MAY INCREASE TARIFF

Higher Customs Duties to Produce $400,000,000 Is Advocated by Several Members as One Solution of Problem.

Washington, Aug. 12.—In the framing of the tentative draft of the revenue bill the house ways and means committee is an even $3,000,000,000 short of the $3,000,000,000 goal after including all schedules and whiskeys and the luxury schedule, which falls very far short of the $2,000,000,000 allotted it and held until the last.

The committee, in what it plans to do its final week of freedom, will be forced to devise means to make up the $1,000,000,000.

Military Critics Assert Germans Will Make Desperate Effort to Retrive Losses.

LONDON, Aug. 12.—In the comment of the papers on the continued advance of the Anglo-French forces in the Somme region, surprise is notably mingled with gratification. No offensive in which the British have participated, it is remarked, ever made so much progress on the opening day.

The employment of a large number of light, fast tanks—the "Whippers"—with strong forces of cavalry, is regarded as giving credit to a new feature of the modern war.

The military correspondent of the Times, referring to the remarkable progress developed by the Whippers in keeping pace with the infantry, says a future when every heavy tank will have a small light tank which will take the place of the cavalry and light infantry.

The extraordinary employment of aircraft in the pursuit of the enemy is also remarked upon. It is said that the aircraft were rendered obviously as the most important military value, which, it is held, is not out of proportion to the losses.

Nowhere is any attempt made to disagree with the fact that a great German effort to retrieve the losses is inevitable. The enemy's difficulty, it is deepened, is that the British are not only attacking them, but they are also attacking them from the rear.

Rides 80 Miles in Day and Believes Hard-Pressed British in Flanders—Makes New Place for Cavalry in Warfare.

Washington—Skillful use of French cavalry has marked General Foch's tactics ever since he took over control of the allied armies as supreme commander.

They stood steady bombardment for days, and when the infantry was hampered by lack of ammunition, the cavalry drove forward in counter-attack and held off the shock divisions.

The same tactics marked the first use of French cavalry in the battle of Picardy, when the French took over 50 miles of front from the British.

A French cavalry corps complete with light artillery, armored cars and machine guns, arrived in Picardy.

Three days later the horsemen were on the move again, this time hurrying to the front.

Back the Government to the Limit

The Government has asked American business to pursue a certain course for the duration of the war.

Keep quality up and prices reasonable—a strictly non-profiteering policy. It is the policy this company has always adopted and the one we will continue to pursue.

We stand ready to undergo any sacrifice in order to cooperate with the Government. We believe it is best for ourselves.

We know it is best for our country. We appeal to all concerns—big and small—to adopt the same policy.

American business must rally as a unit to the support of the Government.

It is the surest and quickest way to win the war.

After being out about 1/2 hour she came into look at the little one and found it lying dead in the bed. Their friends at Meadow Lawn extend their heart felt sympathy.

MAKE W.S.S. FEEDS—

Story Everyone Should Read.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale is best known to the present generation as a writer of fiction that has taken a high and deserved place in American literature. His immortal short story, "The Man Without a Country," was published anonymously in the Atlantic Monthly in 1865 and collected with other stories in a volume issued five years afterward.

Great as were Doctor Hale's contributions to the literature of his country, there is nothing in all his works which will live longer than his portrayal of Philip Nolan's unfortunate career. Since its first publication, now many years more than half a century ago, it has been considered a masterpiece of literature as well as an unequalled inspiration to patriotism. Especially to the young and impetuous does the story make a thrilling appeal and at the same time teaches a stern lesson. In American you read it without a keener sense of the duty which he owes to his country.

"Every man who votes for Hanna becomes a partner in the liquor traffic and all its consequences."—WILLIAM MCKINLEY.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in one of his Sunday school addresses in New York said:
"There are many secrets of success. Let me give you the true secret. It is not just plain work, after all. In my boyhood in Hartford I one evening over my Shakespeare when a figure in the corner came up and paraded me. So I went to my father, who was reading a newspaper beside the lamp."
"Father, what does this mean? There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood, leads on to fortune." What kind of a tide would that be, father?"
"Died down to business, son," my father replied."

DECATUR MADE GOOD.

Progressive Illinois City Has Demonstrated Value of Dry Law; Police Records Show Decrease in Crime.

Decatur, Ill., a city of more than 400,000 population, had had two trials of Prohibition. Hon. T. C. Buckston, of that city, former judge of the Municipal court, has given some interesting testimony as to the value of the dry law in his home city. It appears in an article published by the Springfield (Ill.) Register, from which we quote:
"Decatur was dry four years, then was wet two years, and has since come dry again, this being the second year of its Prohibition for the second term.

"The savings depositors in the banks of the city have increased 2,760 during the present year over the year 1916. The criminal cases in the justice courts have decreased from 100 a week under the saloon regime to 40 per week under Prohibition. The building of business houses and factories has increased 20 per cent. The population, which was 25,000 in 1900, is now about 45,000. There were 37 per cent fewer cases of public charity last year than during the last year of the saloons. The liquor shipped into Decatur last year was but 60 per cent of the quantity shipped in the last year before it went back to the saloons for two years."

ALCOHOL DECEIVING.

Dr. Evans Says People of Canada Know Better Than to Drink Liquors to Keep Them Warm.

In the "How to Keep Well" column of the Chicago Tribune, conducted by Dr. W. A. Evans, the doctor repeats a story told to him by a barber of how the people of far Northwestern Canada keep warm. The following paragraph will be of interest:
"The folks in that cold country know better than to drink alcoholic beverages. Alcohol makes them feel warm for a few minutes, but the feeling of warmth passes off in a short while, and then comes a true stretch of increased cold and misery."

ASK BOOZE CLOSING.

A resolution urging the closing of saloons and breweries in Minnesota was adopted by the Minnesota Presbyterian Ministers' Association and forwarded to the Minnesota Safety Commission. The resolution declares such action necessary as a war measure. A similar resolution addressed to Dr. Garrison was adopted by the Boston Lutheran Church.

"I have found that poetry is to be found only in the air and in the heart. It is a sense of beauty or harmony, as in the motion of the air, in the growth of the sun, in the sweet air and indicates it is the sun—there is poetry in—Hailit."
