They Will Go July 25th

Pine Co. Will Send 110 Men to Camp Wadsworth, S. C.

5 More Next Monday

A contingent of 110 men from Pine county will leave here on Thursday, July 25 for the army training camp at Camp Wadsworth, S. C. They will entrain from Pine City on the south limited at 4:38 p. m., arriving at Cincinnati at 9:20 p. m. and after an hour's stop there, the men will take the Southern railway for Camp Wadsworth where they are scheduled to arrive at 9:30 on the afternoon of Saturday, July 27.

Exercises will be held in honor of these men in the afternoon but the program has not yet been completed though it probably will be in time for publication next week.

The list of men to go from Pine county will be about as follows, some necessary changes, however being possible:

William P. Wrenosky, Joseph George J. Goldman, and William Wrenosky in addition to the above list, five men will leave next Monday, July 15, for Dunwoody institute at Minneapolis where they will take course of instruction to the end that they may become mechanical or other occupation. They are: Lloyd A. Shuey of Bruno, Frank A. Chisnik of Pine City, Henry E. Ashkin of Finlayson, Olav Jensen of Askov and R. B. Becklund of Rock Creek.

This makes a total of 470 men that have been inducted from Pine county into the national army, besides which it is safe to say that from 300 to 500 more have enlisted voluntarily, making a total of 700 men that Pine county has thus far sent to assist Our Country in the present crisis.

4th of July Celebrations

Big Crowds Picking a Lake Hinkley, Pine Lake and Elsewhere in County

The Fourth of July in Pine county was the best day the county has seen for a long time—enjoyed by everyone and everything. The heavy rain of the preceding night and the morning of the Fourth was the cause of many people beyond a doubt the truth of the old song which ran: "The rain, the rain, the rain, the rain that causes the old cow to cry again, that makes the cow kick up and snort and imitate the horse's prance, the lack of which would make life sad and might prove fatal, too, bo-god." But after that—the rain—everyone felt better, for they knew they could afford to. The fields looked greener, the roads were better, the woods were fresher and the birds sang sweeter overhead. Owing to the rain, however, the celebrating crowds did not gather to any extent; much being in, anywhere.

In the Frilzen grove at the head of Pokegama lake, upwards of 500 people gathered to enjoy one of the most pleasurable picnics ever held in this region. The folks gathered from Rock Creek, Brook Park, Henriette, Berton, Gratton and Pine City localities largely. The Brook Park band and part of the Garrison Old Club were present to entertain the day. The gross receipts of $250.00, from which expenses will be deducted, leaving about $200 which is to be divided equally between the Red Cross branches at Pine City, Brookpark, Berton and Henriette. The new town hall was dedicated, though the exercises were held in the grove, Chairman Holland of the Pokegama town board introducing E. R. Duxbury of Pine City who presided. Addresses were made by John E. Norstrom of Minneapolis, Lieut. Robert Wilcox of Pine City and Rev. S. E. Johnson of Farmington who gave the principal address of the day while musical numbers were rendered by the band and the Old Club. There freshened under the direction of the ladies headed by Mrs. Eng Peterson, was a center of interest all day and patrons had to stand in line often to get a glass of lemonade. The ladies hall was a seething whirl of merry-makers during the latter part of the afternoon and the night, to the evening strains of the Brook Park orchestra. The event was such a success that there is much talk of making it an annual affair. The town board of Pokegama town and, in fact, all those who enjoyed the event want to thank the members of the Pokegama committee for their untiring and valuable efforts and the Pokegama folks also want to thank the folks from everywhere who were present for their presence and liberality, adding much in making the day a financial as well as social and patriotic success. The Frilzen grove is an excellent picnic place for each fair, and they had their first class shave. Some of the Pine City business men contributed money to entirely pay for the excellent display of fireworks in the evening.

Voted County Tax for 1919

Commissioners Estimate That $75,000 Will Be Necessary To Pay Expenses

The county commissioners were in session, Monday afternoon and Tuesday of this week and finally adjourned to meet on July 19.

They voted to raise $75,000 by taxation for the county expenses during 1919 as follows: $2,500 for books and stationery; $3,500 for court and jail expenses; $10,000 for salaries and fees of officers; $1,500 for fuel, coal and water; $400 for the board of health; $1,400 for coroners' fees; $20 for records of births and deaths; $800 for examination of issues; $12,000 for care of pauper and $80,000 for roads and bridges.

The books of the county auditor and treasurer were examined and found in perfect condition. Mr. Pofert showing $25,220.64 on deposit in the banks of the county.

Only one bid was received for surfacing the north 20 miles of Federal highway in the county from Sandstone north, was received, the price $26,401.90, and it was rejected. The bid of Chas. F. Johnson and Hans Jensen of Sandstone for surfacing the south miles of that road for $8,571.00 was accepted.

A petition from Otzema town citizens protesting against moving the bridge across Crooked creek from its present site to one recommended by the state highway commissioner, and another petition in favor of the change, were received and Commissioners Starr, Durr and Zimmerman were appointed as a committee to view both sites on Saturday of this week, July 15, at 10 a. m. At 1 o'clock on the same day they will also inspect the site for the proposed bridge on the range line between 41-17 and 41-18.

The commissioners granted a petition from Bruno town asking that a line ranging from the village south about half mile, thence straight east to the range line, thence south a mile and thence straight east to the state line, a total distance of about 1 1/2 miles, be made a state road.

A petition of Wm. Folsom and James Karnick of Rock Creek town to be set into other county districts were allowed.

A bond voted $200 to aid in building a bridge over Hay creek in Doevo town, near Cloverton.

Commissioner Zimmerman, to whom was left the matter of the claim of J. A. Axtell for damage to his lands by the county road ditches in 25-44-19, reported that the lands were benefited instead of damaged, and claim denied.

Auditor Hamlin was instructed to notify the Mission Creek town board to make the town road on the line between Hinkley and Mission Creek towns and the Rock Creek town pasture.

Commissioner Edin was named to look over and report on the necessity for bridges across county ditch no. 9.

A large number of bills were allowed.

H. S. Akin Dies at El Paso, Texas

Mrs. E. Mark received a telegram Monday announcing the death of Henry S. Akin at El Paso, Texas, which occurred Monday morning. As his condition had been growing worse for some months past the death was not unexpected. He was a native of Pine County, deceased was a pioneer resident of Willow River and was well known to the people of the county. For seven years he was postmaster here, resigning in 1914, and shortly thereafter removed to El Paso, Texas. He was a man of superior intellectual attainments, was learned in the law, and admitted as an attorney, and was acquainted with the best in English literature. He was a member of the Masonic fraternity, and affiliated with the Sandstone Lodge A. F. and A. M.—Willow River Farmer, July.

Fm. Bureau Mgr. Corwin Writes Results From His Pasture—Some Time ago we had an article on hog pasture, and the otherday the writer had an opportunity to get first hand information on the acre of hog pastures.

Mr. Chamberlain states that it keeps the ground clean from weeds, gives a good crop and hog feed. The mixture was eight inches high when he turned the hogs in. He also stated that while on tame grass pasture and fed plenty of buttermilk plus four pounds of corn per day, the hog and five hounds were never kept at the trough together, but now with the plain buttermilk and the pasture, he also states that the pasture would accommodate several more.

Another idea picked up at the Chamberlain farm was the matter of keeping the barn yard clean by alternating the barnyard and garden plot each year. He says this keeps the surrounding clean and productive, and that there are considerable less flies about the barn. He declares farmer would follow suit, thousands of dollars of waste for nothing would be saved.

High School Agriculture

A new exhibit of knots and splices will be in the windows of Pine City Hardware Co. this week.

The next time that it rains, think that it takes about fifteen tons of water to go a bushel of wheat.

H. C. McCollough, former teacher of agriculture in Hinkley, was in town Wednesday. He is expecting to be called in the next draft and will be transferred to South Dakota. As president of the Hinkley High School and head quarters at Sandstone, S. D.

The boys' and girls' club of Berton met at the Nordholm residence Wednesday afternoon. The meeting was held in the basement of his home in which had their pictures taken. Following the program they chose up indoor and played a lively game of indoor baseball. About 25 members were present and many of whom are growing pigs, chickens, potatoes or garden vegetables in the state contest. The next meeting will be Thursday evening, July 25, at the home of John Chausky.

Prospects for small grain have improved wonderfully since the spring, which arrived in time to help fill out the heads.

The county agent made an extended trip through Cloverton this week.

Sinclair & Hagan Lose In Supt. Ct.

The State Supreme lost Friday afternoon an order of Judge Cant of Duluth, sitting for Pine county, denying a new trial in the case of Oscar W. J. Hogan against John Sinclair and E. T. Johnson which had been tried in the district court at Pine City three times, resulting each time in a verdict for the plaintiff. The last verdict was for $118 and the decision of the supreme court means that this verdict will stand.

The case involved a contract for sawing of about one million feet of defendant's logs in 1915, in the northeast part of the county, by plaintiff. The first trial was before Judge Duffy of Kenville, sitting here after the death of Justice Stolberg. The next trial was before Judge Hathaway and the final motion for a new trial was argued before Judge Cant at Duluth, Justice Seales being disqualified owing to his previous connection with the case as counsel for one of the parties.

Attorney Andrew Nelson of Duluth represented the plaintiff.

HAY IT WORTH SUCH PROTECTION THIS YEAR

Next to the hay mow in your barn, this kind of a permanent hay shed is the safest and in the long run the most economical hay protection.

Hay that is kept in A-1 condition makes better feed or brings a better price if you sell it.

Next winter a shed like this full of hay will look mighty good.

It won't take long to plan and build one, and it won't cost much. Let us give you figures on one large enough to store your surplus.

THURSDAY, JULY 11, 1918

The Minneapolis courts have held that anyone who snatches a newspaper from another and refuses to return it is guilty of highway robbery. We cannot understand how, under the circumstances, they could have done differently. It is not the fact that the guilty party stole a newspaper, costing 2 cents, which he needed. The taking of the paper was shown to be part of a conspiracy to prevent people from obtaining daily newspapers and intended to thus injure the public to such an extent as to force it to support the demands of the faction engaged in the stealing. This aggravates the case and makes an important matter cut of a trivial one. We wonder how many of our farmer friends would prosecute a traveler who took 2 cents worth of hay from the load that you had just bought, to feed his hungry horse. And we wonder how many would not prosecute him if they found that his act was part of a conspiracy to prevent you from having any hay of your own.

The Minneapolis police are gaining the reputation over the state of being a lot of pickers and Major VanLeer, by his quoted references to incidents connected with rioting in that city as a result of the newsboys strike, is giving the impression that he considers himself a mayor for the "union" class only. We believe absolutely in the principle of trades unionism, but we also believe that the unions have no right whatever to interfere with the rights of men who do not wish to join or recognize them. And real mayors must feel their obligation to represent and protect the rights of all individuals—not those of any particular class or creed.

Traitors who say this is a rich man's war should read of the death in France of Cyrus Chamberlain, son of F. A. Chamberlain, chairman of the board of directors, First and Security National bank, Minneapolis, and one of the wealthiest men in that city. He was an only son—Fairmont Sentinel.

The Casson Advance announced that, after August 1, its subscription price will be advanced to $5 per year. Any good newspaper is worth that much, these days when the price of material and labor is so high, and Brother Bushman is making the Advance one of the best.

Bob Dunn made the following comment in his Princeton Union on the Victor L. Johnson interview, published in The Pine Poker last week. He says: "Ex-Senator Victor L. Johnson of Center City, Chicago county, both of whose parents were born in Sweden, is rather severe in his criticism of Isanti county. It is just as he says, many of the good people of that county have been misled and deceived by wily agitators and demagogues, but we cannot help believing that at heart the people of Isanti county are loyal, and on a sober second thought they will see the error of their ways. The wave of fanaticism which seems to have swept Isanti county, will soon recede; it has already spent its force."

H. C. Lindahl, who recently purchased the Brook Park Banter, is giving that town a good community newspaper. Here's success to you, Brother Lindahl. From the appearance of your paper you're entitled to every support that your community can give you.

The distinguishing Red Cross, which at all times and to all civilized nations has been complete protection for hospitals and hospital ships, seems to the German bombers merely an invitation to easy and safe murder.—Duluth Herald.

The Pine Poker wishes to congratulate the men who handled the Fourth of July celebration and carnival at the head of Pookema town hall at the head of Pookema lake. Maybe we wouldn't have done everything just as they did it—maybe they could have advanced a different idea on every subject for every man on their general committee, but they didn't do it that way. The order seemingly best fitted to perform certain duties were named for that work, and used their own best judgment in carrying it out. And when the men on one committee finished their work on the big day, they simply looked around for an opportunity to assist their fellows in some other line—and did that. All the way from Chairman Holland, Secy. Wheeler and Treasurer P. H. Anderson of the general committee down to the smallest members, they worked faithfully and in complete accord. Besides many of the folks from that locality, we are so numerous to enumerate, we cannot refrain from mentioning the following from the nearby town—Irving R. Moen of Henriette, Arthur Edsall of Brook Park, and Ben Boo and Bryan Tild of Pine City especially— who worked like "mules" all these two years. One of Pine City, who was as much to blame for the idea as anyone and who took great interest in planning and preparing for the event, was slightly indisposed at the time and unable to attend. The same concord of action was also true at Meadow Lawn, and both localities are entitled to congratulations.

Presbyterian Church Notes
Keep watch among these notes for later announcements regarding the church and Sunday school picnic.

The Sunday school and E. E. meet at their accustomed hours, 9:45 a. m. and 7 p. m., respectively. All young people invited.

The first of the union park meetings was held last Sunday evening at 8 p. m., when about 100 people were in attendance. That was splendid but we can easily think of a hundred more that were not present whom we would be glad to welcome on next Sunday evening at the same hour. Think of it! 200 men, women and children uniting for an hour of evening worship! There would be some hope for this nation if such a thing were continuously true throughout all her villages. Come out and make it true for Pine City. Rev. Clark will speak upon the subject, "The Prophet's Voice." On Sunday morning at 11 a. m. the M. E. congregation will meet with the Presbyterians, in the absence of Rev. Hare, at which time Rev. Clark will preach. Let us be present to give a hearty welcome to our visitors.

N. E. Hillman returned to his work at Two Harbors, Tuesday, after a week's visit at home, expecting to return for a longer visit in August. The Hillmans are making the old "raft" island to blossom like the proverbial rose with their good sized, modern cottage and nicely laid out grounds which the old-time towering elms shade delightfully. A nice road has been built straight north from the cottage, across the old slough, to avenue A, which forms the main street of the fair grounds, giving a reasonably dry, dry road to town, while a couple of boats at the dock near the cottage are said to be almost self-righting when any friends or acquaintances, "yacht club" or "whistle loud enough on the south bank of the river opposite the Chateau de Hillman—the tale of elms.

John J. Daley arrived home, last Saturday, from west of Fargo, N. D., where he has been engaged in cement silo construction, and expects to remain a couple of weeks or so. John is wearing his left forearm in a cast, having suffered a fracture of both bones when an 800 pound pipe fell on it, about 30, catching it between the pipe and the silo. The bone knit once but had to be broken and has not yet entirely knitted the second time. It seemed that John had his share of trouble following the breaking of his leg while building a silo a couple of years ago, which laid him up for a year or so. It is interesting that, while he finds now that the injured leg is now the stronger of the two, he does not wish his friends to understand that he broke his right arm for the purpose of making it stronger than his right.

At a private trading field post, Tuesday forenoon, Joe Petachel and Frank Duxbury passed small things like automobiles back and forth like a hand ball. In the meantime, Duxbury had disposed of his "Country Club" Overland to H. W. Saxon and was in the market for another of the "best cars for the money." At the end of the first fall, Duxbury came out with a new "big 4" Overland while Petachel had his opportunity to buy another and a slice of his bank roll. In the second round, Duxbury grabbed back the Statebacker but lost more coin and his adversary also had a deal to live into on the corner of 5th street and Seventh avenue, beyond the Henry Buire home, dancing at his belt when he was freed from the fray. ## SOMEBODY ALWAYS ON JOB

'My Guy' Can Be Depend Upon to Get Move On in Emergency—Men Made to Feel Perfectly Free and Unrestrained.

By CLARENCE BUDINGTON KELLAND.

Paris.—Thirty sailors of an American war vessel hired a motor truck and drove three miles to get to the Y. M. C. A. club in a famous French city. I asked them why.

"Because it's a regular hangout," one of them said, and another added, "because you get white bread with butter on it, and eggs fried on both sides and coffee with plenty accompaniment."

As soon as I broke into the place I found my men would ride nine miles on a truck to last there from eight midnight.

It wasn't the sort of place folks in the United States imagine a Y. M. C. A. to be. It was a sweltering hot night, and the broad front steps were lined from end to end with men in khaki suit and caps.

They were passing and talking and places looked as if the captain had ordered a smoke screen to help him from the submarine zone.

From the street you could hear a piano doing business and a lot more men in uniform howling. "Join of me"—if the members of these boys could have heard that racket their hearts would have dropped off a pound of weight and increased their beat by ten to the second. They sang as if they were glad to be alive.

Right on the Job.

And then somebody hustled up the piano. A sailor came to me and made the announcement that the driver of their truck refused to take them back to quarters again, and if it was a walk of nine miles on a hot night, or a stretch in the big for them, Gloom descended. Then somebody turned around and belated. "There's one of them 'Y' guys?"

A "Y" guy happened to be on the spot and in a second he was surrounded by a crowd of men who were surly or in a mood to demand something, but by follows who were mighty courteous in an unimportant situation. That was something very remarkable, and I had to give up sort of glad to be around.

They put the thing up to the "Y" guy and one fellow said sort of back-futtle, "We don't want to act like we was putting this up to you." That's your fault, but—

It was apparent they had gotten the idea somehow that they could depend on a "Y" guy to get a move on him, and the "Y" guy allowed as much.

"Time it's up to me," he said, "that's why we're here."

Twelve of twenty minutes he was back with a big truck with a red top and four sides of it. He picked up the diary and ran into it and off they went to keep their appointment with their boss.

That, quite likely, is one reason why they ride nine miles to spend an evening in the Y. M. C. A. because they know somebody was on the Job.

Washington to the high cost of living in Washington, the following extract from one of Artemus Ward's stories, in which he describes a visit to the national capital during the Civil war, is of interest:

"It is easy enough to see why a man goes to the poor house or the penitentiary. It's because he can't help it. But why he should voluntarily go and live in Washington is entirely beyond my comprehension, and I can't say no fairer word than—

"I put up at a leading hotel. I saw the landlord and said: 'How 'dye do, squire?' 'Very 'dye do,' was his reply, 'sir.'"

"Half a dollar. We charge twenty-five cents for looking at the landlord, and fifty cents for speaking to him. If you want supper, a boy will show you down to the dining room, for twenty-five cents. Your room is on the tenth story. It will cost you a dollar to be shown up there."

"How much do you ax a man for breathin' in this equinoctial tavern?" said I.

"Ten cents a breath," was the reply. "Washington hotels is very reasonable in their charges."

Are the Packers Profiteers?

Plain Facts About the Meat Business

The Federal Trade Commission in its recent report on war profits, stated that the five large meat packers have been profiteering and that they have a monopoly of the market.

These conclusions, if fair and just, are matters of serious concern not only to those engaged in the meat packing business but to every other citizen of our country.

The figures given on profits are misleading and the statement that the packers have a monopoly is unsupported by the facts.

The packers mentioned in the report stand ready to prove their profits reasonable and necessary.

The meat business is one of the largest American industries. Any citizen who would familiarize himself with its details must be prepared for large totals.

The report states that the aggregate profits of four large packers were $140,000,000 for the three war years.

This sum is compared with $19,000,000 as the average annual profit for the three years before the war, making it appear that the war profit was $121,000,000 greater than the pre-war profit.

This compares a three-year profit with a one-year profit—a manifestly unfair method of comparison. It is not only misleading, but the Federal Trade Commission apparently has made a mistake in the figures themselves.

The aggregate three-year profits of $140,000,000 was earned on sales of over four and a half billion dollars. It means about three cents on each dollar of sales—or a mere fraction of a cent per pound of product.

Packers' profits are a negligible factor in prices of live stock and meats. No other large business is conducted upon such small margins of profit.

Furthermore—and this is very important—only a small portion of this profit has been paid in dividends. The balance has been put back into the businesses. It had to be, as you realize when you consider the problems the packers have had to solve—and solve quickly—during these war years.

To conduct this business in war times, with higher costs and the necessity of paying two or three times the former price for live stock, has required the use of two or three times the ordinary amount of working capital. The addition tional profit makes only a fair return on this, and as has been stated, the larger portion of the profits earned has been used to finance huge stocks of goods and to provide additions and improvements made necessary by the enormous demands of our army and navy and the allies.

If you are a business man you will appreciate the significance of these facts. If you are unacquainted with business, talk this matter over with some business acquaintance—with your banker, say—and ask him to compare profits of the packing industry with those of any other large industry at the present time.

No evidence is offered by the Federal Trade Commission in support of the statement that the large packers have a monopoly. The Commission's own report shows the large number and importance of other packers.

The packers mentioned in the statement stand ready to prove to any fair-minded person that they are in keen competition with each other, and that they have no power to manipulate prices.

If this were not true they would not dare to make this positive statement.

Furthermore, government figures show that the five large packers mentioned in the report account for only about one-third of the meat business of the country.

They wish it were possible to interest you in the details of their business. Of how, for instance, they can sell dressed beef for less than the cost of the live animal, owing to utilization of by-products, and of the wonderful story of the methods of distribution throughout this broad land, as well as in other countries.

The five packers mentioned feel justified in co-operating with each other to the extent of together presenting this public statement.

They have been able to do a big job for your government in its time of need; they have met all war time demands promptly and completely and they are willing to trust their case to the fairness of the American people with the facts before them.

A Great Responsibility

THE responsibility attached to the preparation of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared; could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Extracts from Letters by Grateful Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

G. J. English, of Springfield, Mass., says: "I was given your Castoria which saved my child."

Mrs. Mary McCallum, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "We have given our baby your Castoria ever since he was born, and we recommend it to all mothers."

N. E. Calmes, of Marion, Ky., says: "I've never had a better medicine in the world, as I have given your Castoria to my babies from first to last."

Mrs. Albert Ives, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., says: "As I have had your Castoria in use for nearly three years, I am pleased to say it has benefited my children."

R. P. Stockton, of New Orleans, La., says: "I thank you for giving your Castoria to our baby when he was eight days old and have kept it up ever since, never having had to give any other medicine."

Mrs. Dolph Horvack, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We commenced giving your Castoria to our baby when she was four weeks old. She is now seven months and weighs 14 1/2 pounds. Everyone remarks 'What a healthy looking baby.' We give Castoria credit for it."

Genuine Castoria Always Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
