There are two ways of "biting" eyes.
One is to try to please the patient the first time, but the patient nearly always comes back dissatisfied. The other is the Neurological way, where nature is allowed to build up the eyes and nerves. The results are lasting.

PISO'S

As long as you can remember Piso's has been the favorite remedy for coughs and colds.
Since '04, mothers have kept Piso's handy in the home and used it to prevent, relieve coughs and colds from growing big.

Piso's gives prompt relief.
It soothes the throat, loosens the chest and soothes the nerves. It is a safe, reliable remedy for all coughs and

Mr. and Mrs. John Shreck returned to their home at Rankin, N.
D., last Sunday after a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thos. Gardner.
Mrs. Shreck having been here about ten weeks while her husband came down from home last week.

Chas. Shoberg left, last Sunday, for Crookston where he will be employed in the Bridgman-Russell plant which is supervised by Elmer Carlson, formerly of this place.
Charles has been visiting at home,
here since his discharge from service recently.

Young Lady Died at West Rock
Mrs. Minnie Nordquist of Minneapolis passed away at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Nordquist, at West Rock, last Sunday morning, after a short illness from pneumonia, following child birth.

The remains were interred in the cemetery at West Rock, Monday afternoon, following services at the home by Rev. Melin of the Lutheran church.

Deceased was born and raised at West Rock and leaves many friends besides her parents, three brothers and two sisters, besides her infant child, to mourn her loss.

She came home only about three weeks ago from the city to remain for some time.

Rock Creek
A party was given at the home of Ole Westerland, one mile northwest of Greeley, last Sunday evening, in honor of Sigurd Westerland who was up from Fort Snelling where he is being treated, for a few days. He was severely wounded in the shoulder getting along nicely though he does not expect to entirely recover the use of the arm on the injured side.

George Anderson of Spring Valley spent a few days this week at the home of his brother, E. J., leaving yesterday with his mother, who has been here since last November, for her home at Canby where he intended remaining for a short time. Mr.
Anderson recently returned from a four months service in France, being in the anti-aircraft service.

The George Waldons returned to New York state where they went after selling their farm last fall, and they intend buying in this region again, we understand they are stopping at the Alex Tate home and all are glad to see them back and to know that they plan to remain.

The talk of a town hall for Rock Creek which was more or less predominant before town meeting day will rest for another year as it hardly likely that a special election will be called to act on the matter,
the annual town meeting having failed to take it up.

George Tate returned home, last Saturday morning, from Sparta, Wis., where he finished his army service. Miss Lucy Tate, accompanied by Miss Olie Zeveloff, came up from St. Paul at the same time to take in the dance and spend the week-end at home.

Farmers' Convention, Saturday
The Farmers' convention to be in the armory at Pine City on Saturday of this week, will probably be the largest attended meeting of the kind ever held in the county unless the condition of the roads is such that many are prevented from being present.

An excellent program has been arranged, beginning at 11 a. m. and lasting throughout the afternoon and including addresses by such well-known authorities on farm topics as John Bowers of the agricultural college on live stock, J. E. Kientz of the Federal land bank on farm loans,
T. E. Erickson on canning and W.
E. Stanfield on poultry. There will also be discussions on these subjects for the purpose of bringing out local view points. Musical numbers will also be contributed to the program
by the Booster orchestra of Pokegama and Mis Wilcox and others, a reading by Mrs. Frank Gardner and an address of welcome by Mayor
Lunch will be served at noon.

To aid in making the day an immediate financial gain for those attending the convention, many of the Pine City business houses will offer business bargains so that buyers Sculley may make expenses and wages "on the side." These bargains are enumerated on the last page of this issue. Look them over and take advantage of anything that you want among them.

Pine City wants everybody to come.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shreck returned to their home at Rankin, N.
D., last Sunday after a visit at the home of her sister, Mrs. Thos. Gardner, Mrs. Shreck having been here
about ten weeks while her husband

be given to the pupils of the school will be given before the baskets are sold.

N. E. Bergquist bought the Louis Olson place near West Rock, last week, paying $100 per acre for the 120 acre tract, and will move on this week. Mr. Bergquist having sold his old place to his son-in-law, Carl

Swanson. Mr. Swanson has been living on the old Anderson place which has been sold to Louis Olson and which will soon be occupied by a family from Duluth. Emil Olson, who has been living on his father's place, will move to his own farm at once.

The north bound limited stopped,
Tuesday, to pick up about a score of Woodmen, including the degree team, who went to Hinckley to teach a class of candidates "how to shoot."
They returned home on the night
train and report a fine trip.

Herschel Michaels, who was at the home of his sister, Mrs. Glenn McNeil a few weeks ago, is back from a visit to Wisconsin points and has made up his mind to buy in the Great West region if he can find what he wants, we understand.

Services will be held in the Pine Grove Lutheran church at 10:30 a.
m. next Sunday, by the old time. No meeting will be held in the West Rock church that day on account of the bad condition of the roads.

There was a big crowd at the Woodman dance in Johnson's hall, last Saturday evening, and everyone had a fine time. 40 tickets were sold and the Woodmen netted about $25.

About 45 from this locality were at Pine City, Monday, in connection with the Rock creek ditch matter, an account of which will be found on the front page of this issue.

Mrs. A. P. Erickson is up after an attack of the flu. The three youngest children at the J. D. Pepin home are suffering from the disease at this writing.

A dance will be given in the Temperance hall at West Rock Saturday evening of this week, March 29,
a 3-piece orchestra will play.

There was a large attendance at the funeral of Jonas Olson, in the Methodist church last Thursday.
The ladies aid is making arrangements for the apron sale and supper
in the church on April 4.

Baby Clinic a Great Success
The baby clinic at the high school building, last Saturday afternoon, was a great success, both from the standpoint of attendance and of the information that it gave to parents and the next clinic, which is hoped to hold here shortly after Easter will be even more generally looked forward to and attended as the public learns what this one has accomplished.

There were 61 or 62 children from one to five years old presented for examination; several cases of heart trouble, some of hip disease and other physical defects which can be remedied by taking them in time being found. The records of the cases are confidential and cannot be made public but they are conclusive.

Dr. Anderson who was advertised to be present was unable to come and the place was filled by Dr. Johann, a well qualified expert on children's ailments, who was child specialist at Washington during the war in charge of the health of men in government employ. He was accompanied by Miss Burns, a graduate nurse sent out by the state board of health, accompanied the doctor and Mrs. J. D. Boyd and Miss Faith Pennington and other ladies of this place assisted them.

This work is being prosecuted by the state board of health and Mrs.
Lang of this place, who is county chairman in charge of the work, is entitled to all credit for the clinic.
She says that a clinic will probably be held here again in the future.

Catholic Play Was Fine
The presentation of the annual Catholic play in St. Mary's hall, last Thursday evening, drew a packed house and the gross receipts of the evening amounted to $255.20. The play, "Mrs. Tubbs Does Her Bit," was highly patriotic and interesting and kept the audience on tip-toe from start to finish.

The characters were all finely represented and we can scarcely pick any worthy of special mention but Mrs. Ted Buselmeyer was certainly a scream in the character of the old maid and little Dan and Anna Ro-cher and Catherine and James Poferi were remarkably self possessed and excellent in their work. Father Leo, who has many times demonstrated his ability in training a cast of characters, never held did better than with this play.

The prizes given to the holders of the ticket numbers were Mrs. J.
P. Miller who won the ham, John Seukup the razor, George Haynes the handbag, Chas. Shoberg the pair of herring and Ed Tachery the year subscription to the Pine Oker.

After the play, members of the cast and orchestra and their ladies and escorts were entertained by Father Leo at a banquet and a delightful time had.

If You're going to build a SILO

this year, now is the time to order.
More silos are going to be built in 1919 than ever before. The demand is unprecedented. The supply is limited, too, and the "early bird will get the worm."

Crops ruined by drouth, floods, hail, frosts and insect pests are extensive and severe. We lament over the waste and count it by millions, but think of the vast amount of corn that is thrown away after it is already grown. This waste, according to Dean H. M.
Cottrell, formerly of Kansas Agricultural College, is close to a BILLION DOLLARS. He cites it as the greatest waste of the Nation, as it is made from a crop already grown and ready to harvest. All through the great corn producing states millions of acres of stalks are now blown by the winds or covered with snow, while hay is selling at from $20 00 to $25.00 per ton.

They Taste Like Candy"

When your child is feverish and peevish—
when the tongue is coated because of biliousness or dis-ordered stomach, give it one of DR. MILES' candy-like LAXATIVE TABLETS and in a short time the child will be naturally relieved of the cause of his illness.

No coaxing or urging is required to get children to take these mild, but effective laxatives. When children once use them they never refuse them. So much better than nauseating oils or irritating cathartics that so often do more harm than good.

Not only are DR. MILES' LAXATIVE TABLETS an effective medicine for children but for grown-ups as well. Any one suffering from constipation and the many ill effects will find in these pleasant and agreeable tablets an effective medicine. Get a box from your druggist—they cost only a few cents.
Money back if each box fails to satisfy.

HUNGARY'S RUSSIA IN WAR ON THE WEST

Proclaims State of Hostility; Great Army of Reds Ready for Battle.

COUNTRY IS UNDER SIEGE

Several Regiments of Czech-Slovaks, Inspired by Bolshevik Propaganda, Have Mutinied and Gone Over to the Reds.

Vienna, March 24.—The Hungarian government is reported to have issued a proclamation acknowledging a state of war between Hungary and the entire world.

The Karolyi cabinet, according to latest word from Budapest, has been succeeded by a new coalition government, which is being headed by the Russian troops reported to be marching into Hungary.

The entire country has been placed under a state of siege.

All Hungary has turned bolshevik, according to reports from the front.

"Red Army Ready." A great Russian bolshevik army is reported to be ready between Brody and Stanislav.

Several regiments of Czech-Slovaks, inspired by bolshevik propaganda, have mutinied and gone over to the reds. They are now in Hungary.

There is danger of a general strike in the Czech army in the south, which is being carried on for months by Lenin and his lieutenants.

Karolyi Steps Masses. Count Michael Karolyi, resigning as premier, which office he has held ever since the overthrow of the Hapsburg monarchy, is reported to be organizing a "world war of the proletariat for justice," and pleading for support of the Hungarian government against the decision of the Paris peace conference to occupy Hungary.

Soviets Pick Czech. Copenhagen, March 24.—Alexander Gorbak has assumed the presidency of the Hungarian revolutionary government of workers, peasants and soldiers' committees, with Bela Kun as foreign commissary and Joseph Pogani as war commissary, according to Budapest dispatches.

It is reported that Kun has applied to Lenin for arms and munitions for the purpose of putting down the bolshevik uprising.

The formation of the new Hungarian government followed the signing of a treaty as a result of the new boundaries between Hungary and Rumania fixed at Paris.

Rioting Begins. Rioting throughout Hungary has accompanied the change of government, according to reports reaching here.

In Budapest, which has not as yet been occupied by the Hungarian reds, mobs Saturday stormed the post office and other public buildings and destroyed the monuments erected to Habsburg heroes.

All Power is Taken. A dispatch from Budapest gives the proclamation of the new Hungarian government as follows:

"The proletariat of Hungary from this date takes into its own hands the destinies of the country. By the decision of the Paris conference to occupy Hungary the provisions of revolution in Hungary become utterly impossible.

"Under these circumstances the sole means open to the Hungarian proletariat is a dictatorship of the proletariat."

Seize All Big Estates. "Legislative, executive and judicial authority will be exercised by a dictatorship of the workers, peasants and soldiers' councils.

"The revolutionary government council will begin forthwith work for the realization of the program of the council of large estates, mines, industrial banks and transport lines, the clear complete solidarity with the Russian Soviet government, and offers to contract an armed alliance with the proletariat of Russia."

"Appeal to People." The proclamation by Count Karolyi announcing the resignation of the Hungarian cabinet, of which he was the head, after referring to the decision of the peace conference at Paris to occupy Hungarian territory, says, according to a dispatch from Vienna:

"The entire nation declared that it intends to regard the demarcation line as the political frontier of the state."

East in Rome. In the days before the great war many foreigners as those which attended the celebration of Italy week in Rome. The romance which has been going about the city since the days of its greatest prosperity and the gorgeous and various religious ceremonies observed during the week no doubt attracted many through curiosity alone, but were always hundreds of thousands of religious devotees who looked upon the rites of further occupying of the country is manifestly to the disadvantage of the Hungarian people, and the region of operations against the Russian soviet army which fighting on the front. The final conclusion by us, however, is to be the pay of the Czech troops by means of which the Russian soviet army is to be overcome.

As provisional president of the Hungarian people's republic, we announce to the proletariat the force for justice and support.

Calls All Neighbors. The proclamation of the new Hungarian government invites the workers and peasants of Bohemia, Rumania, Serbia and Croatia to form an armed alliance against the aristocracy, land owners and workers of Austria and Germany.

The document calls for urging the workers and peasants to work in order to produce or to collect the food necessary to sustain the life of the people.

They are requested to rally with the Moscow government and constitute a soviet republic in the territories of the imperialist conquerors.

The proclamation says the government will organize a "world war of the proletariat for justice," and pleading for support of the Hungarian government against the decision of the Paris peace conference to occupy Hungary.

STORAGE BILL PASSES SENATE

Measure Giving Women Vote For Presidential Elections Now Goes to Governor.

FINAL VOTE 49 TO 11

Prediction Made That If Bill Becomes Law It Will Be Tested in Courts—Several Banking Bills Passed.

St. Paul.—With known opponents of the storage bill, the house bill passed the senate, 49 to 11, putting the measure up to the governor for signature.

The measure, which will give women the right to vote in presidential elections, is expected to be signed by the governor.

It will be taken to the courts for the approval of the senate, said Mr. Cady.

Senator Charles H. Fowler of Minnesota spoke in favor of the bill.

He said that the bill would give women the right to vote in presidential elections, and that it would be a great benefit to the state.

State Bill Will Pass. Minnesota will have an official state song of its own, if the House concurs in the passage of a bill introduced by Senator James A. Cady of Washburn. The measure, which is known as "Minnesota's Song," was introduced by Captain John Lohr of Lake City and Miss Julia Rogers of St. Paul.

The bill was then passed by the Senate.

Higher Pay For Judges. The House committee on judiciary has recommended the passage of the Lavin bill, increasing salaries of judges from $4,000 a year each and adding $600 a year to the salaries of district judges.

If the bill is passed the chief justice of the supreme court will receive $12,000 a year, associate justices and commissioners, $7,500 each; district judges, $4,200, from $3,000; and county judges, $3,000, from $2,000.

Mr. Laverla said his chief purpose in introducing the bill was to give the members of the senate a fair representation of the public opinion.

Representative H. W. Laverla of Minneapolis has introduced a bill providing for a graduated income tax, ranging from 1 to 6 per cent. Exemptions of $600 a year for single men and $1,200 for married men are provided.

America's Immortals. Most striking instance of gallantry in which a citizen of this state has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded.

No fiction has ever presented more amazing tales of physical prowess and gallantry under fire than are disclosed by the following official reports of deeds of American fighters in France for which the Distinguished Service Cross has been awarded.

These were selected by General Pershing's staff out of hundreds of reports telling of remarkable bravery and fortitude displayed by American soldiers in action.

SIDNEY E. MANNING, Corporal, Co. 167th Infantry.

Corporal Manning received the Distinguished Service Cross for conspicuous gallantry near Beauvais, France, July 28, 1918. Company was ordered to march by a German machine gun squad during an assault by his battalion on the strongly fortified position overlooking the town of Otray, France, for the purpose of exploiting the successful passage of the stream. During the advance on the crest of the crest a German machine gun was killed and just as the crest was reached the corps sergeant was wounded. Corporal Manning, who was near the center of the assaulting line and was meeting with desperate resistance, was severely wounded and was the

Pine City Development Association

All together, All the Time, For a Greater Pine City

WEEKLY BULLETIN

This year, with the Federal Highway completed, Pine City will see many, many more travelers come and go than we have ever seen before. We want these thousands of visitors to remember our town as the best, cleanest, most prosperous looking town between St. Paul and Duluth. Let's plans to make our town the real, up-to-date Spotless Town of the region.

LET'S

- Haul the Ash Piles away.
- Clean up the Rubbish Piles.
- Take down Old Fences and Buildings.
- Paint up Houses and Other Buildings.
- Repair Sidewalks.
- Prepare Flower Beds and Boxes.
- Trim up Bushes and Trees.
- Plant New Trees.
- Make the Lawns Shine.
- Clean the Streets and Alleys.

The Development Association is planning to put on an extensive advertising campaign in furtherance of this clean up work and will offer suitable prizes, to be announced later, to the person making the greatest improvement to the lawns in town.

WHY ASKOV PAPER ATTACKS

About two months ago the Askov paper devoted three columns to a personal attack on the editor of The Pine POKER. Why? Because we published the facts about the county printing deal, and the Askov paper was given the contract at a price which was from $500 to $1,000 higher than the price asked by another responsible bidder for the work.

The Askov paper again devotes a column of space to a personal attack on the editor of The Pine POKER. Why? Because we called attention to the fact that the Askov paper contracted to print "all notices required by law" for Pine county during 1919 and then charged the county three times that contract price for publishing the personal property tax list, which is "required by law."

The editor of the Askov paper accuses us of being determined to injure him. He was never worse mistaken on anything in his life. We wish him every success, but we want him to be honest with the taxpayers of the county, of whom we are just one.

Some people have carried the impression that our expose of the county printing matters has been to satisfy a personal grievance. Not at all. We had the facts and gave them to the public, merely as matters in which the taxpayers are interested, and which he certainly has a right to know. We would as willingly tell in German at 10 a. m. Sunday school as usual.

All members of the congregation are urged to plan to be present at the morning service on Sunday, April 4.

First practice for the Easter program which is being prepared under the direction of the teachers of the Sunday school will be held on Sunday afternoon.

Methodist Church Notes
The pastor has suffered an attack of sickness this week but expects to be about again before Sunday when the usual morning service and Sunday school will be held. In the evening the Presbyterians will close their church and unite with us in a conference meeting which will be addressed by Miss Rosette Hendrix of Minneapolis, state president of the W. C. T. U. An orchestra of six pieces will play at this service. The hours mentioned here will conform to the new time.

The ladies aid was entertained at the home of Mrs. Walter Gottry, yesterday afternoon. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs.

Presbyterian Church Notes
The ladies aid will hold its annual sale and serve supper in the church next Thursday evening, April 3rd. The sale will begin at 3 p. m. and the supper, which will be 60 cents a plate, will be served from 6 p. m. until all are served. Among the articles to be offered at the sale will be the usual variety of useful and fancy articles, California Indian baskets, and, it is hoped, the wool rugs that have been made from the old church carpet will be on hand.

The annual meeting of the congregation will be held in the church at 7:45 next week Friday evening, April 4, for the purpose of hearing all annual reports on the work of the church and to transact all necessary business. We hope to make it a very pleasant and profitable evening as the ladies will serve refreshments and it is hoped to have Dr. W. W. Lawrence of the Glen-Avon church at Duluth, present to deliver an address. All members of the congregation are urged to come, whether members of the church or not. You are welcome.

Our annual financial canvass will begin at the close of the morning service next Sunday, March 30, at which time we hope to have all obligations for the past year fully met and all in readiness to contribute their share for expenses and benevolences for the coming year by direct subscription. Be ready to "go over the top" with the rest. We can do it.

March 31st is the time when the coming Sunday, all hours mentioned in these notes are intended to conform to the new time.

The new song books for the Sunday school are here. Come and see and use them.

Next Sunday there will be a union meeting in the M. E. church at 7:30 p. m. to be addressed by Miss Hendrix, state president of the W. C. T. U. This meeting is in charge of the local organization and a program of musical features has been arranged. All are invited.

Electric Service For Country Homes

The at tombible brought country homes nearer the city.

But Rural Electric Lighting has brought these places right into the city.

We can extend our transmission lines to your place so that you can have electric service right on your farm. An investment of a few hundred dollars may increase your farm value that many thousands. And it will be one of the most serviceable, economical improvements you can make in your home—not a luxury.

You can light your home, barn, garage—all buildings—with electricity; do your washing, ironing and cleaning by electricity; have delicious roast and appetizing grill cooking right on your table and all the other electrical conveniences and advantages that come with this service.

It won't cost you a cent or incur the slightest obligation to allow our electrical experts to look over your place and plan a model Electric Installation for your use that will completely revolutionize your home—your house-keeping—your living.

W. F. Mikiska arrived here yesterday for a short visit with friends on his way to Duluth. He was a mechanic in the aerial service and saw much service in the air, nine months of his time being spent in France. He only arrived at the front lines a few days before the armistice was signed. He was discharged March 22 and has been at his mother's home at New Prague.

In "The Firely of France," the new Paramount picture starring Wallace Reid and Ann Little, which will be shown at the Family theatre, Sunday, the work of an intrepid birdman forms the basis of a story that sets the blood tingling and makes one of the most interesting pictures that has been seen here in many weeks. Also a Senett comedy, matinee and night.

J. M. Beechel has resigned as manager of the InterState Lumber Co. here, to take effect April 15, when the family will move to Arnold Park, Ia., near Spirit Lake, where he will have charge of a line yard for Brandon Bros. Clint Breckenridge and family arrived last Saturday from Beloit, Wis. where he has been employed the past three years, and are visiting at the home of his mother for a time. Clint has contracted to play ball with the Toronto team in the international league and will report on April 9th, after which Mrs. Breckenridge to the power plant and he hopes eridge and children will go to Duluth to visit her mother and sister Daring Clint's absence.

Chas. Gehl is hauling material for the construction of bases on which to erect two big steel tanks for the storage of oil and gasoline here—each with a capacity of 12,000 gallons. He is putting the station on land just south of the Farmers' creamery and plans on moving his office to that location later. The tanks will be on the sidewalk running to the power plant and he hopes to have them completed by about May 1st.

When you come to the Farmers' convention be sure to notice the exhibit about clean milk in Breckenridge's window. Did you ever read about straw or hair in the milk pail? Notice what a queer growth may develop from one hair or a piece of straw. Samples of each are shown in small glass dishes containing a pint of jelly. This growth will form quicker in milk than it did in the dishes. If you have time, notice the exhibit of each in the exhibit. Arranged by the high school.

The Intatype in the Pine Packer office is in fine working condition, notwithstanding the contrary reports that have been and are being spread by some people in town for some reason or other. The unit trouble has been lack of knowledge on the part of the knackers. Our new folding machine is also in fine working condition. With the exception of the excellent work done on the Intatype by Tom Johnson of St. Paul, chief credit for getting both machines in their present first-class condition belongs to George Bogue of this place, who is a machinist of exceptional ability.

J. E. Kienitz of Cambridge, appraiser for the Federal land bank at St. Paul, was here yesterday to check up the affairs of the Southern Pine Co. Farm Loan Assn. and this office acknowledges a pleasant and a helpful call from our old friend, for John, who is publisher of the Cambridge Independent and one of the best newspaper men in the state, hauled his sleeves up and went to work the minute he discovered our lack of sufficient help. Mr. Kienitz will be here on Saturday to tell the farmers at the convention how to organize an association and how to conduct their affairs. He knows these things and he knows how to tell them.

DONT DRUG KIDNEYS RUB BACKACHE AWAY

Instant relief. Rub pain, soreness and stiffness from your back with "St. Jacobs Liniment."

Kidneys cause backache? Not they have no nerves, therefore can't cause pain. Listen! Your backache is caused by lambo, sciatica or a strain, and the only relief is soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment." Rub it on the ache or tender spot, and the pain, soreness, stiffness and lameness disappears. Don't stay crippled! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Liniment" from your druggist and limber up. A moment after it is applied you'll wonder what became of the backache, sciatica or lambo, and "St. Jacobs Liniment" stops any pain at once. It is harmless and doesn't burn or discolor the skin.

It's the only application to rub on for a weak, aching or painful back, or for lumbago, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, sprains or a strain.—Ad.

APT DESCRIPTION OF PASTOR

Child's Characterization Well Drawn, Though Possibly Not Flattering to the Good Man.

"Little Caroline and her grandmother went to church one Sunday morning recently. It had been some time since the small lady had attended and things and faces were new and strange.

After returning home she sat in a quiet study.

"Who was you thinking of, dear?" grandma asked.

"What man, pet? I do not know which one you mean."

"That man, I mean," Caroline said with an indignant frown.

"I said, dear, which one that is."

"Well," said little Caroline, evidently fully dignified, "I mean the fluffy man that talks with his hands, still."

The pastor happened to be a rather stout man with a good supply of hair and this was her unusual way of describing him.

They're All Interpid.

"Just a moment before you start to writing your interview, with Flippers, the aviator," said the city editor.

"Yes, sir," replied the youthful reporter.

"How can you describe him without using 'interpid'?" the word has been overworked in connection with aviators.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

RUPERT HIGHERS

CHAPTER XVIII.

Lella felt a rapturous desire to kiss him and call him names of gratitude. He was generous by impulse and patient and nobody's fool at that. The thought of tailors are long, long thoughts.

Daphne sat thinking, but not of clothes. The labor problem had almost demoralized her. She was studying the models as they lounged about the shop. Suddenly she spoke. "Oh, Mr. Duthie, how much money does a model earn?"

"You mean what salary do I pay?" Common clothes-horses get fifteen or sixteen dollars. Better lookers get better pay. You're worth a thousand a week at least. Want a job?"

His smile was quenched. He studied her across his cup. He saw the anxiety in her curiosity.

"What's the matter?" he said. "Has he run off with another girl, or do you expect to go looking for a millionaire in my pond?"

"I need the money. I've had hard luck. Daphne said I ought to get a new dress."

"That's too bad! Well, I've got more girls now than I need. Nobody as beautiful as you, of course, but—I suppose I could get some one."

"Neither could I. Well, I'll squeeze you in somewhere. But I can't pay you as much as you are worth. Would you mind waiting a week or two?"

"It would fascinate me. You can begin next Monday." He turned to Lella. "Do you want a job, too?"

"No, thank you," Lella snipped. Her eyes were bluer than ever with rage, and her red-white cheeks burned with indignation.

When she and Daphne had taken their departure, Lella still dared not speak to Daphne on the way home. She dared not speak to her at all.

Lella brought triumph to Bayard. She told him what Duthie had told her of his willingness to wait for his money.

Bayard embraced Lella and hailed her as an angel. When she had taken full toll of her success, she told Bayard what Duthie had done. She told it simply, without emphasis, knowing his effect.

"Daphne!" he roared. "You asked Duthie for a position among his models? Great Lord of heaven! I'll telephone for him to come here!"

"You'll send the message collect, and he'll never be able to pay it, so he'll never know who he misled."

"But surely we are not so big game that—"

"Who has any money? Who has any thing to do with it?"

"But there must be some other way." "Get me one."

"There must be some other way." "Get me one."

"There must be some other way." "Get me one."

"There must be some other way." "Get me one."

demand for cheer of some sort that Tom Duane swung back his dagger's bloody sky.

She was weary, sore and footsore, in shabby boots that she could not replace. She was called to the telephone and a voice chanted in her ear with a tone of peculiarly comforting melancholy.

"That you, Miss Kip?" Tom Duane. "Door Tom Duane. Poor Tom's coming. I came back to town unexpectedly early."

"Why not?" she said. "I'll be there. She was glad that he could not see the tears that gushed across her eyelids. "Three o'clock for me. I'll be there in a jiffy. You could arrange to show with me, couldn't you? or could you?"

Again she answered, "Why not?" Duane's voice rang. "Tip-top! I'm ready to jump as a box of soap. I'm halfway there already."

CHAPTER XIX.

When Duane came up to the door greeted her with the bounding joy of a young man who had just found her and thanked her for leading him there. The elevator that took their bodies down took her eyes up. She noted that he had not brought his big car with his chauffeur. He stowed her in a motor car.

"You're a good girl," he said. "I'll be with you in half an hour. I'll be with you in half an hour. I'll be with you in half an hour."

"Want to go home?" "You don't mind?"

When they came out upon the veranda of the hotel the lake was a vast hills. They stood admiring it for a moment and the music from the hotel reached to them from another world. He walked away sulkily.

He returned to the road along the Hudson and it was so beautiful to the moonlight that it seemed a pity to hurry through the wonderland at such speed. "Why not?" she said. "I'll be there. She was glad that he could not see the tears that gushed across her eyelids. "Three o'clock for me. I'll be there in a jiffy. You could arrange to show with me, couldn't you? or could you?"

wicked for people to live together if they don't love each other."

"Yes, yes. Indeed of course!" He is not right for two people who are not Christians to live together according to their creeds?"

"What do you mean?" "Well, the people who lived before there were any Christians—or people who were not Christians—was it all right for them to marry?"

"Of course." "Of course not, it is—the—"

"The love?" "I think so. It's hard to explain."

"Everything is, isn't it?" "Terribly."

"There was some silence. He took a cigar from his pocket, held it before her for permission. She said, "Please." He struck a match. She glanced at his face in the little twilight of the match. It was very handsome. A great of drowsy hair gleamed in the soft folds of his tie. The hands holding the match were slender.

She watched the cigar fire glow and fade and the little turbulent smoke swirl. He turned from his eyes, but gazed at her cheek, and she could feel the blood stirring there in a blush.

"I think so, wouldn't you marry me?" "I—I love— I'm going to marry—"

"When?" "Some day."

"You don't seem happy with him, will you love him?" "Oh, but I'll be happy with him."

"You've seen how seldom it worked, if you ceased to love him, or he you, would you leave him?" "I wouldn't. It's his order, maybe."

"Wouldn't it be wiser if two people who thought they loved could live together for a while before they married?"

She felt her muscles set as if she were being pulled away from her own words. "Mr. Duane! I don't think it's also even to be talking of such things. I'm engaged, you know."

"It's not so late as it would be if you married a man and found that your marriage was a mistake."

"Please don't leave me just yet. I'm studying you a long time, trying to get you out of my mind, and only getting you deeper in my heart. I love you."

"I don't believe it." "I know it."

"Then you ought to tell me." "Not tell a woman you love her? Not try to save her from wrecking her life?"

"How wrecking my—her life?" "I believe that if you marry Clay Winburn you'll be unhappy. He can't give you a home. He can't support you."

"He can't support you?" "With the hard times and the war. Please let me go home."

"That insolation was too appalling to answer, or even to rasp at, or protest against. He looked at her. He took at her in her face to explain, hurriedly."

"You're not going to be one of those silly old-fashioned idiot girls that a man can't talk to earnestly and frankly, are you now? Of course you're not."

"I'm a decent enough fellow at heart. I want to do the right thing and live squarely as well as honestly. I've got a sense of honor, too, and of a sort, and I take life pretty seriously."

"I'll tell you, the world is all turned topsy-turvy the last few years. The old rules don't run. They never did, but people pretended to believe in 'em."

"You're not so afraid of the truth in science or history or religion or anything. We want to know the truth and live by it."

GRANT REFUSED TO ANSWER

When President, He Declined to Tell House Where He Had Been During Absence.

During President Grant's administration a movement was started to call Grant to account for having been absent from Washington. The house asked him by resolution to inform it what official acts he had performed while away, says an exchange.

The hero of Appomattox replied: "I freely inform the house that from the time of my entrance upon my office I have been in the habit, as were all of my predecessors of absenting myself at times from the city during such absences as I did not neglect or forego the obligations or duties of my office, but in French. The French was smoking one of those mysterious cigars made some-where in France."

The Frenchy turned to the Yank and said: "You've got to go to a booby!" "Not on your life," said the Yank. "But I'll hold a grenade while you throw an egg."—Ontario Post.

TORPEDOED TRANSPORT GOVINGTON SINKING

Torpedoed by a Hun submarine July 2, while she was about 100 miles off West-bound for the United States, the transport Govington immediately began to sink. This unusual photograph, taken the next day, shows the Govington listing heavily, a short time before the end came.

HORATIUS HAS NOTHING ON HIM

Tony Held Mountain Pass When Austrian Hordes Attacked It.

BODIES IN HEAPS ABOUT HIM

Stood All Alone Working Sputtering Machine Gun Until Italian Army Arrived—Another Chicago Italian Wins Medal For Valor.

New York.—Out on Sixty-third street, Chicago, Tony Bruno used to wrap hot towels about men's faces and soliloquize about the benefits of a hair shave. That was four years ago, writes C. V. Julius in the Chicago Tribune. When Austrian hordes were beating against a certain mountain pass in the Trentino on the holding of which depended the fate of an Italian battalion, they stood all alone in the pass, working a sputtering Italian machine gun. Tony Bruno, barber on Sixty-third street, Chicago.

His Mind Relieved.

Four hours later when Austrian hordes in heaps about Tony his mind was relieved. The Italian army arrived. And now he's on his way home.

"Why, you're a regular Horatius," said some one on the pier, who had learned the story of Tony and the mountain pass.

TWELVE-FINGERED CROOK

When Gerardo Giuliano was arraigned at police headquarters in New York for stealing a wrist watch, he was found guilty and sent to have his finger prints made. Then it was discovered that his deftness of fingers was due to the fact that he had five perfectly formed fingers on each hand, and a thumb, making six fingers on each hand. Further investigation showed that he also had six toes on each foot. It is the first time in the police department records that such a case has presented itself. Gerardo promptly displays his fingers which unfortunately for him, proved his up-to-date.

Clergy Murdered By the Bolsheviki

London.—Murders of clergymen constitute the latest feature of bolshevik terror in Russia, says Prof. Peter Struve, a distinguished Russian economist, who has recently returned to his native land. He arrived in England after being expelled from the bolshevik for months in Moscow and after a long journey on foot to reach safety in Finland.

He was compelled to disguise himself to escape death at the hands of the adherents of Lenin and Trotsky. Professor Struve was representative from Petrograd in the second duma and a member of the executive committee of the Duma, all the monks in ten monasteries were shot to death. Professor Kartashoff, minister of religion in Kerensky's government, who has escaped into Finland, says that the present persecution of the church in Petrograd is only comparable with the persecution of the early Christians.

"In Moscow all the shootings take place at night, but in Petrograd the victims of the bolshevik are shot in the afternoon in the courtyard of the headquarters of the executive committee and in order to draw the noise, it is usual to start up the engines of the motorcars, which are waiting in the vicinity.

"At the beginning of the bolshevik movement I publicly expressed the opinion that not even a German would hold converse with a bolshevik. As a Russian constitutionalist it is completely inexplicable to me how any alien government can contemplate discussion of any sort, in any circumstances or at any place, with anyone who calls himself a bolshevik.

"Those who insist that there can be any pact between the forces of civilization and bolshevism have no conception of the real nature of bolshevism in Russia. The most moderate form of restoration of order and liberty in Russia is in the eyes of the bolsheviks an unpardonable crime.

"Bolshevism is complete tyranny, which is absolutely incompatible with any form of ordered liberty and constitutional government. It is entirely false to say that bolshevism is a popular form of government. If Trotsky would walk a vest through Moscow he would be killed. No car lived in the streets of Petrograd since the bolshevik government. There was more law and justice under tsardom than under the bolsheviks."

WILSON ENRICHES WOUNDED YANK

Curly Boy Returns From France to Find Gushing Well on His Farm.

Jonathan Curly, Kan., captured by the Germans, returned from France to find that during his absence an oil well had been drilled on his farm near Goodby, Kan., yielding 600 barrels a day. Boyle purchased the well several years ago for $2 an acre.

The soldier oil-magnate, who is now in the Fort Riley Reconstruction hospital, sustained 28 bullet and shrapnel wounds during his military service. In addition to being gassed and burned by liquid fire.

He enlisted in the Third Canadian infantry late in 1914 and was transferred to the American forces last year, serving with the Thirty-fifth and Seventy-seventh divisions. Boyle has silver plates in his arm, leg and collar and is minus his ribs and lung on the right side. His legitimate quota of wound stripes runs from wrist to shoulder.

In a Safe Place. Shoals, Ind.—John Bates did not want to lose a slip of paper on which was written the combination to his safe, so he locked it in the safe. He never has succeeded in opening it yet.

Policeman is Shocked. New York.—A shocked policeman was the comment of Manhattan officers when informed that a police sergeant had been found lying dead to women in a room here.

THEMES FOR THE NOVELIST

Good Material Might Be Found in the Personal "Ads" Inserted in London Times.

"For the unique in advertising the columns of the London Times are almost unrivaled. What pictures might be conjured up by the following ads: 'It is hoped that the late colonel who, metaphorically speaking, sat on an unoffending suburban in a West End train a day or two ago, has now discovered his mistake and makes peace with the third party.'"

"I went into the field one day to try gunning. The only game discovered was an immense flock of Blackbirds. I should say there were 10,000 in the flock. Slowly I crawled up to them, and when not more than four rods away the birds rose in a solid mass. I fired both barrels, and how many do you think I killed?"

"Different guesses were made by the poet, ranging from 25 to 100. 'Not one,' said the stranger, 'but I went out with my brother to look for the results, and picked up four bundles of legs. I had shot a little under.'"

"Don't cry over spilt milk" is good advice, but "Don't spit the milk in the first place!" is better.

No Table Drink Has Ever Taken The Place Of The Original POSTUM CEREAL

Boil just like coffee—15 minutes after boiling begins. Its delicious flavor, rich seal brown color and fine aroma make it such a satisfying cup that Postum is the ideal drink with meals for both children and grown people.

Used in place of coffee it provides a real health drink. Contains no drugs, no caffeine as does coffee; doesn't make you nervous, sleepless or fretful.

"There's a Reason" At Grocers—two sizes 15c & 25c.

IN THE SAME OLD HUN

Vilky, France.—The following astonishing communication was received here by Mr. Lew Shippert, Y. M. C. A. from American prisoners who have just arrived there from the Villages camp. They and other prisoners from the same camp at Bastard have little faith in the change of tone of the Germans and treat the communication as simply another bluff when they receive pieces of propaganda. It consists of a message of the commander of the prisoners' camp of Villages, Baden, to the American officers on their departure to France, on Tuesday, November 29, and is as follows:

"Somewhere than you expected, your day of liberation has arrived. In a short time you will be back again with your own dear people in America. Tell them that the German people has no more grievances against them. Germany does not consider it as conquered but as conquering. As you can see by the troops coming back from the front, because it has now its own liberty.

"Now it is your turn to give the German people a just peace in the peace terms which will give them liberty, to live justly and peacefully with the world at large.

"We hope that you will reach your home safely and find everyone in good health.

"I again request you not to part from Germany with the same agreement and to influence your people to look upon Germany as it is now, not as it has been judged, perhaps justly, up to the present time.

"The new Germany has the desire to live in perfect peace with its recent enemies, but in the same manner claims an honorable peace which will give her the possibility to live as promised by President Wilson.

"Again happy returns home."
