ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT ANSWERS DEATH'S CALL.

Levi H. McKusick, one of the most prominent figures in the history and development of Pine County, died at his residence in this village at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of last Monday. The deceased had been suffering for a period of two years or more from hardening of the arteries, and his death, although a keen shock to his immediate relatives and numerous friends throughout the county and state, was not unexpected.

Mr. McKusick was born at Cornish, in York County, Maine, March 31st, 1853. He was educated in the common school of his native village and in St. Stevens Academy at New Brunswick, Maine, later taking a course in the State Normal school at Castine, Maine. When 17 years of age he commenced teaching school in his native state, and during his leisure hours took up the study of law in his brother's office.

In August 1877 he moved to this village and taught school until the following spring when he was admitted to the bar, and at once took up the practice of law and continued the active practice of his profession until a few months prior to his death.

He served many terms as County Attorney of Pine County, and was conceded by all to be the most successful prosecutor that has ever held the office in this county.

Soon after commencing the practice of law he acquired an extensive and lucrative clientele being retained in the prosecution and defense of many important cases in this and other counties of the state. As a lawyer he was naturally endowed with a high order of ability. Keen of intellect, and having a close and intimate knowledge of men, he exercised a powerful influence over the average juror, thus winning verdicts for his clients in many hard fought jury trials. As an opponent in any law suit he was held in the highest respect by the ablest lawyers of the state.

Aside from his success in the practice of his chosen profession, Mr. McKusick took an active part in public affairs and attained considerable prominence as a public man throughout the state. He served several terms as a member of the House of Representatives with distinction and was elected to the State Senate in 1898, serving in that body with conspicuous ability for one term. Possessing many of the attributes of a born leader and political organizer he made himself a conspicuous figure in the councils of his party. He was a consistent and unwavering republican throughout his political career and had therefore little tolerance for the political backslider.

A marked and pleasing trait of character of the deceased and one possessed by few men, was his ability to gain the friendship and political support of men and to hold it unwaveringly through all contingencies.

In local affairs, Mr. McKusick took an active part in the growth and development of the village. He was active in beautifying the village and to his love of trees is due much of the credit for the splendid shade trees which line the streets of the village and fill its public park.

The deceased is survived by his wife and five children: Clinton L., Fred P., Alisa H., William John and Marion Helen.

The funeral was held from the family residence Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock. The deceased was laid to rest in Birchwood cemetery, Rev. F. L. McKean officiating.

The Pioneer extends to the bereaved family of the deceased its heartfelt sympathy.

John Astell and family came up from their home in St. Paul yesterday to spend the 4th at the Astell home.

LEADER STORE ROBBED.

The Leader, a 5 and 10c store in this place, run by Berlin and Sutherland, was entered late Wednesday night and the cash drawer relieved of $25.

A hole large enough to admit a person had been made in the store-room window, the stopper was pulled out and the window raised. A hammer was then used to force an entrance into the front part of the store by way of a window between that part and the store-room. The cash drawer was pried open and all of the cash, excepting a number of pennies, was removed. No clue as to the identity of the culprit has as yet been discovered.

ROCK CREEK

Mr. Heister and son have loaded a car of tame hay for a firm in St. Paul. Mesdames Wm. and A. E. Stevens were Rock Creek and county seat visitors on business Monday.

Mrs. Alva Stevens was nearly prostrated by the heat last Friday. She is much better at present.

We hope to see everybody turn out for the Woodman camp 4th of July celebration. Come and enjoy the fun.

The Cubs and Woodman's base ball teams played a game of ball Sunday, which was won by the Cubs by a score of 16 to 4.

An ice cream social was held last Friday at Mrs. Sorenson's for the benefit of the Ladies Aid. There were a good many present and a neat little sum was taken in.

Mr. Sorenson our buttermaker, purchased a 4 passenger automobile from Mr. Challeen. He has learned to run it already and takes his family and friends out every evening.

The Woodmen held a large meeting Saturday evening. The 4th of July committee reported that they had given the Royal Neighbors permission to run a lunch counter and charge for the same.

Mrs. Marie Doran, son Robert with their boy George, accompanied by C. Heineman and wife were down to Deer Valley Sunday, picking strawberries. They returned home well satisfied with the days picking.

The R. N. A. Cricket Camp of Rock Creek held their regular meeting last Thursday and a large number were present. Another new member was voted upon and accepted and will be initiated next meeting.

Mr. Heister was in Pine City Monday to see the Co. Superintendent and the Co. attorney in regard to certain payments to be made to the Rush City High School for two pupils from their district.

Israel Larson who formerly was bookkeeper for A. M. Challeen and the Farmers Co-operative store at Rock Creek is back again and resumed his old place as bookkeeper at the Co-operative store. Welcome, old man, may you have success.

Sidney Lenneroth was up last week and packed up his brother George's household goods. He hired Harry Mills and Jonas Strandberg to take them to Marine, the trip will take two and a half days. George could not come himself as he is quite ill. We all hope the gentleman will soon recover.

Quite an accident happened to Mr. Myers who just returned from a two months visit at his old home in New York. He intended taking the train to Rush City Monday but was informed that the Johnsons were that he could go down with Mr. Johnsons son who intended to drive. They started, but did not get far before the horse started to kick. Mr. Myers was struck over the eye and in the shoulder. He received medical treatment and is doing as well as can be expected.

Joyce Malmoneuve returned to this place Wednesday from a weeks visit with twin city relatives and friends.

Adela Walker came up from her home in Minneapolis Wednesday to spend the 4th with Fanny Gray.

Mrs. Chapman came up from St. Paul Wednesday and will spend some time with her son who owns a farm on Cross lake.

Miss Lucy Proppal arrived Sunday afternoon to spend a couple of weeks with relatives and friends.

CONGRESSMEN ACCUSED BY LOBBYIST

Former Agent of Manufacturers' Association Makes Sensational Allegations Regarding Methods of Lobby—Declares Many Are Hired—is Called to Give Testimony.

Washington, June 30.—The senate lobby investigating committee has subpoenaed Martin M. Mulhall of Baltimore so appear before the committee and give testimony. Mr. Mulhall has stated over his own signature that he was for years the active lobbyist and field agent of the National Association of Manufacturers. Further sensational are expected.

The subpoena was ordered by Chairman Overman of the lobby investigating committee after representations had been made to him that Mr. Mulhall was willing and able to give the committee important facts regarding attempts to influence legislation, to elect or defeat candidates for congress and to control the make-up of committees in congress.

Says Congressmen Were Paid. Direct charges of lobbying and of congressmen being hired and paid were made in the statement made by Mr. Mulhall, who purported to give there is experiences as "chief lobbyist and field agent of the National Association of Manufacturers" between 1900 and 1905.

In the statement, the former member of congress, who was given names of scores of present and former members of congress who, he alleges, were "suborned" or who were detected for office by the association when they failed to follow its beck and call.

Even pages of the house of representatives were used as agents of the association in getting clandestine information on pending legislation that might be used.

The tale tells of the loan of postal carriers, charges the elimination of committee members in congress not considered favorable to the manufacturer, declares that the "Tart tariff commission was bought about by manufacturers to put off revision of the tariff, and adds that in his time of service Mr. Mulhall spent $200,000 in the aforementioned interests of the manufacturer, as well as in bribing labor leaders in breaking up strikes.

Includes mention of a futile effort to bribe Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, with $40,000.

Details an "insidious" Lobby. Mulhall's statement endeavors to establish, among other things, the following: The National Association of Manufacturers backs an "insidious" lobby in Washington with 5,000,000 members having $10,000,000,000; that, while ostensibly a nonpolitical organization, it has had, through the National Council for Industrial Defense, virtual charge of tariff legislation in this country; "making and breaking" public servants to suit its purpose, expending huge sums therefor.

That it has bought and bribed union officials in breaking up strikes. That it has had the making of congressional committees within its power. That the association was solely responsible for the Tart tariff commission. That congressmen were hired out right. That a great lobby staff was maintained. That congressmen were aided in their campaigns if favorable to the manufacturers. That even ministers were used to defeat labor unions.

"You can get along without paying for much of anything," the letter adds, "if you only think so. Remember that you are very generous."

Mr. Emery, counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, said: "The statement of the alleged Colonel Mulhall illustrates the most dangerous and malicious form of falsehood—that which fabricates a tissue of lies on a slight foundation of truth. It is true that the National Association of Manufacturers has for a number of years, in co-operation with many business associations, opposed legislation proposed and persistently demanded by organized labor for the purpose of relieving labor combinations of civil and criminal liability for their acts in furtherance of trade disputes, to validate the boycott and to curtail the power of the federal and state courts, to give equitable protection to personal and property rights of employer and employee threatened with injury or destruction in the course of such disputes."

Fought in Open. "The opposition of this association to such measures has not been secret, but it has sought every way to give publicity to these proposals, to the extent of the best of its ability, and to the character of support which they were receiving from public men in the hope that, public attention being attracted to them, public opinion would justify continued them."

"During the course of this contest organized labor has undertaken to elect representatives pledged to its interests and persistently endeavored to defeat public men who opposed its demand that labor combinations be exempted from the general penal and civil law and that injunctive protection be withdrawn from the property and rights of employers engaged in labor disputes, and this has sometimes been an issue, as in the famous Littlefield campaign in Maine. The association has appealed to its members and to business men generally to give support to public men who dared to oppose such pernicious demands."

Tells Mulhall's Work. "Mulhall was employed in some instances in campaigns where such issues existed to enlist the legitimate support of business men in an effort to defend their own elementary rights and prevent the defeat of public men by their plain performance of duty. It has been a heavy part of the duty of the Washington office of the association to answer the inquiries of members of business associations with respect to pending legislation. To this end Mulhall frequently collected or arranged for the collection of documents and sometimes interviewed members of congress with respect to progress of legislation."

"The statement that any of the public men named in Mulhall's charges were ever in the employ of the association, directly or indirectly, whether in or out of public office, is a sinister and diabolical lie. The statement that any man in the employ of any of its officers or agents, or that any page or other person in the service of congress was in its employ, directly or indirectly, is no less maliciously untrue just to the individuals named than to the National Association or its officers."

"A prompt investigation by an existing committee, which his association would warmly welcome, will bare the truth in this slander and the character of this very malicious and public men. It might also expose the character of the labor lobby which makes our efforts necessary."

Who Broader Quiz. "The lobby investigation has gone far beyond its original scope," said Chairman Overman. "and I don't see any course for us to pursue but to ask for more information from the senate and to go into every phase of the remarkable situation that has been developed."

"I was informed that Mr. Mulhall had information that bore directly upon lobbying work at Washington, and accordingly issued a subpoena late last night. Mr. Mulhall, upon being before the committee, admitted the statement credited to him bears out in its details the scope of the resolution under which we are working."

It is my personal opinion that the committee should ask the senate to give full authority to go into any angle of legislative lobbying in any previous congress.

Chicago, June 28.—Hot weather, killing and prostrating humans, slackening the currents of business to the utmost degree, scorching the wheat threatening to destroy crops from Ohio to Nebraska, settled upon Chicago and the middle west.

It is not a heat wave. It is a heat invasion. Weather Forecaster Henry J. Cox was careful to emphasize that fact. "There is no relief whatever in sight," he said. "The intense heat will continue throughout the middle west, and will sweep across the country."

Death Above Twenty-Five. More than twenty-five were killed by the heat in cities within a few hundred miles of Chicago, in all directions. In Chicago alone nine deaths were attributed to the heat. Prostrations were so numerous that the counting of them ceased about noon.

Temperature of 100 degrees were reported from many sections. The coolest place shown on the weather map was Duluth, Minn., where the highest temperature was 92. Chicago lay helpless under the breath of a heat wave which caused nine deaths, scores of prostrations, and an uncounted number of cases of semi-prostrations.

The maximum temperature downtown was 96 degrees, official. Two Die in Cincinnati. Cincinnati, June 28.—Two persons were killed here by a severe prostration by the heat. The maximum temperature here was 100 degrees on Wednesday.

Kansas City, Mo., June 28.—Missouri has seen a severe prostration. The temperature here reached a maximum of 95 degrees, but a brisk breeze prevented any prostrations. So intense is the heat in Kansas that many harvest hands are quitting their jobs.

South Bend, Ind., June 28.—Thermometers here registered as high as 101 at 4:30 p. m. Gary, Ind., June 28.—An undelayed man about thirty years of age died here following his prostration by the heat.

St. Louis, June 28.—Three men and a woman were overcome by the heat in St. Louis and nearby towns. When the mercury reached 92 at Newark, O., John C. Williams-Cramer, an Ohio electric line man residing here, was overcome by heat while at work on a pole on Main street.

PROGRAM BEGINS AT GETTYSBURG

ARMY OF 40,000 MEN CAMP ON OLD BATTLEGROUND AND ENJOY REUNION.

BLUE AND GRAY LINK ARMS

No Rancor Exists Between the Veterans Who Clashed Half a Century Ago—Wisconsin Soldier Passes Away.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 2.—Over the field of Gettysburg, where 150,000 men in blue and gray fought with the weapons of 50 years ago, the soldiers of peace from the North and South, the East and the West, trooped to the tented city of Brown, where they will live in the four days of sentimental celebration.

Officials of the regular army, nearly 40,000 in all, estimated that 40,000 veterans came in during the day, bringing the total close to 40,000, probably the greatest army that ever assembled on Gettysburg field after the war. Meade led it to glory and to history.

The sun blazed just as fiercely as ever, but down from the Blue Ridge tumbled a lively little breeze that stirred the fading grass, waking trees, the flags and curling in the open tent straps, carrying vigor to the tired veterans.

In consequence of this relief there were fewer prostrations and the surgeons at relief and hospital stations hoped that the list of the sick and dead would be small.

Program is Begun. Although the program of the celebration was taken up until today, there was a reception Monday by survivors of Buford's division of Meade's army and Wheeler's division of Lee's. The meeting was held in the big tent and set aside for the speaking of the celebration and began 50 years to the hour from the time when the first shot preceding the battle was fired.

There were several women from the village in the tent and six one-time school girls, gray-haired and aged now, sang "Hail 'Round the Flag, O' Canada" and "The North and the South" and other songs. The women who sang the battle song were among those who thronged the streets of Gettysburg after the advance guard of the Southern army left for Adams.

"I'm afraid we can't sing like we sang 50 years ago," said the matronly woman who acted as leader, as she stepped the way up the steps to the platform.

"We don't care; just sing again," shouted the veterans. As the first notes of the wartime melody came from their lips, the quivering tones, the veterans both of the North and of the South sat quiet, with eyes fixed upon the singers. The hum of the chorus came from every side and old men were seen to weep.

Minnesota Arrives. At dusk the First Minnesota veterans came in. This command suffered the greatest percentage of loss of any unit that fought in the battle of Gettysburg.

Edgar A. Bigsley, a veteran of Watonsa, Wis., was found dead in his tent. This brings the death list to three.

Wilson Takes Sea Trip. Washington, July 2.—President Wilson has gone on a three days' trip aboard the yacht "Albatross" by going to the coast.

President had intended to take a rest in his family at the mountain home that he had bought in White House on July 4. He spent all plans. A trip to the mountains was suggested by his physician and was agreed to go on the condition that he would have complete rest. Mr. Wilson's only companion is Dr. Cary T. Grayson.

Chicago, June 30.—Three persons were drowned and two rescued when a large launch ran down and sank at Foxboat in Jackson park lagoon.

The tragedy was the ending of an afternoon outing in the park, as Mrs. John DeLafayette, who was to be married September 10.

The dead: Esther Williams, eleven years old; Ruth Williams, eleven years old; John DeLafayette, twenty.

PINE COUNTY PIONEER

ED. C. GOTTRY, Editor and Prop.

Entered in the Postoffice at Pine City as Second Class Matter

Pine City, Minnesota, July 4, '18

Twenty Five Years Ago.

L. C. Simmons of Rock Creek talked politics with Pine Cityites Monday. The band boys did a little serenading Tuesday evening before going to Hinckley.

Mrs. M. Connor and Mrs. J. J. Murray have each adopted a child from the St. Cloud Orphan Asylum.

Mrs. O. Wilcox returned from Harris last week where she had been for a number of weeks previous, attending at the bedside of her sister.

Herbert Paquin of Minneapolis, son of Dr. C. O. Paquin, arrived in town Monday morning, and will remain in town for a few days, the guest of the doctor's family.

Notwithstanding the fact that this has been a very backward season, some of our citizens announced their intention of dining on new potatoes dug from their gardens on the Fourth of July. We have not heard of their doing so however.

J. Y. Breckenridge passed the cigars around very liberally last Saturday and Sunday in honor of the arrival of a bouncing boy which arrived at his house on Saturday morning. J. Y. says he is the finest boy in the state.

The Pine City base ball team acquitted themselves nobly at Hinckley, Wednesday. Although the boys have not been in practice for two years, and most of them have not touched a ball or bat this season, they played a good game, and won by a score of 17 to 10.

Robert Wilcox was this week presented with a fine solo alto horn, which he used for the first time on the Fourth. The instrument is the diamond brand, and with the new tenor recently received by W. P. Gottry and the new E tuba received by Chas. Stephan the boys come very near having a complete new set of instruments.

We hope the boys who stole the sandwiches last Friday evening enjoyed their luncheon as well as we did. Had they only come inside, they might have had some cake with the sandwiches, and a little lemonade on the side. Next time, don't come in the window, boys the door is large enough, and if you had fallen from the window, you might have got hurt.

Taken by Surprise.

If the reader has ever been enjoying a quiet evening lounging under his own "vine and fig tree," or lounging lazily on the front porch after a hard day's work and been aroused to be sent on a "wild goose chase" to return and find the house occupied by a party of friends he knows exactly how to sympathize with the writer. Last Friday evening we were enjoying ourselves immensely when a messenger announced that we were wanted at the drug store. With our suspecting foul play or base trickery we went to the drug store and finding that we had been made a victim of a conspiracy we inwardly swore vengeance and returned to our bachelor abode to find our rooms filled with a smiling group of young ladies and a defiant looking company of gentlemen. To say that we were surprised, does not half express the situation, but a man who is accustomed to drumming up delinquent subscribers and keeping a satisfied smile on his face with one meal a day and an empty pocket, (which is the condition of the editor's actual necessities, but your personal appearance as well.)

As an editor, you are expected to please and honor both political parties. Each, as a distinctive badge have chosen to identify the seat of all wisdom with a white hat as an emblem of the absence of guile and while the component parts of this one, have each in their time contributed to the surplus revenue in the U. S. Treasury, they still represent free trade, tariff reform and incidental protection. Its intrinsic value is merely nominal, but the motive of the donors come from the heart. Take it wear it signs on the top of your head and may it increase your wisdom and beautify your person.

On such an occasion it is impossible for one to express his sentiments and even the tongue of the most gifted orator fails to fittingly portray his feelings. The party spent the evening in social intercourse, and about 11 o'clock a luncheon which had been brought in by the ladies was served. And right here the ladies were surprised. During the meridian of the evening, some was entered the window, and while the young people in our domicile were enjoying themselves with games, they had carried off a basket of sandwiches and while we were feasting on lemonade, cake etc., our friends were enjoying a luncheon of sandwiches. There was plenty left for those inside, however, and everything passed off very pleasantly. The merriment was continued until the small hours were neared.

Although our twenty-fourth birthday will never occur, the hat presented by our friends will wear out, and many of the faces of those present may become estranged, still the memory of that evening, and of the sentiment both expressed and implied will always remain fresh in our minds. The vicissitudes of life may remove us far from these scenes in the future; age may obliterate many of the recollections of the past and present, but wherever we may be, whether in prosperity or adversity, we can never forget the kind friends who by this kind act, have assisted in adding a silver lining to the dark cloud which sometimes obscures the country editor's sun.

Notice of Mortgage Foreclosure Sale.

Notice is hereby given that default has been made to the conditions of that certain mortgage executed and delivered by Nellie F. Poirer and Willie Poirer her husband mortgagors to F. A. McPherson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of December, D. 1908, with power of sale therein contained, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pine State of Minnesota on the 15th day of December, A. D. 1908 in Book 54 of Mortgages on page 44, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Yellow Medicine State of Minnesota on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1908 in Book 967 of Mortgages on page 118, while said mortgage was assumed by the said F. A. McPherson to Thomas E. Lodi, by said mortgage, bearing date the 2nd day of December, A. D. 1909, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of said Pine County on the 3rd day of December, A. D. 1909 and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the Yellow Medicine County on the 20th day of December, A. D. 1909 in Book 967 of Mortgages on page 95.

Which said default has continued to the date of this notice, by the failure and neglect of the said Mortgagors to make payment of the said Mortgage as provided in the said mortgage, and which by their terms became due and payable as follows:

Four hundred and Fifty ($450.00) Dollars on or before June 1st, A. D. 1910 according to the terms of one of said Promissory notes with interest thereon at Seven per cent per annum from the date thereof until paid in full; and Four Hundred Fifty ($450.00) Dollars on or before December 1st, 1910 according to the terms of the other of said two promissory notes with interest thereon at Seven per cent per annum from the date thereof until paid in full; and the said default having continued for more than 90 days:

And Whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on the said two promissory notes at the date of this notice the aggregate sum of Nine Hundred Eighty Four and 25/100 ($984.25) Dollars, and whereas the power of sale in the said mortgage has become operative, and in action or proceeding at law or otherwise has been instituted to recover the day of sale by the said mortgage, or any part thereof:

Now Therefore, Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of the premises in and conveyed by said mortgage, to-wit:

- 1) All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the County of Pine and State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: The East Half (E 1/2) and the Southeast Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (SE 1/4) of the NW 1/4 of Section Twenty-one (21), in Township Forty-two (42) North, Range Seventeen (17) West of the 4th Principal Meridian containing 800 Acres more or less according to the United States Government Survey thereon; And
- 2) All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the County of Yellow Medicine State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: The North Thirty First (31) and Eight and Ninth (8, and 9) in Block One (1) in Township 42 North of the Village of Clarksville, Minnesota according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Yellow Medicine State of Minnesota, and the said sale of all the said premises hereinbefore described to be directed in the said mortgage as aforesaid, will be made by the Sheriff of the said Pine County at the front door of the Court House in the Village of Pine City in said County of Pine and State of Minnesota, on Saturday the 9th day of August, A. D. 1913, at 10 o'clock p. m. on said day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of debt and interest, and the taxes, if any, on the said premises, and $50.00 attorney's fees as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, and the costs of said sale; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale as provided by law.

Dated: June 24, 1913. THOMAS E. LUDWIGTON, Assignee of Mortgage. Russell L. Moore, Esq. Attorney for Assignee of Mortgage. No. 46 New York City Building, St. Paul, Minnesota. June 27 July 4-11-13-25. Aug. 1

Studying the Game.

On a certain southern golf course the sand pits are famous for their difficulty. A New York man played into one of the pits, and then cursed none the less maledictively, if silently, while he took six ineffectual strokes, raising only clouds of sand and fairly burying the ball. Presently he was aware of an interested and incredulous ducky watching him.

"What you see dat-kanke you's try in' to kill, man?" he de-demanded.

Small Patient's Status.

The nurse on duty in a hospital was giving the little ones their last meal for the day. All save one were patiently awaiting their turn to be served, the one exception being a rosy cheeked convalescent who was lustily calling for her portion. The nurse was an English girl who had not yet become quite sure of her aspirates.

"Haven't you a little hippopotamus, Florence?" inquired the nurse, with just a tinge of correction in her voice.

"No, 'im a little 'ter patient!"

"I wish it was a star," the duded, sighed, smiling at his own poetic fancy.

"I would rather you were a comet," she said dreamily.

His heart beat tumultuously.

"And why?" he asked, tenderly, at the same time taking her unresisting little hand in his own. "And why?" he repeated, imperiously.

"Oh," she said, with a brooding earnestness that trembled upon his soul, "because then you would come around only once in fifteen years."

And he took his hat and went out into the shimmering moonlight.

BANISHED
Coffee Finally Had to Go.

The way some persons cling to coffee, even after they know it is doing them harm, is a puzzle. But it is an easy matter to give it up for good, when Postum is properly made and used instead. A girl writes:

"Mother had been suffering with nervous headaches for seven weary years, but kept on drinking coffee."

"One day I asked her why she did not give up coffee, as a cousin of mine had done who had taken to Postum. But Mother was such a slave to coffee she thought it would be terrible to give it up."

"Finally, one day, she made the change to Postum, and quickly her headaches disappeared. On the morning after she was drinking Postum so freely with such relief, I asked her for a taste."

"That started it on. Postum and I now drink it more freely than I did coffee, which never comes into our house now."

Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Write for booklet, "The Road to Wellville."

Postum comes in two forms. Regular Postum (best to believe). Instant Postum doesn't require boiling, but is prepared instantly by stirring a level teaspoon in an ordinary cup of hot water, which makes it right for most persons.

A big cup of Postum now and some people who like strong coffee put in a little instant and enjoy it with a large supply of cream.

Experiments will show you the amount that Postum you desire and have it served that way in the future.

STORY OF FAMOUS CIVIL WAR FIGHT

Battle of Gettysburg Which Brought Credit to Both Blue and Gray.

TURNING POINT OF CONFLICT

Total Losses on Both Sides in Three Days' Fighting Over 60,000—Several Generals Killed and Wounded.

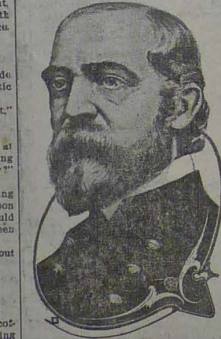

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

WASHINGTON—It is possible, some people would say, that the Battle of Gettysburg changed the course of American history. It was a great fight between armies of Americans, for probably fully ninety per cent of the men who fought on the two sides were born natives to the American soil. The bravery shown at Gettysburg was of the order which Americans had shown on every field and which reflects credit upon the hardy and heroic ancestry of the men engaged, no matter from what race they may have sprung.

At Gettysburg there was nothing to choose between the valor of the North and the South. The South lost the fight, but it lost it honorably and with the prestige of its soldiers unslimmed. The charges made on that field have gone down into history as assaults made under conditions which every man felt might mean death at the end. The defenses made at Gettysburg were of the kind which it takes iron in the blood to make perfect. At Gettysburg Northerners and Southerners replenished their stores of respect for their antagonists. The battle marked the high tide of the war between the states. After it the South largely was on the defensive, but its defense was maintained with fortitude and in the face of privations which could not chill the blood of men fighting for what they thought was the right.

The Northern armies were persistent in their attacks through the campaign which after a few months were started against the objective point, Richmond. Brave men here and brave men there, and after the end came it was the qualities which keep a company with bravery which made the soldiers of the North and South so ready to forget and to forgive and to work again for the good of a common country.

The great battle of Chancellorsville was fought not long before the opposing Union Confederate forces met on the field of Gettysburg. Chancellorsville was a Confederate victory. The Southern government believed that the victory should be followed up by an invasion of the North for, according to its reasoning, if an important engagement could be won upon was ordered to make its way into the Susquehanna Valley through the town of Gettysburg and then to turn in its course after destroying railroads and gathering in supplies, and to meet the Confederate commander with the main army at Harrisburg.

It was General Jubal A. Early of General Lee's command, who reached Gettysburg after a long hard march on June 26. From there he went to the town of York and from thence to Wrightsville. At this place he was ordered by General Lee to retrace his steps and to bring his detachment back to camp near Gettysburg. When Early obeyed Lee's orders and had reached a point near Gettysburg he found the entire Southern force was camped within a short driving distance of the now historic town.

In the meantime things were happening elsewhere. General Hooker in command of the Union army had succeeded in out-maneuvering General Stuart in command of Lee's cavalry, had got around Stuart's command in a way to prevent the Southern general from forming a junction with the forces of his chief commander. Lee gave orders for a movement on Harrisburg when he heard of Hooker's approach and brought his different parts of his army together.

Four days before the Gettysburg fight General Hooker resigned as commander of the Union army. Hooker and General Hancock agreed upon a matter concerning which strategists today say that General Hooker was right. Three days before the battle began, that is, June 28, 1863, General George Gordon Meade was named as General Hooker's successor in charge of the Northern army. General Meade at once went into the field and established his headquarters at a point ten or twelve miles south of the town of Gettysburg.

Armies Meet at Gettysburg.

It seems that General Lee on hearing that Stuart had not succeeded in checking the Union army's advance had made up his mind to turn southward to meet the force of Hooker, or as it turned out the force of Meade. Lee with his force had advanced north beyond Gettysburg, while Meade and his force was south of the town. The fields near the Pennsylvania village had not been picked as a place of battle, but there it was that the two great armies came together and for three days struggled for the mastery.

On the last day of June, the day before the last battle of Gettysburg, General Reynolds, a corps commander of the Union army, went forward to feel out the enemy. He reached Gettysburg by nightfall. His corps, the First, together with the Third and the Eleventh Infantry, composed a division of cavalry, known as the Cavalry Corps. The Fifth Army Corps was sent to Hanover, southeast of Gettysburg, and the Twelfth Army Corps was sent to Gettysburg at a distance of eight or nine miles. They were fairly well separated, but they were converging and Gettysburg was their objective.

On the morning of July 1, the morning of the great battle of Gettysburg, the Union force arrived at Gettysburg early on the morning of July 1. He dispatched a courier to Meade saying that the high ground above Gettysburg was the proper place to meet the enemy. Not long after this message was sent to Meade, General Reynolds who had dispatched it, was killed. He was on horseback near a patch of woods with his force confronting a large detachment of Confederate troops which was at that point of the field. A brigade of Confederates, a Mississippi organization, charged the Union forces, broke their organization and succeeded in making prisoners of a large number of these troops. Later these men were recaptured and the Mississippi brigade was driven back, a portion of it surrendering. In the fight on the first day of the battle, the field or near it, one Union regiment, the 151st Pennsylvania, lost in killed and wounded 337 men out of a total of 441 in a little more than a quarter of an hour's fighting.

General Doubleday fell back to Seminary Ridge and extended his line. The forces employed against him here were greater than his own, and after hard fighting Seminary Ridge was given up. The first day's battle was in effect and in truth a victory for the Southern army. On the night of July 1 General Hancock arrived and succeeded in rallying the Union forces and putting new heart into the men. General Meade on the night ordered the entire army to Gettysburg.

Victory Not Followed Up.

For some reason or other perhaps unknown to this day, what was virtually a Confederate victory on the first of July was not followed up by General Lee early on the next morning. General Meade therefore succeeded in strengthening his lines and in preparing for the greater conflict. One end of the Union line was some distance east of Cemetery Hill on Rock Creek, another end was at Round Top something more than two miles beyond Cemetery Hill to the south. The Confederate line confronting it was somewhat longer.

Maj. Gen. John F. Reynolds.

It is impossible in a brief sketch of this battle to give the names of the brigades and the regimental commanders and the names of the regiments which were engaged on both sides in this great battle. Meade, Hancock, Howard, Slocum and Sickles with their men were confronting Lee, Longstreet, Hill, Ewell and the other great commanders of the South with their men. The line of battle with the spaces in between the different commands was nearly ten miles. It was the Confederate general's intention to attack at the extreme right and left ends of the line, and the result was to be General Longstreet's duty to turn the left flank of the Union army and to "break it." Longstreet's first and second divisions were ordered to move forward and to strike the line of the second day really began with Longstreet's advance. The

Maj. Gen. George E. Pickett.

Southern general did not succeed in the plan which he had formed to get by Big Round Top, Peach Orchard, Cemetery Hill, Culp's Hill, and what is known as The Devil's Den. The fate of battle observed and followed. The Round Top was saved from capture by the timely arrival of a brigade commanded by General Weidner that dragged the guns of a United States regular battery up to the summit by hand.

At the end of the second day's fight it was found that the Southern army had failed to break the left flank of the opposing forces, that it had failed to capture Round Top and that the right flank of the Northern army, although vigorously attacked, had not been broken. There was a tremendous loss of life on both sides, and while in general the day had gone favorably to the Northern cause Gettysburg was a drawn battle.

Charge of Gen. Pickett.

It was on July 3, the third and last day of the great battle of Gettysburg that Pickett's men made their charge which has gone into history as one of the most heroic assaults of all time. It was forlorn hope but it was grasped and the men of George E. Meade, Pickett's Confederate soldier, went bravely and with full hearts to their death across a sharp and rifle swept field.

When the third day's fighting opened it began with an artillery duel, hundreds of guns belching forth shot and death from the batteries of both contending forces. It is said that this was the greatest duel engaged in by field pieces during the four years of the war between the states.

The Union guns at one time ceased firing, and it is said that the southern commander thought they had been silenced, and then it was that Longstreet's men made their assault. The Pickett's men made their charge. Big former general's objective was Big Round Top, but his forces were driven back. Pickett formed his division in brigade columns and they moved directly across the fields over flat ground. They had no cover and they had no sooner come into effective range than they were met by such a storm of shot as never before swept over a field of battle.

The men went on and on, and on closing in their depleted ranks and moving steadily forward to their death. Those of Pickett's men who reached

In the fight on the first day of the battle, the field or near it, one Union regiment, the 151st Pennsylvania, lost in killed and wounded 337 men out of a total of 441 in a little more than a quarter of an hour's fighting.

General Doubleday fell back to Seminary Ridge and extended his line. The forces employed against him here were greater than his own, and after hard fighting Seminary Ridge was given up. The first day's battle was in effect and in truth a victory for the Southern army. On the night of July 1 General Hancock arrived and succeeded in rallying the Union forces and putting new heart into the men. General Meade on the night ordered the entire army to Gettysburg.

the morning of July 1. He dispatched a courier to Meade saying that the high ground above Gettysburg was the proper place to meet the enemy. Not long after this message was sent to Meade, General Reynolds who had dispatched it, was killed. He was on horseback near a patch of woods with his force confronting a large detachment of Confederate troops which was at that point of the field. COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athens, Texas, says: "I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors have said that I did better than I did boys say I look younger than I am. Mrs. SARAH R. WHATLEY, Athens, Texas, R. F. D. No. 3, Box 52.

We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the sufferings of women, or received so many genuine testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state against their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

A man has to have considerable of the divine afflatus to find poetical inspirations in his back yard.

A Kansas Judge has decided that a man is the owner of his wife's clothes. If her new bonnet is too much to suit him he can wear it himself.

Here's a bit of wisdom Solomon forgot to mention. You may be in business with a man or in love with a woman in order to know that you don't know them.

Willing to Oblige.

"While," says a New Yorker, "the Gotham car conductor is generally rude, sometimes he is witty."

"Not long ago, on a Broadway car, a woman said to the conductor in a voice of command:

"You will get me off at 81."

"The conductor regarded her curiously for a moment, while the other passengers grinned, then, quite submissively, he answered:

"Yes, madam, what floor, please, ma'am?"—Judge.

Very Unusual.

"You newspaper fellows are ordinarily hard pressed for funds, are you not?" asked the genial stranger.

"Our natural pride forbade us to agree with this outsider's conclusion. So we said:

"Why—no?—necessarily. What makes you think so?"

"I'll tell you. I am acquainted with a member of your profession—and a fine chap he is too. The other day I wanted to talk to him, so I called him up on the telephone and asked him if he would lunch with me. He accepted, and at the appointed hour we sat at the table. I opened the conversation thus:

"Well, what's the news? Anything unusual in your line?"

"Yes," answered the reporter, "this."

MINNESOTA STATE NEWS

STOCK BREEDERS HOLD CONVENTION

SHORTHORN ASSOCIATION OF STATE IN MEETING AT FARMINGTON.

TWO DAYS FOR DISCUSSIONS

Meeting Opened Tuesday and interesting Topics Are Discussed by Many Farmers in Attendance.

Farmington—Shorthorn cattle had an inning in the circle of stock and seedling grain in Minnesota when the Minnesota Shorthorn breeders' association had its summer meeting Tuesday and Wednesday, July 1 and 2 at Farmington. The meeting was held at the Minnesota Live Stock Breeders' association. A banquet at 6 p. m. July 1, by the Commercial club, afforded a chance for a symposium of three-minute talks by all interested in the movement for better breeding.

Meeting Opened Tuesday. The meeting opened at 2 p. m. Tuesday, with the judging of shorthorns conducted by Professor Andrew Berg, animal husbandry, University of Minnesota. At 4 p. m. Professor T. G. Patterson led a discussion of market types. At 5 p. m. Dean A. F. Woods, of the college of agriculture, spoke on "The Relation of Live Stock to the Farm."

The program for the second day in "Outlook for Shorthorns in the Northwest," W. W. Brown, Ansonia, N. D.; "The Shorthorn Situation and Its Needs," Colonel A. F. Woods, veteran auctioneer; "The Shorthorn From the Dairy Standpoint," Frank McMartin, of Claremont; A. E. Hayes of Farmington, John Timpane of Waverly, Professor Andrew Berg, of the state school of agriculture; "The Sire—His Value, Cost and His Worth," O. F. Henkel of Kenosha, S. G. AUTO UPSET; SIX ARE HURT

Three in Party are Seriously Injured in Accident Near Fisher, Minnesota.

Fisher—Three were injured, two seriously, as a result of an automobile accident two miles east of Fisher. The injured are Miss Betty Berg, of Sebeka, Minn., Miss Mattie Leona, of Thief River Falls, and Emma Wright, of Crookston. All are in a hospital at Crookston.

The accident happened when a party of six was returning from Fisher in an automobile belonging to C. E. Gildersleeve, a Crookston banker. The car was driven by Harry Helander, son of C. A. Hitchcock, of Crookston and besides those injured the party consisted of a sister of Miss Berg and Arthur Norman, before it came to a stop in a pile of wreckage. The car was found nearly 200 feet from where it had first turned.

Miss Leon is a teacher at the Northwestern Agricultural school at Crookston. She is seriously hurt, but is unconscious for hours.

Highway to be Improved.

Thief River Falls—Arrangements have been made whereby the contractor who is gravelling the Ellwell highway No. 1 east of Thief River will at once gravel about five miles running west of town. The commissioners purpose to extend the Ellwell highway, which runs from the city east about thirty miles, to the extreme western end of Pennington county. This road will later be carried on to the Red River through Marshall county.

New Garage at Park Rapids.

Park Rapids—W. M. Taber, president of the First National bank, has let a contract for a fireproof garage to be built on the door west of the bank. It will be constructed of cement blocks and equipped with every modern device for the care of the automobile traffic.

Minneapolis—The agitation to put an end to unbecoming conduct in the parks may result in a request by the park board for a similar city patrol.

Minneapolis—The agitation to put an end to unbecoming conduct in the parks may result in a request by the park board for a similar city patrol. The board is to do duty at Harriet Pavilion Sundays and holiday evenings to allow the park policemen to give attention to crowds on the grounds, according to Sergeant C. S. Darnard of the park police. In the meantime complaints continue to be made of misconduct at the park grounds. Monday night a half dozen canoeists who disregarded the park board warning were arrested.

DAIRY PRODUCTS INCREASING

$35,000,000 Butter Produced in Year, Minnesota Record—State Report for 1912 Shows 116,000,000 Pounds.

St. Paul.—Minnesota creameries produced 116,000,000 pounds of butter in 1912, adding $10,000,000 to the state's wealth. This is an increase of about $6,000,000 over 1911. The report for 1912 is not completed but the figures given are substantially accurate in round numbers.

What Report Will Show. "Our report on dairying for 1912 shows an increase in dairy products for every one of the eighty-six counties of Minnesota," said Ole A. Storvik, secretary of the state and food commission in commenting on what he regards as a highly creditable showing for the state. "Some counties, Atkin for instance, have almost doubled their output. The success of dairying in northern Minnesota has been fully demonstrated. We look for even a greater increase this year for we believe that the farmers realize that there is a branch of farming industry that gives better and safer returns than dairying."

"In 1908 Minnesota creameries produced 86,000,000 pounds of butter and the last year 115,500,000. These figures tell how rapidly dairying is advancing."

HEAT CRAZED; SHOTS WIFE

William Metcalf of Lake City Commits Tragedy Then Takes His Own Life.

Red Wing—After working all day in a gravel pit under the blistering rays of the sun, William Metcalf, a farmer, living three miles north of Lake City, returned to his home loaded his gun, blew his wife's head from her shoulders and then fired the second barrel into his own head. He shot himself in the head with a .38 Smith & Wesson .45 caliber revolver. He was taken to a hospital in Red Wing, where it is said that he had a chance to recover. He is believed to have committed the heinous crime while mentally deranged by the heat.

After his day's work, Metcalf drove into Lake City, made several purchases and started for home. Persons who passed him on the road later told that he apparently failed to see them. When he arrived at his farm, according to his son, he left the horse and buggy standing in the yard and went directly to the house. A moment later Mrs. Metcalf saw her husband walk out of his bedroom with his shotgun in his hands.

Life Sees Preparations.

She saw him slip two shells into the gun.

"What are you going to do?" she cried.

"I guess I'll shoot myself," was the answer. Mrs. Metcalf sprang to her husband's side, grappled with him, and called to the grown son and daughter. As they ran into the room, the gun was pointed at her. The wife's head was practically cut off. Before either son or daughter could move, the father placed the muzzle of the gun in front of his face and fired. He fell across the body of his wife. Neighbors were summoned and the wounded man was taken from the home.

Norwegians Hold Big Festival.

Haskell—Fully 600 persons attended the annual mid-summer festival of the Norwegian Unitarian church here. A program was held within the church building from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. Addresses were delivered by Professor H. C. Hess of the university summer school, J. L. Lathen of St. James, and Rev. Amundson of Berlin. Gertrude E. de Rochelegue, late of Berlin, Germany, sang several Norwegian folk songs. In the afternoon there was a band concert and picnic dinner about 7 p. m. Visitors were present from Mankota, Lake Crystal, Madelia, St. James, New Ulm and other cities.

Plaintiff Wins Injury Suit.

Brainerd—In a suit brought by George Kuehnichel against the Western Union Telegraph company he was awarded $15,000. Kuehnichel was a butcher and it was alleged that he was going to work one night when a mounted messenger boy collided with him. He was thrown to the ground and his skull injured. Formerly a strong and rugged man he has been reduced to invalidism as a result of the injuries sustained.

New Bank Organized at Randolph.

Randolph—The Randolph State Bank has been organized with capital stock of $10,000. Followed are the officers: President, T. J. Blasker; cashier, H. P. Hansen; assistant, B. J. Schwoeffermann. The directors are T. L. Beiseker, H. P. Hanson and Charles F. Dickman.

Rocheater—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Maass of this city celebrated their silver wedding anniversary in the home in which they were married twenty-five years ago, over one hundred relatives and friends attending the celebration.

In the afternoon services were held at Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. Martin Weinhold speaking in German and Rev. E. F. Hertel of Chicago preaching in English. Mr. and Mrs. Maass were presented with costly silverware by their relatives, being a handsome silver set from their children.

CLAIMS BOYS ARE FLOGGED

Training School Boy Accuses New Superintendent in a Red Wing Court.

Red Wing—Henry Diedrich, a state training school boy who escaped recently and was caught in the act of trying to rob a local place of business, told the court here that whipping him with a heavy strap is again in vogue at the institution in this city. He said:

The Lad's Story. "Dr. Merica tries to keep track of the boys, but it's hard work. He whips them when they do anything wrong. He uses a leather strap two or three feet in length. He removes their trousers and lays them on a bench. Sometimes he whips them until they are black and blue. If he doesn't do it one of the officers does. Dr. Merica is always present. I know he whips them hard because my back was black and blue after I got mine. I don't know where Mr. Fulton, the assistant superintendent, whips the boys or not. Sometimes they call him an officer to help hold the boys. An officer strapped me, but Dr. Merica was present."

The boys are continually plotting to escape and to rob the officers and stores. I escaped once, but I hope to return to the school, but I hope to go back. Dr. Merica is better than the old officers."

When asked for a statement regarding the boy's charges, Dr. Merica refused to talk. "I have nothing to say," he said over the phone, "good boys."

Young Diedrich was in court to answer to the charge of burglary. He pleaded guilty, but sentence was deferred until the matter of his appeal and some other particulars can be figured up. He told the court he is 15 years of age, but he appears to be much older. He was brought to the school from Perham where he broke into a store. The officials also have information that he was arrested in Chicago and also in Racine.

Sheriff Enjoys Outing.

Walker—The annual summer outing of the Minnesota Sheriffs association was held in Walker for a three-day session. The first day was spent in a sightseeing and fishing trip on Lake Umbagog. Lake Umbagog, consisting of straw hats, gaily decorated, and kahlki trousers were supplied by Mayor Kinkade and the day was spent in Lake Umbagog. The sheriff, who failed to catch the limit prescribed by law, was handcuffed and turned over to Deputy Sheriff Kennedy. In the evening a fish bake and story telling were finished the first day's program. A social smoker was given Saturday night by the Commercial club at the Glenway club house. The Leech lake band which is to play at the Minnesota state fair this fall, supplied the music for the visitors during their stay here.

To Teach Respect for Flag.

Minneapolis—It is proposed that the first day of celebration, July 4, shall have an educational effect in teaching respect for the stars and stripes. The raising of flags in 24 parks is to occur simultaneously at 9 o'clock in the morning, and it is suggested that the crowds in attendance will be expected to remove their hats while the ceremony is in progress. Also, that the city hall chimas shall play "America" at that hour and that street cars shall be stopped for at least two minutes to impress all the people.

Co-Operative Delivery Service.

Pipestone—All the grocery stores and meat markets at Pipestone have arranged for a co-operative delivery service. Harvey W. Wakefield will manage the business. Four times a day all of the articles for delivery are to be taken to a central headquarters, where the delivery wagons will be started out. The new system will be placed in operation at once.

Rev. Mr. Frye Settles Insurance.

Kelster—Rev. Mr. H. Frye has effected a settlement with the insurance companies for the loss which he sustained in a fire at Waseca, last fall, which destroyed his stock of furniture. He carried $2,000 of insurance on the stock, but compromised with the companies for $1,600 rather than take the matter into the courts.

Freight Wrecked; 15 Cars Burn.

Shakopee, Minn., July 1.—Number 263, Chicago to Pacific coast freight, jumped the track two miles east of Prior Lake, derailing the engine and 15 cars. One car contained gasoline and the oil took fire and 15 cars were burned, a brakeman on top of a car was thrown over some telegraph wires, but was only slightly hurt. The engine was demolished.

High Wind Razes Buildings.

Pipestone—Local insurance adjusters have received numerous reports of damage by wind and lightning. On the farm of Albert Gamber the barn and all their contents were destroyed by lightning fire. Buildings on the farm of J. C. Fay were demolished by the wind as were also the buildings on the William Mitchell farm. Peter Lovrenson of Van Latta township lost three large barns by the wind. Lightning caused loss on a church at Island.

ENEMY OF THE GRAPE

Root-Borer Is Widely Distributed About Country.

Insects Belong to Family of Clear-Winged Moths, Greatly Resembling Dew or Wasp—Capable of Doing Much Harm.

(By F. E. BHOODER)

The grapevine root borer has been recognized as an enemy of the grape in the United States for more than thirty years. It is quite widely distributed, having been observed as far north and west as Minnesota and Missouri, and south and east through Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and North Carolina.

Several writers upon economic entomology have given brief accounts of this insect, but it has not often attracted special attention, and has scarcely been accorded notice in several of the papers published relating to the insect enemies of the grape in the eastern states. It is capable, however, of doing serious damage to grapevines and the slight attention which has been given to it in the past is no doubt due in a measure to its appearance and habits of the insect throughout the four stages that compose its life-cycle. So insignificant is the insect itself, and its manner of working, that a vineyard may be suffering greatly from its attacks and yet those who live in the care of the vines remain entirely ignorant of the cause of the trouble. The eggs are small, or a dull color, and the female borers themselves about the size of the vines. The borers feed beneath the ground on the roots of old vines, usually some distance out from the base of the trunk. No clear castings are thrown to the surface to attract attention to the injury which is being done. The roots of one-year and two-year old vines are rarely attacked so that in the work of planting out vineyards the borer is not likely to be seen. The transformation from larva to adult takes place within an earth-covered cocoon that is hidden in the ground, often six inches or more from the root where the borers feed.

BROKE HORSE OF BAD HABIT

Bag of Sand, Something Like a "Punching Bag," Did the Business Quite Simply.

Noah Spears, a Bay Shore farmer, has discovered a way to break a horse of kicking, according to a Milford letter to the Wilmington (Del.) News. Spears tells the following story: "I filled a stout gunny sack with sand and suspended it from the ceiling in the rear of the stall by a rope in such a position behind the horse that its heels could have good play upon it. This large pendulum, needing only a strong power to start it, would swing with clocklike precision as soon as the horse began to play its acrobatic stunts upon it. At the first kick the bag swung about the neck of the horse more force, giving the animal much more than it had sent. This unexpected return on the part of the bag caused the horse to kick harder, but each time the bag returned heavier and struck the animal with interest. Finally the horse, realizing that further kicking would be fruitless, stopped kicking. The bag was allowed to hang in the same position for an entire week, but no more use for it was seen."

THE BEST TREATMENT FOR ITCHING SCALPS, DANDRUFF AND FALLING HAIR

To allay itching and irritation of the scalp, prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove crusts, scales and dandruff, and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, the following effective treatment is most effective, agreeable and economical. On retiring, comb the hair straight all around, then begin at the side and work toward the top, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment into the parting with a bit of flannel held over the end of the finger. Avoid additional parting about half an inch apart until the whole scalp has been treated, the purpose being to get the Cuticura Ointment on the scalp skin rather than on the hair. It is well to place a light covering over the hair to protect it from possible stings. The next morning shampoo with Cuticura Soap and hot water. Shampoos alone may be used as often as agreeable, but once or twice a month is generally sufficient for this special treatment for women's hair.

Small Yields.

The United States, which for more than a half century has plumed itself as the granary of the world, has in all climate that cannot be surpassed for fertility or salubrity by any other country on the globe. Notwithstanding the natural advantages our farms produce an annual yield of about 14 bushels of wheat an acre, while Germany produces 32 bushels and the United Kingdom 32. Of oats, the yield is 27 bushels an acre, while the United Kingdom averages 45 bushels to the acre, Germany 52 and France 52. France with a population to the square mile vastly in excess of that of the United States, produces almost enough food products to supply her own people.

Protection for Trees.

Some orchardists have been successful in protecting their trees by smearing the trunks near the ground with mixture which are distasteful to rabbits. For this purpose whitewash, a mixture of glue and copperas, de-coction of quassa chips and blood or grease have been used. Mechanical protection by means of some wrapping is more permanent and effective than any form of wash.

Denied for Horses.

A good horse will always command a good price, no matter how popular the automobile becomes, and this applies to draft, harness and saddle horses alike.

Studebaker

"The LIFE of a wagon is what counts — that's why I buy a Studebaker"

"That's reasonable, isn't it?"
 "A wagon that doesn't last is expensive no matter what price you pay for it."
 "Suppose you buy three wagons, one after the other, and the three of them don't last as long as one Studebaker—which is the best bargain?"
 "I didn't find this out myself. I heard my grandfather say it a good many years ago. He said he had proved that it paid to buy a Studebaker. I followed his advice to my own satisfaction."
 "A wagon can't have life in it unless it has the material and work and finish in it. The Studebaker people have been making vehicles for sixty years. They ought to know how to make wagons right—and they do. They have the reputation because they've produced the goods. They don't put the name Studebaker on until the wagon's right, and when you see the name Studebaker on a vehicle of any kind it is your insurance of quality."
 "That's why I buy a Studebaker. I trust a Studebaker wagon because I trust the people that make them. It's good business."
 "A Studebaker promise is always made good."

The Best Bargain You Ever Made

HOW do you measure the value of a bargain? Suppose you bought an engine that did practically all of your hardest work for you, sawing, pumping, grinding, etc., and that saved so much money that it soon paid for itself. Would you call that a good bargain?

An IHC engine will do all that, and more. Having paid for itself, it works steadily year after year until, like our Clay County friend who has used an IHC engine for six years, you will say, "My IHC engine is the best bargain I ever made."

IHC Oil and Gas Engines

are thoroughly dependable, and unusually durable. The fine-grained, grey iron cylinders and pistons are worked together to a perfect fit. Ground piston rings insure maximum power from the explosion. The fuel mixer is the most effective known. Bearings are large and carefully fitted. No part is too heavy to be efficient, yet every part is amply strong.

IHC engines are made in all styles—vertical and horizontal; portable and stationary; air and water-cooled; in sizes from 1 to 50-horse power, to operate on gas, gasoline, naphtha, distillate, kerosene or alcohol. Oil tractors, 12 to 60-horse power, for plowing, threshing, etc.; grinding, sawing, pumping and spraying outfits, complete the line.

The IHC local dealer will show you all the good points of the IHC engine. Get catalogue from him, or write
