

DEATH CLAIMS NOTED ACTRESS

Divine Sarah Breathes Last in Arms of Son Maurice in Paris Home.

Paris—Sarah Bernhardt died peacefully in the arms of her son, Maurice. In life she had had an amazing power of emotion, of marvellous realism and pathos in her acting of death scenes. At the end of her days she quietly drifted away into eternity, tired after her long fight against death, which she did not wish, but never feared. She was 77 years old.

Hope for the life of the great actress had long since been abandoned, and half an hour before she passed away, those in attendance found her sinking beyond recovery, though, knowing her recuperative powers, it was thought she might live throughout the night.

Death was due to a renewed attack of arsenic poisoning, but the actress astounded her physicians by her repeated rallies and her will to live, just as she did last December when she had several times been abandoned.

WORK AT FORD SITE BEGUN

Fleet of Trucks Will Make First Deliveries of Material for Plant

St. Paul—Milwaukee railroad engineers will begin grading the right of way for a new transcontinental line link to connect with the Ford plant at the high dam, according to information received by the Twin City conference committee, composed of special committees of the Minneapolis Civic and Commerce association and the St. Paul association.

The Milwaukee railroad construction work will begin on stretches which already have been purchased. Some of the right of way still is to be obtained in negotiations now in progress. The railroad will have the line constructed and in operation to the plant late in the summer, but this will not interfere with progress on the Ford plant, beginning late in April, committee members said.

First deliveries of material for the building of the plant will be made by automobile trucks. A fleet of these trucks will be assembled as soon as the power commission grants the license.

The appended notice appeared recently in the Press, (Minneapolis) "To the unfortunate individual who runs away with my wife last week I wish to extend my sincere appreciation and sympathy. If he will please his address I will send what few clothes she overlooked. Do not and bring on to her. I am satisfied."—Dud Barnes."

Workman Breaks Wrists

Clarence Cook received serious injury yesterday afternoon while working on the construction of the new county garage. He was on a scaffold, when he evidently slipped or made a miscalculation and fell to the ground, a distance of about 15 feet. Both wrists were broken and the left cheek bone was broken. The injured man was rushed to Dr. Wisniam's office. The doctor was out of town on a call so Dr. Gray of Rush City was sent for. He was treated by the doctor and taken to Duluth on the night train. F. C. Barrett of Duluth is the contractor who is constructing the new building for the county. The new building is all steel and is rapidly nearing completion. The four walls are up and the roof is nearly all on.

The Prisoner of Zenda

"The healthy romantic costume play is steadily on the increase," said Robert Edson, the celebrated American actor, recently. "We are all a bit fed up on love among the oak-leaf dears. Perhaps it is our second reaction from the war, the first Quatermaster drama is cast away spluttering regalia of any kind." "The Prisoner of Zenda," Rex Ingram's $1,000,000 production for Metro of Anthony Hope's famous novel, is the latest costume play, and will be shown at the Metropolitan theatre Sunday and Monday April 1st and 2nd. Its setting is that of the mythical and dimmutive Kingdom of Ruritania, and all the trappings of the court are introduced. Mr. Edson plays the role of Colonel Sapt in this new Metro triumph.

Mary O'Hara wrote the screen version of the story, which Edward Rose has dramatized. John S. Sattler did the photography.

Plan New County Fair Buildings Local Men Buy P. C. Hardware

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Pine County Fair held at Pine City last Saturday afternoon, plans were laid for the construction of two new buildings on the fair grounds this year. The buildings to be erected are a cattle barn and a large exhibition building to take the place of the one that was destroyed by fire. A stock selling campaign will be put on as soon as the roads open this spring, and the money derived from the sale of stock will be used toward the cost of constructing the new buildings. The directors also discussed tentative plans for a big Fourth of July celebration to be held at the fair grounds, the money raised to be added to the building fund. This year's fair will be held on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 10, 11, and 12. This is the work following the state fair. Five big free acts have already been contracted for for the program and will give Pine County fair patrons the biggest grandstand show that has ever been shown in this part of the state. It is the desire of the board to make this year's fair a real agricultural show and to give it absolutely necessary to have more buildings to adequately house the exhibits, especially the stock. Plans are already being made for the fair club exhibits and for the boys and girls department and it is hoped to have a large display of large departments of the fair this year.

The following lists for the Gibbs relief fund were turned in last week but do lack of space, were unable to run them until last week.

Explosion Fatal To Young Man

Herman Langerman of Rush City received a fatal injury last week when gasoline exploded. The unfortunate young man, is the 21 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Langerman who live near Rush City. He was working on a gasoline engine at the farm home on Wednesday last week. The gas line would not feed from the tank to the engine, so he disconnected the tube and blew through it. The gas was taken out of the tank before he tried to clear the tube. He could find no obstruction to cause the trouble. He then lit a match and held it either in or near the tank and put the tube in his mouth. There were evidently some flames at the time of the explosion, the explosion passing through the tube and into his mouth. The inside of his mouth, throat and lungs were severely burned. Dr. Gray was called and it was thought at first he had a chance to survive. He lived just 17 hours after the accident.

Playing followed until midnight when supper was served. Those comprising the teams from Pine City were: R. E. Carlson and A. W. Gunn, Otto Sobotta and Judge Wilcox, and P. Edlin and Fred Degeerstrom of Askov, and George Stanke and W. S. Kitchner. The Rush City players were Dr. Tray and Carl Egan, Henry S. and W. J. Moses, E. A. Becke and Chas. HARDING ORDERS SUGAR INQUIRY

Telegram Enlists Second Agency in Investigation of Rapid Rise of Sugar Price

St. Augustine, Fla.—Investigation into the relation of the tariff rates on sugar to the present increased sugar prices was ordered by President Harding in a telegram. The inquiry was requested by the President in the following telegram addressed to Thomas O. Martin, chairman of the Tariff commission: "Have Tariff commission make an immediate inquiry into the relation of the sugar tariff to the current prices of that commodity. It is difficult to believe that the duty on sugar can have any part in making the abnormal prices which prevail, but if the commission finds there is any ground for believing the duty to be even partially responsible, I shall be ready to proclaim a reduction in duty as provided by law."

SOLDIER SLEEPS FOR 4 YEARS

Lieutenant Who Suffered Compound Fracture of Skull in Fall From Horse Berlin Defers

San Francisco, Calif.—Unsuspecting incident, Lieut. Henry H. Dyson suddenly sat up in his bed at the Letterman General hospital, the President here, and is busy recovering from the four and a half years of his mental sleep. The case is considered by leading medical authorities to be the most unusual that has ever come to their attention. Lieutenant Dyson, just before the armistice, was stationed at Schofield barracks, Hawaii. He fell from his horse, suffering a compound fracture of the skull, during army maneuvers. Without any apparent cause he suddenly sat up in bed, demanding a hearty meal and proceeded to question nurses concerning the progress of the war. He was amazed when told of his four year sleep. Physicians believe he has an excellent chance to permanently recover.

WEEKLY RESUME OF THE MINNESOTA LEGISLATURE

EIGHT MILLIONS ASKED

Largest Appropriation Bill of Present Legislative Session Introduced in Senate. St. Paul—The first large appropriation bill of the present session of the state legislature has made its appearance. It was introduced by the state finance committee and provides for $8,000,000 for state institutions under the board of control.

PROPOSED LEGISLATION.

The new public domain bill has been drawn by the special house economy committee. It creates three commissioners at $4,000 a year each, leading departments which are grouped a number of activities.

Representative Mackinnon of Hennepin county is author of a bill making the giving or selling of liquor that causes death murder in the third degree, regardless of whether the giver or sold with intent to do harm, and regardless of whether the giver or other than the liquor to be poisoned.

A record for the Minnesota Legislature for the number of bills introduced in any one day was set when the House of Representatives received 114 measures—the available marking of the end of the bill filing period.

Representative Darby, chairman of the house temperance committee, will put out a bill making drastic amendments to the state prohibition laws. The bill will have the approval of the committee.

Indefinite postponement was the verdict of the local committee on the bill by several houses on the revenue, retaining the scheme of tax valuation. The bill is tracked by C. J. Nelson representing the bill in the House.

Senator Nordlin of Ramsey county has introduced a drastic bill to curb the drug evil in Minnesota. If passed, would bring about the arrest of drug addicts and their forcible removal from the state.

The house rules committee has recommended, and the house has passed the resolution of the House of Representatives for an official investigation by a special committee into charges of fraud against the state.

ASK REGENTS CHANGE

Measure Provides for One Member From Each Congressional District. St. Paul—The House of Representatives by a vote of 90 to 21 passed a bill to abolish the present board of regents of the university and provide for the appointment of an equal number from each congressional district.

The House passed the Senate bill, already passed by the Senate, calling for representation on the board by congressional districts, after amending it to make it effective immediately. The House amendment requires that the terms of the present board be extended until May 1 and that before April 15 the governor appoint the new board.

The bill in its amended form must first be taken to the Senate for further action. It is expected that it will be taken to the Senate for further action in the changes the matter will have to be threshed out in conference.

The original Waldal bill terminated the term of four members of the board. The bill now before the Senate provides for the election of four members of the board by the people.

BANK DEPOSIT BILL BURIED

Senate Action Kills Issue for Current Session—Debate Brief. St. Paul—By a vote of 19 to 45 the Senate today adopted a resolution to indefinitely postpone the measure.

The debate was brief because the fate of the bill already had been determined in the House. The vote of the Senate kills the issue for the current session.

LEGISLATIVE SIDELIGHTS.

J. E. Stevens, representative, Minneapolis, introduced a bill providing that political party committees have the right to recommend the election of judges.

Alleged practices of coal dealers in selling watered coke are hit in a bill introduced by Representative Redeker. It requires that coal dealers remove all foreign substances in coke shipments.

Senator Nordlin of Ramsey county has introduced a drastic bill to curb the drug evil in Minnesota. If passed, would bring about the arrest of drug addicts and their forcible removal from the state.

Pertinent Pointers for Practical Farmers

LATE RUNNER PLANTS SHOULD BE DESTROYED

Franc P. Daniels Gives Useful Hints to Strawberry Growers. The amateur strawberry grower should know that runner plants which form late in the season are of little value—that in fact, those which are formed very late in the year are "worse than weeds," to use the words of Frank P. Daniels, a teacher in the Minnesota School of Agriculture.

Franc P. Daniels, a teacher in the Minnesota School of Agriculture, University Farm and a fruit grower of large experience and success. "Such runners are worse than weeds," says Mr. Daniels, "because they will produce no fruit the following year."

Mrs. Gross Praises Tanlac for Overcoming Stomach Trouble of Long Standing—Says Results Are Priceless.

"Before I took Tanlac I only weighed ninety-four pounds and scarcely had strength to sweep the floor or make the beds; but now I weigh one hundred and thirty-two and am as healthy and happy as can be. This remarkable statement was made recently by Mrs. Mabel Gross, 1137 Alchick St., N. Minneapolis, Minn.

"For nearly two years I had been in a seriously weakened condition and suffered nearly all the time from headache and backache. My nerves were beyond my control and I was terribly drowsy. I could not sleep and my stomach was so out of order that even the sight of food nauseated me.

"The bundles I have received from the Tanlac company, I am now a perfectly well woman and my friends often speak of how healthy I look. I certainly have a great deal to praise Tanlac for. Health is worth every thing, and that is why Tanlac has meant so much to me.

Theatre Notes

Saturday—
Franklyn Farm in "The White Mask." The most unusual photo play in years. A tense narrative faultlessly produced and enacted by a star cast which includes Virginia Lee, "Shorty Hamilton and Al Hart. Also a comedy "Nobodies Wife." Movie Chats.

Sunday & Monday—
A Rex Ingram production "The Prisoner of Zenda." They planned the King's Death, a day before the coronation ceremonies. They induced him to leave the palace; they drugged his wine with a powerful poison. Their chagrin was great when they discovered the coronation celebrations went on as scheduled, and the King was placed at the head of his people. The fascinating mystery is explained in Rex Ingram's production at the Family Theatre. Also Fox News. Saxophone solo by Harry Petchel.

Tuesday—
May Allison in "The Cheat." A comedy and Ruth Rolland in "The Timber Queen."

Thursday & Friday—
Gloria Swanson in "The Great Moment." The Great Moment should give excellent satisfaction particularly to high class patronage. The gorgeous gowns worn by Miss Swanson should set every woman's heart to fluttering. The entire picture in fact has been produced in artistry. There are no sex situations in it. Also a comedy "When Knights were Cold." Harrison's Reports. Orchestra for first show.

Five Million Dollars More for Taxes Than Dividends

INDUSTRY to live and be successful must earn sufficient money to compensate the interest in the enterprise.

First, the stockholder who has invested his savings in the business; second, the employee who has invested his time and talents; third, the people who have given property protection and the right to do business.

Ten years ago the Standard Oil Company, Inc. was dissolved under an order of the United States Supreme Court, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) became an independent organization, controlled by a Board of Directors elected by the stockholders.

In the ten years of its existence, as an independent organization, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid in wages the sum of 35 million dollars to the employees who have invested their time and talents in the service of the Company.

To the Federal, State, County and Municipal Governments, who have furnished property and police protection, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has paid in the form of taxes, approximately 79 million dollars in cash, while the stockholders whose thrift and enterprise have made the business possible have been paid cash dividends of 74 million dollars.

In a word the Company has paid, during the past ten years over 5 million dollars more in taxes than the stockholders have received as dividends.

These payments have been possible only because the management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has conducted its business in a highly efficient and satisfactory manner, and has won public support through the sheer merit of the service the Company has rendered, and the superior quality of the goods it has made and sold.

In addition to these cash payments the Company has succeeded in accumulating an invested surplus which has enabled it to largely expand its activities and intensify the service it renders the public by meeting the insistent demands for petroleum products which have become indispensable to our social and economic welfare.

The Joy of Living

THE AWFUL MESS OF AIMEE AND BILLY

Alexander's eyes became lecher. He looked a little contemptuous. "Are you afraid?" he said. "Do you not see that you must face the consequences of this foolish thing you have done? Once the truth is told, you have nothing to fear from the police."

"You that I have seen, and heard your story, he said, "I attach no importance to that incident, whatever. "Oh," said Aimee, "but other people will see you."

"Billy," said Aimee, "this is my Cousin Alexander. And he's— he knows all about it. It seems this is my finish, Billy."

"Oh, rats!" said Aimee furiously, and fled from the room.

CHAPTER II

In the deepest depression, Aimee wandered down the park avenue towards the high road. She passed through the hedge gates and turned the corner of the road.

"There Alex halted, and considered the perversity of Fate. And close beside her backed a sharp explosion, and with a flash of yellow flame and a swirl of pungent smoke, and a clear voice exclaimed: "It is I!"

"I wish there were more like you," he said, laughing. "Tell 'em—who ever they are—to join the sentiment. I'll be glad to go with you."

Very slowly, Aimee made her way back to the porch of her house, where the heavy family car, laden with luggage, stood waiting. George was on the steps, abundantly wrapped up, and Lord Scrooge stood beside her.

"Grundle," he said to the chauffeur. "You will drop Mrs. Harvey at the station and take Miss Aimee on to Jervaulk, returning here direct."

"What on earth," she murmured, "is this head looked as if have you the bump, too? Let's be miserable to gether."

"I've never met your uncle Joseph," said Aimee, "but I'm certain he's nothing to my Aunt Erythea and Jervaulk."

"I've seen him. He made me get as it was in his house. A long visit, a charming old place—Jervaulk, they say. It is even more splendid than I remember—erecting orderly, romantic, general."

"I'm sorry," interrupted Aimee, "that you are a splendid manager. And your cousin—a nice, sensible young man. I've seen his photograph. It is—"

either. As for me, I shall go to Sea-bridge on a walking tour—or anything I choose!" "Aimee, are you mad?" "It's not one of the saddest moments of my life," retorted Aimee, and leaning over the back, she tore the tag labels off her luggage and Georgina's, and scattered them on the road. "You can take my things with you."

"If you think for a moment I'd have any one do with such a business—" A friendly expression came over Aimee's features. She gripped her cousin's arms again.

"You don't," she hesitated. "I'll tell everybody about you and Aloysius Blemmerback getting lost at the ridiculous picnic!"

"I wish there were more like you," he said, laughing. "Tell 'em—who ever they are—to join the sentiment. I'll be glad to go with you."
