

NUMBER PEACE PARTY TO BE TAKEN

NO DECISION HAS BEEN ARRIVED AT AS TO BASIS OF REPRESENTATION.

FIVE DELEGATES PROBABLE

American Commissioners Will Undoubtedly Correspond With Each Number Named by Each of the Allied Powers.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Delay in the announcement of the names of the American commissioners to the peace conference at Versailles is understood to be distributed to two causes. First, that no decision has been reached as to the number and second, that all of the persons whom the President has in mind for places have not yet had an opportunity to signify their acceptance.

It is regarded as desirable that the number of American commissioners correspond to the number of the Allied powers. It is also believed that each of the great Allied powers, in accordance with a cable now being received from Washington, and the Allied states with the purpose of coming to a common understanding on this point.

Small Party Expected. The cabinet members of the delegation here, that the size of the group should be very much restricted. A number of as low as three has been suggested, and five seems to meet the approval.

With the second cause of delay, announcing the names of the commissioners, it was stated that those of those invited to act, particularly those of party affiliation, opposed to that of the President, scarcely could be expected to accept unless they had an opportunity to study very carefully the instructions by which the commissioners will be strictly bound.

Only Wilson Known. Probably no one but President Wilson is yet aware of the probable composition of the American delegation. It is known that Secretaries Lansing and Col. E. M. House will be members.

If precedent is followed in the naming of delegates, Ambassador Sharp at Paris, also will be a member. Ambassador J. J. Jusserand of France and Mrs. Jusserand will accompany President Wilson to France. The ambassador has not had a vacation since he rushed back to America to take the European war.

He is expected to join in the celebration over victory and probably to play a part in the peace conference. It is known that he has been to make the voyage on the ship which carries the presidential delegation from the President.

It is also said that a high official which President Wilson has personally for the ambassador.

The members of the crew said they were ashamed of their sinking of the Lusitania, and many hoped to see the Lusitania again.

FEDERAL JUDGES RESTRAINING ORDER

Clover Leaf Railroad Objects to Accepting 1,250 Freight Cars

Toledo, Ohio, Nov. 26.—A temporary restraining order was issued in United States district court here against William G. McAdoo, as director general of railroads, instructing the western of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western (Clover Leaf) railroad not to accept freight cars, sign contracts or to accept any other action which would jeopardize or compromise the interests of the stockholders of the road.

Hearing on the injunction was set for Dec. 16.

The case in question, said to be the first in the United States where the order of the director general of railroads is in question, is that in which the stockholders' protective committee of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western (Clover Leaf) railroad, through its attorney, seeks to prevent Mr. McAdoo from compelling the road to accept 1,250 freight cars which the committee claims had not been paid for.

The committee had not now the need and for which the committee claims the road would have to pay an exorbitant price. The court also said that the order is a personal party defendant to the suit.

ALLIES LIKELY TO SINK GERMANY'S WARSHIPS

London, Nov. 26.—After an inspection of the German battleships and cruisers held by the Allies and final settlement of the terms of the peace conference, all the vessels probably will be sunk, as apparently there is no chance of their being turned over to the Allies to risk the controversy which would be likely in case of an attempt of division of them.

Many Warships Coming Home

CHANGE THROUGH GROUP OF POLICE

SOLDIERS, SAILORS & MARINES RAID SOCIALIST MEETING AT NEW YORK.

FIRST ATTEMPT IS BLOCKED

Gathering Was Called to Protest Against Execution of Thomas J. Mooney, but Speakers Lost Track of That Subject.

New York, Nov. 26.—Hundreds of soldiers, sailors and marines broke through a crowd of 100,000 surrounding Madison Square Garden and attacked international Socialists who had gathered for a mass meeting at which Bolshevik revolutionaries were to be the men and women leaving the hall broke and fled as the men in uniform charged past the police, but were pursued into the side streets in all directions.

Attack Made on Police

Several hundred soldiers and sailors who had gathered in Madison Square charged the mounted police, who had surrounded the building and tried to force an entrance, but were driven back.

They then organized a mass meeting in the square. In the meantime two more arrests had been made for the display of red flags.

The attack on the Socialists came at the close of a meeting which threatened to break into riot. It was called to protest against the execution of Thomas J. Mooney, but Scott Nearby, who presided, and other speakers devoted most of anything to pleas for the release of "political offenders."

Several Arrests Made

Several men and women were arrested for displaying red flags smuggled into the garden in defiance of an order by Mayor Hylan.

Large numbers of men in uniform entered the building before the doors were locked, with the avowed determination of preventing attacks upon the government. They were restrained with difficulty by police and detectives from making an assault on the speaker. Several flat fights were interrupted by officers.

Soldiers and sailors who were in the garden at the meeting sent out a patrol to round up the men in uniform who could be found, to participate in the charge on the Socialists. The oratory was ended and the internationalists started for their homes.

Socialists Are Denounced

Madison Square was the rallying point for the military. They quickly started to surround the Socialists, which speakers denounced the Socialists as "Bolsheviks." They were arrested not only by the men in uniform, but by civilian sympathizers.

The general was out for a short drive and had come up the Rue Rivoli, his pace before it was recognized by the frenzied street crowds.

As General Pershing's face, with the famous smile, showed through the door, a French girl with the flag of half a dozen nations twined about her head screamed, "General Pershing!"

She was taken up instantly and passed on to the next automobile. If there were any grudges about them they were swallowed up in the enormous crowd and the general and his women went mad and screamed his name, and all tried to reach the car.

Men picked up women and held them in their arms, and they might get a look at the general. The mob surged toward the car in another wave.

CENTRAL COUNCIL ASSUMES CONTROL

GERMAN GOVERNMENT AND SOLDIERS AND WORKMEN'S BODY REACH AGREEMENT.

CONVENTION TO BE CALLED

Aim is to Defend and Develop Results of Revolution and Suppress Revolutionary Activities.

Copenhagen, Nov. 26.—An agreement has been reached between the German soldiers and workmen's council and the government. It is officially announced in Berlin.

The agreement provides: "All political power is to be in the hands of the German socialist republic and the soldiers and workmen's council. Their aim is to defend and develop what has been accomplished by the revolution and to suppress all counter-revolutionary activities."

Central Council Control. "Pending the election of representatives of the soldiers and workmen's council to an executive council of the German republic, the executive council in Berlin is to exercise its functions."

Dismissal of members of various legislative bodies of the republic, and until the final constitution is established, Prussia, are to be made by the central executive council, which also has the right of control.

The convention of deputies drawn from the soldiers and workmen's councils is to be summoned as soon as possible.

London, Nov. 26.—London newspapers display prominently the German notices regarding the agreement between the soldiers and workmen's council and the government, which is regarded as a development of the greatest importance and as a landmark in the history of the German revolution.

Strikes and threatened strikes in various branches of public utilities recently taken over by the government are going to either entirely nullify the idea of a government control and ownership or bring about a condition of anarchy that will destroy all recognized authority, in our opinion. You can't maintain a government that doesn't give results, and no government can be expected to give results who employes in any branch are permitted to quit work in a body or at a critical time, so as to impair the public service. The action of any body of so-called "strikers" in interfering with the right of any individual in lawfully dealing with any branch of the public service or of accepting employment there is not without a considerable right—it is anarchy. A position a man or woman accepts a position under government pay it should be understood that the position, whether as President of the United States or as a cupbearer in the White House, is a public trust and that the rate federal building, must be held until his or her successor has been named and qualified. If government control or ownership is going to make of public office a private snip, we don't believe that the public wants the government to control or own a continental thing.

President Wilson has signed an act passed by Congress which will make the United States "bone dry" after July 1 next until the demobilization of the army. The reason for the law is the recognized danger of the use of liquor in a body of men where discipline and obedience to orders is the first requisite, and the further fact that no plea of the President of the United States nor of the war department have sufficed to impress upon the minds of some liquor dealers the need of refusing to sell to men in the armed forces of our country. It is again the old story of the effect of the abuse rather than the use of liquor. Some men know that no amount of prohibitory legislation can subvert nature's laws of fermentation but many men feel that the sale of the product should be curtailed so as to guard the public welfare rather than gratify any private taste. Even though national prohibition should come, that will not settle the question for the public mind finally settles again on a means of using without abusing, the sale will be resumed. As we see it, it is entirely a matter of "keeping within bounds."

This is Thanksgiving Day—the distinctly American festival day of thanksgiving to Almighty God for His blessings that this year, of life, peace and prosperity. Other nations have, and always have had, their days of thanksgiving to their gods, their patron saints or the Almighty God of our conception, but this day is as distinctly an American festival as is the Fourth of July. Let us settle the question for the public mind finally settles again on a means of using without abusing, the sale will be resumed. As we see it, it is entirely a matter of "keeping within bounds."

Senator George H. Sullivan, of Stillwater, one of the ablest men in the legislature, was defeated for reelection by 40 votes and has contested on grounds that seem to promise his being seated if he proves his contention. Those who do not agree with George Sullivan on many questions recognize his ability and his worth as a legislator.

The recent death of the eldest son of Senator and Mrs. J. A. Rystrom, of North Branch, at his home near Junderson, Canada, from influenza, is a matter of interest and regret to his Rystrom's hosts of friends in Pine county.

The "Red" Socialist meeting to have been held in Minneapolis on Sunday last was prevented by Governor Burquest. If ever there was a time when that sort of thing should be prevented, it is now.

Methodist Church Notes
All are urged to attend the Thanksgiving service in the church at 10 o'clock this Thursday—morning. Come with a feeling of thanksgiving and let us do our part in making the day and its spirit truly one of thankfulness to Him.

Black Coffee For Two A Thanksgiving Tale by Mary Graham Bonner

There was a general discussion as to the ways the holiday would be observed at the downstair door Miss Johnson separated from her companion and went out to the elevator.

"Courtnay," called Mr. Brown. "Yes, sir," he answered. "Did that new shipment come in today?"

"No sir," said Mr. Courtney. "I don't believe we'll get it in until Monday night."

"Oh, all right, I just wondered. Say, young man, don't look so glum. Get a pretty girl and go out for the day to-morrow. You need cheering up. It's what I need, too. And I'll have it, because I've got a little peach for you. Quite a sport for an old boy, eh?"

"Quite," said Mr. Courtney, quietly. "I don't care much for girls, that is, most girls."

"Hahn," grunted Mr. Brown as the younger man left his office. "Palling for the bird, eh? I don't see it. He doesn't get a smile on his face once in a while."

"I don't know what for girls, that is, most girls."

standing waiting for seats, looking annoyed and anxious of those who were most finished but who took so long over their coffee. That of course had no right to take so long over their coffee, their expressions read quite plainly. But Mr. East was smiling and always held his grounds for a moment or two.

"But this evening there were few at East's. The whole place looked strangely empty."

"Plenty of tables tonight," said Miss Johnson.

"Yes, miss," Mr. East smilingly admitted. "But I suppose the waiter who is an extra man I give for Thursday evening they would not be eating home. Trouble isn't that, although, but here in the business section there ain't"

"I see you've ordered the Specials," Miss Johnson said. "I'm glad to see you do today. Have your choice of table."

What Determines Meat and Live-Stock Prices?

Some stock men still think that Swift & Company—and other big packers—can pay as little for live-stock as they wish.

Some consumers are still led to believe that the packers can charge as much for dressed meat as they wish.

This is not true. These prices are fixed by a law of human nature as old as human nature itself—the law of supply and demand.

When more people want meat than there is meat to be had, the scramble along the line to get it then sends prices up. When there is more meat than there are people who want it, the scramble all along the line to get rid of it within a few days, while it is still fresh, sends prices down.

When prices of meat go up, Swift & Company not only can pay the producer more, but have to pay him more, or some other packer will.

Similarly, when prices recede all down the line Swift & Company cannot continue to pay the producer the same prices as before, and still remain in the packing business.

All the packer can do is to keep the expense of turning stock into meat at a minimum, so that the consumer can get as much as possible for his money, and the producer as much as possible for his live-stock.

Thanks to its splendid plants, modern methods, branch houses, car routes, fleet of refrigerator cars, experience and organization, Swift & Company is able to pay for live cattle 90 per cent of what it receives for beef and by-products, and to cover expense of production and distribution, as well as its profit (a small fraction of a cent per pound), out of the other 10 per cent.

Swift & Company, U. S. A.
