

REPUBLICAN RULE IN BOTH HOUSES

ADMINISTRATION'S SWEEPING VICTORY CARRIES CONTROL OF CONGRESS.

President Coolidge has been given a substantial working majority in both the senate and the house is most gratifying both to Mr. Coolidge and his co-workers. As the final result was well known, there was no emphasis which had been placed upon the importance of giving the President the "backing" he deserved; the magnitude of the task of preventing defeat was fully realized, far before the voters of the country more emphatically expressed their sentiments.

Several important items mark the record of President Coolidge as most remarkable in such events. Among them may be enumerated the generous support that was given in the election to the Senate and House of the Coolidge forces. From the first, a substantial majority in both branches; what might have proved a thorn in the side of the President and his fellow workers, the LaFollette faction—has been disposed of. The record of the Coolidge Congress as has been feared; approval of President Coolidge's course by approximately 18,000,000 votes.

Deeply grateful for "the faith and confidence expressed by the people at the polls, President Coolidge in a statement of appreciation said:

"It does not seem possible to me to make an adequate expression of thanks to the people of the United States. No other honor equals this, no other responsibility approaches this."

"When it is conferred by an overwhelming choice of the people and voice of the elected college, these are made all the greater."

"I can only express my simple thanks to all who have been so interested, so zealous and so truly courageous that it has been brought to pass through the work of a Divine Providence, of which I am but one instrument."

"Such powers as I have I dedicate to the service of all my countrymen. In the performance of the duties of my office I could not ask for anything more than the sympathetic considerations which every American has always bestowed upon me."

"I have no appeal except to the common sense of all the people. I have none but to place myself at their disposal and to do my best to administer justice that has been brought to pass through the work of a Divine Providence, of which I am but one instrument."

The progressives will not be dismayed by this result. We have just begun to move. There can be no count of the results for which we stand."

Two Women Governors.

For the first time in the history of the country, at this election two women were elected as governors—Mrs. Anna Rose, on the Democratic ticket, and Mrs. Thomas Johnson, on the Progressive ticket.

The loss of this one battle is not an incident, but a victory for the cause of progress.

The progressives will not be dismayed by this result. We have just begun to move. There can be no count of the results for which we stand."

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Voted.

Locust Valley, N. Y.—John D. Davis, his son, and his wife, Mrs. Davis, voted in Locust Valley, N. Y., on Tuesday evening, the day before the election. John D. Davis utilized his privilege to vote in his own interest to vote early by appearing among the first arrivals at the polling place in this village's little neighborhood.

Deborah, Mrs. Davis' maid, voted at the polls, too. She is the only Negro woman to have ever voted in Locust Valley, N. Y., but it is assumed she voted straight Republican ticket.

ENCOURAGE THE CHILDREN

Now that the children are back in school again what are we doing to encourage them? Or are we doing anything at all?

Possibly our children, irresponsible in their youth, do not expect anything from us, but that does not excuse us in the least.

They are entitled to our moral and spoken encouragement in their efforts to seek an education which will fit for successful stations in life. A few years hence they will be able to understand what we do or do not mean to them today.

Will they consider that we did, or

EDUCATION WEEK

The American Legion and National Education Association is calling again upon the people of the nation to turn their thoughts to education for the week—November 17-23.

American Education Week will become a fixed event in the lives of the American people. It is an opportunity to emphasize the importance of education in the life of the nation, it is not time wasted.

Someone has said that education is not only the right of the individual but the conception of the purpose greater bearing on the future of education certainly nothing has a concern and every other place in America where people live.

Those in charge of educational programs have a great responsibility. If Education Week in any way serves to bring those not in touch with the public school and their work, and to a sense of their obligation, it will not have been in vain.

Education Week should be made the means of setting forth the school viewpoint and bringing about a more hearty response from the school parents to the school program.

PENNY FOR YOUR THOUGHTS

"A Penny for your thoughts"—how often have you heard that express yourself?

Very frequently, no doubt. You may expect some such a quip, rebuke from a friend when you are "lost" to everything about you.

Yet, how many of us want much more than a penny for your thoughts?

If he is selfish if he thinks only of himself and his aims. He is not a good citizen unless he shares his thoughts with the place where he lives.

And when he thinks of the community where he lives, does he think constructively or destructively? Does he see immediate and far sighted plans for his home town, or does he visualize only in his thoughts only defeat for every public enterprise that is attempted?

He wants lots of the former class and none of the latter. He wants men, women and children that and who believe in Pine City or in whatever community that they live in, who are willing to transact business there and then live on.

Only by identifying with his neighbors can we get ahead and win for ourselves as a village the position to which our natural advantages entitle us.

The Larger Service

The larger service is typified by the store-keeper who delivered a spool of cotton in a five-ton truck manned by three men.

Nor is it typified by the man who attempts to unload the contents of a freight car with a market basket.

The larger service consists of giving the people what they want, when they want it, at a minimum cost of time, labor and money. This, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) does.

Cost and waste are closely related. Cost is controlled and waste is eliminated by the same factors—capable management and intensive organization.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has lowered consistently its manufacturing costs by creating new and useful products from that residue of petroleum which had been acknowledged as waste.

Each new product created has been made to bear its true proportion of the manufacturing costs of all products taken from the single crude—crude petroleum.

The benefits accruing from this economy have been passed to the consumer in lower prices and improved service.

Because the business of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is balanced to a fine point there is no slack season. A shut-down in its manufacturing plants seldom occurs. There is no waste effort or unnecessary overhead expense to be absorbed. Products flow through the manufacturing channels of this Company uninterruptedly and are sold at natural—not artificially maintained—prices.

Such a condition in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is not a circumstance, it is a policy—for experience has demonstrated that manufacturing cost, selling price and quantity production are inseparable.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is inspired by a desire to render the most comprehensive service—the larger service. This means a tremendous turn-over, with a small profit per unit of sale.

It is on this foundation that the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has become one of the truly great institutions of America—a constructive force for good—and an influencing factor in solving problems closely related to the social and economic welfare of the thirty millions of people in the Middle West.

AETNA-IZED Against All Insurable Motoring Risks

YOUR AUTOMOBILE is a great time-saver and source of pleasure. But it may suddenly prove a very expensive possession if something goes wrong.

It is unwise to bear this financial responsibility oneself, since for a comparatively small premium you can purchase which will safeguard you against loss from any of these causes.

Aetna-Auto 6-Point Protection

- 1. Public Liability
- 2. Property Damage
- 3. Collision
- 4. Fire
- 5. Theft
- 6. Personal Injury

This last form is a new feature in this combination policy. It provides liberal indemnity if you are injured or killed by accident, regardless of the cause of the accident. You need it!

FAMILY THEATRE

What fun it must be to Jackie Coogan's mother! Another picture will be seen at the Family Theatre Thursday & Friday. Its title is "Little Robinson Crusoe," written especially for the little star by Willard Mack, who has let his imagination run rampant in working out a plausible and suitable story for Jackie.

The story is to do with Jackie who plays Mickey Hogan, orphaned boy. He and his friend Francisco Pedro heroically save him from San Francisco to visit his aunt. When they reach the tropics, however, a typhoon wrecks and sinks the ship, taking the boy and his aunt with the exception of Mickey and his dog, out to drift away on an improved raft and strike the shores of a tropical island.

It is cruel to tie a dog under a wagon or allow him to follow an automobile or bicycle. Let him ride with you.
