

THE PINE CREEK PAPER

Vol. XXIV

PINE CITY, MINN., OCTOBER 27, 1921

No. 6

Court Convened Wednesday

The city will be a busy place next week. The board of county commissioners meet at the court house Tuesday, in their regular monthly session. The most important matter coming up for consideration, is the question of redistricting the county into new commissioner districts. A large delegation is expected from the eastern part of the county, as they started the ball rolling a couple of months ago, and are insisting that a district be made tributary to the Soo railway. The report of the redistricting committee did not do this, so in all probability, they will be here with their fighting clothes on, to insist that the district of the county be made a district.

The grand jury will convene on Wednesday, November 3rd, and the petit jury is called for the following day, when court will open. There are quite a number of cases on the civil calendar, as a few were left over from the June term. There are a few criminal cases to be tried also, we understand. It is expected that court will be in session until the fifteenth.

Attention Ex-service Men

The National War Work Council of the Y. M. C. A. has made an allotment of funds to Minnesota for the purpose of assisting ex-service men along educational lines. Because of the fact that previous allotments were used almost entirely in assisting men in attending resident schools, this new allotment will be expended in granting scholarship awards to men interested in taking homestead courses.

About 300 high grade, standard courses are now available. These courses range all the way from the strictly cultural subjects to the applied vocational and mechanical art subjects. A substantial sum of money may be secured in the form of a scholarship to apply toward the tuition price of one or a combination of courses. On account of funds being limited, it will be necessary to make all scholarship awards on a 50-50 basis.

Ex-service men interested in taking some form of home-study work in order to better themselves along educational lines should write for application blanks and full information to R. Dell Stewart at La Moure, North Dakota, inter-state Representative for Minnesota and North Dakota.

Daniels Buys Grocery

C. O. Daniels, former Pine City resident, has purchased the Peterson grocery store and will take possession next Monday. The Petersons bought the store last spring, coming here from Forest Lake. They are returning to the Lake, and will open a store there November 1st.

The Daniels are well acquainted in this community, having farmed near Pine City a number of years, and the past four or five years, Mr. Daniels was a mail carrier here. They sold their farm, last spring, and moved to Iowa, and have been living in St. Cloud the past 3 or 4 months. Their many friends here will be pleased to hear that they are returning to Pine City.

Pine Town Unit to Meet

The Pine Town Farm Bureau Unit will meet at the David Haynes home, south of town, next Monday evening, October 31st. Light refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is extended to all farmers of the community to attend.

Admits Robbery

Wm. Hannu was arrested at Ellingson by Sheriff Hawley, on week-end brought to Pine City. He was charged with having broken into and robbed Arth Bros. store at Ellingson, September 29th. Quite a lot of clothing and about $110 in cash was taken. Hannu pleaded guilty to the charge, at a hearing before Justice Stophian, last Friday, and bound over to the district court. Entrance to the store was made through a small window. When the sheriff investigated, he discovered finger prints had been left on the broken pane by the culprit. After a little quiet investigation, the sheriff came to the conclusion that Hannu was the guilty man, so he had the owner of a soft drink establishment at Ellingson, give Hannu a drink and save the glass. The finger prints on the glass and the name were compared and found to have been made by the same person.

When first arrested, Hannu denied having robbed the store, but when confronted with the fingerprint evidence, he admitted his guilt.

Civil Service Examination

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the county of Pine, Minnesota, to be held at Pine City on Nov. 29, 1921, to fill the position of rural carrier at Askov and examine for any later occur rural routes from other post offices in the above mentioned county. The salary of a rural carrier on a standard daily route of 24 miles is $1,800 per annum, plus an additional $30 per mile per annum for each mile or major fraction thereof in excess of 24 miles. The salary on motor routes ranges from $2,450 to $3,600 per annum, according to length. Separate examinations for motor routes and wagon routes are no longer held. Appointments to both positions will be made from the same register. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form 1977. Both men and women, if qualified, may enter this examination, but appointing officers have the legal right to specify the sex desired in requesting certification of eligibles. Women will not be considered for rural appointments unless they are widows of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines, or the wives of U. S. soldiers, sailors or marines who are physically disabled, qualified for examination by reason of injuries received in the line of military duty. Form No. 1977 and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above, or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington, D. C. at the earliest possible date.

K. P. Lodge Has Feed

The lovely October was the predominating figure, when it received the wholehearted and undivided attention of a large crowd of members of the Knights of Pythias lodge, last evening.

Frank Stuck was the chef in charge, and had prepared enough oyster stew to give everyone an overabundance. Frank's cooking was so appetizing, that the fellows ate until they were filled up, and then ate some more.

The supper followed a short lodge meeting, and what took up the balance of the time, making a very enjoyable evening for those present.

Pine City News
Royal Hunt was called to the State capital, Tuesday, on business connected with the state sale of lands, to be held soon.

Mrs. Herbert Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Daniels, was operated on for appendicitis, at Wideman last Monday evening. Isabel report stated she was getting along nicely.

Louis Erhart spent the week end at St. Paul with Mrs. Erhart, who underwent an operation, recently. She will have another for appendicitis next week. They take this means of thanking the Royal neighborly for advice for the flowers sent Mrs. Erhart.

We have had the late apple blossoms and the peanut bushes, and we thought this was doing pretty good, but Frank Stuck came along yesterday with some nice ripe, juicy strawberries that he had just picked in his garden, and we believe that beats the others. Frank says they had two or three meals with strawberries from his own garden last week. The Stucks have been talking about going to Florida, but winter, but there's no need of that, with strawberries the first of November in Minnesota.

Are You Interested?

The Board of County Commissioners will meet in the Court House next Tuesday, Nov. 1st, to take up the question of redistricting the county into new commissioner districts.

There has been considerable dissatisfaction with the districts as they are now. There is more dissatisfaction with the proposed division of the county suggested at the last board meeting.

Residents in the eastern part of the county want a district tributary to the Soo Railway.

Now is the time to divide the county so as to give the best service to every section of the county. Taxpayers should attend the meeting and give their views on the subject. That's what the meeting is for.

Don't holler after the county is redistricted. If you have an opinion in the matter, tell it to the board Tuesday.

The committee report recommended that District No. 1 be composed of the towns of Royall, Rock Creek, and Pine City, village and town. District No. 2, Chenuva, Polekanga, Brook Park, Munch, Crosby, and Hinekey town and village. District No. 3, Dell Grove, Sandstone, Danforth, Wilma, Arva, Arline, Barry, Clover, Oenys, District No. 4, Pine Lake, Ellingson, Partridge, Bremen, Kettle River, Birch Creek, and Sturgeon Lake. District No. 5, Windemere, Kerrick, Nickerson, Norman, Bruno, Balden, Keen, Elmzing, and Dossey.

The plan of redistricting will leave each commissioner living in the district they now represent. As it is now, Thomas of the fifth district has only three towns, Windemere, Kerrick, and Nickerson. Pine City is now in the second district and Hinekey is in the third. The population of the proposed districts is as follows: No. 1, 4,416; No. 2, 4,011; No. 3, 3,975; No. 4, 5,423; No. 5, 2,127.

Mark Robey, the traveling salesman who has made the town weekly for more than twenty years, and who is well known to most Mora people, this week informed a Times reporter that the body of his son Hartley, who was killed in France, had been returned to America and is expected to Sandstone this week, where it will be interred with military honors. Mr. Robey made the trip to France last year and made an extensive search over the battlefields where his son was killed, for his body, but was unable to locate it. It was not found until February of this year—Mora Times.

"The Little Players" Wednesday

The second number on the Lyceum course, being held under the auspices of the Leon Heath post, will be given in the Family theatre next Wednesday evening, November 3rd.

The attraction for this program is "The Little Players." These people are reported to be excellent entertainers, appearing in short acts of plays, readings, musical selections, etc.

Mr. McKee is a baritone soloist of considerable note, having taken leading roles in such productions as "The Miracle" and "The Bohemian Girl." He is also a pianist and composer and one of the features of the program is his original piano lessons. His improvisations are true to life and he excels in child characters.

For several seasons leading a large opera company and being musical director of one of the largest chautauque systems in the country.

Football Tuesday

The Pine City high school football team will play the Grantsburg eleven at the fair grounds, next Tuesday afternoon, November 1st. The game will be called at 2:30 sharp. This is the first year that football has been played here for a long time. There are lots of young football fans in this community who will welcome the opportunity to see games on the local grounds.

The local team played the Chisago Lake high school team at Lindstrom, last Saturday, losing by a score of 40 to 19. The first half ended by a score of 19 to 13. The Chicago high making their big score in the last quarter. This was the first game played by the local boys and the showing they made, was a very creditable one.

The lineup last Saturday was: Harry Hetschel, center; Chester Greenley and Winslow Beavergard; Ernest Wilcox and George Roberts, tackles; Almer Bjork and Cecil Blanchard, ends; Galen Weiberg, quarterback; Herb Johnson and James Hawley, half backs; and Lawrence Therrien full back.

Plan on attending the game Tuesday. Any one who has never seen a football game, will find it a very interesting one to watch.

Help the Crippled Children

"Play ball!" The umpire knelt with great difficulty and with his cap dusted off the home plate. The pitcher hobbled into the pitching box and with a few experimental twirls of his left arm heaved the ball at the catcher.

An expectant ball settled over the interested fans who were grouped along the side lines. The batter slowly advanced to the plate and settling his body into his new crutches, savagely waved his bat in the air.

The ball started—the batter crouched—his bat swept viciously through the air—it smacked the ball and tossing the bat to the ground, the runner hobbled gracefully toward first base.

"Out," the umpire shouted and the cheers rose from the long line of wheel chairs and movable beds occupied by the spectators.

What a strange game. The players and spectators are all patients of the State Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Paul, and despite the fact that they are inhibited from life as normal children live, they play the same games. The game is just as merry, their smiles are just as infectious, and their play is just as hard but it is with special rules. But to the well and strong adult who is privileged to enter into their lives it is a constant struggle between a desire to cry and to laugh with them.

Ever since the hospital was begun there has been a constantly growing waiting list. A waiting list composed of Minnesota's children who, unless they receive the (Continued on last page)

Sheriff Hawley was notified and asked the Lidgerwood authorities to take him into custody. Mr. Hawley left for there last Monday, and returned with Hoffman yesterday.

Hoffman admits being in Pine City the night the car was stolen but claims to have purchased the car, four days later, from a man in Hankins, N. D. He states he hasn't seen the car since his arrest at Winnipeg. The authorities there have informed Sheriff Hawley that Hoffman was released with the car.

Arrested in North Dakota

Art Hoffman was arrested at Lidgerwood, N. D. last week, and charged with having had a stolen car in his possession. The car, a Ford belonging to Leonard Machart of Beroun, was stolen from in front of the armory last year while the owner was attending a dance.

Hoffman was arrested in Winnipeg, a short time ago, for crossing the border without appearing before a customs officer, and for having only one license plate on the car he was driving. An automobile protective agency association of Chicago got word of the arrest, and discovered the number of the motor corresponded with the Machart car number. He was held for a few days, and then released.

Underwood of the "Big Four"

The people seem to be well satisfied with the "Big Four"—Hughes, Root, Lodge and Underwood—who have been elected by President Harding to represent the United States at the disarmament conference. "The foreigners will have a fine time putting over anything on that bunch" is the way his satisfaction is frequently expressed.

Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama (portrait herewith) is the Democrat on the delegation. He was born in Kentucky in 1852. He has served ten terms in the house and is serving his second term in the senate. His appointment surprised no one, for he and President Harding have been close friends for six years. There are those who say that Harding likes Underwood best of all the Democrats and thinks him the ablest. When Harding was elected, the Republicans underlined in the senate was only two votes and he had either to occupy his seat or else find a Democrat to pair with him. He went to Underwood, who promptly agreed to protect his vote until his success was assured.

Wilson's Health Is Improved

Woodrow Wilson felt a sick man two years ago. Since then he has passed under the shadow of death and out of the White House. He will be sixty-five years old next December and has passed through an ordeal which few men survive. His normal weight in health while he was president was 180 pounds. He shows little departure from that figure. His eyesight is as good although he has discarded his favorite nose glasses for spectacles. His hair has turned snow white.

The motor nerves and muscles of his left side have given more response to treatment than was hoped for. He still walks with a cane most of the time, but frequently hangs the crook over his arm and goes it alone without his "third leg."

Mr. Wilson is far from a well man. During the last two years there have been times when his voice was inaudible and when he could not support himself alone. His condition today shows more improvement than his family and friends dared hope for.

Stillman Fight Is on Again

The Stillman divorce case is again to the front and the most interesting development seems to be that Miss Anne Stillman, who exposed the cause of her father, became reconciled to her mother during the summer months. Although Mrs. Stillman definitely broke with her mother, she sided with her father, and it was through her that an effort was made to compromise the case last spring. Miss Stillman now occupies a unique position in the family, as she is on friendly terms both with her mother and father. It has been learned that Mrs. Stillman, "Bibi," Anne, Alexander, and Guy took part in a so-called "family reunion" in Canada during the summer.

Another equally interesting development is the rumor that Mr. Stillman hopes for a reconciliation with Mrs. Stillman. In this connection it was learned that Mrs. Stillman recently certain no overtures for reconciliation until her husband admitted the fatherhood of Guy.

That Mr. Stillman seriously hopes, however, to adjust the "divorce mess" was indicated.

Campaign for Woman President

By the gift of $140,000 the National Women's party has come into possession of the entire block of three houses composing the "old capitol" and of the surrounding historical gardens immediately opposite the present capitol building at Washington. The gift was made by Mrs. Oliver H. D. Belmont (portrait herewith) who was unanimously elected to the office of president of the party. Miss Alice Paul was elected vice president. Miss Elsie Hill remains chairman of the executive committee.

Mrs. Belmont made announcement that a new "patriotic party" will be in the field in the presidential campaign with the women voters in every state organized to "carry on" against the old political parties with a woman's platform and a woman's candidate for president.

She said effort would be made to get it into action for the congressional campaign next year with the proposed amendment to the constitution to abolish all legal discriminations against women as the issue.

Japanese at Arms Conference

The Japanese delegates to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and problems of the Pacific will be Prince Denzo Tokugawa, president of the house of peers; Vice Admiral Tomonaru Kato, minister of war; in connection with the death of Peter M. Carlson April 17. The verdict carries a sentence of life imprisonment.

The appointment of Admiral Kato (portrait herewith) has been expected. He is leader of the opposition party called the Kenmei, was foreign minister in the Okuma cabinet and served as Japanese ambassador to the court of St. James. He is supposed to represent the leaders of the financial, industrial and commercial circles.

The powerful position of Prince Tokugawa in Japan is attested by the fact that it has been the custom of the emperor to invite him to form a cabinet at times of ministerial changes, and which the prince has invariably declined.

dent of the house of peers, his appointment constitutes recognition of the fact. He has been called "a man of peace and common sense."

South St. Paul, Oct. 24, 1921.

The local run of 12,300 cattle, mostly from the Dakotas and Montana, was the largest of the year and included more fat cattle than have been here on any day during that time. The market was very uneven, but mostly weak to 25c lower, although some sales looked fully 50c lower. Best grass beefs here was a part load of Montana which sold to outsiders at $6.50, highest priced load but being some 1,200 pound averages of the same origin going to packers at $6.25. Bulk of the grass beefs sold from $4.75 to $5.50, a few of the commonest ones down to $4.25. Although best grass fat heifers are notably up around $6.00, very few passed $5.00 in today's trade, with the bulk of the butcher she stock from $3.00 to $4.50. More canners sold at $2.00 today than at last week's close, although bulk brought $2.25 with cutters going on up to $2.75 or occasionally $3.00. Best light bulls $2.50 to $3.25. Best light veal calves sold largely at $9.50, a few $10.00. Choice feeders weighing 1,000 to 1,100 pounds sold in lots at $6.00, with good to choice stockers and feeders selling from $5.25 to $5.75, and bulk of this class from $4.00 to $5.00, although some of the commonest stock steers sold as low as $3.00.

Average Farm Pay

Average monthly wages being paid farm laborers have declined 16 per cent since the beginning of the 1921 harvest season, according to figures compiled today by the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

The federation's figures are based on reports sent in by county farm bureaus in the fifth statewide farm labor survey conducted by the organization this year.

The returns, showing wages being paid in each county for various classes of work, indicate the following average rates of pay for farm labor in Minnesota:

General work—$34 a month, for permanent help, and $198 a day. Corn picking—4.12c a bushel when unloading is done by hand, and 3.8c a bushel when unloading is done by elevators.

Potato picking—4.8 cents a bushel and $2.50 a day.

Two months ago, a similar wage survey by the federation showed that farmers were paying an average of $41 a month for general farm work, and $45 for harvesting. In at least one-third of the counties in Minnesota, federation officers said, farmers now are paying less than $34 average; in the first 40 counties to report in the latest survey, 16 declared $30 to be the prevailing monthly wage, while four others set it as low as $25.

A Pine City Citizen tells of his experience.

H. J. Buirge, mill farmer, Pine City, says, "I know Doan's Kidney Pills deserve a good deal of praise. A number of years ago I had an attack of backache which I suppose was caused by a cold setting on my kidneys. My back caused me lots of suffering, especially when I had to do much lifting. My kidneys didn't act right. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me in a short time and I hadn't used them long before all the trouble disappeared. I have had no return of kidney complaint."

Junior Livestock Show

Fifteen hundred boys and girls on Minnesota farms have been feeding baby beef and dairy calves, hogs and sheep this summer in competition for Junior Livestock Show honors, according to W. A. McKersrow, secretary of the Minnesota Livestock Breeders Association.

The climax of their work will come on Nov. 17, when judging will begin at the fourth annual show at South St. Paul. The show opens on Nov. 16th. The best animals raised by the boys and girls of each county in six to eight months of careful feeding have been selected through local competition to enter the final event of the year at the Junior Livestock show, Nov. 18, the last day of the show, will be devoted to an auction sale of beef calves, hogs and sheep. Nearly $9,000 will be spent for prizes and the expenses of the contest.

In 1916 the Minnesota Livestock Breeders Association decided to devote the major portion of its income to promoting the work of boys' and girls' calf clubs and competitive junior shows. There were only 85 animals at the first state show; at the 1920 show there were 120 beef calves alone, while two boys from each of 15 counties exhibited dairy calves, and 40 pigs from 40 counties and 40 lambs from 20 counties were entered. The 1921 show will be the climax of 10 years of work by stockmen, club leaders, county agents and the livestock breeders' association.

Lights and Shadows

Mr. A. P. Johnson, Publisher of the News, Grand Rapids, Michigan, in his issue of Oct. 13, prints the following:

PRODUCTIVE ADVERTISING

There are three "beasts" in the printer's eye: the reporter and the editor. The reporter is the beast that we know of, and the editor is the beast that we don't know of. They are "beasts" of religion, because of their religious good about the corporation; because of their religious interest when they pay for it. Readers of this newspaper know where the Standard Oil Company is. We are not here when they do more good than they do harm. We are not here when they do more good than they do harm. We are not here when they do more good than they do harm.

THE above editorial is refreshing to those who are responsible for the policies of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

When in October, 1918, the present management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) took charge of the business, one of the first things it decided to do was that the public should be given intimate information regarding the Company and its affairs. Those responsible for the management knew that the policies that had animated this organization for many years were policies which benefited stockholders, employees, and the public, and that these policies could not but meet the approval of the people generally, for they were based on fair dealing, justice and equity.

The result of this decision was the authorization of a widespread publicity campaign, which has been carried on for about three years, and the proof of its effectiveness is to be seen not only in the infrequent mention being made by the newspapers of the country in editorials such as the one written by Mr. Johnson, quoted above, but in the better understanding on the part of the public of what the Company is trying to do.

The basic principle upon which the business of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is built is to provide the individual, wherever he may live in the 11 states served by this Company, with such products of petroleum as he may need, and to get them to him when he wants them, and at a price which is fair alike to the stockholders, the public, and the competitor.

"FOOL TRICK" OF EVERY OPERATOR

Good Percentage of Automobile Owners Start Cars With Brake Not Released.

TREAT GEARS VERY ROUGHLY

Pressing Starter When Motor is Already Going is Also Common Mistake—Better Plan is to Touch Accelerator.

Every motorcar operator has his pet "fool trick," even though he may pride himself on his careful driving. For instance, it is safe to say that a good percentage of automobile owners start their cars with the emergency brake not completely released. This is, of course, a bad practice since it cuts down the motor's power and causes excessive wear of the brake linings.

When Engine is Heard, Did you ever think you had stalled your motor and pressed the starter button when the engine was still going, but its sound was drowned by traffic noise? Chances are that you have more than once, yet it is a bad thing to do, and doing it too often will in time make it necessary to have the starter drive or flywheel gear replaced.

When Engine is Heard, Did you ever think you had stalled your motor and pressed the starter button when the engine was still going, but its sound was drowned by traffic noise? Chances are that you have more than once, yet it is a bad thing to do, and doing it too often will in time make it necessary to have the starter drive or flywheel gear replaced.

A better plan before depressing the starter button in such a case is to touch the accelerator and listen to see if the engine responds.

Every one has at some time or other tried to shift gears without throwing out the clutch, but a few drivers seem to have a habit of trying to do this impossible "stunt." Persistence in doing this chips off the teeth, and will make replacement of the gears necessary.

Throwing Gears Forward. Another bad habit in this connection is to throw the gears into a forward speed while the car is still moving backward or vice versa. This is equivalent to trying to mesh gears going in opposite directions. Any one who does this mechanically injures, and causes what the repair man calls "chatter."

Last, but not least, is the careless practice of a few motorists in putting the car in the gear which has the highest and leaving the ignition or lighting switches on. A visit to the battery recharging station the next morning is the worst penalty, however, the motorist can expect for his neglect in this particular.

AUTOMOBILE GOSSIP

Automobile sales in the United States number approximately 100,000. More than 2,000 motor vehicles are used by the United States Department of Agriculture.

There are 135 passenger cars, 91 trucks, and seven motorcycles in the Helena, Idaho.

The number of American automobiles in Norway exceeds those of any other country.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

Now that oysters are again in season the following will be a suggestion of some of the ways they may be used or suggested.

Oysters in Cucumber. Cut large cucumbers into quarters, crosswise, and remove the seeds. Remove the peelings in a narrow strip, leaving strips of peelings to make a striped effect. See that the sections will stand level, then scoop out the cucumber centers that are too old for slicing may be used as cups. Fill with raw oysters, without shells, and bake in a pan in a hot oven until the cucumbers are tender. Serve with a spoonful of tartar sauce in each cucumber cup. To make a salad, gather for five minutes one cupful of a cupful of sausage meat and one teaspoonful of grated onion. Add to a pan six beaten eggs, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper, and six and one-half cups of milk. Pour over slices of toast butter and garnish with sliced of fresh tomato sprinkled with chopped green pepper.

Terrapin Chicken.—Chop two hard eggs and two cooked chicken livers, mix these with two cupfuls of cold cooked chicken cut in bits. Season to taste with salt, pepper and a grating of nutmeg. Before serving, add the yolk of an egg beaten with two tablespoonfuls of cream and one teaspoonful of lemon juice, stir this into the hot mixture, pour into tinbale cups or crustards.

Repeat this until the mold is full of the peaches in a warm place. Fill the mold with ripe berries and pour over a layer of jelly. When cold and firm turn out and garnish with a few whole ripe berries.

INTERCHANGE SPARES OFTEN

When Left Out of Service Too Long, Its Endurance and Longevity Are Handicapped.

It is a good rule to carry a spare tire too long. Interchange it with the other tires every month. Of course, it should be carried in a spare tire. When left out of service too long, its endurance and longevity are seriously handicapped.

Lengths of pipe on the rod hold the parts in position. Another rod is used to join the parts. The first rod is fastened to two uprights under the bench, and the second is connected with a pedal, made of strip iron. The fourth runs through two strips in the top of the bench. Small pieces of strip iron, bent into hooks, are fastened to the edge of the bench as indicated. A notched piece of strip iron, bolted to the floor, holds the pedal in different positions. One edge of a casting is gripped by the strap iron hooks, and the other by the ends of the tongue. When the pedal is pushed down, the tire is raised open, so that it can be repaired.

USE OF HOG CHOLERA SERUM RECOMMENDED

Proper Treatment of Herds Afflicted With Flu and Cholera—Virus Should be Withheld.

(Prepared by Office of Publications, University Farm, St. Paul.) An epidemic of "flu" among swine in certain sections southeastern Minnesota has been recognized in several herds associated with hog cholera and influenza occurring in the same herds, and that virus be withheld until all indications of "flu" have subsided.

Although other parts of the state have not reported this "flu," Dr. Kernkamp believes its spread probable.

Dr. Kernkamp strongly advises the use of hog cholera serum alone where both diseases occur in the same herd, and that virus be withheld until all indications of "flu" have subsided.

WOULDN'T STAND FOR REBUKE. Beggar Woman Had Her Own Point of View Concerning "Business" She Was Engaged In.

Secretary Lawson Purdy of the Charity Organization society said at a dinner in New York: "Professional beggars are a self-righteous crew. What I mean is that they regard their trade the same as you and I regard honest work. One winter afternoon I came on a beggar woman I knew of old. She was begging in a bitter wind on a corner, and three little children in calico gowns shivered at her side.

"You—Jane, I said reproachfully. "You—begging! And those three little children! They aren't really yours at all!"

"Well, dammit, said the beggar woman, I wouldn't please to beg or hard if they were really mine, for then I wouldn't be forking over a dollar a day to hire them!"—Los Angeles Times.

Embarrassing Moment. I had just received a letter from my man. I read it over and at the end he had written: "P. S.—Sale of View." I read that phrase over three or four times but could get no sense out of it, so finally I took it into the living room where my folks were all sitting and said: "Mother, what does Harry mean by this?" And I read the phrase out loud. Inside my embarrassment when the morning audience flashed over me as I read the words aloud. I made a hasty retreat.—Chicago American.

Left High and Dry. "What made you get out of the society?" "We didn't drop out; it slid out from under us."

Gen. Coleman D. Post, Delmar's new senator was laughing in the senate restaurant.

"This magazine here," he said, "reads a periodical article, 'contains a long article on the best way to stop bicycling. Now, it seems to me—"

And General D. Post chuckled. "It seems to me," he added, "that a lot of many readers would rather know the best way to start them."

It is hard to appreciate good advice that doesn't coincide with one's own desires.

The man who leaves the world to better this best of it is a worse parasite than dodder.

You remember the story of the Pitcher—

It made a good many trips to the well and it came back in good order.

"I can take care of myself," it said—"they don't need to talk about risks to me."

But it went once too often.

After that it was only part of a pitcher, and they didn't need to talk to it about risks—it knew.

A lot of people would believe coffee can harm them until it does harm them.

"Nonsense!" they say, "I never disturb me."

When it does disturb them, then they know. Often the disturbance which they then recognize is the result of irritations to nerves and digestion which have been going on for a long time.

If you have to be awake at night and count the clock ticks, after an evening glass of coffee, then you know that it's better to be sick than sorry.

The risk of coffee's harm is gone when the meal-time drink is Postum.

Here's a delightful and satisfying table beverage, with charm for the taste and without harmful effects on the stomach. You know you're on the right track with Postum; there's never the possibility that you'll go over to often.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink with the meal being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

"There's a Reason" for Postum. Made by Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Battle Creek, Mich.

Library Notes

Have you seen our new books? "Fiction of the Old Home" is the latest by Harold Bell Wright. "After all," says the paralyzed old town philosopher, to Helen, the mill owner's daughter, as together they look down upon after-war Millburgh seething with class-hatred, stirred up by labor agitators and biased capitalists and preparing for industrial war; "after all, may not the children of the mill and the wretched homes in the Flats bear a certain family resemblance to the daughter of the mill and the big house on the hill yonder?" To Adam Ward, the greedy millionaire, he explains his philosophy of life, and of the senselessness of all humanity, and concludes: "Your boy and Pete Martin's boy with more thousands of your mind realize have come back from the war fields of Europe to enthrone God, once more in the industrial world. And it shall come that every forge and furnace and mill and machine shall be an organ, to his praise—that every suit of overalls shall be a vestry robe of ministering service. And this God that you banished from the mill and that is to be your son restored to his throne, and served by a priesthood of unit-ed employers and employes shall bear a new name, Adam Ward, and that new name shall be work. And why not? Does not the work of the world express the ideals, the purpose, the needs, the life, the oneness of the world's humanity, even as a flower expresses the plan that puts it forth? And is not God the ultimate flowering of the human plant?" The nine million or more readers of America's most popular novelist will appreciate this thoughtful love story with its mill-town setting, a story which, despite an occasional type-character or old sentimental plot twist, is written in their favorite author's best, almost Harold-Bell-Wright vein.

Help the Children

charative care given free of charge to the needy, will inevitably become public charges or else go through life horribly and grosslyly con-torted.

Michael Dowling, Oliva's banker and newspaperman, who was frozen so badly in his childhood that he lost his feet and one of his hands, and so died nearly blind, has the mental and physical torture the crippled child is subjected to.

His work in life was to ameliorate the condition of these youngsters; it was he that said, "Children are God's playmates. Dare we neglect them?"

On his death a group of his admirers in casting about for a suitable memorial to his name and works decided on the construction of an addition to the State Hos-pital for Crippled Children, to be known as the Michael Dowling hospital.

Arrangements have been made to furnish the same medical atten-tion, the same nursing care and the same mental and physical edu-cation as is now being given.

And the cost of this memorial will be the neighborhood of $100,000. Of this sum $25,000 has already been pledged by private sub-scription from the closest business and professional friends. The re-mander is to be gathered by pub-lic subscription.

The Minnesota Bankers' Asso-ciation and the Elks of Minnes-ota are in charge of the general subscription campaign.

They have adopted as their slogan "Will you help us to help them?"

Will you?

The visit will be made about a week after the Legion Na-tional convention that is about November 7th. The exact date will be determined later.

Any American Legion Post may receive a copy of an Armistice Day program entitled "Let Us Forget" by sending to "Community Service," 1 Madison Square Avenue, New York, request, together with ten cents in stamps to cover mimeo-graphing and postage. The program emphasizes the principles of true Americanism for which Legion-aires fought and for which so many of their buddies died.

When the new pavement between St. Cloud and Sauk Center is com-pleted early in November, Legions of Sauk Center and St. Cloud in uniform, accompanied by a Boy Scout Troop, will march over the route as guards to a long line of war-torn schooners, applying the manner in which travel across the Minnesota was accomplished in pi-oner days. To make the celebra-tion more realistic, a battle between Legionnaires and real Indians from Mille Lacs lake, will be staged Governor Preus, Lt. Governor Col-lins, Mayor Leach of Minneapolis, and Mayor Holcom of St. Paul are among the distinguished officials who will witness the demonstration.

Throughout Minnesota, many communities have left in their mien only one survivor of the civil war campaigns. And one by one these sole representatives of the Grand Army of the Republic are passing to their eternal reward. Last week at Sauk Center, Minnesota, Legions of Robert Swift Post tendered aid to rest the remains of Clark Case, charter member of Palmer Post of the G. A. R. and Stearns county resident since civil war days. Every member of the Palmer post has now passed to the great beyond. Not a single representative of the Sauk Center G. A. R. Post remains.

Iowa and Minnesota are the lead-ers in the coming Legion Auxiliary convention in Kansas City. Iowa leads every state, with 15 votes followed by Minnesota with 13 votes. Kansas, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts are other lead-ing
