NEW DAM

COMPLETED.

A record in dam building has been made in the completion of the new dam built by the Pine City Power Company during the past month and a half. Water was turned on to this structure Saturday March 30th, and the following day a head was raised which carried it completely over its crest. (This dam was built by the company to enable them to comply with the recent court decision and to take the place of the Chengwatana dam.

Work on this structure was started on February the 18th, and pushed right through to completion. During the greater part of this time severe cold weather was contended with which was a great draw-back as there was a large amount of ice to be removed from the site each day which would freeze over night, and the men employed in its construction deserve great credit for withstanding the hardships connected with the construction in its early stages.

The dam is located a short distance above the power house and is an unusually solid structure. To get a solid foundation, an excavation was made two feet into the solid rock of the riverbed, while the ends of it are imbedded into the banks which are also solid rock. The structure itself is completely filled with stone, hand packed, nearly one thousand cords being used, and those in the base are laid in solid concrete. This structure has a spill-way two hundred sixteen feet long, which will give ample outlet for all of the water that will ever come down the stream at one time, and also contains a sluice gate and approved fish-way. Its design on the lower side is in the shape of steps and the water passing over it is a spectacular sight, and it would pay anyone to travel miles to see it during the flood stage.

This dam was designed by R. B. Fanning of Minneapolis, a hydraulic engineer of note, and its construction was supervised by W. F. Clapp of Minneapolis, while the concrete work was in charge of G. C. Moon also of Minneapolis, both of whom have had large experience in this line, and taking into consideration the time of year in which it was built and the fact that at starting the site was covered with three to four feet of ice, and continually through its building, the water that was flowing in the river had to be diverted from the work as it progressed, the achievement is certainly one worthy of more than ordinary notice.

The lowering of the canal from the new dam to the powerhouse is at present under way, this work being in charge of E. W. Barnum, Superintendent of the Power station, and is progressing very rapidly although unusual obstacles have to be overcome as the formation is almost entirely solid rock, but it is expected that the entire development will be complete inside of one week.

The completion of this development will place the company entirely upon its own land and do away with all the trouble with land owners for which the Chengwatana dam was noted.

Roofing Problems

offer the inexperienced home builder much food for thought, not because roofing materials are inferior to what they were in former years, but because of the many new products on the market. Of course most all of these coverings have merit, but the question that naturally arises is, the cost and service as compared with shingles. We have made a careful study of the various prepared roofings and believe we can offer you good substantial advice and help you to select just the roof for your purpose. In some cases shingles are preferable and in others the ready prepared roofings are best suited. But of one thing you can rest assured whichever we sell you it will be the best for the money the market affords.

DOCT. SCOTT REPORTS

PENETRATES SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE TO WITHIN THIRTY MILES OF THE POLE.

HE ENCOUNTERS STORMS.

Special Cable to the New York Times, Auckland, New Zealand, April 2.—Lieutenant Pennell, commander of the Terra Nova, the British Antarctic expedition of 1910, which arrived here yesterday, brought with him a long and intensely interesting account of the work and experiences of the expedition up to Jan. 30 last, written expressly for the New York Times by Capt. Robert F. Scott, the leader of the expedition. Captain Scott's story is as follows:—

On March 10 we ascended hills to the north of the tent, the party with the two remaining ponies and sledges. By this incident we were able to see that the remaining animals could be preserved.

The heavy snow which caused this disaster broke in pieces the tent and the sledges. The tent was blown away and the sledges were scattered about. The men were forced to seek shelter in the rocks.

On March 15 we started on our march to the south. The weather was very bad, with heavy snow and strong winds. We made slow progress and were forced to stop several times.

On April 1 I returned to Hut Point with a fresh sledging party carrying supplies and stores. It was impossible to get the sledges over the ice.

The snow surface proved very soft. A three days' blizzard at Cape Adair was a further severe trial to the animals which were not in good condition.

On Feb. 24, with men on skis and a single pony, I started to take horse stores to Corner Camp. On the outward journey we passed returning sledges on the ice.

Pine City, Minnesota, April 5, '12

By THE Duluth evening Herald of April 3rd, we note that LaFollette according to a report from Gov. McGovern's office at Madison, Wis., would receive all the delegates from the state of Wisconsin. This is to be expected as Wisconsin is Bob LaFollette's home state.

THE hunt for the murderer of Miss Alice Mathews within a hundred feet of her home in Minneapolis on Saturday evening March 23rd, is occupying the attention of the police department of that city. Over a dozen of suspects have been examined and discharged, but at last they have arrested a man by the name of F. J. Quartermont, that the police force think they have evidence enough to place before the Grand Jury to secure an indictment. The man is arrested on a charge of murder in the first degree. He is a near neighbor of the Mathews family.

REPRESENTATIVE C. B. MILLER defined his position on the wool bill as follows: "I voted for the Republican bill because, in my judgment, it was by far a better one than that of the Democratic. It was drawn in the light of information furnished by the tariff board, and I believe that is the only way that tariff legislation should be enacted. That bill having failed to pass, I voted for the Democratic bill, for while it is not as good as the Republican bill, it is better than our present wool tariff law, and my vote is intended as an indication that I favor a material reduction of the present duties. If the senate acts on any tariff measure, it will act on the wool bill, and I think there is good prospect of its becoming a law, though the law probably will not be the same as the bill, which just passed the house. It will however, I believe, be a material reduction from the duties now in force."

Pure Oil makes Lasting Paint

"It's in the Oil." All good paint is ground in PURE LINED OIL. No matter how good the other materials may be, the paint is useless if mixed in poor oil.

The Lined Oil used in Minnesota Paints is KNOWN is right. They buy the finest, selected Northwestern flaxseed, press out the oil in the good old-fashioned way, refine, settle and age it themselves—it never leaves their hands from the time it comes from the farmer until it is mixed in the paint. Do you know any other paint made like this?

Like the MINNESOTA LINED OIL, all other materials used in Minnesota Paints are the very finest that can be had. The result is acknowledged to be The Best Paints Made. They've been making them just this way for 37 years—full Government Measure, cover more surface, look better and last longer than any other paint.

Smith Hardware Company.

Good Oil Makes Good Paint.

THE most important part of any paint is the lined oil. Without pure lined oil, paint will, in a short time dry up, scale off, and leave the lumber exposed to the action of the weather. The only way for the manufacturer to be sure of the quality and age of the lined oil is to make it himself. Minnesota Paints are made from our own Minnesota Lined Oil. This is what makes it better, as the lined oil is never out of our control until it is sealed up in the can and shipped as Minnesota Paints. In Minnesota Lined Oil we grade pure White Lead and XX New Jersey Zinc, the two best paint pigments known. The grinding and mixing is done with the latest improved heavy machinery by expert workmen, supervised by practical paint men whose experience has extended over forty years. Do you wonder that have been known for forty years as "The Best Paints Made." We make "A Special Paint for Every Paintable Surface." The cost per can has nothing to do with the cost of paint. Figure how much surface a gallon will cover and protect satisfactorily. Minnesota Paints, on this basis, are the cheapest paints on the market.

DARK DAYS.

Are Days of Suffering—They are Becoming Brighter for Some Pine City People.

Many "dark days" from kidney ills, Backache, headaches—nervous tired, Urinary trouble—makes you gloomy. Doan's Kidney Pills bring relief; have cured many kidney sufferers. They are endorsed by Pine City people.

Mrs. Otto Swanson, North Pine City, Minn., says: "Twelve years ago I began to suffer from kidney complaint and I underwent an operation, thinking that it would cure me. I grew worse, however, and my health became all run down. The kidney secretions caused me great distress and I dared not do any work that obliged me to stoop, owing to the pains in my back. My head ached and dizzy spells occurred frequently. At such times I was unable to see plainly and everything before me became dark. One day I happened to read of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at Breckenridge's Pharmacy. They did more for me than all the other medicine I had taken in years and am now enjoying much better health." (Statement given August 31, 1907.)

AFTER THREE YEARS.

In October 1910, when Mrs. Swanson was interviewed, she said: "I can still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills heartily and my faith in their merits is shown when I say that I always keep a supply on hand. Doan's Kidney Pills are the most effective kidney medicine I know of."
