HERE MONDAY

The last number of this winter's Lyceum course will be given in the Family theatre next Monday evening April 4th, when Harry L. Starnes will appear with "Wonders of Electricity".

This is reported to be one of the best numbers of the winter's program. Mr. Starnes, called the "Electrical Wizard", gives many demonstrations with the latest electrical inventions and equipment. His entertainment is the latest as well as entertaining. The program starts promptly at eight o'clock.

Bastien to Leave

W. H. Bastien, leader of the local band for the past year and a half, announces he has accepted a position as leader of the band at Basel.

Mr. Bastien was hired by the Development Association as band leader in October, 1919 for one year at $75 per month. Last October he was reengaged at $90 per month for another year. It was planned to raise the money by popular subscription and $250 was appropriated by the village council. The council gave $165 last year.

Many members of the boys band and the older band who have purchased new instruments and taken private lessons anticipating a leader here until next fall, at least, are wondering if another leader will be engaged.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Our old and respected friends, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Stevens, well known throughout the county by all the old timers, they having been the first settlers east of the government road, having settled here 43 years ago, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, yesterday—Wednesday.

Over 40 friends and relatives were present, notwithstanding the poor condition of the roads. A very enjoyable time was had and many beautiful presents were given to the happy couple, reminding them of the happy event, 43 years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens reside about 4 miles east of Rock Creek.

The Pine Poker joins with their many friends in wishing them many more happy anniversaries such as they enjoyed yesterday.

Hinckley Drug Co. Sells

Bert Keyes last week disposed of his interest in the drug store to John F. Danger of Abraham, and the business was turned over to Mr. Danger on Friday.

Mr. Keyes has not yet decided as to his future plans, but for the next few weeks will remain in the store and assist in making his successor acquainted with the people of the community. Mr. Keyes has been the owner of the store for a number of years and found the work confining that he wishes to locate somewhere that will keep him more in the open. During his stay in Hinckley he has made many friends who hope he will find an opportunity that will enable him to remain with us.

Mr. Danger, who is a young man, has had considerable experience in the drug line. He is a graduate of the Minnesota Institute of Pharmacy in Minneapolis and a registered pharmacist. Since leaving school he has been employed at Wilmar, Cambridge and Rush City. He seems to be a very affable gentleman and the News predicts success for him in his new venture and joins with the people of this community in welcoming him to our midst.—Hinckley News

HIRE LEADER

The Pine County livestock breeders association met at the theatre in Hinckley, last Saturday afternoon, for the purpose of devising ways and means of hiring a leader for the boy and girl club work in the county.

Those attending the meeting were entertained by a "movie" which lasted an hour or more following which Mr. Howard, representative of the University farm, spoke on the Boys and Girl Club work. This movement was started nationally about 10 years ago, and there are now over 600,000 members in the clubs in the United States. There were 7 paid leaders in Minnesota last year, and plans are already under way in different localities for at least 25 leaders in the state this year.

The members of the club are required to keep an accurate record of the pig, calf, or whatever they may decide to raise. The best pure bred pig raised by members of the club in the county, is sent to the state fair and the best market pigs go to live stock show at the South St. Paul stock show in the fall. The clubs members raise calves, pigs, poultry, notes, or anything they desire. This important thing is to get them started and to keep up the interest. This is only possible when there is a paid leader to work with the children, through the summer.

There are a number of ex-service men, who were injured in the service, attending the Federal school of agriculture. The government pays these men $100 a month while they are receiving their education, and arrangements have been made by the University farm, whereby they are given special training for club work, and are available to counties at $25 per month and travelling expenses for 4 months. The total cost to the county is estimated at about $500 for the 4 months.

After some discussion, it was unanimously voted to hire a leader for Pine county and subscriptions were taken at the meeting, those subscribing are listed below.

The boy and girl are the most important factor in the family, and of all the different club movements and organizations in the state—and there are many—the boy and girl club are the most important to our mind. The boys

ATTEND CLINIC

Dr. Greubner, child specialist, examined 31 children yesterday morning, and 51 in the afternoon, at the clinic being held in the local high school.

Dr. Sculley, who was on hand to extract teeth, was taken quite seriously ill and had to go home. He had installed a dental chair and was already for business. His parents, who had brought their children for dental examinations were keenly disappointed, but they didn't feel half as bad over it as Dr. Sculley.

An eye, ear, nose, throat and dental clinic will be held in the near future.

Dr. Greubner will examine children today also. Miss Nicell, county nurse, and many of the local women are assisting with the work.

Dancing Season Opens

The spring dancing season was officially opened by the Leon Heath post, at the armory, last Monday evening, with their big Easter ball. A good crowd was present and enjoyed the music given by the Ambassador orchestra. The post netted a tidy sum for their treasury.

Three dances are fixed for Saturday night of this week. Angelo Yotti will play for a dance at Prochaska's hall at Beroun. The Wilson orchestra will furnish the music at a dance in the Chengras town hall. Remlin's Harp orchestra will give a dance at Rock Creek in the Woodman hall.

A dance was announced in the Poleskians town hall for this coming Saturday but owing to bad roads it has been postponed until Saturday, May 7th.

Bedde Will Speak

As a special attraction at their band concert on Friday evening, April 25th, the Askov band has secured J. Adam Bedde of Pine City for a humorous talk. Mr. Bedde is a great favorite in Askov and this will be good news to the people here.

The band boys are working hard to make it a good concert and are looking forward to a clubhouse that evinces good taste in mid-April 25th.—Askov American.

Fire at Albrecht Home

A fire alarm was sent in from the Wm. Albrecht home on Cross lake, last Sunday evening, about 7 o'clock, for a summons to do what making the trip in his service car, and taking hand chemicals which quickly extinguished the blaze.

April 1st is a day of uncertainties. The ancient plug hat on the sidewalk probably conceals a brick, and just around the corner a mischievous boy is waiting to yell "April Fool!"

But these are just pranks which we all expect on that mischievous day.

It's the unexpected things in life that may have the most serious consequences—and every day has its share of these uncertainties.

When unexpected things happen a good bank account comes in mighty handy. And every day our officers are available for consultation.

American Legion Corner

The Spirit of the Legion

Three years ago, under the leadership of General Pershing, the United States built up, in a short time, one of the greatest armies the world has ever known. It was composed of young men, of whom more than one hundred thousand were Minnesotans.

The greatness of that army was due to its patriotism, which gave all, even life, without counting the cost, for love of liberty and country. That spirit did not die when the American army disbanded. It still lives in the hearts of 4,000,000 men who united in the American Legion.

The American Legion represents patriotism, loyalty to country and comrades, devotion to the ideals and principles on which the republic was founded. It stands loyally behind its disabled buddies and insists that they receive proper care, treatment and compensation. And it stands for the square deal for all former service men. But above all, it stands for it works for, and it believes in "The Glory that is America."

The Glory that is America

In April 1917, America meant to most of us a sponge saturated with riches out of which we all hoped to squeeze our share. And then, across the sunlit land came the somber shadow of war and we heard a voice calling to us, "What have you to give to your Country?"

On that day a new generation arose here. Fearless boys became men and more wonderful became the defenders of their homeland. So today, in 4,000,000 of us, the same America has a new meaning. In it we have a pride we never knew before. Into the fabric of our national life we have wrought our thoughts, our hopes and our ideals. Interovert in the Stars and Stripes is now the white of our unshaken devotion, the blue of our unshaken faith, and the warm red of the blood our comrades shed in its defense. Oh, America, the mother of all, and the hope of the world, in the strong hearts of 4,000,000 who answered your call in the hour of your need is your bulwark, your defense and your glory.

This inviolable glory, the intangible greatness that is America cannot be destroyed. It consists of the hopes, ideals, and the beliefs that grip our hearts and spur us on to righteous thinking and fearless action—beliefs that we live to uphold and would willingly die that our children might inherit. This is not the time to let the fires of patriotism burn low. This is not the time to surrender our faith to the foes of America. Let us stand boldly forth and set our faces the flint against every man who is against America. Let us keep the sacred fires of national joyfully burning. Let a lifetime of devotion to American ideals and institutions be our living memorial to the dead. Let us dedicate every day of every year to the noble task of preserving for our children the government of our fathers under which we have prospered so well.

This is a duty we owe every soldier who sleeps in that long chain of battle fields that have been immortalized with American blood. It is the duty we owe these brave women who never settle nor cry but who proudly wear a star of gold. It is the duty we owe ourselves as Americans. It is the duty we owe our God as men. Our duty—to keep the pathway of liberty open to even the humblest of God's freemen—is the purpose, the pride and "The Glory that is America."

SUPREME COURT DEFINES 'INCOME'

Government Wins Three Sweeping Victories Under Income and Excess Profits Act.

WILL RELIEVE TREASURY

No Estimate Could Be Obtained on Amount Attracted by Decision—Entire Court Indorses Each Opinion.

Washington—Three sweeping victories were won by the government in the supreme court yesterday in the case of the "income" for the assessment of taxes under the income and excess profits act.

The court held that any gain derived from corporate securities or corporate assets, and any increase in the value of a capital asset, even if not realized, is taxable as income. In each case the opinion was indorsed by the entire court.

Help for Treasury Department. Solicitor General Frierson, who heard the opinions read, interpreted them as upholding in principle the contentions of the government. He believed elimination of problems involved in cases decided would go far toward relieving the Treasury department of inconvenience, it has suffered as a result of multilingual tax litigation facing it the last year.

No estimate could be obtained as to the amount in dollars and cents affected by the court's action. Apparently with a view of clearing the dock early of all important tax questions, the court before recessing said April 11, advanced its views on the bearings of arguments in the inheritance tax and the inheritance tax case.

Court Selects "Key Case." The "key case" selected by the court for decision was the appeal brought by the Merchants Loan and Trust company, as trustee of the estate of Arthur Byrson of Chicago, from a decision of Illinois courts upholding assessments levied by Internal revenue officials on profits realized through the sale of certain trust securities.

In the trust fund were 9,500 shares of the stock of T. Hyerson & Son, a corporation, which were valued at $61,000 on March 1, 1913, but which were sold in 1917 for $1,250,000.

Collection of the tax on the difference in value between March, 1913, and the date of sale, as income, was upheld by the court in the decision given.

"Income." The word "income" was defined by the supreme court in a case under the corporation tax act of 1909, Justice Clark said, as "a gain derived from capital, from labor or from both combined."

The definition, frequently approved by this court, the opinion continued, "received an addition in the latest income tax decision (Coffey v. Commissioner) which is especially significant in its application to such a case as we have here. The definition is broad, and reads: 'Income may be defined as a gain derived from capital, from labor or from both combined, provided it is understood to include profits gained through sale or conversion of capital assets.'"

New York—An eighty-mile gale sweeping down on New York tore off roofs, uprooted trees, and scattered wreckage in at least two deaths, and brought a touch of real winter.

The weather bureau declared the gale to be mostly local in character, but part of a general storm in the East. Reports from Plainfield, N. J., declare a hurricane in a half-mile path through that town.

The temperature dropped rapidly with a heavy down-pour of rain on the heels of the squall. Later it turned into sleet and hail.

JOHN BURROUGHS DEAD

Noted Nature Writer Dies On Way to Celebrate 84 Birthday.

Famed for His Highly Developed Power of Observation of Animals and Flowers.

John Burroughs, the great naturalist, died on a New York Central train near Kingsville, Ohio, on his way home from California. He had been very ill for six weeks with an abscess on the chest and heart and with kidney complications.

He was so eager to get home that the long journey was undertaken with the hope that he could survive. The end came, however, a few minutes after he had asked:

"How near home are we?" His physician, Dr. Clara Harris, his granddaughter Francis Burroughs, and the Misses Eleanor and Harriet Burroughs accompanied him on the journey.

Burroughs, it was said, had hoped to reach home before April 3 to celebrate his 84th birthday with old friends. His 84th was celebrated with a great gathering which included his particular friends, Henry Ford, B. S. Firestone and Thomas A. Edison.

The event was to have taken place at his home in Floral Park, near Poughkeepsie.

Burroughs was the venerable dean of nature writers in the United States. Through a score of books he shared with countless readers his lifelong intimate study of birds, bees, flowers and the whole of nature. His highly developed power of observation and the charm of his interpretations were the marvel of his critics.

His flowing white beard, his kindly eyes, his white hair, and his literary style were rather reminiscent of that famous New England school of essayists a generation or two before him.

The number of dead totaled two, Mrs. Lou Fisher, whose home in the outskirts of Rushmore was destroyed, by the twister, having died of injuries later.

NOLAN BILL ADVANCED

Coordination of Police Activities Sought by Measure—Duzen Measures Claim Eminent Importance of Lawmakers.

St. Paul—The Wicker-Nolan bill, creating the office of state public safety commissioner with power to coordinate the police activities of the cities, was advanced to the calendar of the senate subject to amendment. The bill was introduced in both houses after a vote of 60 to 35 it passed a bill providing for a compulsory system for the payment of bank deposits.

By a vote of 60 to 35 it passed a bill providing for a compulsory system for the payment of bank deposits. It postponed indefinitely another voluntary bill.

It returned to its author an compulsory bill. As matters now stand, two bills will go to the Senate from the House, one of them establishing a system whereby banks have the option of participating, and the other of establishing a system whereby banks will be forced to participate in a guaranty fund.

The first bill passed had been filed receiving only 65 votes, lacking the one vote necessary to insure passage. After a recess, after a 10-minute change of votes, the bill turned up with the required 70 votes.

The second measure was the one recommended by the committee on banking and it had the approval of the bankers of the state because it provided for the creation of a guaranty fund. It was left to the banks themselves to determine whether or not they wanted to participate. It was agreed that the advertising participating banks received would make all banks enter the system.

Senator W. E. Nolan, co-author of the bill, said he did not care to make two arguments for the measure, but the vote for advancement was 25 to 13. Senator E. M. Erickson, of Duluth, said he would not vote for the bill.
