$100.00 Cash Prize And A Scholarship Free

Development Of Art

Prize Awarded To Students Who Will Finish Eighth Grade or More This Spring

The St. Paul Institute School of Art offers a cash prize of $100.00 and a scholarship for one year to the boy or girl whose drawing shows the highest order of natural artistic ability. The contest is open to public school pupils of Minnesota, outside of St. Paul and Minneapolis, who will finish the eighth grade or more this spring. Drawings are to be made in lead pencil, not larger than 7 x 9 inches. Drawings from nature, models or objects are preferred, although imaginary compositions will be considered. Decision and award will be on the basis of natural ability shown, rather than the best drawing. Where work indicates that the student has had instruction, this will be taken into consideration, so that the student who has had no advantages will have just as good a chance as the one who has studied drawing. Drawing must bear the name and address of the student, plainly written, and be mailed to the St. Paul Institute School of Art, St. Paul, with return postage, not later than May 10, 1911. The object of this contest is the development of art in Minnesota by the offer of opportunity to students who are likely to bring honor to the state.

HIGH SCHOOLS NAMED

Twenty high schools of the state were yesterday designated by the state high school board as beneficiaries of the Putnam act, passed by the last legislature, allowing $2,500 state aid to that many schools on their providing courses in agriculture, manual training and domestic science. The schools designated are the following: Bemidji, Cloquet, Deer River, Ferguson Falls, Hector, Kamos, Littlefield, Little Falls, Madison, Milaca, Northfield, St. James, Sleepy Eye, Spring Valley, Thief River Falls, Warren, Westbrook, Wheaton, Winmar and Worthington. The ten high schools, which have been working under the law of 2 years ago, providing similar aid under the same conditions, are those of Albert Lea, Alexandria, Coaly, Okato, Glenwood, Hinckley, Lewiston, Melrose, Red Wing and Wells. Letter From F. C. Ingleson From Africa

Tells Of His Trip

On Board Steamship Koning Louise, Bound From Sandy Hook to Gibraltar

On Board S. S. Koning Louise, April 1st, 1911.

Friend Gottry:

Let me give you and my many friends about Pine City a brief description of my voyage so far. The North German Lloyd ship, Koning Louise, is a ship of 10,000 tons and 17,000 horse-power with a speed of 16 knots and hour, or nearly 19 miles. We have 27 second class, 127 first class and about 200 steerage passengers.

We left North river, Hoboken, at 11 a. m. on March 25 and steamed down the river, passing Sandy Hook at 1:15 p. m. We put off a pilot on the pilot ship New Jersey off Brighton Beach, and with indicators at full speed we were off for Gibraltar.

The North Star S. S. Lurcina, passed us at 4 p. m. and was a beautiful sight. We passed Nantucket light ship at 7 p. m. The sea was smooth and the wind north.

Now with the exception of the latitude and longitude I will skip over the next few days. On the 26th at noon our position was 39.59 N. J. and 66.30 W. lon. The run was 339 miles. 27th at noon, 40.10 N. L. and 59; 31 W. lon. The run was 382 miles; from Sandy Hook 701 miles. 28th at noon, 40.10 N. L. 59.90 W. lon. The run was 384 miles. 29th at noon, 39.6 N. L. 34.9 W. lon. The run was 285 miles; 1,822 miles from Sandy Hook. We passed the Island of Flores at 9:30 p. m., the most northerly of the Azore Islands. 31st 6 a. m. at noon and on our left is the Island of St. George, in all its grandeur. Its lofty volcano or long since extinct rise in all their stately glory in the morning sun. This island is in height from 2,000 to 3,000 feet and is one vast vineyard. The main product is wine and raisins. Village after village shows up as we steam along its shores. Ever changing scenery continually meets the eye until one is lost in wonder and admiration. The city of Willis is about midway of the island, which is 28 miles long and 3 1/2 miles wide and lying as it does in 38.6 north latitude and 26.46 west longitude, it is semi-tropical. Grain is successfully grown as well as bananas and oranges. Upon our starboard or right side, the Island of Pico arises, with its grand and lofty mountains of perpetual snow. The altitude is 9,880 feet. (Continued next week.)

The case of C. B. Sparks vs. A. Underhill; verdict for plaintiff for $70.00. Attorneys W. H. Lamson and Ottocar Sobotka.

Wednesday morning the criminal calendar was taken up. The first case called was the State of Minnesota vs. John Proffit. Attorneys W. H. Lamson and Chas. Johnson. Later, Proffit acquitted.

KID TEAMS PLAY SUNDAY

Pine City has two young baseball teams coming up that will make a record for themselves before the season is over. Last Saturday J. M. Collin's Gophers and W. H. Hamlin's Badgers played on the local diamond, the Gophers defeating the Badgers by a score of 10 to 6. On Sunday the two teams met in a second struggle and played an excellent game. The score was 5 to 0 in favor of the Gophers. Those who witnessed the Sunday game say it was the best game they ever saw.

23 MINERS KILLED

MEN ARE ENTOMBED IN WEST VIRGINIA COAL WORKINGS FAR FROM ENTRY.

VICTIMS ARE ALL AMERICANS

Cut Off By Tons of Debris and Hope of Rescue is Slight—Accident Occurs Under Town.

Elk Garden, West Virginia. — Twenty-three miners are entombed in Old Mine No. 3 of the Davis Coal and Coke company here, the result of an explosion, and little chance is held out for the rescue of any of them alive because of the tons of debris that has thus far impeded the progress of rescuers. It cannot be learned yet whether the explosion was caused by dust or gas. Officials of the company say they never have known their mines to be gaseous.

The rescue parties had not advanced far into the workings before they discovered it would take several days to dig through the heaps of rock, coal and slate that had been loosened by the explosion. It then was decided to effect an entrance nearer the probable point of the explosion by cutting through the wall of an adjoining mine owned by the same company. The rescuers penetrated to the Number 2 mine at a point about 4,000 feet from the outside entry. There still remains about an equal distance to go before reaching the buried miners.

The Old Mine No. 3 is almost directly under the town of Elk Garden, which is on a hill. The mouth of the mine is about half a mile from the town.

In striking contrast to the usual mine explosions, the victims in this case, with one exception, are Americans.

The mine usually employs 20 men on the day shift and about the same number at night. Owing to a temporary suspension of work however, only seven men were in the mine, else the casualty might have been greater. Two engines with rescue crews and equipment were sent here from Thomas, W. Va., 15 miles away.

POST OFFICE DEFICIT WIPED OUT

Service Extended Along Profitable Lines, Says Hitchcock.

Washington, D. C. — "A deficit in the operation of the postoffice department, caused by the present administration of the postal service, practically has been wiped out," said Postmaster General Hitchcock, who had just received from the auditor for the postoffice department a final report showing that the revenues for the first six months of the current fiscal year aggregated $118,678,811 and the expenditures $118,814,080.

"The wiping out in less than two years of the largest deficit in the history of the department," said Mr. Hitchcock, "was accomplished not by curtailing postal facilities but by extending its service along profitable lines." He believed that the current fiscal year will show a considerable surplus.

The auditor's report says that since the opening of the administration 3,089 new postoffices have been established, delivery by letter carriers provided in 142 additional cities and 2,122 new rural routes, aggregating 5,130 miles in length, authorized, force of postal employees increased by 8,374 men and annual expenditures for salaries increased by $1,708,071 in the two years.

ARMISTICE SIGNED

FIVE-DAY CESSATION OF HOSTILITIES AROUND JUAREZ FOLLOWS TRUCE.

PEACE IS NEAR IN MEXICO

Francisco I. Madero for Insurrectos and General Navarro for Federals Enter into Agreement While Peace Terms Are Being Discussed.

El Paso, Tex., April 24.—General Madero, in behalf of the Insurrectos, and General Navarro, acting for President Diaz, have signed an armistice, to continue for five days, at Juarez.

During that period terms that are expected to end the revolution will be considered.

The truce provides that there shall be no movement of troops of either side during the next five days and that provisions and medicines are to be brought to either camp from the American side without payment of duty.

Ojinga, where a small federal force is besieged, is not covered in the armistice. It was, of course, known that peace was agreeable to Madero, and a telegram from the City of Mexico informed General Madero that General Navarro had been instructed by President Diaz to enter into the compact.

The concessions which the government is willing to make have been known for two weeks to General Madero, ever since Frederico Moya, a business man of Chihuahua, meeting General Madero at Rancho Bustillos. They were discussed at the meeting by the various leaders and members of the peace mission. Those present at the meeting were:

General Navarro, the original leader of the rebellion; Pancho Villa, former bandit and present staunch supporter of Madero; Giuseppe Garibaldi and General and Senora Madero. The last named is accounting a warm supporter of taking Juarez and then talking peace. Somewhere in her intentions she fears that her husband would be better in a position to talk peace from Juarez than from the hills around it.

Diaz's Promises Are Liberal. Much of the discussion was of such nature that its publication is not desired at this time. It may be stated, however, that General Madero has the most authentic assurances of a liberal attitude on the part of the government. In fact, it may be stated that President Diaz is expected to expound every measure which will insure the return of the revolutionary soldiers to their farms and shops with the feeling that the government at Mexico City is their government, and that every aid that government can give them to repair the ravages of neglect is theirs for the asking. It wants no ransom to remain on either side. The liberality of the president on every point intimately affecting the daily life of the people, as shown in the assurances given General Madero, exceeds the dreams of the revolutionists themselves.

All telegrams which have been exchanged in the past few days and all documents in the case were handed from one to another and carefully read by all, including General Madero, the leaders under Madero asserted the latter, as they have done before, that any terms arranged by him would be faithfully kept by them. When the conference adjourned a long telegram was dispatched to the City of Mexico. It suggested details of proposed changes or additions in the outline plan which serves as a basis of discussion.

HELD FOR BOMB PLOT

ALLEGED WRECKERS OF LOS ANGELES TIMES BUILDING TAKEN INTO CUSTODY.

LABOR LEADER IN THE NET

Secretary of Bridge Workers' Union and Two Others Are Charged With Causing Death of 21 Persons—Quantity of Dynamite Is Seized.

Chicago, April 24.—Two men in Chicago and one in Indianapolis, Ind., have been taken to Los Angeles, Cal., to answer to the charge of murder in connection with the violent death of 21 persons.

They are charged with having blown up the newspaper building of the Los Angeles Times on October 1, 1910. Over their heads hangs a reward aggregating $100,000 to be paid for the capture and conviction of the perpetrators of this crime.

The two Chicago men have been held under guard and secretly in this city for a week, awaiting the arrival of Los Angeles police with requisition papers to take them away.

The Suspected Men.

The prisoners are: John J. McNamara, secretary of the International Bridge and Structural Iron Workers' union of Indianapolis, captured there, alleged by the police to be the ringleader in bomb plot.

J. W. McNamara, Cincinnati, brother of Secretary John J. McNamara of the union.

Otto E. McManigal, 414 South Sanson street, Chicago, member same union.

The latter two prisoners were captured in Detroit, Mich., by operatives of the William J. Burns National Detective agency, who have had them under surveillance since the Times building was blown up. The arrests were made April 12. McManigal and J. W. McNamara were brought to Chicago.

One of the prisoners in the party that left Chicago is alleged to be the mysterious "J. B. Bryce" to whom the dynamiting of the Times building had been traced and who has been held responsible by a grand jury for the murder of the 21 persons who perished in the explosion.

He proved to be James McNamara, who for years, according to the charges now brought against him, has been head of the secret, red-handed "wing" crew alleged to have been in the employ of Secretary McNamara.

Burns Seizes Warrant. The warrant for the arrest of Secretary McNamara was served by William J. Burns, head of the detective agency, in person, accompanied by Indianapolis detectives. The labor leader, who is alleged to have been at headquarters of the union, while the executive board of the organization was in session.

The charges made the arrests were based on indictments returned by Los Angeles grand jury shortly after the fatal explosion took place. Responsibility for other destructive explosions in various parts of the country, the police say, will be placed on the men arrested.

In a large suit case and a valise carried by the men arrested in Detroit the police found 12 infernal machines, with batteries, clock fuses, and caps attached, all ready for use. The infernal machines are similar in every respect to those found by the police in Los Angeles and in various parts of the country where explosion outrages have taken place during the last two years.

Dynamite and Nitroglycerin. Four hours after the arrests were made, arrested detectives found two quarts of nitroglycerin and 17 sticks of dynamite in a barn three-quarters of a mile west of Indianapolis. The barn, the detectives say, was rented by McNamara from T. H. Jones, the owner.

A late investigation of the infernal machines of the union disclosed a storehouse in the basement of the building, 64 sticks (about sixty pounds) of dynamite, 200 feet of fuse, 500 dynamite caps, one dozen small alarm clocks and a leather case made to carry a ten-pound can of nitroglycerin. The detectives took possession of all the explosives.

The arrests marked the end of one of the most thrilling criminal hunts ever recorded. Many times detectives knew in advance that certain explosions were to take place and dared not prevent them, for they were in the quarry of their presence. For six months, during which more than a dozen bomb outrages have been staged by the "wrecking crew," its members never have been out of the sight of a detective.

Find More Dynamite.

Tiffin, O., April 24.—Detectives William J. Burns and one of his operatives, A. J. O'Connell, uncovered 400 pounds of dynamite in a shed in the heart of this city, within twenty minutes after stepping from a train which here they had from Indianapolis. The dynamite, Burns declares, was stored here by Otto McManigal.

PRISON FOR GUILTY OFFICIALS

Twelve New Orleans (La.) Men Convicted of "Ballot Stuffing" Released a Prison Sentence.

New Orleans, April 22.—Twelve election officials of New Orleans who "plotted guilty conspiracy in the so-called 'bird stuffing' case," to be charged with a crime in a state election law, were sentenced to eight months' imprisonment each in the Parish prison.

WILL LOOK TO CANADA FOR WHEAT

ONE REASON WHY AMERICANS GO TO CANADA.

In the Chicago Inter-Ocean of a few days since reference was made to the fact that in 1909 the United States raised 737,429 bushels of wheat, and last year grew only 685,429,000, a decrease of 147,450,000 bushels. The article went on to say: "True we raised last year more than enough wheat for our own needs, but it is apparent that if production continues to decrease in that ratio we will soon be obliged to look to other countries for wheat to supply our rapidly increasing population."

The purpose of the article was to show that reciprocity was to be desired. This is a question that I do not propose to deal with, preferring to leave it to others who have made a greater study of that economic question than I have. The point to be considered is, with the high prices of lands in the United States, and with the much lower priced lands of Canada, and their ability to produce probably more abundantly, is it not well for the United States farmer to take advantage of an opportunity Canada affords with its lower-priced lands, and take a part in supplying the needs of the United States, which it is quite apparent must come sooner or later?

It is probable that there are now about 800,000 American farmers in Western Canada, cultivating large farms, and becoming rich, in the growing of 25- and 30-bushel wheat, and all are doing well, during large yields of oats and barley, and in raising horses and cattle cheaply on the wild prairie grasses that are there in both sufficient and abundant. All these things are ready made at good prices. Amongst the Americans who have made their homes in Canada are to be found colonies of Scandinavians, and all are doing well. I have before me a letter from a Canadian, an extract from which is interesting. Writing from Turtle Lake, Saskatchewan, he says:

"I came up here from Fergus Falls, Minn., October 24th, 1910, and thought I would let you know how I have been getting along. We had a very mild winter up to New Year's, but since then it has been quite cold and lots of snow, but not worse than that we could be out and working, even though we had 65 below zero a few times, but we do not feel the cold here the same as we did in Minnesota, as it is very dry, and all are doing well. This is a splendid place for cattle raising and mixed farming. There is some willow brush and small poplars on a part of the land, which is rolling and covered with grass and grass on the prairie. Not far from here there is timber for building material. There are only 8 Norwegian best 6 Scotch sheep on the farm. The lake is 20 miles long and full of very fine fish."

"There is a lot of land yet that has not been taken and many for many settlers, and we wish you would send some settlers up here, as there are fine prospects for them, especially for those who have had no farming with. Send them here to Turtle Lake, and we will show them the land. If they have secured plots, showing the vacant land, and the vacant lands in battlefront. Send us up some good Scandinavian settlers this spring."

The Canadian government agents will try to meet his wishes.

Minnesota Legislature

Proceedings at the Minnesota State Capitol for the Past Week.

St. Paul, April 19.—Riotous scenes marked the adjournment of the lower house of the Minnesota legislature after a three months session and especially for its lack of accomplishment. The scene was a fitting ending to the session of the lower branch in its disorganized state. Wild scenes had become almost daily occurrences but that which brought about adjournment rivaled them all. In the midst of the excitement, L. C. Spooner, of Morris, angered by the forced adjournment, lashed an alleged representative of the brewing interests and ordered him from the floor.

Belligerent Attitude Assumed.
"You do—scoundrel," he roared. "You leopards. It is you and the heretics who have brought this session and disgraced the state of Minnesota." The man hurried from the assembly room while Mr. Spooner was held back by a number of house members.

As a result of the adjournment, nearly 400 proposed laws, many of them important ones, passed into oblivion. It killed the extension of the referendum law to cities of the fourth class, the state-wide primary law and other reform measures which had been sent over from the senate.

During the morning session affairs in the house reached such a condition that Speaker Dunn threatened to call out the militia.

Pandemonium reigned, and semblance of order had been lost and a fist fight on the floor had been averted only by a score of members separating the combatants. The house was in an uproar. Few if any of the members were in their seats. The sound of the speaker's gavel echoed through the hall.

It was all part of the debate on the bill to limit senatorial representation to not more than seven from one county.

Representatives Dan O'Neill of Thief River Falls and Thomas Frankson of Spring Valley were the actors in an altercation and a personal encounter such as has not occurred in the Minnesota legislature for years.

Had blood between the two men developed during the session of the "tax senator" bill, in which O'Neill came to the rescue of the cities, and was interrupted by Frankson. They had words at several times. O'Neill kept telling O'Neill that he was making a mistake and would suffer at home because he refused to stand for limiting city representation.

During the pendency of W. L. Nolan's motion to recall the bill from the senate, Frankson walked over into the aisle to where O'Neill was seated and told O'Neill that he was making a mistake and would suffer at home because he refused to stand for limiting city representation.

"I'll send you to political oblivion, old fellow," he said.
O'Neill, who is excitable and remarkably strong for his years, jumped up and made for Frankson. Seizing him by the coat collar, he began rushing him down the aisle and back toward his own side of the floor.

"I've stood enough of that from you," he roared. "You can't give me any more of your talk."

Twenty members were on the spot in an instant, and several of them had hard work in releasing O'Neill's grip from Frankson's coat. The man from Spring Valley was then escorted to the speaker's chamber as though palsied when he was finally induced to take his seat.

All this time the speaker was hammering with his gavel, and it was several minutes after the men were separated before he got order and could speak. Then he began reading the house a lecture on preserving order. As he talked he began to get excited himself, until he came to the climax and threatened to call out the militia. There was applause from a part of the house, but not from the northern and city members, who from the speaker is decidedly unpopular.

Thomas Frankson, who according to the blue book is 48 years old and a sturdy fellow of 180 pounds or more, strutted around after the incident and said, "I wish he had come out in the corridor a few minutes and I'd hit him." Mr. O'Neill is 53 years old.

In the senate the disorder was almost as great, although there was no personal encounter.

The deadlock which was kept up all night Friday in the Senate was finally broken. The body adjourned at 5 a. m., to meet again at nine and the "six-senator" bill went through with little opposition.

The senate passed the McKinley bill, abolishing capital punishment by a vote of 15 to 19. The life of Patrick O'Sullivan, who shot his wife murderer, is thus saved. But he will go to the penitentiary for life.

The bill turning over from the state to the city of Paul new land created by the change of the bed of the Mississippi river was passed. St. Paul, according to its senators, hopes to sell a part of this land for about $250,000 to railroads for terminal facilities.

RATE ADVANCE SUSPENDED.

cities and a union depot and built a Mississippi harbor with the money gained. An amendment by Senator Moonan that the railroads should pay an annual fee of 5 per cent a year on property thus acquired was voted down.

State Tax Levy is Increased.
The state tax levy for general revenue purposes is fixed at 15 mills in the tax bill introduced in the house by L. C. Spooner and passed under a suspension of the rules. This is an increase of 7 mills over two years ago. The levy will net the state about $2,200,000 a year. The entire tax levy for all state purposes for the next two years is 3 1/2 mills, as compared with 2 1/2 mills fixed two years ago. The total levy will bring the state $4,200,000 annually.

The Oregon plan for direct election of United States senators was among the many bills introduced by the senate, by a vote of 55 to 8.

The bill provides for the non-partisan direct election of United States senators. The legislators must sign a pledge either to support or to oppose the bill, as the legislator who refused to promise to support the popular senators would stand no chance of being elected, they say.

At each party primary, under the bill, a candidate of the party shall be selected. At the general election, the different candidates shall be voted on and the legislature will be compelled to elect the popular candidate. This might result here as it has in Oregon and Nevada, in a Republican legislature being compelled to elect a Democrat to the United States senate, or the other way around.

Session Cost is $308,792.

Legislative expenses for the present session are more than $100,000 in excess of the expenses of the 1909 session. The 1911 legislature has used a total of $308,792, while the 1910 session spent but $229,732.75. The standing appropriation of the legislature at the beginning of the present session was $182,000, but the total cost was increased until it totaled $307,000, and with a few incidental, an aggregate sum of $308,792.42 stands to the credit of the 1911 legislature.

Two anti-liquor bills were acted upon by the senate. The R. C. Dunn bill to abolish road houses lost by a vote of 20 to 24. The bill to allow cities of the fourth class to vote on the license question was passed.

Senators G. H. Sullivan and Rockne had passed a resolution that five members of the senate be appointed a committee to serve without pay to draw up a workingmen's compensation bill.

By a vote of 26 to 18, the senate passed the "hotel zone" bill, conferring upon the Radisson and Dyckman hotels of Minneapolis the privilege to serve liquor to their guests. The bill passed the house several weeks ago. Governor Eberhart said, after the passage of the bill, that he would sign it.

Doing in the House.
Speaker Dunn interrupted business to instruct the sergeant-at-arms to eject all lobbyists from the floor of the house.

George A. Ralph, state drainage engineer, is practically expatriated on every charge made against him in the majority report of the house investigating committee. It is signed by O. Knutson, J. E. Moriarty and Ralph E. Crane. A minority report signed by Donald Robertson of Argle and recommending the dismissal of Mr. Ralph.

Senator Schaller was voted $1,000 for his services in the prosecution of Patrick O'Sullivan, who killed his wife and a priest in South St. Paul. Ernest Lundeen introduced a resolution abolishing corporal punishment in the state's prisons. John Lennon gave notice of debate and this resolution went over until today.

The house passed a resolution introduced by Speaker Dunn under suspension of the rules. It asks congress to pass a law prohibiting injunction proceedings to be brought in the federal court on a state law until the case has been finally adjudicated in the state's supreme court.

CITY HALL BURNS.

Brussels, Belgium.—The city hall at Schaerbeek, a suburb of the capital, together with its archives, works of art, including notable paintings and bookshelves, was destroyed by fire. Two firemen were killed during the desperate effort to save some of the contents of the building. A is believed the fire was of incendiary origin.

GOING AFTER "LAME DUCKS"

PROMOTION FOR MINNEAPOLIS DIPLOMAT.

LAURITZ S. SWENSON.

SWENSON SENT TO NORWAY

Taft Sends His Nomination to Senate.

Mr. Swenson is at Present Ambassador to Switzerland—Change One of Several.

Minneapolis.—President Taft has sent to the senate the nomination of Lauritz S. Swenson of Minneapolis, at present minister to Switzerland, to be minister to Norway. The change is one of several caused by the resignation of Herbert Pierce as minister to Norway and the elevation of the diplomatic service. The change is one of several caused by the resignation of Herbert Pierce as minister to Norway and the elevation of the diplomatic service.

Mr. Swenson has made a splendid reputation as a diplomat and is said to stand very high in the estimation of the president. It was thought best to send him to Norway, which is considered one of the most important of the berths in the diplomatic service. A man who was familiar with the language, customs and life of the country to a greater degree than would be possible in most cases. Mr. Swenson, although born in Minnesota, has always been a close student of the life of his forebears and is eminently qualified for his new post.

Appointed by McKinley.

President McKinley appointed Mr. Swenson minister to Denmark in 1897 and he held that post until 1910 when he was transferred to Switzerland by President Taft, which post he has held until the present time.

When the change from Denmark to Switzerland was made in 1910 Mabel Swenson, his daughter, was seriously ill in Minneapolis. Mr. Swenson found it impossible to return to the city or to visit and so sent for her to join him in Europe. Although it was believed the change would result in her recovery, she became worse and died en route from New York to Plymouth and was buried in Berne, Switzerland.

JEALOUS LOVER SHOTS GIRL.

Father Searching With Lantern Finds Body of Daughter.

Brainerd.—On the way to a dance at St. Mathias, Bertha Jordan, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jordan, was shot and killed by her jealous lover, Charlie Kunde, 21. In the buzzy were seated Bertha Jordan, her brother, Otto Jordan, 18, and the Kunde boy. Near the farm of David Wickham they quarreled with her and Kunde threatened to shoot. The brother attempted to wrest away the revolver and was thrown out of the horse race away.

The first shot at the girl missed her. He fired two more and struck her in the temple. The murderer then leaped and a few minutes later the brother, Otto, who had been injured in the encounter, heard a shot in the bushes and killed himself. The bodies of the girl and her lover lay 30 feet apart.

The mother of the girl was in Brainerd, and the old father took a lantern and went midnight found his girl in death, her little Easter cloak smeared with her blood. Bertha and Kunde had been keeping company for two years, and it is said she did not care to receive his attentions any more, as Kunde appeared to be very jealous. The parents of both are well known farmers.

VINCENT IN DULUTH.

University President Puts in Strenuous Day in Zenth City.

Duluth.—President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota was the guest of Duluth. He arrived early, and under the escort of a committee of Duluth men he set out immediately to meet Duluth people at lunch. He went for a drive around the city and to talk with friends of the University about its needs and its future.

A program that took almost every minute of the day and evening had been prepared, and he entered upon it with energy to see everything to be seen and improved every minute.

Mr. Vincent addressed the Central high school students, the normal students, and was the guest of President W. E. Bohannon of the normal at lunch. He went for a drive around the boulevard with Dean A. F. Woods of the state agricultural school. He was guest at a reception for the ladies this afternoon at the Commercial club and a banquet was given at the Commercial club in his honor this evening, at which a large number of prominent local people were present.

Mr. Vincent spent some time with H. B. Hovland, Duluth regent of the University. Mr. Vincent made an excellent impression on Duluth people.

NEW POWER CO. LAUNCHED.

Concern Purpose to supply Electric Current to River Towns.

Red Wing.—With the object of distributing electric power for manufacturing industries and other purposes between Winona and the Twin Cities, the Wisconsin-Minnesota Power Company was recently incorporated in Winona.

The promoters, it is understood, are affiliated with the Kelsey-Brewer Electric company, which owns the Red Wing Gas Light and Power company plant of this city and a gas plant at Winona, as well as a number of other electric light and power concerns in the northwest.

It is understood that the object of the new corporation is to secure control of a number of power plants in Minnesota and to place the entire production of the Red Cedar river at 50,000 falls, of 16,000 horse power, of 50,000 falls, at the disposal of the cities in which their plants are located.

A high tension, three-phase line system, carrying 65,000 volts, will be built between Winona and St. Paul. It is expected to have the service completed early in the fall.

SIMPSON WINS TWO SUITS.

Minnesota Attorney General Gets Quick Action in Supreme Court.

Washington.—Attorney General George Simpson has won two suits in the Supreme Court in the lumber cases he argued last week and in both there is a victory for the state.

Both involved the inter-trespass on school lands, one by the Rat Portage Lumber company and the other by the Chief Justice White announced that both were dismissed for want of jurisdiction, which confirms the decision of the lower court. The announcement was verbal and was not accompanied by a written opinion.

BLAST IS FATAL TO MINER.

Delayed Explosion Results in Death of Chisholm, Minn. Man.

Chisholm.—Nicholas Senich, a miner at the Bluffs mine, died in Chisholm, Minn., was killed by a delayed blast. He died several simultaneously, as he was custom, and went to examine the result as usual. One of the charges was slow and Senich arrived at the scene of the blasting just at the time that it exploded. He was 35 years old and unmarried.

FERGUS FALLS WINS DAM SUIT.

Jury Decides City Was Not Responsible for Flood.

Fergus Falls.—The damage suit brought by E. T. Barnard against this city for losses incurred in the washout of the municipal electric dam in 1909, was won by the city. The case was a test suit and was stubbornly contested. The city admitted that it had no theory to account for the washout of the dam, but it argued that an engineer of recognized standing was employed to draw the plans and specifications; that the two inspectors were employed to watch the work and see that everything was done properly; that the contract was as set provided by law, and that every reasonable precaution was taken to insure the safety of the dam. It insisted that the washout was simply an unavoidable accident for which it should not be held responsible.

The plaintiff claimed first that the washout was probably due to the closing of a spring underneath the dam, the theory being that this spring had forced an outlet and gradually undermined the structure, and held that the city had closed this spring.

Mr. Barnard's basement was flooded and he lost about $800 worth of goods. The jurors held in the city's theory that no one knew what caused the washout, although some of them were of the opinion that some one had thrown in quicklime above it, a theory advanced some time ago by former Congressman and former Alderman Harold E. Boen. In any event, they did not feel that the city should be held responsible.

WRONG MILK MEASURE.

Winona Attorney Declares People of City Are Deprived Out of $100,000.

Winona.—William A. Codman, local attorney speaking before the Social Science club here on the subject of "Weights and Measures," declared that the citizens of Winona were being defrauded out of thousands of dollars a year because of the prevalent use of the liquid quart instead of the milk quart measure as provided in the Wisconsin constitution. He defined the law to the members present.

"There is not a single legal standard measure used in the city of Winona by any person in the sale of milk," said he. "The county treasurer has one quart measure furnished by the state, and he does not know and there is nothing on the measure indicating whether it is a dry, liquid or milk quart."

"Furthermore, the county treasurer, the county seal of weights and measures, has never been called upon, asked or required to test and seal any scales, weights or measures for any one of the cities in the county."

"Assuming that about $300 is spent daily by the people of Winona for milk and cream or $110,000 annually, citizens are being defrauded out of $25,000 a year because of the use of the liquid quart instead of the milk quart measure. Probably $100,000 is lost in this city by the continuing public by reason of false scales, weights and measures each year."

PROSPERITY AT PARK RAPIDS.

Building in and About City and Real Estate Deals is Evidence.

Park Rapids.—Evidence of general prosperity in and around Park Rapids are noticeable at this time. Although there was a partial crop failure last year, the improvements that are being made on the farms tributary to town are a surprise to those who are not familiar with local conditions.

Nine large new barns that are being built or will be built this spring indicate the change from grain raising to dairying; that is taking place and quite a number of new farm homes are being built. The outlook for a good year is being fended with woven wire fencing and there is a very noticeable spirit of progress and improvement in all directions. The outlook for a good movement in real estate is reported excellent by local dealers.

WOULD NOT EAT BEANS.

Northern Minnesota Woodsman Says Foreman Beat Him for Refusal.

Duluth.—Charles Kils, a woodsman who has worked for the Johnson-Wentworth Lumber company this winter, has brought suit against the company and James Chisholm, one of its foremen, for $500 because of a beef which the alleges was given him by Chisholm.

Kils says that the foreman beat him because he ate too much bread and neglected the pork and beans. Kils did not understand when the foreman told him to devote his attention to bread and certain other articles of food, and eat more beans, and that led to the attack.

TOWNS ARE GRANTED CANNON.

Chaska and Jackson Will Be Given Guns For Decorating Purposes.

Washington.—The secretary of war has notified Representative Davison and Hammond that the requests of the cities of Chaska and Jackson for the use of one or more obsolete cannon have been granted. A 3.5 inch gun at Waterville arsenal is available for Chaska and a 3.5 inch gun at Waterville arsenal is available for Jackson. Cannon have been offered to Jackson for use on the courthouse grounds.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waurika, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down, and so nervous I could not do anything. The doctors treated me for different things but I did me no good. I got so bad that I could not sleep day or night. While in flames, I read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began its use and wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. In a short time I was better, and began to gain weight and am now strong and well."—Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D. No. 8, Box 83, Waurika, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman.

Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could not do anything. I read of Lydia E. Because your case is a different one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacement, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodical pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

DAME NATURE HINTS

When the Food is Not Satisfied.

When Nature gives her signal that something is wrong it is generally with the food; the old Dame is always faithful and one should act at once. To put off the change is to risk that which may be irreparable. An Arizona man says:

"For years I could not safely eat any breakfast. I tried all kinds of breakfast foods, but they were all soft, starchy masses, which gave me distressing headaches. I drank strong coffee, too, which appeared to benefit me at the time, but added to the headaches afterwards. I tried all coffee were no better, for I found the toast very constipating."

"A friend persuaded me to quit coffee and the starchy breakfast foods, and use Postum and Grape-Nuts instead. I shall never regret taking his advice."

"The change they have worked in me is wonderful. I now have no more of the distressing sensations in my stomach after eating, and I never have any headaches. I have gained 12 pounds in weight and feel better in every way. Grape-Nuts makes a delicious as well as a nutritious food, and I find that Postum is easily digested and never produces dyspepsia symptoms."

CORPORATION PUBLICITY

JAMES J. HILL, the Great Northern railroad magnate, sees in publicity of corporation matters and intelligent public control of the corporations themselves, a long step towards the solution of the present era of business stagnation. "And the United States needs a savior," says Mr. Hill. "The people have demanded not only the best but an improvement on the best, and they will now have to pay accordingly. If they don't pay in money, they must pay in prosperity. The business of the country increases 15 per cent. every year; the facilities for handling this new business increase only 1-6 of that. The difference in the ratio is too great and a balance must be struck, sometime else there will be a complete breakdown of service or prosperity."

"Why don't the facilities for handling business increase more rapidly? Because the men behind those facilities are afraid to spend their money for extensions and improvements."

Mr. Hill has long been an exponent of publicity of corporation affairs and looks upon that as one of the means of bringing corporation and public together.

"The people are entitled to know what the public service corporations are doing and the conditions under which they transact business," he says. "I have believed in, and have advocated, publicity of corporation reports for many years. When the public becomes conversant with corporation affairs and is convinced that it is seeing from the inside, much of the feeling against the great business concerns will pass away. That will be one of the effects of publicity."

In the matter of public control of quasi-public concerns, Mr. Hill is a firm advocate, but he wants that control to be intelligent; he wants only trained men in the places of control.

"A corporation is a piece of paper bearing the stamp and seal of the state," he says. "Its life is created by the people and naturally the people should have some word in making the rules under which it transacts business. That proposition is one I have preached for years and now I am glad to see it making headway among common carrier corporations. Last week President Mudge of Rock Island railroad declared for public control of railroads; George M. Reynolds, president Continental and Commercial National bank of Chicago did the same thing the week before; T. N. Vall, president American Telephone and Telegraph recently made an official report to his board of directors in which he took a firm stand for both publicity and public control."

"But that control must be intelligently administered. Public control simply because it is a control by the public, is not all. It must be intelligent, as I have always contended. Intelligent people will ask and expect nothing more. Vall, Reynolds and the others are right in advocating publicity and public control. Both are things which eventually will go far towards making a good feeling between the corporations and the people, and will assist in settling much of the antagonism which now seems to prevail."

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE

CASTLE HALL, POKEGAMA LODGE, No. 77, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, Pine City, Minn., April 26th, 1911. IN MEMORIAM:

WHEREAS, Our Friend and Brother Carl E. Larson answered the summons of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe and passed into the "Great Beyond" on Friday April 14th, 1911.

BE IT THEREFORE RESOLVED, That in his death Pokegama Lodge, No. 77, Knights of Pythias has lost one of its youngest and most promising members. His work was only begun but his column is broken.

His life work for his family, his friends and his Lodge was mostly in the future but he was not permitted to pass further on his way.

His death is our loss but we hope and believe that he has already beheld "The dawn of a brighter better day."

To his bereaved wife, mother and family we extend our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of sorrow.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon our records a copy thereof to be delivered to the surviving wife, and to his mother, and published in the Pine City papers.

WOMANLY WISDOM

With sudden tears and winning smile,

*Withing May doth now beguile,
Lilac blossoms scent the air;
Fernal winds blow soft and fair,
Seed-time waits without the door,
Golden harvest lies before.*

When in doubt keep pegging away.

Have a pair of sleeves to slip on over your dress sleeves when you are doing house-work. Saves the dress.

Left-over asparagus makes an excellent salad with a dressing of oil, salt, pepper and a few drops of vinegar rubbed together.

Buttermilk will take yellow stains out of white goods. Let them soak in it quite a while then wash it all out and see how fine the goods will look.

When buying carpet for stairs, get an extra yard. Turn in both ends and when it begins to wear, it can be moved either up or down to equalize the wear.

All stoves that are to be put away for the summer must be cleaned inside and out and rubbed with linseed oil. If convenient, wrap newspapers about them.

Do not take down oil-cloth or linoleum when it is first spread over the floor. Let it be walked upon for several weeks or until it has settled into place, and the ridges are evened down.

Use the garden hose for rinsing blankets and rugs on the line. Blankets dry without wrinkles. Rugs should first be scrubbed with ammonia and water. Use a brush for that work; then rinse.

What you are going to miss most when you move to town after spending the greater part of your life on the farm, is the neighbors. You may possibly get many comforts, find many pleasures, but you will never, never, be able to make up for the dear old neighbors. Your're going to be lonesome—take my word for that; and there will never be any friends like the old ones.—From May Farm Journal.

MEADOW LAWN

Mrs. Buttler and daughter Jennie spent Sunday at D. W. Scofield's.

Sam Heath and wife were callers at the Lawn Sunday.

Wm. Davis, of Sandstone, visited at the Lahart home Tuesday and Wednesday.

Wm. Parent, of Rock Creek, returned to the Lawn Saturday.

Miss Fisher and Mrs. E. A. Scofield spent Saturday and Sunday at the home of the former.

Mrs. John Payek visited at Lahart's Sunday.

Hattie Lyneath, who is attending school at Pine City spent Saturday and Sunday at her home.

Gertrude Cutler, oldest daughter of W. C. Cutler had her collar bone broken Monday while playing in the yard.

Peter Donson departed for Lakeville Tuesday to join his wife and son.

Oliver Brooks, of Pine City, was a caller in the Lawn Monday.

BASE BALL

The game was called with Molasses at the stick. Smallpox was catching. Coal was in the box and had lots of steam. Horn was playing first base an Fiddle second base. Corn was in the field and apple was umpire. When Ax came to bat he chopped and Corn let Brick walk, and Sawdust filled the bases. Song made another hit and Twenty made a score. Every spot of Ground kicked and said Apple was rotten.

Baloon started to pitch, but finally went up in the air. Then Cherry tried to pitch, but he was a wild one. When Spider caught a fly the crowd cheered. Old Ice kept cooling the game until Coal burnt him with a pitched ball. Then he had ought to of heard Ice Cream. Cabbage had a good head and kept quiet. Green Grass covered lots of ground in the out field. Organ refused to play, so Bread loafed around and put him out.

In the fifth inning Wind began to blow about what he could do and Hammer began to knock—then Tree began to leave. Knife was put out for cutting first base. There was lots of betting on the game and Egg went broke; but Soap cleaned up. They all began to kick, when in the heat of the game Coal was put out and his future temporarily cooked; but not until he had roasted Pork for his pig-headedness. Baloon went up in the air when Pig began to root. The score was 1-0 when Apple told Fiddle to take second base. Oats was shocked, not having a grain of sense. Song made another hit and Trombone began to slide; but was put out. Meat was playing for a big stake, but was put out at the plate after being roasted by the umpire. The score was 1-0 and the game was over. Door said if he had pitched he would have shut them out. There is no summary to this game, as it was played in the fall.—Ex.

PINE CITY—HINCKLEY GAME

The base ball game last Saturday afternoon between the Pine City and Hinckley teams at this place was a very one sided affair, the local team having it all their own way, as the score will show.

In fact, the game was so devoid of interest that those who came down from up the line left before the game was over. The Hinckley team used three different pitchers, but that made no difference to the local boys. They hit and stole bases at will. The score was 17 to 0 in favor of Pine City.

IMPORTANT THAT PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW ABOUT GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY

The testimonial I am to give you comes unolicited. I have been suffering from lumbago for ten years and at times unable to stand erect. A Mr. Dean of the city, saw me in my condition (tense over) and inquired the cause. He told me that had the lumbago. He replied, "If you get what I tell you to, you need not have it. I said I would take anything for ease. He said, "You get two bottles of Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root and take it, and if it does not do you O. K. I will pay for the medicine myself." I did so and am a well man. For five months I have been as well as could be. Before I took your Swamp-Root was in constant pain day and night. This may look like advertising, but it seems to me most important that the public should be made familiar with this treatment as it is the only one I know which is an absolute cure. I owe a great deal to Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, and am anxious that others situated as I was should know and take advantage of it. Hoping that this testimonial will be of benefit to some one, I am

"ECZEMA ITCHED SO I COULDN'T STAND IT."

"I suffered with eczema on my neck for about six months, beginning by little pimples breaking out, and I kept scratching till the blood came. It kept getting worse. I couldn't sleep weights any more. I kept itching for about a month, then I went to a doctor and got some liquid to take. It seemed as if I was going to get better. The itching stopped for about three days, but when it started again it was even worse than before. The eczema itched so badly I couldn't stand it any more. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but it didn't do any good. We have been having Cuticura Soap and Ointment in the house, so I decided to try them. I had been using Cuticura soap, so I got me a box of Cuticura Ointment, and washed off the affected part with Cuticura Soap three times a day, and then put the Cuticura Ointment on. The first day I put it on, it relieved me of itching so I could sleep all that night. It took about a week, then I could see the scab come off. I kept the treatment up for three weeks, and my eczema was cured."
"My brother got his face burned with gunpowder, and he used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and he got people all thought he would have scars, but you can't see that he ever had his face burned. It was simply awful to look at before he used Cuticura Remedies (Soap and Ointment) cured it." (Signed) Miss Elizabeth Gehrl, Forest City, Ark., Oct. 16, 1910.

Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, a liberal sample of each, with 32-page booklet on the care and treatment of skin and hair, will be sent, postfree, on application to Potter D. & Co., Dept. C, Boston.

The Bridge Party

By JANE LUDLUM LEE

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

SOME along, Emily, we promised to go over early and help Kate fix the tables for the club meeting this afternoon, and you know how she always leaves everything for the last minute. I'll be down in a jiffy, Flora, but such luck as I am having. One side of my hair is as straight as a poker and the other I have burned off with the curling iron. This talk about its being a woman's duty to make herself as beautiful as possible don't go in the summer time."

Emily appeared in a few minutes, adding the finishing touches to her toilet.
"You see this skirt? Well, it don't meet by four inches. I have been taking that obesity cure for the past month and I'll wager I've gained a pound a day—don't you? I have tied this pink ribbon around my 35-inch waist-line. But what do I care for that crowd? Come, let's hurry along!"

They hurried down the dusty country road until they reached the outskirts of the village and soon came to a little cottage with rose bushes rambling over every shutter on the lower floor. They turned into the path that led to the house, but no sign of it was seen or heard. It was one of those still, sultry afternoons in August when even the singing of the robins seems to jar on the quiet of the atmosphere.

"Looks more like a funeral to me than a party," remarked Emily. "Where do you suppose Kate is?" They rang the bell, rang it again, and still no answer. They looked at each other and then rang again a third time. "I'll go round to the back door," said Flora; "they must all be in the kitchen."

And then in a few moments Flora's voice could be heard calling.
"Emily—Emily, come on around—here she is!"

"Oh, girls," exclaimed Kate, "I'm so glad you came. I'm fussed to death. Mother's gone to the missionary meeting, and the hired man cut his eyes almost any form except a beautiful one; he may be of any color. He has the reputation of being able to stand all kinds of rough treatment and still survive. He is regarded as being able to resist disease better than the improved breeds of hogs. We very much doubt whether this quality attributed to the scrub hog is true, since we have noticed that hog cholera takes the scrub as well as the wild bred hog.

One thing is sure that the scrub hog can consume more valuable feed and give less return than any other animal that we know of. A farmer who owns a herd of scrub hogs seldom needs any other corn-cure but his own. He never gets rich selling pork, and in fact if he depended upon his hogs to make him money to buy better bred hogs he would never own better bred hogs.

The scrub hog usually keeps his owner so poor that he is not able to buy better stock. In fact, this is the course of many of our best extensive. Poor farming and scrub hogs are usually found associated together. They are near and dear companions. Both make a rapid retreat before a progressive spirit and there is not a better evidence of the general progressiveness of a people than the absence of the scrub hog from a community.

HEREFORDS WIN AS GRAZERS
Their Ability to Fatten on Grass Diet is Characteristic Which Appeals to All.

There is no breed of cattle which approaches the Hereford as grazers, and their ability to fatten on a grass diet of their own grazing is a characteristic which appeals to all who are looking for the most economical method of producing beef.

Extremes of weather, which will cause other cattle to seek shelter or shade, does not deter the Hereford from eating his fill; and the contrast after an unfavorable season between the Hereford and other breeds is very marked, writes August Hadecke in the Northwest Agriculturist.

The Hereford can be fattened at any age with equal rapidity. Whether beef or a more mature product is desired the Hereford will satisfactorily meet all requirements.

The impressiveness of the Hereford sire, when used on scrubs or native cattle, is a quality which recommends him to breeders of every section. The color, coat and markings are all ideal and all are transmitted by the sire to his offspring, making a uniform bunch of animals which will instantly attract the buyer.

No noticeable pampering is requisite to fit the Hereford steer for market. There is nothing supercilious about his appetite and all that is necessary is to give him a chance at the feed trough.

The Hereford bull is of a mild, even temperament, not in the least excitable or cross—and don't neglect the inside of the ears. Good skimmilk is worth 25 cents per hundred for pig feeding, when corn sells for 50 cents per bushel.

Cowpeas and corn make excellent silage, or the mixture may be used to furnish the best of sheep and hog pasture.

Feeding Rye.
Rye in early summer is a good feed, but will not solve the feed question. It should be followed quickly with a mixture of wheat and other crops with silage.

Safe and Sure.
"What is the best way to induce chest expansion?"
"Medals."

SCRUB HOG IS UNPROFITABLE
Can Consume More Valuable Feed and Give Less in Return Than Any Other Farm Animal.

By W. G. WESTCOTT.
Probably there is no other farm animal that can offer as poor an excuse for his existence as the scrub hog. He is an unprofitable animal any way you take him.

As an economical pork-producer he is a failure. Even his ability to shift for himself does not recommend him to the people within the limit of his range, as he has the reputation of preying upon neighboring cornfields which feed so scarce.

His build naturally adapts him to his manner of living, since he is long-legged, narrow in the chest, has a long narrow snout. This adapts him to his manner of living, and if he falls to find a place large enough to go through the fence, he can soon dig under his own front.

There is no standard of excellence for the scrubhog, since he may possess almost any form except a beautiful one; he may be of any color. He has the reputation of being able to stand all kinds of rough treatment and still survive.

He is regarded as being able to resist disease better than the improved breeds of hogs. We very much doubt whether this quality attributed to the scrub hog is true, since we have noticed that hog cholera takes the scrub as well as the wild bred hog.

One thing is sure that the scrub hog can consume more valuable feed and give less return than any other animal that we know of. A farmer who owns a herd of scrub hogs seldom needs any other corn-cure but his own. He never gets rich selling pork, and in fact if he depended upon his hogs to make him money to buy better bred hogs he would never own better bred hogs.

The scrub hog usually keeps his owner so poor that he is not able to buy better stock. In fact, this is the course of many of our best extensive. Poor farming and scrub hogs are usually found associated together. They are near and dear companions. Both make a rapid retreat before a progressive spirit and there is not a better evidence of the general progressiveness of a people than the absence of the scrub hog from a community.

HEREFORDS WIN AS GRAZERS
Their Ability to Fatten on Grass Diet is Characteristic Which Appeals to All.

There is no breed of cattle which approaches the Hereford as grazers, and their ability to fatten on a grass diet of their own grazing is a characteristic which appeals to all who are looking for the most economical method of producing beef.

Extremes of weather, which will cause other cattle to seek shelter or shade, does not deter the Hereford from eating his fill; and the contrast after an unfavorable season between the Hereford and other breeds is very marked, writes August Hadecke in the Northwest Agriculturist.

The Hereford can be fattened at any age with equal rapidity. Whether beef or a more mature product is desired the Hereford will satisfactorily meet all requirements.

The impressiveness of the Hereford sire, when used on scrubs or native cattle, is a quality which recommends him to breeders of every section. The color, coat and markings are all ideal and all are transmitted by the sire to his offspring, making a uniform bunch of animals which will instantly attract the buyer.

No noticeable pampering is requisite to fit the Hereford steer for market. There is nothing supercilious about his appetite and all that is necessary is to give him a chance at the feed trough.

The Hereford bull is of a mild, even temperament, not in the least excitable or cross—and don't neglect the inside of the ears. Good skimmilk is worth 25 cents per hundred for pig feeding, when corn sells for 50 cents per bushel.

Cowpeas and corn make excellent silage, or the mixture may be used to furnish the best of sheep and hog pasture.

Feeding Rye.
Rye in early summer is a good feed, but will not solve the feed question. It should be followed quickly with a mixture of wheat and other crops with silage.

Johnson and the Smart Children.
Full of indignation against such parents as delight to produce their young ones early into the talking world, Samuel Johnson gave a good deal of pain, by refusing to hear the veriest of children could recite, or the songs they could sing. One friend told him that his two sons should repeat Gray's Elegy to him alternately, that he might judge who had the happiest cadence.

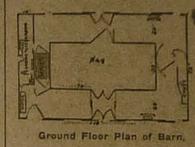

"No, pray, sir," said he, "let the dears both speak at once!"

Youthful Criminals.
One of the most distressing cases he has ever had to deal with faced a Liverpool (England) magistrate recently, and one cannot wonder at his exclamation: "What can I do with these babies?" as he gazed upon five tiny prisoners in the dock. The youngest was only seven years old, and the eldest eleven, yet the quintet for two months have carried out their and other repredations with such skill and cunning that for two months the police and detectives have been trying in vain to find out who were the thieves. No fewer than 40 charges were brought against the children. The 7-year-old child was the ringleader, and quite an adept at thieving and planning thefts.
