We Work

Lest We Forget

Let us turn our thoughts back to 1934. In Germany, Hitler trained his youth for a march of super men while the United States struggled with the depression. Roosevelt had been our president for a year, and the ABC bureaus came into existence at the same time that we in the Spring Primary in Webster School learned our ABC's.

First grade meant getting acquainted with the serious business of being educated, with the "Dick and Jane" primer, and with each other. Imagine us as we looked then—girls in pinafores and bobbed hair, boys in shorts.

In second grade we learned about the transformation of a caterpillar to butterfly. All winter long we cared for the cocoon. When it failed to "hatch" in the spring, we discovered it had been cut in two by one curious little boy.

Lois, Frances, Barbara, Eddie John, and "Tubby" made their debut as cheerleaders in the third grade by singing "Minnesota, Hats Off to Thee" between halves of a basketball game—very humiliating for them when the audience laughed!

In the fourth grade, the Grade Chorus flourished. We learned to sing "Slumber Song" in two parts and at Christmas the intermediate grades joined to present an operetta, "The Gift of the Magi", in the new auditorium. Every Friday at book club meetings we gave oral reports. Especially humorous were those of Joe Oliverious.

During our fifth grade Christmas vacation, the news of Webster School burning reached us with mixed emotions. The rest of the year, our class was held in one of the high school rooms.

The sixth grade found us going to school in the village hall where we learned Palmer Method penmanship under Miss Fritz's strict supervision. Our study of architecture led to the building of our plaster model of the Parthenon. When the pipes in the schoolhouse froze and all the other classes had a holiday, we in the village hall declared a "sit down strike" and had the day off, too.

Thrilled with the prospect of having each class in a different room, an assortment of teachers, and "Sunlight" dances, we entered seventh grade. The 1940 presidential campaign found our history class with definite, clashing, but evenly divided political views. In the old shower room where we had our lockers, Frances accidentally turned the water on Robert Thiry's coat. JoAnn settled an argument with "Tubby" by whacking him hard with a geography book. The new school addition was completed by Christmas and we gladly moved in. Everyone knew the combination of everyone else's new locker.

The Camera Club, Shop Club, and Home Ec Club had their beginning and end in the eighth grade. In Miss Corkerey's math class we heard stories about her parrot and learned to play "buzz".

Getting acquainted with all the new freshmen was our main ninth grade activity. Altogether we had six general science teachers, Mrs. Kaiser predominating. Joe became a basketball star. Everyone took an afternoon off to gather scrap iron for the salvage drive, but our class lagged far behind the rest. In the war stamp drive, however, we managed to come out on top and were awarded a half-day holiday.

Really grown up in our sophomore year, we took part in all senior high activities. In Miss Kellogg's geometry class we learned that $a . s . a . = a . s . a .$ Typing budgets, home ec dinners, and biology field trips were the orders of the year.

As juniors, we presented "Going Places", our class play. "On to Hibbing" was the slogan when we won the district basketball championship. At the prom we danced in a dreamy "Stardust" atmosphere with Joanne Pehler leading the grand march. Ten seniors will never forget the huge ice-cream banana splits that initiated them into the Thespians.

Seniors at last, we again elected Joanne president. Then we went through "The Ordeal of Being Seniors"—struggling through college aptitude tests, having pictures taken, being measured for caps and gowns. For the first time we won a prize for our float—that of second place. We gave our class play, the juniors invited us to our last prom, and suddenly it was the Day of Commencement.

Now, twelve years after our first days of school, let us look at ourselves once more. We are now a larger group of larger individuals, each bound to go in a different direction through life. But we are all united by our determination that when we leave the world, it will be a better world for our having lived in it.

Class Will

We, the dignified Seniors of the Class of '46 in Pine City High School, being in a benevolent frame of mind and sound of body, do bequeath our peculiarities, our characteristics, our mannerisms, our aptitudes and talents and all else bequeathable to the worthy successors of our glorified position, the Juniors of '46.

Eileen Anderson leaves her tomboyishness to Avis Conger.

Melvin Anderson leaves his pipe to those unaccustomed to smoking.

Raymond Anderson leaves to fly over "these prison walls".

Myrna Berglund leaves her laughing spirit to all disheartened juniors.

Carol Besser leaves her love for the Navy to Sylvia Rasmussen.

Mildred Bible leaves her quiet ways to Carol Wheeler.

Mary Blahnik leaves her big brown eyes to Gene Ohnesorge.

June Bowers leaves the exchange news to an ambitious junior.

Myrtle Brackenbury leaves her size to Ruth Lange.

Maynard Carrier leaves his innocent disposition to Eugene Jewell.

Richard Connaker leaves "Hoef" to take over in basketball.

Walter Cummings leaves his love of teachers to "Bergie".

George Drimel leaves Evelyn for the first time.

Gladys Eklund leaves her dramatic ability to Don Lundin.

Clark Engler leaves Mary—(sigh)!

Alfred Engh leaves his crooning ability to the junior Romeos.

Rosemary Franzen leaves with Ed's ring.

Joy Gilbrech leaves her social notebook to next year's social class.

Eleanor Greenlee leaves her poise to Sharon Lindell.

Shirley Gross leaves her long blonde tresses to Ilene S.

Bette Hanson leaves her long hair to Pat Connaker.

Daniel Hejny leaves his flashing smile to Richard Najman.

Lois Herdina leaves her notebook outlines to Bob Presley.

Doris Heyda leaves her stenographic ability to the junior shorthand girls.

Carole Holmberg leaves Elton after a sweet romance.

Evelyn Holmstrom leaves her spike-heeled shoes to Connie Fosvick.

Clark Kick leaves his physique to Jim Boo.

Henry Kluk leaves his quiet manners to Ray Roweder.

Lucille Kozicek leaves her raven black hair to Audrey Nelson.

Mildred Kori leaves her dignified ways to her sister.

Helen Kryzer leaves the tales of Lakeside to Ione Scofield.

Irene Kryzer leaves her reserve to Milton Blake.

Wenzel Kryzer leaves his love of studying to Margaret Boo.

Leo Kurzhai leaves his timid ways to Helen Hamlin.

Marjorie Lobdell leaves her beautiful blue eyes to Gerald Egsgaard.

Bob Metiling leaves his ability for mischief to linger in P. C. H. S.

Barbara Nelson leaves Pokey to the junior girls.

Engene Nelson leaves his artistic ability and his physique to Mike Hady.

JoAnn Neville leaves her speeches and essays to James Norman.

James Novy leaves his booming voice to Phylliss Carlson.

Ramona Odendahl leaves with the milk man.

LaDez Olson leaves with her diamond—lucky girl.

Mary Olson leaves some junior the privilege of leading the majorettes.

Mildred Osman leaves her love for the Sandstone men to someone who will appreciate them.

Ray Ovick leaves his gallantry to Willard Bartos.

Alice Pangerl leaves her gay sense of humor to Harriet Grandt.

Joanne Pehler leaves her ability to knit sweaters to John Shumway who thus far has only knit his brow.

Cecile Peil leaves all her class rings to Maida Nordrum.

Josephine Prihoda leaves her self-confidence to Vivian Splichal.

Waldo Randall leaves his height to Gordie Nelson.

Maza Reider leaves her stature to Ann Jennings.

Anna Schlaeger leaves her angelic school behavior to Bill Bauer.

Donald Shoberg leaves his ability to tease the girls to Gerry Henderson.

Dianne Shuey leaves her zeal to Betty Rypkema to carry on.

Irene Sigurdson leaves her Swedish inflection to anyone who wants it.

Leonard Sigurdson leaves his freckles to Putz Korbel.

Ed Skalicky leaves his football technique to Cleaver.

Doris Skluzacek leaves her Harris friends to Arlene Thompson.

Frances Steging leaves her love of social teachers to all the juniors.

Carl Stoffel leaves his apparent unconcern for girls to Harold Hanson.

Rosemary Stoffel leaves with Theresa the next in line.

Vivian Thrun leaves her effervescent laughter to Virgil Johnson.

Norma Thill leaves her "hot" letters to Phyllis Metcalf.

Alyce Jean Thiry leaves Bill Challeen her cheerleading ability.

Myrtle Turgeon leaves all her boy friends to Rita Odendahl.

Augustina Van Horn leaves happily with all her letters from George.

Donald Van Prooien leaves his dreamy blue eyes and subtle humor to Daniel Wood.

Melvin Vetse leaves his rosy cheeks to Roger Van Prooien.

Marjorie Wanous leaves her ability to concentrate on one man to Eileen Turner.

Vivian Werner leaves her love of books to Lois Saari.

Adrienne Wiedemann leaves Lorraine to carry on for the Wiedemanns.

Margaret Zalaznik leaves in a new Studebaker.

Donald Zeigler leaves his quick energetic step to John Bede.

We solemnly do swear the foregoing to be our last will and testament, drawn by our own free hands and wills this twenty-ninth day of May in Anno Domini nineteen hundred forty-six.

CLASS MOTTO: The gateway to success is always open.

CLASS COLORS: Green and White

CLASS FLOWER: Lily-of-the-Valley

What Have We Here?

I think the thing that first shocked me was the date, June 1, 1956! I rubbed my eyes and looked again, but there was no change; and above the date was the information: HENRIETTE HERESY, published daily and twice on Sundays by Cummings and Sigurdson, Inc. Walter Cummings—President, Irene Sigurdson—Managing Editor, and Leonard Sigurdson—copy boy. But how, why? Questions whizzed through by mind; confused, I read further, and my eye fell on the headline, "Millionaire Oil Magnate Holds Class Reunion". Hungrily, I read on: "James Novy, that prominent man-about-the-world who surprised the country not five years ago with the discovery of oil in the middle of Lake Pokegama, today again did the impossible by collecting together at the famous 'Devil Beware' Inn, owned and operated by Don 'Sleepy' Zeigler, his graduating class of 1946. It was indeed a reunion of celebrities!

"The guests began to arrive at the Inn two days ago; a number of them were piloted here by that record-smashing flying ace, Ray Anderson, and his 'mad-mechanic', Ray Ovick. From the wilds of China they brought the Misses Gladys Eklund and Dianne Shuey, who recently were awarded the United Nations Gold Medal for outstanding work in the missions of China's interior; from Bombay, India, came Doris Heyda, who is now serving in the position of private secretary to our Ambassador to India; Richard Connaker flew from Washington, D. C., where he is special assistant to the President (chosen for that position because of his ability to speak 7 languages), and accompanying him was St. Croix's Representative to the Legislature, the honorable Alfred Engh. Also in Ray's 'Super Atom-Plane' came Mary Blahnik, called by Hollywood 'big-boys', The Eyes, and her dynamic press agent, Melvin Anderson.

"Among the other notables present was Evelyn Holmstrom, star of Vivian Werner's smash hit (now in its third year on Broadway), Twenty Nights at Schwartzwald's. Evelyn was on her way to Hollywood, where she has been offered a contract with Republic Studios, and with her came Madame 'Margo' Zalaznik, considered by many the greatest medium of our day. (It was she, you know, who forecast the gigantic invasion of the men from Mars.) From the stages of the world's largest theaters came Wanous and Lobdell, originators of the new dance, 'The Marge', and called America's finest dancing team. Bob Mettling, regional salesman for the Fuller Brush Company, brought his full line of brushes, and the 'little woman'—none other than that former nurse, Maza Reider. Myrna Berglund, who won her fame as a woman attorney defending Leo Kurzhals in the famous case of Kurzhals versus the Husbands of America (it was charged he had deliberately captured the hearts of the women of America with his shiek-like flirting), came with her secretary, Adrienne Weidemann, and Mr. Weidemann, who long ago renounced all claim to the name of Hejny in the light of his illustrious wife.

"George Drimel, that undertaker who has a reputation for 'undertaking' some of the best families in Pine county, dashed in between calls to catch a few words with some of the former grads—in particular, Doctor Donald Van Prooien and Professor Carl Stoffel, who only recently returned from conducting tours of the moon. Clark Engler, owner of the famous Hindu Pearl, who with Mary (you know who) operates the Peacock Jewelry Store in the heart of little old Pine City, came with the Skalickys—Ed and Rosie, who took time out from their herd of Golden Guernseys and sextet of future football stars to attend the festivities.

"Two other '46 grads, Waldo Randall, now Postmaster of Henriette's new 1st Class Post Office, and Henry Kluk, Brook Park's most eligible bachelor, came in the company of Mildred Korf, who began where her father left off and is now Mayor of Pine City, and Myrtle Brackenbury, who runs a home for disabled dogs—(Waldo, as you may have heard, has only recently given up his milk route to the Priors—Loren and Ramona, because he found the reading of other people's post cards took up too much of his precious time.)

Donald Shoberg, President of Rock Creek's Chamber of Commerce, and Maynard Carrier, Pine City's Justice of the Peace, the two men who spend their spare weekends refereeing Pine City's basketball games (by the way, Pine City's team is now coached by that hard-hitting, gum-chewing coach, Clark, 'you make that basket, or else!', Kick) arrived with their wives, both former cheer-leaders of Cambridge and Rush City, respectively. Mildred Bible, wife of the president of The First National Bank of Pine City, came with Lakeside's gift to the nursing profession, Doris Skluzacek. The teaching profession was well represented, too, with Rosemary Stoffel and Anna Schlaeger, whose teaching methods, defined in their latest textbook, RULE WITH AN IRON HAND—NOT A SILK GLOVE, are revolutionizing the teaching field.

"The Kryzers arrived late—Wenzel, due to the fact that he is working under the Rockefeller Foundation on agricultural improvement and at the present is deep in the workings of the earth worm; Irene, because of a previous engagement in Reno, Nevada, where she addressed a convention of the W.C.T.U.; Helen, on account of a patient in Braham, who simply refused to die until the last minute.

"After an afternoon of visiting and getting re-acquainted, and riding (for horses were furnished by Eileen Anderson, owner of the 'We Never Lose a Horse or Rider' Stables), a huge meal was served under the supervision of that eminent dietician who has just finished her fourth book, A MEAL IN A CAPSULE, Miss Jo Ann Neville. She was assisted by her co-worker in the field of dietetics, Mildred Osman. (The meat was provided by Joy Gilbrech, who is the wife of the president of the Unversagt Packing Houses of Austin, Minnesota; the beverages, by Barbara Nelson, who only recently ran the Coca Cola Bottling Company out of business with her own invention, 'Nelly Cola', produced at her 'still' on the outskirts of Pine City.) The dining room was under the direction of Myrtle Turgeon, who runs her own 'Eate Shoppe' in the location of the former 61-Way Cafe, and La Des Olson, who, with her husband, operates 'La Des's and Bernard's'.

"The evening entertainment began with a few numbers by that wizard of the drums, Augustina Van Horn and her 'JUMPING SIX'—Norma Thill, Cecile Peil, Shirley Gross, Eleanor Greenlee, Lucille Kozicek, and Josephine Prihoda—what music! What musicians! You're right, what??? Nelson Eugene (known to us years ago as Eugene Nelson), great basso of the Brook Park Municipal Opera Company, whose voice was recently insured by the Pangerl Pay Me Insurance Agency for $1,000,000, rendered several appropriate solos. (Because his voice is so delicate and needs constant attention he was accompanied to the reunion by his personal nurse, Frances Steging.)

"Vivian Thrun, who, under the guidance of her manager, U. S. NAVY, INC., was thrice voted 'Highway Patrol Queen', and who now operates the Huba, Huba Girls Model Agency, brought four of her girls (Bette Hanson, Carole Holmberg, Alyce Jean Thiry, and Mary Olsen) to model current summer fashions as compared to summer fashions in June 1946.

"That dignified Dean of Women of Power and Besser's School for Stellar Secretaries, Doctor Lois Herdina, Ph. D., LL. D., I.O.U., added culture to the occasion with her reading of Melvin Vetse's latest thesis on "The Mechanics of a Maladjusted Motor-Car".

"By midnight everyone had finished lingering over his or her coffee, agreed the reunion had been a decided success, planned to meet in another ten years, and had trekked off to bed in the 500 bedrooms of the spacious Inn—all but one alumna—" here my eyes danced, for that alumna must be I—I was the only one not mentioned of the 73—"one alumna, Pine City's possessor of the housemaid's knee and the dishwater hands, the local matrons' gift to the reunion, Joanne Pehler, who had been given the day off from cleaning and scrubbing the best homes of Pine City to clean and scrub the Inn after the glorious reunion of the grand Class of '46!"

Junior Class

Forty-eight juniors returned to Pine City High School on September eighth to begin their third year of efficient work.

To steer their class through a prosperous year, they selected Robert Presley as president, Margaret Boo assisting him as vice president, and Sharon Lindell as secretary and treasurer.

The class is well represented in Glee Club, Band, Basketball, Football, and other extra-curricular activities.

The junior class play, "Almost Summer", was well presented and well received.

Becoming seniors is more of a reality to the juniors since they selected their class rings. They will receive either multi-colored gold or rings with stone sets.

Mr. Vick's, Miss Weesner's, and Mr. Nell's timely suggestions and advice to the class helped them come through their third year with flying colors. The juniors are looking forward with much confidence to the success of their future senior year.

10TH GRADE

Sophomore Class

The sophomore class returned to their desks for their second year of hard work with an enrollment of eighty-seven.

Mr. Shumway, Miss Rogstad and Miss Moore assisted the class in electing the officers to preside for the year. Polly Huber was selected as president, Joyce Bowers as vice president, John Shumway as secretary and Arnold Johnson as treasurer.

"Burn 'Em Barnum" was the title of the sophomores' winning float in the Homecoming parade.

A picture of the "ideal" sophomore class was presented by the sophomores in their pep assembly on February 5.

Under the expert guidance of the class advisers, the sophomore class went thru a very successful year and is looking forward to just as successful a junior year.

Freshman Class

The "welcome mat" was laid out to the ninety-one freshmen who started their first year at Pine City High School.

When the fascination of the new surroundings had worn off, the class advisers, Mr. Hanson and Miss Harney, assisted in the election of class officers. The officers are as follows: Joel Steging, president; Robert Shuey, vice president; Carrie Hodge, secretary; June Minse, treasurer.

The freshman pep assembly went over with a "bang"! True to the times, the program was centered around the theme of the atomic age. Although the "bomb" didn't go off, the assembly was a success.

After a year they have outgrown that bewildered expression that appeared on their faces when they found themselves in the wrong classroom.

The class is looking forward to a progressive sophomore year.

Seated: A. Wiedemann, R. Franzen, V. Thrun, J. Pehler, L. Herdina, J. Neville.

Annual

After the clicking of cameras, scratching of pencils, and pounding of typewriters, "The Dragon", published by the seniors of Pine City High School, went to press. With Miss McKay as their adviser, the following students were in charge of its production:

Editor-in-Chief Joanne Pehler

Class Editor Adrienne Weidemann
Activity Editor JoAnn Neville
Photography Editor Barbara Nelson
Art Editor Vivian Thrun
Sports Editor James Novy
Secretary Lois Herdina
Business Manager Rosemary Franzen

Other members of the class serving on various committees contributed to the success of the 1946 "Dragon".

Chengwatana

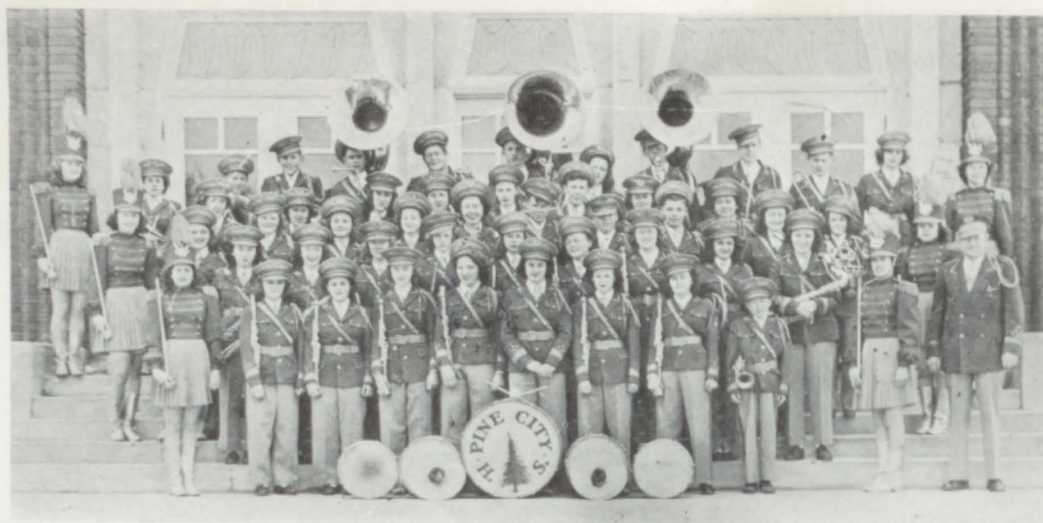

Throughout the school year of 1945 and 1946 the editor, typists and reporters of our school paper saw a very busy season. The "Chengwatana" was printed on the last page of the "Pine Poker" once a week. Under columns such as "This n' That", "Grade News", and "Spotlight on the Seniors", we found a great many topics to hold our interest. Under the supervision of Miss McKay, the editorship of Joanne Pehler, and the assistance of a willing and able staff, our paper was a success.

Band

Although our organization had its membership seriously reduced through the graduation of last year's class, outstanding beginners soon were competing for assignments to the senior group.

At rehearsal time fifty-three music makers gather in the band room for instrumental purposes. It is here that the daily gossip spreads like "wild fire" before Mr. Peterson gently calls everyone to order by tapping his "crow bar" on the music stand.

In the majorette section Kay Pope, Lois Striegl, and Myrna Holland created the vacancies that were capably filled by Barbara Thrun, Polly Huber and Lois Vetting. With these replacements the majorettes have skillfully wielded their batons at the head of the marching band.

As the year progressed, the band increased in experience. On October 19, the band marched in the Homecoming Parade, it played for the Grangers on the 18th of October, and then presented its Fall Concert on the evening of October 30. The band saw Santa Claus on the 19th of December and on the 21st it played at the armory for the annual Christmas program. The Spring Concert, District 25's Music Festival, and graduation gave the band three more opportunities to complete a successful season.

MIXED CHORUS

Mixed Chorus and Girls Glee Club

The Mixed Chorus, which meets twice a week, is composed of the high school students interested in chorus work. Joan Engler furnishes the piano accompaniment. The Fall Concert held in the high school auditorium was the first opportunity for the Chorus to sing. All who were present agreed that it was a success. The group took part in the Christmas program given in the auditorium. Singing of the well-loved Christmas carols added much to the program. Through the cooperation of the members and the help and encouragement given by Mr. Peterson, the director, the chorus took an active part in the Spring Music Festival.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. Peterson, has been an important factor in promoting interest in good music in our school and community. The club meets once a week and is made up of girls in high school with musical talent. The three-part chorus often sings a cappella in order to create better voice quality. Joan Engler accompanies the chorus at rehearsals. The group sang several selections at the armory for the Grange, took part in the Fall concert and the Christmas program, and attended the Music Festival at Moose Lake.

With the following senior boys as officers and Mr. Hoberg as adviser, the Future Farmers of America had a busy year:

President	George Drimel
Vice president	Carl Stoffel
Secretary	Bob Mettling
Treasurer	Clark Kick
Reporter	Ed Skalicky
Watchdog	Richard Connaker

After studies of soil content, crops, livestock, and conservation, all classes participated in an agricultural judging contest. Teams were selected for an inter-class judging contest. Senior high members attended the State Judging Contest and F. F. A. Convention.

Along with their pursuit of agriculture, F. F. A. members conducted paper salvage drives.

Thespians

The Thespian organization is a dramatic honor society consisting of students who have taken part in dramatic work. To gain admittance, one must have a required amount of credits from plays in which he has participated. In 1945 we presented a group of plays with the assistance of the "Seniors of '45". Thespian pins were purchased by members of the group.

Junior Class Play

"Almost Summer", Christopher Sergel's rollicking three-act farce, was the play presented by the junior class. Packed with ridiculously funny scenes and situations, the play brought many laughs from the audience.

The cast included Sharon Lindell, Bob Presley, Betty Rypkema, Donald Lundin, Harold Hanson, Joan Hoberg, Elton Cleaver, Gerald Henderson, Lila Lamb, and Mary Daley.

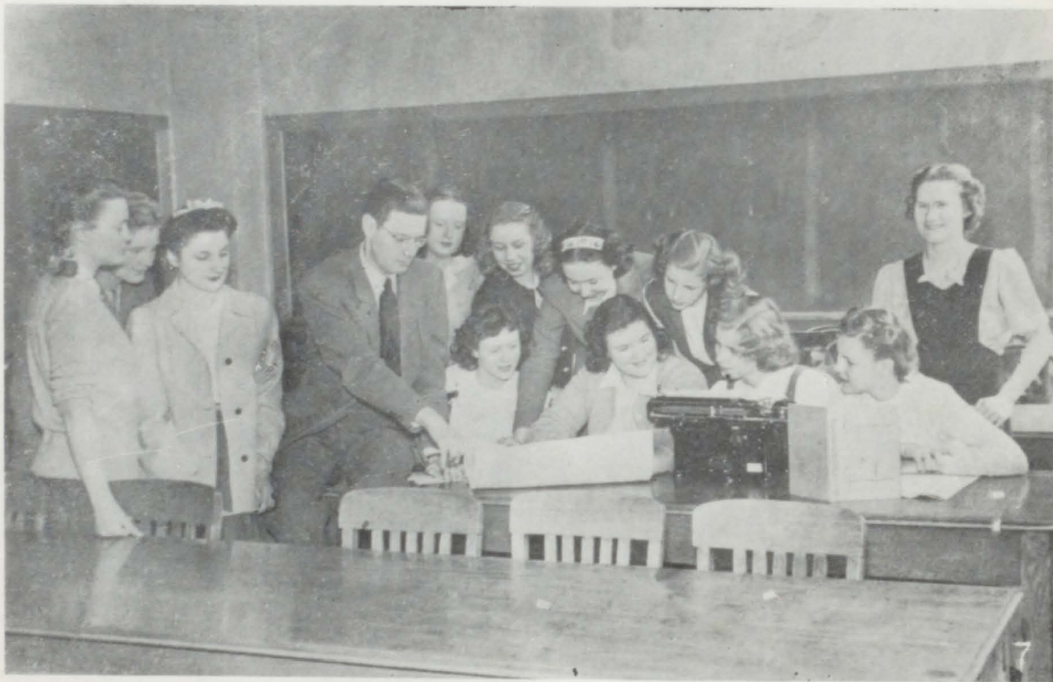

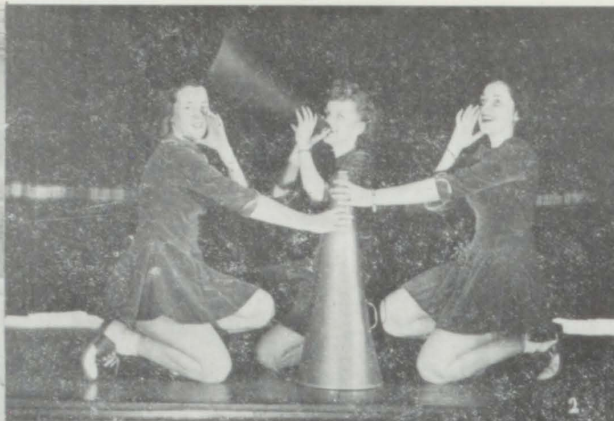

With student chairmen Margaret Boo, Willard Bartos, John Bede, and various hard-working committees supporting the cast, the play was a definite success.

"Almost Summer" was directed by Miss Gustafson.

Football

Coach Nell brought out a victorious football squad again in 1945. Their only loss for the season was the first game with Mora. This was followed by a series of victories which was climaxed with the winning of the District 25 championship for the third consecutive year.

Our record was as follows:

Pine City	0	Mora	6
Pine City	18	Braham	14
Pine City	13	Forest Lake	6
Pine City	59	Rush City	18
Pine City	47	North Branch	2
Pine City	50	Barnum	0

The morning of October 19 found Pine City High School bubbling over with anxiety and enthusiasm. "Hair'em Scar'em Barnum" was the theme for the day. The morning brought the crowning of Barbara Nelson as Homecoming queen, followed by a parade in which the queen rode a black "charger". The parade was led by the high school band and was made up of the classes and their floats. At two o'clock the Dragons emerged on the field to trounce the Barnum eleven 50-0. In the evening the annual Homecoming dance was held in the old gym and at that time the alumni of 1935 were honored.

The Dragons played a total of eighteen games this season and won eleven and lost seven.

The Dragons quintet for 1945-46, under the captainship of Rich Connaker—the only veteran of last season—played into the finals for second place in District 25, being defeated only by Chi-Hi, a more experienced group.

Calendar of Events 1945 - 1946

SEPTEMBER

- 4 "School Days, School Days!" We enroll with a total of 590 students.
- 10 Rain + Nelson's cabin equals faculty picnic—potato salad, frankfurters, and a good time.
- 14 Fresh failure! We lose our first attempt at football to Mora.
- 19 "Who will make a good president?" is the theme of the day—class officers are elected.
- 21 Braham succumbs to Nell's eleven.
- 28 P. C.'s powermen score again; this time over Forest Lake.

OCTOBER

- 1 Nathan Gist urges us to stay in school to preserve the future of America.
- 5 What could be sweeter than smearing Rush City 59-18???
- 12 Ken Seeling's Vikings fall beneath the fiery breath of the Dragons.
- 16-17 Pine City plays host to the Grange Convention and the music department furnishes appropriate music.
- 17 Forecast of the future—reminder of the past. We get our first report cards.
- 19 This is our big day! Barbara Nelson is crowned Homecoming queen in gala ceremonies; Captain Eddie "scalps" the Barnum ballmen to make us East Central Football Champs; to the tune of "Did You Ever Get That Feeling in the Moonlight" we celebrate at a dance in the old gym.
- 25-26 Sweet revenge! Teachers go to school and we spend two glorious days of vacation.
- 31 Spooks and Goblins — a very quiet Halloween.

NOVEMBER

- 15 Mr. Vick presents a movie, "It's Your America", to encourage Victory Bond Sales.

- 15 Pep Club elects officers and begins a campaign for new members.

- 5 Pine scores again — this time over North Branch.
- 12 Lincoln is generally acclaimed as his birthday gives us a holiday.
- 15 Hinckley does not prove the easy victim we had thought; however, we win!
- 15 Four seniors make a "wild" attempt for the Pepsi Cola scholarship.
- 16 The Star-Journal plant and the Minneapolis Art Museum prove educational as well as enjoyable in another tour by the students.
- 18 First and second graders welcome Miss Lampland.
- 18 The juniors are all "agog" over the prospect of class rings.
- 19 Poor Mr. Seeling! He just doesn't have a team.
- 21 We lose our last—Rush City, too! We'll murder the "bums" in tournament!
- 22 "Who cut down the cherry tree?" or we could say, "Who's cut up about having a vacation?"

- 25 We all decide to go canoeing in the North, after Ben Ferrier takes us on an imaginary trip through the canoe country of Minnesota.
- 26 Sub-district tourney begins at Rush City. Will we win???

MARCH

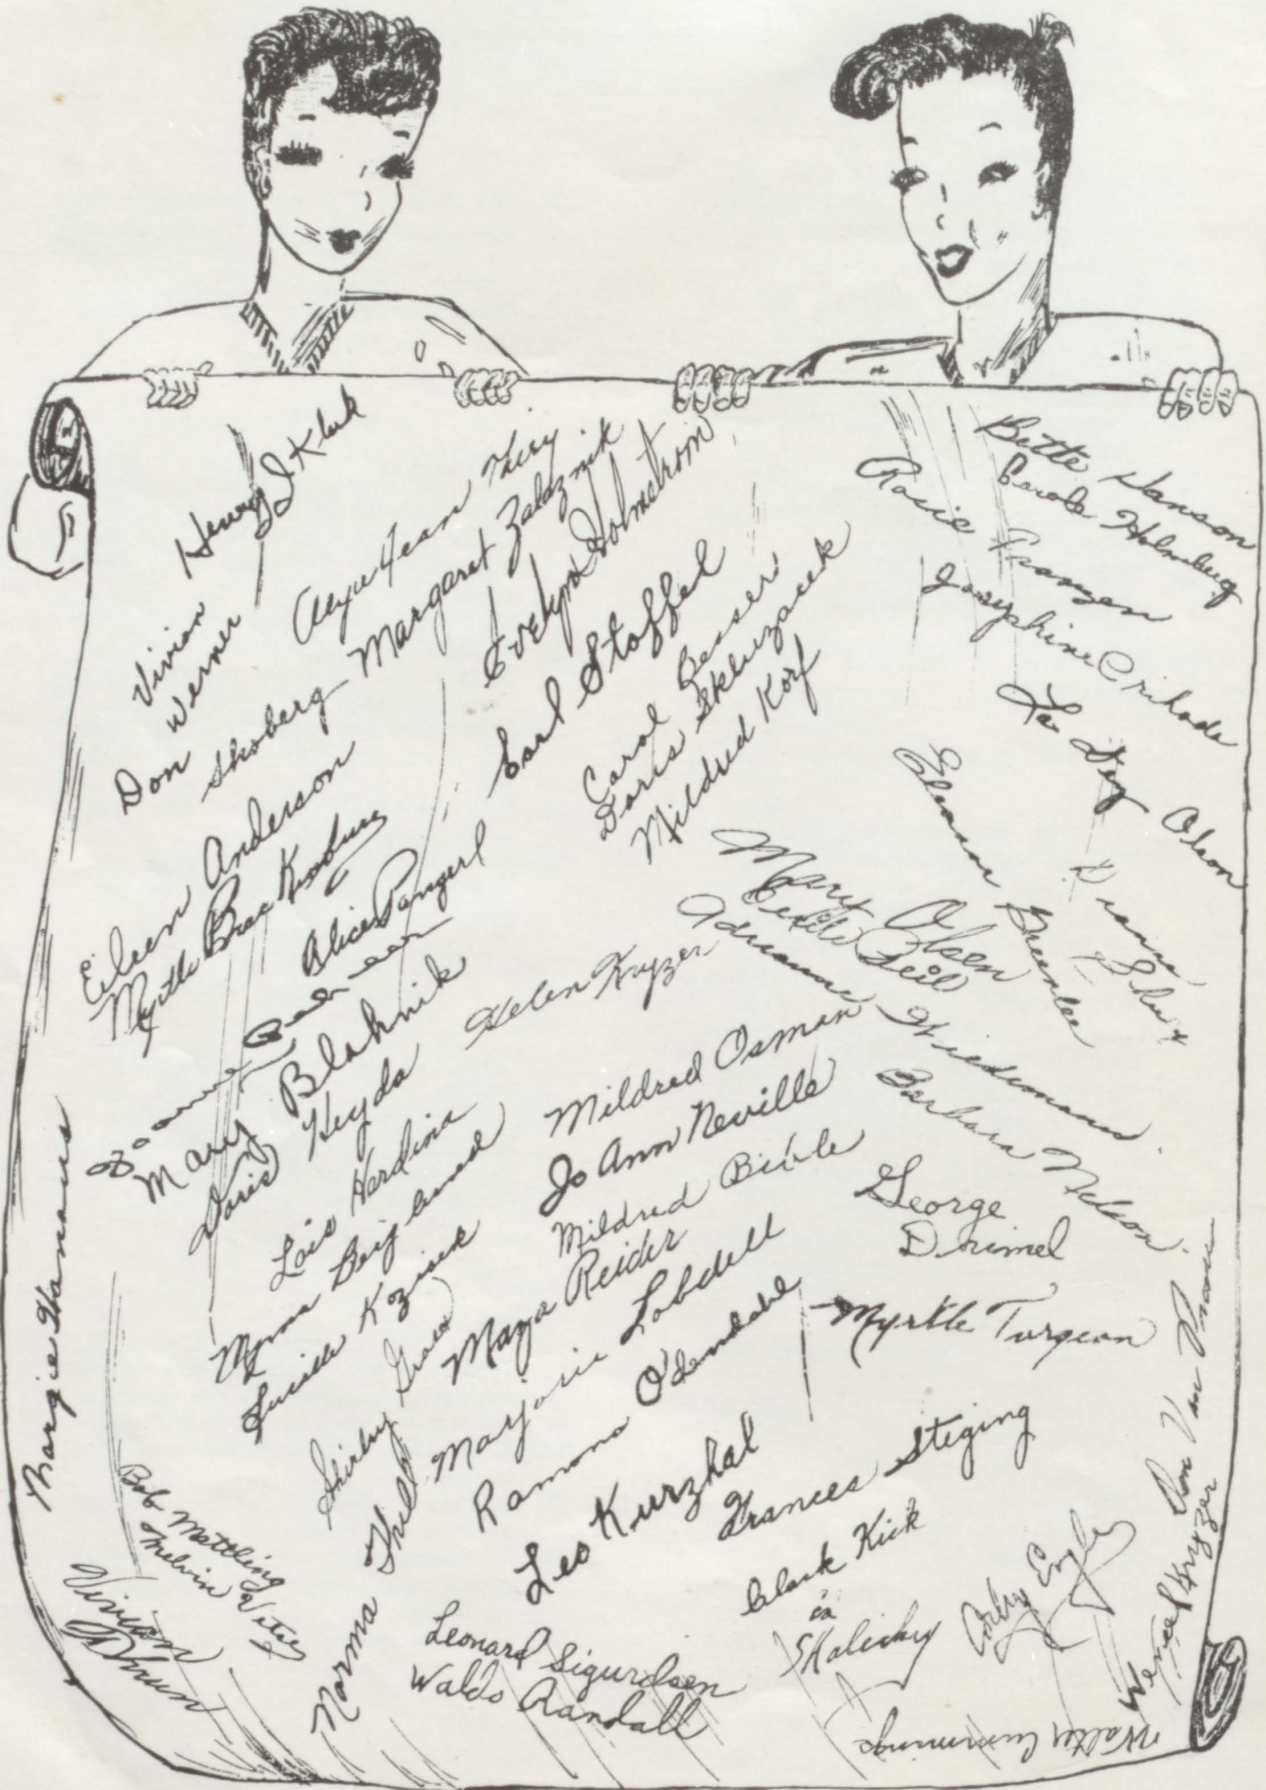

- 5, 7, 8 Pine City plays host to 8 basketball teams for the District tournament. Chi-Hi proves our Waterloo, as they cap the title, we bring in a close second.
- 14 Local declamation contest sends three to North Branch for sub-district contest.
- 15 Seniors feel full brunt of four years' work—averages are recorded.
- 17 Shamrocks, clay pipes, and "the wearing of the green" are the order of the day.
- 18 Pine City's orators receive "very good" ratings at North Branch.
- 20 Mr. Vick's Social classes spend their first day in court—only as watchers, that is!

APRIL

- 11 "Music in the air!" Band gives spring concert.
- 12-23 Ten fun-packed days of vacation—just at a time when spring fever seems to be getting the best of us.
- 26 Music Festival is held at Moose Lake.

MAY

- 3 "Dear Son" is given by the seniors to a large and appreciative audience.
 - 10 The seniors are feted by the juniors at the annual prom in the auditorium.
 - 24, 27, 28 State Boards—for most, four big worries!
 - 26 Solemnness prevails as Baccalaureate services are held.
 - 28 Commencement—wet hankies, joyous shouts, and speeches fill the lives of all seniors.
 - 30 Memorial Day—complete with parade.
 - 31 Hail and Farewell!!
