

Criticizes Auto Law

Geo. Bogue, one of the proprietors of the Bogue garage, is highly displeased with the new auto law, passed by the last legislature, and has written the following letter voicing his disapproval of the law:

"As a garage man and mechanic, I would like to write a few words relative to the tax change of the so-called Babcock law. This Babcock system has so many faulty gears that some one has to throw a monkey wrench in the machinery, so that it can be repaired into a more just and reasonable law.

My case is one that undoubtedly has bothered most garage men, and that is the rebuilding of a machine out of scrap after the first of June, and then be penalized for not having paid the tax on this 'scrap' the first of June. I purchased an old Ford car September 1st, and during my spare time rebuilt it out of old parts which I had lying around the shop, as soon as it was in shape to run on the highway, I immediately applied for a license and I was informed that I would have to pay a penalty of $7.50 because I had not applied for a license the first of June. The tax amounted to $19.50. I protested to the State Auditor against this unjust tax, but I have not yet been favored with a reply from him.

I trust that other garage men and mechanics will back me up in this protest and possibly we can get this law amended so that we will not have to pay a tax and penalty on every tin can that we have in our back yard.

Geo. A. Bogue.

Get New Depot

As a result of a conference with the Great Northern Railway officials in St. Paul last Thursday by a committee from Sandstone, the railway company has agreed to build a new depot at Sandstone at the intersection of Fourth street and Main avenue. The company has given orders to commence work at once and contemplate finishing the job before winter.

The new depot will be of the same size as that of the Milaca depot and will be modern in all respects, including hot water heat, electric lights, drinking fountains and other conveniences.

This ends the litigation incident in the month of August last year, in which Senator Alolph S. Larson, in behalf of the citizens of Sandstone was called Complainant, and the Great Northern railway, the Respondent. This case was commenced before the Railroad and Warehouse Commission for additional depot facilities, and after a hearing held by the Commission at Sandstone on September 21st 1920, it made its order requiring the railway company to construct a new depot, from which order the company appealed to the Supreme Court.

The result of the Complainant and the order of the Commission was affirmed in all respects.

The company had the right of appeal to the Supreme Court, and possibly from that to the United States Supreme Court, but the conference above referred to obligated that necessity and instead of waiting five or six years more, Sandstone will now have the new depot at once and without delay of further litigation involving years if carried to the courts to the last resort.

The report of the committee was duly approved at a public hearing of the village council and a vote of thanks extended to the members of that committee for the efficient way in which they disposed of the controversy. The committee consisted of Senator Larson, Chairman, John F. Hewley, Dr. H. P. Dredge, H. C. Hanson, and Albert Johnson, attorney, who represented the Complainants in these proceedings.

Disapproves Paving

Minneapolis is after a paved road from that city to Forest Lake. The Minneapolis Civic and Commerce Assn. has written to a number of individuals asking their support of the proposed paving.

While that paving would be a fine thing for folks traveling to Minneapolis who did not care to go through St. Paul, we are of the opinion that before that work is done, the paving should be extended on north, from White Bear to Duluth, Route No. 1, one of the main travelled roads of the state, and while we are willing to patiently await our turn while other trunk highways having more traffic than route no. 1 are paved, we believe that the paving of Route No. 1 is more necessary, and will benefit the state as a whole, more than a paved road from Forest Lake to Minneapolis.

The following letter, referring to the above matter, was received by County Auditor Edin and Jock Therman, from State Senator Adams of Duluth:

In justice to Minneapolis, we might state that the $10,000 referred to in the letter, has been paid to Pine county, the balance of the money having been received last summer.

"Dear Sir:

"The Minneapolis Civic & Commerce Association have just written me to urge State Highway Commissioner C. M. Baynes to immediately proceed to let a contract for the paving of the Duluth-Twin City Highway from Forest Lake to the city of Minneapolis, claiming that it will be a great advantage to the Duluth-Twin City travel.

I am not any more interested in seeing a paved highway from Minneapolis to Forest Lake than I am from St. Paul to Forest Lake, and as Minneapolis, the last time the matter was called to my attention, had not paid to Pine county the $10,000 pledged to your county to aid in the construction and maintenance of this road through Pine county, although Hennepin and Ramsey county had both paid over their pledges of $10,000 each, before doing anything to help Hennepin county in this matter, I would like to know if they have finally kept faith with Pine county and left over the $10,000. A couple of years ago Judge Therman sent several of your county commissioners came before our County Board and as the result of their plea our county board adopted a resolution giving up $10,000 in amount of their state aid for that year, on the condition that Hennepin and Ramsey county did the same, which I believe they did. At that time your officials told me that the city of Minneapolis had never paid the $10,000 which they agreed to raise by private subscriptions to aid Pine county. If this has not been done I would like to know it as I shall decline to take any part in recommending the paving of this highway from Forest Lake to Minneapolis until the city of Minneapolis pays to Pine county every dollar that is due it.

"May I hear from you by early mail as to what the fact is.

Very truly yours,

Chas. E. Aams."

Miss Hattie Wright Weds

Miss Hattie Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wright, living south of town and Anthony R. Miller of Chicago, Ill., were married at 8 o'clock last night in the local Catholic church, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning Rev. Father Koester of St. Patrick's church ministered. He performed the ceremony. Father Koester is a cousin of the bride. Miss Alice Daley acted as bridesmaid and Henry Neville attended the groom.

A wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride parents, following the wedding. The newlyweds left on the afternoon train for Duluth. They will make their home at Chicago, where the groom is employed.

The bride has lived here all her life and attended the local schools. Her many friends join in congratulations and wish the newlyweds the best of success in their new home.

Geo. Koesterman, aunt of the bride, from Racine, Wis. was here for the ceremony.

Plan Rate Cut

FULL TEXT OF THE PROPOSAL

Statement by Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, Chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, on the Situation.

Following a meeting in Chicago October 14, 1921, of the presidents of nearly all of the leading railroads in the country, Mr. Thomas DeWitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway Executives, made the following statement:

"At a meeting of the Association of Railway Executives today it was determined by the railroads of the United States to ask to bring about a reduction in wages, and a means to that end to seek a reduction in present railroad wages which have compelled maintenance of the present rates.

"An application will be made immediately to the United States Railroad Labor Board for a reduction in wages of train service employees sufficient to remove the remainder of the increase made by the labor board's decision of July 20, 1920 (which would involve a further reduction of approximately ten per cent) and for a reduction in the wages of all other classes of railroad labor to the rate for such labor in several states where the earliest operation of the 'Reduce Rates as Wages Go Down' law is in effect.

"The foregoing action is upon the understanding that concurrently with such reduction in wages the benefit of the reduction thus obtained shall, with the concurrence of the Interstate Commerce Commission be passed on the public in the reduction of existing rail rates at least insofar as this reduction shall have been made to the maximum.

War Tax on Women

Internal revenue collectors are causing dance hall proprietors throughout the state to sit up and take notice. The law says that a tax must be paid for the ladies who are admitted free, and all those who have conducted dances for the past fifteen months must remit tax for every lady admitted free. A penalty for non-payment is also attached.—Independent.

Wilcox Injured in Game

Minneapolis Tribune, Oct. 12.—Lester Wilcox, Macalester's right end understudy, sustained a painful ankle fracture in a scrimmage with the St. Paul Central high squad last night. Since Vickers' injury in the Stout game two weeks ago Wilcox has been subbing at right wing. His work in the Hamline game was particularly promising.

Moonshee Causes Death

Coroner W. P. Gottry was called to Staroon Lake, last Monday, by the death of Frank Sevarewski. After viewing the remains, the coroner reported that death resulted from drinking too much moonshine whiskey which the deceased had imbibed at a party he attended the evening before.

Peck's Bad Boy

Jackie Coogan, star of Peck's Bad Boy, at the Family theatre, Sunday and Monday, told a good one not long ago. At a preview of Chaplain's "The Kid" in which Jackie played the title role, a woman asked Jackie, "How old are you?"

"Six," promptly replied young Mr. Coogan.

"Well, well, well! If times you looked much younger—in some scenes you did not look any older than four."

"Well you see," answered the young star, "when I started working 'The Kid' I was four, and when Mr. Chaplain finished the picture, 'Why I was six.'"

Amateur Night Makes Hit

H. N. Turner inaugurated a new departure in the Family theatre program, last Thursday evening, when he had the first amateur night. This new feature made such a hit with audience, that he has decided to make it a regular part of the program every Tuesday night.

Mencher Out of Air Service

Maj. Gen. C. T. Mencher has tendered his resignation as chief of the army air service and requested transfer to the command of troops in the field. Col. M. M. Patrick, who was General Pershing's flying instructor in France, has been appointed in his place.

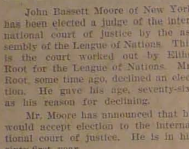

General Mencher's resignation is a climax to months of dissension and friction in the air service, which may or may not be ended by the change. The general has been at sword's points with his aggressive and outspoken assistant, Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, for a long time, and it has been regarded as inevitable that sooner or later one or the other of them would have to resign.

General Mencher made a determined effort to force General Mitchell out of the service. He wrote Secretary Weeks a letter of complaint against his assistant and demanded his removal.

General Mitchell, the only "flying general," was indignant over the policy of placing nonflying officers in the air service and this caused him to take a position which General Mencher described as "unsubstantiated." Mitchell and Secretary Weeks undertook to act as mediator in that controversy and succeeded in smoothing out the trouble temporarily.

The recent bombing experiments of the Virginia capes precipitated a new outbreak, however. In the differences of opinion regarding the result of the tests there is danger of more trouble.

Moore a World Court Judge

John Bassett Moore of New York has been elected a judge of the international court of justice by the assembly of the League of Nations. This is the court which will hear the case of Secretary Weeks and Mitchell.

Mr. Moore has announced that he would accept election to the international court of justice. He is in his sixtieth year.

Mr. Moore was former professor of international law and diplomacy at Columbia university for twenty years. He was a law clerk of the Department of State in 1885, third assistant secretary of state from 1889 to 1891, assistant secretary of state in 1895, secretary and counsel of the Spanish-American peace commission in 1898, commissioner of the state department in 1914. He has been a member of the permanent court at The Hague since 1911 and is vice chairman of the international high commission organized at the Pan-American financial conference in 1915. He has written many books dealing with international relations.

Aid for Jewish War Victims

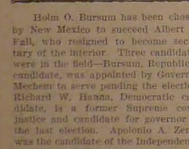

Aroused by the suffering of homeless Jews in the famine districts of eastern Europe, 200 prominent Jews from various parts of the country met for a conference at the Standard club, Chicago, as guests of Julius Rosenberg, and decided to raise $140,000.00 for emergency relief work.

The money will be spent for the immediate relief of Jewish war victims in the troubled districts of Europe, including Russia, through cooperation with the Jewish relief organization and the Society of Friends.

A report of Jewish relief work during the last year was given by Felix M. Warburg, chairman of the American joint distribution committee, (portraiture) who has just returned from an inspection of humanitarian agencies abroad.

"Many thousands of Jews in Europe are still in need of aid, because they have been deprived of all means of livelihood, have lost their homes, their little farms, and shops," he said.

Bursum Wins in New Mexico

John O. Bursum has been chosen by New Mexico to succeed Albert B. Fall, who resigned to become secretary of the interior. Three candidates were in the field—Bursum, Republican candidate, was appointed by Governor McChesney in approving the election, Richard W. Hanna, Democratic candidate, is a former Supreme court justice and candidate for governor at the last election. Anselmie A. Zerbe was the candidate of the Independents.

Bursum's plurality over his Democratic opponent is about 7,000. President Harding carried New Mexico by 19,000 majority. The Republican candidate for governor that election had to content with 8,024. Four years before, President Wilson carried the state by 2,375.

Republican leaders are claiming the victory as a vote of confidence in the Harding administration, which they made the leading issue in the vigorous campaign that preceded the election. Speakers of national reputation from both parties toured the state for several weeks.

Bandholtz, "Skunk Skinner"

For ten days or so the government of West Virginia during the mining troubles was one man, a soft spoken, unassuming, blue-eyed individual named Harry H. Bandholtz. Officially he is a brigadier general of the United States army. The army knows him officially as the "Casey plan skunk skinner"—a man who gets the mean job done and does them.

He left West Point with the class of 1895. Cuba offered him a chance to distinguish himself and then the Philippines were for fifteen years he served in one capacity or another, mainly in suppressing bandit bands and in organizing the army of the French and Romanians who, though he might speak softly he has at times carried a battle.

THE BATTLE

Brooklyn, Dyck Calhoun, gifted young fish... The French and American... ten-year-old girl visiting in the neighborhood...

CHAPTER XI

To the West Indies.

A fortnight later the mutiny at the Nile shook and bewildered the British fleet...

The government had sent the admiral to Gravesend and Tilbury, and had declared war upon the rebellious fleet...

The delegates demanded a deputa-tion from the admiral, Parker de-claring that to accommodate com-mand without the appearance of the admiral...

It was at this time that Dyck Calhoun—who, by consent of Richard Parker, had taken control of the Ariadne—looked again to what he altered the course of his own life and that of many others...

He had determined to get control of the Ariadne. His gift as a sailor had conquered his fellow-sailors, and the fact that he was an ex-captain gave them confidence in him...

One of the first things he did, after securing his own pre-eminence on the ship, was to get the captain and officers safely ashore. This he did with skill, and the crew of the ship even cheered them as they left.

None of the regular officers of the Ariadne were left upon her, except Greenock, the master of the ship, whose rank was below that of the captain, and whose duties were many and varied under the order of the captain.

"We've come to the parting of the ways, brothers," he said. "We've all become liable to death by mutiny. The pardon offered by the king has been refused, and fresh demands are made of me. I want to know if you con-sent to the open sea with me?"

And drink diment is. I know how safe we are, and today they have come to yield our provisions to the rest of the fleet. That is, they have taken time by the forelock, must yield up our good eatings to bad eaters. I am not prepared to do it.

"The best could not sail now if I wished, but one ship can sail, and it is yours. The fleet hasn't the food to last for a week, but it's the only way."

"For the moment we have a majority in men and ships; but we can't renew our food or drink, or ammunition. The end is sure against us. Our original agitation was just; our present agitation is not."

"If you will return to your duty, you may hang me at the yard-arm!" "I don't care for that," said the admiral. "We have no quarrel with the majority of our officers. They are straight, honest, and they're true to their game. Our quarrel is with parliament and the admiralty; our struggle is with the king, who has never seen to it that our wrongs are put right, that we have food to eat, water to drink, and a chance of life."

"I'm not inclined to surrender, or to stand by men who have betched our business for us. I'm for the open sea, and when I get there, I'm for striking for the West Indies, where there's a British fleet fighting Britain's enemies, and for joining in and fighting with them. I'm for getting out of this river and away from England. It's a bold plan, but it's my good one. I want to know if you're with me. Remember, there's danger getting out, and there's danger when we get out. The other ship can't go with us. The Portsmouth fleet may nab us. We may be caught, and, if we are, we must try to break through, and try to get to the open sea with me."

Growing Up For You

By Dr. A. S. Alexander
It's true that farmers have to work from sun-up to sun-down, and still have lots of chores to do when stores are shut up in town, and it's a fact we have to dress in jeans of brown or blue, and wear big boots and slouch hats, that seem quite rude to you. But, city friend, it's helpful work and a mighty healthful, too, while there's for 'livin' breathin', beasts are just a joy to us. And when we quit and go to bed, we sleep, for cars are few, while night winds call from cry and stack: "We're grown up for you!"

Yes, crops and stock are growin' fast while we're a-sleepin', and just growin' into money that will be in old age keep for though we toil all day for them, they work all night for us, an' that's a thing store stock don't do, so we are favored than. The store man's pay is insecure; he waits and hopes for luck, while all the time his "overs head" threatens to get him and eat his bread. It makes both end meet, with worry work and fuss, but on the farm our pay is sure—it's growin' up for us.

No doubt the city has its charms with lots of shows to see and every body's slick dressed up, compared with folks like we but farm life's happy, just the same. Nature's scenes, the glittering lights of the White Way beside the stars seem tame. We watch the movies of the skies and wondrous pictures see the season's ever-changing night are ours under a fee. And then there is the farm's best crop, of children strong and fair, that in the city's "nursery house and well come anywhere. There life's sweetest joy to us, tow-heads and red-heads, too; thank God for them, America! They're growin' up for you—from the County Magazine, published at the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

I Guess Not "Refrased"
The Sandstone Courier in last week's issue says: "After all you can hardly blame Pine City for refusing to play with us, we are the only team that has beat them within the last three years. But they will have to meet us at the tournament anyway."

As near as we can learn, Pine City has not refused to play Sandstone. When Brother Schwartz asked for a game with the local boys, he was told we would be glad to play the Quarry City quintet on the armory floor, they refused this offer however. Anyone who witnessed the last Sandstone-Pine City game at Sandstone, last season, can't help but admit their floor is far from an ideal one to play on. While the Sandstone team defeated our boys last year—so they don't lead them too—the score doesn't lead them to believe they are invincible, and they shouldn't get the idea that they have anybody's goat. If they want to play, we have a fine floor here, and we have a kind of a hunch that they would have to play some real ball to win.

Theatre Notes

Friday and Saturday—A Cecil B. DeMille production, "The Affairs of Anatol." This great picture in east and west investiture ever made since the photoplay began. With due regard to "Male and Female" "The Affairs of Anatol" has attained the highest mark yet reached in the blending of life and beauty on the screen. A vivid, tingling drama of love and marriage—quint with gay adventure. Played by stars enough for ten pictures. Sunday and Monday—Jackie Coogan in "Peck and the Boy." This picture is a galaxy of good things, and still only come halfway to the mark. The deeds of "Peck and the Boy" are internationally famous and memorably funny. Jackie Coogan, fresh from his triumphs in "The Kid" makes those escapades convincingly real, and Irving S. Cobb put the finishing touch on the picture by the finishing touch by writing the subtitles—"Just as Jackie would speak them." All so a Tonnoverly Trolley coming. Tuesday—Alice Joyce in "Dollars and the Woman." If you are confronted with ever increasing expenses and dwindling savings this picture will give fresh hope. It will show you how to defeat existing conditions and find true happiness in your home. Also Antonio Moreno in "The Valled Mystery." Thursday—"Violent Homeing in the City." Her husband was a rake. She knew when she married him. But to a romantic girl, what were a father's objections when her love is promised to be true? Now, with the life of her child binding her to the faithless dad whom she saw in that other woman's apartment across the court—what should she do? What would you do? Don't be too sure until you see "The Court." Fox News. Amateur night tickets, $2.00, $1.00 and 50c.

Milburn Church Notes

Methodist Church Notes
The Rev. Besse Bowman Keister, D. D., Superintendent of the Minneapolis District will preach both morning and evening next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Dr. Keister has a message that all will want to hear, plan now to attend. The First Quarterly Conference will be held on Monday evening, Oct. 24, at 8 o'clock at the church, when the work for the coming year will be considered. This is one of the most important business meetings of the year and we desire that we have a full representation out. Dr. Keister will also preach at Rock Creek in the afternoon and hold a business meeting in connection with this service.

Presbyterian Church Notes
Next Sunday morning the ministers will begin a short course in sermons on Three Great Quests. The first of this series will deal with Babian and His Ambitions. On the banks of the drainage canal to the north of Chicago, in the village of Winnetka and over looking Lake Michigan the teamsters are already at work making a great excavation. Here it is announced, the foundations will soon be laid for a great temple toward which the faithful will turn their eyes every day from all many sections of the earth. It is the temple of the Bahaiists. What is the relation of Christianity to this movement? This question will be fully answered next Sunday morning. The evening service continues the study of the Book of Revelation with the help of additional charts, many are interested in these explications come and join us.

W. W. McGlew, piano tuner, will be here November 1st. Leave orders for piano tuning at Pipers Furniture store.

Library Notes
We all know the story of the illiterate man who asked the pretty book agent that he was would be of no use to him, as he could not read, still further excused himself from purchasing by answering, "Oh, yes, my dear, she can read; but she's got a book."

We also know the story of the few millions who are being bought yards and six inches of books bound in red leather like a sample of wall paper. It is a far cry from the daughter's "four yards and six inches" but it is safe to say that the deuce for came nearer to possessing a library than did the millionaire for the book was probably read and lived with, and loved. And it is the book that we read and live with and love that really counts for us. Come and get acquainted with the books of the shelves of our town library, you will find something to suit your taste. If you have a book that you have lived with and love tell us about it. Next Thursday evening Oct. 27, the Presbyterian minister has invited any who care to come, to his home to talk books, he will give an interesting address on "My Adventures in Bookland. This is at 8 o'clock.

Noxious Weed Law is Changed
(By State Weed Inspector)
Lots of folks don't seem to realize that the situation with respect to the enforcement of the Noxious Weed Law is different from what it has been for the past 25 years or more. One item in particular is provoking a long talk discussion. This is the responsibility on the part of the township boards for the cutting of weeds along the roadsides. Until the passage of Chapter 320, P. 222, Laws of 1921, roadside weeds were supposed to have been cut by the abutting property owners, and the town board members, village council and such other officers were authorized to notify the property owners to destroy the weeds. Now, under the provisions of Chapter 320, it is obligatory on the town boards to cut, or cause to be cut, all noxious weeds along the road side.

Obviously the members of the town boards did not wish to offend friends and neighbors by ordering them out to cut the weeds, even though a large majority of the farmers favor the procedure as provided in former laws. As a result, most of the roadsides were neglected until weed seeds had ripened. Thus the old story "Everybody's business is nobody's business." Now it is to be different. The law plainly states that the cutting of roadside weeds is up to the town boards of the respective townships, and the adoption of the law is in the hands of the state officials. Hence no danger of creating a neighborhood "feeling" is likely to develop. The local weed inspector notifies the members of the town boards, just as he would a farmer or city lot owner. If they do not comply with the notice and get the weeds cut, the law may take its course.

O. Woodbeck of Brook Park was a business caller in the village last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Glasow are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby girl at their home last week Wednesday—Sandstone Courier.

American Legion Corner

More than thirty thousand Americans will rest forever in the soil of France. They will lie near the battle fields where they fell fighting for Old Glory, and about them the Stars and Stripes will forever wave. On Armistice Day, Legionnaires of Minnesota will take part in the solemn two-minute period of silent remembrance, in connection with the burial of an Unknown American Soldier in Arlington Cemetery, as directed by President Harding.

Theodore Roosevelt was the friend of every buddy who wore the uniform during the great war. If he had his wish he would have fought and died at our side. Sixty-three years ago, on October 27th, Theodore Roosevelt was born. So on that date, every American Legion post in America will organize a celebration of his own, or take part in an official celebration that may be staged by other buddies. National Commander Emery urges every Legionnaire to honor the memory of Theodore Roosevelt.

"All aboard the Minnesota Legion special," the Rock Island conductor will sing out Sunday morning. The band will burst forth, "Hail, Hail, The Gangs All Here," and off we go to the biggest convention in history. To march in the big parade of 50,000 Legionnaires, behind Marshal Foch and General Pershing. The special leaves Minneapolis at 8:20 a. m., St. Paul 9:10 a. m., Farmington 10:05 a. m., Fairbault 10:40 a. m., Owatonna 11:05 a. m., Albert Lea 11:40 a. m., Mason City 12:50 p. m., arriving Kansas City 11:15 p. m., making the trip in seven hours less than fastest regular train time.

Ask your local ticket agent to tell you what the one cent per mile rate would be from your home town to Kansas City and return, via nearest connection with special train, and mail a check for that amount to the Legion State Adjutant, St. Paul, not later than October 24th. In return you will receive a "Pre-paid order for Ticket" and a reduced fare certificate, which when presented to local ticket agent, will secure your ticket. Do not send money to State Adjutant unless you intend traveling on special train.

There are many bargains on this page for you. Read the ads.

Conference Adopts Definite Program to Aid Jobs—Says Business is Waiting for Guide as to Conduct.

Washington—A summary of the more important economic problems facing the country "that require corrective and immediate settlement" if recovery in business and permanent employment are to be accomplished expeditiously was agreed on unanimously by the national conference on unemployment when it reconvened after a recess of more than a week.

In addition to the general resolution declaring for "readjustment of railway rates to a fairer basis of the relative value of commodities, other recommendations were:

"Speedy completion of the tax bill with its contemplated reductions, in order that business now held back pending definite determination may proceed.

"Tariff should be Settled."

"Definite settlement of tariff legislation in order that business may determine its future conduct and policies.

"Settlement of the financial relationships between the government and the railways, having in mind the immediate necessity for increased maintenance and betterments, making effective increased railway employment and stimulation of general employment, in order that the railways may be prepared for enlarged business as it comes.

"Limitation of world armament and consequent increase of tranquility and further decrease of the tax burden, not only of the United States but of other countries.

"Steps looking to the minimizing of fluctuations in exchange, because recovery from the great slump in exports due to the economic situation in Europe, cannot make substantial progress so long as extravagant daily fluctuations continue in foreign exchange, for no merchant can determine the delivery cost of any international shipment.

"Action to Eliminate Waste."

"Definite programs of action that will lead to elimination of waste and more regular employment in seasonal and intermittent industries, notably in the coal industry, in order that the drain on capital may be lessened and the annual income of workers may be increased.

"In the field of all the different industries and occupations," the resolutions said, "the rapidly of recovery will depend greatly on the speed of proportionate adjustment of the inequalities in deflation."

"It will be observed," the resolution continued, in commenting on appended tables showing relative prices and wage levels, "that agriculture has reached an unduly low plane, while transportation, coal and some branches of the construction industries are of the highest. It will also be observed that there is an entire disproportion between the price of the primary commodity and the ultimate retail price. These disproportionate increases in the progressive stages of distribution are due to increased costs of transportation, enlarged profits, interest, taxes, labor and other charges.

"If the buying power of the different elements of the community is to be restored, then these levels must reach nearer a relative plane. For example, the farmer cannot resume his full consuming power and thus give increased employment to the other industries until either his prices increase or until more of the other products and services come into fair balance with his commodities, and therefore the reach of his income.

Prince Albert's a new note in the joys of rolling 'em!

Talking about rolling your own cigarettes, we'll tell you right here that Prince Albert tobacco has 'em all lashed to the mast!

You've got a handful of happiness coming your direction when you pal it with P. A. and the makin' papers! For Prince Albert is not only delightful to your taste and pleasing in its refreshing aroma, but our exclusive patented process frees it from bite and parch!

And, for a fact, rolling up Prince Albert is mighty easy! P. A. is crimp cut and stays put and you whisk it into shape before you can count three! And, the next instant you're puffing away to beat the band!

Prince Albert is so good that it has led four men to smoke jimmy pipes where one was smoked before! It's the greatest old buddy-smoke that ever found its way into a pipe or cigarette!

Plan Rate Cut

"The management has decided upon this course in view of their realization of the fact that the wheels of industrial activity have been chipped down to a point which brings depression and distress to the entire public and that something must be done to start them again in operation."

"The action which cuts out the railroads is extremely critical. The railroads in 1921 carried a net rail way operating income of about $22,000,000 upon a property investment of over $1,000,000,000 and over this amount of $20,000,000 received from the government of approximately $14,000,000 thus showing, when the operations of that year alone are considered, an actual deficit before making any allowance for either interest or dividends."

"The year ended in serious depression in all branches of industry and in marked reduction of the market demand for and the prices of basic commodities, resulting in a very serious falling off in the volume of traffic."

Roads Forced to Defer Maintenance.
 "In this situation, a policy of the most rigid economy and of postponing and cutting to the bone the upkeep of the properties was adopted by the railroads."

"This was at the present price of neglecting and for the time deferring work which must hereafter and in the near future be done and paid for. This is illustrated by the fact that, as of September 15, 1921, over 16 per cent of 75,421 in number, of the freight cars of the carriers were in bad order and needing repairs, as against a normal of but one car of not more than 160,000, as is further illustrated by the deteriorated and inadequate maintenance of other equipments and of roadway and structures."

"Even under those conditions and with this large bill charged up against the future, which must now be provided for and paid if the carriers are to perform satisfactorily the transportation duties, the result of operations for the first eight months of this year. The total available funds, has been at a rate of net rail way operating income, amounting for interest or dividends, amounting to only 20 per cent per annum on the valuation of the carrier proper, the made by the Interstate Commerce Commission in the recent hearing, an amount not sufficient to pay their interest on outstanding bonds."

Roads' Earnings Far Below Reasonable Returns.
 "It is manifest from this showing that the rate of return of five and one-half per cent for the first two years after March 1, 1920 fixed in the Transportation Act as a minimum reasonable return upon railroad investments has not been even approximated—much less reached and that the present high cost accordingly are not due to any statutory guarantee of earnings, for there is no such guarantee."

"In analyzing the expenses which have largely brought about this situation, it is beyond question that by far the largest contributing cause is the labor cost. Today the railroads pay out to labor approximately sixty cents on the dollar for transportation services, whereas in 1914 forty cents on the dollar went to labor."

"On the first day of January, 1917, when the government took charge of wages through the Adamson Act, the labor cost of the railroads had not exceeded the sum of $1,450,000,000 annually. In 1920 when governmental authority made the last wage increase the labor cost of the railroads was about $3,618,000,000 annually, or 2.5 times as much as in 1917. Instead of for the eight months during which the wage increases were in effect the labor cost on an annual basis, would have been largely in excess of $3,000,000,000 an increase, since the government took charge of railroad wages in the Adamson Act of approximately $2,420,000,000 annually."

"In the light of these figures, it is manifest that the recent reduction of wages authorized by the labor board estimated at from ten to twelve per cent in no sense meets or solves the problem of labor costs and it may make it possible for the railroads to afford a reduction in their revenues Thousands of Rates Already Reduced."

"Instead, during the past year there have been between four and five thousand individual reductions in freight rates. On some railroads the reductions in rates have amounted to more than the reductions in wages so far made and on many other railroads the reductions in wages allowed, so net return on operations, but merely proved against the further accumulation of a deficit."

"The point is often made that agriculture and other industries are also suffering the same immediate difficulties as the railroads, why, therefore do not the railroads take their medicine like anybody else? The answer lies in several facts:
 1—The railroads were not permitted, as were other industries, to make charges during the years of prosperity, making possible the accumulations of a surplus to tide them over the present extreme adversity. According to the reports of the Interstate Commerce Commission the rate of return in property investment of the railroads of the United States for the past several years has been as follows:

RATE OF RETURN EARNED BY RAILROADS OF THE UNITED STATES ON THEIR PROPERTY INVESTMENT.

Year	Per Cent
1913	4.34
1914	4.16
1915	4.17
1916	4.20
1916 (Fiscal Year)	5.30
1916 (Calendar Year)	6.16
1917	5.28
1918	3.51
1919	2.82
1920	2.32

"It will thus be noted that during the years when other industries were making very large profits, when the prices of farm products and the wages of labor were soaring to unheard of heights the earnings upon railroad investment in the United States were held within very narrow limits and that they have during the past four years progressively declined. Roads Handicapped More Than Other Business."

"2—The railroads are responsible to the public for providing adequate transportation. Their charges are limited by public authority and they are in very large respects (notably for labor) compelled to spend money on a basis fixed by public authority. The margin within which they are permitted to earn a return upon their investment or to offer inducements to attract new capital for extensions and betterments is extremely limited. However much the railroads might desire, therefore, to reduce their charges in times of depression it will be perceived that the limitations surrounding their action do not permit them to give effect to broad and elastic policies which might very properly govern other lines of business, but thus restricted, it has been urged upon the railroads that a reduction in rates will stimulate traffic and that increased traffic will protect the carriers from the loss of income to a reduction in rates. The railroad management cannot dispute from themselves that this suggestion is merely conjectural and that an adverse result of the experiment would be disastrous not only to the railroads but to the public whose supreme need is adequate transportation."
 "Consequently the railroad management cannot feel justified in placing these instruments, so essential to the public welfare, at the hazard of such an experiment based solely upon such a conjecture."

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank our many friends and neighbors for their presence and floral offerings at the funeral of our son, especially do we wish to thank the Leon Health Post for their conducting the military funeral, for the beautiful floral pieces, and for the honor paid to the memory of our son and brother. We also wish to thank the village of Pine City and Rock Creek for the beautiful flowers. Words cannot express our appreciation for the presence of those who assisted in the last sad rites—Mr. and Mrs. Casper Novak and children.
