Big Contest Is Closed

Maxwell Auto Goes to Miss Paulsen of Birch Creek Town

Well, it is all over—the big Subscription Campaign that the Poker has been conducting for the past two months, and by making the remarkable record of accumulating 2,854,600 votes Marie Paulsen won the first grand prize—a Maxwell Touring Car, the finest prize ever awarded in a contest in this section of the country. The second prize, a beautiful phonograph, was won by Myrtle Olson the third prize a Royal sewing machine goes to Neva Morrow, the fourth prize a South Bend watch to Neva Wilcox and the last prize an Amko Kodak to A. F. Leubker. The Campaign closed at exactly 3:00 p. m. Tuesday afternoon when the candidates acting as the judges counted the votes found in the ballot box, and signed the statement included in this article. Two months ago, The Poker announced this Campaign, the largest that has ever been staged in this part of the country. We have endeavored to make it fair in every particular and believe that our efforts have not been in vain. The Campaign has been conducted and handled completely throughout by the Northwestern Circulation Company of Minneapolis and represented here by Mr. L. A. Graves. The Campaign Manager did all in his power to make the Campaign a square game with no more help and information for one candidate than another.

Every Candidate in the Campaign served hard and faithfully and so far as we know there is little feeling on the part of the candidates. Their dealings with each other, with the Campaign Manager and with the Poker were all that we could wish them to be. The Campaign has been more than a successful friendly competition, and the Pine Poker, as well as the Campaign Manager wish to extend their thanks to every candidate and their friends who helped to bring in the new subscribers, and for the splendid results that they have accomplished.

It is hard to tell at the present time the exact number of new readers that have been added to the already large list of the Poker, but it will be up in the hundreds. Some of the New subscribers will undoubtedly miss the papers for a few issues and we will thank any of the subscribers to telephone or write us if there should be a mistake in their subscription, or should they fail to receive their paper. We are sorry that every candidate on the list could not have won the Maxwell Touring Car, but those who were not successful this time may have another opportunity at some future date.

PRICES FALL: GAMBLERS HIT

Food Dealers Planned to Reap Fortune in Fairness.

New York, Sept. 6.—Food dealers who gambled on the expected decline of New York flour outside supplies as a result of the threatened railroad strike and held large shipments to sell at higher prices, found themselves overvalued by their own stock, which suddenly collapsed with the opening of the strike, and the food speculators were caught with vast quantities of supplies on their hands. One speculator is reported to have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

MUST REMAIN IN SERVICE

Discharge of Conscientious Reserved by War Dept.

WAR DEPT., Sept. 6.—The war department has refused the application for discharge of a conscientious objector, who had been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for refusing to accept military training.

WITHHOLD LOSS IN NEW RAID

One Report Credits Two Killed and Thirteen Hurt.

London, Sept. 6.—Thirteen Zeppelin airships took part in the raid over the eastern coast and an official statement says it was the most formidable attack by air ever made on England.

Only three of the Zeppelins were able to approach the outskirts of London. One of those was shot down and the other two were driven off by anti-aircraft guns and aeroplanes.

Reports recalculate the number of casualties and the damage caused by the great number of bombs dropped have not been completed, but it was stated the losses were not heavy.

FIFTY LIVES LOST IN STORM

Harrison Devaldette British West Indian Island.

St. Thomas, D. W. I., Sept. 6.—Fifty lives were lost in a hurricane which struck the British West Indian island of Dominica. The wind reached a velocity of more than seventy miles an hour. In the latest report, twenty-one bodies and several more were reported through bodies and villages swept away houses and crops.

NEWMAN ERB HAS RESIGNED

E. L. Brown, Business Agent of Minneapolis and St. Louis.

St. Paul, Sept. 6.—E. L. Brown, business agent of the Minnesota and St. Louis railroad at a meeting of the directors of the St. Paul and Northern Pacific, resigned his position as agent of the system and was succeeded by Newman Erb.

Mr. Erb is a resident of St. Paul and has been in the service of the railroad since 1905. He was formerly in the service of the St. Paul, Minneapolis and Northern Pacific Railroad.

FRENCH ACTIVE ALONG SOMME

Dislodge Germans From Important Positions.

RUSS FLING BACK AUSTRIANS

Soldiers of the Czar Continue to Make Gains in Galicia and Elsewhere.

London, Sept. 6.—Almost without pause after their success of Sunday against the German lines, the French resumed their onslaught north and south of the Somme river and with the British allies to the north, drove their lines still further forward along a front of twenty-five miles. Important German positions fell before the advance.

South of the Somme the village of Soyecourt and part of the village of Vermandovillers were taken, while, seemingly more important still, the French made fresh progress east of the village of Forest, which lies one and one-half miles southeast of the railroad town of Combles.

This gain, taken with the capture of Gouilleville by the British Sunday, seemingly outflanks Combles and apparently renders it untenable.

More than 6,000 Germans have been made prisoners north and south of the Somme in the last two days.

On the British right wing, progress is reported north of Palfontment, while a German counter-attack west of Palfontment was repulsed in the Verdun sector. Paris records a fresh gain near Fleury.

In Galicia, admitting the claims of British and French successes in the fighting of Sunday in the Somme region, says the battle over the eight-mile front from Beaumont to the Somme was one of the greatest ferocity.

Rust Drive at Hungary.

Again there is heavy fighting on the front in Russia west and southwest of Lork and north of Zibow and near Kremnitz in Galicia, with the Russians generally the aggressors.

Petrograd controverts the assertion of Berlin that the Russians obtained only local successes near Przemyz by the declaration that the Russians won a victory over the Austrians here and took 2,411 prisoners.

In the Carpathian region, according to Petrograd, the Russians have captured an entire series of fortresses and are advancing to the Hungarian frontier.

All along the Transylvanian front the Roumanians continue to press their advantage against the Austro-Hungarians. Here they have captured additional towns and are said to be now building the town of Hermannstadt, which is second in importance only to Sibiu.

The German and Bulgarian forces are attacking along the entire front between Dubrovnik and Brijuni. Near Komor, Berlin reports, the Roumanians were driven back with the loss of 100 men taken prisoners.

In Albania the Italians east of Ayton have taken the villages of Kufali and Bizir and Monte Gradist.

Considerable delay in progress in the Austro-Russian theater, but without any important changes in terrain.

SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT HAPPENINGS IN FAR OFF NORTHLAND.

Resume of the Most Important Events in Sweden, Norway and Denmark—Of Interest to the Scandinavians in America.

NORWAY.

The Norwegian government is contemplating the inauguration of a "back to Norway" movement in America. The great migration of Norwegians to the United States, which during the last 50 years has drained the country of young laborers and girls from the farms, has been moving to become more and more self-sustaining and more independent of foreign imports.

The Norwegian government is contemplating the inauguration of a "back to Norway" movement in America. The great migration of Norwegians to the United States, which during the last 50 years has drained the country of young laborers and girls from the farms, has been moving to become more and more self-sustaining and more independent of foreign imports.

A syndicate which was organized last winter with a capital of $3,000,000, is advertising for carpenters, bricklayers and mechanics. They are to be sent to Norway for work on the construction of a new power plant with a capacity of 30,000 horse power at Høyanger, Sogn. Only Norwegians are wanted. When they are sent they will produce about 6,000 tons of aluminum a year.

Rooms are so scarce at Notodden that many people who are working there have to live at the neighboring Hitterdal. It is said that within a short time the city will be full of men and tax payers who had to leave because there were no rooms for rent. The local government has finally appointed a committee of three to take steps to have new buildings put up.

Some Norwegian fishermen are making fabulous wages nowadays. Every now and then a man will make from five to ten dollars a day. But at the most of the 400 men who are now fishing in the fish were about $20, and the luckiest of them would make as much as $100 or even $200 a day. Women who pack the fish expect to make from $15 to $20 a week.

There is a rich crop of wild berries in Norway this year. The blueberries are most plentiful. The allies are paying a big price for berries, and the housewives of Norway would like to see an embargo on the exportation of berries in order that the people of Norway may have a chance to buy this excellent food at a reasonable price.

The Red Cross asked the board of health of the parish of Faaberg for permission to bring German and Russian captives of war to suffer from tuberculosis into the parish. It was stated that they are cared for. The members of the board expressed themselves strongly against their removal from a sanitary point of view.

The strutting cost $300 for keeping a teacher in Spitzbergen. But the cost of living in that part of the world is so high that no man dared to accept the position.

"Tangin" (from "tang," the Norwegian word for lily) is the name of a company which a Norwegian firm has commenced to produce from kelp, a seaweed which was formerly burned in order that the ashes might be used as a producer of valuable dyestuff. It is claimed that tangin is a very effective remedy for gout, rheumatism and lachis.

SWEDEN.

Nels Krogn Watson, the chief cook at the Thomson hotel in Butte, Montana, received an interesting letter from his father's estate, which the Swedish authorities had wanted him for the army. Watson went through the same tests, saw a number of the bodies of German and British soldiers who were killed up 100 miles from the scene of the Jutland naval battle, and returned to Butte to resume his position. On the way to Sweden, Watson's ship was held up three days at Kivalland, Sweden, while the British officers searched for the German boats and extracted the mail. The search was very systematic and thorough. Mr. Watson's father was a merchant and child on board and was loved, every bit of personal luggage was examined and over the trunk the hold were searched. Mr. Watson landed at Christiania, Norway, and went by rail to his old home in Götting, Sweden, but failed to report to the chief of police as is customary.

Along with other more or less known diseases of the apple is the blight, which winters over in the form of a canker which fastens itself onto the twig or waterhole, preferably in the fall, and spreads to the following seasons, spreading to both fruit and twig growth. Its spread is due to fly water. The spores are spread by rains and heavy dew, as the worst infected fruits will be found directly underneath the cankered twigs or twigs, to wit, in many cases being entirely free from the infection. Rainy seasons are the worst for blight and there is practically no blight-infected fruit in extremely dry seasons.

As appears as speak. The blight on the fruit first appears as a minute brown spot on the skin, enlarging rapidly as the season advances. It often covers one-fourth of the fruit's surface by gathering time. In many cases these brown spots crack.

Great Britain, following the lead of France, has announced that it will correspond with Sweden concerning the British seizures of the Swedish vessels in the Baltic. The Swedish retaliation in the Baltic and Swedish vessels in transit to Russia. The correspondence discloses that the situation is not as serious as it is adjusted. Some letters and notes written with language so sharp as to indicate a serious and possibly a rupture at one time approached the breaking point. As a result of the negotiation Sweden recently released 9000 prisoners to Russia under the terms of the government to submit the matter to arbitration after the war. "It is a fortunate thing," says the London Times, "that the statement of its case in the dispute with Sweden should have been in a form which is so intelligible and that the case for the other side should be so clear."

THE FINEST OF INTERESTING BITS OF NEWS FROM THE GREAT GERMAN EMPIRE.

WHAT'S DOING IN OLD HOME

Summary of the Most Important Happenings in the Land of the Kaiser—Timely Items for the German Readers.

The charge that the French have organized forces whose duty it is to exterminate all the Germans found in captured trenches is made in a statement issued by the Overseas News Agency as follows: "The French some time ago, introduced a new fighting system which is the most cowardly and brutal violation of the laws of war developed up to this time. Colonel reports confirm that fact, not known to the public, that with complete special detachments have been furnished with express orders to remain behind all German trenches and exterminate all Germans who are found there. These troops are called 'Nettoyeurs' (cleaners or sweepers). Their equipment is not the rifle, cartridge and bayonet of other soldiers, but the revolver, knife and hand grenades. When the French storming column succeeds in crossing a trench, the 'Nettoyeurs' enter and start the work of cleaning the trenches. They throw in hand grenades and provide all the necessary munitions. They are often wounded men. Those who escape from the hand grenades are killed by machine guns or bayonets. They attempt to come out when they are shot, but they are not, whether struck or not, necessarily stabbed or cut, is necessarily stabbed or cut."

WILD PARSNIP IS A DETERMINING COST MOST DEADLY WEED OF ANY ENTERPRISE

Plant Is Quite Dangerous to Live Stock—Children Poisoned by Eating Roots.

GRACE B. CLAWSON, Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colo. Wild parsnip is not the common garden parsnip that has escaped from cultivation and grown wild. The latter has a more yellowish flower and a tap root. What is commonly called "wild parsnip" is the Wyoming water hemlock (Cicuta occidentalis) which greatly resembles the garden parsnip in the color of its flowers. The leaves are finely toothed along the margin, and a cluster of roots.

The American water hemlock is one of the most poisonous plants native to the United States and the poison is found largely in the roots, especially of the mature plants. The leaves are very deadly to live stock, especially cattle. Every year we have reports of children being poisoned by eating the roots of wild parsnip and parents will do well to caution their children against touching any wild plants which have an umbrella-shaped top, that looks like the garden parsnip.

SKIM MILK'S MOST IMPORTANT PRODUCT WEED OUT ALL STAR BOARDERS IN HERD

No Better System Regulator on Market—Protein Necessary in Every Ration.

Skim milk is one of the most important products of the farm if fed in proper quantities. There is no better system regulator on the market excepting wheat or bran. Constipation vanishes when it is fed in sufficient quantity and all bowel complaints are bettered. It has about the same effect on pigs and chickens as oats has on them.

Practically all the protein of the flesh building part of the whole milk is left in the skim milk. This protein is necessary in every ration especially in the feeding of young stock. Considered from the standpoint of fertilizing and feeding, protein is the most important element in the ration. When you purchase milk and other expensive feeds the price paid depends upon the amount of protein they contain. When pigs have been fed on corn for a long time until they have lost their appetite, a few small quantities of this very small quantities, will help very much in remedying this condition.

Train the Cows. Train the cows, don't break them. Be gentle and patient, and you can get a good horse out of almost any horse. Causes of Bee Failures. Beelkeeping is not so simple as it looks; most failures are the results of the supposition that there is not much to it. Deep Plowing Pays. The farmer who has plowed deep will bring grain to sell and grain to keep regardless of the dry season. Sheep Eat All Weeds. Sheep will eat almost every weed that grows.

WISDOM'S CHUNKS OF WISDOM

What's Doing in Old Home. Summary of the Most Important Happenings in the Land of the Kaiser—Timely Items for the German Readers.

ALY OF TEMPERANCE. As a sample of what many of the big newspapers are doing in the way of temperance education, take the following notice put up in the shops of the City of London: "The Temperance Society of London, Ltd. has a notice in its shops: 'You can't drink and make good.' Modern Business Men's Face To Face For Drinking Starts Fine To Keep Up—He Is Not in the Running."

Science Feeds by Delicate Instinct. "Thinks, Sees, Hears and Acts More Slowly Than the Man Who Doesn't Drink." Nothing will destroy the usefulness of a strong brain as quickly as alcohol. It is just as disastrous to man's delicate mental machinery as a hand of sand is to the mechanism of a watch. A dollar watch will stand a dollar or two, but a watch that will contain any of those men can drink quantities of liquor and bring that it doesn't injure the brain. It will explain why a few drinks are so injurious to a scholar.

Bright business ideas, ambition, energy and execution fade under the influence of alcohol like a dream, to be replaced by air, laziness, "large talk," blunders, sluggishness and neglect. These conditions are not only found in the drunkard who drinks all the liquor he can get, but are even more strongly marked in the steady three-fourths-a-day drunkard. He, of this latter class, lays great stress on the other man's work. One takes his position quickly—the other slowly. Slow poisoning—quick poisoning—and physicians have always reckoned slow poisoning the worst.

Denounce Alcohol. "There is no physician who will prescribe alcohol for any ailment, either to be used as a medical substance or as a beverage, and scientific men are unanimous in the opinion that it is harmful to the human body," asserted Dr. Frederick C. Ives, secretary of the Council of Health and Public Instruction of the American Medical Association, at its recent convention at Detroit, Mich.

White-Ribbon Influence. In one of the largest cities in the state noted for its brewing interests, a W. C. T. U. woman carries on a conference business near a public school. Among her patrons is a son of a director of one of the big breweries. She has been here her little store and after making a survey of her stock to select his purchase, turned laughingly to her and pointing to her white ribbon said, with a challenge in his eyes: "Do you know how much that little pin of yours cost my daddy last year? It cost him $100,000." She smiled and replied: "Not a cent; I paid for it out of my own pocket money." "Oh, you know what I mean," persisted the man. "We had a row up at our house last night—I mean a meeting of the board of directors—and did you know that the white ribbon you wear cost him just $100,000 last year?"

Great War Measure. Ex-Senator Henry W. Blair, who introduced in the United States Congress the bill for the national prohibition, in a recent letter to Miss Anna A. Gordon, president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, writes: "Prohibition is the great peace measure of the present time. It is the greatest of all war measures. All parties and all nations must be personal and world-wide prohibition."

Made No Debt. After the silos were driven out of Kansas City, Kan., the state's largest city, for the first time in twenty years that municipally made no debt for current expenses. And this without saloon revenue, as its mayor at that time, U. S. Geyer, has recorded in a signed statement.

Tax Rate Decreasing. Mr. J. J. Van, president of the St. Louis, Mo., National Bank, states that in the last year of the saloon's existence in St. Louis the tax rate was 25 cents. In 1914 the rate was 10 cents. He says that the fact that St. Louis has undergone more public improvements than in any seven years of the past century, says Mr. Van. "We paid the bonds for the city hall; built an $800,000 high school, installed new sewers and water pipes, repaved the streets. The city owns its two electric light and power plants."

Post Exchange Benefited. Since the beer caution was abolished from the post exchange annual reports, the United States and $4,000,000 have been made in congress for the establishment of permanent post exchanges. The new post exchanges, libraries, lunch, amusement rooms and gramophones. Before that time no appropriations for this purpose had been made.

Best Side of Saloon. The only good side of a saloon is the outside. It is amazing how few even good cooks, and still fewer housewives, know of the following aids in cooking: Never put salt in the water when boiling potatoes. When entirely done, drain, shake in the air for a second, then sprinkle generously with salt and serve in a slow fire. This makes even a poor variety palatable. If you doubt it, just try it once.

Boiled Dressing. This is a good boiled salad dressing. It is made of two eggs, one egg white, one egg yolk, one tablespoon of mustard, the same of salt, two tablespoons of sugar, two tablespoons of cream and one of butter. Over this pour two-thirds of a cupful of hot vinegar and cook over hot water, stirring until thick and smooth. Cool and use with vegetable salad.

Coffee Ice Cream. Two cans condensed milk, half pint cream, one pint sugar coffee, two quarts milk. Very thick. If any, smooth and put into a deep dish. Leave out coffee if desired and add a cup of crushed strawberries, or add three cups of milk and sugar with vanilla. Ice should be chipped very fine for freezing cream.

Tomato Bavy. Take one-half pound of tomatoes, skin them, cut them in slices, put one quart of water in a saucepan, add the tomatoes, pepper and salt, and cook them slowly about ten minutes, then add two yolks of two fresh eggs, fill the mixture in quite a thick paste and serve it in little crockets of fried bread.

And looking through the spectacles of some buyers, all Lumber must be alike.

But it's not—not by a long shot. A board is as hard to be sure—apparently no different from another board just like it. But the first one might have been sawed from sound, "LIVE" timber, and the second one from "dead and down" trees, and you couldn't TELL the difference. But you'd soon "SEE" the difference after a few year's wear.

That's why we say there IS a difference in lumber, same as there is in groceries, clothes, etc., and when the good kind costs no more than the other kind, you should make up your mind that you want the best for your money.

Seeing our stock and getting our prices is the next and only other step necessary, because we carry only the "GOOD" kind of Lumber and Building Material.

Renewed Testimony

No one in Pine City who suffers backache, headaches, or distressing urinary ailments can afford to ignore this Pine City man's twice-told story. It is confirmed testimony that no Pine City resident can doubt. Adolph Kaim, Pine City, says: "About a year ago my kidneys became weak and my back ached from morning until night without letting up. My eyes became weak and black spots floated before them. The action of my kidneys was so frequent, also. Another of the family had some at Broentling's Drug Store and they cured me." (Statement given August 21, 1907.)

OVER SIX YEARS LATER, Mr. Kaim said: "My former statement in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills holds good in all respects. The cure they made has been permanent."

Uncle Sam: Detective. Two stories of the Greatest Federal Detective Agency, the Bureau of Information, U. S. Dep't of Justice. A Bank Case From the Outside

"It is astonishing," said Gard, the bookkeeper, "how few people know anything about their own business. Take bank accounts, for instance. Many people have money in bank which lies inactive. There is not one man in five having such an account, who can tell the name of the bank, or to whom it is payable..."

"And I am quite sure of mine," asserted a widow who had collected life insurance. "As a test of my contention," said Gard, "I am willing to meet a box of cigars to each of the ladies and cigars to the gentlemen who will set down the exact amounts on the next of the next day..."

"I'm sorry," said "I'm glad at the same time, I have been trying to make you like me."

lanchment of the town. Yet all was so serene in this oddity of the world that the 'hour of silence' had passed and eleven o'clock seemed such an age that it drove him to bed. As the time drew toward twelve there was no sign of life in the village. The lights in the drug stores, the restaurants, the delicatessens, where he even as he walked through the streets, had one by one winked themselves out. The owl car of the trolley line that ran through the village had departed. He had not seen a light at eleven-thirty. The swinging arc lights at the street intersections cast a small illuminating fitful light on his road again. A dynamo whirred distantly at the electric light plant.

Gard, the special agent of the department of justice, was one of the few men in the town who was awake except those who had lingered to an hour which was almost unprecedented in New Beaufort. They would have gone to bed long since, but he insisted that they remain for further entertainment on the part of his New Beaufort friends. One song called to mind proved so much more pleasing than that of their customary local songs that they forgot the passing of time. The special agent sat on a hill near the Compton home and smoked a pipe. It was twelve o'clock before the party finally broke up. Those of the townspeople who had come in their automobiles were being taken to the town and those who had walked on the gray macadam drive were just setting out on foot when the chatter of a bunch of airplane propellers called their attention to the village below. From the bank building was seen and heard to burst a cloud of smoke which a moment later a skylight was broken and a tongue of flame leaped forth. "Fire! Fire!" came the shout from a dozen voices.

Gard had seen more than had the guests of the banker. As he smoked his pipe and watched the village below, the lights in the windows of Stone Crest, and the silent cottage of Lorraine, the assistant cashier, he had seen an automobile, with no lamps, creeping through the quiet back street, purr stealthily into the alley back of the bank and stop behind a small building that shut off his view. Half an hour passed and the darkness machine reappeared from behind the intervening building, turned into the thoroughfare leading to the southeast and disappeared in the distance at an ever increasing rate of speed. When the exploding cartridges in the cashier's drawer at the fire, the first warning of the bank, the clamor of an alarm followed and made a momentary break out in the village. Of the dispersing group on the hill, every one ran for a nearer view of the excitement that prevailed. Stone Crest, the lights of its entertainment still glowing, was left deserted.

All these facts led him to watch the cashier rather than his assistant. The testing of the condition of the bank's accounts. He knew that a dishonest cashier would be in a position to make money, had to charge it to some account to make the books balance. The large, inactive account was a most tempting opportunity of this sort; but these were found to be intact by the use of inducing the depositors to call for their balances.

It was to get a better line on the business of the community, and particularly upon the accounts of the bank, that the special agent secured a position as bookkeeper in Joy's grocery store. He found, however, that the buying for the Compton home was most profligate and evidently wasteful. He found, however, that the bills were always paid without question and by check. Knowing of an old trick that has brought many a cashier to ruin, Gard checked to determine whether or not they actually found a way to the personal account of the cashier.

The cashier of a bank is usually the individual who opens the mail, and many of these have been known to make personal checks and destroy them when they came in for collection, charging the amount to the cashier's credit. To determine whether or not these personal checks were being jugged, this was particularly true of new depositors. When a cashier is particularly hard pressed he may resort to a manipulation of the books of the bank, which is the simplest in the world. When a depositor hands in his money, the cashier enters the amount in the pass book of the individual as a receipt. Then, instead of entering the money to the depositor's credit, the cashier puts it in his pocket. Thus there is nothing to show for the transaction but the entry in the pass book and the receipt. The cashier chooses for collection the accounts that it is most difficult to trace. Inquiries will be made, as far as the books of the bank are concerned they are as though the deposit had never been made, and the bank examiner, therefore, has no way of discovering the shortage.

The German church, his everything else German, is admirably organized, but the members depend on the government for their daily bread. The oath of allegiance which each citizen must take is to the emperor, not to the Kaiser but also to the "state." The clergy, therefore, can scarcely be considered as anything but a department of the German civil service.—New York Tribune.

BIG RAIL STRIKE WILL NOT OCCUR

Congress Passes the Adamson Eight-Hour Bill.

TROUBLE MAY COME LATER

Heads of the Brotherhoods Involved Say Walkout Will Result if Law Is Declared Void.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The threat of a general railroad strike which was hanging a pall over the country for a month was lifted when the senate passed without amendment the Adamson eight-hour bill, passed by the house, heads of the four great railroad employers' brotherhood telegraphed six hundred odd note messages to their general chairmen in all parts of the country cancelling the strike order issued a week ago.

The legislative expedient to avert the strike was passed in the senate by a vote of 43 to 25, almost a strict party vote, amid stirring scenes, after many senators, Democrats and Republicans, had fought desperately to amend the measure by provisions designed to prevent industrial disasters in the future.

Some senators, thoroughly aroused, declared congress was being coerced into enactment of legislation that it did not desire and that it knew would return to plague it in the future.

The bill that stopped the strike provides that from Sept. 1 to Oct. 1, eight hours shall be regarded as a basis of reckoning for a day's pay of men engaged in the operation of railroad trains in interstate commerce—except on roads less than 100 miles long and electric lines—that they shall receive pro rata pay for work in excess of eight hours and that their rate of compensation shall not be changed pending an investigation for six to ten months of the effect of the eight-hour day upon the railroads by a commission to be appointed by the president.

PROMISE STRIKE IF LAW IS ANNULLED

Washington, Sept. 4.—The Adamson eight-hour-day law enacted from congress last week by the railroad brotherhoods as the price of calling off the nationwide strike was signed by President Wilson in his private car at the union station, where he stopped on his way from Shadow Lawn, N. J., to Hodgenville, Ky.

How long peace will last as a result of the bill apparently is dependent upon developments in the proposed move to test constitutionality of the act. Should the railroads take no action, but await the beginning of an investigation of the workings of the eight-hour-day by the special commission for which the measure provides, the brotherhoods will remain inactive.

INHAVES HOSTILE TERRITORY

Hughes Braves Opposition Crowd at Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 5.—In territory which no Republican presidential nominee ever has visited before, Charles E. Hughes faced a tumultuous audience in the Auditorium here. With cheering for Woodrow Wilson ringing again and again in his ears, beset by listeners and held off by Democratic sympathizers, the nominee criticized the administration for its policies, argued for a protective tariff, and in a reference which the audience took to apply to the enactment of the Adamson bill asserted that he stands ready for arbitration of all industrial disputes.

NOTED PROHIBITIONIST DEAD

John P. St. John Was Nominée for President in 1884.
Olaugh, Kan., Sept. 4.—John P. St. John, a candidate for the presidency on the Prohibition ticket in 1884, twice governor of Kansas and one of the most widely known temperance advocates in the United States, died here. He was eighty-three years old and had been in failing health since a heat prostration two months ago.

MANY LABOR BILLS PASSED

Record of Congress and Legislatures the Past Year.
New York, Sept. 5.—The American Association for Labor Legislation reports ninety-two labor laws passed by congress and state legislatures in the last legislative year. Dr. J. B. Andrews, secretary, said in connection with the association's survey, "The most significant items in this legislation are two national laws, one prohibiting the shipment of interstate or foreign commerce of certain products in the preparation of which child labor has been employed. The other provides a model scale of workmen's compensation for personal injuries among federal employes, of which there are now more than 489,000."

"Seven states have enacted or strengthened old child labor legislation."

What 1000 Cars a Day Make Possible

THESE two latest Overland developments again emphasize the enormous economy of enormous production.

1000 a day of cars of this size and class is more than double the production of any other manufacturer.

1000 cars a day permit the use of materials of a much higher quality.

1000 cars a day permit many additional manufacturing economies; many additional purchase savings.

1000 cars a day enforce an accuracy of workmanship which smaller production of cars in the same price range neither permit nor require.

1000 cars a day make possible better, larger, much more comfortable cars than have ever before been possible at anywhere near these prices.

This newest Overland is the largest Four ever offered for so low a price.

In the first place, note the longer wheel base—112 inches.

The on bloc 35 horsepower motor which has made the Overland famous is continued.

True—it is perfected even more and now it is a fitting climax of the experience obtained from a quarter of a million of these Overland motors in daily use.

Shock absorbing cantilever type rear springs are a big and important improvement.

The gasoline tank placed in the rear is another improvement. The vacuum system insuring a steady, even gasoline flow at all times is still another improvement.

The famous and complete Auto-Lite electric starting and lighting equipment is furnished.

All electric switches are on the steering column—right within reach.

The artistically designed streamline body with one-piece cowl makes this car one of America's most attractive models.

Yet the price of this, our greatest four cylinder value, is less than any car of its size ever sold for before—$795.

No less a pace-maker is the newest Overland Six.

Here is the Six of Sixes! A snappy five passenger, long stroke 40 horsepower model—easy to handle, light, economical, rickety contrived, having all the advantages of higher priced ones, yet it comes absolutely complete at a lower price than any other Six of its size.

Its smart body design is long and low—having lines of artistic simplicity.

And the motor! This will warm the heart of every six cylinder enthusiast in the country.

You've heard all about fast get-aways—smoothness—climbing and climbing on high. This Six does all that and then some!

The wheel base is 116 inches. It has the cantilever springs and seven-flow vacuum system with the gas tank in rear.

The tires are four-inch. It has the complete Auto-Lite electric starting and lighting equipment with all switches on the steering column.

Some Six! Yet the price is lower than any other six of its size—$925.

But come in and see these new motors up over them—not all the very real and important improvements.

We are ready to make demonstrations of both models now.

Maxwell

$595 You will not see a long list of necessary accessories advertised for Maxwell cars.

F. O. B. DETROIT

ELECTRIC starter and lights, one-man mohair top, demountable rims, rain-vision windshield, speedometer, linoleum covered floor boards and running boards—all these features, which are found on much more expensive cars, are part of the regular Maxwell equipment. They are included in the list price.

When you buy a Maxwell, your investment is completed. There are no extras to buy.

In addition you get a car of proved endurance, of unusual economy. And behind these qualities there is the record and reputation of the Maxwell, which is second to none.

We insist and will prove to you that the Maxwell is the world's greatest motor car value.
