DAWESSHOWSCUT IN U. S. EXPENSES

Budget Plan Will Save Nation at Least 112 Millions This Year.

Washington—Charles G. Dawes, director of the budget, has swung the axe this year. He is survived by a wife and three children, Alvera, Alva and Elmer.

Lofgren had been suffering for many years with a complicated disease caused by catarrh, and for two days before his death had not eaten food.

The chicken house was a modern structure, as chicken houses go, 139 feet long by 16 feet wide, and housed approximately 300 birds, practically all of them being killed, Elmer, the son, had spent several years in building up his flock, and was doing a large business in eggs and poultry. The chicken house set about 20 rods from the house, and many of the windows in the house being blown in by force of the explosion.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the home, Rev. Gustafson officiating, and interment made in Riverside cemetery at Moose Lake. The Hafin undertaking parlor had charge of the arrangements—Moose Lake Gazette.

DEMONSTRATE EXPLOSIVES

Stump Blasting Demonstrated at Hinckley Last Tuesday

A well attended and representative meeting of the different communities in the county, was held at Hinckley, Tuesday afternoon of this week. Prof. Wm. Boss, chief of the engineering division, University farm, was present and fully explained the handling and use of pike acid.

The order banks on which to order the explosive, will be available at the various banks and also the directors of the local Farm Bureau will have a supply of the order blanks. Every one desiring some of the explosive should send their orders in at once. The cost is 70c per pound for 30 lbs. Sparta and the check to cover this amount must accompany order. The freight must be paid at the time the order is received, which will amount to about 2c per pound.

The suggestion was made that permanent land clearing association be formed for the purpose of promoting land clearing with a local chairman in each community to promote the work in that community.

The allotment of pike acid for Pine City is two carloads. If we desire to get this amount, the orders must be sent in promptly in order that we get our allotment and possibly more, if necessary. The points at which the cars will be shipped will be selected so as to accommodate the largest number of orders to best advantage. Send your order in today.

First National Buys Building

The First National Bank of Pine City has purchased the Bussemeier building—adjoining the bank building—owned by Wm. Bussemeier, the deal being completed last week.

The building is occupied by the Petschel restaurant, and they will remain there in that business.

It is the intention of the First National, sometime in the future, to extend its present bank building the same length as the one purchased, and another story, and make one large building out of both of them. When these plans are carried out, it will give Pine City a fine modern office building.

Auto Wreck at Rush City

The Federal Highway near town is becoming a speedway for touring travel and owing to so much traffic a dangerous road these days. Some regulations and restrictions on driving should be imposed by the highway officials. ## Friction—the Pickpocket of Industry

If the loss to industry through unnecessary friction could be entirely eliminated, it would mean a saving of sufficient money to pay off the combined state debt of Illinois, Indiana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri and Kansas in a single year.

—(Moody's Manual)

It would represent twice the value of all the vessels produced in the United States in a normal year, and would be greater in value than the annual rye, barley, or rice crop.

—(Statistical Abstract of U. S.)

The value of power lost to industry through friction has been estimated to reach the staggering total of $185,000,000 annually.

—(Industrial Oil Engineering)

Realizing that friction is an undesirable partner of industry, and feeling its obligation as the leader among manufacturers of lubricants, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has for years maintained a staff of lubricating engineers and lubricating chemists, whose business it has been to consult with industrial engineers to solve for them their individual lubricating problems as they are presented.

The services of these men are given without charge, and the saving effected has been great.

When it is realized that every machine presents a friction problem, and that every industry, from cotton goods to corn flakes is dependent on proper lubrication for turning out its product efficiently, one function of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes more apparent.

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

What would you do? Imagine yourself in love with a girl whose father did not approve of you, and you find him being swindled out of his fortune by a fake get-rich-quick scheme, and he does not believe your disclosures—and well, what would you do?

For many years the Northwest has rung with the name of Di Giorgio, conductor of Minneapolis. Signor Di Giorgio, conductor and his talented family have been playing together for more than twelve years and gradually through the years they have achieved a plane of excellence that today marks them one of the best organizations of their kind in the country. ## FALSE ECONOMY HAS NO VALUE ---BUYING OF CHEAP, INFERIOR GOODS DOES NOT PAY

Economy is one of the greatest of virtues but false economy is no more a virtue than anything else that is false. To be able to economize wisely is one of the greatest blessings that can have, for it is the prerequisite to thrift and well-being. Too many persons, however, who think they have found the secret of true economy are practicing a false economy which is worse than wasteful waste.

For instance, the man who buys a stove from a mail order house for $9 because he thinks he would have to pay $10 for one if he purchased it from his home merchant, is practicing false economy, for the chances are that he would save more than $1 in the end if he purchased the $10 stove from the local hardware dealer.

There are several reasons why this is false economy. The first one is that dollar for dollar, the greater part of the merchandise sold by the mail order houses is of less value than that sold by the retail merchants of the smaller communities. The mail order business, as a whole is built upon cheapness. In order to attract customers the catalogue houses must sell goods cheaply and in order to do that they must sell cheap goods. Their business is built up on price and not on quality. The retail hardware dealer, like retail dealers in other lines, probably can match the price of the mail order houses. He probably has a $9 stove which he can sell to the man who wants to get a stove for $9. The trouble is that the man who buys from the mail order house does not distinguish between price and quality.

The man who buys the $9 stove from the mail order house probably would not buy a $9 stove from his local merchant for in the latter case he would see just what he was buying and might realize that the $9 stove would not meet his needs. He orders a $9 stove from the mail order house, however, just because he has an assurance that the stove will meet his needs. He thinks that he is saving a dollar or two by buying this stove instead of paying $10 or $11 to the home merchant for one that he has seen and knows will give him satisfaction. The chances are that when the stove arrives and he has used it for a short time he will realize that he has practised false economy—that it would have been more economical in the end for him to pay a dollar or two more to his home merchant and get an article that was guaranteed by the dealer.

The patron of the mail order house, also, often fails to take the matter of transportation charges into his purchase. He sees only the price of the article as listed in the mail order catalogue and does not think of the express or freight charges, which with the cost of a money order and postage often make the total cost of the article greater than the price at which the same thing could have been purchased at the local store. Another case of false economy.

Buying merchandise of poor quality because the price is low is often false economy when the purchase is made at the home store but it is doubly so when the merchandise is bought from a mail order house. When buying at home one can be reasonably sure of the article purchased at a low price, while there is no such assurance when it is bought by mail on the "sight unseen plan."

The idea that the mail order houses sell the same quality goods at lower prices than the home merchants is quickly exploded when one learns of the large profits that are made by the majority of the selling expense to which they are subjected. The large mail order house spends thousands of dollars annually for advertising and the selling expenses of the smaller concerns are proportionately as large. Their other expenses, such as rent, taxes and labor, are also higher than those of the local retail merchant, in proportion to the business that they do. In spite of these heavy expenses, the mail order houses distribute millions of dollars in dividends among their stockholders. In one large mail order concern the profits of the stockholders, in cash and stock dividends, have averaged as much as 1,000 per cent on the capital investment in the short period of nine years. This does not indicate that the mail order health and are giving away merchandise to their customers.

The mail order houses have capitalized the desire to economize that by paying price above quality and making cheapness the fundamental element in their business they have succeeded in the minds of their patrons the idea that they are economizing when they buy cheap goods at cheap prices.—Copyright, 1921, Western Newspaper Union.

South St. Paul, July 18 1921.—Although general cattle receipts were somewhat larger than last Monday, and killing classes sold on a slow, steady to weak market, no quotable loss in values was registered at the week's opening. Fed yearling steers and heifers mixed sold in last week's late trade up to $8.90, with several sales from $8.25 to $8.75 and heavy fed steers from $8.00 to $8.50. Similar grades were eligible to about the same money today. No fed yearlings sold, however, but some 1473 lb. averages were purchased by packers at $8.00. Bulk of the supply consisted of grass steers which sold from $6.00 to $7.00. Practically no fat cows or heifers were offered, most of the grassy kinds on hand selling from $4.00 to $6.00, with a few up to $6.50. Carriers and cutters are going from $1.50 to $3.25, hologna bulls, $3.75 to $4.75. Veal calves steady, packer top $8.50, seconds $5.50. Feeding steers sold steady to strong, a few good to choice kinds selling from $1.50 up to around $7.00. Black steers from 750 to 1000 lbs. sold strong to 25c higher, going largely from $2.50 to $5.50.

Market opened strong to higher on lightweight hogs, best lights going from $19.00 to $10.35, bulk of medium and heavyweights $9.00 to $9.75, and rough heavy packers down to $8.00. Good pigs mostly $9.00 to $9.25. Lambs opened 25 to 50c lower, good natives mostly $8.00, culls $4.00, ewes largely $2.50 to $3.50.

The county agents of Minnesota are "reel" from E. Balmer, county agent leader at University Farm, the suggestion that they assist A. J. McGuire, organization manager of the new Minnesota Co-operative Cattleman's Association Inc., in putting through a complete state-wide organization. A series of meetings will be held in the different counties for this purpose.

In Pine City the evidence is supplied by local testimony. If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Pine City, what can it be?

Fred A. Sperring, Pine City, says: I had an attack of kidney trouble. The way my kidneys acted annoyed me and the secretions passed much too often. My back ached a great deal, especially when I had been bending over for any length of time. I didn't feel like myself at all. A tired, drowsy feeling would come over me and last for a long time. Don't's kidney pills soon gave me the first relief and it wasn't long before they cured me. I haven't had any kidney complaint since. Price 50c at all dealers. PALATABILITY OF VARIOUS PLANTS

Some Interesting Information Revealed in Series of Feeding Tests at Beltsville.

SILO FERMENTATION STUDIED

Wild and Tame Sunflowers Devoured Readily When Removed From Silo—Cabbages Were Untouched by Cattle When Silaged.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A series of experimental feeding tests conducted by the United States Department of Agriculture, Beltsville, Md. (310) livestock farm, revealed some interesting information as to the effect of silaging upon the palatability of various plants found on a farm or range.

During the last summer and fall about 350 different plants and combinations of plants were packed in barrels in a silo. The purpose was to study the effect of the silo fermentation upon the fiber, and other features of the plants. It was found that silage made with certain plants, in addition to breaking down the fiber of some which were too woody for stock feed.

Test Palatability. The various lots of silages were taken to Beltsville to test their palatability as cattle feed. The tests were not promoted enough to give final conclusions, but a number of interesting results were obtained. Both wild and tame sunflowers were eaten readily when they came out of the silo, although the peculiar flavor and woody stalk of the former made it distasteful in its natural state.

Russian silage was eaten in the course of about 12 hours, and the same was true of ruzweed, which cattle seldom touch in the field. Canada thistle seed and clover hay plants without seed were eaten quite readily. Jack beane vines and pods were eaten rather sparingly. The cows ate also Australian salt bush, but not the native prairie salt bush.

Siloed tops were not fed to four cows, but when they were crushed they were eaten. Duckweed also proved a choice morsel. Cabbages, which in their natural state are eaten avidly by cattle, were absolutely untouched when silaged, the probable reason being in many respects similar to that of the clover. The silage of Glant rye grass went untouched.

Cattle Fed Regular Rations. The cattle were not compelled to eat any of the silages, but when they were given a regular ration of silage, hay was fed them.

Good Practice That Crops Be Kept Growing Between Trees in Summer and Early Fall.

Good orcharding practice requires, in many instances, that crops be kept growing between the trees during late summer or early fall. For one thing, the soil will need manure and protection from the burning rays of the sun.

When the first rains come in, the soil will be a mass of bare earth, and the crops will be a mass of bare earth.

Most of the legumes are well adapted to grow between the trees. New peas are in many instances better than other summer legumes for this purpose.

When the plants are up and growing, they will protect the soil and add fertility to it for the next season.

KEROSENE WILL HOLD INSECTS IN CONTROL

Mites and Lice Seriously Affect Health of Fowls.

Specialists of Department of Agriculture Recommend Thorough Application of Some Preparation to Interior of House.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Mites, as well as lice, are troublesome and harmful to poultry. They do not live upon the birds like lice, but during the day hide in the cracks and crevices of the roosts and walls of the house and at night they come out and get upon the fowls. After sucking the blood, and if allowed to become plentiful, as they certainly will not be destroyed, they affect not only the health of fowls, and consequently their ability to lay eggs.

Specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture recommend thorough applications of carbolineum, kerosene or some of the other preparations sold for this purpose, or crude petroleum to the interior of the poultry house.

Commercial carbor products are more expensive, but retain their killing power longer, and the cost of treatment may be lessened by reducing the amount of kerosene used.

Crude petroleum will spray better if thinned with one part of kerosene to four parts of crude oil. But the crude petroleum and the carbor products often contain foreign particles, so should be strained before attempting to spray. One must be sure that the spray reaches all the cracks and crevices.

It is good practice to remove the dropping boards, and nests, and the material should be repeated two or three times at intervals of a week or ten days.

Cattle Fed Regular Rations. The cattle were not compelled to eat any of the silages, but when they were given a regular ration of silage, hay was fed them.

The unfortunate man started dancing about and groaning in agony. The bricklayer stared down at him, with something like contempt in his eyes.

"Come, come," he called down to him. "It can't have hurt as much as that, man! Why, it wasn't on your head, it was a second!"—Fittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

The Advantage Was His—"Janette, I'm afraid you are a valiant little wife. You gave your man a good punch."

"You ought to blame me for that. I haven't your advantage."

"What's that?"

"You can see my face without looking into a mirror."

Highway Department News

More than $3,000,000 of state and $4,000,000 of county-bond improvements in fifty scattered localities will under way together with the $3,000,000-a-year maintenance system, the Minnesota highway development program for 1921 now is waiting on Congress.

Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, this week made public a desire to add more than $2,000,000 of grading and grave-surfacing and $300,000 of paving to the construction for this season. That will be made possible, he explained, only through the early passage by congress of legislation continuing Minnesota's federal allotment of $2,810,000 a year.

"Unless federal aid is soon forthcoming on the old basis," said Commissioner Babcock, "the highway department must cut in two its new construction plans for this year. It will mean that highway users in Minnesota will receive in 1921 only half the improvements planned. Early passage of the so-called Phipps-Dowell or 'farmers road' bill for which we have been fighting hard with the co-operation of the National Farm Bureau federation, however will result in the full measure of first year benefits under Amendment No. 1. Failure of such legislation or even passage of the Townsend seriously handicap the launching of the road roads program in this state. Minnesota citizens and public organizations, as before suggested can assist by petitioning members of congress to use their offices to bring about continuation of federal aid on the old basis."

Awards of $350,000 of new construction contracts late this month will be the last of the season, the commissioner said, barring prompt favorable action by congress.

Flying Fox Australian Pest

The flying fox has appeared in South Australia as a new fruit pest. Farmers have killed quite a number of these creatures. A correspondent at Port Wakefield writes: "This morning some crows, while marauding amongst the bushes near the elite target, put up a flying fox, which took a direct course for the river, about a mile distant. The crows followed, but when the fox leaped the loop amongst them they quickly flew in another direction. The flying fox appeared to be about 3 feet wide across the wings. It had a fair amount of spread, the wings and much resembled a bat. The flying fox, so-called because of its fox-shaped head, has been previously found in other parts of Australia and is sometimes known as the fruit bat."

An Everlasting Memorial

Nature has a great part in the lasting and beautiful memorial that is erected to the local service men in the city of Santa Monica, Cal. It is to be a large open-air theater, and will take the conventional Greek form with seats arranged in concentric tiers. The orchestral area in the center and pillared stage at the bottom of the slope. As in the conventional theaters of ancient Greece, the site and background will be a beautiful wooded hillside.

The level area in the center will be floored with mosaic stone work. This beautiful tribute to the service men will no doubt be the pride of the citizens of this city for many years to come.

WHEAT PRICE WEAKENS

Over Bought Condition Brings Lull in Advance.

Grain Deliverable Under Future Contracts Rule Factor in Drop—Manitoba Wheat Maturing Ahead of Rust Damage.

U. S. Bureau of Markets, Washington, D. C., for week ended July 18, 1921.

GRAIN: Black rust reports, unfavorable crop reports, drought in Europe and increased outside buying were factors which resulted in price gains during the week, though markets dropped on the 16th, due to evening-up sales and a lull in outside speculation. The rule of the Chicago Board of Trade making grain in cars deliverable under future contracts caused independent weakness in July wheat at Chicago on the 15th. An over-bought condition on the 15th resulted in falling prices. Manitoba reports that wheat would probably mature ahead of rust damage. Country offerings small. Visible supply of wheat now 12,849,000 bus., corn 20,373,000 bus. in Chicago cash market. No. 3 red winter wheat closed at $1.15; No. 2 hard $1.17; No. 3 yellow corn 82c; No. 3 mixed corn 82c; No. 3 white corn 82c. For the week Chicago July wheat up 7 1/2c closing at $1.26 1/2; July corn 2 1/2c at 64c. Minneapolis July wheat up 5 1/2c at $1.17 1/2; Chicago September wheat up 5c at $1.27 1/2; September corn 2 1/2c at 61 1/2c. Minneapolis September wheat up 4 1/2c at $1.17 1/2; Kansas City September wheat up 3 1/2c at $1.17 1/2.

LIHT: Light stocks and receipts cause $2 advance in eastern hay markets. Receipts of new timothy increased in central western markets but prices were practically unchanged. Southern markets very quiet with timothy hay now through. Some new alfalfa and timothy was bought for deferred shipments. Quoted July 18: No. 1 timothy Chicago $25, new $21; St. Louis $24, new $20; No. 1 alfalfa St. Louis $25; No. 1 prairie Minneapolis $15.

FEED: Demand dull in most sections. Reports of destroyed or temporarily injured pasturage responsible for recent price advances rather than improved inquiry. Visible supply of meals light and apparently in strong hands. Country dealers buying lightly and sales generally below normal with stocks in excess of requirements. DAIRY PRODUCTS: Butter markets more firm during most of week but were only steady at the close. Prices advanced, which have occurred daily recently have been checked and Chicago was the only market showing higher prices on July 18th. Hot weather and a falling off in the visible supply of butter have given confidence to the market. 92 score prices today: New York 41 1/2c; Chicago 40 1/2c; Philadelphia 40 1/2c; Boston 42c.

CHEESE: Markets were very firm under an active export demand. Wisconsin primary market prices average on July 18: Twins 14c; Daisies 14 1/2c; Double Daisies 15 1/2c; Longhorns and Young Americas 15 1/2c.

LIVESTOCK AND MEATS

CHICAGO: Livestock prices for hogs and cattle advanced during the week, but those of sheep and lambs declined as much as $1. The advance of $5-700 on hogs would indicate that the upward seasonal trend has started. Steers are 10-50c higher. The price range on butcher cows and heifers widened a six advance being secured on the best grades. Lower grades feeder steers declined 7c while lower grades of veal calves advanced an equal amount. Fat lambs declined $1 while other classes of sheep were about steady. July 18th, Chicago prices: Hogs, top, $10.85; bulk of sales, $9.25-10.75; medium and good beef steers $7.25; butcher cows and heifers $3.75-5.75; feeder steers $6.75-9.11; fat lambs $8-10.75; feeding lambs $6.75 yearlings $8.25; fat cows $3-5.35.

DRESSED: Best at eastern wholesale markets declined 40c on the lower grades, compared with a week ago. Veal showed no change. Lamb declined $1 while medium advanced from $1-4. Light pork loins advanced $2 while heavy loins were irregular, advancing $1 on the better grades. July 18th prices, good grade meats: Beef $14.25-16.50; veal $16-19; Lamb $25-29; mutton $13-14; light pork loins $21-27; heavy loins $16-21.

RUST REPORTS DISCOUNTED

St. Paul—Reports that rust is prevalent in the Northwest wheat fields are being discounted by crop experts, until more detailed information is obtainable. It was stated, it is known that there is some rust, but the arrival of cool weather is believed to have prevented it from spreading to such an extent that it will do wide damage. Reports of rust came from the Red River Valley section. Crops already have suffered from the long heat waves and extensive rust would be a severe blow to the Northwest, it was admitted.

"In Every Respect" says the Good Judge

You get more genuine chewing satisfaction from the Real Tobacco Chew than you ever got from the ordinary kind. The good tobacco taste lasts so long—a small chew of this class of tobacco lasts much longer than a big chew of the old kind. That's why it costs less to use. Any man who has used both kinds will tell you that.

This ghost was a 1921 model

LAST MONTH, on a bet,
WITH THE boys up home,
I SPENT a night,
ALONE in the old,
HAUNTED HOUSE,
AND WHEN I heard,
MOANS and groans,
I SAID "The wind,"
AND TRIED to sleep,
I HEARD rattling,
AND SAID "Hats,"
AND ROLLED over,
THEN I heard steps,
AND IN the light,
OF A dying man,
A WHITE spook rose,
I WASN'T scared—much,
BUT DIDN'T feel like,
STARTING ANYTHING,
BUT THEN I caught,
JUST A faint whiff.

OF A familiar,
AND DELICIOUS smell,
WHICH TIPPED me off,
SO I gave the ghost,
THE HORSE laugh,
AND SAID "See,"
YOU FAT guy,
MAKE BUM ghosts,
BUT BEFORE you fade,
LEAVE WITH me one,
OF YOUR cigarettes,
THEY SATISFY."

THAT spicy, delicious aroma of fine tobacco, both Turkish and Domestic, makes you almost hungry for the "satisfy-smoke." And there isn't a ghostly chance you'll ever find its equal anywhere—for the Chesterfield blend is an exclusive blend. It can't be copied.
