DREAD CHILDREN OF WAR SLAVERY, DECENT, CRUEATY, FAMINE, ARSON, PILLAGE AND PLATFIENCE

DREAD CHILDREN OF WAR SLA War has had many children since the world began, the new York Mall remarks, Some of them are dead now, but others are alive. War's first born was slavery. The savage who conquered his neighbor in the fooret killed him as a matter of course, but he made captives of his family and his dependents, and these captives were slaves. By and by it became so profitable to hold alsave that conquered men were not killed, but spord for a fate worse than death. And in the measure that war drove and spread and became vaster and more dreadful, slavery spread and became vaster and more dreadful, slavery spread and fourished, too. It was but yesterday that we ended it in America; and it is not yet gone from the earth. Warfs next child was pestilence. She was bideous! But not so hideous as slavery. She follows war like a shadow. With the wings of the vulture, she hovers over the camp. Born from the earth. Warfs next child was pestilence. She was bideous! But not so hideous as slavery. She follows war like a shadow. With the wings of the vulture, she hovers over the camp. Born that you was the shadow. With the wings of the vulture, she hovers over the camp. Born that you have the shadow. With the wings of the vulture, she hovers over the camp. Born that you have the shadow. With the wings of the vulture and the wings of the vulture, she hove so were the camp. Born that you have been more dreadful. In this age not quarter of the world we do not have famine in the same guise as that in which she visited the middle ages and still visita Asia. Our people do not de and rot upon the streets, as in Lucknow or Nanking.
