.

A Chicago firm was so impressed with the future of the property that it offered the Greenoughs $2,500,000 for their interest, but the offer was rejected.

Water not being available, work had been started from either end on a tunnel through a mountain so the flow of the Pophoic river might be utilized. The discovery has created the biggest sensation in the history of northwest mining.

STEAMERS COLLIDE; ONE SINKS.

Sailor is Killed in an Accident in Detroit River.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—One man was killed and the steel steamer John W. Moore was sunk early Sunday in a collision between the Moore and the Queen City in the Detroit river just above the Lime Kiln crossing. The Queen City is at the Ecovore yard of the Great Lakes Engineering works with her bulwarks flattened to the deck and her forepeak filled with water.

The two steamers met almost head-on, and the Queen City crashed in the bows of the John W. Moore as far back as the pilot house. Wheelman Duncan McIntyre, of Sombra, Ont., was asleep in his room on the port side of the Moore, and was crushed to death in the collision and his body carried down with the steamer. It was recovered by a diver.

NINETEEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Sole Survivor of Foundered Steamer Cyprus is Second Mate.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 14.—The bodies of 19 members of the crew of the steamer Cyprus, which foundered, Lake Superior, Friday night off Deer Park, have been recovered and brought to this city. Second Mate C. J. Pitz of Monticello, Wis., the sole survivor of the 23 crew members who were on the ship, arrived here Sunday afternoon on the tug Schenck, which brought the bodies from the Deer Park life-saving station.

The bodies of Capt. P. B. Huyick and two firemen, whose names are not known, are still missing.

Mate Pitz has somewhat recovered from the shock and the battering he received from the waves while he lay washed ashore on a life raft.

MISSING MAN FOUND DEAD.

Wealthy Coal Dealer at Hartwell, O., Apparently Was Murdered.

Cincinnati, Oct. 12.—H. B. Howard, a wealthy coal dealer of Hartwell, a suburb, who had been missing for nearly 24 hours, was found Friday afternoon in a railroad coal shed, apparently murdered. The body had been covered with sacks and pieces of coal and the head was battered in. This is the second murder in the Mill creek valley this week.

SANTA FE ROAD GUILTY.

Convicted of Releasing in the Trial at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 13.—After brief deliberation the jury in the case of the Santa Fe Railway company, between the Great Light and Point Edward, and the Lake Shore was but by stove in about the bows, while the Patent sank close to shore. The crew all went into the pilot house and are safe. The Patent is owned by D. Sullivan, of Chicago, and the Lake Shore by the Gilchrist Transportation company.

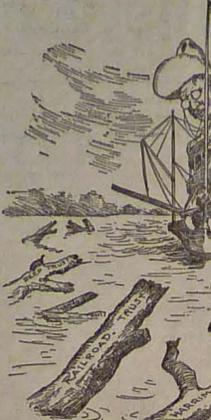

Lake Steamer is Sunk.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—The steamers Lake Shore and Fred Patent collided early Friday in St. Clair river, between the Great Light and Point Edward, and the Lake Shore was but by stove in about the bows, while the Patent sank close to shore. The crew all went into the pilot house and are safe. The Patent is owned by D. Sullivan, of Chicago, and the Lake Shore by the Gilchrist Transportation company.

Ballooning Has Fatal Fall.

Maitland, Ill., Oct. 13.—Hennananza, a balloonist of Quincy, Ill., was probably fatally hurt here Friday by falling 400 feet from a bursted balloon. The parachute failed to open in the descent, and he fell to earth. This is Hennananza's first serious accident in 35 years of ballooning.

LIFE ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; FOUR ARE KILLED

SHOCKING MOTOR CAR ACCIDENT ON RAILWAY GRADE CROSSING.

One Man Fatally Hurt—Party from Philadelphia, Pa., Meets Terrible Death in Pettstown—Driver Could Not See Tracks.

Pottstown, Pa., Oct. 15.—As the result of a grade crossing automobile accident on the Philadelphia & Reading railway at Keim street here Monday night, four persons were killed and one probably fatally injured.

The automobile, which was run head-on on the crossing by a Pottsville express, contained a party of five persons from Kimberlin, Chester county, Pa. The dead are Jacob Reese, aged 45 years; Mrs. Anthony W. Emery, Jr., aged 42 years; and Belva Emery, aged one year, child of Mrs. Emery. The driver of the automobile, was the only one of the party to escape death, and his thigh was broken and he received internal injuries in the accident.

Crossing a Dangerous Place.

The party were on their way home from a shopping tour in this city when the accident occurred. The crossing where the automobile was struck is reached after a sharp turn. A hedge and a clump of trees, together with two buildings, partly obscure the crossing and within a short distance of its approach, and it is probable Mr. Emery did not know a train was due, for he drove the machine directly on the tracks in front of the express.

The automobile was broken into bits and the members of the party were hurled out of the machine. Mr. Reese and Mrs. Emery were killed instantly. Mrs. Reese's neck was broken and she died on the train while being brought into the city. Belva Emery died from a fractured skull in a hospital a few hours after the accident.

Twenty-Five Hurt at Erie, Pa.

Erie, Pa., Oct. 15.—Twenty-five persons were more or less seriously injured here Monday night in a trolley car collision.

CUBS ARE WORLD CHAMPIONS.

Chicago Win Pennant by Beating Detroit Four Times.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14.—Chicago's champions are world's champions as well as twice champions, and for the first time in baseball history the big pennant, symbol of everything that is best in the nation's greatest sport, will float over Chicago's National league ball park next season.

For Chance's warriors made themselves world betters beyond all possibility or mischance Saturday by winning their fourth straight victory over Detroit's American league champions. The score was 2 to 0, and that put four knots in the Tiger's tail.

With a total attendance of 76,065 for the series, the gross receipts amounted to over $100,000, as compared to gross receipts of over $100,000 for six games in Chicago last year.

The players' share of the receipts amounts to $54,933.33, which in round numbers exceeds last year's pool by $20,000, the '05 and '06's sharing in $21,000, the four games last fall with small crowds at the start instead of the finish as this year.

For Detroit's Cubs share is $22,000 on the new basis of dividing 60 per cent to the winners and 40 per cent to the losers.

Business Block is Burned.

Lexington, Va., Oct. 14.—Hopkins block, in the business portion of this town, was destroyed by fire early Sunday. Five firms were burned out, including the plant of the Rock Bridge County News. The loss is $60,000; insurance, $25,000.

PRESIDENT CHANGES PLAN

MR. ROOSEVELT DECIDES TO STAY IN BEAR LAKE CAMP.

Fresh Trails Rouse Hopes That He Will Find Big Game in That Region.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 14.—The whole countryside turned out Sunday in expectation of seeing the president take his departure from Stamboul for the south, but he decided to remain at Bear Lake instead.

There was general expression of satisfaction over his reconsideration of his determination to move to Tennessee parish, for now that the change is not to be made, Stamboul continues candidly that she would have been much chagrined to have her distinguished visitor go away with an empty bag before the time originally fixed.

General confidence in his success in the new camp on Bear Lake continues and the reports from there are uniformly favorable. Indeed, it is stated that a number of fresh trails were discovered Saturday and that on one occasion the party came upon a good sized bear, but that on account of the absence of dogs he made his escape. The hope is very strong that when the hunt is resumed Monday either this animal or another member of his family will soon be run to earth. Many of the dogs used in last week's strenuous search of the barren upcountry are reported to be badly lamed and an effort is being made to replace them with fresh animals.

EMPEROR IS OUT OF DANGER.

Austrian Ruler is on the Way to Recovery.

Vienna, Oct. 15.—Monday brought a distinct change for the better in the condition of Francis Joseph, the aged emperor-king of Austria-Hungary. The doctors consider that the immediate danger has passed, unless unforeseen complications arise, and as a result hopeful anticipation has come to the Viennese, in place of the fears and forebodings of the past few days.

The patient had a fairly good night Sunday and felt better when he arose Monday morning. He rested easy and although he still appeared considerably from rough, the day of the whole was a good one. The fever almost entirely disappeared and the spread of the inflammation has ceased. In fact, it is said that the emperors was so much better that he devoted some time to state affairs, and granted audiences to a number of court officials.

TRAIN GOES THROUGH TRESTLE.

One Workman Killed and Many Injured at Stony Ford, N. Y.

Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 15.—One man was killed, five others were probably fatally hurt and six or eight were badly injured Monday when 17 cars of a work train crashed through a trestle on the New York & Jersey railway at Stony Ford, near here. The cars were loaded with dirt and stone, and 20 Austrian laborers who were on them were down with them to the bottom of the ravine, 90 feet below.

The engineer felt the trestle giving and, putting on full speed, succeeded in getting across with his engine and one car. The coupling with the second car broke and all the rest of the train went into the ravine.

Plan Worked in South—Vice President of Kentucky Branch of Standard Oil Company—Informed of Competitors' Suits.

New York, Oct. 15.—Hampton G. Westcott, vice president of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, testified Monday, in the hearing of the federal suit against the oil combine, that in several of the southern states the Standard had found it expedient to sell much of its products through companies which the public believed to be independent. The practice of selling through so-called independent companies, which were owned by the combine, was discontinued two years ago, according to Mr. Westcott.

Mr. Kellogg, counsel for the government, drew from the witness that the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, which acts as selling agent of oil in Kentucky, Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana, Tennessee and Alabama, had purchased independent companies, and through many of them sold oil to the consumer. Some of the plants of these independents were dismantled and the business taken over by the Standard.

Keep Track of Competitors.

Mr. Westcott threw some light on a business department of the Standard concerning which the federal counsel has been seeking information since the beginning of the inquiry. He testified that each month the main office of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky, at Covington, sent him not only the reports of the business operations of the Standard in the various states concerning freight shipments and sale of oil by all competitors. These statements, according to Mr. Westcott, gave the name of the competitor, the amount of oil shipped and any information that might be available.

Information All on File.

Mr. Westcott said that after examining these statements he filed them with the statistical department in the Standard's office in the city. This statistical department, Mr. Westcott said, was in charge of W. E. Bemis, who kept compilations and records of the business of both the Standard and its competitors.

H. H. Tilford, president of the Standard Oil Company of California, resumed the witness stand after Mr. Westcott's examination had concluded. He told of the operations of the Pacific Coast Oil company previous to its purchase by the Standard Oil company of California in 1900.

Mystery in Louisiana.

New York, Oct. 11.—Loans of over $200,000,000, which the books of the Southern Pipe Line company show were made to P. S. Trainor, between 1899 and 1905, became more puzzling of solution to Frank B. Kellogg, conducting the federal suit against the Standard Oil company, Thursday, when Mr. Trainor, taking the witness stand in the oil suit, testified that the money had never been paid to him and that he had never heard of the account.

The Southern's books show that unsigned vouchers were received for loans, and that the money was never handed back to the company. Mr. Trainor said that he was formerly crude oil purchasing agent for the Standard Oil company of New York, and as such, purchased the oil and sold it to the refineries. He said he acted in a similar capacity now for the Standard Oil company of New Jersey.

Knows Nothing of Loans.

Mr. Kellogg called Mr. Trainor's attention to the various loans, amounting to over $200,000, which were made by the Southern Pipe Line company and charged to "P. S. Trainor," and asked him to tell all he knew concerning the loans.

"I do not know anything about these loans," answered Mr. Trainor. "I had an oil account with the Southern company, but so money account. I never gave them any vouchers and never heard anything about the loans."

Mr. Trainor said that he fixed the price paid for crude oil at money was consulting with John D. Archbold, vice president of the Standard. These consultations were held daily. Mr. Trainor said, and that he never made public the market price of crude oil.

Interesting Items Gathered in the Gopher State

Game Preserves.

Two Harbors—There are now no less than 1,000 deer on Grand Island, the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company's big game preserve, in the northeastern end of Lake Superior. The island contains about 14,000 acres and possesses many bays. It is a natural breeding and feeding ground for deer and moose, as well as for grouse and other birds, while the bays and inland lakes are natural water for many kinds of fish.

There are eight full-grown moose and several calves. The elk, of which a few were brought to the island some years ago, are increasing rapidly. There are also some caribou, but these are rarely seen. A 24-strand wire fence encloses the southwestern portion of the island and prevents the animals escaping to the mainland. However, deer are occasionally seen swimming to and from the island, and it is probable that they come in than out, as in the game preserve hunters do not worry them.

Nearly Killed.

Worthington—Marie Lawson, seven years old, and Clarence McCloskey, aged six, were run over by a loaded wagon on the street and both are in a critical condition.

A teamster was hauling wood with two wagons, one being hitched to the other. The children were playing in the street and they ran in between the wagons and got on the tongue of the second wagon.

A girl threw a rock to the ground. The wheels of the second wagon passed over the head of the little girl, inflicting a large scalp wound and fracturing the skull.

The wheel passed over the chest of the little boy, fracturing bones and inflicting him internally.

The driver, who was on the front end of the first wagon, did not notice the children at all and only learned of the accident by being told after it had occurred.

Unlucky Thief.

Hobak—Chicken thieves who have been operating on a large scale in this county for several weeks lost the big end of their game recently. A great disturbance was raised one night by the chickens and dog on a farm near here, and the woman of the house, who was alone, ventured out with the shotgun to ascertain the cause of the noise.

No one was seen, but she fired the gun and returned to the house. Early next morning she found a pocketbook and great wealth of money on opening it, to discover $500 in cash.

Later in the day she was visited by "chicken buyers," who insisted upon seeing her chickens, even after being told that she had none for sale. But their principal business was to make a careful search of the spot where she had found the pocketbook.

The driver, who was on the front end of the first wagon, did not notice the children at all and only learned of the accident by being told after it had occurred.

Scarcity of Help.

Crookston—Owing to the great scarcity of men and teams, much of the road and ditch improvement work, for which ample appropriation has been made, has not been started, and probably will not be undertaken until next year. From $25,000 to $30,000 has been appropriated for road improvement and ditch construction, none of which has been used as yet. Every effort will be made on the part of the county commissioners to have this money started at the earliest possible date next spring and rushed to a finish. The contractors cannot be held responsible for not having started work, as they have never not been able to get the labor necessary to carry on the work.

Killed by Electricity.

Duluth—John Meyers, an employee of the Great Northern Power company, while assisting in the repair of some machinery at the plant, touched a live wire and fell over dead.

The chief electrician of the company was present, as were four other electricians, but they were powerless to do anything to save the man.

He was a married man, about thirty years of age, and leaves several children. He had been employed at the plant but a few days.

A Young Composer.

Rachel, aged 13, wrote a composition and played it in which she praised the arbutus, the liverwort, the spring beauty, the blood root, and all of the other blossoms of dell and dale. The fact that she is only 13 years of age is a matter of her sheet of paper, and when she asked her father, who was an editor, to publish her article, he called her attention to the fact.

"You've written on both sides of your paper," said he.

"Well," was the reply, "and don't you print on both sides of yours?"

The "Mound City."

St. Louis wrote an obituary of Mound City from the fact that the original settlers found there many elevations which it is supposed were relics of that strange people who dwelt in the Ohio and Mississippi valleys and are known in modern times only as the Mound Builders. No adequate explanation has yet been found of their strange mode of leaving memorials of their existence. The limestone bluffs on which a part of St. Louis stands formed a solid foundation for the business buildings.

LORD LOREBURN HERE

KEEPER OF ENGLAND'S GREAT SEAL IN AMERICA.

First Time Lord High Chancellor Has Visited This Country During His Term of Office.

Montreal.—Lord Loreburn, who has just arrived in Canada and who will visit New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Washington and other points of interest in the United States before returning home, is the first lord high chancellor of Great Britain to set foot on the shores of the Western Hemisphere, the first lord high chancellor, indeed, to leave his native land during his term of office since the days when Cardinal Wolsey accompanied Henry VIII, to the Field of the Cloth of Gold in France, for the chancellor is the keeper of the great seal, and so great is the importance attached to this emblem of sovereignty, without which no law can be promulgated to any acts of state, or to any documents bearing the sign manual of the sovereign, that all sorts of ancient laws, still unexpugned, provide for its custody by the lord high chancellor, who is responsible for its safety.

An old statute declares that it may not be taken out of the kingdom, and one of the offenses for which Cardinal Wolsey was impeached and punished was that he had violated the law by taking the great seal to France when he accompanied Henry VIII, to his memorable meeting with Francis I. And there are also pains and penalties devised for the chancellor who allows the great seal out of his keeping. So that, what between the difficulty of letting this instrument of power out of his personal care and the impossibility of taking it abroad, the lord high chancellor has always been prevented during his term of office from leaving the country. Speculation is rife as to what disposition Lord Loreburn has made of the great seal during his American tour. He certainly has not brought it with him, and it has left it at home is again have been surrounded by the most elaborate precautions in order to prevent anyone else from obtaining access to it.

Lord Loreburn as lord high chancellor occupies the highest secular office in the British empire, and is its principal temporary dignitary, ranking immediately after the princess and princesses of the blood royal, before even the Premier and Archbishop of York, and yielding the "gas" only to the primates of all England, the Archbishop of Canterbury. The chancellor is not only the most illustrious, but likewise one of the most ancient offices of the realm, the unbroken line of its holders dating back to a few days in the year 1100, when the Norman Conquest. It carries with it a seat in the cabinet, a salary of $50,000 a year, a hereditary peerage, the proctorship of the House of Lords and a retiring pension of $30,000 a year for life, even if the holder has only been occupied for a few days. In addition to this the lord chancellor enjoys an enormous amount of patronage, having the appointment of all the Judges, of high and low degree, from the lord chief justice down to the humblest justice of the peace and county magistrate, and the right of presentation to all the crown livings or ecclesiastical benefices.

Lord Loreburn's principal relations with the United States so far have been his representation of the British interests in the Venezuela arbitration conference at Paris, which brought a friendly conclusion a quarrel which at one moment threatened to develop into a war between this country and Great Britain. For his services in the matter he was rewarded by Queen Victoria with the Grand Cross of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

Filipino Youth Who Has Won an Education Against Great Odds.

ness college with hundreds of students in New York city—from a tiny Ilocano shaver in a single garment, assistively studying the "three Rs" in his native tongue, to a well-educated, well-dressed young man of 21, who is graduated in English, stenography and typewriting—one of six out of a class of 35—after a course of only six months, as an "intelligent and competent amanuensis."

Yet this is the record of Claro Zumei, who has lived less than one year in the United States. If there are many Filipinos an ambitious, as in this instance, it is possible as he, the Filipino legislator, which is to be convened in October by Secretary Taft, will soon become a real power in the government of the islands.

ROYAL DOCTORS REWARDED.

Heraldic Lion Granted by King Edward to Two of His Physicians.

London.—King Edward, of England, the "fountain of honor," has granted to Sir Frederick Treves and Sir Francis Laking, Barometer, the latter his physician in ordinary and surgeon apothecary and the former his sergeant surgeon, an honorable augmentation to their shields of arms in recognition of their skill and attention during his dangerous illness in 1902. The honorable augmentation consists of one of the lions of England borne on the King's own royal arms—a lion passant guardant, gold, on a field gules (red). The shield of Sir Frederick Treves' shield the augmentation is shown here.

The only other instance in which the charges of the royal shield were permitted to be borne on the shield of a member of the medical profession occurred in 1612, when James I. granted to Gideon Helme, his apothecary, who obtained the charter for the Apothecaries' society, the gold lion passant guardant of the royal shield, as well as a fleur de lys of France, which was then also a charge upon it.

Some New York restaurants are as well-kept as a South Bend au d'la in his ice cream suit.

A GRADING BOARD.

Work of Sorting Apples Made Easy By Its Use.

A very useful device for help in sorting apples or other fruit where close assorting is necessary is a grading board as shown in the cut. This merely a piece of light wood with round holes bored of different dimensions, the also being made according to the fruit to be packed. The difference between the various sizes may be either 1/4 or 1/2 inch. The grading board should always be on the sorting table and used frequently, says a correspondent. It will not be necessary to put every apple through it.

QUICK WORK OF PACKING.

System Used by One Successful Handler of Fruit.

In picking apples in my own orchard and in orchards that I buy, I do not allow an apple picked until I am there to commence braising same. I never let an apple touch the ground that goes into a barrel. In picking I use half bushel baskets and short sticks hung over a picker's shoulder, which are used to shake the apples into the buckets and spill apples out of the baskets.

I pack entirely from packing tables that are built on a slight slant. The wide end of the table being added to prevent the bruising of apples as they are being poured onto the table. The narrow part of the table is slanted with half one inch apart, which allows twigs, leaves, etc. to drop through. At the mouth of the table I have an apron that is tacked to the under side of the table; this we lay over the barrel allowing the apples to run into it. When the apron is full we lower it into the barrel, which prevents the bruising of apples as they are put into the barrel.

The cost of picking and packing covers a wide range where trees are heavily laden, the cost being not nearly as large as when there is a light crop. Under ordinary circumstances the picking and packing can be done for 15 to 18 cents per barrel. One man to face, one to pack, one at mouth of table to run the apples, and one to sort out culls.

The packing table does away with having cull apples all over your orchard, as all the culls are thrown under the table. When the time comes to the fall to gather your cull and windfalls for making cider, it is a very easy matter to drive from pile to pile to pick up the apples and put them in the wagon, have my teams ready to haul my apples to cars, where they are put in cold storage in St. Louis in 15 hours from the time they were hanging on the trees.

AGRICULTURAL BITS.

Give plenty of water; laying fowls require it.

Applying manure to grass lands during the fall is a good thing to do, proving the manure, but not put so thickly that it smother the plants. The manure is not a small item of profit from the poultry house. In cleaning up the poultry house the droppings should be put in barrels or boxes and kept dry.

Never give fowls sulphur in damp or wet weather, and give it cautiously even in dry weather. If fed, and the fowls get wet, it is said to cause rheumatism and weakness of the legs.

The prices of farm implements are to be boosted this season. Why not meet the advance by painting and fixing up the machine on hand now? A few gallons of paint, a few pieces of workwood here and there, will put the machine back in service for two or three years.

You will not be allowed to be given more than they can eat up clean at one time.

A patch of dry near the poultry house for the hens to run upon when the ground is bare, is an egg producer.

HORTICULTURAL NOTES.

Fertilize the orchard; plow and spray.

Fruit crops are often so large that the abundance of one year offsets the smallness of crops in other years.

Evergreens are hardy, pretty and make excellent windbreaks. May is the proper month to plant them. Try some and beautify the dooryard.

Keep the bark of your trees healthy by the application of a good wash. A healthy tree, like a healthy man, will withstand the attacks of disease more easily than a weakly one.

RHEUMATISM RECIPE

PREPARE SIMPLE HOME-MADE MIXTURE YOURSELF.

Buy the Ingredients from Any Drug-gist in Your Town and Shake Them in a Bottle to Mix This.

A well-known authority on Rheumatism gives the readers of a large New York daily paper the following recipe, very simple and harmless prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home.

Fluid Extract Sarsaparil, one-half ounce; compound Kamowon one ounce; Compound Syrup Danielaparilla, three ounces.

Mix by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being a vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injury to the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and these above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of even the most simple elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggist will mix the prescription if asked to.

THE KISS IN JAPAN.

One Western Idea That Is Popular with Eastern Maidens.

She was a Japanese college student, little and thin, but very graceful in her carriage.

"The kiss," she said, blushing faintly, "was unknown in Japan 50 years ago. Now, among the aristocracy, it is becoming quite common."

"Yet it is so different, you know, from anything in a Japanese girl's experience. I have known kisses mouthed, but not really kissed—yes, perhaps too warmly tendered. Yet these very maids became afterward ardent advocates of the new western embrace."

"Frankly, I like the kiss myself. Its calmness, and the feeling, as of red lips, when mouth touches mouth, are so lovely and so gentle."

"I like the kiss, and I find it extremely difficult to deny an eager young man so innocent and so delightful an embrace."

BABY WASTED TO SKELETON.

In Torments with Terrible Sores on Face and Body—Tore at Flesh—Cured by Cuticura.

"My little son, when about a year and a half old began to have sores come out on his face. They began to come on his arms, then on other parts of his body, and then one came out on his chest. I was very much distressed, and at the end of about a year and a half of suffering he grew so bad I had to lead him in a cloth to school to keep him from scratching the sores and tearing the flesh. He got to be a mere skeleton and was hardly able to walk. I sent to the drug store and got a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and at the end of about two months the sores were all well. He has never had any sores of any kind since, and only for the nature Remedies my precious child would have died from these terrible sores. I used only one cake of Soap and about three boxes of Cuticura. E. DeWitt, St. Louis, R. P. C. No. 1, Woodville, Conn., April 23, 1905."

Peculiar Ice Cave.

A summer attraction in Colerbrook, N. H., is the "ice cave" in Dixville Notch. This cave is formed by a fissure in the ledge of the mountain that fills with snow in winter, and is protected from the sun's rays at all seasons.

"Lor'ly!" she exclaimed. "Beautiful! I never heard anything like it!" But this is what she said to the half-provoker when he was gone.

Mr. Malagrey Just Home from Russia.

A regular Mr. Malagrey recently came home from his first visit to Russia. He grew enthusiastic about Russia.

"It was fine," he declared. "to go into their churches over those and see the old tombs—sarcophagi, gilded, carved, and had these the like—these things are great, and as for the vegetation, which the Pope likes."

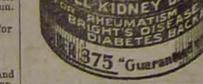

But his stock of compliments gave out when he got to the subject of beggars.

BACKACHE AND DESPONDENCY

Are both symptoms of organic disease, and nature's warning to women of a trouble which will sooner or later declare itself. "I never do my own house work," "It seems as though my back would break!" Yet they continue to drag along and suffer with aches in the small of the back, pain low down in the side, dragging sensations, nervousness, and ambition.

They do not realize that the back is the main spring of woman's organism and quickly indicates by aching a diseased condition of the feminine organs or kidneys, and that aches and pains will continue until the cause is removed.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Made from native roots and herbs has been for many years the most successful remedy in such cases. No other medicine has such a record of curing of feminine ills.

Miss Lena Nagel, of 117 Morgan St., Buffalo, N. Y., writes:—"I was completely worn out and on the verge of nervous prostration. My back ached all the time. I had dreadful periods of pain, was unable to do anything of any kind, and was always weak and tired."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me. I feel like a new woman. I can do my own house work, and I feel like a new woman."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cures Female Complaints, such as Backache, Falling and Displacements, and all Organic Diseases. Dissolves and expels Tumors at an early stage. It strengthens and tones Stomach, Cures Headache and Indigestion and invigorates the whole feminine system.
