Thanksgiving

AND THOU shalt keep the feast of weeks unto the Lord thy God with a tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the Lord thy God, according as the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

AND thou shalt rejoice before the Lord thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite that is within thy gates, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the Lord thy God has chosen to place his name there.

AND thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Egypt; and thou shalt observe and do these statutes.

THOU shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine;

AND thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Levite, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gate.

SEVEN days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the Lord thy God, in the place which the Lord shall choose; because the Lord thy God shall bless thee in all thy increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.

—DEUTERONOMY, CH. 16, v. 10-15.

CAR PILOTS NOW HAVE SORE FEET

Physicians Are Treating Victims Who "Step on Gas" Too Long Without Rest.

CLAIM EFFECTS NOT SERIOUS

Disease Usually Follows Long Trip Through Which Driver Has Remained Continually at Wheel.—Origin Finally Traced.

It is not all smooth sailing for the driver of a "gasoline wagon" according to physicians, who report that many motorists are returning from long trips with a decidedly noticeable limp. It is the new foot disease, but don't be alarmed; it is not at all serious.

The disease is always acquired in the accelerator foot, the appendage that shows the car over the road at a fast clip. Continuous pressure of the foot on the accelerator button causes a displacement of the metatarsal bones, declare physicians who have diagnosed cases that have been brought to their attention. Its effects are not serious. Rest is the only cure.

One Day Trips Trick. More than one motorist returns home limping in one day, doctors aver. Long trips cause strains on the car and the driver. The strain on the accelerator foot sets up a nervous irritation that results in pain, and as a result the driver abandons his car foot with a limp every time he walks. The disease is commonly known as the "motor foot," but is technically called the "metatarsal displacement."

The limp usually disappears in the right foot, for few drivers are "left-footed." The disease usually follows a long overland trip, through which the driver has remained steadily at the pedal extremely a rest.

Swell Doctors Confer. The coppers of the chiropodists and orthopedic surgeons have taken on a silver lining since the arrival of the new foot ailment. Many motor vehicles are returned to their owners to receive treatments. Massages and rest are said to cure the pains as rapidly as any other treatment.

Motorists accustomed to long drives scoff at the idea of the disease. It is as they say, "I have driven 3000 miles without a hitch and death were being decided in the arena below. The grey rhythmic curves of the coastline all flamingly gay with banners and flowers and girls' holiday hats. Along the Harvard section, red roses and crimson sweaters bloomed in the fragrance of far coasts and rugs. Where the Yale contingent cheered for the hullo, the blue of Parma victims was like a twilight mist above the tops of spectators.

A whistle—and the game is on. Tensely being forward, the 30000 watch as life and death were being decided in the arena below. The first touchdown the winning side goes and with joy. Hugs and hugs and hats are promiscuously pitched about, perfect strangers pat other perfect strangers on the back, and the girls shake hands with boys they never saw before.

Meanwhile the snow comes down softly, in a powdery rain, and the final goal sees frozen hands and feet restlessly glad to race off to warn dormitory tons, where the victory is celebrated in English breakfast, or the defeat downed in orange pekoe, cakes and luscious chatter.

In Boston Thanksgiving morning great crowds fill Trinity, or whatever church has been designated for the union service. The pious in Copley square flutter over them—tame friendly doves of "peace on earth, good will to men."

Thanksgiving in New Orleans. Here in New Orleans several of the churches hold special union services, and the day is commemorated in typical New Orleans fashion—thanksgiving for giving others something for which to be thankful. Magical ebullient from turkey dinner are given to the hungry poor of the city by the Elks, the Shriners, the Salvation Army, Kingsley home and other benevolent organizations. School children remember, with fruit and nuts, the sufferers at the Home for Invalids.

Cranking Causes Mishaps. Cranking is the cause of 85.6 per cent of automobile mishaps, according to a survey of 100 accidents and showing about 12.7 per cent of accidents and 10.9 per cent are caused by carelessness in entering and leaving cars.

SURE-ACTING PUMP SAVES AUTO BATTERY

Device Causes Engine to Start Firing at Once.

Means Found for Injecting into Cylinders Sufficient Amount of Gasoline to Vaporize and Mix With Air.

Many automobiles require a sure-acting priming device to cause the engine to start firing at once, instead of compelling the starting motor to whirl for long periods, which puts a heavy drain on the storage battery. There are, however, some priming devices that inject into the cylinders a sufficient amount of gasoline so that enough will vaporize and mix with the air, and the combustion chamber to form an inflammable mixture. The best of these is one that can be operated from the driver's seat.

Obtain an ordinary eight-foot of cup, as shown in the illustration. Attach it to a suitable part of the car, such as the dash, or mount it on the engine block above the carburetor. By the use of one-eighth-inch copper pipe, like that for the gasoline line, the cup should be connected with the intake manifold directly above the vertical tube to the carburetor. Then, by the adjustment of the feed-valve on the cup, the correct amount of gasoline is admitted to the manifold in the right place. In this way all cylinders will receive the same mixture, and the engine will develop maximum power.

After the engine has started well, the feed-valve can be closed. This method is far more reliable than priming by hand.

Save your storage battery by equipping your car with this simple sure-acting primer.

ing-cups on cylinders, for, when the engine is primed through them, a greater quantity is injected than is needed for one explosion, and if this reason there is a certain amount of vapor formed, regardless of low temperature, which then finds its way past the piston-rings into the crankcase and mixes with the oil—L. E. Prindle, in Popular Science Monthly.

TRICK YOU MAY NOT KNOW

Simple Little Trick to Make the Hub Cap Do Its Own Loosening When It Sticks.

In case the ordinary method of placing a wrench on a sticking hub cap and then tapping the wrench with a hammer, fails, try this: Place a small box or horse of very nearly the height of the hub from the floor, alongside the wheel, so that when the latter is turned the end of the wrench will strike the box, the force of the blow loosening the cap.

DEADLY WEAPON OF SAVAGES

African Tribes Use Poisoned Arrows Which Inflict Death That Is Instantaneous.

The most effective weapon of the Masai and Andorho is the arrow which they poison with the Accrobia scimitar, a small tree, according to a National Geographic society bulletin. They hold the leaves and branches with the mixture becomes thick and pitch-like in appearance, and place it on sheets of bark which they hide high on the branches of trees away from children until it is needed. When an animal is shot with an arrow dipped in the poison it dies almost instantly. The natives cut on the flesh around the wound as soon as possible and throw it away. The remainder is eaten and the blood is drunk. This love of blood as an article of food is common among many African tribes, several of them going so far as to bleed their cattle and drink the blood hot or mix it with their porridge.

The Key to Success Is Work—There Is no Substitute for It!

In order to do your best work, you must be healthy. You must also be soundly at night, your nerves must be strong, steady and under perfect control.

If you are accustomed to drinking tea or coffee with your meals or between meals, you may be feeling yourself with a very great handicap. Your nervous system may be stimulated beyond what is natural for you.

For tea and coffee contain thein and caffeine. These are drugs as any doctor can tell you. They are known to irritate the nervous system by their action and to cause restlessness and insomnia, which prevent the proper recuperation of the vital forces.

If you want to be at your best, capable of doing the very best work that lies in you, why not stop drinking tea and coffee? Drink Postum, the rich, satisfying beverage made from scientifically roasted cereals.

Postum confers absolutely no drugs of any kind, but in flavor tastes much like rich coffee. It helps nerve and brain structure by letting you get sound restful sleep.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) and Postum (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink with the meal) being prepared by boiling for 20 minutes.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Sold everywhere.

Postum for Health "There's a Reason"

DAY EXPRESSIVE OF A NATION'S GRATITUDE

Turkey and cranberry sauce, crisp weather, a general sense of well-being, and football are in the air at the very mention of Thanksgiving, writes Margaret Samuels in the New Orleans Times-Hercury. This day is marked by increased activity in the domain under the sway of Mand's rollings, by herds of school boys and girls racing about the streets and parks in an excess of holiday spirit, and by a general rush, about two in the afternoon, in the direction of the football stadiums of the country.

But football and too much dinner are not in the final analysis, all of Thanksgiving. There is a deeper, in-through three hundred years of American history as the great national celebration of gratitude.

Do you remember the simple story of that first Thanksgiving day as you read it in your primary reader? And the thrill of thankfulness for national greatness and goodness that came to you as your chubby fingers drew eleven turkeys and rounded up Pilgrim fathers on the school blackboard?

Even at the unmoderate age of five you were exalted at the thought of the ancestral bravery of the United States kneeling to thank God for His blessings, with one hand on the rifle, one eye on the church door and a possible yet Indian, tomahawk lifted toward the worshipful scalp.

It was in 1823, the fall following the landing at Plymouth, that the Pilgrims celebrated the first Thanksgiving day. The little colony, one hundred and two souls who had fared westward from England for their conscience's sake, had weathered the storms of the Atlantic and the worse hardships of a New England winter, and they had won through to a land to a sort of tranquility—temporarily speaking.

Back from the rocky coastline of Massachusetts, with its cluster of hilltop houses, a little group of log huts crowded together behind the tall steeple, looking safe to their hearthstones to each other.

Discarded corn filled the barns and the storehouses of the settlement were turgid with the surplus. The colony had finally established in the New World of its seeking. Even the stern-faced Indians had begun to understand that there was room for them, and for the safe return to the old

Oh, Boys—Stuffing!

The Massachusetts Indians are the signal for great family reunions. From California, from the high seas, from the neighboring towns, the men and daughters and grandsons and granddaughters (together at the old homestead on Thanksgiving Day with the first harvest of the autumn generally scheduled for the last week in November. The sunny daylight and the vast beauty of the autumn woods of their summer homelands and from nearly every corner of the continent, there is a gay throng of bright faces going and coming between the railroad station and the farmhouse.

After the dinner—a tremendous affair—the old people sit half-dozing about the open fire, and the young of the New England that is now the "Don't you remember?" says one, and they are off in a jiffy to the old

Editorials by Our Readers

The Christmas Seals will soon be on sale and because of some misunderstanding concerning the use of the money obtained from the sale, it may not be a bad idea to explain.

The seals originally bore the Red Cross and the sale was financed by the Red Cross. The money obtained was used for fighting Tuberculosis.

The seals now bear the double barred cross of the National Tuberculosis Association. The sale is financed by the Public Health Association. The money raised is used for the same purpose as for formerly.

So don't be afraid to buy Seals because they go by a different name. They are Christmas Seals the same as always.

If we all understand the object of the sale we would not buy a nickel's worth from some child and then say "we have bought" to some one else. To be sure if a nickel is all we can afford that is alright but so many of us can afford more than a nickel and don't.

Do you know how many deaths we have had in our own county during the past year or five years from tuberculosis?

The county nurse can tell you. Why not ask her for some information on the subject? and then buy Christmas Seals.

Mrs. H. E. Dano,
Sec. Pine Co. Public Health Association.

Theatre Notes

Friday and Saturday, William S. Hart in "The Testing Block." This great picture, alive with action, shows Hart at the peak of his dramatic heights. It is a six-reel romance set against the scene "Dirt in Nellie Gray," which runs through it. The Hart pony and a new screen beauty add to its interest, and the cinematography is magnificent. "No Step Over!" Pollard comedy completes the program.

Sunday and Monday, William Desmond in "The Child." The "Green Me." One of the excellent pictures of the screen. It appeals deeply to the human emotions. The suspense is also maintained tense up to the last scenes, also a two-reel comedy.

Tuesday, Harry T. Morey in "The Birth of a Soul." Here is the story of a race of rugged men who dwell in the backwoods, in the sticks, far from the law. It is a thrilling revelation of the feud rule, love and sacrifice that has no parallel, Antonio in the "Velvet Mystery."

Thursday, Robert Warwick in "Thou Art the Man." Finally accused of murdering some one, he went to prison to shield the girl he loved. But when he came out and found that the guilty had poisoned her mind against him—1 For News and Amateur night.

School Notes

Exams were held this week. Many met their Waterloo manfully and many tried to but failed.
The basket ball squad has been practicing faithfully the past week, getting in condition for the preliminary game with Moose Lake. The Northerners are not in the Little Eight Conference, but the school took games with them for practice. Dart, miss, making the trip to Moose Lake on Dec. 2nd and give the team a little deserved support.
A mentality test was given to the students of the Normal Dept. and the Enclars by Miss Dougherty.
Everyone is planning for the big carnival to be held in the Gym on Dec. 7th. The carnival band especially is practicing diligently. The minstrels as yet have not all arrived from the south but upon their arrival a rehearsal will take place immediately. Don't forget the date and come.
Most of the teachers left for their respective homes to spend the Thanksgiving holidays.
The first edition of the school paper is out. This being the first paper ever published by the P. C. H. S. was something different and the many "crepe-hangers" who said the first copy would never be printed got fooled. Here's hoping they get some brains and use them.

FRANCE WILL CUT ARMY IN HALF IF GIVEN GUARANTEE

Premier Briand Says Peace Is Badly Wanted, But Fears Prussianism.

WANTS HELP INSURED

Asks That in the Event of Reduction in Army Germany and America Aid If Germany or Russia Should Attack France.

Washington — France, Premier Briand told the arms conference, proposed further reductions of arms, which would bring it to half its former strength, but still leave, of course, the force which he considers necessary to assure her security.

Germany, which apparently disarmed, Premier Briand said, cannot be left to present machinery, raise an army of six million or seven million men. At least 25,000 Germans were receiving daily military instruction, he added.

Although a part of Germany evidently wants peace and is ready to get back to peaceful pursuits, the French premier declared, another portion of the military caste is continuing to preach the old Prussian doctrine. In a dramatic speech of an hour, the French premier outlined to the conference "what is being said at the door of France," which, he added, "wants peace."

"How can anyone ask France to disarm under such conditions?" he asked. Russia, said M. Briand, could not be considered a negligible quantity, for she retained the power to mobilize 20,000,000 men. He asked what would come of France if the Bolsheviks should join the Germans? Although M. Briand, no one could tell. He emphasized the present situation in Germany and efforts to build up Bolshevik sentiment there.

British Backs France. Washington—Speaking for Great Britain and in reply to Premier Briand of France at the arms conference, Arthur J. Balfour, heading the British delegation, practically pledged the support of Great Britain to France "in the face of the last for dominion."

Senator Schaefer, leading the Italian delegation, told the arms conference that although Italy thought 100,000 men a just quota for her army plans were being made for a further reduction.

Japan wants only such an army, Baron Kato told the arms conference, as was "absolutely necessary for the defense of her islands."

Powers Agree on Far East. Washington—A joint declaration of policy toward China, based on territorial and administrative integrity, economic opportunity, and "open door" and the abolition of "special rights" was agreed upon by all nations represented in the arms conference.

The first definite agreement to come out of the conference, the declaration touched in general terms most of the principals for which China asked in her "bill of rights" for the conference. It provides in detail for the settlement of the specific problems with which she is confronted.

Ellis Root of the American delegation proposed the declaratory resolution and two hours of debate preceded its adoption. During the discussion both Japan and China, as the most directly interested nations, asked many questions as to possible applications of the suggested principles to specific problems, while all the other nations took a less active part in the debate.

Kato said "Perfect satisfaction" with the resolution was expressed by Admiral Raico, head of the Japanese delegation. The Chinese also declared themselves gratified at the development and the delegates of the other nations generally voiced the opinion that the agreement was a good start toward a complete agreement on the most important of the Far Eastern problems.

The two features of the declaration attracting widest attention were the clause approving "administrative integrity" for China, and that under which the powers agreed not to seek "special rights" within Chinese territory. Previous declarations of policy regarding Chinese integrity have stopped with "territorial integrity," commonly contrasted as a much narrower term than "administrative integrity." The "special rights" agreement was considered generally a direct continuation of the policy of "spheres of influence."

Statement Not Surprising. Baron Kato presented Japan's statement.

Assassination Plot Denied. London—Rumors circulated on the street here that the prince of Wales had been assassinated in India were denied at Downing street. The rumors were believed to have originated from reports of rioting in Bombay.

Chicago Loses Fare Fight. Washington—Streetcar fares in Chicago are subject to regulation by the Illinois public utilities commission, the supreme court ruled, dismissing the case brought on the city, for want of jurisdiction.

The newest invention of utilizing the energy of ocean waves has been patented by Thomas A. McCall of San Francisco. It is an arrangement of two buoys connected with a horizontal shaft that rests upon a supporting structure mounted on a stone pier. The floating buoys alternately rise and fall with each wave, which causes a pair of large rubber sheets to revolve. The energy thus developed is communicated through suitable gearing to a vertical shaft for power purposes.—Jullianopolis News.

A similar corn up 1/4c to 49c. Advance in Sterling exchange, stock and cotton markets, and poor deterioration in Australia were principal bullish factors while lack of support at times and fluctuations in prices were depressing influences. Visible supply wheat 50,877,000 bush, a decrease of 4,500,000 bush for four months total 163,000,000 bush or 16,000,000 bush more than during same period last year. Closing prices in Chicago cash markets: No. 2 red winter wheat $1.22; No. 2 hard winter wheat $1.11; No. 2 mixed corn $1.02; No. 2 yellow corn $1.01; white oats $1.04. Quoted November 31, No. 1 timothy, Minneapolis $18.50; No. 1 alfalfa, Minneapolis $21; No. 1 prairie, Minneapolis $16.

FEED. Rapid advance in prices and return of warmer weather slackened demand for feed stuff. Quoted November 21: Bran $14.75, middlings $12.50, Minneapolis; No. 1 alfalfa meal $15.00, Kansas City; 34% linseed meal $38, Minneapolis; gluten feed $19.50, St. Louis; 32% Chicago, 35% cottonseed meal $23.25, Memphis.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES. Potato markets quiet and prices were steady. New York sacked Round Whites down 10-15c in eastern cities to $2.15 per bush, but firm here. No. 2, a-b shipping points at $1.72-1.73. Northern sacked Round Whites down 25c in Chicago, market at $1.55-1.59, down 1/2c to b shipping points at $1.45-1.60.

DAIRY PRODUCTS. Butter market and prices were steady during the week but were firmer at close. Closing prices 51 score, New York 42 1/2; Philadelphia 44 1/2; Boston 44; Chicago 44. Cheese markets quiet. Prices at Wisconsin primary markets November 19: Swiss 19; Dutchess, Young America and Longhorns 19 1/2; Double Daisies 19 1/2.

LIVESTOCK AND MEATS. Chicago hog prices were practically steady during the week despite the fact that the extreme top showed a decline of 25c over 100 lbs. Good beef steers ranged from 15.50c lower, medium steers were unchanged, butcher cows and heifers firm to 25c higher, feeder steers practically steady. Veal calves declined 25c 1/2 both fat and feeding lambs and yearlings, weathers were steady but fat ewes declined 50-75c. Lamb weak to a shade lower, mutton ranged $1 higher at some markets to $1 lower at others. November 21 prices, good grade meats: Beef $12-14.50, veal $15-17; lamb $15-21; mutton $10-13; light pork loins $17-20; heavy loins $13-17.

THE THANKS OFFERING.

By Cora A. Matson Dolson.

A little child with white and unmarred soul
Has brought my life to seem one perfect whole.
Here to the altar will I bring my child,
And let my heart in with his unmarred
Here, while the sacred drops fall on his
Will I with the heart respond in love
That this the choicest gift the year has Given.
Shall be by me held as in trust from himself.

They're Coming Home

By JOHN E. DOLSEN.
The years are so long now and dreary
and lonely
Since the children have gone into homes of their own.
The house seems deserted, for John and only
Are left in it now, and we live all alone.

It often seems strange, even yet, to be sitting
With no one but John through the evening long,
And I listen at times for the quick, finger-fitting of the sock and
Of footsteps scuffed or for snatches of song.

While the children were little our work was much harder.
'Twas often an almost impossible task
To pay all the bills and keep food in the larder.
To watch them and answer what-
'er they might ask.

Still I oftentimes think, though I've grown so much older
And more nearly disabled than ever before,
That all of the cares I would willingly shoulder
If they were all with us and children
once more.

And every year as it draws toward
Thanksgiving
We make them all promise to visit us here,
And I sometimes tell John there'd be more joy in living.
For me, if Thanksgiving came four times a year.

I'll begin preparations next week to receive them.
And, though they've all grown to be
women and men
And have homes of their own, too, I'll almost believe them
To be just my own little children again.

I am going to have the best dinner
we ever
Yet had in the family Thanksgiving day.
And I know it is well, too, for maybe we never
Will all get together again in this way.

John says I am foolish and that 'I would be better
To have just a plain dinner, without falls or pies,
But I tell you last night when he read Ethel's letter,
I noticed that he, too, had tears in his eyes.

With Anticipatory Joys.
