Pay Taxes or Penalty

Tomorrow And Saturday Offer Last Opportunity to Escape 10% Increase

This is the last call for the last half of the real estate tax before the penalty attaches on Nov. 1st. Don't let any grass grow under your feet for only two days remain before the penalty of ten per cent attaches. You can borrow the money for a year for what the penalty for two months will amount to. Treasurer Pofert informs The POKER that payments are coming in faster than usual this year, beginning just after the first notice in The POKER a couple of weeks ago. It sure does pay to advertise.

How Sheep Pay

Sheep are not raised to any considerable extent around Hinckley, yet there are a few flocks that are making money for their owners.

Whether all flocks can be made to pay equally as well as the one bought by Geo. Wallick last spring the Enterprise is not prepared to say, but the returns from this flock show there should be a good profit on a flock of good sheep.

Mr. Wallick bought 22 ewes and one ram at the Estelle sale last spring, paying $191 for the flock. In the eight months since he has owned them, he has sold wool that brought him, he says, $11.57 and the lambs from the flock sold for $190. He still has the flock he bought, after receiving in less than one year $46.75 more than he paid for the flock.

These sheep must have cost Mr. Wallick the use of some pasture during the summer, a little work when they were sheared and some work while lambing. So far this must be the entire cost of his flock and $46.75. He will have to winter the flock, but the wool to be clipped in the spring will more than pay for the feed.—Hinckley Enterprise, Oct. 22.

Commenced Building New Bank

The contract for the bank building has been let to Askov Construction Co., consisting of P. P. Kiltofte, N. S. Peterson and Peter Linn. Work was commenced this week and the foundation for the vault and building has already been laid. The cost of the entire building when completed, including heating and fixtures, will amount to about $3,500. There will be an 8 foot basement with concrete walls and from there on up it will be brick, compressed brick being used in the front. The main floor will be a few feet above the sidewalk. The width of the building will be 25 feet, one lot, and the depth 39 feet. The building when completed will put up a fine appearance and add considerable in beautifying our town. The Askov American will no longer be able to boast of the best business building here. The bank will be divided into four rooms, viz: lobby, banking room, directors' room and office.—Askov American, Oct. 21.

Reception for Teachers

The "get acquainted" social, given by the Presbyterian ladies aid in the Pythian hall, last Friday evening, for the teachers, proved one of the pleasantest social gatherings held here for some time and the ladies are entitled to general credit for their work.

The original purpose of the Aid was to entertain members of the school board and their families as well as teachers and members of the Aid and families, but they found opportunity to invite many others without taxing the capacity of the hall beyond the limits of pleasure, which was the only reason for their stopping at all.

The hall was decorated with Hal-low'en trimmings and presented a pleasing appearance. "Hallow'en and other games were indulged in and ice cream and cake were served. It was about midnight when the party disbanded.

Stock Buyers Hit Hard

Pine City live stock buyers were caught, the latter part of last week, along with those from other points in the county and over the state by the heavy drop of $1.15 to $1.20 per hundred in the hog market. Three cars of hogs were shipped from here on Wednesday. Thursday and Saturday of last week and every one of them netted a loss to the shippers, who thought they were doing their farmer friends a good turn in paying them from $7 to $7.50 per hundred. The sellers got a long way the best of the deal, all right.

Electric Lights at Willow

The Brush Electric Company of Cloquet has a big crew of men here putting up poles and stringing the wire and it is expected that the electric current will be available for light and power purposes in about three weeks. Most of the business places and many private dwellings are being wired and will install the lighting system as soon as the current is turned on. The line will be continued on to Rutledge and Finlayson. The village will soon have a complete system of street lighting installed on very favorable terms.—The Pine County Farmer, Oct. 22.

Sneak Thieves Continue Work

Sneak thieves and burglars have been at work again in our neighborhood, last Friday evening Mr. Luthey's meat market at Wyoming was entered and the money drawer robbed of about $20 in change, and Saturday evening the Grex Carpet Co.'s office was broken into while the men were away for supper, and considerable money stolen. The Forest Lake Advertiser reports under date of Sept. 30th an attempted robbery on the Stacy Merchants which was frustrated by the timely arrival of a train crew.—North Branch Review, Oct. 15.

White Pine Saw Mill Burns Again

The new Whitepine saw mill was completely destroyed by fire last Saturday, with the exception of the planing mill which was undamaged. A large quantity of lumber was endangered but good work on the part of the mill hands prevented the fire from spreading into the yards. The mill was built last year on the site of the old mill which was also burned. The property was partly covered by insurance.—The Pine County Farmer, Oct. 22.

Heart Instead of Fiat

Praise a boy for his good deeds rather than applaud him for his bad ones. Many a parent has tried it, with successful results, as well as pleasant ones for the boy.

Hardheaded business has made a similar discovery. A Pennsylvania railroad superintendent found that posting in public places the faults of his employees failed to reduce the number of delinquencies.

Watch Your Step

Science has told what sort of a person you are from your step. Physicians diagnose locomotor ataxia, paralysis, insanity and other diseases by the gait. One expert says: "Watch the man who drags his feet along as if it were an effort. He would be the first into a lifeboat from a sinking ship because he has no heart. The woman with the dragging feet is a waver."

"Watch the woman who hurries along as if she were anxious to part company with the pavement. Her steps are quick and snappy. She has plenty of vim."

"When you see a woman planting her feet firmly on the ground and walking with a free swing, you may be sure she is wholesome, to be depended upon and capable. She will be a good friend on rainy days just as much as on more than when the sun shines."—Philadelphia North American.

Appeals to Dist. Court

Case Involving Management of County Poor Farm Goes Higher

Attorney Lamson filed notice of appeal, Tuesday, from the judgment of Justice Atkinson's court in the case against Manager Weideman of the county poor farm at Hinckley, wherein Ed McCloud, an inmate of that institution, accused Mr. Weideman of assaulting him and the defendant was fined $25 and costs amounting, in all, to $38.61.

If the district court sustains Justice Atkinson, Mr. McCloud ought to be able to collect damages from the county, we understand.

County Gets $16,308.70

Auditor Hamlin received a check Monday, from State Treasurer Smith, for $16,308.70 which covers the State school "apportionment" for pupils who attended a sufficient number of days the last school year.

Pine county had 4,694 such pupils, and they earned $3.56 each for their districts.

The money will be distributed by Auditor Hamlin next month and other monies from taxes collected by Treasurer Pofert will be included in the settlement.

The Inevitable Yaqui

Against all odds, a Yaqui man, long held the Yaqui Indian of Mexico has proved invincible. For more than a century relentless war has been waged against him by the Mexicans, but they have never subdued him nor tamed him, and as for conquering him, that has not yet been made of black and white with his extermination. In the campaigns against him the Yaqui's most effective weapon is the poisoned arrow. His bow is made of black pine wood, and the arrows are long, sharp and so poisoned as to cause certain but not immediate death. Horrible suffering follows a scratch from the point, the victim dying in from three to seven days. No antidote has been discovered, although the Yaqui themselves possess the secret of one.—Boston Herald.

Nails

A nail is a common article of manufacture which is turned out by thousands every hour in the factory and is always absent in every household when it is most needed. Some cases are full of nails. The walls bristle with them. The floors and ceilings are full of them. If you are to drive a nail into a wall or to help disengage a box going by express you might as well look for a gold nugget in an ash heap. When by some miracle a nail permits itself to be discovered it is always crooked. The art of placing it on your wife's best mahogany table, and straightening it out with a poker in place of the hammer you cannot locate, is an art yet in its infancy. Some centuries hence it may reach a development hitherto undreamed of.—Life.

The Oyster's Diet

Some interesting facts concerning the diet of the oyster have been discovered by the investigations of the English board of fisheries. The experts have found, for instance, that the oyster is an exceptionally dairy feeder, living almost exclusively on a vegetable diet. Seaweed and the minute plants which float in the water are its staples. It dies, moreover, only between 12 o'clock noon and 2 in the afternoon. During those hours the oyster opens its shell, permits the water to flow through the feeding gill and expels it. The diet of the oyster is food dried.—Philadelphia Record.

A Reconstructed Man Costs $500

With exhibitions and catalogues of artificial limbs now brought to notice one gets to calculating the cost of a reconstructed man. Securing a little more than $500 would suffice. A pair of artificial legs costs about $150 and a pair of arms about $100. Eyes, ears, nose, and so on. Without heart and brain a man is worth about $200. With them—the price might change.—London Chronicle.

In the Station

"I want to take a train to New York."
"But, my dear sir, we pay our engineers to do that."—Baltimore Answer.

Benefits of Water.

In the New York Medical Record Dr. S. A. Knapp of New York advocates a liberal use of water in the prevention and cure of tuberculosis. He advances a plan for public baths for old and young and also for swimming pools in connection with the schools. He holds that a glass of clear, cool water taken half an hour before meals is the best food for the system, and that the gastric secretions and that this is a gospel to be spread by the medical profession. He says: "The money a municipality invests in public baths, floating baths, seaside baths and swimming pools will give directly and indirectly—indirectly, by making people clean physically and morally, by preventing disease through the cultivation of cleanliness, and by making the people more vigorous and healthy, a return many times the amount of the investment. It is a future citizen, man or woman, how to swim and to save his life in the event of accident."

Garlic

Garlic is one of the most wholesome herbs that can be eaten. It stimulates all secretions, and its effect is strong upon the liver and kidneys.

A teaspoonful of garlic juice and sugar will generally ward off an oncoming cold.

Garlic eaters have good skins, for garlic is excellent in treating eruptions of all sorts.

Those races that use much garlic in their food are those that are least susceptible to tuberculosis. Many doctors advise the use of garlic in the treatment of disease, giving it internally in the form of a steep, directly, by teaching every one to make their patients inhale an infusion.

The essential principle of garlic, that which acts upon the system, is allyl sulphide. This also causes the characteristic and to many persons disagreeable smell.—New York World.

Sickness in Metals

Metals, like human beings, suffer a condition which may be termed "disease." Metals change so to speak, in the pieces of metal once it is while, and frequently these conditions are of a pathological character. The disease in metals is caused by the loss to explain exactly what it is, it causes a perfectly sound appearing metal to change its structural strength, when not under strain, pressure or action of either mechanical, physical or chemical character. Ductility is lost, and the metal becomes brittle by getting a happy medium between sufficient pressure to cause the metal to flow naturally and a pressure not so great that it will cause complete rupture. But these are mechanical changes. The other changes might be called pathological. The loss of a piece of metal often continues progressively and ends seriously.—New York World.

The Mattress

Some one has been turning up the history of the mattress. Its beginning was the collection of rags, husks or reeds which were bound together and thrown anywhere to form a resting place for the limbs and parts of the body. It is suggested that their names of shakedown and makeshift were derived originally from the Arabic word "matra," the middle ages feather bed found favor with the wealthy and the mattress was not used by the poor. Inventories of estates owned by the American colonists show that mattresses were then worth $200 each, being made of hair. In England many of the articles of household use and vegetable fibers of various kinds have served their turn.

The "Bain" of an Apple

One end of the apple bears the name of "bain" and contains the remnants of the blossom, sometimes called the eye of the fruit. This part of the apple is deep in some varieties and shallow and open in others. This is the weakest point in the whole apple as concerns the question of the keeping quality of the fruit. If the basin is shallow and the canal to the core firmly closed there is much less likelihood of the fruit decaying than when it is deep, and the evident opening connects the center of the fruit with the surface.

Festal Gifts in Spain

It is the custom in Madrid for friends and acquaintances to send presents of bobbing on birthdays, name days and festivals. A large silver tray is piled with sweets of various kinds, with a cake made of eggs in the center. This is often surrounded with a silk flag or a pretty porcelain figure. Well known people receive as many as fifty of these trays on their birth and name days.

An Old Ballon Project

As early as 1870 the French government granted a sum of money to establish a balloon service between Paris and Marseilles with what were known as the Montgolfier air balloons, though the project never became more than a project.

Her Favorite Sport

"Is there any outdoor sport she is fond of?"
"I should say no. She's dead in love with an indoor player."—Browner's Magazine.

Steel in Thread

By the modern process of spinning steel threads it is possible to make a single strand of steel thread a distance of seventy miles.

Burglars at Beroun

Strohkirsch Bros. Store and Creamery Were Entered on Monday Night

"Strohkirsch Bros. store and the creamery at Beroun were entered by burglars shortly after midnight Monday night, and several things taken in each place. Up to this time no clues have been discovered to lead to the capture of the ones who committed the deed."

The store was entered by breaking a glass in the front door, which allowed them to open the night latch from the inside. The cash register was carried into the ice box and the bottom of the cash drawer hacked through with a chisel. Only about $1.50 in change was secured by the burglars for their trouble. It is not thought that they took anything else as nothing has been missed.

The creamery was entered by a window. Two trunks belonging to Mr. Peterson, who formerly ran the creamery, were ransacked and books from them and the desk scattered over the floor. A valuable overcoat belonging to Mr. Peterson was taken but it is not known whether anything else was taken or not.

The robbery doubtless occurred at about 1 o'clock, in the morning. The barking of dogs at that time and the stopping of an automobile at the creamery at that time leave little doubt as to the hour when it was committed. Who did it is another matter.

Pokeyama News

Frank Heynny, who moved up from Hopkins, last fall, onto his 120 acres just west of the north end of the lake, has made great improvements in the place during the last time, clearing etc. He is just finishing one of the best houses in this region on the place. It is 30x35 bungalow with 10 foot studding and a full basement. Inside there are 5 rooms on the first floor and two above with bath, hot water heat and every modern convenience. The stucco covering has been placed on the outside the past week and he hopes to be able to move in in about ten days.

Henry Stuetz went to Hinckley, Monday.

Gust Soderstrom moved to Helmer Eden's this week, having sold his farm to Otto Pangerl.

Misses Mariej Priesner, Anna Scheele and Lizze Strosler visited with Emma Stuetz, Sunday.

Rudolph L. fler of Minneapolis visited the past week with his brother, John, at Louis Rohlf's.

Helmer Uden and N. P. Johnson visited friends at Duluth from Tuesday until Sunday of last week.

Mr. Harte, Nora Wilcox and Dorothy Lang, all of Pine City, returned out for our school ma'ams Friday afternoon.

Otto Nelson, Clarence Strosler and William Naslin came home from Grandy, Wednesday, having been picking potatoes.

Among those who visited at Lindgren's, Sunday, were Harold Briggs, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Anderson.

There was a party at the John Johnson home, Sunday, given in honor of David Anderson, formerly of this place, who came up from Minneapolis to renew acquaintances.

How a Horse Affects a Watch

Refrain from carrying such high grade, sensitive watches that unless regulated to suit the owner's breathing, eating and sleeping they get in the engine case they don't keep perfect time at all.

"That fellow probably wouldn't affect a few weeks because your veins are still in their action and don't keep time for anything under any circumstances, any more than a watch."—Don't buy a sensitive watch until you have had a doctor's certificate for the same of the patient in your case.

First, find a good watch and then it carries regulation to the general condition under ordinary wear and work.

A "South Bend" watch is subject to the most severe regulation, and it is not until the watch is in the hands of the expert that it is put in the hands of the patient in your case.

The Poker believes in trading at home—buying what is needed from our own farmers and merchants if they will sell at the same price or within a reasonable margin of what the thing can be bought for elsewhere. We believe that the man who sends his money away from home never gets another chance to finger it while the man who gives it to his neighbor finds it coming back to him directly or indirectly pay for something that he needs.

Germany's prosperity and greatness, achievements from the strength and tenacity of her people, in the fact that she produces nearly everything that she needs and buys little from abroad while she sells much. What is true of a nation is true of a state or a locality.

The Lindstrom Press thinks that there should be enacted a strict law in this state forbidding every youngster under 21 to carry a gun. To our mind the Press is by far too modest. Every old fool up to the age of 100 who hasn't brains enough to keep from pointing a gun at a human being ought to be included. Boys are blamed too much. The thing is to teach people of all ages not to point a gun—particularly an unloaded one—at any one, and our observation has been that the older ones are as much in need of the training as are children.

After reading the facts in a piece of reckless driving in its home town, the Preston Times publishes the following bon mot that is too good to pass: "The Times has been unable to ascertain the name of the driver of the number of the car, but if by chance he reads these lines, we hope he may learn to see himself as others see him—as a contemptible snob, unfit to be allowed the use of the highways, an outlaw and a menace to his fellow men. Some day he and his kind will get what is coming to them and there will be no mourners."

The latest news in the Republican gubernatorial game is the announcement that Hon. James Manahan will be in. A friend of his says that Mr. Manahan has 70,000 friends over the state who will vote for him for any office that he seeks, and he admits the statement is true. That rather seems to be a presumptuous sort of statement. We can't think of a man on earth that we would do that for, and there are all kinds of men that we admire greatly.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Miss Hannah Christianson, superintendent of the Elm Baptist church Sunday school, east of Rock Creek, visited our school last Sunday and in the afternoon Supt. and Mrs. Harte, accompanied by Miss Bush, Carlson and Meister paid a return visit, making the trip in the Harte auto.

The "get-acquainted" gathering, given by the Ladies Aid in the city hall, last Friday evening, is worthy of more prominence than it would get here and is handled elsewhere in this issue.

Choir practice has been changed from Thursday to Wednesday evening. The choir is doing excellently work these days and is greatly appreciated by all who hear it.

The Ladies Aid is being entertained this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Butzge.

D. E. Church Notes

A "pie" social is to be given in the Hustletown church tomorrow (Friday) evening and, if the weather be pleasant, it is likely that there will be a number from here drive out. Pine City people know from experience what good pie makers those Hustletown folks are, and they want to sample their wares again.

The Bible study class met, Monday evening, at the home of Judge Atkinson, there being 22 present. Next Monday evening it will meet at the home of J. D. Boyle.

A reception was given by the people of Clouet at the Methodist church at that place last evening for Rev. and Mrs. Parish.

The Ladies Aid was entertained at the home of Mrs. Greig yesterday afternoon.

German Lutheran Church Notes

German services will be held in the church at 10 a. m. next Sunday with a Reformation sermon by Pastor Leubker.

The remains of little Gertrude May Kadous' 14 year old child of Mr. and Mrs. Claus Kadous, who live 3 miles southwest of town, were buried in the cemetery here Monday, services being held in the church at 2:30 p. m. at which a number of relatives and friends of the family were present. The little girl had been ailing since birth.

The Law of Habeas Corpus.

The enactment of the law of habeas corpus marks an important epoch in the progress of civil liberty in England and is regarded as one of the great achievements of Charles II's reign. Charles himself did not want the law, but just at the time he was very anxious to curry favor with the people and was afraid to oppose so popular a measure. The friends and foes of the act were pretty evenly divided in parliament but in the final vote it was carried. The manner of its passage, however, was both curious and legal. While the voting was going on a very fat lad arose and said that he would be recorded in the affirmative in a spirit of fun the clerk announced votes for him to accord with his great size. They were so recorded, and for some unexplained reason the vote was never corrected. The strangest part of it is the majority for the measure was less than ten; hence it would have failed of passage without the fat lord's extra votes—Argonaut.

When Texas Branded Thieves.

Adam was the first man, the very first, to be indicted by a grand jury in Houston. His name to be more specific, was James Adam. The charge was that he stole, the indelible tar. He was convicted. This was the sentence. To return to the right owner the sum of $205, to be given thirty-nine lashes on the bare back in a public place and to be branded with the letter T on the back of the right hand. This all happened in Houston in the spring of 1837. The first book of the records of the legal doings of Harris county is a yellowed and old thing. The first matter written in it is a statement signed by Sam Houston giving authority for the court. It announces that he has appointed Benjamin Franklin judge of the court. The place is given as "Bilby—county of Harrisburg, republic of Texas."—Houston Chronicle.

"Homemade"

When the baker of confectioner addresses that his bread or his cake is "homemade" he hopes to attract customers, but many things "homemade" come not quite up to the market standard. There is the article so labeled over, so taken apart and put together again, so pulled and pressed, yet rarely with quite the air that "store clothes" have and the hat or bonnet, cut it which you will, it, too, falls short of public prominence styles. There likewise is the "hair cut" for Billy—does suggest the guidance of a hollowed out pumpkin, but how about Billy himself and according to the "homemade" or "schoolmade" Do they bear marks of the mother touch and the father's guidance? We hope so. Nothing so good as a homemade boy or girl—stronger in character, richer in nature, than any product of any institution—Christian Chronicle.

Dominion of Canada.

Canadians are accustomed to take expression of the "Dominion" of Canada for granted, but the origin of that somewhat unusual term is known to very few. When the great scheme of Sir John Macdonald was finally realized and the nine provinces joined themselves together into one great confederation a serious difficulty was presented by the choice of a suitable name. For a time the title of "Dominion" was considered, but it was found to be a little too pompous. At length one old member of parliament rose from his seat and told his colleagues that he had read in the Bible that very morning the words "His dominion shall be from the one sea to the other," accordingly he suggested that Canada should be known as the Dominion, or God's Land. The suggestion seized upon the hearts and imaginations of those present, and it was promptly acted upon.—Toronto Globe.
