Rush City Youth Electrocutted

Emmett Erwin, was electrocuted at Rush City last Tuesday morning while putting in an aerial wire for a radio machine.

The young man was the 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Erwin of Rush City. His father is in charge of the aerial circuit at N. P. railway. He is a junior in the Rush City high school and has taken considerable interest in radio.

Tuesday morning he was helping install a machine at the Chas. C. Wilson residence. He was going to run the aerial from a tree to the shed and the power line of the Eastern Minn. Power Co. is between these two places. He tied a wire to the aerial, took hold of it with his left hand and threw it over the power line. The second wire fell on the power line, the electricity passed over the wire and through his body killing him instantly. His left hand was burned and two holes were burned in the bottom of his shirt. The electricity left the body and entered the ground. Funeral services will be held next Sunday.

We understand the power line carries a voltage of 15,000 volts as it is the main line running to Harris and North Branch.

A. H. Daniels Laid to Rest

Funeral services were held at Harmony, Minn., last Friday morning, for Alfred H. Daniels, who passed away at his home in Pine City Tuesday evening of last week. Rev. Carlin officiated and the services were in charge of the Masonic lodge Harmony of which the deceased was a charter member.

The remains were accompanied to their last resting place by Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Joel Walsted, Spencer Daniels and Rev. Parish. Ross Daniels was just recovering from a serious attack of pneumonia and Mrs. Daniels's sister, remained here to care for him.

Mr. Daniels had been a resident of Pine City since 1913, when they moved here from Sandstone, purchasing the former Saunders place which they later sold and moved to town. In 1916 he suffered a stroke of paralysis. Later attacks left him an invalid and he had been confined to bed the past year and a half or more.

Alfred H. Daniels was born in Spring Prairie, Wis., Nov. 29, 1857. He was united in marriage on June 1, 1886 to Mrs. W. J. Duxbury at Preston, Minn. They made their home at Harmony after the marriage, living there until 1906 when they moved to Sandstone where Mr. Daniels went into the hardware business, remaining there until they came to Pine City. Mrs. Daniels is a sister of W. Duxbury, former resident of this village.

Besides his wife, four children are left. Mrs. Joel Walsted of Harmony, Mrs. H. H. Parrish of Wadena, Spencer of Manly and Ross A. who has made his home with his parents helping to care for his father during the long illness. A sister of the deceased, Mrs. Nora Daniels, resides at Harmony. He had two brothers, Willis and Herbert Daniels of Harmony.

The deceased was well known in Pine County especially in the Sandstone region and was respected and liked by all who knew him. He was a charter member of the Pine City Masonic lodge, retaining his membership in his old home lodge at Harmony after the local lodge was organized and installed.

The sympathy of all is extended to the bereaved family and relatives and it has always been felt for the departed during his long and trying illness.

With our many kind friends and neighbors for their generous assistance and sympathy during his illness and the desire that our beloved husband and father, and for the beautiful floral offerings.—Mrs. A. H. Daniels and children.

County Board Has Lively Session

When the board of county commissioners convened last Monday afternoon, at their regular monthly meeting, they were greeted by a well filled room consisting mostly of delegations.

The first delegation to be heard was composed of 14 businessmen from Hincley, headed by Attorney Ebert, who were present to request an abatement in their taxes. They claimed they had been unjustly assessed by their assessor but the county board had increased the assessment on some lines about sixty per cent over actual property values.

The board assented to the request from the Town of Pokagonia and from the village of Hannette to request work on the Pokagonia road—state road No. 7. Short talks were made by Andrew Anderson, John Norstrum, Herman Tesch and others. The board assented to the request that there would be done on this spring. The county engineer's estimate for that road this spring calls for $4,100. Commissioner Hancock pledged he would do all he can to have the road put in first class condition.

Com. Stepan made a short talk in which he stated the county was bonded to the extent of $221,000, and that there are outstanding warrants amounting to approximately $110,000 on which the county is paying 6 percent interest. He said the county had been going too fast in that regard and he would not before he got on, and he was not in favor of spending much money. He closed his remarks by making a motion that no money be appropriated any township for county roads, except for bridges, and that the county judge should make a report of the condition of the roads for the month carried 3 to 2—Stefan, Thomas, Oakland for, Hancock against.

The passing of this motion led to a wordy tilt between Hancock and Frank Stranky, who had accused Hancock of trying to take the money for himself and Anderson for work this year, after Stefan's district had been well taken care of last year.

The board passed a resolution changing the route of state road No. 9—through Royalton and Rock River to the village of John Creek, the new route to run east from West Rock and under the N. P. viaduct. The road had been changed through the village of Rock Creek, but the new designation will take the road one half mile north of the village.

Frank Howell was re-engaged as superintendent of the Poor Farm at a salary of $100 per month. County Surveyor, O. E. John Buckley did not qualify for the office, so the board appointed Wendell Hill as successor.

The board authorized the county attorney to carry the case of J. R. Stanton vs. the Morris Construction Co. and Pine County to the Supreme court and appointed S. G. J. Roberts as assistant county attorney for the case. The case is a controversy over the construction of the bridge at Willow River. It was recently tried in the district court, the decision being in favor of the plaintiff.

Following is the scale of wages recommended by the county engineer: Maintenance, per diem per hour and 25c per foot for team. On construction, 40c per hour and 25c for team, graderman 50c per hour, foreman 75c, dynamiter 30c, timbercrafter 30c, gravel chucker 35c and tractor engineer $140 per month.

The following sums were appropriated for the maintenance of state roads in the county: No. 2, $240; No. 3, $450; No. 4, $200; No. 5, $1800; No. 6, $850; No. 7, $240; No. 8, $1740; No. 9, $1320; No. 10, $1820; No. 11, $1120; No. 12, $360; No. 13, $540; No. 14, $360.

Considerable other routine business was disposed of before the board adjourned Wednesday morning.

Neighboring Town Visited By Fire

The demon fire again rained supreme at Granston last Monday evening when it destroyed the O. M. Nelson store, the meat market and the building occupied by the Advance, besides ice house, barn and other out buildings.

Fire was first discovered about 9:45 p.m. in the O. M. Nelson store, presumably caused by an overhead stove. The fire had gained such headway when discovered that it was too late to attempt to save any of the stock owned by Mr. Nelson so efforts to save stock was confined to saving the building.

Practically all of the stock of Mr. Christensen was saved, including the contents of the Advance building. None of the heavy machinery was saved. All of the buildings were total losses.

The O. M. Nelson building was covered by $2,000 insurance, the meat market insured by the estate of Wm. Hallon $1,400, ice house $200 and barn $400. The stock and fixtures of the O. M. Nelson were insured for $1,500 by the Lake Side Garage.

Both the new owners are experienced auto mechanics. Mr. Hart comes here from Remer, Minn., he operated a garage for two or three years, and Mr. Livgard has had a number of years experience in St. Paul garages. They will carry all automobile accessories and do general repairing on all makes of cars.

Frank Stranky

Frank Stranky passed away at his home, north of Pine City, last Sunday evening about 10 o'clock. He was 47 years of age. He suffered a broken leg on February 28 when he was knocked down by a runaway team. His doctor said he would not be able to get on his feet from the injury which affected his heart and caused death.

Funeral services were conducted by the Bohemian lodge from the Piper undertaking parlors yesterday afternoon and the remains laid to rest in the Bohemian cemetery east of town.

Mr. Stranky was born at Owatonna, Minn., on February 15, 1876, where he made his home until coming to this community about 23 years ago. He was united in marriage with Marie M. Oveston about thirty years ago.

Besides his wife, thirteen children are left to mourn his loss, eight boys and five girls. Frank J., Adolph J., Joseph, Peter, Vencel, Charles, Hubert, George, Rudolph, Henry and Marie. The youngest is 8 years of age and the oldest 27. All the children are living here except Peter and Vencel who have been working in South Dakota but were here for the funeral. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved family in the sudden loss of their husband and father.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many kind friends and neighbors for their sympathy and assistance during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father. Especially do we thank the Bohemian lodge of Pine City.—Mrs. Stranky and children.

The Legion Band will give a concert between the first and second shows on Saturday evening of this week.

Mass Meeting To Discuss Taxes

So many responses have been received to the notice published two weeks ago regarding a proposed tax meeting to be held for the purpose of organizing a prominent Tax Commission for the county, that it has been decided to hold such a meeting at Hincley on Saturday March 24, at 12:30 p.m.

George Wallick is making the arrangements for the meeting and states it is no part of the plan to have an outside speaker present to use up all the time and talk things which everybody has heard before. The citizens of Pine City will be the speakers and all should come with definitely determined ideas and prepared to put them before the meeting in as few words as possible so will have time to say what they think.—Hincley News.

Buy Farmers Garage

M. D. Hart and R. G. Livgard have purchased the Farmers Garage from Joe Trenka and took possession last week. The name of the garage, which is located opposite the Richards hardware store, has been changed and will be known as the Lake Side Garage.

Both the new owners are experienced auto mechanics. Mr. Hart comes here from Remer, Minn., he operated a garage for two or three years, and Mr. Livgard has had a number of years experience in St. Paul garages. They will carry all automobile accessories and do general repairing on all makes of cars.

Arrested by Sheriff Hawley

Rosca Allen, son of Richard Allen living east of Hincley, was taken into custody by Sheriff Hawley last Monday. He was arrested on the request of Sheriff Brown of Hennepin county who wired Sheriff Hawley that he held a warrant for Allen.

A deputy sheriff came up from Minneapolis last evening and took him back to the city on the noon train today.

Sandstone Election Tame

The spring elections Tuesday were rather tame in this part of the county as there were few spirited contests. In the village there did not seem to be much interest, and only 208 votes were cast.

No one filed for the office of president, but at the meeting of the Commercial Club Monday night, M. H. Mulholland was endorsed and he won out against some 18 whose names appeared on the various ballots. Mr. Mulholland received 55, with S. H. Brock second with 40.

The remainder of the winners is as follows: A. J. Hall, Trustee; Albert Larson, Recorder; H. O. Blundell, Assessor; C. G. Conner, Justice; Lon Terwieser, Constable.

START BARGE LINE ON MISSISSIPPI

Washington—Installation of a United States barge service between Minneapolis and the gulf to carry freight at 90 per cent of the rail rates is expected to be established by the government next summer. Colonel T. Q. Ashburn, director of inland waterway transportation of the war department, said at Washington.

Four oil burning packet boats, equipped to carry 100 tons of freight, will be installed in the packet service between Minneapolis and the gulf by June 15, J. S. Brodie, president of the River Transit company.

The River Transit company's decision to build the boats followed an experiment in river transportation last year when one packet was in operation between Minneapolis and La Crosse, according to Mr. Brodie. The packets will be all steel, stern wheel, and covered. They will be equipped with all carrying propulsion engines and will burn 100 tons of freight each.

The stimulus of the enormous freight tonnage from the new Ford plant at the high dam was seen in both announcements, river experts said.

Colonel Ashburn will come to Minneapolis in about two weeks to study the prospects of obtaining tonnage from the government. River lines Washington dispatches said.

The government barges now being built by Edward P. Gollis of St. Louis, which were ordered returned to government officials two weeks ago, will be in the hands of the government in a few days. Colonel Ashburn said. They will start the line between Minneapolis and St. Louis if assurances are given that cargoes will be supplied up the river.

It looks as if the dream of revived river transportation is about to come true," said W. F. Decker, vice-president of the river development committee, Civic and Commerce association. "The Ford project is one of the chief factors entering into the situation."

St. Paul—Industrial communities of the Northwest are seriously threatened by the proposed consolidation of railroad systems, Ivan Bowen, railroad and warehouse commissioner, declared at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in St. Paul.

Mr. Bowen argued, on behalf of Minnesota officials, that the plan outlined would eliminate the Twin Cities and Duluth as main terminals and transfer their activities to Chicago, thus causing the Minnesota communities great financial loss.

According to postoffice statistics the government pays $100,000 every week to deliver an issue of the Saturday Evening Post—and $7,500,000 per year to distribute that magazine more than the owners pay to the department. All other magazines get the same average subsidy. Of course this is not socialism—but the farmer pays half the bill.

The COTTAGE GARDENER

GARDEN CLUBS ARE OF GREAT BENEFIT

The Co-Operative Organizations Should Be Formed Before Garden Season Begins.

Co-operative garden clubs are of two general types—those whose members have their gardens on a large public tract of land and those whose members are backyard gardeners. In either case, the important thing is the "get-together" spirit among the members in the cultivation of the garden, so that something is to be gained by a knowledge of what one's acquaintances are accomplishing.

The organization should be perfected before the garden season begins, and all practical details attended to.

such as arranging for the use of land or purchasing materials. A membership fee of 50 cents to $1 is frequently paid. A director, business manager, general supervisor or treasurer of the club should be elected, and in many cases it is well to have a training specialist to give instruction, at least at the start, through the United States Department of Agriculture.

Where a group of gardens is located on one piece of land, it is often necessary to provide special means for draining the clearing up of the land, plowing and fitting the soil, and later for the policing of the gardens to prevent losses from theft or stray stock. Clubs consisting of neighbors who plant gardens in their back yards must include provision for rendering a distinct service to the members. This service consists of the purchase of manure for fertilizing, plowing, supplying seeds or early plants. Draw it for instances the spraying of crops to control insects and diseases has been applied in co-operative way, handling the spray wherever needed.

POINTS ON GARDEN PLANNING

Industrious Soil Worker Should Make Plans on Paper While Ground Is Frozen.

A garden laid out according to plan usually gives twice as many returns besides saving a lot of time in figuring out where to plant what and to plant next. Take a paper and yard stick and measure out the garden. Draw it to scale on paper and figure out while the ground is still frozen just where everything is to go and what crops are to succeed others.

A surprisingly large amount of vegetables can be grown in even this small space. It is well to decide upon two main crops which may be grown at the same time or in succession. Trees are generally best for a garden. They are a striking feature and a good solution with radishes, lettuce and young onions as the first crop, the tomatoes and beans to follow. The beans taking comparatively little nourishment from the soil compared with other vegetables may be grown in rows between the tomatoes, which should be placed three feet apart each way and trained to single stems tied to stout stakes at least five feet high. When the string beans have been harvested there will be opportunity to follow with crops of turnips or carrots for fall. A dozen tomato plants can be grown in this space, leaving plenty of room for the other crops between the rows.

ASSORTMENT OF FRUITS

No home garden is complete without a reasonable assortment of both small fruits and standard fruits. Among the small fruits, strawberries, raspberries and currants are generally most important. One or two peach trees, a plum tree, two cherry trees and three or four apple trees form a good combination of standard fruits where there is room for them, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture.

SPACE BETWEEN ROWS

If it is an extensive garden, the rows should be far enough apart to permit of cultivation with horse tools. In smaller gardens, room to walk between the rows with a wheel hoe or with hand tools should be ample.

SOAKING THE SEED

Soaking several seeds in hot water for several hours before planting is an old gardener's trick. It speeds up germination.

WHAT ROSES TO CHOOSE

Inquiries are frequently received by the United States Department of Agriculture as to the most desirable tea and hybrid roses for planting. A few of the most popular varieties shown by the tests in the National Rose Test garden at Arlington, Va., are for pink blooms: Madame Butterfly, Field Christie Miller, La Touche, for white, Katherine Augusta Victoria, White Maman, White Haze, for red, Red Badine, Grass and Topaz; for yellow, Marie Van Houtte, and Mrs. A. L. Ward.

SHADE TREES THAT WILL BEAR FRUIT

Home-Owner Should Consider All Phases of the Situation When Planting.

Trees and decorative shrubbery are about the first things the new home owner gives attention when planning the exterior of his home. That is in a matter to be, or which should be, given careful attention, for trees and shrubs live a great many years and are seldom transplanted.

It is well to give thought to what trees will produce when it is decided where they are to be planted. There are many people who will not plant a tree that does not produce more than pretty leaves—they demand trees that will produce fruit or nuts—something useful—in addition to the shade.

There are numerous of the fruit tree family that produce splendid shade, and it is seldom that a fruit tree is objectionable when it is laden with its fragrant blossoms, and later, its richly colored fruit; although the rear yard, or garden space, is usually chosen, perhaps because of better opportunity for cultivation.

Nut trees make splendid shade trees and many of them are well known in a few years—and nuts are most valued by nearly every family. Mulberry trees afford a most convenient early fruit, which is equal to the raspberry or blackberry. The only objection to this fruit is that it is welcomed more by the birds, which become a nuisance; but the shade of some varieties is equal to that of the maple.

The peach tree is one of the most graceful of the fruit tree family, and will be decorative in the front yard. Its blossoms are rich and the fruit is pretty, besides being valuable.

There are numerous dwarf apple trees that would not be objectionable in the front yard.

SOME AIDS TO THE PLOWMAN

Fence Made in Sections Can Be Easily Removed and Prevent Unemployed Sections.

When you engage a plowman to plow the garden in the spring of the year he generally has to dig or carry his plow into the garden by hand, then lead the horse or cow through a narrow gate. When he starts to plow the fence is in the way of turning and it is impossible to plow within several feet of the fence at the ends of the garden.

One of the easiest ways for the plowman to get into the garden is to have the plowman's job of plowing by having the part of the garden fence near the end made in sections that may be lifted from the posts and set to one side while the plowing is being done. This permits the team being driven into the garden easily, also makes it possible to plow all the way to the fence line. After the plowing is done the fence can be put back in its original position. It is in the way of plowing or cultivation.

THE MEASURING STICK

The well regulated garden is laid out according to rule, and a measuring or yardstick is in constant demand. In order to save the time of hunting up the tape or stick, and to have a measure at work in the garden, it is an excellent plan to work off the pole and make handle into yard, foot, and six-inch lengths.

EARLY GLADIOLUS

For the earliest gladiolus planting use the primula type. Planted in mid-April they will give bloom by July and can then be followed by the more robust types.

THE "LAST" FROST

The last killing frost in any community comes about the same time every year, and inexperienced gardeners can ascertain the probable frost-free period by consulting the nearest station of the weather bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Red Tape at its Highest. Circumlocution in the civil service is not always the result of the system. A few weeks ago an official in one department made an inquiry about a certain case to a subordinate official in another section who allowed the matter to slide.

Get Some Telling Points. A traveling man got a letter from his firm using a good deal of crisp language about expense accounts. It was passed around in the smoke and condemned roundly. After some bitter comment he slipped it into his inside pocket.

"That who do you keep that stuff?" asked a friend. "I'd tear it into a thousand bits and scatter it along the right of way."

"Well, they made some good points," he explained. "And I've gotta write to my wife tonight."

"His" spending too much coin."

HEALTH FOR WORKING WOMEN

Thousands of girls have to work in broom offices, stores, mills or factories who are physically unfit for work, with often an aged or invalid father or mother dependent upon them for support. Standing all day week in and week out or sitting in cramped positions a girl often contracts some deranged condition of her organic system which calls a halt to her progress and demands restoration to health before she can be of use to herself or anyone else.

For these distressing weaknesses and ailments these girls have found health to do their work in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Brooklyn, N.Y.—"I'm a young girl. I had troubles every month," says Carolyn Mangels, "and they interfered with my work as I could never be sure of my time. My mother often suggested that I take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I never got it until lately. I have had very good results, and am now a private secretary and do my work without missing a day. I recommend your medicine to every girl who speaks of having troubles like I have."

Wobster, Mass.—"I was all run-down, had a bad complexion, and suffered with pains and backache, and was dizzy at times and felt weak. I worked in a mill and my girl chum told me about your wonderful medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. HOW TURTLES FIND THE SEA

Explanation, According to Harvard Scientist, is Their Tendency to "Travel Down Hill."

Why loggerhead turtles really find their way to the sea soon after hatching, has been discovered by George H. Parker of the zoological department of Harvard university. These reptiles are hatched inland, and soon after they crawl out of their nests, he explains. Then with a few exceptions they immediately start their journey to the exact direction of the sea. The most important reason for the behavior of the turtle is their tendency to go down hill. Mr. Parker believes they also show an inclination to move toward regions in which the horizon is clear and unobstructed by large masses of land. And also green seem to attract them more than other colors. Their actions should be regarded more complex than is simple response in light, for the retina of their eyes is sensitive to the details, such as blue color, rather than to the hue as a whole.

No Trouble. "Poverty is no disgrace," "Yes, and what's more you don't have to pay any income tax on it."

A girl doesn't really enjoy reading a poem to a man unless he is leading her home.
