

REMEMBROS VOTE CAST FOR JOHNSON SENATORIAL RACE

JOHNSON'S LEAD GROWS STEADILY

Farmer-Laborer's Plurality Expected to Exceed 80,000 in Full Returns

Minnesota—Magnus Johnson of Kimball, Farmer-Laborer, will take the place in the United States Senate left vacant by the death of Knute Nelson.

Magnus Johnson was elected junior United States senator by a plurality that will exceed 80,000, carried 74 of the 87 counties of the state over Governor Preis, the returns indicate.

The Farmer-Labor sweep was felt in every Congressional district of the state, although Governor Preis succeeded in carrying a majority of the First district counties. He came out of the fight with only two Congressional districts on his side, the First and Fifth. The Second, ordinarily a conservative Republican district, went to Johnson by a good vote and in all the rest he had substantial margins.

The total vote, it is expected, will show that 500,000 voted in the special election.

The only county that gave Governor Preis pluralities were Dodge, Fergus, Redwood, Houston, Olmsted and Steele in the First Congressional district, Cottonwood and Parkland in the Second, Rice in the Third, Hennepin, comprising the Fifth and part of the Tenth, Wadena in the Sixth, Cook in the Eighth and Anoka in the Tenth.

Such strong Republican counties as Murray and Rock went to Johnson, and he will get a large total plurality out of this territory. Washington and Goodhue were examples of Republican standbys in the Third district that became Johnson counties. The first count in Ramsey county, the Fourth Congressional district, shows Johnson winner by 140.

The Fifth district, which embraces Minneapolis with the exception of the Third, Fourth and Tenth wards, went to Preis by several thousand, yet this plurality was considerably under expectations.

North of the Twin Cities and west Johnson had everything his way. He took every county in the Seventh and Ninth districts and Preis got one county each in the Sixth, Eighth and Tenth.

Carries Pine Co. By 1,767 Votes

Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor candidate, was elected Minnesota junior United States Senator last Monday by a landslide vote that swept Minnesota like a flood. Mr. Johnson's plurality will probably be just over 800,000 less votes cast Monday than was cast in the last election.

In 2,915 precincts out of 3,521 in the state the vote is Johnson 359,632; Preis 184,908; Carley 17,081. Johnson's plurality will probably reach 85,000.

Minnesota's new senator, Magnus Johnson, is a resident of Kimball. He was born in Sweden and came to America when about 21 years old. With his savings he purchased a farm near Kimball which he still operates. He has served two terms in the state House of Representatives and two terms in the state Senate as a representative of Meeker county. He was a candidate for Governor on the Farmer-Labor ticket in 1916, but was defeated by Governor Preis, losing the election by only 14,000 votes. During the short election campaign Mr. Johnson spoke in practically every county in the state.

After the first few returns began to come in, it was apparent that Mr. Johnson had been elected, he made the following statement: "I appreciate the confidence that the people have shown in me and I shall try to be worthy of it." Mr. Johnson said, "I am now going back to the farm to look after my hay and do some other work that has been neglected in the campaign."

When he shall try to get in touch with the farmers, the working people and the business men throughout the state and study their problems with them so that when I go to Washington, I will be able to represent their best interests."

Pine county was one of the strong Johnson strongholds and gave Mr. Johnson 2,978; Preis 912; and Carley 280. Following is the official returns of Pine county:

"IRISH FREE STATE DOOMED"

Republican Leader in Dublin Secretly Reorganizing Sinn Feiners. Paris—Breaking a silence of many months, Eamon De Valera, erstwhile president of the Irish republic, prefaced a statement smuggled here by airplane that the Irish Free State is doomed and that Ireland will soon be striving again untidely for independence.

The famous Irish rebel leader sent a signed statement saying that despite efforts of the Free State troops to capture him he is in Dublin, gathering the scattered republican elements of Sinn Fein into a new organization.

De Valera indicates his new policy is based on political lines rather than military, for the present.

MRS. HARDING TAKEN ILL

First Lady Finds Activities of Long Days Too Exciting

Fairbanks, Alaska—Mrs. Harding has been worn out by accepting hospitalities extended by Alaskans that she has been compelled to take to bed. President Harding informed an audience here just before he and his party left for Seward.

The President, who spoke to a crowd at the baseball park, explained that Mrs. Harding, who suffered from a catarrh ailment, had found the activity of the long days in Alaska very exacting, her hours of rest having been very short since arrival in the northern territory.

War Injured Turkey Seen. Minneapolis—More than 20,000 cases instituted against the government by ex-service men may be affected by the victory of Dewitt Law, a disabled veteran of the world war, who was classed as "permanently disabled" by Judge John Hoffman in United States district court. Mr. Law lost his left arm and was shot through the thigh. He argued that he should be placed in the "permanent total disability" class, and that he should receive $3,000 back payments as well as compensation in the future.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 17—Funeral services for Samuel W. Rose, aged 72, of Ontario, N. Y., whose only brother, Malcolm Rose, formerly of Pine City, and who died early Saturday following brief illness at the home of his daughter, Mrs. R. O. Marshall here, were held Monday afternoon, July 16, at 3 o'clock here in the Banforth Congregational church, South Salina Street, and interment was here in Morningstar Cemetery. The late Mr. Rose is also survived by another daughter, Mrs. B. L. Neubauser of Buffalo.

Henriette Hotel Destroyed by Fire

The two story brick hotel at Henriette was completely destroyed by fire early this morning. Only the walls remain standing and they are badly warped. The interior of the building was completely gutted out and the roof and floors destroyed.

The local fire department received a call from Henriette about 5:15 this morning and 6 members headed by Chief Collins responded with the fire truck, making a fast run to the scene of the fire. The interior was a mass of flames and they were unable to do anything to save the burning building. They did keep the flames from spreading to the buildings on each side of the hotel and kept the fire confined to the hotel.

The report of the fire did not state the cause. The hotel building is owned by Gus Neelan and has been vacant this summer. The building was a small store in the front downstairs. We understand the building was undergoing some repairs and was to be occupied in the near future.

District Court in Session

Justice Searies is holding a special term of court this week, calling court Tuesday noon and it is still in session today.

The first case heard was that of Alice Wooster vs. Frank Wooster for divorce. The case was tried and the attorneys are to submit briefs before the court hands down a decision.

Ella Ranquist was granted a divorce from her husband, John Rankin, neither the defendant or his attorney put in an appearance when the case came up for hearing.

The Milwaukee Railway Company was denied a new trial in the case of Paul Perkins vs. the railway after some time when the jury awarded Mr. Perkins $10,000 for damages done his son when it was struck by a train.

A guardianship case is being heard by the court today.

The Old Nest

Reginald Barker, director of "The Old Nest," the Rupert Hughes story made at the Golden Studios, which will be shown at the Family Theatre for 2 days, beginning Sunday July 22, has a peculiar method of establishing his players' moods. It depends solely upon his voice. One of the striking differences between Mr. Barker and the average director is his reputation of the megaphone.

An essential tool of photoplay production.

Mr. Barker's well modulated voice can send directions to the largest "movie" mob or halt a tired screen child to sleep. In his voice, tears, laughter, anger—in fact all the emotions that the actor is to portray—are suggested to the player in the tone of the director's instructions. By merely speaking to Mary Alden, who plays the mother in "The Old Nest," he brought tears to her eyes.

MEXICAN MAYOR HIDES SELF

State of Siege in Force Following Political Quarrel in City. Mexico, Lower Gulf.—Mayor Juan Lora, of Mexical, and 14 adherents, all heavily armed, were barricaded in the city hall, in what was described as a political quarrel, three were killed and 20 wounded, including a mayor and two councilmen, according to surveys made by the police.

The barred men were reported to have declared they never would surrender. Among them were three wounded, including Alternate Councilman Quirino Lora, who was expected to die.

Troops of Governor Jose Innocente Lugo of the Northern district of Lower California, which surrounded the city hall after the shooting, were replaced by municipal police in the hope the change would induce the mayor's party to surrender.

17 BILLION MARKS AN HOUR

41 Plants in Action Day and Night to Forge Fresh Money. Berlin—Forty-one German printing plants, working day and night, dispensed 17,583,745 marks worth of fresh paper money every hour during the first week in July, according to figures available. The total paper currency circulation on July 7 was 20,241,782,966 marks, an increase of 2,590,721,616,000 over June 30. The increase in marks in circulation increased in the same period from 1,900,000,000 to 20,200,000,000.

Hundreds of Germans 'Bedless'. Berlin—Hundreds of Germans are literally "bedless," because they are no longer able to buy beds, according to the Berliner Tageblatt. Investigation in some of the poorer sections of Berlin disclosed the fact that entire families were without beds and others had only one bed. A brass bedstead equipped with four and a half million marks, the simplest wooden bedstead, three quarters of a million, the most primitive mattress, a half million and a sheet 100,000, the plainest quilt, 200 to 500 thousand.

Buy Lakeside Garage

Franc Sward and Oscar L. Olson of Brisham have purchased the Lakeside Garage, opposite the Richards Hardware Store, which was formerly owned by Hart & Lygard, and took possession of the building on Sunday. He has spent the past three years in Minneapolis where he has been engaged in automobile repairing and his partner, MA Olson, is also an experienced auto repair man. In addition to automobile repairing they are also experienced in welding and are equipped to that kind of work.

Mr. Hart has left for Reimer, Minn., and Mr. Lygard will remain here for a short time.

Peteshel's Garage located at Pine City, Minn., has secured the agency for the high grade OXIDITE Storage Battery for automobiles, which enables them to sell batteries delivered installed and with service at even better than mail order house prices. It is the first high grade—full sized—guaranteed battery ever sold at a low price and it will pay you to call on them when in need of a battery.

County to Issue More Road Bonds

At a special meeting of the board yesterday the $100,000 bond issue approved at the last meeting for work on Route No. 23 was increased $40,000 more and a total bond issue of $140,000 will be made.

It is estimated by the highway department that it will take about half of this amount for Route 23 and the balance will be put in permanent improvement of Federal Route No. 1. This will give $70,000 for work on each road. The department may possibly have some of the Federal road where it is needed the most.

A special meeting of the board was held Tuesday for the awarding of bridge contracts and bids for the work were opened. There were ten bidders for the various bridges.

G. F. Harold of Bellevue received a contract for the construction of two bridges at a cost of $25,250. The Bellevue Bridge Co. was awarded the contract for two bridges at $10,974.71 and the other at $4,975.29.

Pearson & Co. of Sandstone was given four bridge jobs at a total of $10,405.

The Milaca Bridge Co. gets two jobs at $8,822.

The location of the above bridges will be given in next week's issue.

School Election Saturday

The annual election for members of the Board of Education in Pine City will be held at the schoolhouse on Saturday evening of this week between 7 and 8 o'clock.

The term of Jos. Peteschel and S. G. L. Roberts expires this year. Mr. Peteschel has stated that he will not accept the office for another term and Judge Wilcox has been urged by friends to be a candidate.

Mr. Peteschel is not overly anxious for the office, but if he could be prevailed upon to accept, he would make an excellent member of the board.

Meet at Robinson Home

The Pine City Farm Bureau Unit will meet at the home of G. A. Robinson at seven next Sunday afternoon. A cordial invitation is extended to all to take a picnic lunch and attend.

Going to Brook Park

The Pine City Legion band will give a concert at Brook Park tomorrow—Friday evening. Local folks are urged to take their automobiles and accompany the band to our neighboring village.

J. S. WINS "OPEN DOOR" CONTEST

Turkey's Insistence Forces Allies to Bow on Concession Fight to the United States. LASAGNE—The Turkish peace treaty will be signed July 24 or 25, according to present expectations. Allied and Turkish delegates here will be the signatories of the main treaty and the other documents, including the agreement for control of the Turkish straits.

The Russian soviet government has been invited by telegram to take part in the signing of the straits convention.

The agreement reached on the disputed questions of concessions and the evacuation of Turkish soil by foreign troops will be adopted at a preliminary session of the conference, it is expected.

The accord reports a victory for the United States where Joseph C. Grew, minister to Switzerland, was successful in his insistence that the policy of the open door and equal opportunity in the near east be adopted. Had it not been for his tenacity the tentative agreement, unfavorable to United States interests, would have been included in the treaty.

Through numerous conferences with Ismet Pasha, head of the Turkish delegation, Grew won him over against the plea of the British and French plenipotentiaries.

SHELBY FIGHT FILM SEIZED

Five Reels Taken—Agents Practice Several Arrests. Los Angeles—Department of Justice agents visited the Horsley studio and confiscated the motion picture film of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight at Shelby, Mont., July 4. No arrests were made but the officers said several were in prospect.

The agents said they seized five reels which, they declared, had been brought here in violation of the federal law making it a felony to transport interstate commerce pictures of prize fights.

Officials of the studio denied any attempt to violate the law. Jay Kroesman, who made the pictures, was at the home of Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight champion, and said: "We surrendered the picture voluntarily. We are confident they will be returned. We did not plan to show them here. They are not yet developed. We are going to exhibit them in Montana only."

U. S. SEIZE $300,000 LIQUOR

Raid Four Places at Fashionable Resort on Jersey Shore. Lakewood, N. J.—Liquors valued at $300,000 were seized in raids here by 40 federal prohibition agents and county officials.

Lakewood is a fashionable resort, popular with the wealthy. At the Hotel Marion, Point Pleasant, the agents seized 50 cases of liquor and at an automobile agency at the point 39 quarts of whisky, were taken.

Dear Neighbor Bill:
Last week when I paid my rent I got I was buying the flat I live in. That money would have paid the taxes on my old farm for a year. My next flat neighbor's name may be Johnson, I don't know for sure, but I don't get acquainted here in the city. Many of the kids don't like living upstairs and want to go back to the farm again where they can breathe.

I haven't been working very steadily because those what they call union strikes so much, don't tell the Carbons but you can't make any money here and let me tell you, I've been here for some time.

How much would you take for her now? Take good care of my dog Bill, for I may want him again. Must get to bed now as we have to get up at five o'clock and ride an hour to my work.

Write me about your crops.
Your old neighbor,
I. M. Sore.

Montevideo—Thieves forced an entrance into the R. A. Brown repair store here and made good for the value with more than $125 in money.
Wabasa—A big passenger bus plying between Marshall and the twin cities was badly damaged in a collision with a touring car on a bridge near Bellevue.
Owatona—The Owatona county commissioners at the semi-annual meeting here paid $200,000 road bond issue at 87 1/2 percent.

Chaska—Eight thousand persons attended the dedication of St. John's Lutheran church here. The edifice cost $40,000, and in addition $10,000 was contributed by parishioners.
Lerone—The 10th anniversary of the organization of the Blue Mount Norwegian Lutheran society was celebrated at the church. It is the Norwegian church organization in Stock county.
St. James—As a result of becoming overworked while working in a hay field, O. E. Larson, a farmhand who had been working on a farm about 1 1/2 miles from here, died.

Belle Plaine—Governor Press had a narrow escape in an automobile collision on a road here. The automobile was damaged and a woman in the other machine was injured, though not seriously.
Lerone—The Rev. W. W. Fowler, pioneer missionary of Minnesota and the Dakota and rector of the Episcopal church here for a number of years, died at his home after a prolonged illness. He was 85 years old.

Chaska—The special election called for the voting upon the question of $100,000 bond issue will be completed here July 25. The voters are to be used in retarding the outstanding indebtedness of the municipality.
Red Lake Falls—Red Lake county is asking $100,000 from the Minnesota rural credit bureau. Twelve applications have been sent from this county on a total of $46 acre, or an average of 237 acres to the application.

Chaska—A moving machine cut both legs of the 2 year old son of E. Nuukh, a farmer living five miles east of this city. One leg was cut off half way to the knee. His other leg was cut through the ankle joint. According to physicians, the leg will live.
Madison—That several hundred acres of fine grain were destroyed by the hailstorm west of the city of Madison, is indicated by reports that are being received at local insurance agencies. In most cases the crops are estimated at from 30 to 50 percent.

Wabasa—The Disabled War Veterans post here has been given $250 for the Four Minute Men, an organization which served during the World War. The money is left over from the money raised after the war to take care of returned soldiers.
St. Paul—Bids were opened by Carter company on $250,000 of reimbursable bonds to finance construction of a road from Chaska to Excelsior, from Chaska to Excelsior. The construction of these roads is part of a program to improve state trunk highways. At Excelsior, the road will connect with state trunk highway No. 12.

Willmar—The national committee of Yeomen will make its second visit to Green Lake, in this county, to consider it as a site for one of its $20,000,000 home of this fraternity. It was announced. The plans call for 100 cottages with an attached garage and building and its large system of equipment. The initial expenditures will be $12,000,000, with $3,000,000 to be expended later for improvements.
Wabasa—in a special majority election here, William C. Johnson, president of the city council, defeated Dr. F. A. Swartzwood, incumbent, 70 to 44 votes. Dr. Swartzwood was defeated by 23 votes at the election called by George Goodspeed, but brought action charging violation of the corrupt practices act. George Goodspeed, and in district court Judge W. D. Dean held that the act had been violated, thus voiding the election.

Minneapolis—The Dakota league, with its four-year-old organization, held a meeting in Minneapolis to discuss the situation here and the financial difficulties of the state. The president of the league here, C. W. Johnson, said that the league had lost its charter because it failed to meet the state for the first time in the season or better. With that assurance from the state, all that is left of the league at this early stage was the state.
St. Cloud—About 100 employees of the Great Northern railroad at the Wilder Park carshops here were laid off. The reduction in the force was necessitated, officials said, by too large a force for the amount of work.

Willmar—Final action on the organization question was taken when the board of county commissioners refused to override the vote of the people of the county asking for the abolition of county agent work in Redwood county. The county voted strongly against the proposition in the March election.
Brainerd—The experimental station at the office of Crow Wing county commissioners here has a fine crop of corn. There are 25 acres of corn, which is reported by the Crow Wing county farm in connection with the experimental station.

Wabasa—The Miller school teacher here had a narrow escape from a runaway horse while riding in a buggy. The horse, which was driven by the driver, started to bolt when he saw a dog. The driver managed to stop the horse just in time to avoid a collision with a building.
St. Paul—A fire broke out in a building here last night, and the fire department was called. The fire was extinguished and no one was injured.

SUNFLOWERS WINNING WAY AS SILAGE CROP
At the Northeast Experiment Station They Now Head Silage List.
Sunflowers have become the chief silage crop at the Northeast Agricultural Experiment station near Duluth, according to a report made by M. J. Thompson, superintendent of the station.

Field Crops Men Seek to Provide Guides for Judges.
Field crop specialists, members of the American Society of Agronomy, which held their summer meeting at the Illinois Experiment station, Urbana, June 22-23, made selections of types or crops to serve as guides for the Judges at the International Grain and Hay Show in Chicago next December.
In order to be fair to exhibitors at this show, zones have been established with prizes for exhibits from the different zones, and a committee of agronomists fixed on the different types of corn for the various zones. Samples of the silage were shown at the Grain and Hay Show this year. Likewise, at the Minnesota State Fair. The samples at the Grain and Hay Show will help to fix in the minds of exhibitors the ideals to be sought for in arranging and displaying silage for judging to be shown at the Minnesota Fair. The samples at the Minnesota State Fair are for the guidance of possible exhibitors in two zones—southern Minnesota in zone 2, and northern Minnesota in zone 1.

University Department of Agriculture Tells Facts in a New Circular.
Additional evidence against the scrub sire in dairy herds has accumulated rapidly in Minnesota in recent years, and some of the best evidence has been obtained by experimenters carried on by the University Department of Agriculture. The results of some of these experiments carried on at the University Department station at Grand Rapids have been summarized in circular No. 120, "The Scrub Sire," issued by the extension division, Agricultural Experiment Station, Grand Rapids, Minn. The summary shows how the production of a dairy herd has actual increase in milk yield by the introduction of purebred sires of strong milking strains.

Use of Dairy Products
(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
While the consumption of dairy products in the United States is increasing, the supply is still very inadequate to expand through creating an increase in the consumption of these products. The United States Department of Agriculture, through its Bureau of Dairy Production, is endeavoring to increase the production of these products. The consumption of these products is approximately 3.8 pounds per capita per year in this country, while in other countries the consumption is four or five times this amount. Cheese of the American type is produced in this country, but there is a demand for cheese of foreign varieties, especially by persons who have lived in other countries. Before the war more than 60,000,000 pounds of cheese, or approximately one-fifth of the total production of this country, were imported annually.

DAIRY NOTES
Kindness is an important factor in profitable dairying.
Stirring milk and cream aside in reducing galling and itching.
Cottonseed meal is not considered a good feed for young calves.
Wild onions and wild ragweeds are not eaten by cows when there is plenty of other feed.
A rich cream is the best cream. It will not sour as quickly as a thin cream. You will not have to handle such a large volume of material.
A cow pays well for good care. She does her best when she is clean, dry, water, air and feed are met, and her body comfort is considered.

Brightly Colored Beads, in Some Shapes, Have been Popular in All Ages and Countries.
Beads are one of the oldest necessities of the vanity of mankind. The oldest beads were simple stones with holes through them, which, owing to their bright color or peculiar shape, took the fancy of the finder, and were threaded them on a strip of hide or other material, when we became more civilized, beads made of various carved into intricate designs. In older times, some beautiful examples of both kinds can be seen in the British museum.

Politics Must Change

July 16th has come and gone and in its wake it has left a political upheaval in Minnesota that has left national and state Republican leaders gasping for breath. It has ended the political career of Governor Pross in Minnesota and has thrown a monkey wrench into the so-called "Pross Machine" that has put that organization at such a disadvantage of commission for all time to come.

The election of Dr. Shipstead last year was laid to general dissatisfaction. These two Minnesota elections bear the label of the Farmer-Labor party but they both received thousands of votes from people who are not interested in parties but are tired of the red tape; the un-kept promises of their representatives; the holding of numerous conferences which promise much relief but mean little in the long run; and the general political hocus nocus that has been in vogue the past two years.

The day when a man was elected to office just because he was the nominee of a certain party is past. Today American citizens cast their votes as a whole, for or against a candidate if they are satisfied with conditions, or against if they are dissatisfied. The bulk of our voters are not "party-boilers" today, as of old, and do not vote the ticket today just because it is the "ticket."

It makes no difference to the voters who are sending Magnus Johnson to the United States Senate as to the extent of his political polish or culture. Whether or not he is sincere in his claims that he is for the best interests of the United States and the state of Minnesota is what concerns these voters. Magnus Johnson has his chance. He has been given the greatest honor in the state of Minnesota. It is entirely up to Mr. Johnson now. Minnesota voters in the nation's capitol who do their own thinking bearing ever in mind the wishes of their constituency as a whole. Minnesota does not want men in Washington who are going to be dictated to by any one particular individual. The eyes of the nation will follow the career of Dr. Shipstead and Magnus Johnson. If they keep faith with Minnesota they will be commended, if not, they will be recalled to private life.

The Republican party far from dead in Minnesota. But it has been properly chastised by the voters of Minnesota who were dissatisfied. It makes no difference what caused that dissatisfaction, it was certainly evident last Monday.

Post mortems are useless except as they point out the errors of the past. Governor Pross was the choice of his party at the primary for their standard bearer. If the party erred, why blame the governor? If the governor erred in entering the primary, his error has spelled the end of his political career.

The Republican party will come back. But it will only come back when its candidates have the confidence of the people. When it comes to men whom the people feel are sincere in their beliefs and are for the best interests of Minnesota as a whole, and not for any particular class. The day of machine politics is past. Not only in Minnesota but in these whole United States.

Theatre Notes

Saturday—
 Earl Williams in "Bring Him In" Canadian Northwest Mounted Police. "Bring Him In" is the slogan of the scout-coated guardians of the law in the Northwest, and Earl Williams as the hero of the story carries out this slogan. "Bring Him In" is also described as a strong love story.

Also a two reel comedy featuring Larry Senon in "Passing the Buck" a side splitter.

Sunday & Monday—"The Old Nest"—Barnet Hughes. He has all grown up and left her—the babies she used tuck in bed at night. The old house is empty and silent. All have forgotten her. Her birthdays pass unnoticed. Each child has embarked on a drama of his own. Loves, ambitions, temptations carry them away. There are moments of laughter and comedy, romance, adventure, tragedy. The story of their lives, as they happen, is so touching. Also a comedy, "Dummy Love."

Tuesday—"The Lone Hand"—Hoot Gibson in "The Lone Hand." His first day's vacation almost proved fatal for he narrowly escaped being shot full of lead. All for a girl, the compunciner gives up a much needed rest cure and enters a battle of wits and forty-fives with a band of cunning crooks.

Also a comedy "Out of Order" and "The Days of Buffalo Bill" Family Night.

Thursday—
 Lon Chaney & Harrison Ford in "Shadows." What would you do if you suddenly learned you were illegaly married? Would you renounce your right to happiness or would you try to live a lie? This was the problem that confronted the hero, John Kildare and his wife. Sympathy. It is one of the big moments in the greatest story ever told in motion pictures.

Also a comedy "Felix Wakes Up."

Friday—
 Alice Calhoun in "The Angel of Crooked Street." Then if he confessed everything there is no need for him to speak. "The Angel of Crooked Street" is a third degree method of the police. A dramatic story of a young girl who sought vengeance and found love.

Also a Larry Senon comedy "School Days."

Family Theatre, Hinsdale, Minn. Saturday—"The Old Nest" "Dummy Love" comedy.

SERVICE
 Service is the essence of all human relations. Your Electric Light and Power Company renders real public service. Where else will you find service available on the split-second morning, noon, evening, midnight-twenty-four hours in the city, every day in the year, Sundays and holidays included?

More than 250,000 men and women, employes of electric light and power companies, are trained to serve you. It is their duty and privilege.

Electricity must be manufactured instantly, as required, whether one or thousands turn on light and power. That necessitates plant capacity equal to the greatest demand, and constant watchfulness on the part of employes of electric light and power companies—constant duty, constant attendance upon the generating machines and distributing systems.

To furnish this continuous, high-grade service, more than $50,000,000 has been invested by the 1,750,000 owners of the electric light and power companies, and by banks, insurance companies and by similar institutions.

EASTERN MINNESOTA POWER CO.

The Fourth Essential
 After food, clothing and shelter, the most imperative need of civilized society is transportation—quick, dependable, efficient transportation of persons and products.

After the railroad, whose sphere of activities is circumscribed by the location of tracks and terminals, the most important transportation unit is the automobile, truck or other automotive conveyance. These machines know no limitations. They can go wherever the need for transportation exists.

To keep them in action to make it possible for them to operate under all and every condition, two things are necessary—fuel and lubricating oil.

Sensing this need, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) long ago began building distribution depots and service stations, at convenient intervals, throughout ten Middle Western states, from which the car owner could secure his requirements of gasoline and lubricants in such quantities as serve him best.

To supply these outlets, enormous investments have been made enlarging the refining facilities of the Company and millions more have been spent getting the refined products to the points where effective, economical distribution can be made.

Throughout the ten states where Standard Oil Company (Indiana) service is organized and in operation, the motorist will find a station every few miles in the country; every few blocks in the city.

At these stations he can secure his gasoline and lubricants of highest quality at the lowest market prices and he has at his command free air, free water, rest rooms and comfort stations.

Conveniently located throughout the territory served, these stations are practical symbols of the effort this Company is making to adequately serve a community of thirty million people.

"Hello" Is Out of Date
 "Hello" is a rather ungraceful little word when used to answer the telephone.

The accepted expression now used generally by particular people is to give the name of the firm or residence and the name of the person speaking. For example:

"Smith & Company, Jones speaking."
 "Dr. Brown's office, Miss Smith speaking."
 "Dawson's residence, Helen Dawson speaking."

This method eliminates the time-wasting, and hence money-losing, exchange of "Hello" and inquiry as to who is speaking.

Those who have adopted the newer practice agree that it is more courteous and more business-like.

The DeLaval is the Most Perfect Skimming Device Ever Made

It is largely because of the scientifically designed, patent-protected bowl that the De Laval Cream Separator skims cleaner, delivers better cream, requires less power and lasts longer. Discs divide the milk into thin layers so that more thorough separation is accomplished at lower speed. They also give the bowl greater capacity for its size than that of any other separator.

Low speed makes possible smoother cream with unbroken fat globules. It combines with a small bowl of large capacity to reduce wear and make less power necessary.

Milk is delivered into the De Laval bowl beyond the wall of separated cream so that there is no re-mixing of milk, cream and skim-milk. This also makes for more thorough separation and greater capacity, and it is one of the reasons why the De Laval separates cream at lower temperatures than any other. The De Laval also delivers a thicker cream with less loss of fat than any other. These are just a few of the features we would like to show you.

Miss Confee

BY Joseph Hargeshmeier

"Thin, too small; and then her hair was so particular, color. She was..."

He had spoken of her good taste, exercised in the direction of spectacles for accommodation.

PERSONALITY OF JOSEPH HARGESHMEIER

He was a man of the most profound knowledge of human nature... He had a way of looking at a man...

That she was about to vanish from his office Lewis Beltmann stopped Miss Confee. While she had been sitting beyond the arm extension...

"Miss Confee," he said. She came halfway back, but her brow was a trace of impatience.

"What I want to say was," he began, "but this discomfited him, and he was thinking lately, he went ahead more directly."

"You work yourself to death for me here, and the same at home for your mother." Lewis Beltmann gave an answering nod.

"You've been with me for fourteen years in all, and you've never once said you had been here."

"What would I answer for my place and, after a moment, he heard the soft impact of the door."

"He would not have been there, and she would have been in the room."

tragedy of everything; and though she was vexed from Lewis Beltmann by the dark, he knew exactly to which she should go with her emotions...

"Not the contrary," he replied explicitly. "I was trying to find out the furthest and most expensive place I could manage with you as always."

"Don't pick tonight on Eldreda. I won't have it. You can't seem to learn that Eldreda's name. She's not a pot but a fine vase only."

"It hurts you to talk," she explained. "It hurts you to look at me, and then, without further flourish, turned and left the room."

"She's away! She's away!" she said. "Who's she?" Nannie demanded. "That's his stenographer," Eldreda explained.

"More than that, Eldreda," he patiently corrected her; "Miss Confee is a good fair girl for fourteen years and in the first month after she got her nose to work for me."

"Her name is Confee," she said. "I am sure you know that, Eldreda. I'm sure you know that, Eldreda. I'm sure you know that, Eldreda."

"What do you mean by that?" she asked. "I mean that I've got to know the business, make her a small partner."

"He waited, on the mark of an optimistic intervention, through the deep silence to the door of the building, then he burst with an unqualified derision."

"Partner," said Nannie. "Partner," said Eldreda. "Partner," said Nannie. "Partner," said Eldreda.

"You can't know the best, because you haven't seen her—why, she's a million and looks like an old fish broker with most of the straw out of her hair."

"I'll have to think over the times my head has been hurt through my eyes," he murmured, with a display of spirit.

she had a thing suitable to wear; the gray wool. That was Thursday, and finally, it was arranged that she should go out with Lewis Beltmann, for an evening at his home, on Monday.

"Not the contrary," he replied explicitly. "I was trying to find out the furthest and most expensive place I could manage with you as always."

"Don't pick tonight on Eldreda. I won't have it. You can't seem to learn that Eldreda's name. She's not a pot but a fine vase only."

Excellent Way to Start Young Calf

Best Practice Calls for Feeding Whole Milk for the First Two Weeks.

At least four-fifths of all dairy calves are fed milk during the first two weeks of their life. This is a habit which is well established and well justified.

The department advises the following schedule for feeding calves: First and second weeks: For the first four days, 8 to 12 pounds of milk...

Third week: Begin substituting whole milk for 30 to 40 percent of a pound a day. The daily ration may be increased from 2 to 3 pounds...

Fourth week: During this week the change over to whole milk is completed. At the end of the week only skim milk is being fed.

Fifth week and thereafter: All but calves fed with whole milk should be weaned now on. The quantity can be gradually increased until 18 or 20 pounds is being fed.

"This summer" he corrected her. "This summer" she corrected her. "This summer" he corrected her. "This summer" she corrected her.

"I'll be all right," he assured her. "I can go out and see them in the winter," she said.

"You will soon enough," all his response was. "I don't care how soon they are ready to be sold."

"You've been with me for fourteen years in all, and you've never once said you had been here."

"What would I answer for my place and, after a moment, he heard the soft impact of the door."

"He would not have been there, and she would have been in the room."

Purchase of Tractor Discussed in Movie

Film Shows Relative Advantages of Machines.

The sometimes puzzling question, "Should you buy or lease a tractor?" is discussed in a new film just completed by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The new film will be circulated through the department's distribution system to every county in the United States.

To keep chinch bugs from migrating to a new crop, a deep furrow between the infested grain and the free field is a little better harvest line.

Many of the bugs that have reached the insects on grain-cut crops have been in the bottom of deep furrows.

On valuable row crops chinch bugs have been kept out by using contact sprays such as oil emulsion or nicotine solutions.
