New Rural Routes Going

Change From Old Plan to New Arrangement Took Place Tuesday

The new arrangement of the rural routes went into effect on Tuesday morning. Gene Wilcox's route being discontinued and Gene going into the discard so far as the mail service here is concerned, at present at least. Gene has been delivering mail on route 5 for about eight years and was as devotedly popular among those he served as among all others who know him. The real joke is that he was the only Democrat on the local force of rural carriers, and it took a Democratic administration to let him out. But Gene is going to have a nation and a government of his own—on the farm.

Under the rearrangement routes 2 and 3 remain practically as before while route 4 will run north-west of town, on the east side of Pokegama lake and then jump back and cover a bunch of territory south, on the Rock Creek road, and east. Route 1 will have all the territory formerly covered by route 5 and about one third of its own territory. With the exception of Mr. Barnum all the old carriers remain and their routes will average about 30 miles with from 130 to 170 patrons each. They will continue leaving at 8:30 a. m. and will be back in time to send their mail out on the limit.

There is no considerable fault finding with present arrangements and Postmaster Collins has already forwarded to the department a petition with 31 signers for a route from Pine City clear around Pokegama lake and coming in from the southwest. Another petition with 15 signers asks an extension of route 5 a mile and a half east into the Spring Valley region—and there are others.

But it is not likely that any of these will be granted if they contemplate any retracing for our understanding is that the primary purpose of the postoffice department when it started this crusade, which is nation wide, was to cut out all retracing of routes and make the cost of operating each route as small as possible so that more routes may be made possible.

Postmaster Collins has cordially every influence to avert the present change for he felt that, while the routes as they existed were possibly open to criticism by the department, new roads, to be open in the spring, would allow changes that would in every way comply with their wishes and give added accommodations to the public. As it is, however, we fear that many people who do their trading here and who come here to transact their business will have to be reached by a circuitous route through another town, thus causing delay and possible loss.

One Way to Keep Taxes Down

Last week The Poker asked for suggestions for tax reductions and Agents Peterson of the N. P. took up with the first idea. Of course this isn't exactly a tax that is collected at the court house, but it is one we pay every time we buy a railway ticket—and most of us do just often than we pay taxes at the court house.

It suggests that the best way to reduce freight rates and keep passenger rates down where they are is to help the railroads make a profit for their stockholders at today's prices. How? By cutting out unnecessary expense and loss.

There are about 6000 persons killed each year by the railways of the country in various ways. Figured according to the Minnesota statute, at $5,000 a ct, it would mean that these deaths cost the railways of the country $25,000,000—a real tidy sum.

Most all of those killed are trespassers on railway property—the Northern Pacific killed 120 trespassers last year on all its lines—at $5,000 each, $600,000 worth—while it only killed one passenger and he through the act of another passenger. Don't trespass. Keep off the railroad bridge.

Christmas Sale and Dinner

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will give a sale of fancy and useful articles, suitable for Christmas presents, Thursday, Dec. 16. At the same time they will serve a 25 cent dinner. It will be an event to watch for. Place will be announced later.

Firemen's Dance Next Wednesday

The Firemen will give another of those enjoyable dances in the Armory next Wednesday evening—Thanksgiving eve. The Pine City Crescent orchestra will furnish the music—and that's a guarantee that it will be good. It ought to be one of the biggest and best dances of the year.

Pine City Teachers Entertained

Friday evening of last week Mrs. Fred W. Hales entertained the school maams, Miss Wilcox, Miss Stephen, Miss Fisher and Prof. Madden. Supper, games and music were enjoyed by all. Mrs. Hales and little Miss Bonnie accompanied the Misses Stephen and Wilcox to Pine City, Saturday, on the noon train and Mr. Hales and Prof. Madden drove down in the car in the evening, where they attended the ball given in the evening. They report the Pine City folks as fine entertainers, and a good time was had. The party returned Sunday evening although the roads were very slippery and rained all the afternoon, but they got through without mishap, dry and happy.—Sturgeon Lake Hustler, Nov. 12.

T. E. Buselmeier Saloon Closes

T. E. Buselmeier's saloon closed its doors last Saturday evening and is no more. This leaves seven licenses in the village which will expire on the night of Dec. 24—Christmas eve. There is some wonderment as to why the date is not Dec. 22, or just six months after the date of the county option election. It is because the law does not specify the date six months following the election, but, rather, following the filing of the certificate of the canvassing board.

The Buselmeier building is to be occupied at once by the Family theatre, and it is understood that most, if not all, of the other places are already under lease for other business when the licenses expire. Mr. Buselmeier served a chicken dinner in the hall above his place, Saturday evening to part of what was properly. The building was properly-casued with preservatives and the large number who were in and out during the evening pronounced it "bully."

The Poker prints the news.

Hinckley Lad With Desire for Travel Breaks Loose Again

Young Harold Linn concluded to see some of the country last Friday and, taking Pete Klynstra's horse and buggy which was standing tied near the M. Municipal Xmas Tree at Sandstone

The different churches at Sandstone have united their efforts and a big municipal Christmas tree celebration will be held there on Christmas eve. Probably the exercises will be held in the open so as to accommodate the entire population of the town and country. Sandstone is the first village in this region to hold a municipal Christmas tree celebration. One of the ladies clubs started the movement by giving a big entertainment there last week to raise money for the purpose.

Frank Smith Leaves Grasston

We regret to announce the departure of the Frank Smith family from Grasston who on Sunday departed for Princeton where they will reside in the future. During their two years or more of residence here they have made many friends who would like to see them make Grasston their home forever. Because of a good opening in the horse business Mr. Smith felt that the change was a wise one, and since they have gone we can only wish them success and happiness in abundance in their new home.—Grasston Advance.

Want County Public Health Assn

One of the ladies clubs at Sandstone—the Home Economics club, has undertaken to push the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals in Pine county with the eventual purpose in view of organizing a County Public Health Assn. The plans of the old Anti-Tuberculosis Assn, now called the Public Health Assn, were to place the stamps on sale in postoffice, and take all the income for the state association, but the new plan is to extend aid in other cases than tuberculosis, including many if not all the contagious diseases, and half of the income from the sales may be demanded.

Tax Poorly Paid

Second Half of Real Estate Tax Fell About $6,000 Below Last Year's Figures

County Treasurer Pofert states that collections for the second half of the real estate tax are this year slightly under those of a year ago—$64,758.27 as compared with $70,611.87 last year. The collections this year are probably $20,000 short of what they would have been had everyone paid their second half—and that means a lot of delinquents. The first half was paid up much better than the last half has been. It is not on account of lack of money, either, for very few have been in to pay since Oct. 31.

County Auditor Hamlin has sent out notices of a call for bids on the Elwell state road from Sandstone north and on the county ditch in Norman town. Specifications can be seen in his office.

Bids on the road work must be in by Dec. 10 and on the ditch by Dec. 23.

More Towns Have Electric Lights

Bert Bailey, who has the contract of furnishing electric power at Finlayson, was in town Tuesday. He announces that the poles have nearly all been set in place between Moose Lake and Finlayson and that everything will be in readiness for turning on the lights about the first of next month. Some delay has been caused by a strike in the factory where the transformers are being made, but they are now expected to arrive soon. The poles are placed along the new road directly south of Rutledge to a point about four miles north of here and straight east of Finlayson. It is expected that a branch line will soon be run into Askov. This Finlayson, Askov, Rutledge, Willow River and Sturgeon Lake will soon be equipped with the modern convenience of electric lights and power. Few counties in the state will then be any better equipped for electric service, on nearly every town in the county will be provided with continuous service at very reasonable rates.—Sandstone Courier, Nov. 11.

Forester Finds Plenty of Timber

"A good growth of young pine, spruce and spruce is coming up in the hills of the Pine County ever lands on the edge of the Hinckley fire in 1894 in Pine county," said W. T. Cox, state forester, last week on his return to St. Paul from a trip over part of the territory had waste by the fire.

Mr. Cox has begun a study of the fire-swept country, with a view to determining how much timber has grown up since the fire, that can be of use to settlers.

He says the spruce growing there will soon furnish a large supply of wood for boxes and pulpwood.

APPEAL FOR PEACE IN PARLIAMENTS RUSHED BY BRITISH

YORK LIBERAL IN BRITISH HOUSE URGES NEGOTIATIONS IN STEAD OF BLOODSHED TO END STRUGGLE.

SAYS WAR OF ATTRITION MEANS RUIN TO ENGLAND

Declares Germany to Preserve Her Existence Can Continue Conflict Six Years—Speaker Condemned as Useless and Mischievous
By Andrew Bonar Law

London, Nov. 16.—Charles P. Trevelyan, Liberal member for York, in a speech in the House of Commons, urged the formulation of terms of peace for the purpose of trying to obtain by negotiation the restoration of Belgium and the settlement of European boundaries on lines of nationality.

"Germany," said Mr. Trevelyan, "to preserve her existence can continue the war six years. Meanwhile, what is going to happen to us and the rest of the world? A war of attrition means for us, as well as for Germany, utter and irrevocable ruin."

Condemns Speaker's Speech
Andrew Bonar Law, minister for the colonies, condemned Mr. Trevelyan's speech as useless and mischievous.

"There is not another member of the house," said Mr. Law, "who believes for a moment that Germany will free Belgium or restore Alsace to France until she is thoroughly beaten, and the British government is as determined now as she was on the first day of the war for us, that it should continue until the objects sought by it are attained."

"Mischievous Pacifist Views."
P. O'Connor, one of the Irish Nationalist leaders, said that the view should not be permitted to go abroad that Mr. Trevelyan represented any considerable section either of parliament or the country.

Until Germany was defeated, he added, it was certain that the view would consent to terms of peace satisfactory to the Allies.

John Hodge, Laborite member, said that during the last six months he had visited France for the purpose of contrasting the evil effect of such "mischievous pacifist" views as Mr. Trevelyan has expressed.

MARRIED MAN LIABLE TO PROMISE TO WED
Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 16.—Judge Paul J. Miss Fife sued Coates for breach of promise to marry, and Coates failed to respond until the judge delayed judgment until he had examined himself that a married man could be held liable for a promise to wed another woman.

PRESIDENT WILSON

SMOKING OF ANCONA MAY REVEAL ENTIRE SUBMARINE ISSUE

COUNTRY'S FOREIGN RELATIONS RAPIDLY DRIFTING INTO SITUATION WHICH MEANS SERIOUS COMPLICATIONS.

LOSS OF AMERICAN LIVES CAUSE OF GRAVE CONCERN

Outbreaks of So-called Munitions Conspiracy and Recall of Dr. Dumba Show Attitude of Austria Toward Munitions War.

President Wilson, who has instructed Postmaster General A. S. Bariton to reinstate George Burkitt, named as assistant postmaster at Winneka, because he criticized the president for his engagement to be married. The president qualified his instructions by telling the postmaster general that Burkitt should be restored to his position if there were no other charges against him.

Washington, Nov. 16.—American foreign relations are rapidly drifting into a situation which threatens even more direct complications than those which followed the sinking of the Lusitania.

Washington is preserving a calm outward demeanor, but it is evident that the administration is grappling with a big problem, a problem which is the more complicated because it has been supposed that part of it was settled.

The submarine attack on the Ancona, with its death toll of American mariners, is so serious in itself, but is regarded as the more serious because of the fact that it is suspected, although the stigma was only whispered, that this is a back door method of meeting the American objection to the German submarine campaign.

May Reopen Entire Controversy
Whether the submarine which sank the Ancona was really German or Austrian, the situation remains sufficient grave, although it is recognized its gravity may be lessened by further reports which Ambassador Page is expected to send from Rome.

What is feared is that the sinking of the Ancona may reopen the entire submarine controversy. Even if Germany continues to abstain from submarine outrages there is nothing to prevent Austria from approaching the breaking point in its own submarine government. As it took all summer to settle the German controversy, it is believed that Austria's controversy might permit Austrian submarines considerable activity in what is regarded as the closing period of the war.

Alarm Over Munitions Plots
Added to all this, is the genuine alarm which is felt over the sporadic outbreaks which are known as the munitions conspiracy.

The recall of Doctor Dumba, the Austrian ambassador, and the Austrian government towards the manufacture of munitions in countries to which they have no access.

The prevalence of fires in munitions plants, the conspiracy to ship carrying munitions, the charges of alleged strikes related by Samuel Clemens, and more recently the alleged conspiracy to blow up the tunnel in New York with the clear intimation that they are working for men "higher up" is a problem of the utmost seriousness.

The administration is said to have turned down every agency it possesses for the purpose of running down these alleged plots, either to prove or disprove them and the purpose is to uncover the "men higher up."

But to know them is dangerous, but if once the knowledge is acquired their possession may be equally embarrassing to the government which would probably find it necessary to act and that action might precipitate trouble.

U. S. WILL NOT ASK IMMUNITY
Vessels Entitled to Fly American Flag While Under Government Seizure, Say Officials

Washington, Nov. 16.—No belligerent power will be asked by the United States to grant as a favor assistance in immunity from seizure for ships flying the American flag.

This was made plain by state department officials in response to inquiries as to the department's attitude toward the request of the Transatlantic Steamship line that special representations be made to Great Britain in behalf of the steamer Vigor, now held up at Buenos Aires for fear that British cruisers might seize her on the ground of German ownership.

WINSTON CHURCHILL GERMANY CLAIMS CAPTURE OF 8,500 SERBIN TROOPS

ASSETS 7,000 OF PRISONERS TAKEN BY BULGARIANS—REPORTS DEFENDERS CONTINUE TO RETREAT.

DECLARES DARDANELLES WORTH COST OF VICTORY

Winston Churchill, former member of the British cabinet, who in the hours of common declaration that if any operations in the history of the world were worth carrying through with sustained fury and utter disregard of life, the operations at the Dardanelles were worth it.

London, Nov. 16.—Capture of 8,500 Serbians is reported by German headquarters. Of these, 7,000 were taken by the Bulgarians. Berlin says the Serbians continue to fly ground.

London, Nov. 16.—Winston Churchill, former member of the British cabinet, declared that if any operations in the history of the world were worth carrying through with sustained fury and utter disregard of life, the operations at the Dardanelles were worth it.

Churchill frankly admitted responsibility for the Allied Dardanelles campaign, but denied that the object of most of the Antwerp expedition earlier in the war was the product of his brain. He held the Antwerp affair of the door of Lord Kitchener and the French authorities.

Makes Explanatory Address
Churchill made to commons the explanatory address that was promised when he resigned his seat in the military last week and offered to join his regiment in France. Before crowded galleries he answered men who had criticized his over-estimated military and naval affairs while he was first lord of the admiralty. At the same time he only moderate success to stop the sale of liquor there. Streeter and his wife followed out of custody when they were arrested.

He told the captain that if any more were sold from the disputed land he would withdraw from his bonds and after a few minutes deliberation Streeter made the announcement, "The district is dry."

AMERICAN ARMY OF 1,500,000

GARRISON WOULD INCREASE THE REGULAR FORCE TO 250,000.

RESERVES OF 300,000 WOULD FILL GAPS AND BEHIND THIS LINE A MIL- ITARY CITIZENS.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Immediate publication of the report of the army needs, differing materially from the administration's continental army scheme, will be urged upon President Wilson by Secretary Garrison, the secretary, who has described the plan to be recommended to congress as a "national defense plan."

The general staff, it is understood, recommends increasing the regular army to 250,000 men with reserves of 300,000 fully trained men to fill gaps behind this line. It is proposed to have a year's training for men with at least an army of 1,500,000, fully equipped and mobilized.

The first year's expenditures under the staff plan, it is said, would approach $400,000 and the continuing expense would be proportionately heavy.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Wheat production in 20 countries which ordinarily produce 90 per cent of the world's crop, is placed at 3,738,000,000 bushels by the department of agriculture from preliminary official estimates. That is an increase of 550,000,000 bushels over 1914 crops in those countries and 232,000,000 bushels more than in 1913, the previous high record. The statistics include the American 1,002,025,000 bushels crop.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—What is probably the greatest movement of grain the world has ever witnessed is now in progress.

In Philadelphia, not only are all the elevators filled to their utmost capacity, but there are more than 1,000 cars of grain in railroad tracks awaiting their turn to discharge as soon as the fleet of steamers arriving in ballast from Europe relieve the elevators of their 2,000,000 bushels now stored in them.

The Trey Hearts

A Novelized Version of the Motion Picture Drama of the Same Name Produced by the Universal Film Co.

By LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE

Author of "The Forest King," "The Road to Nowhere," "The Black Box," etc.

Illustrated with Photographs from the Picture Production

SYNOPSIS.

The story of the "death-train" of the "Trey Hearts" in the private war of vengeance which, through the violent passions of a woman named Alan Law, led to the death of a man, (now the author) who had been the cause of her ruin. The story is told in a simple and direct manner, with a plot that is both interesting and surprising. The author's style is clear and concise, and the story is told in a way that is both entertaining and instructive.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Light Engine.
Toward the close of that summer's day it was the whim of that arch-magician of mechanicals, whom men call Pat to stage an anticlimax in the face of a vast and highly expensive of isolated middle-western country—rude and rugged disk of earth which boasted no human tenancy within a circle of its factitious horizon and was bleeted, not least, by the fact that, by the flowing double line of steel ribbons which marked the railroad's right of way over the old Santa Fe trail.

So much for the stage; the light effects were provided exclusively by the crimson and purple flames of a portable sunset; the properties employed were simply a special train and what is known as a light engine (meaning a locomotive unhandicapped by cars); audience there was none, if one except the actors—two men and a woman, all far too deeply preoccupied with the interpretation of their several roles to be aware of the show.

They were not many in number; perhaps half a dozen aboard the special train—which was making away as fast as it could run toward the glory of the sunset, as many more aboard the light engine—which had suddenly slowed down from a headlong pace and squatted on its haunches with an air of conscious rectitude, as one who has won a hard race. It was panting violently, partly to keep its ears cool, partly to drown out the clamor of human squabbling within its cab. In this sort it was successful only in so far as it was too deeply preoccupied with the interpretation of their several roles to be aware of the show.

It was the engineer who started the trouble. After bringing his monster to a full pause, he turned upon his passengers and in a without plausible excuse violently indicted Mr. Alan Law for abuse of his and his wife's train. The man (climbing forward over the tender) vigorously applauded.

They had been engaged, both gentlemen asserted vigorously, for nothing more dangerous than a quick run across the ballast, in furtherance of the unsuspected plans of Mr. Alan Law and his companion, Miss Judith Trine. After starting out, they had wickedly and maliciously been misled by the said Law to put on speed and catch up with the special, in order that he might present from the latter young woman his bride-to-be and the sister of Miss Trine.

But—and here was the grievance—they hadn't bargained to be shot at with pistols. And precisely that outrage had been put upon them during and subsequent to the moment of rescue.

It was unhappy Mr. Marcus who precipitated the affair. This gentleman was suffering from a severe sprain to the left arm, and in the early part of the afternoon he had been troubled, Mr. Law, Marcus had blacked his face and hands to the hue of

TESTIMONIAL

Paralysis—A Simple Statement of Facts to All Whom It May Interest.

At the age of sixteen I became sick. For four years doctors could not locate my trouble nor give any relief. At the end of seven years I was a perfect invalid, being nearly paralyzed all over. I could walk only half a block with my cane. My eyes were very bad; I was badly constipated and my kidneys bothered me a great deal. My hands and feet were numb. I needed help to dress and sometimes I could not wear my shoes for a week because my feet swelled so. The least excitement made me tremble all over, I was so nervous. Some friend told my mother about Dr. Ostberg, a Chiropractor of our town. She had a talk with him, and the 19th of February, 1914, I was in his office ready for the first spinal adjustment. The first two weeks my mother had to accompany me to the office, but after that I was able to go to the office alone. After one month's adjustments I was able to walk the eleven blocks one way to the office, and after six weeks I was able to walk both ways for the first time, always using my cane, and in a short time thereafter my kidneys were as well as ever. After two months of every day adjustments I have continued taking adjustments twice a week for ten months, making it a year in all to date. Though I am not yet entirely restored, I feel strong enough to undertake some suitable work, and able to be self-supporting. I feel happy to be alive, as the world looks brighter to me, whereas before death had been a life of helpless invalidism and dependency and suffering.

His simple testimony is voluntary, given out of a grateful heart for the loving labor of Dr. Ostberg, so cheerfully given. Sincerely, (Signed) NELS BECK, Kenosha, Wis., Age 24. JAMES DENNETT, Notary Public, Kenosha, Wis.

Next Thursday is Thanksgiving day and it's time to be getting ready. Look over the ads in this issue. They hold lots of suggestions for you.

The Firemen's dance in the Armory next Thursday—Thanksgiving evening will be one of the best ever and there is no doubt but what there will be a large crowd.

Dr. J. F. Kothman, the well known St. Cloud optometrist, will be at the Hotel Agnes on his regular monthly visit, Saturday, Nov. 20. He comes every month.

Alvin Johnson, of Grantsburg, spent last Saturday with his sister, Miss Julia Anderson of the Sankary Bakery, while taking some horse to Markville in the eastern part of the county.

after a six weeks visit at the home of her parents, the John Yates, west of town.

Judge Long and Attorney Sobotka were at Willow River, Tuesday afternoon, to represent their clients in a trespass case before Justice Brandt. When the jury was about selected the case was settled.

Miss Anna Wickstrom found a pair of "nose pins" glasses with chain attached, at the Monday. A lady's hair pin was attached to the chain and the case bore the name of a Cloquet optician. Loser can have from her.

Senator Clapp was a visitor here the latter part of last week, said that things were looking fine on his Pokegama farm and that Pine County is exceeding his fondest dreams in development. But he was mum as an oyster on politics.

Fred Spearling has a new 6-horse gas engine for his handcar that lets him have a "good bye" to any train on the road, when he really wants to tear loose. And, besides, he can use it for bucking the family wood pile, which helps some, this weather.

Among those who visited the Twin cities the latter part of last week to see "The Birth of a Nation" or the football game, or both, were the Duxburys, R. E. Carlsons, Misses Schande and Williams, Messrs. J. A. Peterson and McAdam and Dr. Skully.

W. A. Schumacher and J. M. Beehel returned from their camp, east of Kerriek, yesterday, the former with a deer and a wolf while the latter brought in one of the finest bucks ever seen here. Chas. Maloy and John Novak came with them, but without game.

Every mother in Pine City and vicinity is invited to attend Mothers' meeting at the Dr. Wiseman home, Tuesday, Nov. 30, at 2:30 p. m. sharp. Mrs. W. J. Logue of St. Paul, member of the National Mother's Council, will address the meeting and there will be good music.

Mrs. Asplund and children were Sandstone visitors, Sunday and Monday. Mr. Asplund, who had been hunting at Cloverton, came across, Sunday, and joined a bunch of Quarry city nitrods near Kerriek returning home Tuesday. Later in the season he expects to return to Cloverton for a few days.

John Daley, who suffered a broken leg over five months ago while working on a silo, northwest of Mora, has been confined at his father's home, southwest of here, ever since and, friends of the family are all sorry to know, is not yet able to step on the injured limb though he probably will be soon.

Since the first of the week there has been a fairly steady stream of automobiles going south with venison aboard. One lucky bunch of hunters from North Branch with a hunter in the party returned home on Monday with a deer apiece after a day's hunt. Once in a while a hunter enjoys "luck"—but those folks beat the record.

Mrs. Holbert of Hinckley, returned to that place last Saturday after a day's visit at the H. W. Harte home here. The same day Mrs. McGregor left for her home at Tower, after a few days with the Hartes. She stopped off on her return from St. Paul where she visited at the home of her son Mr. Daley, who put in the water works at this place.

The Scrubs and the Scrubbers are matched for a finish bout at basket ball in the Armory next Tuesday evening, Nov. 23, for the benefit of the high school team. Don't miss the sight. It will be better than a gold brick. The question is, if Hurley-Ayers, A. Peterson what will happen to Brownie? Who got the idea? $100,000 is the reward if you guess it. See the opening installment at the armory next Tuesday evening.

Serg. Joslin of the Soldiers Home at Minneapolis, accompanied by his brother, S. W. Joslin of West Wrightstown, Wis., was here Tuesday yesterday, at the home of his son, S. W. had the nerve to come right into this Red Clover Ball and proclaim his native home as the best on earth. "Why," he says, "you Minnesotians brag of your ripping Minne-haha with its two little laughs while over in my country, where the Fox river runs, everyone laughs the year round."

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Craig left yesterday for Los Angeles where they expect to remain until next night.
