

HIGH BACK IN MACEDONIA

British Attack Bulgarians to Confront With Italian and French Drive.

AIM AT RAILWAY LINE

Outflanking of Enemy Positions North-east of Monastir in Another Objective—Morale of Austrians Said to Be Very Bad.

London, July 15.—British forces, after landing on the Murman coast, have occupied the port of Kem, on the White sea, according to further Zeltung says, according to a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily Telegraph.

London, July 15.—An operation against the Teutonic powers which they develop westward along the Baltic front and eventually connect with the successful drive being carried out by the French and Italians in Albania has seemingly been completed by the British troops in Macedonia.

West of the town of Dobran, which lies on the railroad to Salonika, the British have delivered a blow against the Bulgarians which was productive of good results. Details of the operations are lacking but it is not unreasonable to assume that it had in view the ultimate capture of the railroad line running to Vres, and from Vres and the outflanking of the enemy line north-east of Monastir.

Austrian Morale Extremely Bad. Meanwhile, in Albania, the French and Italians are giving the enemy no rest, pressing him back daily, mile after mile over the trackless country and capturing strategic positions and villages. The latest French official communication shows that the French troops have taken the village of Narta and Gramsh, which brings their eastern flank appreciably nearer Lake Ochrida.

The morale of the Austrians is declared to be extremely bad and surrender of the war-worn soldiers are reported constantly to be taking place. Bad Weather on French Front. Bad weather conditions continue to prevail on the greater part of the front in France and Flanders and the military operations are still far from normal. Nowhere have there been any engagements ranking in importance above trench raids and patrol encounters.

On several sectors, however, the big guns are constantly hammering away at opposing positions, particularly on the American front which has been where the activity of the long range pieces has increased perceptibly, on the sectors held by the British near St. Kemmel hill and Vres, and near Corcy, where the French face the sea.

Big Battle Waits Clear Skies. Yet there is no indication that a great offensive by the Germans is being planned which is thought to be the greatest effort the enemy yet made—in a hand. The weather, however, still inhibits the belief that with a cessation of the rain, the driving away of the clouds and a return of clear sky, the attempt at a drive for the crossing of the Allied front will be made.

REPLIES TO GERMANY

David Lloyd George Scorns Peace at Expense of Russia.

British Premier Says Coalition Will Give Voice in Continuing Final Settlement.

London, July 15.—Premier David Lloyd George answered Germany's recent renewed peace overtures with the declaration that the war must not end with one square yard added to Germany's empire.

"The god of brute force must this time forever be broken and burnt in his own furnace," the premier declared. "This was taken as England's reply to recent efforts of German statesmen by which the war would be ended with concessions to Western Europe, provided Germany was left free to exploit her conquest in Russia."

There must be a guarantee of peace," Mr. Lloyd George said. "It must be a real peace. We are not willing to be killed for the sake of killing or being killed, but for the sake of establishing a just and durable peace for the world. You cannot make peace unless it is both just and likely to endure."

The prime minister, who spoke at a dinner at the British embassy in Canada, said that the Canadian editors who are visiting England, announced that governments of British dominions have a voice in determining the terms of peace.

San Francisco, July 15.—The lives of eight workers in San Francisco ship yards and other plants were crushed out here when a crowded street car in which they were riding, ran off a trolley track and crashed into a building.

Passengers told the police a shipyard blacksmith was in the car at the time of the accident. The blacksmith was not seen after the accident and was believed by the police to have fled.

British Forces Will Aid Czech-Slovak Aid at Vladivostok.

Washington, July 15.—News of the British military reinforcements to Siberia to support the Czech and Russian controlling Vladivostok and a long stretch of the trans-Siberian railway, has been received here through official channels.

Apparently whatever may come of plans for Allied and American military intervention in Russia on a great scale, the hard fight Czech-Slovak forces to be given by the Allies the aid necessary to secure their own being crushed by Bolshevik forces operating with released German prisoners.

DELAYS DRY LEGISLATION

Senate Will Take Up Prohibition Plan on August 26.

Washington, July 15.—National prohibition legislation was postponed by Congress until Aug. 26, at least. In arranging for a summer vacation, a formal unanimous consent agreement was entered into by the Senate on July 15, 1919.

MAY INTERVENE IN RUSSIA

Germany Fears Civil War Will Menace Her Interests. Amsterdam, July 15.—German official circles are of the opinion, says a Berlin dispatch to the Rheinhische Westfaelische Zeitung of Essen that in event of civil war breaking out in Russia, the vital interests of Germany would force her to act on her own account in order to protect the British in the north.

The reference here is evidently in the manner of the intervention which Allied forces have been lending for the production of supplies sent to Russia by the Allies.

Also, two blank spaces will appear in which to write the names of any two others if any of the voters do not wish to vote for the men regularly nominated. The men elected will fill a three year term.

Ben Haas last week installed a big shoe, harness and auto tire sewing machine of the very latest make. He is getting all kinds of auto tires to "re-tread" as a result of his ad in The Pine Poker. There's a good joke in this connection on a certain man who reads The Poker news columns carefully every week but prizes himself on never reading the ads. Last week he got a couple of old auto tires to a neighbor for a mere "song" (sung by the neighbor of the real) which were taken to Haas and made into a good tire at very small cost, giving the neighbor, who had read the ad, a tire that would have cost about $25, more, for less than a fifth of that figure. And for wearing purposes the re-vamped tire will last nearly as long as a new one would, besides saving the use of the rubber when there is so much demand for it. Try to read the ads in The Pine Poker.

An organization meeting of the Pine City branch of the Bohemian National Alliance was held in the village hall, last evening, when the following officers were elected: Frank Karky president, Jos. Rous secretary, John Jelinek financial secretary and Math Prochaska treasurer. There was a good attendance and many new members were added. This followed an enthusiastic meeting held in the armory about two weeks ago when a speaker was present from Hopkins and some 400 people were present, temporary organization being completed by the election of Frank Womela president, Math Prochaska financial secretary and John Jelinek treasurer. There is more than the Alliance at Denham and, we understand others have been or will be organized at Willow River and Beroun, giving Pine county four or maybe five branches. The Alliance, while having for its primary purpose the furthering of Bohemian independence, also performs the duties of the Bohemian Red Cross as we understand, being in some degree a counterpart of the American Red Cross. The Pine City branch proposes putting on a drive for members and funds, probably some time next month, and also plans having a large

A striking illustration is given of the loyalty and patriotism of one Rush City family, where three sons of A. M. Challen of Pine City all born here, are now in the service, all having volunteered. Arthur the eldest son enlisted at the beginning of the war in the heavy artillery and is now in France. George, married before the war and with a dependent child, was placed in class 6. Not content with this, he was determined to enlist and underwent an opera at an expense of $230 in order to prepare himself for military duty, which was accomplished and he is now in training. William, made three unsuccessful attempts to enlist in the navy, being rejected each time for physical reasons. He underwent an operation at St. Paul and made another attempt. This time he was rejected at the Great Lakes training station on account of his teeth. This difficulty having been overcome at a cost of $315 for dentistry he was declared fit and accepted. All three are now in and Mr. Challen has bravely consigned them to their country, at a great sacrifice and financial expense, which he has borne to permit them to go. His only remaining child, Edward is an invalid. Rush City may proudly share in the honor by which these boys have so nobly responded to their country's call.—Rush City Post.

HEAD OF GIANT BUSINESS

Who's Tongue? This was a question recently asked when it was announced that Walter Clark Tongue had been chosen president of the Standard Oil Company, one of the world's greatest oil producers. The disintegration of the original Standard Oil Company, into several smaller business associates and personal friends had ever heard of Tongue. He is only thirty-nine years old, and his success in life has been due to industry and the careful training of his mind in absorbing infinite details.

In Cleveland, where he was born on May 1, 1878, both he and his family were known perhaps as well as any citizen of that community.

Mr. Tongue's father, who was of English birth, became interested in the business and it was in his father's office that Walter Tongue as a boy received his first business instructions. He is entirely self-taught and three years later was graduated with the degree of bachelor of science. He took a place in his father's firm, and from that beginning has risen to his present high degree.

HONORED FOR BRAVERY

Stories of the heroic daring of American naval officers and men in the service of the 75 members of the crew of the American munitions ship Essex, which caught fire and burned for two days in French waters last week, are told in the report of Rear Admiral Wilson, commanding American naval forces in France, made public by the navy department.

Among those commended by their commander for their bravery in the report is Lieut. Howard R. Eccleston, U. S. N. R. F.

Lieutenant Eccleston is thirty years old and was an examiner in the fleet office for six years prior to entering in the naval reserve force in June 1917. Before coming to France he had attended the United States Naval academy for several years, which fitted him for a lieutenant's rank.

He was born in Baltimore and attended the Baltimore City colleges. Shortly after leaving the naval academy he went to Washington and while employed in the patent office studied at the National Law school.

JEW IN HIGH COMMAND

Monah valley, one of the names with which the Anzacs have enriched the geographical nomenclature of Gallipoli peninsula, was so called by the men of an Australian regiment in honor of their colonel, Sir John Monah, who has just been promoted to the rank of lieutenant general and placed in the command of a British army corps in France.

Sir John Monah has the distinction of being both the first Australian and the first Jew to reach so high a position in the British army. The distinction is all the more notable because he comes from outside the ranks of the regular army. His promotion has been won entirely by merit, personal qualities and technical abilities. Monah was born in Melbourne (June 27, 1856), and is thus fifty-three years of age.

This first big fighting chance came with the Anzacs. Throughout the entire order of the Gallipoli campaign he commanded an Australian regiment and left his name on the peninsula along with Quinn, Pope and other leaders of the soldiers who fought under him, and was fully appreciated by the commander in chief. Three times he was mentioned in despatches for his efficient work and gallant conduct.

PLANS ATLANTIC AIR ROUTE

Maj. Gen. W. S. Brancker of the British army has been in Washington to establish an air route from the United States to Europe in order to bring the full force of American effort in the air to bear against Germany. Plans are already well advanced for the initial air flight to take place in August. General Brancker believes that airplanes driven with Liberty motors will be crossing the Atlantic in fleets next summer.

General Brancker is controller general of British air equipment and a member of the new British air council. He was born in 1877 and joined the Royal artillery in 1899. In 1910 he was attached to the Royal Flying Corps, and a year later was appointed assistant director of military aerodromes. He has seen much active service as an air pilot.

The Aero Club of America is in hearty accord with General Brancker's plans and already has asked for designs for airplanes capable of making the transatlantic flight. Carpool, designer of the giant Italian plane, probably will make a machine for the purpose.

RICKENBACKER, AIR HERO

Lieut. Edward Rickenbacker of the American aerial forces in Europe is being mentioned frequently in the press dispatches for his exploits in fighting the Hun in the air. Over here he is used to be known as Eddie Rickenbacker, speed demon of the automobile race tracks.

But when the United States entered the war Eddie dropped the racing game and went to France to act as a courier for General Hines. It was the same time he removed the ribbon from his name by changing the "R" to "E." Being a stunt pilot, Eddie, the commanding general was not likely enough for Eddie, so he entered the airplane corps, soon becoming a reconnaissance pilot and receiving his commission as lieutenant. Then came a rapid series of daredevil exploits that brought him fame and the coveted title of "ace." Lieutenant Rickenbacker's friends in Los Angeles are being very delighted to receive a long letter telling something of his experiences as an air-fighter.

Helping the Meat and Milk Supply

(Special Information Service, United States Department of Agriculture)

BUTTERMILK A FOOD DRINK

of food actually consumed each year by the average cow, producing annually 6,000 pounds of milk—about 2,700 Grains... 2,100 pounds Hay, fodder and other dry... 210 pounds Silage and succulent roughage 6,240 pounds Total

Besides these feeds, each cow had over $8 worth of pasturage during the summer, which replaced approximately 250 pounds of grain, 1,200 pounds of hay and fodder, and 250 pounds of silage, which would have been needed if pasture had not been available. If it pasture had not been available, the cost would have been eight to ten times as much. The average cow in a year each cow sets from eight to ten times her own weight of feed (exclusive of pasturage) and she consumes nearly four pounds of feed for every quart of milk she produces. In spite of this, the dairy cow "looks lean" better than any other domestic animal, for she returns a greater amount of human food from her feed than the steer or pig or sheep.

Nearly all the feed consumed by a cow is unsuitable for human food until it is transformed into milk. Hay, cornstalks, silage, grass, etc., are thus made available for our tables. Of the grain used for cattle feed, the greater part consists of by-products which are not adapted for human consumption.

Hossy also requires considerable attention. She must be fed and watered, groomed and cleaned, driven to pasture, cared for when sick and milked. Her stable must be cleaned and aired and her milk strained, cooled and hauled to market. According to the Indiana records, a cow producing 6,000 pounds of milk yearly requires 147 hours of human labor and 15 hours of horse labor each year. This is equivalent to about 15 days of ten hours each for one man and 3 1/2 days for a horse.

For this feed and labor the dairy cow produces her own weight in milk. If she is the best mother of the world, and the original food conservationist!

BUTTERMILK FOR PROTEIN SUPPLY

Rapidly Displacing Other Beverages That Contain Little or No Food Value.

IS TASTY AND HEALTHFUL

Often Recommended by Physicians in Treating Intestinal Disorders and in Giving Favor in Hospitals — Good When Frozen.

Buttermilk—a pleasant refreshing beverage and a nourishing food combined.

It contains practically all the food materials of whole milk except the fat, most of which is removed in churning.

For those who like to know the scientific analysis of what they are drinking, buttermilk contains about 3 per cent of protein, nearly 6 per cent of carbohydrates in the form of milk sugar, 0.7 per cent of mineral constituents and 0.2 per cent of fat. Buttermilk is often recommended by physicians in the treatment of intestinal ailments, and it is also gaining favor in hospitals.

Prepared buttermilk is usually made from skim milk and has all the chemical properties of buttermilk. If it is churned, as is usually the case, it agrees in appearance and flavor with the regular article. Especially if clean, sweet skim milk is used and it is carefully ripened and churned. Prepared buttermilk can be made in the city home, but more uniform results can be obtained when it is made on a large scale, and for that reason it is usually better to purchase it from a reliable dealer.

Buttermilk in Frozen Delicacies.

The Iowa Agricultural Experiment Station describes a number of ways in which sour milk or buttermilk may be converted into frozen delicacies. One follows:

4 quarts buttermilk 1 1/2 cups orange juice sugar 1 1/2 cups lemon juice 2 eggs

Dissolve the sugar in the buttermilk and add the eggs, the juice and whites beaten separately. Stir and strain the mixture and add the fruit juices. Freeze in the usual way, pack in ice and salt for an hour before serving.

Of course, buttermilk may be used in cookery in any recipe calling for sour milk.

Buttermilk is a natural product from churning milk or cream into butter. According to a ruling under the federal food and drug act the product obtained from skim milk or from whole milk not churned must be labeled when handled in interstate commerce to show that it is not real buttermilk.

Feed and Labor for Cow.

Old Mooly spends most of her time in eating and drinking in order that she may furnish us with milk. You can see her chewing away almost any time of the day. She has been developed to consume immense quantities of feed that supply materials for milk making. Indeed, judges of dairy cattle give due credit for a capacious stomach.

The dairy division of the United States department of agriculture studied the subject for two years on a number of dairy farms in Indiana. The following figures show the amount

BUTTERMILK LEMONADE

A delicious variation may be made from ordinary buttermilk by the addition of lemon juice and sugar.

Buttermilk lemonade usually requires the juice of three lemons to one quart of buttermilk. The quantity of lemon and sugar, however, should be varied to suit the taste of the individual.

The beverage is delightful and is especially refreshing on a hot summer day.

Work of Bull Association.

The bull association cannot give a farmer something for nothing, but it can furnish him a share of five $500. These bulls cannot increase the production of the cows the farmer has, but they may double the production of the daughters. The daughters of association bulls and grade cows can never be registered, but in every other respect they may be the equal of purebreds. The bull association cannot compel a farmer to join, but if he does join he will soon own a better herd and become a better farmer.

Sheep Need Little Grain.

One factor in favor of sheep production in these days of high prices of feed is the fact that sheep require comparatively small amounts of grain. While pastures and roughage are important in the production of cattle and hogs, these animals require more concentrated feeds than sheep.

Birds Will Grade Up Herd.

A good sire will rapidly grade up a herd to high production, any purebred sire will not do—he must be able to transmit producing ability to his offspring.

Balanced Ration Essential.

A balanced ration is very essential for economical feeding of cows. It is this noticeable in feeding dairy cows.

Skin Milk Has Proved One of the Cheapest Supplements for Young Pigs.

The lumps should be fed a good ration of grain and pasture so they will continue to thrive.

Cats should be taken that sleep do not eat too much when first turned on grass.

The lumps should be weaned gradually, thus partly eliminating the necessity of milking the ewe.

NOW CALL ROADS MILITARY

Bill, Before Senate Says Government Should Assist in Keeping Highways in Repair.

A bill before the senate says all state roads used by the government should be treated as military highways and the government should assist in keeping them in repair. The bill was introduced by Senator J. T. Smith, who has investigated the deterioration of the Maryland highway system. The bill states the government is not to contribute more than two-thirds of the money for repairs not more than $1,000 per mile. It has gone to the senate committee on appropriations.

Daily Water Supply.

Experiments prove that the amount of water consumed daily by a cow is in direct proportion to the amount of milk she produces.

Sites for Strawberry Bed.

A rich garden soil which has been manured makes an ideal site for a strawberry bed.

Wender or Blunder?

In that new road this year going to be a wonder-way or a blunder-way?

Keeping Milk and Cream.

Milk and cream can be kept in good condition and will remain sweet for some time, providing they are kept clean and at a low temperature.

Easy to Grow Asparagus.

It is an easy matter to grow your own asparagus plants. Good seed is absolutely necessary.

Comfortable Cow Pays.

The comfortable cow will pay in the necessary labor for her production.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

These who are able to save a surplus of feed might well consider increasing their flocks and herds.

It seems evident that the types of horses which should be given particular care on the farm are the heavy draft and the lighter, general-purpose breeds.

GOOD HIGHWAYS SAVED PARIS

Example of French Capital Cited to Press Home Plan of Improved Roads in This Country.

The congestion of traffic which has so seriously handicapped war preparations and industrial and commercial activity during the last few months has emphasized to all the vital importance of good roads. The shortage of freight cars has caused the government to recommend the use of motor-trucks for handling freight on short hauls, in order to save freight-car equipment for long hauls. Freight cannot be successfully handled by motor-trucks without good roads.

There is also a growing tendency on the part of manufacturers and wholesalers to have their salesmen travel by automobile instead of by railroad train, writes C. S. Riegan, president of a large motor-truck concern, in Chicago. This also further emphasizes the traffic problem. But the extensive use of trucks for cross-country hauling and of passenger automobiles traveling by train, will depend to a large extent upon road conditions.

It also occurs to me that since our transportation facilities have been so seriously overtaxed by extra traffic resulting from our war preparations to date, the enormous increase in war activities for which preparations are now being made will result in further serious delays, unless a large portion of the traffic can be handled by motor-trucks. In order to appreciate the importance of good roads from a military standpoint, we have only to recall the fact that in all probability Paris would have been captured by the German army in their first great drive had it not been that the excellent French roads permitted the quick concentration of French troops by means of motor-trucks, passenger automobiles and taxicabs, which played so important a part in helping out the French railroad system.

The prosperity of any country and the advance of civilization are measured by the transportation facilities

WOMEN CARING IN WESTERN CANADA

Business Has Followed All Their Efforts.

On the trail from Edmonton to Whitehorse the women of the Canadian Red Cross Society have been a constant presence. They have followed the soldiers who had returned from the front. Among the most successful farmers of the Great Lakes district, Manitoba, are the Misses Clark and Beattie Ferguson, who, for the past fourteen years, have farmed their own land, doing all the work on the farm, such as plowing, seeding, summer following and reaping. They have been especially successful with stock and have a splendid herd of shorthorns, both purebred and grade. At the recent Brandon sale they purchased a new 120-acre, well-built farm, which their herd was last year increased by 23 calves.

Miss R. M. Hillman of Keeler, Saskatchewan, is another successful woman farmer. She has gone in extensively for grain growing and has 1,100 acres. She also owns one of the finest Percheron horses in Saskatchewan.

The pride now boasts of many women who have had more or less success, though few are farming on the same large scale as Miss Hillman and the Misses Ferguson. These women have demonstrated, and are still demonstrating, that a versatile woman may be just as good and successful a farmer as her brother.

There are other women too, on the Canadian prairies, who, though they have not had thrown upon them the responsibilities of "running a farm," have been decided factors in making the farm a success. They assist their husbands by keeping the farm accounts, reducing the grocery bills by their management of the poultry and dairy, taking care of the house, and, very often, proving good advisers in the economic management of the land and general conduct of the farm work.
