TURKISH FORGES MEET DISASTERS IN THE CAUCASUS

TROOPS NOT KILLED OR CAPTURED ARE IN DISORDERLY RETREAT, PURSUED BY THE MUSCOVITES.

ENTIRE ARMY CORPS CAPTURED NEAR KARS

Czar's Forces Also Report Victory Over Austrians in Uziok Pass of the Carpathians—Francis Joseph's Army in This Region Declared Retreating.

London, Jan. 7.—Two of the three Turkish columns, which last week invaded the Russian Caucasus, have met with disaster and the troops not killed or captured are in disorderly retreat, pursued by the Russians.

The column which took Ardahan two days ago has been driven out of that town, according to the Petrograd official dispatches and is almost surrounded by the Russian forces, who hold the main roads.

Capture Entire Army Corps. Another column, which crossed the frontier near Sari Kamysk on the road to Kars, has suffered an even more defeat, one of the two army corps which composed it being captured in its entirety.

The Russians also report another victory over the Austrians in the Uziok Pass of the Carpathians. Emperor Francis Joseph's army in this region is declared to be in full retreat. A violent snow storm rages and the Russian cavalry is attacking on the flank and rear.

Take Austrian Oil Fields. By forcing this upon the Russians, the gain control of some of the most valuable oil fields in the Austrian empire, and thus shut off another of the main sources of fuel supplies, which the Austro-German armies are said to need so much.

This has been only part of the Russian attack. While forcing back the Chinese and Austrians, the Russian troops are holding the line of the Marzouk lakes in East Prussia; are fighting strenuously to withstand the German advance in Poland; are advancing toward Cracow, and have crossed Bukovina, which is now virtually in their possession.

In North Poland, where Russia is confronting the Austrians, the Russian north is proving a useful ally. The Germans, according to their own accounts, are making only slow progress, while the Russians an unofficial dispatch received from Berlin by way of Copenhagen says, are advancing toward Cracow and southern Silesia.

ARMY NOW NUMBERS MILLION

Military men look for bigger events between the lower Vistula and the east Prussian frontier. The Russians are in possession of the greater part of the intervening territory, and unless engaged within the river freezes, would fall on the German flank to the south of the river.

It is believed here, therefore, that the German advance in Poland, in the north and east Prussia, in the event of a movement of the Russian troops, will be a serious one. The fighting would take place in the trench warfare which prevails along the rest of the front.

Except at the two extreme wings on the Belgian coast and on the upper Alsace, where the allies have gained some ground, the fighting on the western front has been done by sappers, miners and artillery. From the coast of the North Sea, the British and French have been engaged in shelling the opposite trenches or in trying to sap and mine them. Only at isolated points has the infantry been given the opportunity. A few hundred yards have been gained by the allies among the dunes of Flanders, despite the unfavorable weather.

Accidents to Three Steamers. London, Jan. 7.—Accidents to three steamers happened in the American waters have been reported. The British steamer Welsh Prince, on the Atlantic for New York, reported by wireless from St. Michaels, that her mainmast was damaged. She is expected to be repaired here and is expected at St. Michaels shortly.

The steamer Dwinck, of the Russian American line, struck the rocks off the Firth of Clyde, and was damaged. She put up in Glasgow for repairs.

The steamer St. James, of the London and Manchester line, struck the rocks off the Firth of Clyde, and was damaged. She put up in Glasgow for repairs.

Swedish Steamer With Crew Lost. London, Jan. 6.—According to information received here from Stockholm, the Swedish steamer Carma has been lost in the North Sea with her crew of 20 men. It is presumed that the Carma struck a mine.

Italy Grants Large Loan. Rome, Jan. 6.—The loan of $200,000,000 arranged for by the government for use in connection with the Italian reparations has been fully subscribed for according to all indications.

MAY POSTPONE CANAL PARADE

SLIDES MAY INTERFERE WITH PANAMA EXPOSITION PLAN.

Colonel Goethals Says He Cannot Guarantee Channel Deep Enough for Dreadnaught Fleet.

Washington, Jan. 6.—The possibility of a postponement of the cruise of the international fleet from Hampton Roads to San Francisco through the Panama Canal, in connection with the opening of the canal and the exposition was suggested in the course of a conference between Secretary Garrison and Colonel Goethals, governor of the canal.

Though the great earth slides at Cuernavaca have apparently been conquered by the exposition committee, reports, the earth movements continue in the neighborhood of Gold Hill. At that point the masses of earth on the side of the canal, by great pressure are continually forcing soil and rock in great quantities into the canal prism. The amount is sufficiently extensive to require the employment of dredges to keep the channel open. While this can be done to meet the needs of the present number and size of vessels that are applying for passage, Colonel Goethals is of the opinion that he could not guarantee that there would be a channel broad enough and deep enough for the dreadnaughts which will make up the naval portion of the fleet that is expected to arrive at Cristobal next spring.

The master of the earth movements at Gold Hill is considered only a question of time when the earth must find its equilibrium. Colonel Goethals, however, is unable to promise that the canal will be made navigable by the time the naval fleet is scheduled to reach the canal.

As the program of the fleet from the time it gathers at Hampton Roads until its arrival at San Francisco is described by law the officers are now considering whether it will be necessary to secure special legislation to allow it to depart at a date they are expected to arrive at Cristobal next spring.

Secretary of Treasury Formally Dedicates Panama-California Show at San Diego.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 4.—The Panama-California exposition opened to the world by the touching of an electric button by President Wilson in Washington, was formally dedicated by the president's personal representative, Secretary of the Treasury William McAdoo.

Lyman J. Gage, former secretary of the treasury, presided at the ceremonies, and the list of speakers included Mr. McAdoo, President David L. Swann, Governor of California, and Salazar, representing the king of Spain; John Barrett, of the Pan-American Union, and Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco. The governors of nine states were present.

BRITAIN'S HOME DEFENSE CORPS TO IMMENSE PROPORTION IN LESS THAN THREE MONTHS

London, Jan. 5.—Almost 500,000 of Britain's home defense army—what it is called "the volunteer training corps" or the "national guard" or the "special constabulary"—has grown to a membership of more than a million men in less than three months.

Occurrences like the German naval raid on Hartlepool and Scarborough in December, and the hundreds of the male population hurrying to take their places in this civil guard.

Suffragists Insure Against Defeat. New York, Jan. 5.—Insuring against possible failure to win the vote in the 1915 campaign in this state is the latest move of the suffragists. Members of the Women's Political Union will try to arrange with an insurance broker to take out a policy by which the organization will receive $25,000 in the event the suffrage amendment is lost this year. The insurance premium already has $500 toward the premium. "We will not insure for less than $25,000," said a member.

Aviators Damage Brussels Sheds. London, Jan. 6.—According to an official dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, French aviators dropped several bombs in the vicinity of Brussels partly destroying a Zeppelin shed under construction and killing several German soldiers.

German Operate Belgian Railroads. Brussels, via the Hague to London, Jan. 6.—The Germans have placed the entire Belgian railroad system in operation and are employing about 5,000 men of whom 1,100 are Belgians. The remainder are men who have been brought into Belgium.

Zionists Start Meetings. St. Louis, Jan. 4.—Will delegates from almost every state in the Union in attendance, the eighth annual convention of the Zionists of Zion was held here. Nathan D. Kaplan of Chicago, president, the business included the president's report, the appointment of committees, and the report of the committee. Louis Brandeis of Boston will address the convention on Sunday. The aim of the Zionist movement is to re-constitute Palestine as the home of the Jewish race.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

The state Board of Control is to be congratulated on the good business that it has shown in getting out at this time its estimate of the expenses, during the fiscal years ending June 1, 1916 and 1917, of the state hospitals and correctional institutions under its supervision.

It gives members elect of the legislature an early opportunity to view what they will be asked to appropriate so that they may take such steps of investigation as they feel the circumstances warrant.

It gives the public an opportunity to see what its representatives will be asked to appropriate for the care of the insane, the blind, deaf, feeble minded, cripples, inebriates, consumptives, wayward boys and girls and convicts of the state, so that it may register its kicks before the money is voted.

The recapitulation of the statement shows that the amount asked for the care of these wards of the state during the two year period totals $6,340,933 or about three quarters of a million more than was voted by the last legislature for the fiscal years ending June 1, 1914 and 1915.

As one of the constituents of the men who will represent this county in the state legislature this winter, what do you think of it?

Don't jump at the conclusion that because the amount asked is large, that it is unreasonable; nor because it represents an increase, that it is unwarranted. Do you know anything about the number of insane and other wards that this state is caring for? Do you know that it is generally admitted by those who know, that the Board of Control is one of the most economically administered branches of our state government?

The amount looks large and may possibly be scaled some. But, remember that we are continually committing insane patients, defectives and criminals—and they must be properly cared for.

The way to cut this appropriation down is to regulate our local affairs so as to lessen the number of insane, defectives and criminals. If we make them we must care for them.

The time worn "plan" to save a very few hundred dollars of state money through occupying time in the careful scrutiny of the purchase of supplies etc was sprung at the opening of the state senate. Our experience with legislators has shown us that very often the ones who do these things are the men who later ignorantly vote millions of dollars for something they neither know nor attempt to know anything about, or else who come along later in the session with some scheme to help themselves or their friends politically through the expenditure of hundreds of thousands of state money on some unbecoming project. We appreciate the desirability of economy all down the line but we're in favor of plugging the bung hole first. Senator George H. Sullivan of Stillwater introduced the most sensible resolution we have seen, looking toward real economy, wherein he provided that requests for appropriations of money must be accompanied by full explanations of what was done with those made for the same purpose by the last legislature and also what he asked for now will be used for. He also provided that all appropriations bills must be introduced at least twenty days before the end of the session—of "last hour" against the spring bill is thoroughly requests that can be investigated. It is to see that the senate is going to increase—appropriations are not and are cut off if possible.

However, they stood unwaveringly for his candidacy and have nothing to regret except their inability to "hand" their man. We believe that Speaker H. H. Flowers will do his level best to give every one a square deal. We have seen some of these fights before. Both Mr. Flowers and Mr. Gordon are to be congratulated—the former because of his winning, the latter because he did not win. Both are of excellent timber—but the honor is a barren one, from any angle. It carries little opportunity but is chargeable by obligation and is interchangeable with every thing under the sun.

Editor C. F. McDonald of the St. Cloud Times is a candidate for postmaster in that city and ought to get the place. He has fought Democracy's battles in that region if anyone has. Anyway, the salary of a postmaster isn't enough to make anyone plutocratic and goodness knows there is work enough connected with the place these days. That combination would fit any Editor.

Old Settler Sells At Rush City
After a residence of 40 years in Rushdale, on the farm, then a wilderness of unbroken land which he settled on originally, Archibald Peers has finally sold and will retire permanently from agricultural life to enjoy the fruits of his energy in restful ease. Mr. Peers is in every sense a landmark of Rush City, although still hale, hearty and youthful in appearance, he represents today one of the few remaining pioneers who have participated in the progress and development of this thriving town from the lumber camp which marked its early location. Forty-five years ago Archibald Peers was employed as rural agent and operator on the road, then the St. Paul & Duluth Ry., and as such entered into all the important activities of the little frontier station. He dealt in land at one time was in possession of two thirds of the present townsite. Merely as an investment he purchased 220 acres from the late Byron Foster, of land, including his present fine farm, and eventually took up farming with splendid results. From this large tract of land he sold the present Devons and Mrs. Ellen Johnson farms on the north, retaining the 140 acres, which he has now disposed of to Mrs. Johnson for the handsome price of $100 per acre.—Rush City Post.

STATE NEWS

Resume of Important Happenings of Past Few Days.

SCHOOL DESTROYED BY FIRE

Main Building at Stanley Hall Almost Total Wreck—Loss is About $50,000.

Minneapolis.—Fire at Stanley hall, a school for girls, Pleasant avenue and Twenty-second street, almost totally destroyed the main school building. The loss is estimated at $50,000, fully insured. The third floor of the burned building was devoted to a dormitory, but the occupants are away for the holiday vacation.

Cracking of flames on the areaway just outside her window on the third floor of the home building led to the discovery of the fire by Mrs. Ole Montanvise, housekeeper. Mrs. Montanvise telephoned the fire department. Residents of the district are thought to have seen the fire before this time, but to have taken it for granted that an alarm had been turned in. Residents declare there was a long delay in the arrival of the companies. Fire department records show that a 1:11 alarm was turned in by District Chief E. P. Caldwell ten minutes after the department was notified.

The blaze illuminated the district for blocks around. A general alarm was sent in soon after the arrival of the first companies and as many as 20 lines of hose were laid in the fight to keep the fire from communicating to adjacent buildings.

The brick walls of the building are standing, but the roof is fallen and the building is practically in ruins. Fire burned on the third floor, the second story, river to classrooms and the art museum. The first floor and basement rooms were heavily damaged by water. Five pianos were ruined by fire and water.

Miss Olive Evers, principal of the school, is making a holiday visit in Los Angeles and is expected to return next week. Miss Estelle Holbrook, assistant principal, in charge during Miss Evers' absence. Miss Evers crossed from the school. When the flames broke out Miss Holbrook and her niece, Dorothy Holbrook, and Miss Ruby Settle, attempted to get directly across from the school. When the flames broke out Miss Holbrook and her niece, Dorothy Holbrook, and Miss Ruby Settle, attempted to get directly across from the school. When the flames broke out Miss Holbrook and her niece, Dorothy Holbrook, and Miss Ruby Settle, attempted to get directly across from the school.

Defective electric wiring was the cause of the fire in the opinion of Thomas Flanders, inspector. He said there was no fire in the building until that in a small heater was extinguished about 8 a. m.

Going to the fire the engine of Company No. 9 swerved on the car tracks and threw two firemen to the frozen ground. Hugh McLeod, engineer, suffered a bad bruise on his leg and was taken home in an ambulance. Chief James Craigie, driver, also received painful bruises.

HAMMOND PRAISES WILSON

Declares President is Nation's Bulwark Against Current World Troubles, in Talk.

Minneapolis.—President Wilson was praised as the nation's bulwark against current world troubles, in a short talk by Governor-elect W. H. Hammond to the Minneapolis Rotary club at the Hotel Madison. Mr. Hammond was the club's guest at luncheon, and was voted to honorary membership on motion of W. D. Gordon, who praised Mr. Hammond and wished him not only a successful career as governor, but later "at Washington."

"I believe," said Mr. Hammond, "that whatever pressure is brought to bear on President Wilson, even if it threatens him with political extinction, you may be sure that as long as he is in the presidential chair he will preserve our neutrality as long as he knows how. He will not be frightened or threatened out of a policy he believes to be right."

At the helm the people of this country can face the rough seas and dangerous waves, and will be conducted into the harbor of safety and peace."

Harry Shepardson was toastmaster at the luncheon.

St. Paul Pioneer Dies.

St. Paul.—Funeral services for John East, Sr., a resident of St. Paul since 1882, who died of paralysis at his home 783 East Seventh street, will be held at the Sacred Heart Catholic church.

New Business at Cass Lake.

Cass Lake.—Cass Lake, on taking an inventory for 1914, has reasons for looking to the year 1915 with full confidence. In 1914 the following business opened houses in this village: Edward E. Olson, wholesaler and retail food and feed; Erickson's grocery; Kniffman & Co., bazaar; The Fair Store; Kennedy's bakery and candy; Kitchen, Hawking's drug store; Mitchell; L. H. Burns' drug store; the new Cass Lake hotel; Burns' pool table; Johnson's garage, and Kirchoff's job factory.

OWATONNA MAKES STRIDES

Keeps Pace With Title "Beautiful Owatonna," Long Ago Bestowed Upon It.

Owatonna.—Keeping pace with the title "Beautiful Owatonna," long ago bestowed upon it, Owatonna has added much to the metropolitan appearance of the city during the past year by the erection of many handsome new public buildings, business blocks and residences. In fact, it was a banner year in building operations for Owatonna, which exceeded even its splendid record of 1913.

The new post office faces Central Park, a beautiful circular park in the very heart of the business district. The building follows the latest approved lines of governmental buildings and is a welcome addition as it has long been needed to take care of the immense amount of mail handled here, for Owatonna is a transfer point for three railroads.

The new armory will be formally dedicated during the early part of this month and will become the permanent home of the local military and state hours every year in succession. At the dedication exercises it is planned to have the governor, Adjutant General E. Wood and other officials as guests of honor. An elaborate program is being arranged. The new building has every possible amenity for modern military and gymnasium, swimming pool and club and club purposes, including rooms.

The First National bank, of which George R. Kinyon is president, has recently moved into its new home, one of the finest banking houses in the state. The architecture is colonial and typifies strength. The interior is beautifully furnished. In the second story are located the splendid new headquarters of the Owatonna Commercial club, as fine a club "home" as is to be found in the state.

Able to Give More to Charity.

Minneapolis.—Finding, when he had figured up his year's earnings and charitable donations that he is better off than he had supposed, and that he could afford to give still more to charity, a prominent business man of Minneapolis, who already had subscribed liberally, sent in a pledge to the Associated Charities for $100 additional. The architect is colonial and typifies strength. The interior is beautifully furnished. In the second story are located the splendid new headquarters of the Owatonna Commercial club, as fine a club "home" as is to be found in the state.

Sten Hedén, who became widely known as the explorer of central Asia, has published a large book on the subject. He is a personal friend of Kaiser Wilhelm and was close to the battles, both in the East and the West, so that he is in a position to give facts based on personal observation and experience. The book contains 300 illustrations. His admiration for the Germans and Kaiser Wilhelm is so honest, so that the general trend of the book was a foregone conclusion.

The death of Mrs. Augusta Troll, nee Wahlstrom, of Stockholm, marked the extinction of family No. 2173 of the nobility of Sweden. Estland was the original home of the family, which in the century went by the name of Kierling. George von Kierling was ennobled in Sweden in 1802 under the name of Wahlstrom, and the next year was registered at "Rindarhuset" as No. 2173. Another branch of the family is still living in Finland. The male line of the Swedish branch died out in 1856.

Influenza is sweeping Stockholm as a regular epidemic. From three to five patients in one family is no rare occurrence. Many seats in public schools are empty, and even the ranks of the students at the military academy and of the soldiers in the barracks have been noticeably thinned out. Sporadic cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever have also been reported to the health authorities.

Prominent authorities in Gothenburg have proposed to put the sale of denatured alcohol under the control of the government. The reason for this proposition is that so many topicals do not hesitate to drink the vile stuff.

R. L. Ram, an engineer at Narby, has donated $6,000 to the department of war for strengthening the defenses of Stockholm.

The electric plant inspectors report that during the year 1913 59 accidents were caused by electric currents. Sixty-one cases were fatal. Three persons were crippled, and 40 recovered from their injuries. The whole number of accidents of this kind reported since 1905 is 281, and 47 cases were fatal.

The annual authorities of Sweden point out with great emphasis that a very large number of the people who are required of the marine authorities if the navy is to be in decent shape for action at any time.

Bank Clearings Enormous. Minneapolis, Jan. 2.—With $1,374,267,910.18 in bank clearings for the year just ended, Minneapolis not only made good the prediction of six weeks ago that a new high record would be attained, but ran well ahead of the total then estimated.

The increase over 1913 is $61,855,654.55. December clearings exceeded last year by $9,747,749.50. The figures are $140,683,454.14 for the month; January cleared against $131,015,817.81 for December, 1913.

SWEDEN.

Some interesting compilations have been made of the reports of the census of Stockholm for the year 1910. Of the inhabitants of the city, only 66,750 males and 74,018 females were born in the city, which made 411 out of every 1,000. The number for the males was a little more, namely, 424, while that of the females was only 393. Of those born outside of the city, Jamtland and Norrboten furnished the largest number. Those very provinces are largely covered by the Swedes, and their cities are small and few and far between, so there is plenty of room.

Norrboten has sometimes been called the "American Sweden," an account of its undeveloped resources, and for years the government has been diligently advertising Norrboten in southern Sweden. The above statistics seem to prove that a large proportion of the people up there who become tired of the dreariness of the region and rush heading into the largest city of the country.

The Social Democrats of Sweden held a national convention at Stockholm a few days ago. The net result of the work proves that the Social Democrats of Sweden are becoming more and more moderate. The government was asked to further restrict the use of liquor. But in case of prohibition it was suggested that those who are thrown out of work by such a measure be aided by the government to make a living in some other way. A proposition to prohibit members of the party from attending court functions and to serve on royal committees was defeated, and the same fate was shared by a proposition to start an agitation in favor of disarmament.

K. P. Ericksson is a plain man, doing plain farm work at Saterlund, Vang parish. But he has worked at the same job for 62 years, and his name is heralded all over the country on account of his fidelity. He has always been temperate and faithful, and the result of each year has been a reputation of that of the last one. He lost his parents at a tender age, and from the age of eleven he had to begin to earn his living in the same farm where he has spent the past 53 years. He is now working for the third owner of the farm. His children are scattered all over the world, and he and his wife are the only occupants of his home, the same as when they had any children.

Sten Hedén, who became widely known as the explorer of central Asia, has published a large book on the subject. He is a personal friend of Kaiser Wilhelm and was close to the battles, both in the East and the West, so that he is in a position to give facts based on personal observation and experience. The book contains 300 illustrations. His admiration for the Germans and Kaiser Wilhelm is so honest, so that the general trend of the book was a foregone conclusion.

The death of Mrs. Augusta Troll, nee Wahlstrom, of Stockholm, marked the extinction of family No. 2173 of the nobility of Sweden. Estland was the original home of the family, which in the century went by the name of Kierling. George von Kierling was ennobled in Sweden in 1802 under the name of Wahlstrom, and the next year was registered at "Rindarhuset" as No. 2173. Another branch of the family is still living in Finland. The male line of the Swedish branch died out in 1856.

Influenza is sweeping Stockholm as a regular epidemic. From three to five patients in one family is no rare occurrence. Many seats in public schools are empty, and even the ranks of the students at the military academy and of the soldiers in the barracks have been noticeably thinned out. Sporadic cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever have also been reported to the health authorities.

Prominent authorities in Gothenburg have proposed to put the sale of denatured alcohol under the control of the government. The reason for this proposition is that so many topicals do not hesitate to drink the vile stuff.

R. L. Ram, an engineer at Narby, has donated $6,000 to the department of war for strengthening the defenses of Stockholm.

The electric plant inspectors report that during the year 1913 59 accidents were caused by electric currents. Sixty-one cases were fatal. Three persons were crippled, and 40 recovered from their injuries. The whole number of accidents of this kind reported since 1905 is 281, and 47 cases were fatal.

The annual authorities of Sweden point out with great emphasis that a very large number of the people who are required of the marine authorities if the navy is to be in decent shape for action at any time.

Bank Clearings Enormous. Minneapolis, Jan. 2.—With $1,374,267,910.18 in bank clearings for the year just ended, Minneapolis not only made good the prediction of six weeks ago that a new high record would be attained, but ran well ahead of the total then estimated.

The increase over 1913 is $61,855,654.55. December clearings exceeded last year by $9,747,749.50. The figures are $140,683,454.14 for the month; January cleared against $131,015,817.81 for December, 1913.

DENMARK

Arrangements have been made to hold an international scientific conference in London January 17, at which each neutral country will be represented by four delegates. Jeppe Nordberg, leader of the Danish socialists, admits no practical results are anticipated, but he thinks the conference will serve to pave the way for the resumption of friendly international relations when the war is over.

On the islands of Falster and Lolland, says a Norwegian globe-trotter, "the principal crop is sugar beets. To harvest this crop is dirty work, and the Danish women will not do it. And the men have no rest for such work. So for this harvest large numbers of women laborers are brought over from Poland. A few men come also, but only to boss the job. The Polish women pull up the beets, live on next to nothing and send their earnings home to their husbands in Poland. When the harvest is over the women are ferried over to Germany, herded together in fourth-class cars and carried back to their families. We saw great numbers of these peripatetic members of the industrial army, some of them with infants in their arms, on the way to the Polish winter quarters, and a pitiful sight they were."

It is admitted that Denmark has a union question on her hand. A number of years ago Icelanders began to demand greater political liberty, and the more they got of it the more they wanted. The Icelanders have advanced sufficiently to have a specific representative in the cabinet of Denmark. That satisfied them only for a while. Now they demand that this official shall be a member of the Danish cabinet, but that he shall deal with the king directly and exclusively with regard to Icelandic matters. The Danish balk at this. They claim that the minister of Iceland may want something that affects Denmark, and in such cases the Danish cabinet ought to be authorized. Neither side is claiming authority. The matter stands. The war is causing far more trouble and anxiety in Denmark than in Iceland, and the Icelanders feel that this is one of the best ways to press their political claims. What the Icelanders want now is practically what the norwegians had with regard to the king of Sweden. They are willing to use the king of the Danes, but they want to be independent of the Danish people.

NORWAY.

A lady in Stavanger proved herself to be a "new" woman the other day. Elmar Li, the editor of a paper called "The First of May," wrote a violent article in which he had an account of a lady who was conducting for the benefit of poor people. The next day she went to the office of the editor and asked him who was responsible for the article. He admitted that he was responsible. "Will you take it back?" she asked. "No," instantly she doubled up her hand and held her ear as hard as she could. He called for witnesses. But she was quicker than he, and called as witnesses the other people in the room. He started to explain the whole matter to them of her own accord.

Certain capitalists are said to have secured an option on parts of the certain waterfalls in Valdres. Olaf Moe has written a vigorous protest against selling the property before the government has a chance to buy it. He says: "No person living at the present time has any idea of the importance of this waterpower to the country and to the industrial life of the settlement in the future." He claims that the Talela offers the great waterpower in the entire Drammen river system.

To pick two crops of pears from the same tree in one year as far north as the city of Norway, is something very rare and odd. But such a thing actually happened on the farm of Ole Eldre of Gløppen last year. He has a pear tree which blossomed in May, and in July he picked some ripe pears from it. The tree blossomed again, and late in the fall it gave a second crop of pears which were perfectly ripe.

New York.—A sailing vessel arrived in port today whose crew did not know there was a war until signaled outside the harbor by a British cruiser. She was the Norwegian bark Padang. She left Padang, Sumatra, on Oct. 17 with a cargo of coffee, and the British cruiser, the first vessel she spoke to during her entire passage.

Mrs. Fleischer, widow of the late Rev. T. E. Fleischer of Hjørring, has established a foundation for the benefit of the parish. The amount of it is about $500. The interest is to be added to the principal until the whole amounts to $1,250, after which four thirds of the interest is to be spent in the interest of education and for the relief of distress in the parish.

P. C. Stanche, a merchant at Mo, has built a telephone line at his own expense from Kjerfjell to Vikhagen. This will be of great benefit to the farmers of the hakefjord district and Vikhagen, where signals of herring often approach the shore without any chance for the people to spread the important news at once.

At Haddelund there is so scarce that nearly every farmer has to haul water for some distance. At one farm four horses are kept busy in hauling water.

Her Only Alternative. "What! Is Helen sick?" "Oh, no. Her skirts are so narrow she can't walk, her shoes are so narrow she can't stand, her corset so tight she can't sit, so she is lying down."—Humoristic Listy (Prague).

Cause of the Chill. "But Captain Hawley," said the handsome Miss Platts coquettishly, "will you love me when I grow old and ugly?" "My dear Miss Platts," answered the captain gallantly, "you may grow old, but you will never get ugly."—And he wondered why their friendship ceased so suddenly.

What has become of the old-fashioned men who used to say there would never be any more big wars?

Rheumatism Sprains Lumbago Sciatica
Why grin and bear all these ills when Sloan's Liniment kills pain?
"I have used your Liniment and can say it is fine. I have used it for sore throat, strained shoulder, and it acted like a charm."—Allen Dunn, Route 1, Box 88, Pine Valley, Miss.
"I am a painter and paperhanger by trade, consequently up and down ladders. About two years ago my left knee became lame and sore. It pained me at nights at times till I could not rest, and I was contemplating giving up my trade on account of it when I chanced to try Sloan's Liniment. I had never tried it before, and I am glad to state that less than one 25c. bottle has freed me up apparently as good as ever."—Charles C. Campbell, Florence, Texas.
