PROMINENT OLD RESIDENT PASSES AWAY

Just before the dawn of day the golden thread of life was parted, and with that parting John Lueth sank into that sleep that knows no awakening, relieved of the sufferings of the past year. He suffered a paralytic stroke on Feb. 2, 1912, a second one on April 9, 1912 and the third on Feb. 2, 1913. At 2:30 a. m. on Feb. 11, 1913 the last summons came, calling him to that home in heaven, which he so richly deserved.

His life was beautiful when we consider the memories of those who were near and dear to him, coupled with the remembrances of those who sat beside him in school days, labored with him in his first home, traveled with him to this country in its early days and worked side by side with him to build a home and community that is a monument to his efforts. From the first to the last through his long illness everything that science and loving hands could render, was done that his pain and troubles might be eased.

He was born on Dec. 27, 1842 in the Village of Blank, Dukedom of Schleswig Holstein, County of Segeburg, Germany, where in his early days he attended school and worked on a farm. He earned enough to come to America in 1869 together with his school mates, well known in our community, William Sommers, Carl Reher, Wm. Struck and Henry Buehring. Shortly after arriving in New York he came to Pine City where he worked for some years. In the year 1873 he settled on the homestead in the town of Royalton, which has been his abode ever since. During his illness he could look out through the large bay window, over the glowing grain, the green meadows and down the old paths to familiar spots that by his hand he had improved, and which today constitute one of the best equipped farms in the county. It is a monument that will ever be a reminder of the harvest that comes to him who labors wisely and well.

On Oct. 26, 1873 he was married to Miss Dorothy Boeck and they were blessed with seven children all of whom are living. On Oct. 20, 1895 God entered their home and took His fairest flower, the mother, to that home above, leaving the burden of care to the one who has nursed him through his long illness.

Mr. Lueth was one of the founders of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church in Nessel township and was a true and devoted member of this church, for nearly forty years serving several times as an elder and secretary to the congregation. His last earnest wish was that this congregation and the church he had helped to build, be always kept up. All through his life he exemplified the teachings of his church, and all who knew him, learned to love him, knowing his kind disposition and loving words.

Whether it be in the home or with his neighbors and friends, he always had a large acquaintance, and in his passing away he leaves many friends who will ever cherish the memory of his friendship. He leaves to mourn his tender care, two daughters Matilda and Emma, five sons, Carl, John, Herman, George and William, besides two sisters and a brother at the old home in Germany. At the time of his death he was 70 years, 1 month and 15 days old.

On Saturday Feb. 15, at 1 p. m. funeral services were impressively conducted by Funeral Director N. E. Anderson at the home and at the German Lutheran church at Rush Lake. A short prayer by Rev. Moebius and a song in German were rendered at the old home, and as the beautiful casket, which was carried by his old school mates, life long friends and neighbors every head was bowed and in the line were seen many a white hair. Those who have now nearly reached their

WELL KNOWN YOUNG MAN SUMMONED

At 1:00 a. m. last Friday occurred the death of one of Pine City's promising young men, L. R. Kowalke, eldest son of Mrs. O. Kowalke. Death came after a short illness and was caused by chronic Bright's disease. Previous to his demise, the deceased had spent a month at the City Hospital, St. Paul and had only been at home about four days. Louis Rudolph Kowalke was born in Minneapolis on May 6th 1886, and at the time of his death was approaching his 27th birthday. When about three years of age he came here with his family and has made this his home. He received his education in the public schools of this place and attended German school under the superintendency of the local German minister of that time. When 21 years of age he went to Toronto and there entered the Toronto College for Veterinary Surgeons. He spent three years in the Dominion and upon returning to this place took the work of a veterinary surgeon, continuing in the practice until his sudden demise. The funeral was held from the home Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. Rev. Parish officiating. Interment was made in Birchwood Cemetery.

Relatives from abroad in attendance at the funeral were—Mrs. L. Kowalke, of South Superior, his grandmother; Gus Kowalke, of South Superior, his uncle; Mrs. Langvin of St. Paul, an aunt; and Miss Maves of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, a cousin. The above returned to their various homes on the limited Saturday.

The pall bearers were—Frank Hurley, Frank Madden, John Wilcox, Irvin Holler, Archie Kendall and Guy Hendricks.

CARD OF THANKS.
 We wish to thank the many kind neighbors and friends who so willingly assisted us in the sickness and death of our beloved son and brother.
 MRS. O. KOWALKE AND SONS.

About Those Ashes.
 A little civic pride is needed in our city! This fact is brought home pretty forcibly in going over the various streets of the town. Ashes have been dumped at the side of the street and in some cases in the very middle of the street. It looks bad enough no matter on which part of the street they may be thrown.
 Think this matter over good people and see if you can't devise some other means of disposing of them. It will better the appearance of the village. Try it and see.

three score and ten came to pay their last tribute together with those who claimed him as their friend. His casket was covered with nature's flowers, those beautiful emblems of consolation and sympathy for the mourning ones. The procession of about eighty teams formed and wound its way to the little church he loved and cherished so well. Rev. Moebius officiating delivered a very eloquent sermon in German and English, referring in a touching way to the past life of Mr. Lueth. In his sermon he said for us to be ready to answer the last summons when our call should come. Appropriate hymns were rendered, in German by the congregation, and in English by a choir consisting of the Misses Dorothy and Mayme Kloock and Mr. Frank Hanson accompanied by Miss Agnes Kirchner. The pallbearers were J. F. Sommer, Henry Buehring, Henry Dose, Hans Kolth, David Anderson and Frank Swanson. After the services the body was laid to rest by the side of his wife, in the German Lutheran cemetery on the shores of beautiful Rush lake, whose placid waters will ever be a gentle reminder of the loved one whose life was as clear and spotless as they.

The International "Ben Hur" to be Staged in St. Paul and Minneapolis

Spectacular magnificence, dramatic splendor and religious ecstasy are the most notable concomitants of Klav and Erlanger's International reproduction of "Ben Hur", which will be offered at Metropolitan Theatre, St. Paul, the week of February 24th, and the Metropolitan Theatre, Minneapolis, the week of March 3. During the thirteen years which have passed since the original presentation of this noble drama, its owners have not only kept it up to its original grandeur, but have elaborated and developed the possibilities of the production each season, until today it stands unrivaled in beauty and splendor of establishment, unsurpassed in dramatic significance and power. It was the "last word" of the stage craft of the nineteenth century and into the new age it brought a bigness and perfection which will remain the standard for decades to come.

Dealing with the earth life of Jesus, the most important period in history, "Ben Hur" shows the world at its most wonderful point in magnificence and wealth, for Rome ruled the world and Caesar Augustus was Emperor of the mightiest realm the earth had known. Into this time of display and pomp came the lowly Nazarene, the Christos for whom the nation had longed, and it is this personality of Jesus that, permeating the fabric of the Wallace-Johnson drama, makes it a sermon as well as a drama of tremendous power and significance. The reverence with which the eminence of Christ is indicated has made "Ben Hur" a religious pageant, while the sweep of the story of Ben Hur and Messala, Esther and Iras, carries the audience off their feet, the culmination of the dramatic plot being the chariot race, wherein Ben-Hur conquers and degrades his enemy.

Nothing more realistic than this scene in the arena of the Circus of Antioch with Ben-Hur and Messala contending for supremacy has ever been imagined by a dramatist or executed by a producer. The race enthralled because on its outcome depended life, love, honor, riches to the victor, and when Ben-Hur receives the victor's crown of wild olive, audiences applaud with the greatest enthusiasm.

How it Works in Iceland.

Of all parts of the world, Iceland has the most misleading name. Those who imagine that it is a cold, barren, unattractive spot, occupied by semi-civilized people, are about as wide of the mark as they could possibly be. Indeed, Iceland in many respects sets an example to the great nations of the world, and if the United States followed in its footsteps, we would be immeasurably better off.

No alcoholic liquors are made in Iceland and none are imported into the island. The people of Iceland consider that the profits from such a business would not pay for the loss in morality and efficiency on the part of its citizenship.

There are several things lacking in Iceland as well as saloons. There is no jail nor penitentiary. They have one policeman and he has the easiest time of anyone on the island, but it is necessary to keep him for some foreigner might come to spend the summer and make trouble. On the other hand the school system is practically perfect. No child ten years old is unable to read. There are no illiterates.

There are nearly 80,000 people on the island, and nowhere on the face of the round earth can eighty thousand people be found with a saloon in their midst who can equal the splendid record of Iceland.

stomach. We are sorry to lose so good a citizen and fellow farmer. Mr. Strandberg was a member of the Pine County Agricultural Society and will be missed very much. He leaves six children besides numerous friends to mourn his loss. The family have the sympathy of the entire community.

The following resolution was read at the M. W. A. Camp meeting held Saturday evening. Be it resolved: That the Rock Creek Camp of the M. W. A. are grieved and mourn with Neighbor P. W. BROWN'S CORNERS.

"A SURPRISE."

The sun shone bright last Friday morn, on all things here below. When a certain "Miss" made up her mind, To her duties she would go.

Two weeks before, which I confess, Was a questionable space of time; Was invited to a neighbor's house, To a neighbors, there to dine.

This affair a little unusual To be invited so long, before, But she departed that night to the neighbors At a little after four.

There a nice supper awaited her, And when the meal was o'er, They withdrew to the cheery sitting room, To visit as of yore.

All was calm and quiet, In this home, not far away; And how long 't would have continued so, 'Tis very hard to say,

If, of a sudden, Yes, as sudden as could be, At all the doors, and round the house There arose a shout of glee,

And then into the house three potted, A great crowd—lively or none; While this certain "Miss" stood there aghast, In the middle of the floor.

"Surprise! Surprise!" they all sang out In a chorus loud and clear, And, "Did you know?" "Did you find out?" Was all that you could hear.

Then began that glorious evening, Of festivities and games, And enjoyment filled the hearts, Of all the ladies and gents.

Before the evening ended, Of another surprise we heard; And to say she wasn't delighted, 'Would certainly be hard.

This affair was held in plain, In this home, not far away; Two gifts was there presented, Their kindness to show.

From these two friends a note of thanks, It extended to those, we know Who were anxious that night in word and deed,

Their friendship to bestow.
