Carrying Good Flour!

ought to be the pride of every first-class grocer, and every first-class grocer in PINE CITY carries "Golden Key" Flour because it is the best flour milled. Few can equal it, and none can beat it, and the few that equal it are not found in this part of the country. Try it once and you'll swear by it.

Electric Light Draws Trade

THERE'S no excuse for the small shop to lose business because of poor lighting. Poorly illuminated counters oblige customers to seek daylight either at the entrance or at a back window of the store to enable them to examine the texture of goods. This is a nuisance which most customers will not tolerate.

Intelligent customers—the class really worth cultivating, invariably trade at shops where they can see clearly the goods they wish to purchase.

Edison Mazda lamps afford an abundance of electric light at minimum cost. "Light up" your place of business. Our Lamp Experts will gladly help you on the path to profit.

No county in the state is doing more for better education and better agriculture than Pine County. No county has a better school system nor a more live, energetic, corps of workers along educational lines. It is very fitting and proper that we show to the people of the county and to those of adjoining counties what we are doing along these lines. At the last meeting of the Board of Directors of the Pine County Agricultural Society, this matter was laid before them and a committee reported in favor of making such an exhibit and suggested the following lines of work to be shown. It is hoped that this action will have the hearty support of the teachers, scholars and parents throughout the county. The following is a complete list of the exhibits outlined and prizes upon same.

MINSTRELS TO APPEAR SOON

If you are suffering with the blues just wait until the Minstrels appear and they will drive them away.

There is nothing that is as good for a person as a hearty laugh. The old adage says "Laugh and grow fat." If you do not laugh at the songs and funny jokes of the black-faced comedians, you had better see a physician right away as there is something radically wrong with you somewhere.

The chorus of about twenty voices under the direction of Musical Director C. H. Southerland, will have a repertoire that will be well worth the price asked for the whole show.

It is the aim of the company to give their patrons about two or two and a half hours of good clean entertainment.

Keep your eyes on the columns of the local papers for the place and date of the appearance of the Men's Club Minstrel Show.

Dayton, Ohio, Where Rising Waters Did Most Damage Reports a One Hundred Bodies Recovered From Flood's Awful Path--Reports from the Other Stricken Cities Add to Horrors of Worst Disaster in Nation's History.

Huntington, W. Va., April 1.—(Via telephone to Pittsburg)—This city in total darkness each night, is facing both a food and water famine. 15,000 out of the 60,000 inhabitants are homeless, 12 persons are reported missing, and the property damage, according to close estimates of leading business men, will amount to nearly $1,000,000. The river has reached a stage of 66.2 feet, the highest in the history of Huntington, and remains stationary.

Fire Report Discredited.
Reports reaching here from various West Virginia points that the city of Huntington, however, has been cut off from all communication.

The entire business section is inundated, water being up to the second floor of all buildings. Numbers of homes have been wrecked, and their occupants have been forced to seek refuge in houses in the surrounding country. Governor H. D. Hatfield has sure is feeble, but growing stronger as leaks are checked.

The main sanitary sewer is in operation, although many of the laterals leading from houses are clogged with mud or backed-up water.

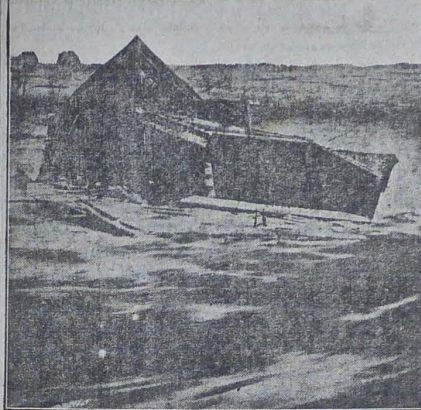

The flood sewers, separate from the sanitary, will be in operation today. These sewers carry off the rainfall from the gutters and are needed now to remove the water being pumped from basements.

Wire Service Improving.
Telegraph service is fast measuring up with requirements—which have been, and are still, enormous.

No trapper services have been performed than those by the telegraph and telephone linemen who made possible the dissemination of news to hundreds of thousands of friends and relatives of Daytonians. They waded against ice floods and entered tottering buildings unhesitatingly in the pursuit of their duty.

By order of Governor Cox the reign be necessary to build foundations under, to straighten, re-roof, put in doors and windows, rebuild chimneys and make other repairs before their owners can move in again.

There are 2,000 houses which it will be necessary to raise and build new structures. The citizen's relief committee, on advice from engineers, had much worse than had been expected.

"Money is needed, most of all," according to Mayor Kreuter.

The known dead at Peru number eight.

Reconstruction Work On.
Columbus, Ohio.—Reconstruction of the West Side of Columbus, where the flood of last Tuesday wrought the heaviest damage, has been begun in earnest by the indigent citizens of that district with the assistance of more fortunate residents.

Twelve more bodies have been recovered from the flood district, but many of them have been identified as persons previously reported dead, so that the Columbus death list still remains at 64.

While householders were busy clearing away the wreckage from their homes, while militiamen cleared the principal streets of the dead bodies of animals and debris, and relief committees continued their care of the homeless, plans were set afoot for the prevention of a similar catastrophe.

Property Loss $4,000,000.

Hamilton, Ohio.—Secretary Garrison of the war department, who is touring the flood district, as the personal representative of President Wilson, visited Hamilton Sunday, coming over from Cincinnati by automobile. So impressed was the war secretary with the manner in which the situation here is being handled by the citizens and Ohio National guard that he announced that he would telegraph President Wilson that nothing need be reported for the present emergency is lacking. The secretary was told that the death list here will not number more than 80, with the property loss estimated at $4,000,000.

5,000 Rendered Homeless.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—The crest of the Ohio river flood reached here with a stage of 55.6 feet, six feet higher than the record of 1884. The river is receding slowly. Two companies of militia are guarding the town.

Belleville, 18 miles away, is practically wiped out and the people are camping on the hill above the town. It is reported that several lives have been lost.

Two lives is the toll of the flood waters in Parkersburg. The damage done to the town is estimated at $1,000,000.

Illinois Threatened.

Springfield, Ill.—Illinois threatens to become the center of flood distress. Startling messages have been received by Governor Dunne and Adjutant General Dickson, indicating that Shawneetown and Cairo are in immediate danger of being washed off the map. Other towns are in distress.

Governor Dunne has sent a rush order for 1,000 troops to proceed by special train to Cairo. Messages received by the governor from Sheriff Frazer and Mayor Parsons of Cairo alarming conditions as extremely serious. Already thousands of people are homeless. The levee might break at any minute with an inevitable heavy loss of life and an immense property damage.

Peru Death List 25.

Sixteen bodies were found in Brookville and six still are missing. The flood struck that town Monday night swept away and bridges wiped out, and no communication was had with the outside world until a courier yesterday took definite reports into Coshoctonville, following a rapid fall in the flood tide.

Peru rescuers workers report that the death list there will not exceed 25 and some believe it will be less.

Thousands Homeless.
While the residents of the river towns in the center of the state are facing a problem of sanitation, the cities along the Ohio river are preparing for the worst flood of their existence. Already thousands of persons have been driven from the bottom lands and the property damage runs into the millions.

arrived here on a special train from Charleston.

Pushing Rescue Work.
The train brought supplies, motor boats and skiffs. The motor boats and skiffs are now being taken through the different sections of the city to rescue hundreds who are marooned.

The local military company has been ordered to the rescue work and is pushing it forward just as rapidly as conditions will permit.

Situation at Dayton.

Dayton, Ohio, March 31.—Here is the problem presented to flood-warding, as summarized by George F. Dyer, secretary to Governor Cox, who is representing the government.

Forty thousand persons must be fed, clothed and housed for a week more. Twenty thousand persons must be cared for indefinitely. Those are persons who lost their all when their household goods were swept away.

Four persons hemmed in with one who had measles are suffering with that disease.

There are two hospitals here. Elizabeth's was flooded on the third floor, so all sick and injured were taken either to the Miami Valley hospital or to the state insane asylum here. Eight persons whose minds have been temporarily affected because of hardships suffered in the flood are being cared for at the latter place.

15,000 Homes Need Repairs.

But it will be a long time before all Daytonians again live in their own homes. There are 15,000 residences which it will be necessary to plaster and paper before they can be occupied.

There are 4,500 houses which it will decided that this reconstruction work will require four months, even if building material can be obtained promptly.

Disease Follows Flood.
Indianapolis.—Central Indiana is summoning its medical forces to fight disease which is following in the wake of the devastating flood which swept that section last week. Sanitary experts expect hundreds of cases of typhoid, diphtheria, pneumonia and measles to develop.

A member of the state board of health asserts that the flood's toll of 61 lives in this state probably will be exceeded. Scores of persons in all walks of life have been huddled in small halls and buildings for days.

They have been forced to live like sheep and a pestilence is feared. Thousands of persons will continue to be homeless until their residences have been cleaned of the filth left by the receding waters and fumigated.

A majority of these refugees have no clothing except what they wore when the flood descended.

Thousands Homeless.

While the residents of the river towns in the center of the state are facing a problem of sanitation, the cities along the Ohio river are preparing for the worst flood of their existence.

OH! MY BACK!

I. C. Warner 185 No. 1000 1/2 Ave., Pocatello, Idaho, writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney trouble and backache for several months. More than once I passed kidney stones and the pain was awful. My back was so sore that I could not get up in the morning. I tried many remedies but they all failed. I finally got relief from Don's Kidney Pills. This remedy dissolved the stones and relieved the pain. I am now completely cured and I can do my work as usual." "Every Body Tells a Story."

They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they give the bowels a rest, they do not grip; they do not weaken; but they do cleanse the system, purify the blood, and condition the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts those organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weakening; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it. Price 25 cents. Look Over The Famous Van Brunt Drills

Van BRUNT Light Draft Grain Drills owe their success to their practical working qualities. They were the first to overcome all objections on account of clogging, chocking up or poor seeding, and can be depended upon for working in mud, corn-stalks or trachy ground, as well as in clear, dry soil.

Van BRUNT Single Discs are of the closed delivery type, but with the seed discharge within the circle of the disc instead of the rear. All the grain is planted in the very bottom of the furrows and covered at an even depth. No seed touches the upward turning discs and thereby thrown out of the furrows. The disc bearings are case hardened and run in a bath of oil. They never wear out and require oiling only once a year.

The Van BRUNT Force Feed compels accurate seeding. It is adjustable for all desired quantities of seed or grain and is GUARANTEED to handle all kinds from kidney beans and peas to flax or alfalfa, without cracking or damage.

WHY INCUBATOR CHICKS DIE

Robert seven years old snugly tucked in bed, called to his mother in the next room. "I can't tell how much I love you, mother," he announced. "Yes, dear, go to sleep now," admonished his mother. "There was silence for thirty seconds. Then: "Mother, God couldn't tell how I love you." "All right, Bob. A appreciate that. But let's talk about it tomorrow." Silence. Robert's thoughts turned to father's automobile troubles, and of the expert called to disassemble matters. "Mother," he remarked suddenly, "even an expert couldn't tell!"

BABY IN MISERY WITH RASH

Montrose, Wis.—"When my baby was six weeks old, there came a rash on his face which finally spread until it got nearly all over his body. It formed a crust on his head, hair fell out and the itch was terrible. When he would scratch the crust, the water would ooze out in big drops. On face and body it was in a dry form and would scale off. He was in great misery and at nights I had to hold him holding his hands so that he could not scratch and disfigure himself. I tried simple remedies at first, then good medicine, but it did no good. "Finally a friend suggested Cuticura Remedy, so I sent for a sample to see what they would do, when to my surprise after a few applications he could see an improvement, and he would rest better. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and a cake of Cuticura Soap and before I had them half used my baby was cured. His head is now covered with a luxuriant growth of hair and his complexion is admired by everybody and has no disfigurements." (Signed) Mrs. Annie Launder, Sept. 29, 1911. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 23-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston." Adv.

No Little Girl for Him.

The six-year-old son of a well-known Indianapolis family attends a dancing school. "He is a chubby little fellow who has not begun to stretch yet, and he keenly feels his short age." He demands that he be recognized as a little "grownup." Several days ago the teacher planned to instruct her pupils in dancing "the Butterfly." A five-year-old girl who is small for her age, and just a trifle shorter than our hero, but an adept at dancing, was assigned as his partner. He gazed at her in silence. Then he took hold of her hand and, with his mouth set firmly, walked straight over to the teacher. "Don't you think you'd better give me a bigger girl?" he asked—Indianapolis News.

Race Prejudice.

This is an actual conversation which was overheard in Oregon in the presidential campaign. It was reported to President Wilson himself, then a mere governor and candidate. He enjoyed it, but refused to allow it to be published at that time. Mike—"Who are ye goin' to vote for this fall?" Pat—"Wilson, Woodrow." Mike—"Faith, an' 'vise verum ye mean, don't ye?" Pat—"The divil it is! D'ye think I'm goin' to vote for 'wan o' them don't-ye-lallans?"

Minnesota Legislature

Proceedings at the Minnesota State Capitol for the Past Week.

St. Paul, April 13.—In a report submitted to the house, the committee on public accounts and expenditures recommends that the present printing committee be abolished and that the control of the public printing be vested in the state board of control.

The present committee consists of the governor, the secretary of state and the state auditor. The conclusion of the committee is that the present duties are sufficient to occupy that time, and that they cannot give that attention to detail in the matter of printing desired.

While the committee finds that the prices paid for printing during recent years have not been excessive, it also finds that the firms which ordinarily bid for state printing are related through a common ownership, the same individuals owning stock in all.

The public printer comes in for criticism because of an alleged inclination to look after the interests of contractors, and because of the objections he raises to what he calls "fictional" competition. The committee concludes that the contracting printers may well be trusted to look after their own interests.

In the opinion of the committee the printing for the legislature costs more than it should. The state does not get sufficient credit for the "fat" in its jobs, which, in fact, are a printer's raise-off. If a new set of specifications were prepared the committee concludes greater economy would result.

Would Protect Laborers. After prolonged debate the committee of the whole house recommended a bill by the committee of labor and labor legislation designed to protect laboring men from employment agency sharks in pass. The bill provides that hereafter it will be unlawful for an employment agency to exact a fee from an applicant for work. If any fee is to be paid it must be collected from employers of labor.

Representative Green's bill making it unlawful for any public officer to ask for, receive or use any free ticket or pass to any theater, or place of amusement, was indefinitely postponed. It developed during the debate that theater tickets and season passes to the State House have been generally distributed among members of the house. These passes did not influence their votes, they said.

Senator Haycraft's bill requiring railroad companies to install track scales in railroad stock yards for free public use, and prohibiting the installation of private scales, was recommended for passage.

An Educational Bill. A bill introduced by the committee on education provides for abolishing the office of superintendent of public instruction and for vesting the general supervision of the public schools in a state superintendent to be known as the superintendent of education.

The superintendent of education is to be appointed by the governor, the first on Jan. 20, 1917, and serve for four years. He is authorized to appoint a deputy, three assistants, a rural school commissioner and a supervisor of school libraries.

The Authority Given. Speaking generally the superintendent of education is given the same authority as the present superintendent of public instruction. In addition he is authorized to prepare a uniform system of records for public schools and establish and carry into effect a uniform system of accounting by public school officers. It is made his duty to supervise and examine the accounts and other records of all public schools.

The superintendent is also required to prescribe rules and examine all plans for the erection, enlargement and change of school buildings, which plans and specifications shall first be submitted to him and approved by him before the contract is let.

St. Paul, March 23.—The entire morning session of the house was spent in an effort to force reconsideration of the primary elections bill which had been previously passed by a vote of 38 to 17. This motion for reconsideration was defeated by a vote of 63 to 44.

The Bill Is Passed. As passed by the house the bill provides for the nomination of county officers, and members of the state legislature on a non-partisan ballot. The date of the primaries was changed from July until the first Tuesday in October.

Eleven bills have been advanced in the house. The most important of these are the bill for the purchase of a state historical library building; Representative Brown's bill to authorize the purchase of the site of the first settlement of the state.

Train Picks Up Helpless. Chicago, March 28.—Experience of aid and slight observed by passengers on Pennsylvania railroad train were told when they arrived on a combination train made up of three of the fastest on that system. The train, which was composed of parts of the 20th-century Chicago special, the eastern flyer and the fast mail train, came into the Union station, hours behind schedule. Perry J. O'Connell, a passenger from St. Paul, O. knew concerning the flood.

Stringent Australian Building Laws. Australian laws require that dwelling and business houses be built of solid material from interior to exterior. Building regulations in Australia are very strict and are rigidly enforced. Interior walls there are chiefly of plaster or concrete, but bricks and junks are much used.

Many a young man would get a hard bump if thrown on his own resources.

Explaining the Needle. A typesetter in a printing house became very devout in explaining the large number of misprints for which he was responsible. Even when he changed his work and became a waiter in a restaurant, says Dan Ego, his skill did not forsake him. One day he had served a guest with a plate of soup, and was turning away when he was called back sharply. "This is an outrage!" cried the indignant diner. "I had a needle in my soup. What does this mean?" "Just a misprint, sir," explained the former typesetter. "It should have been a noodle."—Youth's Companion.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN SUCCEUMS AT ROME

Decline Traced to Money Trust Investigation.

Financier Dies in Italy at 12:05 P. M., Monday, After Week of Serious Illness—Had Been Unconscious and Failed to Recognize His Relatives.

New York, April 11.—J. Pierpont Morgan is dead. He died at 12:05 p. m., Rome time, Monday. This announcement was made by the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. a few hours after the great financier's demise.

Mr. Morgan died at the Grand Hotel, Rome. Announcement of the death was not made to the awaiting newspapermen for some time after the end came, the information being held up until private cables could be sent to the London and New York houses of the Morgan firm.

End Comes Peacefully. The end came peacefully, while Mr. Morgan was still unconscious. Herbert L. Satterlee, Mrs. Satterlee, daughter of the financier; Professor Bastianelli, Drs. Starr and Dixon and other members of the Morgan party were at the bedside, but for hours before his death the banker gave no sign of consciousness.

Mr. Morgan's illness began while he was on a trip on the Nile. Henry P. Davidson, a member of the house of Morgan, who made the first announcement concerning the death, said merely that he had received a cable that the financier had passed away shortly after noon. Mr. Davidson had planned to attend at once, but it is thought probable that this trip will be postponed.

In Bad Health Here. Coincident with Mr. Morgan's death it became known that he had suffered a serious attack before his departure for Europe, but rallied so rapidly that it was not considered a forerunner to fatal illness, and was known only to his most intimate friends.

For many years Mr. Morgan spent a considerable portion of his time abroad, on this trip for the first time he severed all connections with business affairs and permitted his partners to shoulder all responsibility for their conduct. It was the first instance of his taking such a complete rest since he had entered the banking business in this city before the civil war.

Will Not Affect Market. Promises bankers in this city said that they did not expect any decided unfavorable effect on the stock market because of Mr. Morgan's death. The reason of this they explained was because of recurrent rumors of his serious illness had prepared the market for any possibility and enabled those engaged in market operations to prepare for just such a situation.

The condition of J. Pierpont Morgan was serious at 10:45. He seemed to have lost consciousness and did not recognize his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Satterlee.

Unable to Talk. The financier was unable to answer questions even with signs. Drs. M. Allen Starr and George A. Dixon, and Professor Giuseppe Bastianelli visited Mr. Morgan for over an hour this morning, examining all his organs minutely. Artificial food was administered in their presence, besides injections aiming to strengthen the heart, calm the nerves and regulate circulation.

At half past eleven Mr. Morgan's condition was announced to have become still worse. He had not been able to assimilate the artificial nourishment administered earlier in the morning. His pulse became more rapid and his temperature was rising.

Dangerous Symptoms. It was said by his attendants that the increased pulse and the higher temperature indicated some affection which either had not been detected by his physicians or had been kept secret by them. At a quarter to twelve the financier was still in a state of coma.

The physicians in attendance on Mr. Morgan issued the following bulletin shortly before noon: "Mr. Morgan has fallen very rapidly since Sunday. He is unconscious. His temperature is 104½; his pulse 140 and his respiration 48. The question of his death is only one of hours." (Signed.)

"PROF. GIUSEPPE BASTIANELLI, DR. M. ALLEN STARR, DR. GEORGE A. DIXON."

Money Trust Probe Cause. Dr. M. Allen Starr of New York, called into consultation at Rome with J. Pierpont's illness, attributed the financier's breakdown to emotion caused by the investigation carried out by the Pujo committee at Washington into the operations of the "money trust."

Half Century a Banker. No man of recent times has occupied a bigger place in American financial history than John Pierpont Morgan. He was in the banking business for more than half a century, and during the latter years of his life he was unquestionably the financial dictator of the United States.

When a panic seized Wall street in 1901, during the struggle for the control of the Northern Pacific railroad, it was Mr. Morgan who came to the rescue. Again, when similar conditions overtook the fall of 1907, it was Mr. Morgan who saved the situation.

Aside from these two incidents Mr. Morgan probably will be chiefly remembered for the part he took in floating the United States Steel corporation. The violent decline in the securities of the steel trust during the depression of 1903-04, and the storm of criticism that broke forth from the thousands of investors in the United States and in Europe who put their money into those securities, had been a thorn in Mr. Morgan's side, and his chief ambition in the years that followed was to see the steel securities in such position in the market that his most bitter critics would be forced to concede that he built the great trust on a substantial foundation.

Some of His Accomplishments. As an example of business capacity of a remarkable kind, Mr. Morgan was almost without parallel. He was as capable as any of the Rothschilds in the money line, and his achievements as an industrial organizer surpassed any similar feat performed by other operators in the United States or abroad.

Among the concrete results of Mr. Morgan's intellectual labors were: Reorganization of the Buffalo & West Shore and his lease to the New York Central. Reorganization of the Chesapeake & Ohio.

Rearrangement of the Great Southern. Reorganization of the Erie, and his extension of the Northern Pacific railroad to the Pacific coast. In the same year he was instrumental in the reorganization of the Reading railroad and the Baltimore & Ohio, involving the loan of $10,000,000.

In 1893 the Southern railway was created out of the Richmond Terminal and allied lines. In 1895 he rehabilitated the Erie road.

Two years later he put the Lehigh Valley on its feet and brought about the soft coal combination.

In 1897 he performed one of his most remarkable feats. In company with August Belmont he undertook to and did maintain the gold reserve in the federal treasury, although he performed the impossible, the suspending of the laws of exchange in order to accomplish the result.

Gave Millions to Charity. Despite a life of strenuous endeavor Mr. Morgan found time for other things. He gave away millions in charity, but nothing perturbed him more than to have it mentioned to him. He was a devout Christian and vestryman of St. George's Episcopal church, where he took every Sunday morning when at home, passing the silver salver for the collection.

He took an active interest in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and possessed one of the most magnificent private galleries in the world. A deep student of medieval history, he collected many relics of the past, including a Bible for which he paid many thousand dollars, while at one time he bought a cope which was stolen from Italy and when the news of the theft leaked out showed his magnanimity by returning it to the original owners free of cost.

Fortune Estimated at $200,000,000. During all his years Mr. Morgan enjoyed life to the utmost. He was fond of dogs, and his kennels at Cragston were the wonder of breeders the world over. He rode and shot and angled enthusiastically and was fond of yachting. His yacht Corsair was one of his favorite societies and clubs in the United States and Europe.

It is impossible to estimate with any degree of accuracy the size of the Morgan fortune. It has been variously estimated in recent years at from $75,000,000 to $200,000,000. If it is anywhere near the latter figure, it is equally true that he made as much for others.

In 1861 Mr. Morgan married Miss Amelia Sturges, who died the following year. In 1865 he married Frances Louise Tracy, by whom he had one son and three daughters. The son, J. P. Morgan, Jr., is now a man of middle life, and for a number of years has been the active head of the Morgan banking house in New York.

In 1890 he provided $400,000 for influence was felt by the Pacific system.

Some of the achievements which he made incidents to his money and railroad business are the present efficiency of the China and Japan carrying trade; the consolidation of the American Bell Telephone Company; the combination of the coffin-producing and steel industries and the launching of the Edison process of magnetic iron-ore separation.

Beat Experts at Finance.

Mr. Morgan was born at Hagstod, Conn., April 17, 1837. His early schooling opportunities were the best. He graduated from the Boston high school and was a student in the University of Göttingen, Germany. His father was a financier of prominence and it was not difficult for young Morgan to get a start in the business world. His first experience was in the London house of Morgan & Peabody.

Going to New York at the age of 23, he fought both Gould and Fisk for possession of the Albany & Susquehanna railroad and beat those old Napoleonians of finance at their own game. In 1871 he became a member of the banking firm of Drexel, Morgan & Co., which later became J. P. Morgan & Co., the largest private financial institution in the world.

The history of the Morgan banking house reads almost like a fairy tale, no wonder has been his achievements. In 1871 Mr. Morgan created a market in Europe for $25,000,000 of New York Central stock and sold it there at a profit which amazed old Commodore Vanderbilt. In 1877 he handled an issue of $20,000,000 of government bonds in preparation for putting the national currency on a gold basis.

In 1890 he provided $400,000 for

THE CAVENYS ENTERTAIN

The disagreeable weather of Wednesday evening prevented a large number of our town people from attending the entertainment, given at Stekl's Hall by the Cavenys, who were here as the final number on the lecture course. Those, who were brave enough to defy the storm felt amply repaid.

The program consisted of cartoonist work and clay modeling and some very clever impersonating by Mr. Caveny and several vocal selections by Mrs. Caveny.

As a cartoonist, Mr. Caveny is a master, and has his audience guessing as to what wonder he will work next. His impersonations were excellent and we are led to think he should have been an orator. A number of his sketches were drawn. Mrs. Caveny sang some of the songs Mrs. Caveny sang. Mr. Caveny did some high class clay modeling which was very entertaining. The course this season has been exceptionally fine and the management is to be congratulated on its success.
