Our Mistake His Treat

Taxes Are Coming In Better Than Last Year Instead of Not So Well

The statement in last week's Poker that the tax collections for this fall are about $6,000 below that for last year was incorrect—we got the cart before the horse. We should have said this fall's collections were about $6,000 above those for last year. We trust this correction is made in sufficient time to make it unnecessary for the Hinckley Enterprise to accuse us of lying about the matter.

And "Sunny" Green Just Grinned

"Sunny" Green, the negro who shot his wife at Duluth a short time ago and was captured by Marshal Newton at Hinckley, was convicted of assault in the second degree at the Zenith city and drew a five year term at Stillwater. Although the trial had to be stopped at one time on account of his nervous outbreak at the court, the lawyers and the general unfair treatment the white man gives the black, "Sunny" just grinned when the verdict was announced.

Commission to Instruct Assessors

Every county in the state will be visited by members of the state tax commission beginning next February for the purpose of instructing assessors in regard to their duties. Three months will be given over to the task.

In conformity with the law the commission has held meetings each year since its enactment with the assessors in every county and not only has instructed them regarding the work before them, but also has endeavored to solve the many of the taxation problems with which these officials are confronted.

Real estate is re-assessed throughout the state in 1916 and this makes the meetings of assessors next year doubly important. In 1914, when real estate was last assessed, 2,160 of the 2,460 assessors in the state were present at these conferences which are held in the court houses as the county seats of the various counties visited. Following is a schedule of the 1916 meetings:

Feb. 8, Pine county; Feb. 15, Grant county; April 5, Chisago county; March 9, Kanabec county; March 17, Carlton county.

NORWAY.

The return to the legislature of a majority of the supporters of Premier Gunnar Knudsen and the popular support of the liberal policies, pointed a fulfillment of the cardinal proposals of the liberal program—a certain monopoly of the grain industry. Advocates of this measure are certain it is the only way to avert another emergency similar to the grain shortage at the beginning of the war. To handle the proposed grain monopoly, the appointment of 1,500 special officials is contemplated at an expense of about $1,000,000 a year. It is estimated that capital of at least $2,000 will be produced by the new measure. Conservative party leaders favor a protective tariff which would encourage home agriculture and thus, they believe, assure the necessary increase of the agricultural production and make the country less dependent on imports, was not supported by the voters at the recent election. The conservative plan to strengthen the national defense also was lost with the defeat of the liberal party. The inference from the election is that the majority of the voters believe in having the country run as a normal state, before assuming a phase that makes a strong-arm necessary. Before commencing the foreign policy of the liberal government, a decision was made in the direction of internal affairs. The new legislature is expected to inaugurate social reforms of an important nature. It is considered likely the government may succeed in gradually assuming control not only of the grain industry but of the coal and sugar business.

The people of Skjorn, as well as other people, are apt to lose things in a mysterious way. But now those people are in hopes of recovering the vacation caused by the disappearance of things of more or less pecuniary value. In short, a thought-reducer has been applied to the Skjorn man, who moved to the locality from some other point. At first the natives were in doubt as to his ability as a thief. So one of his neighbors put him to the test. He stole a case from the thought-reducer. He was caught as well as he knew how. But it did not take the owner long to find it, and so his proficiency was established at once. Later on the natives tried to demonstrate his skill in a more practical way. A man honestly took a keg of berries. He was caught to find it. And he did find it, though it was well hidden in a position. And now those people feel that if something is lost they need not go to neighboring settlements for a gear to restore the goods to their owner.

The women in the Danish settlements south of the German line are gradually getting accustomed to do all kinds of work generally performed by men. In almost every household the farmer's wife is running the farm while her husband is in the war. And very often she is married as well as single women who have not had a husband in the war. Summary of the Most Important Happenings in the Land of the Kaiser—Timely Items for the German Readers.

Negotiations for the renewal of the commercial agreement between Austria and Hungary are slowly proceeding between the commissioners of the two states. The present Austro-Hungarian agreement, which expired in 1917, but it was specifically provided in the Austro-Hungarian law that negotiations for renewal were to begin at the latest in the early part of 1918. The Austro-Hungarian agreement provides for the customs and commercial union, which is permanent. Under the Austro-Hungarian agreement, practically one commercial territory, with the same customs, weights and measures, will be maintained as under the same consular representatives abroad, while the monopolies and taxes connected with industrial production are administered on identical principles. This commercial arrangement, which was signed in 1851, in 1857, 1887 and 1907. In 1907 no agreement was reached, but in the fact the agreement was kept alive on the condition of reciprocity.

In commenting on the last American note to England in the German press expresses satisfaction that President Wilson used such energetic language, but also expressed regret that the Austrian note will follow. The Local Austrian regards the note as a warning of the attitude of the German government as regards the gravity of the language and the exhaustiveness of the complaints. "We have in it," says the Austrian, "the very distinguished truth about Great Britain's regard of all international law and her ability to maintain a peaceful war at sea. This picture of the real British character, drawn by a neutral pen, is valuable for all time, whatever practical results the Americans achieve with their protests and complaints."

The Brussels correspondent of Die Welt writes of the intervention of the governor general of Belgium, General von Bissling, in which the latter declares that in general he is against the intervention of Belgium in the war. The Belgian people have received his efforts to "put the country back on its feet" with a great deal of interest. That of feeding the people, has been fairly well met and solved, said von Bissling. He also mentioned the success in his attempts to revive manufacturing and industries. Until the latter part of the war, Belgium was a raw material and the export of manufactured goods are restored at the end of the war. The question must be to some extent abnormal.

Raiser Wilhelm decorated Mrs. Janina W. Gellert with the American ambassador, with Red Cross gold medals of the first and second class. This is the first time that a woman has ever given a decoration of the first class to a woman not of royal blood. The Kaiser also awarded Red Cross medals of the second and third class to Rev. S. Barclay of Cohan, Va., and John D. Jackson of New Jersey. Both have been active in investigating prison camps and suggesting improvements.

The opinions of 21 of the most prominent German authorities on international law with few exceptions university professors, on the legal questions involved in the sinking of the Lusitania have been collected. In any volume, which is published and hailed as the consensus of German opinion on this difficult and important question of neutrality, the authorities agree that the act of the submarine was justified.

City men are better men physically than those from the country, according to the investigation of the health of the city men. The result of his examination of more than 10,000 men, the greater physical fitness of the city men over those from the rural districts was striking among the younger men. Functional and organic diseases existed in about equal degree in the two classes.

More than $5,000,000 of the immense war profits of the Krupp gun works will be distributed for relief of soldier families. The Krupp family will take its usual 12 per cent.

SAVING TO TAXPAYERS
It is stated that the taxpayers of Polk county, Iowa, in which Des Moines is located, will save $10,000 by the closing of saloons.

The remarkable fields that are reported of the wheat crop of Western Canada for 1916 bear out the estimate of an average yield over the vast western prairie of upward of 25 bushels per acre. There is no portion of that great west of 24,000 square miles in which the crop was not good and the yields abundant. An American farmer who was induced to place under cultivation land that he had been holding for five years for speculative purposes and higher prices, says that he made the price of the land out of this year's crop of oats. No doubt, others, too, who look the advice of the Department of the Interior for criteria in unoccupied land, have done as well.

The story of the great crop that Manitoba, Ontario and Alberta produced this year is best told in the language of the railways in the added freight of $21,000,000 since the crop was placed in commission, the extra trains required to be run, the increased tonnage of the freights. It is found that railway earnings continue to improve.

When the Brunswick-Balke-Collender company announced its intention of discontinuing the manufacture of fur fixtures, because of the prohibition had closed so many saloons, the liquor press put up a declaration that prohibition had thrown hundreds of men employed by the company out of work. Investigation, however, has shown that the company had received thousands of orders for fur fixtures, and similar orders for other fur fixtures. It was discharged as a result for the diversion of the work into different channels, but not this. He has asserted that the number of men employed will be increased rather than reduced. The change is generally considered by business men of Des Moines as favorable to the labor market.

WHAT IS THE MATTER?
On one day after another outlaws the drink traffic the astonished liquor men ask, "What's the matter, anyway?" The extraordinary plan of the prohibition has been reported this year. The grain movement in the West within the past few months has been the source of the Canadian roads are better, despite their increased freight rates. It is handling 2,000 cars per day, a new record. NO NEED OF JAIL
The following statement appears in the Los Angeles Times: A probation city in Santa Clara county, California, during the last four months it has cost Los Angeles $75,000 for prison expenses. One person was arrested during this period and 75 cents was paid to take him to the county jail in Santa Clara. This is a mighty good record for a city of 250,000 people. Another matter is that the county has not had a single drunk since the prohibition.

TRANSFORMATION OF BREWERY
In some days when breweries and distilleries are being closed in considerable numbers throughout the country, it is interesting to note the different uses to which the buildings and machinery are being adapted. Some are being used for ice plants, creameries, pottery works, soft-drink factories and many others.

MENACE OF ALCOHOL
Dr. Henry Smith Williams, a very able physician and man of science, closes an article in a recent number of "The Medical Magazine" with this declaration: "I am bound to believe, as a physician, that if you take alcohol habitually in any quantity whatsoever it is to some extent a menace to your life. The remainder will be hereon, of future generations."

What Will You Do For Seed Corn Next Spring?

There never has been a season in the history of corn-growing in the Northw. St. that was so unfavorable as the one just passed. It is very doubtful if any of the 1917 corn crop will cure so as to make seed corn of high germination. This being the case, it is evident that there will be little, if any, seed corn saved from the 1916 crop suitable for planting under Northern conditions.

Fortunately, however, I have procured a limited quantity of sound, dry, 10-14 seed corn of fine quality, well selected stock, carefully tested for germination. I quote as follows—

Minnesota grown Yellow Dent corn, germination test about 92% $4.00 per bushel
Minnesota grown White Dent corn, germination test about 90% $4.00 per bushel

This price is made provided you can give me your order at once, delivery to be made to you in ten days or not time up to a full 1st. 1918. As I can get only a limited amount of this corn, I must have your order at once for the price is likely to advance or stocks in view become sold out.

Some authorities say seed corn will be worth $5.00 to $10.00 per bushel next spring. This is your opportunity to obtain Minnesota grown corn at a seasonable price.

I have a sample bag of this corn at the store. Come in and see it. If you are not coming to town within the next day or two, better send your order by mail or telephone. First come, first served.

Very truly yours,

Friends who say, "I believe in you, your goods and what you say of them."

Optimism, born of sincere conviction that integrity, courtesy and service always count.

They have a force of about ten men at work on the trench and are employing dynamite to help them through the 15 inches of frost in the top of the ground. They expect to have the work completed by about the middle of next week and are laying the 8-inch pipe as they go so that when the last excavating is done the job will be complete.

School closed yesterday for the balance of the week. Miss Goodwin will spend the time with friends at Duluth. Misses King and Herrick will go to the latter's home at North St. Paul. Miss Lois Tate, who departed for Chicago ten days ago, after a two months' visit at her parents' home, west of town, was married at Chicago at 9 p. m., Tuesday, Nov. 16, to Mr. John McEnaney of that city and during her home will remain there, where Mr. McEnaney is employed in the claim department of the Northwestern railway. They met during Miss Tate's employment at St. Paul where he was in the claim department of the Omaha. The numerous friends of Mrs. McEnaney and her family in this region join in wishing the newlyweds all the joy of a long and happy life.

Gene Barnum was called to Duluth, Tuesday, by the serious condition of his uncle, J. B. Kelsey, who had been confined in a hospital there for about six weeks, suffering from typhoid, and who passed away before Mr. Barnum reached that city. Mr. Kelsey was born at Ypsilanti, Mich., 55 years ago and was the youngest brother of Mrs. E. E. Barnum formerly of this place. He spent the summer of 1901 here when he was employed as carpenter work. Then and during his subsequent visits—the last one last winter when he visited for a few months at the home of his nephew here—Mr. Kelsey made many warm friends who join with his relatives in mourning his loss. The body was brought down yesterday by Undertaker Piper and Mr. Barnum and will be laid to rest in the Barnum lot in the cemetery this afternoon, with services in the Methodist church.
