CELEBRATION BIG SUCCESS PROGRAM PLEASES CROWD

Fireworks at the Water

Firewater at the Works

The Fourth of July celebration in Pine City was a decided success and drew a big crowd to town, to take part in the day's festivities.

Following the parade at 10:30 the day's program, at the park was ushered in by speachmaking at 11:30 and was closed at the park by more speachmaking about 7:30.

After the excitement of games and contests and the games of the afternoon, kids were sitting in the park, about supper time, waiting until time to adjourne to the lake to witness the fireworks, when they were galvanized into action by the fireworks on the main street, caused by the advance of the principles, who took part in the evening's one-round debate.

Marching to the tune of the my-go-round organ, the leaders of the impromptu entertainment round the corner and commenced the triumphant march up the avenue followed by most of the kids in town.

Amidst soap-box oratory of the most kind, with the strong arms of the law waving to and fro, the chairman of the concession committee was "burned to a frazzle," and consumed to the regions below.

The referee endeavored to have the debators argue according to "Marquis of Queensbury Rules" but his plans were frustrated and the procession moved grandly on, with much outburst of loud vocal abuse of the crowd in general, and the chairman in particular.

After the grand swing around the circuit, the cavalcade dispersed and the concessionaires continued on the even tenor of their way. The sun sank over the western horizon and the moonshine was king of all it surveyed.

Festivities were opened at 10:30 with a short concert in Robinson park. The parade consisting of de- cades passed that the band and chem- ical and fire engine followed. Miss Maudie Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Wells, headed the parade on horseback. First prize for the decorated float was given to Marion Lones. E. A. Leinen received second and Geo. Fyten 3rd. Cecil Blanchard and John Corrigan were given a special prize for the best comedy stunt.

M. B. Hurley made the address of the day, speaking from the platform in the park to a large audience.

The sports program was run on the main street. This was followed by the ball game at the fair grounds between Willow River and Pine City. The local boys played a fine game and defeated the visitors by a score of 11 to 2. It looked like a shut out game until the eighth inning, when Willow scored two runs.

The fireworks display, in the evening was said by many spectators to be one of the best ever held in the city.

Nearly 250 tickets were sold to the fair, the money which wound up the day's program.

The day was apid one for a celebration and the large crowd was a quiet one, seeming to get real pleasure out of the celebration, there being very little disturbance.

After the grand swing around the circuit, the cavalcade dispersed and the concessionaires continued on outside, the small cities and villages is placed entirely under the jurisdiction of the state highway department.

The answer was made to many inquiries from village and other officials.

Commissioner Baehood announced that routes through cities and villages will be the most direct and convenient for highway users in general, and that when feasible they will afford favorable views of the city or village.

Many Auto Accidents

Pine City vicinity has been the scene of numerous auto wrecks the past few days. Space not time will permit going into elaborate details. It has kept the garages busy towing crippled cars to the repair shops.

Two cars went into the ditch south of town Sunday night. Two cars crashed together near the bridge over the river. One car was traveling south and one west, they met at the street intersection. Joe Therrien is wondering why they paid $50,000 to see two engines crash together at the start fair, when you can get the same thrill while sitting on your front porch enjoying the cool of the evening. None of the occupants of either car were hurt.

A car occupied by some elderly people headed for Duluth went into the ditch about a mile north of town yesterday afternoon. The car was badly damaged and we understand one of the occupants received a broken ankle.

A big car went through town about 6 o'clock, yesterday evening, with the cut-out wide open, traveling between 40 and 50 miles an hour. Judging by the noise it made a person would think they were traveling about a hundred miles an hour. The authorities phoned to Rush City to stop them but they had gone through there at full speed and by the time Rush City got in touch with North Branch, they had shown that town their dust. The car bore a Wisconsin license plate.

Some of the people do not believe it is safe to do with speeders is to arrest them and fine them, not turn them loose. They not only endanger their own lives, but every one else's along the road. The state or county should put on motorcycle policemen and stop these tourists that burn up the road, 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Some of the recent accidents were due to speed, and some due to carelessness. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

Commissioner Fixes Routes

The routing and improvement of trunk highways within, as well as between the various cities and towns in the state will be done with speders to arrest them and fine them, not turn them loose. They not only endanger their own lives, but every one else's along the road. The state or county should put on motorcycle policemen and stop these tourists that burn up the road, 40 or 50 miles an hour.

Some of the recent accidents were due to speed, and some due to carelessness. Fortunately no one was seriously hurt.

Rock Creek Wins

Rock Creek defeated Pine City on the local diamond last Sunday, by a score of 8 to 6. This is the first game Rock Creek has won, and they are now tied with Pine.

The visitors played fine ball and were in the game all the time. Ad Carlson pitched the first half of the game for the Greeks and held the local boys down in good shape. His arm was in the shape it was before he went to war, he would show up with 100% of the pitchers in the league.

Pine City's new players got away to a bad start, Sunday, but were more at home and played better ball Monday. The team as it now stands is pretty well balanced.

G. O. P. SPLIT OVER TARIFF

Fear Says Party Violates Its Pledges and Proposes Indefensible Rates.

Washington—A break in the ranks of Republican members of the House of Representatives has delayed the tariff bill, came with the making public by Representative Frazier of Wisconsin, of a minority statement charging his colleagues with disregard of the principles of the bill.

Mr. Frazier's attack, while predicated on the "ratification" of the control and extension of the other features of the bill, nevertheless declared the rates of duty to be excessive in scores of instances and called for a reduction of the rates by "trusts and monopolies" thus increasing the burden the people must pay.

stroyed. The loss is heavy, although both buildings were insured.

The fire was discovered about 4 o'clock in the afternoon and farmers from the surrounding country hurried to town to assist. A bucket brigade was formed but it was impossible to save the buildings.

About fifty feet of hose belonging to the Pine City department was burned. It was so hot that it was necessary for members of the department to wrap themselves in wet sacks while fighting the fire.

The Hinckley department was called and their equipment was rushed to Beroun by train. It wasn't unloaded as the fire was under control when they arrived.

Bars City Paving Refunds

State trunk highway funds cannot be used lawfully to reimburse cities for permanent improvements on trunk routes within their corporate limits, under a recent ruling in the office of Attorney General C. L. Bitton.

Companies are legally entitled to such reimbursements, it is held, under a specific guaranty in Amendment No. 1.

St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, as is generally known, are expressly barred from using in the funds, but Red Wing, St. Croix Falls, Clayton, Pipestone and Wabasha and some cities hit by the ruling. The amount involved exceeds $500,000 according to an estimate by O. L. Klop, chief construction engineer in the highway department.

All Foods Are Delicious when Cooked
Electric Way

The art of cooking received its greatest impetus when the Electric Range was developed to its present state of perfection. Never before were such dainty foods prepared. Bright, light as snow and golden-crusted; biscuits, cakes and pastries of surprising goodness, testify to the fireless cooker principle of the oven, with its insulated, heat-retaining walls and its evenly distributed heat. Meat, fish and game all find their true worth when cooked in their natural juices on the Electric Range. They shrink less in cooking, and taste better because of the flavor-enclosing, searing effect of cleanly electric heat of the broiler and cover.

A revelation awaits you when you first use an Electric Range. Ask some friend who owns one if this is not so. Then investigate the modern way of cooking for use in your home.

(There are six vital reasons why you should own an Electric Range: It is modern, cool, cleanly, convenient, cooks better food and does it in a scientific manner. If you will call at our office we shall be glad to explain the many superiorities of the Electric Range.)

Here's why CAMELS are the quality cigarette

BECAUSE we put the utmost quality into this one brand. Camels are as good as it's possible for skill, money and lifelong knowledge of fine tobaccos to make a cigarette.

Nothing is too good for Camels. And bear this in mind! Everything is done to make Camels the best cigarette it's possible to buy. Nothing is done simply for show.

Take the Camel package for instance. It's the most perfect packing science can devise to protect cigarettes and keep them fresh. Heavy paper—secure foil wrapping—revenue stamp to seal the fold and make the package air-tight. But there's nothing flashy about it. You'll find no extra wrappers. No frills or furbelows.

Such things do not improve the smoke any more than premiums or coupons. And remember—you must pay their extra cost or get lowered quality.

If you want the smoothest, mellowest, mildest cigarette you can imagine—and one entirely free from cigarette aftertaste,

It's Camels for you.

Coining "Cartwheels"

For the first time in seven years the United States mint has now begun coining silver dollars, and is to produce $270,000,000 to take the place of an equal amount sold to Great Britain.

These silver dollars will never again circulate so freely among the people as they used to. Some fallow however like the old white dollars, as they can give such a substantial sense of money, and a round shiny coin looks as if it ought to buy a bit more than a greasy bill.

It used to be a favorite trick at dances and excursions for the boys to agree to pay their dues for the same to the collector all in silver dollars. The latter would soon be loaded up with a heap of heavy jingling coins, which announced his presence for some distance.

In these times when a dollar doesn't go far, the fellow who paid off in silver would find himself well down. Women in particular would never like the big silver coins again, as they will fit into their tiny little change bags and fancy purses.

Recreation

When summer brings its endless days of hot and sticky tasks, the warm and weary business man himself that question asks: "How heat can I arrange my work? So I some rest may take And fish a while in quiet ease At river or on lake?"

And so he packs and journeys forth. Upon his eager quest He wants a place where he can fish And swim and sleep and rest. It's great he thinks to spend a week Forgetting all his ill-fate But there's a different story when he comes to pay his bills.

The bushes near his fishing camp In strips of silver white Gleam through the woods he wanders in.

Upon some moonlight night; The breezes from the water stir The gently sighing pines— Next day he finds he's visited Some poison ivy vines.

And when at last the day has come To terminate his stay At this conclusion he arrives As home he takes his way: "It's fine to get away awhile When fishing's at its best, But after all I've got to come back home again to rest attached."

—Riley Ryk

The boys who are looking for summer job do not object to working in the offices where the girls are employed.

So far the scientists and physiologist have offered no satisfactory explanation why a cause with a fellow and a girl in it is much more likely to upset than one with two men or two girls.

It is hard for the ice man to show the proper degree of regret when the people are suffering with the hot weather.

The taxpayers who are indignant at the lack of intelligence manifested by the common people, often kick terribly at having to put up money for school buildings.

Being told that they should take more interest in current events, a lot of people have been reading the Democracy-Carpenter fight news.

President Harding asks Congress to speed up, and if showing in the oats bug does not produce results, it may be necessary to pull Old Hickory out from the bottom of the ocean.

Boys realize the value of study, doing chemistry now and then a chemist has discovered a material that will make it easier to pitch curve balls.

President Harding has decided to make no speeches for six weeks, but none of the Congressmen have made any such rash resolve.

A lot of the people who bitterly condemn government extravagance are boasting mighty hard to go some federal money for their state roads.

The real "Yellow Peril" is the fly girls in the orange colored dresses. By some strange contradiction the girls who take so much pains to color their faces are equally persistent in their efforts to whiten their judge.

Great demands for guidebooks along the highways, particularly one showing the road to Normandy.

Most of the states so far report a male population in excess of the female, but the latter seem more to manage to keep up the public eye.

The kids who sit short time ago came home jubilantly singing "We more teacher, no more school" are about now wishing they had something regular to do to fill up their time.

So far no one has suggested that Congress adjourn to the island of York, but it would be a fitting place for its deliberations.

The consumer is said always to present in the case of the female consumer, that is in open, extended and exposed location.

All Congress has to do is to get out a tariff that will please everybody to raise the duties on everything that people have to sell, and lower them on everything that people have to buy.

MOTOR BOAT REAL CHURCH

Gospel Ship on Puget Sound of Great Comfort to People in Remote Regions.

Of the 10 counties of western Washington 18 are accessible to seagoing vessels, according to Agnes Lockhart Hughes, in Everybody's. Hence the Roger G. Seymour, a floating church operated by Puget Union, sent by Rev. William R. Hough, has his church.

During the four years that the Robert G. Seymour has been in operation it has traveled on an average of 3,000 miles a year, carrying religion to isolated and coastal villages on the coast, regularly visiting ports and as many foreign camps bringing religion to those who cannot seek it. The boat is gone often for a month at a time, and often remains several months the harbors, gales and even experience on the sound. Not infrequently after a sermon delivered aboard the gospel ship, on shore, some woman will approach Farmer Seymour and say "I am going to see my doctor." He replies "I am going to the latest style in dresses and hats, and always an answer is forthcoming—for the good pilot never omits to include fashion sketches in his hymn book.

One man who anticipated that a sermon preached recently by the captain of the Gospel boat was the first she had heard in a dozen years. She was the mother of nine children and had had no opportunity previously of hearing a church service.

—Aloof.

"Who is your choice for the nomination?" Farmer Cortonness was asked.

"I haven't made up my mind," replied Farmer Cortonness. "Nobody asked me to do so, but I don't see any sense in me leaving work at both ends—guaranteed—true shadow.

JUST AS IMPORTANT

Waiting until the real hot weather is here before starting to take ice may be false economy.

Food which you may think absolutely untainted but which is unfit for the human system, is very common at this season of the year.

Food kept ice-cold is more pleasant to the palate and keeps appetites whetted for every meal.

"NOW-A-DAYS"

says the Good Judge

A man can get a heap more satisfaction from a small chew of this class of tobacco, than he ever could get from a big chew of the old kind.

He finds it costless, too. The good tobacco taste lasts so much longer he doesn't need to have a fresh chew nearly as often.

Any man who uses the Real Tobacco Chew will tell you that.

THEY WHO DANCE MUST PAY THE FIDDLER. CANNOT TAKE MORE THAN YOU GIVE

He who dances must pay the fiddler. That is an old saying which is full of truth. The primary idea in this saying, of course, is that one cannot have any pleasure without paying for it. This is true, but that is not the only sense in which it may be construed. It means that we cannot pursue any foolish policy indefinitely without paying for it in the end.

The man can overtax his physical strength indefinitely without risking ultimate disaster. Dissipation of overwork may be construed as a time without any noticeable results, but if continued for a sufficiently long time the inevitable comes to pass. The result of mere dissipation is not death, but it does take out of life more than he puts in, if he tears down his physical physical strength faster than he builds it up, he must eventually pay the fiddler.

What is true of the laws of nature is equally true of economic laws. The people of a community may for a time tear down the commercial structure of a town faster than they build it up without meeting disaster; but it cannot be continued indefinitely. In the end they must pay.

The person who makes his living in a community receives money from the community for his labor or the products of his labor and then spends his income outside of his community is helping to exhaust the resources of the community just as the man who expends his energy through dissipation of overexertion faster than he builds it up is exhausting his physical resources. One man may do this, of course, without noticeably affecting the economic structure of the community, but when a dozen or more do it the effect becomes noticeable and the resources of the community become exhausted to the point where collapse is inevitable. Those who are responsible for this situation think that they have profited individually by their actions, but they have not realized that in the end they must pay the fiddler.

There are some persons who seem to be able to get through life without much effort. There are some who proceed on the theory that the world owes them a living and they proceed to collect it. They take what they can get and give nothing in return. Such persons, however, are not very numerous. Most of us must pay for everything that we get. Some may have to pay more than their share and those are carrying the burden of those who get more than their share for. The fact remains that, as a general rule, one cannot have much worth while without paying for it.

The merchants of any community are the backbone of that community, so far as its prosperity and progress are concerned. Individually there may be some of them who do not exert themselves to boost their community, but collectively they are the men upon whom the living of every person in the community depends.

The success or failure of a community depends largely upon the concern of the people to the welfare of a community, but the success or failure of the merchants as a whole is a matter of very greatest concern.

The merchants of a town, in the first place, provide a market for a large part of the products of the farmers in the territory surrounding the town. They buy the products of the farmers in small quantities, in accordance with their need, and some of them buy in larger quantities for shipment to foreign markets. If the merchants could not do this there would be no market, let at least for the small quantities of produce of the farmer.

If the farmers could not realize a reasonable profit from their products there would be no money for them to spend and there could be no money to pay for your products or to pay for your labor. It is therefore of the greatest importance to every member of the community, whether a resident of the town or a farmer in the country surrounding the town, that the merchants be enabled to provide a market for all kinds of products of the farmer's produce.

Every dollar sent away from a town to a mail order house helps to diminish the ability of the local merchants to provide a market for the farmer's products or to do any of the many other things which the merchants of every town do for the community.

Business in a community cannot be conducted on a one-side basis.

A man cannot take out of his community a good living for himself and leave nothing and give nothing in return.

He may do so for a short time and get away with it, but in the end he must pay the fiddler.

FARM DEPARTMENT

South St Paul, Minn., July 2nd, 1921: Because of their extreme scarcity in this and other western livestock markets, best grades of dry-fed cattle are closing with an advance of 25¢ or more, notwithstanding the fact that the best grades of corn fed cattle, easternerners, are closing at the same time at the lowest levels of the year. Dryfed yearlings topped the week's trade, a small lot sold at $8.00, with the best load lot at $7.75. No heavy beef steers passed $7.50, bulk of feed offerings landing between $6.50 and $7.00. Grass steers suitable for beef purposes sold largely from $5.00 to $6.00, such kinds losing around 25 to 50¢. Best cows are moving at $5.00 to $5.50, with best of the heifers going at $6.00 to $6.50, and bulk of butterfat steers going from $2.75 to $3.00. Cows and calves are closing at $1.00 to $2.50, while bologna bulls sold at the finish from $2.50 to $3.50, and light cannon bulls as low as $1.50. Market for veal calves again hit the year's low mark, best lights to packers at the close $6.50. Bargain prices of $3.00 to $5.00 abounded, bulk of the light supply of common and medium stockers and feeders, with one load of good heavy steers at $6.25. Hogs are closing about 25¢ higher on the average, with tops up to 75¢ for the week, range $4.75 to $5.75, bulk $3.00 to $4.50, best lots around $4.75. Sheep closed 50¢ to $1.00 lower, best natives $8.50, sheep steady, choice light eyes $8.50.

Minnesotan farmers again have demonstrated that they lead the country in organization. In the nationwide farm bureau referendum, they cast more votes than the other nine states in the nation in returns. The first report went to national headquarters by the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation giving only incomplete returns from 64 counties, showed 24,000 votes. The first ten states reporting, including Minnesota with its 24,000 votes, showed 48,000 ballots cast.

Although our statesmen are called slow, a congressman can make very fast time up to the capital when it comes to finding a job for a constituent.

A Twice-Told Tale

One interest to our readers:

Good news bears repeating, and when it is confirmed after a long lapse of time, even if we hate to believe it at first hearing, we feel secure in accepting its truth now. The following experience of a Pine City man is confirmed after seven years.

Adolph Kram, Pine City, says: "I was suffering with headaches and giddiness, and the kidney secretions passed gradually. I was advised to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I got some at Breckinridge's Pharmacy and soon found that I had the remedy I needed. I got fine results?"

LASTING RESULTS

Seven years later, Mr. Kram said:

"The cure Doan's Kidney Pills gave me a few years ago still proves permanent. I confirm all I said passing them in other public statements."

"No matter where there is there's a nearby U. S. Dealer with his nearby U. S. Factory Branch"

Who says that "bargain" tires are what the people want

MOST everybody knows the easy-going sort of man who never takes a tire seriously until he gets a blow-out.

How long he will resist universal tire education is a question.

But this is sure—

More people are finding out every day that between leaving things to luck and getting real economy there is a big difference.

Many a car-owner has come to U. S. Tires because he couldn't afford to keep on paying that difference.

Probably seven out of ten users of U. S. Tires came to them only after they'd had enough of "discounts," "bargain offers," "clearance sales of surplus stocks" and other similar appeals.

They have found economy—and they stick to it.

They pay a net price—not "something off list" that may not mean anything in the first place.

They get fresh, live tires, being made and shipped while this message is being written.

No master where they live there's a nearby U. S. Dealer with his nearby U. S. Factory Branch.

U. S. Tires keep moving.

No opportunity to get old and dried out. No shifting here and there trying to find a market.

Every U. S. Tire a good tire, wherever you find it anywhere in the country.

Because the U. S. policy is a good policy that serves the car-owner all the time.

Doing the very best for him that human good faith can do.

THE U. S. CHAIN TRUCK

One of the features of which it may be noted is that they deliver economy, year in and year out, and live after they are sold.

The U. S. Chain Truck gives sufficient traction to all four faces. It is probably the best load-bearing, and for a load of the most rapid, of the whole U. S. line.
