Hundreds Attend Military Funeral Last Sunday Afternoon

Leon Heath Post Conducts Services for Former Comrade

A crowd estimated at close to two hundred people filled the armory last Sunday, when people of Pine City and vicinity gathered to pay tribute to the memory of Frank Novak who made the supreme sacrifice for his country when he was killed in action in France in October 1918.

The casket, draped in the National colors for which the deceased had given his life, was surrounded by a great many beautiful floral offerings, among them being a large floral emblem of the American Legion. A small floral shield from residents of Rock Creek and beautiful cut flowers from Pine City, besides the many offerings from friends and relatives.

The remains arrived Saturday noon, when they were met by the members of the post and were taken to the armory where they lay in state, under a guard of post members, until the hour of the services Sunday afternoon.

The armory was crowded to capacity, long before the hour set for the funeral. Seats had been reserved for post members and the Legion band played the funeral march. The band, however, marched in and filed past the casket, each member placing a bouquet of flowers with other offering, as he passed.

After the soldiers had taken their seats a vocal selection was given by F. P. Gottry, followed with a prayer by Rev. Buckley. The funeral sermon was preached by Rev. Parrish, former Pine City pastor. The funeral service, she draped casket and the boys in uniform bravely to mind the horrid hours of the war. For there were many in the great throng who served the sons and brothers home to them for humanity and whose love to the right and justice have led them to the grave.

The arrangements for the military funeral, which was held under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Noval, living east of Pine City, left five brothers and sisters, Tom, John, Jim, Joe, Henry, Kate, Emma, Clara, Mrs. Albert Kraft of Montana, Mrs. Frank Kraft of North Dakota, Mrs. Mary Handschu and Mrs. Frank Nynn.

The arrangements for the military funeral, which was held under the supervision of the American Legion, had laid down their lives that Right and Justice might prevail. Every thought was handled without any confusion, and the smallest details attended to, from the time the casket arrived Saturday noon, until the conclusion of the services at the cemetery Sunday afternoon.

Teachers Given Recognition

Practically all of the teachers in attendance at the Institute held here last week, attended the reception in their honor at the armory, last Thursday evening, given by the Pine City development association.

Dr. Sculley, president of the association, presided. S. G. L. Roberts was with the delegation on the return trip, welcoming the visitors to Pine City. During his talk he noted that not until the last two years, while prosecuting attorney of Pine County, did he realize that the greatest foe to Bolshevikism and lawlessness is the schools of our land.

Miss Pyne, interested in the state board of education, and the association on behalf of the teachers, for the generous entertainment and also thanked Superintendent of the public schools and other state activities.

Out of the revenue derived from this tax is paid salaries, bills for supplies and the numerous expenses necessary in the regular conduct and maintenance of the institute.

Mr. Shurton, of the state board of education, seconded Mrs. Pyne's motion to spend money in aiding the re-education of citizens of Minnesota who have become inefficient through sickness or age.

The text of this law will be in next week's issue of The Poker.

The main address of the evening was made by Adolph Beck, who delivered one of his inspiring talks which kept his audience in a happy mood, while he gave some good sound advice to the teachers present. "A few years ago," said children were taught at their mother's knees, today it is up to our schools to get down to fundamentals, citizenship and respect for the Flag and the Government it stands for."

Following Mr. Beck's talk, a vocal solo was given by Miss Mergens, local teacher. She has a sweet voice and we know folks will want to hear more of her singing.

The balance of the evening was given over to dramatics, which was furnished by the Pine City drama teacher. There was a fine crowd of young men present to help entertain the visitors. Ice cream and cake was served by the association.

Local Lodge is Host Today

Eleven Royal Neighbor Lodges will be represented at the Pine City School, which is located in the K. P. Hall, in Pine City at 1:30 this afternoon. This is the sixth annual event of this kind in Pine county. Last year, the school was at Hinckley. State officers from the grand lodge of the order, are here to conduct the business and the program. The end of the program, the Lodge has arranged for a fine program of entertainment, which will be given in the hall this evening, followed by refreshments. The meetings are for members only.

The camps from which members were expected are Sandstone, Hinckley, Brule, St. Croix, Lake, Willow River, Pennington, Hammette, Brook Park, Rush City, Rock Creek and the Pine City camp, which is the host this year.

Constance Talmadge

Constance Talmadge says that she would rather take the part of a party girl working and then party at other places, because at times she expected to become a stenographer herself.

"I would have studied stenography had it not been for Norma's entrance into motion pictures," says Constance. "I believe in girls earning their own living. That is why I am so sympathetic towards the working girls." Constance is the daughter of the late heart.

"The boys have already sold a number of tickets for the entertainments and some of the ladies of the village are also helping in the ticket sale."

No State Tax Levy This Year

Revenue Tax First

Time in History of State

This year, for the first time in its thirty-three years of statehood, Minnesota will omit the regular annual infliction of a tax for general revenue purposes.

Announcement of the suspension of the state tax was made yesterday by P. Chase, State Auditor, coincident with certification of the 1921 State Tax Levy to the various county auditors. The Levy is on the valuation of the present year and is collectable in 1922.

The state tax rate for 1921, based wholly on statutory requirements, and over which the state auditor has no control whatever, is .425 mills as compared to .811 mills, the figure in 1919 and .542 mills the figure for 1920. Practically it is cut nearly one half the 1919 levy. Further it is the lowest state tax levy in recent years.

To what extent the taxpayers of Minnesota will profit from the temporary abandonment of the tax for 1921 is difficult to say, as announced by Mr. Chase, cannot be definitely judged from the fact that the infliction of this tax revenue tax realized the state $4,083,325.08 in 1917, $1,781,991.14 in 1918, $6,236,907.00 in 1919 and $1,667,419 in 1920. The tax is for the general running expenses of the state and its various departments, and is specifically designed to assist in maintaining educational, agricultural, industrial, social aid to the public schools and other state activities.

Out of the revenue derived from this tax is paid salaries, bills for supplies and the numerous expenses necessary in the regular conduct and maintenance of the institute.

The rate of taxation for education, seconded Mrs. Pyne, according to the new law, will be 30 cents per $1000 of taxable property, which are wholly statutory are as follows:

For the relief of Soldiers and Sailors, ONE TENTH OF A MILL.

For State Road and Bridge, ONE MILL. 1 mill.

Dedemption of Soldiers' Bonus Certificates, ONE AND 3-10ths.

Dedemption of Historical Society Building Certificate, ONE HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

Dedemption of State Park Land Certificate, ONE HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

Dedemption of National Guard Armories, Certificates, ONE HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

Dedemption of State Bonus Relief Certificates, SEVEN HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

Dedemption of Forest Fire Relief Commission Certificates, TWO HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

Tenants of Minnesota Buildings, TWENTY-FIVE HUNDREDTHIRTY-ONE MILL.

A Total of TWENTY-NINE HUNDREDTHIRTY-THREE MILLIS. 250.

In addition thereto the ONE MILL STATE SCHOOL TAX for per capita allowance to public schools, ONE MILL 1 mill.

For special support of the University of Minnesota TWENTY-THREE HUNDREDTHIRTY-THREE MILLIS. 00.

For Teachers' Insurance and Retirement Fund, ONE TWENTY-EIGHTH OF A MILL.

Making a total of FOUR AND 23-100ths MILLS. 423 mils.

In his elimination of the annual tax levy for regular state revenue purposes, Mr. Chase says he has provided for the reduction of the receipts from various sources for the next year will be ample for the ordinary running expenses of the state and he even hopes to finish with a surplus. Possible revenue from all known sources has been carefully gone over and every possibility considered.

For years the possibility of a tax base in Minnesota has been the dream of more than one state official and while not as optimistic as some of his predecessors, Mr. Chase at least expects a material reduction and the abolition of the tax is the first step toward its realization.

Last year Minnesota did the largest business in its history, Revenues totalled $54,370,535.40, and the expenditures $49,609,986.83.

At the close of the fiscal year, June 30th, there was a cash balance of $13,919,888.83 in the state treasury. The fiscal year was begun with a cash balance of $9,158,861.72 and the first quarter ended with a balance of $10,300,000.

The balance of the year will be spent in the payment of debts and the reduction of the state debt.

The Legislature will be convened on Oct. 17th.

In the PUBLIC EYE

Admiral of the Fleet

The marriage of Alfred Thayer Mahan, who was born at Princeton, N.J., the other day, had just been promoted to admiral of the fleet, a tardy recognition of his great work in preparing the British fleet for war and his masterly strategical interpretation of it when the conflict with Germany began.

Soon after his achievement a campaign was started against him in the admiralty, in which he was first sea lord, on the ground that his origin; his being taken up by the Jones family, and his disloyalty was demanded. But the public attacks were the least part of his punishment for his offenses. He received no compensation, anonymous letters of the fender descriptive from his British fellow-subjects in reward for his services, and finally Winston Churchill, then first lord of the admiralty, reluctantly accepted his resignation. Battenberg was placed on half pay and his German property was confiscated by the German government.

Since then he has been in quite poor circumstances, living in a small villa at Weybridge. Before he came a man of competent judges pronounced him a man of considerable real genius. It is sometimes wondered whether, if he had been retained in command, the British fleet wouldn't have given a better account of itself than it did.

His Clan Is Attacked

William Joseph Simmons of Atlanta, Ga., has his hands full these days defending the new Ku Klux Klan, of which he is the imperial wizard. He and his aids have been exceedingly active in extending the organization in the South and in all parts of the country in which it has taken root it is being made the object of bitter attacks. Governors and mayors are sought to take steps for its suppression, and in some cases their allies are themselves actively with the foes of the Klan.

Especially in the South, the organization is accused of emulating the lawless, and often brutal acts of the notorious Ku Klux Klan which sprang up in the reconstruction days. But whereas the older Klan had for its only victims the negroes, the new organization seems to give its attention to whites.

Imperial Wizard Simmons, however, vigorously defends his Klan against the attacks now made upon it. He says it does not countenance the acts of those who take the law in their hands.

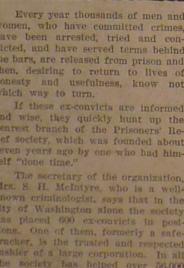

All Norway Loves Olaf

Of all the royalty of Norway, the favorite with the Norwegians is Crown Prince Olaf. His popularity is immense. He was eighteen years old last July when he recently passed the examinations for entrance to the university. He now has the right to attend meetings of the cabinet, but has no vote. From childhood he has received a typically Norwegian training and has developed into a good sportsman, having won a number of prizes in ski jumping and sailing contests. In the annual Norwegian competition, the Hobbieskollen ski jumping competition, the crown prince is a regular participant.

He attended a private school where he was treated on an equal footing with other pupils and he is wholly free from the tendency to self-importance. When he finishes course at the Military Academy of Norway the crown prince will enroll as a student in the technical high school at Trondhjem to be educated as an engineer.

Helper of Ex-Convicts

Every year thousands of men and women, who have committed crimes, have been arrested, tried and convicted, and have served terms behind bars before regaining their freedom and their desire to renew their lives of honesty and usefulness, know not which way to turn.

If these ex-convicts are informed and wise they quickly hunt up the nearest branch of the Prisoners' Relief Society, which was founded about seven years ago by one who had himself "done time."

The secretary of the organization, Mrs. H. H. McIntyre, who is a well-known social worker in the city of Washington since the society has placed 600 ex-convicts in positions. One of them, formerly a safe-cracker, has repaid and respected cashier of 4 large institutions. In all the society has helped over 50,000 men and women, and it also has looked after the families of many prisoners, sustaining their courage and smothering fears of injuries and revenge.

Newcomb Spoor, Frogologist

What do you know about frogology? The well known frogologist in the community of Newcomb, Minn., W.L. Spoor, who claims to have spent nearly 50 years of his life to the study of frogs and their habits. Several years ago he was elected a member of the Wisconsin Academy of Science and he immediately drew up a bill and secured its passage, prohibiting the slaughter of frogs and the serving of frog legs during Lent, March and April.

"The frogs is my best friend," said friends of humanity," said Mr. Spoor.

"A frog eats from five to ten grasshoppers a day and teaspoonfuls of insects a week. I have noticed that where frogs are found the potato crop is heaviest. Now the frogs hibernate in a spring during the winter time, and the water is too cold for them to live. And Arctid is a strong advocate of frogs. I find that people interested in catching the frogs were sceptical that time, so I drew up my bill and secured its passage. This will protect the frogs for generations to come."

"Officer, Do Your Duty"

If officials are unable to locate violators of the automobile license law, they should shift their position to the streets where old tugs and car can be found at all hours. By night they easily rob the bright light fan, the guy with one light and no light at all. If anyone expects these birds to walk into court and offer themselves up there will be a wild imagination. There is no surer way in the world to encourage a general disregard for law than to permit a few gunks to "get by" with violations just because they have the nerve to do it.—St. James Independent.

Use Foreight Now

Some of the towns and villages along State Highway No. 10 are working their heads off and stirring up the dirt to get them in shape for use throughout the towns. Others are offering to double the appropriation asked for marking the way if the road is run away from their main streets. The highway brings hundreds of tourists through a town and perhaps one out of a hundred stops to buy a cigar, an ice cream cone or a few gallons of gas. The more you get the more fast they hardly know the town is there and imperil the life and limbs of all, especially children, who venture to cross the streets. The time is coming and coming soon, when every town will have to maintain several traffic cops to protect its citizens from speed maniacs.—City Herald.

Summer nights are a time when the young crowd are impelled to many wanderings. Young men with a fondness for the other sex often cover long distances in their nocturnal excursions. Even before the days of automobiles, there were adventurous young men who would frequently hire a livery stable outfit to drive out to 10 or 20 miles to visit some desired maidens.

When a boy reaches the stage of self love, an intense desire to know many girls pursues him. He arranges a list of girls "prospects" including "good lookers" of many surroundings. Then he visits, as sentiment would have it, shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

The girl in some more or less distant town always seems more charming than the one in the next street. If he saw her by daylight he might perceive that she was no more lovely or sprightly than a score of his schoolmates. But at twilight he looks adoringly and thereby many ill fated suitors succeed in making the wrong choice. Fortunately when a boy grows up far enough so that he is really a man, he begins to realize that Pine City professes just as fine specimens of young womanhood as any other community. About then his expedition for nocturnal gasoline decline though those for ice cream and soda are heavier than ever:

Theatre Notes

Friday and Saturday, Jack Hoxie in "Dead or Alive." Friday and Saturday we are showing Jack Hoxie's latest western feature "Dead or Alive." There is a strong plot, fine acting and straight shooting, and to enjoy and enjoy a thriller. "Bring on the Groom" and "Killings" comedy.

Sunday and Monday, Constance Talmadge in "Good Reverences."

In preceding comedy successes Constance Talmadge has been guilty of many endearing but naughty tricks.

The imitable star has officiated as an expert in affairs of the heart—searched for a sinner with amusing consequences and even defied convention by accepting the hospitality of five nice old "daddies" for a week, without a chaperon, in her new picture "The Grand." "Good Reverences," which will be shown at the Family theatre for 2 days commencing Sunday, Connie nearly overstepped the border of playfulness, when she set fire to Bridget Mulligan's boarding house, commonly known as Journeys End. Tonnerville Trolley comedy.

Tuesday, Corinne Griffith in the "Garter Girl!" Rosalie Ray thought she had thrown a garter into the audience, but it proved to be a boomerang. It came back at her a few weeks later. Also, Antonia Moore in "The 3rd Man," and "The Veiled Mystery."

Thursday, Louise Huff in "The Dangerous Paradise." She pretended she was married so she could flirt without being blamed about, at least until the way she had it out. But you remember the old saying about: "The best laid plans of mice and men." etc. Just what happened is what makes "The Dangerous Paradise" the delightful picture it is. See it here next Thursday, also Fox News.

Children of the Minnesota grade schools are to have an opportunity to help provide a temporary home for former service men who, when discharged from hospitals, have no funds to meet their needs. The Minnesota Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Sandy Hamilton of Minneapolis is State President has decided to erect such a home before cold weather and will raise the funds through entertainments given by grade school children of the state.

Here is some plain talk from the editorial columns of the St. James Minot, Plaindealer: "The socialists say the American Legion is a militaristic clique and warn the nation of the 'warlike tendencies' of the outfit. The socialist would have happened had their voices prevailed and the Legion boys not placed their banner (halman) in the way of the Kaiser's onrushings."

Keeping in Step With The Times

In 1910 the consumption of gasoline in the United States approximated seven hundred and fifty million gallons. In 1920 the consumption of gasoline was well over four billion gallons.

This tremendous increase in demand came with a spectacular suddenness which strained the resources of the petroleum industry.

To meet it the Burton process was developed in the laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

While no claim is made that the Burton process is wholly responsible for the increased efficiency of refining practices, the fact remains that without it the tremendous increase of gasoline from crude oil would have been impossible.

In 1910 the average recovery of gasoline from the crudes of the United States was approximately 11 percent; in 1920 this average had been increased to upwards of 30 percent.

While this Company was producing gasoline in sufficient quantities to meet the ever-increasing demand upon its facilities, it also was confronted with the necessity of finding a market for the vast number of products made from that part of the petroleum which could not be converted into gasoline.

New uses for these by-products had to be found or created if gasoline were to be relieved of most of its just share of the cost of refining, thereby keeping the price of this fuel within the reach of all.

It required all the knowledge, experience, skill, resourcefulness, ingenuity and technical ability which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) could bring into play.

The Company has a just pride in its success in finding added fields of usefulness for old by-products of use and value.

Thus does the faithfulness of a big institution, fortified by science, ability and a will to be truly useful, function to the advantage of all.

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die"

Judge Rutherford

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die"

In less than a year this proclamation has found its way into thirty languages and the message is being heralded to millions of people in thousands of cities in every land of the earth. "Millions Now Living Will Never Die," "Who ever heard of such a thing?" Preposterous," you will say. So said the scoffers to Noah: they had never seen rain—but the flood came on time. "Millions now living will never die," but will enjoy unending life on the earth and ascend a highway of righteousness to full perfection of body, of mind, of character, in company with their loved ones returned from the grave. When the kingdom of God is fully established mankind will have no more fear of sickness or accident, old age or death, no more dread of loss of home, or loved ones or, livelihood; no more sorrows or tears.

"Millions Now Living Will Never Die."

You may be one of them. Go! Hear the proof of these most marvelous things. Testimony upon testimony, evidence upon evidence, Biblical, historical, scientific—appealing to your reason as well as your heart—will be presented without cost in the lecture by

TIRE WASTE IS ESTIMATED AT
$150,000,000 IN THE YEAR 1920

Some Common Abuses of Tires—A Shows the Result of Improperly Fitted Tire Chain—B, Faulty Wheel Alignment—C, Neglected Cuts, and D, Results of Skidding.

We Americans have been extravagant. We have liberally educated ourselves to be careless with the most expensive things we buy. It is conservatively estimated that the carelessness of American motor car drivers during 1920 cost them in round figures $150,000,000, and this applies only to tires. What has been your share? You have contributed your bit. You must help to stop this program of waste. Get every mile out of every tire that the manufacturer has built into it. If you always do the best man for money you will be the best. The deficit for 1921 will continue last year, for there are more motor car owners today than there were a year ago.

Good Advice to Follow.

In the following advice given in this article you will get good service from your tires, and at the end of the season your expense will have been so much less than it ever was before that you will no longer neglect your tires.

The illustrations shown here are of the genuine abused tires, hundreds of which are discarded every day throughout the United States before they receive the service for which they were built. The mileage was built into each tire, but the car driver lost it through carelessness.

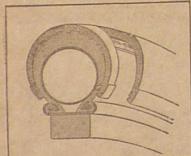

Illustration A shows the result of improper application of tire chain. When chains are used they should not be applied tightly. Leave them just loose enough so that every time the wheel turns the cross chains will not strike the same spot in the tire. If you do not heed this advice you

A Sectional Perspective View of the Shoe as Applied.

The object is to provide an overshoe to prevent the casing being subjected to undue wear, and to reduce the danger of puncture of the inner tube by a minimum. Another object is to provide an overshoe of an inexpensive material.

The inner face opposite the tread is provided with projections and engaging correspondingly recesses to hold the overshoe against the tread longitudinally or transversely. The shoe when worn can be readily replaced.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

For the first eleven months of 1920, 9,479 motor vehicles, valued at $18,979,970, were imported into South Africa.

In overhauling the car the wise owner keeps a pair of keroseen at hand in which to immerse various small parts.

Miss Betsy Merritt, an automobile saleswoman of Jacksonville, Fla., has been successful in the sale of cars through her experience as a driver and knowledge of mechanics.

When a bolt is so located that it is difficult to start it, the trouble may be obviated by attaching a piece of wire to the end of the bolt by a drop of solder.

The $38,141,500 thus far received in registration fees, under the automobile tax in New York state, for the first three months of 1921, has been greater than that for the entire year of 1920.

Year Round Curtains.
The figured linens which are now playing such an important part in all home decorations are suitable for every room, says Decorator. The room that we shall call the dining room for the eating and dining rooms has quite been superseded by the popularity for figured linens and curtains. We used to take down our hangings in May and go curtainsless for the summer. Now, though, the curtain, as we know it, is still in use, though the summer was out of place during the summer's heat. But now we plan a pretty house for the

MUCH IDLE LAND TO BE UTILIZED

Sources of Timber Supply for Chicago Market Exhausted One After Another.

FREIGHT BILLS NOW HIGHER

Amples Areas to Support All Lumber Requirements if Land Could be Kept at Work Growing Various Kinds of Trees.

(Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.)

"Reforestation has not been seriously considered as a business in the United States," said W. B. Greeley, chief of the forest service, United States Department of Agriculture, before the National Association of Manufacturers recently. Reforestation has been looked upon as a fair quite removed from the practical interests of the manufacturer, as something more congenial to the public and less likely to be lucrative.

At the Greatest Lumber Market.

"Chicago is the greatest lumber market in the world. Since 1850 an average of over 2,000,000,000 feet of lumber has been shipped from Chicago, and in 1920 the figure was nearly 2,500,000,000 feet, 99 per cent of which went into local construction and manufacturing plants. In 1920 the amount of freight paid on lumber shipped into Chicago was less than $3 per M. feet. Since that time the local sources of supply for that area have been exhausted one after another."

Lumber shippers have traveled greater and greater distances, and the average freight bill paid by the Chicago distributor has risen rapidly to more than $10 per M. feet.

With the increased transportation charge on lumber shipments into Chicago, as a result of the exhaustion of the forest regions mentioned, it represents a heavy loss to the shippers.

While this has happened there have accumulated in the Central and Lake states nearly 23,000,000 acres of virgin timber land which is producing native farm crops as well as timber.

It has been shown that better fast growing trees should be selected than from imported seed, such as those which will separate in cups. Cook the vegetables in boiling salt water, using as little as possible; add to the soup a few drops of oil and pepper, and season with salt and pepper.

Orange Ice Cream—Grate the rind of two oranges, add the juice of four, with the juice of one lemon, and mix with the cream. Freeze as usual. The amount of sugar will vary as to the sweetness of the oranges.

Pick Feathers from Geese—Many breeders follow Practice Some Time Prior to Molting When Quills Are Dry.

Many breeders of geese in the South, and some in the Middle West and the North pluck the feathers from the live geese at several times during the summer, and early in the fall, while others pick only once or twice a year, either in the spring, or in both spring and fall. Geese are plucked when the feathers are plucked from the wing, neck, and tail feathers, leaving the body feathers intact.

A special survey is being made this season to determine the extent of disease injury to the flocks, and to provide definite information in the developing methods for combating such diseases.

MORE AMERICAN FLAX IS URGENtLY NEEDED

Supply From Russia Has Been Greatly Curtailed.

Demand for Material for Manufacture of Linens Continues as Strong as Ever—New Methods and Machines Investigated.

Prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The up-and-down condition of things in Russia has produced many unexpected results, but none more unexpected than to cause a shortage of the reliable fiber of flax. Before the World War Russia produced about 80 per cent of the flax fiber used in making linens. This supply has been cut off, and the demand for linens continues as strong as ever.

In the United States the normal consumption of flax fiber by the spinning mills, before the war, was about 100,000,000 pounds, of which was imported. To produce this amount of fiber about $10,000,000 is required.

To help meet the situation the United States Department of Agriculture, through the office of fiber investigations, is encouraging the production of flax fiber by experimenting with new methods and machines.

One woman wanted to stencil some

Mrs. Scott was the companion.

She was frankly flattered; and Bettina

Then, one day, when all went

The days went on and Jean and Bettina were often thrown into each best shown in Miss Pervival's own remarque to her sister when one day

she exclaimed:

"He is the first man, positively the first, in whose eyes I have not read

"Oh, how glad I'd be to marry to him!"

And then as Mrs. Scott went up stairs to kiss her sleeping children,

Bettina remained long leaning on the balustrade of her balcony.

"It seems to me," said she, "that I am growing to be very fond of this place."

PROPOSE ALTERATIONS

Senator Simmons of North Carolina Gives Notice That Sweeping and Radical Amendments Will Be Offered by Democrats.

Washington—Tax revision legislation was put under way in the Senate with indications of a bitter fight to come over the more important provisions of the measure reported by the finance committee.

Notice was given by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking member of the committee, that sweeping and radical amendments will be offered by the Democrats. He added that if the sponsor for the manufacturers' sales tax would accept his proposal, the Senate would consider giving to such a levy should prove necessary to raise the needed revenue.

Sweeping Alterations Proposed.

Objections to specific amendments to the bill came from the Republicans, as well as the Democratic side of the chamber. Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, a Republican member of the agriculture—"blue ribbon" program committee to the Senate, said the amendments under which existing rates would be continued up to 50 per cent on incomes exceeding $100,000 a year, and taxes on incomes from $100,000 to $200,000, and a 60 per cent rate to those above $200,000.

A semibearing metal drum, a number of small and six shovels of roadbed made of different materials and thickness, and a measured load go into the making of the experiment. When the load is fully known, the traffic burden on nearby and underlying soil is accurately measured, road makers will have a valuable guide as to the thickness of the roads they should construct on varying kinds of subsurface.

The tests showed that the amount of time required to make the roadbed varied with the kind of soil and the amount of water present in the soil.

Device Shows what Happens
Facts about what happens under a roadbed as traffic passes over it are being obtained by the use of an ingenious device patented by the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Agriculture.

This device is one of the new instruments developed by the bureau in its efforts to discover what thickness of roadbed should be constructed for heavy or light traffic or various kinds of vehicles.

Particularly the device measures at desired distances, how the burden is distributed through the soil and the weight is distributed over a square foot of surface area, how far distant from the surface point of contact—where load rests on the soil, how the weight is distributed and the possible formula for its distribution are being determined by experiment.

When the load is applied to the surface of the traffic burden, the load is measured, the load is then removed and the load is replaced by another load of different weight and size.

After repeated experiments, the load is measured again.
