Dear Margaret.

A thrice happy day dear

Margaret to you.

may it bring the gladness and cheer
that the kind things you say,
and the good things you do,
bring to all of us all of the year.

Mother.

Oct. 17, 1929.

Dear Margaret,

I wish you a success of life.

God bless you in
all your ways,

Your friend

Dear Mugs:-

Well I am not very good at poetry,

well I should say I'm not.

But any time you a friend need,

I'll be going on the spot.

Dear Margaret,

How well I remember the week end I stayed at your home and how much fun I had. I hope somebody got good use out of my rubber.

May your life be as happy
as happy as can be,

And may you ever remember
me as your friend,

wishing you success in your life.

Dear Sister Margaret!

As you go on thru life don't forget the "little" things as they are so important to happiness and success when put together.

And don't forget the trip to St Paul and the "tire hunt"

Dear Margaret:

This will perhaps always remind you of the time you had your hair cut, but it will not be a sad reminder, I hope. Live up to this wonderful poem of mine and think of your Cousin once in a while.

Though your locks are shorn,
You, somehow, never seem Folorn.
I made it by
up all myself.

Walter sis,

At last I'm really scribbling these few lines that you've been teasing for, you'll forgive me for waiting so long, I know.

Remember how you hiked my husband to the river and let me all alone? Some day I shall do the same to you.

I wish you all the happiness and success that anyone can have in your future adventures.

Sis dear,

See, wonder if the picture you took today will turn out good.

Remember the carnival and our shadows!! Didn't we have fun?

Don't worry kid, I'm going to buy you that little box. You know.

I hope you have lots and lots of good luck and happiness. And now I'm going to be a preacher - remember the Golden Rule.

Lots and lots of love, sis,
John

Blest Margaret!

Dearest Margaret,
When I finally saw you,
the day of the picnic, I thought that I would like you.

Now that I have seen more
of you and know you better
I have found out that no one could help loving you.

Your smile is so sweet.

I wish you lots and

lots of the best of luck

during high school and forever after. I know that as long as you keep your sweet disposition you can't help

but make lots of good friends. Much love, Grace

Mr. D. is in regard one of you only in

It's not that you all the joy. health and happiness in your life, highly spiced with good cheer and success.
On a certain A.M. it was quite cold and snowy, wasn't it? Do you remember?
But we got out, didn't we?
Can you still feel the effects of that night with three in bed? I don't
the sincerely,
