Murder and Attempted Suicide

Monday evening at about nine o'clock the citizens of this place were startled by the report that a murder had been committed at the Jones boarding house on the east side of the railroad. Upon investigation it was found that Frank Kuhlman, a tinner of Minneapolis, had shot and instantly killed Miss Effie Jones. Kuhlman was employed by the Smith Hardware Co. last winter and boarded with Mrs. Pete Jones the mother of the murdered girl. He became infatuated with the young lady and asked her to marry him; she refused to do so whereupon he threatened to kill her, and was given 12 hours to leave town, which he did by the way of Henriette.

Monday afternoon he boarded the limited at Minneapolis, where he resided with his parents, his father being an assistant engineer in No. 5 fire company of that city, and came up as far as Haski City, where he left the train and walked from there into town.

He went at once to the kitchen door of the Jones house and knocked. Miss Effie went to the door, and although he had disguised himself with a wig and dark eye glasses, she knew him and said "Oh mother! here's Frank." She pulled off the wig, glasses and his hat, he then drew a revolver and fired four shots one hitting her in the shoulder, one in the face and one in the heart, the other missed her and buried itself in a cupboard. She fell to the floor he threw the revolver down by the side of his victim and ran north, toward the wagon bridge. When reaching the bridge he saw two men coming over the bridge and went down under the south end. Ed. Galles and Frank Carlson went down with a lantern by the side of the bridge putting a boat house in the water. They saw three flashes and heard the report of the shots, thinking that someone had killed a dog, they ran up the bank and saw a man lying on his face, Galles ran up onto the bridge to quiet a young lady that had hysterics, and Carlson went to telephone for a doctor. When they returned to look for the man, he could not be found. Sheriff Hawley sent out word to all the places around here and telephoned to people on the lines out of town to watch for the murderer.

Excitement ran high and threats of lynching could be heard wherever there were two or three gathered on the corners. At about one o'clock two of the men that were boarding with Mrs. Jones went to Deputy Sheriff Ell Husted and asked him if they could sleep in the jail, as they did not want to go down to the house. He took them over and upon turning on the light found a man sitting in a chair wrapped in a quilt, upon investigation it was found to be Kuhlman seriously injured, he havin' shot himself three times in the left breast. Dr. Wiseman was called and dressed the wounds. Kuhlman said after he shot himself he went down to the river and swam across going up the north bank to the railroad bridge which he crossed and went to the jail where he was found. The inquest and hearing were held Tuesday afternoon, the coroners jury finding that Miss Jones came to her death from shots fired by one Frank Kuhlman, and he was bound over to the grand jury, and taken by Sheriff Hawley to the Washington county jail yesterday.

JOHN WICKSTROM CALLED.

John O. Wickstrom died suddenly, although not unexpectedly, at the home of his parents in this place Monday morning at 8:20, after a long illness and much suffering. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Wickstrom of this place. He was born in Sweden on January 1, 1889, being at the time of his death 24 years, 4 months and 19 days old.

He came to this country with his parents in July of 1906, who settled in Pine City and have resided here since then. Being a tailor by trade he worked as such in Haski City and Grantsburg for a short time, after which he moved to Minneapolis. There he worked until he took sick tuberculosis about a year ago, when he returned home to make a fight for life. He fought bravely but finally succumbed to the dread disease. The deceased was a very estimable young man and made many friends wherever he was known.

There are left to cherish his memory his mother, who was to him in his long illness what only a mother can be and his father, six sisters, Mrs. A. W. Asplund, Mrs. Henry Buirge, Hilder and Ann of Pine City, Mrs. E. Ryden and Mrs. Oscar Larson, of Sandstone. Three brothers, Hugo, of Sandstone, August, of Pine City, and Byor Wickstrom, of Grantsburg.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the residence of his parents. Rev. McKean officiated. Interment took place in Birchwood cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS.

To all who have so kindly and generously assisted during the long illness of our son and brother, and for the kind assistance rendered at the funeral, as well as for the many beautiful flowers and various other tokens of sympathy, we wish in this way to express our profound gratitude and heartfelt thanks.

MR. AND MRS. I. WICKSTROM AND CHILDREN.

Kinney of Seattle, Mrs. C. T. Griffith of Minneapolis, Mrs. J. J. Coelter of Robbinsdale, Mrs. Morris Ring of Minneapolis, and Mrs. Henry Meyer of Haski City.

ANSWERS THE GRIM REAPERS SUDDEN CALL.

Last Wednesday afternoon the sad news of the sudden departure from this life of the late Mrs. John Griffith reached here. She had many friends and relatives in this place who greatly mourn their loss.

Hannah Catherine Shook, the oldest of thirteen children was born in Franklin county, Pa., May 18th 1845. On April 4th 1867 at Harmony, Wis., she was married to Mr. John Griffith, and for several years after resided in the state of Illinois, from which place they moved to Anoka county this state. Their next residence was taken up in Pine City thirty four years ago last November. In 1906, Mr. Griffith, who was a well known citizen of Pine City, passed away, shortly after which Mrs. Griffith left for the west where she has lived with her children up until her death, which occurred from heart failure, Tuesday evening, May 18th 1913.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kinney, with whom she had made her home a greater part of the time since going west, accompanied the remains to this place arriving here on the limited last Sunday afternoon.

The deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. W. P. Gottry of this place, Mrs. John Kinney of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. Chas. Griffith of Tacoma, Wash., who with a host of friends, both here and in the west, mourn her loss.

Funeral services were held from the local Methodist church, of which she was a faithful member for many years, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by the pastor H. H. Parish. The full church at the funeral service, with the beautiful floral offerings testify for themselves of the esteem in which the departed was held here. She was laid to rest in Birchwood cemetery. Certainly a true and faithful member of the church militant has gone to join the church triumphant.

Those from out of town attending the services were, Mr. and Mrs. John

CALLED TO REST.

This (Friday) morning, Mrs. A. B. Gottry, mother of W. P. and W. J. Gottry of this place, passed on to meet her Maker. Deceased was 79 years of age at the time of her death. She was sick scarcely two weeks.

Funeral services will be held from the local M. E. church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment in Birchwood cemetery.

It Pays to Attract the Evening Crowds

Many of the people who crowd the streets in the evening are out to make purchases for which they have no time during the day.

Dark show windows and poorly lighted store interiors fail to attract attention, much less trade. The crowds seek the well lighted streets, likewise the brilliantly lighted show windows. Few people can resist the attraction of windows illuminated with Edison Mazda Lamps. Every person that can be caused to halt and admire the pleasing effect of a well trimmed and properly lighted show window immediately becomes a prospective purchaser.

Properly illuminated stores and show windows surely will give you your share of the after-hours business. Our Lamp Man will gladly advise you as to how you can obtain the maximum effect at minimum cost.

MEN'S CLUB MINSTRELS

The Men's Club Minstrels appeared in the Immortal Convention Auditorium on Wednesday evening as advertised, and those who missed seeing them, lose something in regret. Space and time will not permit us to give in detail, but if you have any doubts of the ability of the minstrels, to entertain, just ask any one that heard them on Wednesday evening. The curtain was raised at 8:15 and from that time until 11:15 those in the audience were convulsed with laughter at the jokes of the end men, and the songs. The entertainment was varied by those that heard it, the best ever given in this place.

Don't be Deceived On Lumber Prices

There's a big difference in buying just lumber and in buying the kind of lumber we sell. Your contractor or carpenter will tell you that some lumber can be nailed right into a house without a plane ever touching it. That means the saving of hand labor. Of course, the lumber dealer has to charge a little more for this smoothly finished lumber, but in the end it really means a big saving to you. Right here is where a lot of mistakes are made when lumber is bought solely on price—without regard to quality. True, 15 to 20 years ago lumber sold for from 10 to 25 per cent cheaper, but you yourself and pocketbook a great injustice when you compare that lumber with the 50 to 75 per cent greater values you really get today. Come in and see the difference.

Twenty Five Years Ago.

The logs are passing this place at a lively rate.

Village President, R. Lueck was on the sick list for several days this week.

Capt. E. Horton, of Rock Creek, was in town Monday morning on business for a few hours.

Unless we get warm weather soon, the farmers in this vicinity will not get half a crop this year.

Emil Brandes, who is now working at Harris, came up Saturday and remained over Sunday with his parents.

Miss Lizzie Murphy started for her home at Mora on Monday of this week where she will visit for a couple of weeks.

Deputy Sheriff H. J. Rath, went down to Stillwater, Friday, taking with him the four men arrested at Sandstone last week for highway robbery.

Mrs. F. A. Hodge started for her former home at Clarinda, Iowa, Thursday morning, and will spend a couple of weeks visiting with her old friends.

Miss Louise Overman of Duluth, and Miss Mary Houcker of Rush City, spent Sunday of last week visiting at the residence of Henry Brandes, in this village.

J. F. Stone has fitted up a park on a small scale in front of the Pioneer house. In the flower garden he has placed a fountain, which is a beauty, and makes the garden look as much like a public park as a private garden.

Billy Rhodes, who fought Dave Fitzgerald in this village a year ago last April, now has charge of J. J. Murray's barber shop. Since leaving this place he has been following the ring most of the time, but says now that he has retired permanently.

The Pine City Cornet Band has been engaged to furnish music for a grand camp fire and memorial service to be held at Harris on Wednesday May 30th.

The boys will go down in full force and spend the day there. A dance will be given in the evening and everything now points to a royal good time.

What is known as the Devil's lake bridge a mile south of this place, has been in a very dangerous condition for the past few days. The piling on the north end of the structure has settled down so that for a day or two it was dangerous for trains to pass the bridge but a crew of men are now at work, driving piling and strengthening the structure in other ways.

Mr. Hay and family received a letter from their brother Thos., who for the past two years has been at Fort Snelling, a member of one of the regiments stationed there, informing them that he in company with his regiment had been transferred to the Texan frontier, and that he would start for San Antonio, where they would make their headquarters, on Monday. He expects to remain in that part of the country until the expiration of the term of his enlistment, which will be three years longer.

A man by the name of E. C. Smith who has been working on the section at Miller was brought down on a freight train Friday morning with a badly mangled foot. The section crew were on the main track when a train came along and as they were getting their hand car off the track, the train came down upon them. Smith did not have time to get out of the way and the engine passed over his left foot smashing it from the instep to the toe. Mr. Smith owns a farm near Miller and is a man of about twenty-six years of age. Dr. C. O. Pugh dressed the foot, and accompanied the patient to St. Paul on the noon train, where it will be amputated.

IBROGLAY.

John Hawley has been on the sick list this week.

Chas. Guder has commenced work on a new house on his lots on South Fourth street.

C. T. Koona, one of the principal witnesses in the case of the State vs. Thour and Tway, was in town this week.

Royal Knight and wife of this village went down to Rock Creek, Wednesday, to attend the wedding of Charles Duff and Miss Barden, and visit with relatives and friends.

The lots on which it is proposed to erect the new village hall have been bought by the village council and the transfer made. It is expected that the work of putting up the building will be commenced soon.

Hon. Henry Smith of North Branch illuminated our streets with his presence for a few hours on Thursday. Notwithstanding that "Hank" brightened up our streets for a while, some of our citizens are talking of "importing a car load of sunshine."

POTATO PLANTER

You can plant your crop faster and better with a EUREKA PLANTER than in any other way.

ACCURACY
The dropping mechanism of the Eureka is very simple, with a positive movement, and is unusually accurate. Frequent tests have shown it to be more than 95 per cent. correct. Some users report 97 to 99 per cent. A planter with this high average satisfies growers and entirely offsets the old time argument made to sell planters that require driver and an extra man to watch the seed dropper and supply the slips. The Eureka with one man is guaranteed to equal, if not surpass, the results obtained from any other style.

UNIFORM DEPTH
Instead of being two feet or more ahead of the main axle, our furrow opening plow is placed directly under the axle. It is therefore, carried in a relative position with the wheels over uneven ground, absolutely insuring planting at an even depth under all conditions. Other makes of planters do not have this construction, and this feature has caused many growers to purchase the Eureka. The crops come through the ground uniform and make an even stand.

THE NATION'S CEMETERIES

GREAT AMPHITHEATER AT ARLINGTON

MONUMENT TO THE UNKNOWN DEAD

In the palmy days of democratic Athens the bones of every citizen who had perished in the service of his country were brought home to be buried in the Ceramicus. A day was appointed in winter, when military operations were suspended, for the funeral. One of the noblest orations of antiquity—that attributed by Theocritus to Pericles—was delivered on such an occasion.

Modern nations build stately mausoleums for their great generals, but are usually content to allot only the hasty trench or ditch to the common soldier. The bones of British soldiers, for example, are scattered the world around. Says Kipling:

Walk wide o' the Widow at Windsor,
For 'alf o' creation she owns;
We 'ave bought 'er the same with the sword an' the flame,
An' we've salted it down with our bones.
(Poor beggars! It's blue with our bones!)

To this rule of indifference as to the final resting place of obscure heroes the United States forms a shining and honorable exception. There are today eighty-four national cemeteries, which contain the graves of over 400,000 American soldiers and sailors. These cemeteries are among the grandest and loveliest "God's acres" in the world. They are lavishly adorned by nature and art and guarded by the starry flag. Treasures have been expended upon them without stint, and they are cared for by a large corps of superintendents, overseers and gardeners.

The national cemeteries are mainly a result of the Civil war. In September, 1861, the secretary of war by general order directed accurate and permanent records to be kept of the deceased soldiers and their places of burial. The work was assigned to the quartermaster general's department. That department already had charge of the burial of officers and soldiers, but its care had ordinarily ended with the drifting smoke of the guns that were discharged over their graves. By act of July 17, 1862, congress empowered the president to purchase cemetery grounds to be used for the burial of "soldiers who shall die in the service of their country." Such was the intensity of the great war that for some time no action was taken under the law.

Following the battle of Gettysburg, Governor Curtin of Pennsylvania inaugurated a movement whereby several states purchased seventeen acres of ground embracing the center of the Union line and caused to be reburied there the bodies of the soldiers who had been buried outside this area. The cemetery was dedicated by Lincoln November 19, 1863, in that perfect tribute to the "honored dead" who there "gave the last full measure of devotion." The cemetery was subsequently taken over by the nation.

The cemeteries at Antietam, Murfreesboro, Chattanooga and other places were begun likewise by states or by federal troops acting under orders of their commanders. That at Chattanooga was largely the result of the activity of Gen. George H. Thomas, in charge of the department. It is related that when the question arose as to whether they should be buried together according to the states from which they came, "We have heard enough about states and states' rights lately," said Thomas who, though a Virginian, had remained loyal to the Union. "Let us mix them up and nationalize them a little."

Other cemeteries sprang up by mere accumulation of interests about military centers, hospitals, prisons, etc. At Andersonville, for example, the dead were buried by parties of their comrades, who, notwithstanding the horrors of their own lot, took proud care to keep accurate records, and even erected many rude headboards. From first to last about 50,000 men were consigned to Andersonville. In August, 1864, it was were 32,193 prisoners penned in that dread area, the greatest number at any one time. The first death occurred February 27, 1864; the last, April 26, 1865. In that short period there was a total of 12,912—a mortality of 25 per cent. In the summer of 1865 a force of men, under Capt. James Moore, were sent to Andersonville to inclose the grounds and provide headboards for each grave. The last such cemetery to be established, leaving only 451 "unknown." The world-famous nurse, Clara Barton, accompanied this expedition, and wrote a report so vivid that the reader cannot avoid the impression that he is viewing the scenes she describes.

Immediately after the war the work of formally establishing national cemeteries in places where Union soldiers and sailors were buried proceeded rapidly. The last such cemetery to be established was that at Greenville, Tenn., provided for by an act of congress approved June 12, 1906. This cemetery contains the tomb of former President Johnson and only ten others, though it has an area of fifteen acres.

The eighty-four national cemeteries are divided according to importance into twenty-six first class, twenty second class, sixteen third class and twenty-four fourth class cemeteries. Those in the first class include Arlington, Andersonville, Antietam, Chalmette, Chattanooga, Nashville, Corinth, Gettysburg, Fredericksburg, Jefferson Barracks, Shiloh and Vicksburg. In the number of interments that at Arlington stands first. That at Vicksburg is second. The Nashville cemetery is third.

Arlington, as is generally known, formerly belonged to the wife of Gen. Robert K. Lee. Mrs. Lee was a daughter of George Washington Parke Custis, who was a grandson of Martha Washington. The stately mansion whose classic columns have been seen by most visitors to Washington city was inherited by her, and at the outbreak of the Civil war it was the Lee home. Lee, then a colonel in the United States army, wrote his resignation there April 20, 1861. Two days later he quit his beautiful home forever to accept command in the military forces of his state. In 1864 the estate was sold for taxes by the "rump" Union government of Virginia, and was bought by the national government, which set it apart as a cemetery. After the war Lee considered making an attempt to regain the property, but finally decided that the time was not ripe. Subsequently a son brought suit to recover on the ground that the estate had been illegally sold. After long litigation he established his claim, but recovered his rights to the United States for $150,000.

Overlooking as it does the Potomac and the capital, a more beautiful spot could scarcely be imagined. Magnificent old oaks shade its glades and knolls, and art has perfected what nature left undone. The cemetery contains the tombs of Logan, Sheridan, Lawton and other noted generals, but the most famous monument is that to 211 unknown dead gathered from the fields of the Hatterasbeak. As the inscription states, "their remains could not be identified, but their names and deaths are recorded in the archives of their country, and its grateful citizens honor them as of their noble army of martyrs." On fame's eternal camping ground Their silent tents are spread, And glory guards, with solemn round, The bivouac of the dead.

It is only when one stands before this monument and looks about at the thousands of little headstones gleaming white against the greenward that he realizes to the full the price that some men have paid for their country.

One of the most interesting national cemeteries is that on Custis' battlefield in Montana. The story of how the dashing, yellow-haired young major general and every man of five companies of the Seventh cavalry lost their lives in the Sioux, June 25, 1876, is known to every one. The 286 dead, including those who fell under Reno and Benteen, were buried where they fell, the bodies in most instances being found naked and shockingly mutilated. Subsequently the bodies were taken up and reburied in a square to the east of the present monument. Near by are buried the men who fell at the Fort Kearny massacre in 1866 and those killed by the Sioux at old Fort Smith a year or two later. Several soldiers who died in the Philippines and veterans of the civil war have likewise found a last resting place there, so that the interments in the cemetery now total upward of 1,200.

The smallest national cemetery is that at Ball's Bluff, Va. It is on the site of the battlefield of that name. It is only fifty feet square and overlooks the upper Potomac. It contains the graves of one known and twenty-four unknown soldiers.

The only national cemetery outside the limits of the United States is that in the City of Mexico. It was established in 1851, three years after the close of the Mexican war, and contains the bodies of 570 known and 760 unknown dead—men who lost their lives in carrying the Stars and Stripes to the halls of the Montezumas. It has an area of two acres, and is the only national cemetery established prior to the Civil war.

Of the 359,000 soldiers and sailors interred in the national cemeteries, the graves of 152,000 are marked "unknown." More than 5,000 of the total are the bodies of Confederates.

Under the sod and the dew
Waiting the judgment day;
Under the roses, the Blue,
Under the lilies, the Gray.

Soldiers of the Revolution, of the War of 1812, of the Mexican war, of the Civil war, of the war with Spain, and of many minor conflicts—all have found a final resting place in the national cemeteries. A special distorting corps has been maintained by the government for bringing home the bodies of soldiers who died in Cuba and the Philippines. In 1908, for example, 147 bodies were brought home from the Philippines, of which number ninety-three were delivered to friends or relatives, while the rest were reinterred in national cemeteries. For every soldier or sailor buried in such a cemetery the government which he served furnishes a headstone and footstone, unless his relatives or friends erect something more elaborate.

The price varies from $4 for an ordinary specimen to $250 and more for a prize-winner.

If your arm was long enough to reach the sun and burn your fingers, you would not feel the pain for 6,733 years.

Transmissibility of Genius.
The sale of relics of Robert and Elizabeth Browning by executors of the estate of their son, the late Robert Weidemann Barrett Browning, which began May 1, again calls attention to the fact that the child of a union so richly endowed, from the literary and artistic standpoint, failed to show traces of the genius of either parent. It was an artist, but did nothing extraordinary. It would almost seem that genius not only has a way of sometimes consuming its possessor but also of consuming itself, as far as the immediate offspring are concerned. At any rate, the evidence as to its transmissibility is still lacking although, of course, there are plenty of facts to justify a belief as to the transmissibility of special talents.

Did Not Live Up to It.
Our high appreciations and even our expressed desires are not always indices of our character. "Let me die the death of the righteous one," was the prayer of Baalam. And then he went right away and joined himself to the heathen and was slain by a righteous man.

After Long Suffering

Women Are Constantly Being Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Worth mountains of gold," says one woman. Another says, "I would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for all the other medicines for women in the world." Still another writes, "I should like to have the merits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound thrown on the sky with a searchlight so that all suffering women could read and be convinced that there is a remedy for their ills."

We could fill a newspaper ten times the size of this with such quotations taken from the letters we have received from grateful women whose health has been restored and suffering banished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished such a universal success? Why has it lived and thrived and kept on doing its glorious work among the sick women of the world for more than 30 years?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has ever approached its success is plainly and simply because there is no other medicine so good for women's ills.

Here are two letters that just came to the writer's desk—only two of thousands, but both tell a comforting story to every suffering woman who will read them—and be guided by them.

FROM MRS. D. H. BROWN,
Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken 12 bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for good if you wish. Mrs. D. H. Brown, 809 North Walnut Street, Iola, Kan.

MRS. WILLIAMS SAYS:
Elkhart, Ind.—"I suffered for 14 years from organic indigestion, female weakness, pain and irregularity. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sarsaparilla. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.—Mrs. SADIE WILSON, Elkhart, Indiana."

STILL USE CARRIER PIGEONS
French Military Authorities Train Birds to Carry Messages as They Did in the Past.

A military pigeon system is still maintained in France, owing to the success of experiments made during the siege of Paris, when 27 carriers liberated from balloons 72 returned safely. These birds were message pigeons, on which were enclosed in goose quills, attached by silk threads to the upper part of the bill feathers.

The modern French carrier pigeon is a cross between the bluet and the Belgian "traveller." This prevailing type is large, with a long body, two neck and back. The female lays two eggs at a time, from which are hatched a male and a female. In incubation lasts 14 days, and both parents share in the process of bringing. Birds chosen for races are fed on wheat, but when they are to be put to tests of endurance they diet
