SUNNY CLIMES

Mr. Peterson Describes Trip To Sunny South

LOTS OF ORANGE GROVES

Mr. Peterson, Formerly of This Place, Puts It Up In Good Style Some Orange Groves

They came to a truck farm. There is a large patch of cabbage, big enough for market, several acres of tomatoes, most of them ripe, and a five acre patch of lettuce, and probably a dozen Negroes gathering and packing it, as a car load is going to be shipped from this field today, to the northern market, where it will sell for a good price and bring the owner of the five acres a couple of thousand dollars, which probably cost him freight and all less than $500.

The next place they come to is a 10 acre field of strawberries, here are also a large number of Negroes. Says Mr. Buyer to Mr. Green "does it seem funny to see so many Negroes here, they do nearly all the work." Heretofore they had been so interested in other things that they had failed to notice that the colored men lined the platforms of the stations, and seemed to be everywhere they looked.

The Negro is here, sure enough. He belongs here, this is his home.

The farmers here rarely do anything. They make good money, and all seem to be wealthy. They can afford to walk around dressed up, and would not know how to get along if it was not for the Negro.

Mr. Buyer looked out of the window on the opposite side of the car, and exclaimed in great surprise "look at the snow", both of them watched it very closely, wondering how it was, as they had discarded their overcoats, coats and vests, and were sitting in their shirt sleeves. As they drew near one of them said "that looks like sail, I'll bet you that is what it is." A gentleman sitting behind them hearing them talk and watching their queer actions, burst out laughing. Gentlemen, he asked, you have never been in Florida before? No sir, we are from the north. Would you be kind enough to inform us what that white stuff out there is. Well says he "that is Florida sand."

They next plunged into a Florida jungle like they had read of in books, but never comprehended before. Here the palm, live oak, cypress and dozens of other trees, grass, vines, moss and other vegetable matter has become bound, twisted and grown together making a solid mass which is so dense that it would be almost impossible for a man to penetrate, but it looked wonderful to these men from the north.

After passing a few more orchards, truck farms, cattle ranches, swamps and white sand districts, they reach their destination in the very best of spirits, never stopping to think of the long journey of four days and that they need rest.

As they step off the cars they look around they are puzzled not knowing which way to turn, when a brotherly gentleman steps up to them and asks them where they are from, and if they are looking for a location. His automobile is standing at the back of the depot, and he would be pleased to show them the town and the country. He is a real estate dealer and they can ride all over that section without expense, and they are not required to purchase unless they wish to. This is southern hospitality.

WAS BORN YEAR 1816

Mrs. John Erickson Passes Away Saturday

DIES AT DAUGHTERS' HOME

Mrs. Erickson Died At The Advanced Age Of Ninety-four Years Last Saturday

Mrs. John Erickson died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Louis Olson at West Rock, Saturday February 18th at the advanced age of 94 years, she having been born in Sweden the 15th day of December 1816.

She came to America in 1881, and a few years after came to West Rock where she has resided ever since.

The funeral was held from the West Rock Church Wednesday afternoon, and the aged body laid to rest by the side of her husband, who preceded her thirteen years, in the West Rock cemetery, Rev. Rue officiating.

Mrs. Erickson leaves four daughters, Mrs. Olson, of West Rock, Mrs. Sandberg, of Grasston, Mrs. J. P. Johnson and Mrs. Chas. Spearing of this place, one son who lives in Sweden, beside numerous grand-children; among whom are Victor Olson, Arvid Sandberg, Mrs. J. Petschel Mrs. Ed. Netser and Mrs. Herman Teich, all of this place, and a great many great grand-children and numerous friends and neighbors to mourn her loss.

The old lady has been a great sufferer for some time past, but was very patient waiting for the end.

She was a kind and indulgent wife and mother and will be sadly missed by her friends and neighbors.

The Pioneer joins with the many friends of the family in extending its sympathy.

DIES SUDDENLY

News of the sudden death of Edwin St. John of this city was received Saturday morning. His death occurred last Friday twenty eight miles north of Grantsburg where Mr. St. John usually stopped on his way to and from the scene of his logging operations in that region. He had been a sufferer for years with diabetes and death was due to heart trouble.

Surviving are the widow and the children, Mrs. James McIntyre, of Meota, South Dakota, and Fannie, Lois, Ora, Clinton and Warren, living at home.

The funeral was held from his late residence at ten thirty o'clock Monday morning. Rev. John McCoy, of the First Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment took place at Fairview, Washington County Journal.

CHAFFEE AT MOOSE LAKE

Wednesday evening Earl Chaffee, Pine City's middle weight wrestler, went up to Moose Lake and wrestled the "Big Fireman" of Duluth.

After one hour and forty minutes of the hardest kind of work the match was declared a draw.

Chaffee tipped the scales at one hundred and fifty eight pounds, while his opponent out-weighted him by fourteen pounds.

Moose Lake fans are very enthusiastic over the mat game, the house being filled to the doors.

The proceeds from the match amounted to eighty two dollars and fifty cents, which was divided evenly between the two men.

ORGANIZE IT LAST MONDAY

The Royal Rural Telephone Co. Organized, and Old Company Dissolved. Connect With Tri-State

WEDDED MONDAY

Meeting Held At Dorr Bros. Frank Kunish And Christine Franta At St. Mary's

CEREMONY BY FATHER LEO

The Couple Will Soon Be At Home To Their Friends On Their Farm North Of This Place

Last Monday evening a meeting was held at the home of Dorr Bros. on the Brunswick Road, at which time the Royal Rural Telephone Company was organized.

Some time ago a meeting was held and it was decided to organize a telephone company to act with the company at Grasston, to be known as the Snake River Telephone Company. This company was later dissolved and the meeting held Monday evening was called to see what could be done toward organizing a new company. It was decided to organize and the following officers were elected:

President, Frank M. Stuck; Vice-president, Harvey Cole; Secretary, George Dorr and Treasurer, Henry Heins.

William Williams, of St. Paul, representing the Tri-State Telephone Company, was present, and the new company decided to put in his phone.

The new company will connect with the Tri-State at this place. It will be a great advantage to those living on the Brunswick Road as well as to the citizens of this place.

LECTURE TO BE HELD HERE SOON

Some of our citizens have made arrangements with the Extension Department of the State University to have one of the lectures offered in the Extension Course delivered here on March 4, at the school house.

The lecture is to be given by Prof. C. W. Thompson and is entitled, "The Cause For and Against Socialism."

This Extension Course is subsidized by the State, the community merely having to pay the expenses of the lecture, and to meet this, a small admission fee will be asked.

This lecture is really an experiment with us, but if the people of the town respond with interest, a series of lectures will be arranged for.

Last Monday morning at nine o'clock in St. Mary's Catholic Church, occurred the marriage of Mr. Frank Kunish, Jr., to Miss Christine Franta. The ceremony was performed by Father Leo. The brides maid was Miss Mary Kunish, a sister of the groom, and the best man was Mr. Thomas Franta, a brother of the bride. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, and in the evening a dancing party was held at the same place.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kunish, who resides about three miles northeast of this place, and is well and favorably known here, having lived at that place with his parents for quite a number of years. He is an industrious young man and a hard worker, and will make the lady of his choice a good husband.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Franta, who reside three miles south of here on the Rock Creek Road. She is well known here, having come with her parents when a little girl, and has grown to womanhood in our midst. She is one of our fairest daughters, and will make the man of her choice a good, loving wife.

The happy young couple will be at home to their friends in a short time on their farm north of here.

The Pioneer joins with the many friends of the happy young couple in wishing them joy.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our heart-felt appreciation to our friends, relatives, neighbors and members of the K. O. T. M. and the school for their kindness rendered during our sad bereavement, caused by the death of our beloved mother and wife, and also for the many floral offerings.

Heiner Uden,

CONVENT IN NEW YORK NARROWLY ESCAPES BOMB DISASTER.

TWO CASES IN CHICAGO'S ITALY

Policeman Fights Desperate Criminal on High Roof—Bomb Found on Step of Italian Laborer.

New York, N. Y. — A hundred girls inmates of the St. Cecilia convent on East One Hundred and Sixth street, were thrown into panic by the explosion of a dynamite bomb in the front of the convent. The bomb did practically no damage, as the force of the blast spent itself on the pavement and the air, but the noise of the explosion was terrific and buildings in a block or more in every direction were shaken.

Inmates of the convent were asleep in their dormitories at the time, but at the sound of the bursting bomb they jumped out of their beds and rushed toward stairways and fire escapes. The sisters quieted them with difficulty, while the convent watchman rushed from his room in the cellar to investigate.

On reaching the street the watchman caught sight of a carriage being driven rapidly eastward in One Hundred and Sixth street. It disappeared in the shadows of the elevated structure in Park avenue. The watchman gave chase, but when he got to Park avenue there was no trace of the carriage.

In the trail of the carriage the watchman picked up a package of eggs in cold storage which are usually consumed before this time of the year are still unused. That was the statement made by Herbert A. Emerson, president of the United States Packing company, who will testify this week before the subcommittee of the senate committee on live stock and dairying.

Mr. Emerson in amplifying his statement said that the cold storage trust has lost millions of dollars within the last two months through the smashing of the cold storage corner on eggs and butter.

"Trust Meets Waterloo." "Consumers throughout the country will be greatly pleased to know that the butter and egg trust which has had such a firm grip on the throats of consumers and producers alike for the last five years, has at last met its Waterloo, and this has been brought about through the publicity given the operations of the trust by the press," said Mr. Emerson.

"There are today in storage in the United States in the warehouses which are reported to the association known as the American Warehousemen's association, approximately 30,000,000 pounds of butter, and in the warehouses which do not report to the American Warehousemen's association an equal amount, or about 60,000,000 pounds of butter, and the cream separated from the milk and the cream contained in operating creameries figure on what is known as an overrun of from 30 to 35 per cent."

"Nearly a year ago the press began to call attention to the operations of the butter and egg trust and the result has been that the housewife has kept close watch on her bills and has economized whenever opportunity presented itself. The result is at present, the finest creamery butter can be bought throughout the United States at from 27 cents to 28 cents per pound."

COLD STORAGE COMBINE LOSES MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BUTTER AND EGGS.

PRICES DECLINE 50 PER CENT.

Herbert A. Emerson, Chicago Packer, Declines Economy of Housewives, Figure Largely in Causing Values to Decline.

SEVEN PERISH IN FIRE; ONLY FATHER IS SAVED

Mother and Six Children Die—Head of Family Expires by Collapse of Stairway.

Sutton, W. Va., Feb. 20.—Seven persons lost their lives in a fire which destroyed the home of J. D. Hardin in this city.

Only Mr. Hardin escaped, the six remaining members of his family and a little girl who made her home with the Hardins perishing in the flames. The fire was caused by a natural gas leak. When Mr. Hardin awoke the entire first floor was ablaze. Awakening his husband, he seized two of the children and dashed for a stairway, which immediately collapsed and two children were lost, while the father was precipitated to a point of safety.

Mrs. Hardin, seeing the stairway fall, jumped from the second story, receiving injuries from which she is recovering.

The bodies of the five Hardin children and that of Ada Green were cremated.

The Hardin home was located on the outskirts of the town, and although neighbors discovered the blazing building before Mrs. Hardin jumped from the window they were powerless to render assistance.

There was no ladder in the neighborhood long enough to reach the second story windows and spectators stood horrified by the knowledge that the children were being burned to death, but could not prevent it.

Twenty minutes after the fire was discovered the wooden building was a blazing mass and ten minutes later collapsed. Scores of men searched the smoking pile of ashes and carried boards for the bodies, but no atom of human form could be found.

Mr. Hardin is crazed by grief and is forcibly detained in a hospital to prevent him doing himself bodily harm.

SPECIAL MAKES RECORD RUN

Train Bearing Charles G. Gates Travels at Rate of Over Mile a Minute.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—The special train carrying Charles G. Gates, stricken with heart trouble, from Yuma, Ariz., arrived in New York city last night after a record breaking run over the New York Central lines from Chicago.

Mr. Gates was taken suddenly ill while blood poisoning in Texas and was rushed toward the eastern metropolis to receive expert medical attention.

On the last lap of the journey from Chicago to New York, 975 miles, all records for eastern travel were broken. The distance was covered in 989 minutes. Mr. Gates left Chicago at five a. m. and his train was standing in the Lexington avenue station at 10:49 p. m. Through change of engines along the route there was lost 36 minutes, so that the actual running time for the distance was 953 minutes.

RUSSIA TELLS POWERS IT WILL MAKE MILITARY DEMONSTRATION AGAINST CHINA.

CHARGES TREATY VIOLATION

Czar Orders Troops Rushed to Ill District Across Border to Enforce Free Trade Demand—Washington to Ask for Peace.

London, England, Feb. 17.—The relations between Russia and China are strained to the breaking point. Russia notified the governments of Great Britain, France and Germany of her intention to make a military demonstration on the Russo-Chinese frontier owing to China's persistent violation of the St. Petersburg treaty of 1881.

Troops Are to Move at Once. Russian troops will be sent forth to the district of Ill. The extent of the demonstration, it is added in the diplomatic news, will depend entirely upon the attitude assumed by China.

Questions involved are free trade in Mongolia, the extraterritorial rights of Russia in China and the establishment of a Russian consulate at Keobdo, Mongolia.

Not Regarded as Acute. There have been rumors recently of an intention of Russia to bring pressure to bear upon China because of alleged violations of the Russo-Chinese treaty. That the situation was acute, however, has been denied, both by the Chinese foreign board and the Russian legation at Peking. It has been admitted that there were differences in the interpretations of the international agreements made at St. Petersburg and at Peking. The treaty adopted in 1881 expires this month and it has been reported that China was not willing to renew it, at least not until certain modifications had been made.

Peace Way for Coercion. The treaty of 1881 provided for the re-establishment of the Chinese government in the province of Ill, which had been occupied by the Russian armies since 1871. Interest in the Russo-Chinese situation will have to do chiefly with the attitude of the Chinese powers, though Russia's underhand powers and the other powers would appear to have paved the way for any coercive measures contemplated against China.

U. S. Will Aid. Washington, Feb. 17.—The Russian government has ordered several regiments of troops to the Russo-Chinese frontier, according to intelligence sent to the state department here by the Russian government. The United States state department will immediately ask both countries to submit their grievances to The Hague tribunal and hold in abeyance any hostilities until the body can act. This step will be taken with a knowledge that Czar Nicholas has always been a staunch supporter of The Hague court.

SEEK TO DISBAR HARTRIDGE Lawyer Who Aided in Harry K. Thaw's Defense is Charged With Unprofessional Conduct.

New York, Feb. 18.—Clifford M. Hartridge, one of Harry K. Thaw's lawyers during the latter's trial for murder, must defend himself against the charges of unprofessional conduct which the bar association has preferred against him. The appellate division of the supreme court denied Hartridge's application to disbar him. Hartridge is charged with unprofessional conduct in that he admits having spent over $25,000 during his investigation for Thaw in finding workmen who were acquainted with Thaw and in advising them not to talk.

FALLS 11 FLOORS TO DEATH Chicago Real Estate Dealer Jumps From Top Floor of Chamber of Commerce Building.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—W. T. J. Plummer, a real estate dealer, plunged from the eleventh floor of the Chamber of Commerce building and was instantly killed. The man's body, hurtling through the air, passing floor after floor, was seen by scores of people in the building in its downward flight. Much excitement ensued.

Every bone in the man's body was crushed after the long fall and the lifeless form lay on the stone floor in an almost unrecognizable heap.

When this letter news was stooping over to pick up a brick the former accidentally let one fall, striking him directly on the head.

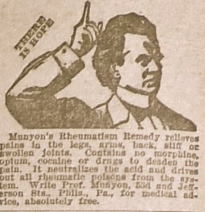

Instead of his killing him, he merely looked up, without rising, and said, "What you don't talk, nigger, you make me bite my tongue."—The Circle.

A Dry Wash. Representative Livingston of Georgia, who disgusted at the bath-tub debate in the house recently, proposed that a little money might be made by renting the bath tubs out, said recently, apropos of this subject.

"We are now a good deal like Bill Spriggins on a zero morning." "Bill's valet entered his bedroom one January morning and said with a shiver." "Will you take your bath hot or cold, sir?" "Thank you," said Bill; "I'll take it for granted."

And It Was All Imagination. "I wonder how much imagination governs some persons' senses?" remarked a visitor at the St. Regis yesterday. "For a Christmas present I sent to a young woman of my acquaintance one of the most elaborate sachet cases I could find. It was such a beautiful thing that I didn't put perfume in it, for some women prefer to use a certain kind all the time, and I thought I would leave it to the recipient to put her own particular sachet powder in the case. You may imagine I was somewhat amazed to read this in her enthusiastic letter of thanks: 'It's perfume has pervaded the whole room.'"—New York Press.

His Head Was Hard. It is a common belief that the negro's head is hard, capable of withstanding almost any blow.

The following story told by a prominent young dentist of Danville, Ill., would seem to indicate something of the kind anyhow. Two negro men were employed on tearing down a narrow wooden building. One negro was on top of the building taking off the bricks and sliding them down a narrow wooden chute to the ground, the other thirty feet below, where the other was picking them up and piling them.

When this letter news was stooping over to pick up a brick the former accidentally let one fall, striking him directly on the head.

Instead of his killing him, he merely looked up, without rising, and said, "What you don't talk, nigger, you make me bite my tongue."—The Circle.

PINE COUNTY PIONEER

Ed. C. GOTT, Editor and Prop.

Entered in the Postoffice at Pine City as Second-Class Matter

A Few weeks more of winter, and then comes happy spring and the adjournment of the Legislature.

AND now comes on a pace, the time of the year when the maiden's thoughts turn to love and the latest styles in bathing costumes.

THE Pioneer is not radically in favor of "New Nationalism" but it believes that a little more latitude allowed Congress would stamp out Mormonism and some other things that we can get along without.

IT just looks a little bit as though President Taft had smoked out the insurgent bunch when he built the reciprocity smudge back of their fences. My, but it was hard on these fellows to have to show their hand.

IT is hard to please the Outlook. Just now they are abusing the Mormon elder with his plurality of wives and numberless children, while a few months ago they had a good deal to say about Colonel Roosevelt's race suicide fad. That Abbot family is hard to please anyway.

JUST by way of comparison read some of the pre-election tariff editorials of the Pioneer Press and note its abuse of everything in the way of a protective tariff, ponder on its landlady gushing in favor of "revision downward", and then listen to its painful silence on the subject of Canadian reciprocity. The old Pioneer Press just doesn't know what to say. Probably hasn't determined which side will pay the best.

YOU can judge a man by what he says and what he is afraid to say. No honest man is given to insinuation. Insinuation is the deadly weapon of the coward, who by a look, a gesture or an intonation of voice, would imply things he dare not speak, and yet which damn and blight the fair name of those whose fame is their all in life. If his lying tongue should be cut out, the slighting insinuation should be disregarded and the author of the unspoken slander should be shamed as a snake.

WHAT do you farmers think of free products? That robber tariff isn't so bad after all, is it? It would be all right to have free trade if it didn't hurt, wouldn't it? The Insurgent who talked free trade with you last fall didn't mean a word he said, did he? Oh, there is a difference in theory and practice, isn't there? How will these fellows come home and square themselves with you before next election? Oh snicks, the tariff bugaboo was used to fool you out of your vote once again yet. Better you look a little out next time yunc.

OVER I didn't know it was loaded! Is what the Insurgent bunch said in Congress when the President turned the trick and gave them a taste of the free trade they have been advocating. Just look at the spectacle of Hammond of Minnesota who was elected to Congress on a free trade issue dodging the ratification of the Canadian reciprocity treaty. Look at the others who have been roasting the Payne Tariff bill, squirm, when they are given a small dose of their medicine. A few weeks ago we called attention to the "Insurgent Insurgency." Just turn back and read that editorial and then read the proceedings in congress for the last few weeks.

Of all the preposterous humbugs and shams, Of all the old wolves ever taken for lambs, The wolf just received by the look he deserves, Is that hypocritical "Progressive" of yours.

KRYL BAND HERE TONIGHT

This evening at Stokl's hall the Kryl Band will appear. If you want to hear some good, first-class music, you should not fail to hear this wonderful company. Prof. Kryl is a noted cornetist, and receives the highest commendations from critics of this kind of music. C. G. Conn, manufacturer of the celebrated Conn instruments, wrote a letter to one of our citizens, in which he speaks of the Prof. in the highest terms, and told him to be sure and hear him. With this company is also Miss Josephine Kryl, the noted child violinist, whose execution on the king of musical instruments is well worth the price of admission to hear. Remember this treat is in store for our citizens at Stokl's hall this evening.

CHAFFEE WINS MATCH

A Wolf in Sheep's Clothing

A TRUE STORY OF THE SECRET SERVICE
By COL. H. G. WHITLEY Former Chief United States Secret Service

IMES were pretty lively about Washington during President Grant's administration. The great, the near great and the shabby genteel politicians were to be daily met with each other on the streets and in the parlors of the great mansions. Every device that human ingenuity could invent was in vogue for money making purposes. Men of respectable ability when at home often turned crooks after sojourning at the nation's capital for a time. The money had a demoralizing influence upon many and the opportunities for acquiring wealth were numerous and varied. For a long time before General Grant took his seat in the president's chair, there had been a looseness in the administration of government affairs resulting in organized frauds that would not be tolerated in this day.

The Credit Mobilier conspiracy, the whiskey ring and many other monumental crimes were being carried on in high official and private circles. The big fellows set the pace and the smaller crooks lettering about the city felt quite safe in taking a hand in what was going on. Some of the devices resorted to by the lesser fellows were quite ridiculous. I will mention one of these schemes for the purpose of exhibiting the folly of some of the letters of that day.

Shortly after President Grant's inauguration in the spring of 1878 he sent a messenger with a note requesting me to call at once at the White House. On entering his office I found him at his desk. He pointed to a nearby chair and bade me be seated. Reaching into a drawer of his desk he took out two long black cigars, and handing me one of them he lit off the end of the other and put it between his teeth. Straightening back in his chair, the big blue cigar was pointed upward at an angle of about forty-five degrees. As he spoke curled lips above his head I saw that there was something in his manner indicating that his usually placid temper was riled. Picking up a package of letters from his desk he turned towards me and said: "Here, Colonel, is a matter that needs your careful attention. During the last few days I have been receiving these letters. I want you to make an investigation at once. The persons engaged in this work must be punished. It is an outrage. It is probable that there is more than one person in the scheme."

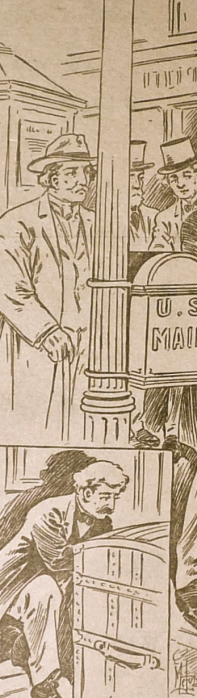

President Grant spoke with great earnestness, and I saw that he was not a little disturbed and that his idea was to let no guilty man escape. The circulars he handed me were printed in letter form and were sent through the mails to many postmasters in throughout the south and west. The circulars read as follows. I give them verbatim.

Executive Mansion, Washington, Oct. 12th, 1872.
Memorandum of conversation between the president and his secretary, Secretary—I wish to refer this telegram of Senator Morton's to the president.
To the President:
A conspiracy has been formed to overturn southern Illinois, Indiana and Ohio and to keep the colored vote from the polls in the southern states. Several thousand nonresidents will vote in Indiana. Men and money are needed. I send a man to you who has been in their council.
O. P. Morton.

President—Yes, I have thought the matter all over, and had a long talk with the man the senator sent. What does Mr. Cook say about money? You know that we have none, and that the committee's means are all necessary for the regular business.
Secretary—Mr. Cook will furnish you any amount you require.
President—Very well, I will take the responsibility. Have Captain C— select a dozen men to go west and south with funds and organize. The mere fact of a good organization will deter lawless men from attempting to defraud the people at the polls.
Additional conversation, March 24th, 1873.
Secretary—Mr. President, have you determined how you will reimburse Mr. Cook for the money furnished last October?
President—Yes, I have. The bishop has suggested that I have Barney to act as secretary in the scheme and as mails are so large and go to clerks to be arranged and sent to clerks to see them, you will have all letters on the subject addressed to him. Can you contribute over a dollar, and to prevent publicity and trouble, direct the remittance to be made by a single ten dollar note. Register letters, drafts, or express and, necessarily, tend to publicity. Mr. Secretary, you will make an alphabetical list of every contributor, to which we can hereafter refer.

Confidential Circular No. 10, Executive Mansion, Washington, April 13th, 1873.
"The annexed conversations are submitted to the friends of the president in confidence. Our friends can address Rev. J. Hale Barney, who is temporarily secretary in that behalf. Any one having conscientious convictions against contributing need only silently decline. The president has acted in good faith and confidently relies upon an active and cheerful assistance. Suppose nothing had been done and the state of affairs existing in Louisiana had more extensively prevailed, what would have been the result? Read carefully the president's views and act as your judgment dictates, remembering this subject is confidential and known only to three persons besides the president and that whatever is sent should be in currency in the enclosed envelope.
Very respectfully,
"O. E. Babcock,
"Secretary."

With the above circular was also enclosed the following letter for return after being filled out:
"Rev. J. Hale Barney,
"Ex-Secretary, Etc.,
"Washington, D. C.
"Sir: Please send enclosed ten dollars in currency which you can apply in any way you think necessary for the good of the cause.

"Yours truly,"
"Rev. J. Hale Barney,
"Executive Secretary, Etc.,
"1216 Sixth St., N. W.,
"Washington, D. C."
It is scarcely necessary to say that the foregoing circulars had been concocted for the purpose of obtaining contributions from the appointees of the president. The Rev. J. Hale Barney was discovered in the person of Colonel Pardo, who had recklessness for the purpose of making money. The circulars turned over to me was a source of great annoyance to the president, General Babcock and Senator Morton. Although the scheme was a foolish one, it was one of the boldest swindles of a pecuniary and political character ever came up in Washington. It involved no less than three kinds of crime—using the mails for fraudulent purposes, forgery and obtaining money under false pretenses. The president was quite indignant. It was not alone reflection upon him personally, but upon his administration.
Many of the postmasters in the south and west receiving these circulars remitted the amount called for at once. Others were surprised and doubtful as to their genuineness and forwarded them to the president with a letter of inquiry. Taken altogether it was a most remarkable affair planned and carried out in a reckless manner. The report of the detectives sent to capture the schemer furnishes a chapter of ray reading.

It was discovered that a lady who rented furnished rooms at No. 426 Sixth street had sometime prior to the discovery of the forgeries received a letter from a man signing himself Rev. J. Hale Barney. He said he was a Methodist minister and that he would be absent from the city much of the time attending to the duties of his circuit, but he wanted to hire a good lower front room in her house for office purposes and a place to sleep and the delivery of his correspondence. He explained further that he had been appointed executive secretary of the Christian Brotherhood.

The lady thought it was a rare opportunity to secure an occupant of distinction. She had great confidence in Methodist ministers as she learned that way herself, and she answered favorably. In a few days a large trunk was forwarded by express. It had an aperture in its top through which letters could be dropped. There was also forwarded two large cards upon which was printed "Rev. J. Hale Barney, Executive Secretary of the Christian Brotherhood," one to be hung upon the door, the other in the window of the room. Money was sent to pay a month's rent in advance.
The madame was delighted to rent her rooms to such a nice man. She had always maintained a highly respectable place and intended to keep it so. The trunk was put into one corner of the room hired, and all mail addressed to the reverend was dropped through the hole in the top of the trunk pending the arrival of his reverence.
The old lady was wholly unsuspectingly secured a key to it. He had several circulars printed in facsimile of the original to be used as decoys. These were postmarked and given the appearance of having been mailed by post office in the north. Some of them contained marked money. Excuses were made in other hand money would be sent in course of time. Some of these letters were signed, "A Friend of the Cause," "A Sympathizer," "Depend Upon Me," etc. A letter carrier was made use of and the detective was kept posted in regard to the delivery of the letters.

When the "nice man" occupying the room back of the parlor was sent the letters contained in the trunk were examined by the detective. A short time after the return of the "nice man" he was seen to slip into the parlor through the rear door. The detective again examined the trunk. The letters were gone. Shortly afterwards the "nice man" occupying the room back of the parlor was arrested while in the act of dropping letters into the postoffice.

These letters were discovered to be circulars addressed to postmasters and others. The "nice man" arrested was searched and the marked money placed in the letters by the detective was found in his pocket. It was now certain that Rev. J. Hale Barney and the individual arrested were one and the same. The silent young man upstairs was suspected and arrested. His room was searched and a large number of printed circulars and envelopes addressed to postmasters were found.

The plot, although silly in its conception, was catchy because of its boldness. The "nice man" caught was a person of considerable prominence. He had served as a colonel of a regiment during the Civil war and was a gallant fighter.
The young fellow upstairs was a printer and had done the work on the circulars. Both of the schemers were convicted and sentenced to do time in the penitentiary. This was only one of the many bold schemes practiced in our capital city by persons maintaining the outward appearance of eminent respectability.

How to Keep Young.
The fact that one has lived 60 or even 70 or 80 years, is no reason why he should feel old.
When Longfellow was well along in years, his head as white as snow, but his cheeks as red as a rose, an ardent admirer asked him one day how it was that he was able to keep so vigorous and to write so beautifully.
Pointing to a blossoming apple tree near by the poet replied: "That apple tree is very old, but I never saw prettier blossoms upon it than those which it now bears. The tree grows a little new wood each year, and I suppose that it is out of that new wood that those blossoms come. Like the apple tree, I try to grow a little new wood each year."
And what Longfellow did we all ought to do.
We cannot stop the flight of time; we cannot head off the one event that happens to all; but we can keep up "growing new wood" and in that way keep on blossoming until the end—

The Human Heart

The heart is a wonderful double pump, through the action of which the blood stream is kept sweeping round and round through the body at the rate of seven miles an hour. Remember this, that our hearts will not stand the strain of over-work without going pure blood any more than the engine can run smoothly without oil. After many years of study in the active practice of medicine, Dr. R. V. Pierce found that when the stomach was out of order, the blood impure and there were symptoms of general breakdown, a tonic made of the glyceric extract of certain roots was the best corrective. This is

Scott's Rebekah in "Vivianhoe."
The character of Rebekah, in Scott's "Vivianhoe" was taken from a beautiful Jewess, Miss Rebecca Graetz of Philadelphia. Her steadfastness to Judaism, when related by Washington Irving to Scott, won his admiration and caused the creation of one of his finest characters.
Crutches or Elers.
Richard Croker, at a dinner in New York, expressed a distrust for aeroplanes.
"There's nothing underneath them," he said. "If the least thing goes wrong, down they drop."
"I said to a Londoner the other day: 'How is your son getting on since he bought a fly machine?'"
"Oh, crutches, like the rest of them," the Londoner replied.

Real Courage.
He was the small son of a minister and his mother was teaching him the meaning of courage.
"Supposing," he said, "there were twelve boys in one bedroom, and eleven got into bed at once, while the other held down to say his prayers, that boy would show true courage."
"Oh," said the young hopeful, "I know something that would be more courageous than that! Supposing there were twelve ministers in one bedroom, and one got into bed without saying his prayers!"

England's Oldest School.
A controversy has arisen in England as to which school has the right to claim greatest age. There are two schools which were founded in the early part of the seventh century—the King's school, Rochester, and the King's school, Canterbury. Justus, on his appointment to the see of Rochester in 894, made provision for a school in connection with the cathedral. Augustine established the Canterbury school about the same time. St. Peter's at York dates back to the eleventh century.
A Fairly Wet World.
The Pacific ocean covers 68,000,000 miles, the Atlantic 30,000,000 and the Indian, Arctic and Antarctic 42,000,000. To stir away the contents of the Pacific it would be necessary to fill a tank one mile long, one mile wide and one mile deep every day for 440 years. In figures, the Pacific holds in its depths 548,000,000,000,000,000 tons. The Atlantic averages a depth of not quite three miles. Its water weighs 225,000,000,000,000,000 tons, and a tank to contain it would have each of its sides 430 miles long. The figures of the other oceans are in the same startling proportion. It would take all the sea water in the world 3,000 years to flow over Niagara.

IT'S FOOD That Restores and Makes Health Possible.
There are stomach specialists as well as eye and ear and other specialists.
One of these told a young lady, of New Brunswick, N. J., to quit medicines and eat Grape-Nuts. She says: "For about 12 months I suffered severely with gastritis. I was unable to retain much of anything on my stomach, and consequently was compelled to give up my occupation."
"I took quantities of medicine, and had an idea I was delirious, but I continued to suffer, and soon lost 15 pounds in weight. I was depressed in spirits and lost interest in everything generally. My mind was so affected that it was impossible to become interested in even the lightest reading matter."
"After suffering for months, I decided to go to a stomach specialist. He put me on Grape-Nuts and my health began to improve immediately. It was the keynote of a new life."
"I found that I had been eating too much starchy food which I did not digest. I ate the cereals which I had tried had been too heavy. I soon proved that it is not the quantity of food that one eats, but the quality."
"In a few weeks I was able to go back to my old business of doing clerical work. I have continued to eat Grape-Nuts for both the morning and evening meals. I want to mention, in connection with a clear mind and feel rested. I regained my lost weight in a short time. I am well and happy again and owe it to Grape-Nuts. BUNN FOR SUPREME BENCH SUCCESSOR TO JUSTICE JAGGAR IS NAMED.

Many Considered Though No Man Was a Candidate—New Man a Democrat.

St. Paul — Judge G. L. Bunn of the Ramsey county district court, a Democrat, will be the successor to the late Edwin A. Jaggard, associate justice of the supreme court of Minnesota, who died in Bermuda.

The governor has felt a great deal of delicacy in naming a successor to Justice Jaggard so promptly, but felt it necessary to do so on account of the condition of the court calendar, which is crowded at this time.

No man was a candidate, yet friends of several prominent lawyers advanced the claims of different men. Among these who were considered were former Justice O'Brien, former Attorney General Young, Attorney General Simpson, Judges Hallam and Brill of Ramsey, and others.

Mr. O'Brien stopped the consideration of his name by saying he could not accept the position. It was felt that the appointment should go to Ramsey, and Judge Bunn's appointment was finally decided upon.

Judge Bunn was first appointed to the district bench by Governor Clough and in the past two elections has been the non-parliament candidate for the bench.

Judge Bunn was first appointed to the district bench came about through the death of Judge C. D. Kerr in 1897. He was first elected for six years in 1898, after having served for about a year and five months in Judge Kerr's place. Twice after that he had no opposition on the Democratic ticket for nomination over on the Republican ticket for election.

He was admitted to the bar and began the practice of law in St. Paul in 1888. Since 1894 he has been professor and dean of the St. Paul college of law.

Native of Wisconsin.

Judge Bunn was born in Sparta, Wis., June 25, 1865. He comes from a family of lawyers. His father, Pomason Bunn, having been a United States district judge in Wisconsin. In the year of 1879 Judge Bunn was made preparatory department of the University of Wisconsin and was graduated from the law department of the same institution in 1888.

Plans for an agricultural hall at the fair grounds, to cost $350,000, were presented to the joint senate and house committees on state fair by the board of managers. After examining the plans and hearing the arguments, the committee agreed to introduce a bill, carrying the desired appropriation.

The proposed building will be 300 feet square, with a full basement and two floors above. It will be fireproof throughout, only concrete, steel and tile being used in its construction. The exterior walls will be of artificial stone, resembling gray granite in appearance and having a crushing strength of 1,500 pounds a square inch.

The exterior lines will be of the Doric order, which combines simplicity and dignity, and in a building of this size, proposed should give a most impressive effect.

The basement will contain a large unloading space entered by driveways from the outside, toilet rooms and, if necessary, a kitchen and restaurant. The heating, ventilating and vacuum cleaning plant also will be in the basement.

Two elevators and four wide stairways will connect the basement with the upper floors.

On the main floor will be fifty-eight exhibition booths and a large central court which can be used for an auditorium capable of accommodating 5,000 people or can be filled with booths, there being room for forty more in this space. A lecture room and other space is provided.

The second floor or gallery will be devoted largely to educational features and allied industries, space being provided for agricultural school displays, the college of agriculture, the state entomologist, soils and their analyses, marketing and shipping appliances, fertilizers, milling, canning and other industries. Offices, toilet rooms and reserve rooms also are provided.

Mr. Gorman said that the estimate of $350,000 had been obtained after close figuring and with the best material obtainable. The heating and vacuum cleaning plants will be of the most modern kind and the building can be used at any season of the year by the college of agriculture or for any other public purpose.

E. F. Ladd, of North Dakota agricultural college, pure food commissioner of the state, issued his bulletin regarding conditions on the Minnesota side of the river, giving the facts regarding the condemnation of 160 head of cattle belonging to John Hanson. These conditions said Prof. Ladd's bulletin, were not alone confined to the Hanson herd.

The city council at their last meeting appointed a committee to act in conjunction with the Commercial club committee in the matter and these two committees made their report last evening. In substance the report was that conditions as they now exist are most satisfactory and that there need be no fear that the milk and meat sold in Moorhead now is unwholesome.

It was suggested that all milk brought in from outside points be pasteurized. It is probable that an ordinance will be introduced in the council making such regulations of food products within the near future.

SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT OF PIMPLES AND BLACKHEADS

A speedy and economical treatment for disfiguring pimples is the following: Rub the face with Cuticura Ointment, but do not rub. Wash off the ointment in five minutes with Cuticura Soap and hot water, and bathe freely for some minutes. Repeat morning and evening. At other times use hot water and Cuticura Soap for bathing the face as often as agreeable. Cuticura soap and ointment are equally successful for itching, burning, scaly and crusted humors of the skin and scalp, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, as ily afflicting infantile rashes, when all else fails. Send to Porter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Mass., for the latest Cuticura book on the care and treatment of the skin and scalp.

Queen Mary's Torusseau. Queen Mary is following the example set by her mother, the duchess of Teck, who at the time of her daughter's wedding with the present king declared that for the trousseau "not a yard of cambric or linen, of flannel or wool, of lace or ribbon should be bought outside the kingdom," and who kept to her word. Queen Mary is having her coronation robes and gowns for court functions as well as the opening of parliament gown made by a British firm of all British material. She has ordered eight dresses so far, and work on them has commenced.—London correspondence New York Sun.
