Rules Governing Entries and Exhibits.
M. F. C. B. Assn., Seed Fair.

1. The seed in any and all lots must have been grown in the state of Minnesota during the season of 1911 by the exhibitor. Exhibitors must be prepared to prove that their entries are of their own growing and that it came from a crop of at least 1/2 an acre in size.

2. The quantity of seed entered in each lot must meet the requirements, to be considered for prize money and may at the discretion of the judge, be disqualified.

3. All entries must have been received by the Superintendent of Exhibits not later than nine o'clock on January 9, 1912. Those sending samples by express should govern themselves accordingly.

4. All samples sent in by express must be prepaid to St. Paul and addressed to Field Crop Breeders' Fair, New Capitol, St. Paul, Minnesota. Care of G. P. Bull.

5. All samples entered for premiums shall become the property of the Field Crop Breeders' Association and may be offered for sale at the close of the meetings.

6. No one sample can be entered in more than one class and lot.

7. No person or family shall be allowed to enter more than one sample in each lot.

8. Exhibits must be of high quality to be considered and may, at the discretion of the judges be barred from winning prize.

9. After 1912 winners of sweepstakes prizes will be classed as professional exhibitors. A professional class will be created and prizes offered. We do this that the beginner and unsuccessful exhibitor may have better chance to get first premium; also that there may be a gradation and a dignity added to the feature of the Show.

Corn Sections of State of Minnesota. For entering exhibits in corn classes the following divisions will be adhered to:

North Section—All counties north of the south line of Grant, Douglas, Todd, Morrison, Kanabec and Pine counties.

Middle Section—All counties south

THE TIMPANE-HEATH NUPTIALS.

Last Monday evening at five o'clock occurred the marriage of Frank E. Heath to Florence Pearl Timpane. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the brides parents near Beroun, Rev. Parish of the M. E. church in this place, officiating. The contracting parties were attended by Miss Blanche Gandold and Burnette Scofield.

Both young people are well known in this vicinity and have many friends who extend their well wishes.

Frank operates a saw mill at Willow River where the young couple go this week to take up their residence.

The ceremony was witnessed by relatives and a few intimate friends. Immediately following the marriage a sumptuous wedding supper was served.

GOOD MEETING.

The scout meeting held last Friday evening at Bede's is said by many of the scouts to have been the best and most business-like meeting yet held.

The meeting was called to order at 8:30 by Scoutmaster Hamlin. The roll-call showed thirty-two scouts present. Several items of business were first disposed of. It was decided to give an entertainment before the winter is over. A committee consisting of scouts Wandel, Challeen, and Clark was appointed to look up plans for an entertainment and report same at next meeting. A vote of thanks was extended to Harry Ellison for helping, in behalf of the scouts, a needy couple. Gilliam St. Germaine passed the tenderfoot examination.

The scouts next adjourned to the cottage for a few rounds of boxing and wrestling. After a short indulgence in these amusements they partook of a light (?) feast of pop-corn and apples. The experiment of getting fire by friction was demonstrated with success. The scouts left reluctantly at 11 o'clock.

At the meeting next Friday evening, A. W. Piper, a local cartoonist will give a chalk talk. This will be a treat and no scout should miss it.

How many of those solemnly vowed resolutions have vanished on the wings of the morning?

If your heart is drying up and the world looks dark and forbidding to you, don't lay it to others, but look within; there's plenty of sunshine in the world if you will but get into it.

It is a safe bet that there are numerous insurgents who did not find what they wanted in their stocking on Christmas Day. The numerous joys they have received in the last few weeks gave them anything but a Merry Christmas.

The average man likes fair play. It is that very fact that will insure the nomination and election of President Taft in 1912. The American people are beginning to realize that he is just what they have always thought him to be—a plain straightforward, honest man worthy of the confidence of the people.

The jingoes of the House found that there was more brains in the one man in the White House than in several hundred in Congress. President Taft's wise action in the matter of the abrogation of the Russian treaty probably saved this nation serious international complications and won for him the respect of the diplomats of the world. Just another indication of the fact that we have in the White House a President instead of a Politician.

The difference between a trained, conscientious lawyer and the bombastic politician is beautifully illustrated in the attitude of the President and his immediate predecessor on the tariff problem. President Taft has used the machinery of the Courts to control and bring into legal restraint the monopolies which have sought to control the business of the country while his predecessor spent his time in telling what he was going to do. The trouble with Teddy's big stick was that it was merely a "stuffed club" while President Taft uses the strong arm of the law. The latter is more dangerous to the trust and safer for the person using it.

A SCIENTIFIC revision of "Schedule K" the woolen list in our tariff bill is promised and the message of the President sent to Congress two weeks ago shows how and where this revision should be made. During the Holiday recess the friends of the administration will prepare a bill drawn in accord with the recommendations of the tariff board and such a measure will receive the support of the administration. There will be no politics in the bill and there should be none. The tariff is a plain business proposition and that is all there is to it and President Taft will veto any measure that smells of politics no matter who presents it. The day of political trickery vanished from the White House when President Taft entered.

The spectacle of a Republican President, vetoing a pension bill is one which could hardly have been anticipated a few years ago. Yet this is just what will happen if the bill which passed the House a few days ago goes up to the President and he will do it fearlessly. The Pioneer is with the old soldier every time; the Pioneer believes that there is nothing in the world so good for the man who stood between this action and the rebellion, but the Pioneer is opposed to the grafting that has grown up as a part of the Pension syndicate's manipulation of the pension bills and President Taft will show the matter up if it comes up to him. No man in need of a pension and who is entitled to it should be denied it. It is not a gift, but the payment of a just debt and on the other hand no set of men should be allowed to plunder the government systematically as has been done in the past and as the pension bill proposes to do.
