

News Briefs from All the State

Condensed Stories of Happenings of the Week in Minnesota

Winoona—Henry Einhorn, a farmer near here, is in a serious condition at his home as a result of being crushed between a barn and a tractor, which was being used to move the barn.

St. Paul—Deposits in the state banks of Minnesota at the close of business June 30 last, reached a total of $436,292,193.83, or a net increase of $12,131,462.10 over the showing on April 30.

Tracy—Mrs. Jane Noblis, 37 years old, a resident of this section since 1872, died at the home of her son, John A. Noblis, in this city after a brief illness.

St. Paul—Pete St. Paul, lawyer, James E. Kelley, W. C. Graves, Styles W. Burr, C. W. Farham and C. A. Severson, left for the Bar association meeting at San Francisco, Cal., August 5 to 10.

Sleepy Eye—Emil Ellington forgot that his machine was in gear when he got out to crank it after the engine had died. The car ran over him. He is now in a hospital with two broken legs.

Mankato—Fowler & Ray, Mankato manufacturers, have notified Mr. Bowen that their plants at Mankato, Leroy and Astoria were practically without fuel.

Minneapolis—Four thousand new homes in Minneapolis are credited with swelling the city's population. The Minneapolis water department is the highest figure in its history.

Silverwater—William Albert Stoddard, aged 78, died at his home here as a result of a stroke of apoplexy. He was a Civil war veteran and a native of Minneapolis. He is a niece of Mr. Stoddard.

Duluth—A total of $47,930.55 was awarded land owners near the town of Colvin in the White Face river district. The land, it was claimed, was flooded through construction work by the Great Northern Power company at Colvin.

Minneapolis—William J. Hopkins, for 50 years a resident of Hennepin county, died at his home near the Lyndale bridge, Hennepin county, after a long illness. Mr. Hopkins has been engaged in farming.

Duluth—George Bailey, known as the "cowboy patron" of the Duluth police department, gained further laurels when he rescued two drunken male rascals from Lake Superior by lassoing them.

Bertram—John Callaghan, 45-year-old son of Paul Callaghan, a resident of First National bank of this city, was drowned at Little Pine lake.

Montevideo—A. A. Arnesen, former county auditor and a resident of this place since 1886, died at his home here after a long illness.

St. Cloud—An attempt to the city carnival ordinance refusing license to all carnival companies hereafter, will be recommended to the city council by Mayor Matson. The mayor's decision follows a request by the Minnesota department of the United States public health service, treating all cities and villages in the state to keep out such amusement companies.

Crosby—George B. Crosby, "father of Crosby," has donated to the city a strip of land containing a fraction more than 100 acres of land, including the shores of Serpentine lake, for a public park. This property, for the park to be donated by Mr. Crosby, is situated in the city and was started, gives this city about 2,000 feet of shore line, 300 feet long.

Sleepy Eye—After a search for many years, S. H. Higgs of this place has just located his son, Leslie Higgs, who disappeared in 1878, at Littleton, Madison, Wis., when he was 11 years of age.

Duluth—Stricken with cramps while swimming in the St. Louis river, Hugh Garwood, 10 years old, drowned. Although the body was recovered shortly after the accident, efforts to resuscitate the boy were futile.

St. Paul—The monthly July was the coolest in seven years, and the driest in six years, according to the monthly meteorological bulletin issued by U. G. Pursell, meteorologist.

Sherburne—Coal dealers at Sherburne report that they are entirely out of coal and need more coal immediately for heating and domestic use.

Minneapolis—A one-story frame building at 723 Main street northeast, owned by Peter Backstrom, was ordered demolished by the city engineer and building state fire marshal. The building constitutes a hazard, he said.

Northington—Charles Rand, established as a janitor for 40 years, has established his right to a $75,000 estate left by his mother 11 years ago. He is on his way to New York to take over his fortune.

Dodge Center—William Maland, aged 24, son of J. J. Maland, a pioneer settler of Winoona, hanged himself in his father's barn. He had been in poor health since an attack of influenza while serving at Fort Snelling, Minn., during the war. Young Maland was a member of a prominent fraternal society of this city.

St. Paul—John P. Rodgers, president of the John J. Rodgers Land company, St. Paul, has announced that he is working by himself at the Little Crow ranch as a consideration of $150,000. Thousands of cattle and horses are included in the purchase.

Minneapolis—Heavy rain leaving Minneapolis for Northwest points, rain 50 or more inches, the heaviest fields of Minnesota. North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana. Rail roads and labor were paralyzed. Approximately 2,500 men were shipless daily.

Marengo—Nephtalions are hearing confusion whereby the Illinois-Minnesota Power company of Chicago will take over the property and business of the Northwest Utilities company. The latter company's property has its headquarters in Marengo. The lead will be now at Spring Valley.

Duluth—More than 600 persons attended the sixth annual summer institute, crop and livestock show and horticultural exhibition at the Duluth Hotel.

Worthington—B. Linn, commander of Worthington, Minn., of the American Legion, is probably the best assistant in a Legion post. He has assisted in three games of the 100 yd. dash and is now 57.

Farmington—The remarkable sports of the Farmington, Minn., team were recalled the other day. The team had captured the

Pertinent Pointers for Practical Farmers

COW TESTING IS IMPORTANT WORK

Twenty New Associations for Testing Formed, a 100 Percent Increase.

The period from September 1, 1921, to July 1, 1922, marks the greatest progress in cow testing association work in Minnesota, says E. A. Hanson, dairy specialist, with headquarters at University Park. "Twenty new associations were organized during this time, an increase of 100 per cent. The cow testing association," he added, "provides an excellent way to locate his 'ardent' cows; to obtain yearly records, and to find the value of the sire before his hide is made into boots."

As an illustration of the fact that looks are often deceiving when it comes to selecting cows on the basis of production and profit, Mr. Hanson cites the example of two cows found in the same herd in the New Richmond cow testing association. The two are much alike in color and appearance. The owner would hardly venture to state which of the two was most prof-

HESSIAN FLY FOUND IN SPRING WHEAT

Destroy All Volunteer Fall Wheat to Save Spring Wheat.

The presence of the Hessian fly has been discovered in winter wheat near Warcona in Carver county, according to reports received by A. G. Bagley of University Park, state entomologist. This is the first time in 16 years that the pest has been authentically reported in the state.

Hatching out in the spring as maggots from eggs laid by the adult fly, the larvae attack the wheat stalk between the leaf sheath and the stem. Barley and rye are also attacked, but oats is immune.

Because the life history of the fly includes two generations a year, elimination of all volunteer wheat on the farm in the late fall would mean elimination of the pest in the spring wheat areas. On the other hand, the pest thrives especially well in winter wheat regions because the young plants form an excellent place for the pupae to live through the winter.

Growing from eggs laid by the adult fly upon the upper surface of the leaf, the pest passes through the winter months in a dormant state. In the spring the second generation begins. The cycle from egg to maggot and pupa to fly is again repeated.

Eradication of all volunteer wheat is very important in the spring wheat areas, according to Dr. Ruggles, for effective control of the pest. Deep plowing after harvest followed by continued cultivation to keep the soil pulverized is a measure of importance.

35 per cent of the pupae so buried will not survive. Finally, sowing on the dry free lands, advised by the state entomology department, is essential; for scientists have been able to determine which sowing in any particular area of the state is safe.

New White Clover Disease.

What appears to be a fine powdery mildew or mildew has been reported on red and white clover in Minnesota fields and lawns the present season. This is a disease which has not been reported in Minnesota prior to this season, says Dr. J. G. Leach, a plant disease specialist with the University of Minnesota. No effective control methods are known, he adds. The disease has been prevalent throughout the United States for the last two years. There have been rumors that the mouths of horses have been made sore by eating the mildewed hay, but no evidence has been submitted to the plant specialists to show that mildewed hay has any injurious effects on horses or cattle. On the contrary, Dr. Leach has word from the University of Tennessee that cattle fed mildewed clover hay for two weeks exhibited no disease symptoms.

H. G. Larson Aided to Force.

The extension office at University Park has been advised that H. G. Larson of St. Louis county, has been added to the force of the Minnesota Potato Exchange and is available for explaining its system and methods to county agents or groups of interested farmers. This service is expected to be of value in clearing up the difficulties of the exchange.

American county agricultural agents worked with 1,065,098 farmers in getting cows tested for tuberculosis last year.

table. At the end of the year's testing the records "told the story." Mary, the "star boarder," had produced 34 pounds of butter fat, consumed 49.59 pounds of feed, and showed a loss of $15.00 on feed alone, to say nothing of labor, interest on the investment, and depreciation which had to be paid for from the profits of other animals in the herd. Queen, Mary's stall mate, produced 26 pounds of butter fat at a feed cost of $9.50. Both cows resolved identical rations, but the margin of profit above cost of feed for Queen was $12.25.

The Meeker county cow testing association recently sent 50 cows to the block after the records showed them to be money losers. An important fact constrained by dairymen in this association was the superiority of Queen in securing greater production. In a six months observation period 153 cows fed clover hay gave an average yield of 173 pounds of butterfat, while 190 cows fed timothy or wild hay yielded only 145 pounds.

As a grain coster for each group averaged practically the same, being $13.32 for the clover fed animals and $13.44 for the timothy fed cows, the 26-pound excess amount a higher profit per cow of approximately $11.92, in favor of those fed clover.

Assuming two facts of 12 cows each of equal breeding as average examples, the clover fed herd would show the higher return of $13.44 to six months. (Borage was not a factor in these results, according to Mr. Hanson, for every member of the association except one owned a silo. Results become the more conclusive in the face of the fact that the herds fed timothy and wild hay possessed a larger number of high grades and purebreds than those fed on the bottom.)

Assuming the 20 per cent increase in production shown in this one case is a fair basis for the entire state, Mr. Hanson estimates that 118,000 cows could be added to Minnesota's annual income from dairy products if all cows kept for milk production were fed liberally with legume hay.

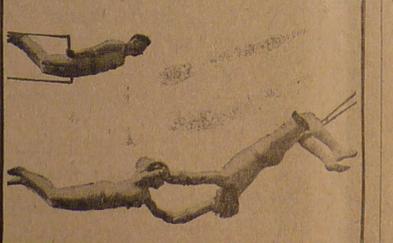

Too many good farms go to the block before their value is recognized. High producing qualities is discovered. Cow testing associations, says Mr. Hanson, will let the bull with the high producing daughters. Here is an example.

The Blairville club association found three good daughters of Lord Cook, vegetable in a little water as possible. Leave the cover off green ones to keep their color.

WORLD'S CIRCUS STARS AT STATE FAIR

Two of the greatest aerial acts in the world will feature the outdoor circus program of the Minnesota State Fair, September 2 to 9, before the grandstand afternoon and evening. The famous La Hote troupe, from Europe, and the Five Aviators, internationalists, will stage two great acts each day from aerial apparatus. Both acts are at the very peak of their fame, and the Minnesota State Fair was compelled to pull every wire to get them on the bill.

Another score for Marshall Nolan who made Dinty, Bob Hampton, Go and Get It, and other great success. This time he departs from every precedent, bringing the magazine idea to its climax, and giving in one feature four stories by prominent authors. The first is satire, the next a comedy-drama, the third a tense drama and the fourth a big surprise. And the cast that plays the dramatic roles is the biggest array of celebrities ever seen in one production. Also a comedy, You'll be Surprised.

Relatively 25% more than you are on the ground. "May be I am" replied the student. "I live in a town where they have grade crossings."

Washington, Aug. 3, (Capital News Service)—Development of a great national strike, and the problems arising from them have occupied so much attention in Washington that the Berry murders have apparently been pushed to one side. It is the belief of men prominent in the government, however, that the question there raised is vital to be long forgotten, and that either Illinois or the United States Government must take some drastic action before the American people will allow the matter to rest.

It is pointed out that the condemnation, horror and indignation aroused by the wholesale killing at 12, the wounding of 54, and the disappearance of 13 workers, on June 23, is not confined to any one section of the country. The press of the United States is practically a unit in its anathemas upon the heads of those responsible, in disgust with the finding of the coroner's jury and its demand for justice be done. A significant fact, it is noted, is the absence of much of any comment from labor papers.

That the cause of organized labor has been dealt a powerful blow is conceded on all sides; that the United States Government must act as the State of Illinois will not, is a demand which comes from leading circles in many States. If newspapers represent public opinion, then neither the murderers nor the attempts to minimize the affair have any sympathy from the great bulk of Americans. Editorials from leading papers in Provinces in Canada are so vehement in their settlement of punishment for the guilty, that as one Senator put it, "The Federal Government could not ignore the matter if it would."

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH NEWS
T. J. Buckton, pastor

The pastor is back from his vacation which he spent on the Iron range at Coleraine and Bovey. There was a few out last Sunday morning to the first service, and many to his return. Every worshiper at this church is urged to be present next Sunday morning. We will not present last Sunday you no doubt heard about what was said last part of it, we said again next Sunday. Ask those who were there about it. For the balance of the August the pastor will preach books sermons, this will give the preacher a chance to preach the old Gospel in a new way. Next Sunday morning's topic is The Great Hunger.

ACTION! SPEED! THRILLS APLENTY

World's Greatest Features En-gaged by Minnesota State Fair Sept. 2 to 9.

Action! Speed! Thrills! These three words in a nut shell describe the $100,000.00 entertainment program which will feature the coming Minnesota State Fair—Twin Cities—September 2 to 9.

Never before in the history of the Northwest has there been an attempt to stage such a stupendous amusement bill as will be presented each day at the State Fair. So many novel features have been engaged that visitors will be dazzled.

Featuring horse races, thrilling automobile races, a spectacular aerial circus, twenty-five big vaudeville acts, a European fireworks spectacle, auto polo, pigeon races, burlesque pitching, a midway with twenty big attractions, and a show of big bands and orchestras will be among the leading features on the program.

A slip of a school girl, just turning 18, Miss Lillian Boyer, of Chicago, will headline several scenes, which have never been seen before. Miss Boyer is the only woman who successfully changed from a spinning automobile to a low flying airplane, with both car and "slip" going at 50 miles an hour.

As part of the evening show, Police Bands and Firemen will stage an aerial battle. Using specially constructed planes, illuminated by fireworks, they will bomb the fair and perform other hair-raising maneuvers depicting modern warfare.

Lovers of bargains have found they enjoy themselves to the limit on four days, Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, September 4, 5, 7 and 8. More than 400 horses have been entered in various events, and the best racing in years is forecast. The management is offering $25,000 in prizes.

The world's fastest automobile—the Wisconsin Special, built in Minneapolis has just left—It is now in the hands of automobile fans that have been carried for three days of the fair. Big Harry Kelly, the famous Wisconsin speed king, who piloted his truck machine over the Daytona beach, drove faster than three miles a minute, will give for all records including the world's fastest truck record, with his new rig.

Theatre Notes

Friday—
Constance Talmadge in "Wedding SCORES OF GREAT FEATURES BILLED"

Greatest Exposition Ever Staged in World Promised on Sept. 2 to 9.

A score of fairs within a fair—that is what the great Minnesota State Fair, Twin Cities, September 2 to 9, will be this year.

In point of entries and in quality of exhibits, this year's fair will function as an international exhibition. More than 200 acres of exhibits, valued at more than $2,500,000, will be presented by the biggest and best educational fair ever staged in the Northwest.

No other fair or exposition staged in America this year is offering so much money for prizes and premiums as the Minnesota State Fair will pay to winners in the many exhibits and contests on the program. One hundred and twenty-eight thousand four hundred and forty-nine dollars in prizes is offered by the fair management—about $7,000 more than was offered in 1921, when winners in many contests divided $121,817.00.

A livestock show that will not be excelled anywhere in the country will be featured at the fair. The fair has offered $59,900.00 in premiums for livestock exhibits. The remarkable interest that has been shown in the cattle show this year presages the finest collection of animals that has ever graced a show at the fair.

Both the swine and the sheep shows will be larger than ever. Nearly 1,000 head of swine will be exhibited for the $7,110.00 in premiums offered. For the sheep contests, the fair is offering $4,470.

The agricultural building, with its inspiring exhibits of grains, grasses and vegetables of all descriptions, will be a veritable paradise to visitors interested in farm crops. Counties of the state will vie with each other in their arrangement of attractive displays from our 1922 "Billion Dollar Harvest." Nearly $30,000.00 in cash prizes will be paid out for winning exhibits.

Boys and girls, too, will have exciting fun. The fair is to be an "Achievement Week." It will give them a chance to show their parents and friends what they are getting out of their enrollment in Boys' and Girls' Club Work.

Power Farming and Petroleum Products

LABOR and power represent 80 to 90 percent of the total cost of producing farm products.

This portion of the cost is reduced by the use of motor-driven machinery which enables each man to cultivate more acres and to cultivate each acre more cheaply.

The following figures, made up authority of the International Harvester Company prove the correctness of this statement.

1921 COSTS—DISCING
Double Discing (8-ft. disc) with horses—15 miles travel per day, costs 85¢ per acre.
Double Discing (8-ft. disc) with 10-20 tractor—20 miles travel per day costs 66¢ per acre. (A saving of 22.3%)

1921 COSTS—DRILLING
Drilling with horses—15 miles travel per day; costs 53¢ per acre.
Drilling with 10-20 tractor—25 miles travel per day; costs 26¢ per acre. (A saving of 51%)

1921 COSTS—HARVESTING
4 horses with an 8-ft. grain binder can harvest an average of 15 acres a day at 65¢ an acre.
1 kerosene tractor with 2 8-ft. binders can harvest an average of 30 acres a day at 50¢ an acre. (A saving of 23%)

The increasing use of motor-driven machinery on the farm indicates that the practical farmer has come to realize that the use of such equipment is profitable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in its endeavor to furnish a complete cycle of service is delivering its products to the farmer under the same conditions as for similar deliveries in the town.

Such service is possible only because of the complete system of distribution which has been developed throughout the 11 Middle Western States served by this Company.

Only a great enterprise, permanently organized, adequately financed, and inspired by a high sense of its social responsibilities could guarantee the farmer, and all those who consume farm products, that all essential needs for petroleum products will be cared for.

Bantleon and Mrs. Jorgensen. The ladies will hold an ice cream social and cake social in the park, on Saturday evening of this week and extend an invitation to all to attend.

J. A. Peterson, agent of the N. P. depot, gave a grocer of despair a short time ago when a crew of railway painters appeared and gave the old building a new coat of paint. Peter, with a lot of the rest of us, has had fond hopes that Pine-City might get a new depot in the near future. He told the gentlemen that it might be a good idea, not to spend any more money on the old building, but the Supt. didn't agree with him.

The Pine City ball team recognized and played a game with Des Moines at last place and Sunday. The local boys took the 1st; end of a 15 to 7 score. Local players were Kowalko, P. Babcock, W. Wehrle, Huber, Ed Kildler, B. Wall, Glasgow, Carl Edin, H. Erickson, et. and John Gray. There was a good crowd out to see the game. The two teams met in combat most every evening and both sides claim the championship. Mrs. Bede says the way they beat out and on the concrete court is quite some entertainment, but she is afraid they will leak holes into the court the way they dig their toes in when dashing around after the ball.

The early morning bathers have a new form of recreation and exercise now. Every evening they get in an hour of strenuous work playing tennis on the Bede court. The initial membership of the new club is composed of R. E. Allen and John Gray who are matched against Slesky and J. A. Peterson. These two teams meet in combat most every evening and both sides claim the championship. Modern Servants

Every Twentieth Century machine has its part in serving man in a better way than he was served before.

But if you had to do without all but one of the modern inventions, which one would you keep?

To realize the value of the telephone to all of us in our every day business and social life, we have only to glance back a comparatively few years and recall what we did when there were no telephones.

Of all modern conveniences, the telephone is perhaps without an equal in the service provided, which is many times greater than the price charged.
